Dr. Gibson spoke at some length, referring especially to the hospital, and he was especially pleased at the manly inaugural address given by Mayor Wills and his reference to the Women's Christian Association. The doctor referred to the streets of the city and the need of them being placed in a proper state of repair. All citizens should also unite in doing all they could to beautify the city which is so pleasantly situated. The doctor spoke of the necessity of having the operating room at the hospital made up to date in every respect. The walls and floor needed to be tiled and the room equipped with all modern conveniences. The sum of $3,000 was needed to accomplish this work and he hoped the citizens would see that it was done. He referred to the generous donation of Mr. Bausch of Rochester, N.Y., in contributing $1,000 worth of equipment for the operating room. The ladies were doing a noble work, and needed all the encouragement they could get.

Mr. Grey Young, barrister, of Toronto, was called upon and during his remarks stated that as he was connected with the C.N.R. and if the city had any grievance with that railway he would ask his friend Mayor Wills to confer with him and we will come to a conclusion that would be satisfactory to the municipality and the railway. The best thing this city had done was to elect Mr. Wills as Mayor, and it was a special pleasure for him (the speaker) to see him in that position. He also referred in a complimentary way to Hon. H. Corby, whom all were proud to honor. His appointment to the Senate was popular all over the country. Messrs. Porter and Northrup were also gentlemen to be proud of, and were able representatives in the Dominion Parliament.

Mr. W. C. Mikel, K.C., City Solicitor, gave a brief but humorous address referring to the pleasure it gave him to see his friend Mr. Wills occupy the Mayor's chair. The Mayor would be equal to all occasions and had the determination to carry out what he believed to be right. He would ask the citizens not to too severely criticize the action of the Council as that body is human, and humanity will sometimes make mistakes. The speaker, in closing, gave some amusing anecdotes which were highly appreciated.

This completed the speech making and Mr. J. W. Johnson, M.P.P., in a few well chosen remarks proposed the health of Mayor Wills, which was most enthusiastically received.

Mayor Wills thanked all present for the sentiments they had expressed towards him and said he knew they were sincere in their expression.

The singing of Auld Lang Syne brought the pleasant proceedings to a close.

The Sprague Orchestra was present during the evening and rendered a number of suitable selections.

WEDDING BELLS.

HOWES—HEARNS.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs James H. Hearns, Roslin, on Jan 8th, when their elder daughter, Eva Eliza, was united in marriage to Herbert Harold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Howes, of Corbyville.

Promptly at eight o'clock, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Ethel Fox of Roslin, the bride, who was attended by her sister, Miss Amanda Hearns, and leaning on the arm of her father, entered the drawing room. She was preceded by two nieces, Miss Irene, Hearns of Deseronto, as flower girl, who strewed flowers along the bride's pathway, and Miss Laura Hearns, who acted as ring bearer, carrying the ring on the petals of a white carnation. The groom, who attended by Mr. Herbert Fox, was awaiting them. The ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreens and roses, by the Rev. Mr. Crookshank of Thomasburg, in the presence of about seventy guests.

The bride looked charming in a dress of white satin and wearing an embroidered tulle veil, fastened with a rhinestone ornament, and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair fern. The bridesmaid wore a dress of white marquisette over blue silk, while the nieces wore dresses of cream silk and lace.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold chain and pendant of pearl and amethysts; to the bridesmaid a gold ring set with a solitaire ruby; to the flower girl and ring bearer, each a ring set with pearls and rubies; to the groomsman a pearl tie pin; to the organist a brooch set with a circle of pearls.

After the usual congratulations the party repaired to the dining room where a sumptuous repast was partaken of.

The bride received many useful and costly presents, showing the high esteem in which she is held by her many friends. After a very social evening the bridal couple departed, amid showers of rice and confetti, for Tweed, where they took the train for Sault Ste. Marie and other points west. The bride's travelling suit was of navy blue whipcord, with hat to match.

All join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Howes a happy and prosperous wedded life.

A Correction

To the Editor of The Intelligencer.

Dear Sir,—I beg leave to correct an error which was printed in last night's Intelligencer. The item which I refer to is in regard to the dwelling which was on fire on Saturday night in Thurlow Township just outside of the city limits.

The house was not fully insured, but the tenant, Mr. Murray, lost everything which was not insured, and the occupants escaped only in their night-clothes, and had to be sheltered and clothed by some of their friends.

Trusting you will correct your former report, I remain,

Yours respectfully,
A. GRAY.

British Education Plan

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The Government's colossal scheme for improvement in elementary, secondary and higher education, soon to be taken up for discussion in the House of Commons, will open the course to secondary education free to every primary child whose capacity justifies it. It will also extend the universities on the lines of Liverpool and Leeds, so as to open a university career to every boy or girl reaching the required standard.

The salary of the President of the Board of Education will be increased from $10,000 to $25,000.

Almost any woman is apt to feel badly run down after her neighbors get thru discussing her.

LISTEN TO US

"We are only little ones, but we know Zam-Buk eased our pain and cured our sores. Perhaps it would cure you, too, if you tried it?"

Isn't this sound advice from "babes and sucklings?" Take it! The speakers are the children of Mrs. L. Webster, of Seymour St., Montreal, and the mother adds weight to their appeal. She says: "My little girl contracted scalp disease at school. Bad gatherings formed all over her head, and not only caused the child acute pain but made her very ill. The sores discharged, and occurring on the scalp we feared she would lose all her hair. She was in a pitiable plight when we tried Zam-Buk, but a few days' treatment with this balm gave her ease. Then the sores began to heal, and we continued the Zam-Buk treatment. In a short time she was quite healed.

"My little boy sustained a serious scald on the neck. It set up a bad sore, and quite a few things we tried failed to heal it or give him ease. Once more we turned to Zam-Buk, and we were not disappointed. It acted like a charm in drawing away the pain, and soon healed the wound."

Zam-Buk is "something different" in the way of balms. It contains powerful healing herbal essences, which, as soon as applied to skin diseases, kill off the germs and end the painful smarting. Other essences contained there so stimulate the cells that new healthy tissue is speedily formed. Eczema, itch, ulcers, cold sores, abscesses, festering sores, blood poisoning, chronic wounds, cold cracks, etc., are healed and cured in this way. Use it for all skin injuries and diseases. It is also of great service for piles. All druggists and stores at 50 cents box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

KATE MEREDITH, FINANCIER

By C. J. CUTCLIFFE HYNE

They pulled out of the village, and Kate pushed up her spark and throttle levers notch by notch. The purr of the motor increased in shrillness. She drove often herself, but seldom at high speeds, and just now, when she got into the long empty stretches of straight, out of sheer exhilaration she let out the great car till it was wheeling along at a good forty miles to the hour. It swayed rather dangerously, but she had no nerves to be ruffled by a trifle like that. The motor was giving out its high note of exultant speed, and she was thrilled with the power she rode.

Woods and rocks flew by, mile after mile of fencing shot astern, but still the great car sang along its way, now bumping over a grip, now slackening a trifle on a rise. The rhythm of the engines sounded in her ears like a poem, and she tended to their needs with a real affection; the pelt of the air exhilarated her.

And then came the downfall. A whistle shrieked out from behind her another whistle shrilled in front, and a policeman sprang from the hedge. Kate was in no mood for stopping. She tried to dodge round the man. With ignorant courage he leaped across the road to stop her. She threw out her clutch and desperately set her brakes. The great car lurched, slid, sidled, and all but overturned. The policeman, by a marvellous mixture of skill, presence of mind, and luck on Kate's part, was not killed. But he stood scorching his hand on a very warm radiator, and Kate sat white-faced at the wheel, taming down her insulted engines.

After that there was no hurry. She pleaded a life and death engagement but the majesty of the law was ruffled, and saw to it that all things were done with dignity and in order.

Kate was charged with driving to the danger of the public. The road was entirely deserted just there, and there was no public, but she admitted the crime, gave name and number, and humbly asked to go. But not a bit of it. The Law wanted to see her driving license, which of course she had not got, and then out came note-bookks and pencils. The criminal lost her temper, and so the Law was deliberately slow .. ..

Kate reached Carnforth station just three minutes after the express had left, and was half-minded there and then to give up the chase. Carter would sail in the Secondee at the appointed hour, and when he got to Las Palmas and heard the news he would return to her by the next boat. She was sure enough of that. But no, she could not let him go. It might be (terrific thing) unmaidenly of her to thrust herself and her news in his way, but she could not help it. Besides, a fear cramped her when she thought of Cascaes. She had heard to her horror of the knife that Cascaes had wielded so undeftly in the dark along the Telde road, although indeed Carter had made no mention of it, and she dreaded what might happen should the two men come together a second time.

She looked at the time-table; there was no train that would help her. If she wanted to get to Liverpool before the Secondee sailed, it must be by car. So once more she sat herself in the seat of government. .. .. ..

The road held through Lancaster to Preston, and outside towns and villages she crashed along often at a fifty-mile gait in her fear at being to late. And then came the black cotton towns of Lancashire with their slatternly women and shrill-voiced children scrambling over the streets. She had to slow to a crawl through these, and even then the tires skated dangerously over the greasy streets. But speed triumphed over time and distance in the end. She swung at a rattling gait into a Liverpool suburb, and for the third time had her number taken by an indignant policeman, and thereafter slowed to a dignified crawl. She glanced at her watch. With care now, and if no mishap blocked her progress, she would be on the landing stage before the mail boat threw off her ropes.

Luck and good nerve aided her bravely now. She wormed her way rapidly through the increasing traffic of the Liverpool streets, and came to the landing stage entrance.

She patted her car and gave it a word of gratitude. A cabman took charge, and with him also she left motor veils, coat and gloves, and walked down onto the landing stage fully conscious of neat hair, a perfect frock, and the Paris hat. Carter was standing gloomily at the bookstall, with a chin that looked more dogged and hair that was redder than ever.

"Ah," she said lightly, "fancy meeting you here. Weren't you going by last week's boat?"

"No," he said heavily, "this."

"Have you paid for your passage?"

"Yes, of course. Why?"

"Because Im afraid you will waste it."

He shook his head.

"You had no cable from Las Palmas during the last two days?"

"No. Have you? What are you driving at?" There was something so pathetic in his brown eyes that she had not the heart to drag out her explanation any further. She pulled a letter from her pocket, marked the place with her thumb and showed it to him.

He put a heavy hand down on the bookstall and stirred the papers into little heaps. "My God! Laura married. Married! Let me think what this means!"

A very indignant bookstall keeper began to make remarks, but Kate said, "Thank you. Those are the ones I want. Please tie them up for me. Here's a sovereign." And then she put a hand on Carter's arm and led him outside the crowd.

"Well" she said, "have you decided yet if you are entirely broken-hearted?"

He thought a minute, and then said he, "I think my people will be glad when they hear."

Kate blushed rosy pink. "They are both very fond of me," she observed.

"That," said Carter, "is what I was thinking about. Kitty darling, there isn't a girl in all Africa, Europe, or America, who has ben loved as dearly as I've loved you. But I couldn't marry you, could I, till the way was cleared. Now, could I?—here, let's get out of this crowd, and hire a cab, and drive to the North Pole, or somewhere we can be alone to talk all this out. It's wonderful."

"But what about your baggage?"

"Oh bother the baggage. White-Man's-Trouble has it somewhere, and he'll jump overboard if he finds I'm not on the ship. There's no shaking off that boy Kitty dear, so I'm afraid you'll have to take him along with me when you cease to be Kitty O'Neill".

"George, do you know I've got a great secret for you. I'm not Kitty O'Neill at all. I'm Kitty Meredith."

"As a point of fact I gathered that from your father. From what old Cappie Image told me, 'Major Smith,' as he calls him, will be home in time to give you away on your wedding day. But I shouldn't trouble to call yourself Meredith if I were you sweetheart. When you do practise a new signature let it be Kitty Carter."

Kate blushed again most divinely. "As the deepest of secrets, let me tell you that I can write it quite well already, though I have been desperately afraid I should never have the luck to use it."

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family or any male over 18 years old may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Land Agency or Sub-Agent for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him, by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

Stole $84,000

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—Wallace J. Poland, Pacific Coast sales-manager of the International Harvester Company, was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment Saturday for peculations aggregating $84,000. An effort to put the prisoner on probation was denied because the peculations had covered a period of two years.

REDUCTIONS PROBABLE

Free Lumber May Figure in U. S. Tariff Changes.

The Tax on Luxuries Must Be Kept Up, However, Declares Chairman Underwood, and He Would Maintain the Barrier on Fine Silks and Reduce It in Case of the Cheaper Grades Used by Poorer People.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Free rough and dressed lumber, hewn and squared timber, shingles, laths and fence posts, retention of approximately the present high tariff on the higher grades of silks and reductions in the cheaper silks used by the common people, and a penalizing, drastic tariff bar to shut out "dynamited" silk, were indicated yesterday as parts of the expected Democratic revision program.

The House committee on ways and means devoted the day to hearings on the wood and silk schedules of the tariff law, and when the testimony and examinations were closed, the sentiment favored the inclusion of these provisions, possibly together with free meats, in the tentative tariff plan the committee will frame to submit to the extra session of Congress.

The burden of the testimony on the wooden schedule was a plea for the preservation of the present tariff rates. Silk, involving immense interests, presented a complexity of technicalities, perhaps greater than in any of the other 13 schedules of the tariff law. "Silks," according to Horace B. Cheney of South Manchester, Conn., as spokesman for the silk manufacturers of the country, "depend upon fashion; if women want anything they will pay the amount they have to get it."

Mr. Underwood outlined his view, in which he represents the Democratic majority of the committee that will frame the new schedule.

"We want to get a large amount of revenue on luxuries," said Mr. Underwood, "so that we can put a less tax on the necessities of life. Where there is a large percentage of imports we do not want to cut the rates. We are desirous, however, of cutting the rates where there is no competition and no revenue."

DAYLIGHT ROBBERY.

Lone Bandit Operates In Philadelphia Ticket Office.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—Almost under the shadow of the city hall, and within a stone's throw of the principal hotels and office buildings in this city, a lone bandit held up Albert D. Hunsicker, passenger agent for the Lehigh Valley Railroad, and his clerk, E. A. Follweikler, at the point of a pistol yesterday, and robbed their office, 131 South Broad street, of $130. The room where the hold-up occurred is on the street level and has an entire glass front. A large picture in the window alone prevented an unobstructed view of the interior to the policemen and pedestrians who walked within a few feet of the scene, while the robbery was being perpetrated. After asking for a ticket for Wilkes-Barre he suddenly drew a revolver and demanded that the two occupants of the room open the safe and give him its contents. On receiving $130, which was all the safe contained, he returned $1.75 to them, saying, "You may need this for supper."

OHIO FLOOD STOPS.

River Comes To Standstill and Worst Is Thought To Be Over.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 14.—After doing thousands of dollars worth of damage, as well as causing about 3,000 families to abandon their homes, at least temporarily, the flood of the Ohio river at this point came almost to a standstill here last night. The river is rising at the rate of one-tenth of a foot every four hours, but river men believe it will be at a standstill before to-night. It is believed that the crest of the flood has been reached and that the worst is over. Last night a dozen schoolhouses harbored families that have been driven from their homes, while twenty-five municipal free "soup" or eating houses have been established and are working to their capacity.

Heavy Toll of Trolleys.

ALBANY, N.Y., Jan. 14.—Two hundred and ninety deaths, 85 fractured skulls, 359 broken limbs, 1,398 serious injuries—this was the toll of accidents on surface, elevated and suburban traction lines in New York City for the year 1912, according to the report of the public service commission for the first district, made public yesterday.

Thirty thousand passengers were injured and nearly 7,000 employes.

Jockey's Rise and Fall.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Grover Cleveland Fuller, a jockey, who made $300,000 for James R. Keene and $75,000 for himself in one season ten years ago, pleaded guilty yesterday to having stolen a pocketbook containing a few pennies from an acquaintance in an uptown saloon. He was remanded for sentence Friday. Fuller said he had not been doing anything lately except "drifting."

Child Bitten by Dog.

HASTINGS, Jan. 14.—Francis Orlshawa, a child ten years of age, was attacked by a vicious dog yesterday afternoon and was severely bitten in the leg. Dr. Wade dressed the wounds, and the dog was shot. The head will be forwarded to Toronto for analysis.

Blows Eye Out.

ST. CATHARINES, Jan. 14.—William Swartz, a 14-year-old boy, found a cartridge, struck it with a hammer, and had his eye completely blown out. He is in the hospital in a serious condition, but is expected to live.

Better a tramp in the woods than one in the kitchen.

It is the hight of meanness to measure either meanness or generosity by half-dollar contributions.

SUSPECT LEADER OF DOUKHOBORS AS BEING ANARCHIST

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 14.—An incident which will possibly develop into international importance in two continents is reported in a telegram received by Wm. Blakemore, Provincial Commissioner in Doukhobor matters from A. M. Evalenko, the New York linguist who acted as interpreter during the commission proceedings.

This telegram announces that Peter Veregin, the dominant factor and head of the Doukhobor colonists in Canada, with whom Mr. Evalenko started from Brilliant for Victoria some days ago with the local Government here on various matters of relationship between the Government and colonists, was stopped at Marcus, on the International boundary, by United States officials and forbidden entry to the United States, even as a traveller in transit to a foreign destination, on the ground that he is an anarchist.

Shocking Reports Come From Calgary

CALGARY, Alta., Jan. 14.—That there are two hundred girls under 18 on the verge of illegimate motherhood in Calgary; that there are private rooms in connection with the most popular grills where children are wined and dined, and that there are licensed chauffeurs picking up young girls in loads; are some unchallenged statements concerning local social conditions made by Alderman Frost in the City Council.

His remarkable charges were made in support of the curfew law which the alderman fathered and which failed of passage.

Every Car a Wreck 100 Passengers Safe

CALGARY, Alta., Jan. 14.—An accident extraordinary in its results occurred Sunday evening on the Crow's Nest Pass Line of the C. P. R. according to reports received here today.

The east bound mail was wrecked, every car leaving the rails pell mell, with no injury to any of the hundred or more passengers.

The wreck occurred a mile west of Burmis. Seven cars went into the ditch, one of the Pullmans turning completely over. A broken rail was the cause.

ENGINEER'S DEVICE TO KEEP SHIPS INFORMED

SARNIA, Jan. 14.—Chief Engineer George Brown, of the Pere Marquette car ferry International, which plies between this port and Port Huron, has invented an indicator which enables the captain of a vessel to know just what is going on in the engine room of his boat, showing accurately the direction in which the engines are moving, the speed, and other important points.

Port Huron and Sarnia capitalists are forming a company to manufacture the machines. Marine experts who have investigated the workings of the indicator, pronounce it a big success.

Mr. Brown is a Canadian and resides in Sarnia.

Deaf And Dumb But Read Lips

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 14.—That cinematrograph films that would pass the strictest censor may carry moral contagion to an audience of the deaf and dumb, is the moral of a show recently given by a picture theatre owner at a school of deaf and dumb children. During the performance, some children in the audience began to giggle and others got up to leave.

A strict investigation was started, and it turned out that while the movies' actors were behaving to all appearances with the strictest decorum, they were exchanging jokes and expressions of the most carulean description, confident that the voiceless films would not give them away. They had not, however, reckoned with an audience of deaf and dumb people who easily interpreted their lip action. The show came to an abrupt conclusion.

The owner of the theatre was, of course, absolutely innocent of any offence. He had carefully chosen what were apparently innocuous films to suit the occasion.

Threatens Life Of The Premier

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 14.—In connection with a press despatch from Spokane stating that the police there have been asked to watch Charles Milsom, whom the police of the province report to be writing threatening letters to the Premier, and also in connection with reports current, both in Vancouver and here, that a series of such letters has recently been received in which the writers intimate that his life is in danger, Sir Richard MacBride says that during years past he had been almost continually in receipt of such communications the majority evidently emanating from disordered intellects, and he had grown to accept them with indifference.

Respite For Murderer

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—Special—On the strength of some new points which have arisen in the case, the Cabinet today decided to grant a respite of thirty days to the murderer Rafaelo, who was to have been hanged at Sherbrooke tomorrow. The evidence in the case will be considered anew.

President Taft To Live in New Haven

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 14.—President Taft wil make his home here next spring for a time at least at the hotel bearing his name. It was learned to-day that the entire sixth floor of the front was being set apart for Mr. Taft. It will make an apartment of nine rooms, The only remodelling is the installation of a special bath, which will be three feet wide, six feet long, and four feet deep.

Mr. Taft is expected here about April 1st to take up his professorship at Yale. He plans to go South for a few weeks after leaving the White House.

Insurance Baby Was Named After Mr. Lloyd George

LONDON, Jan. 14.—For several days many babies born in England will bring their parents all sorts of valuable prizes in addition to the maternity benefits of the new National Insurance Act which took effect today. The idea has so caught the public that many wealthy people are giving silver cups, poringers, spoons and Georgina as a compliment to Chanmoney to the first babies born in various districts, under the new Act.

The first mother to become entitled to the maternity benefits of the thirty shillings was Mrs. Amy Goulding, the wife of a Paddington painter, who gave birth to a girl one minute past midnight. She was christened Georgina as al compliment to Chancellor Lloyd George.

Another insurance baby has been christened Lloyd George Churchill.

GIVE BIG BONDS FOR RELEASE OF DYNAMITERS

CINCINNATI, Jan. 14.—A bond of $10,000 to secure the release of William C. Bernhardt, of Cincinnati, one of the men convicted in the Indianapolis famous dynamiting trial, was signed here today. He is now in the Government prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kans.

Chicago, Jan. 14.—Preliminary steps were taken today to obtain the release on bonds of three of the Union labor men, convicted at Indianapolis, when Attorneys Zoline and O'Donnell filed with a United States Commissioner schedules of property valued at $500,000.

The men affected are: Frank M. Ryan, president of the Iron Workers' Union, whose bond is $70,000; Richard H. Houlihan, bond, $20,000, and William Schupe, bond of $10,000.

Preaches In a Picture Show

LETHBRIDGE, Jan. 14.—Special—Members of the First Baptist church here have lodged a strenuous objection against the theological doctrine and methods of church government of their pastor, Rev. A. C. Watson, and the matter will in all likelihood be taken before higher church authorities of the Baptist church in Canada. For some time past the pastor has been conducting Sunday services in picture theatres here, leaving the church idle.

Intelligencer Special.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Figures made public today by the department of agriculture, show a decrease average of 17.2 per cent. in prices received by producer last month as compared with figures for the same month one year ago, for wheat, barley, rye, buckwheat, potatoes and eggs. The producer, however, got a slight increase in prices for his meats.

STARTS INVESTIGATION

Intelligencer Special.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 15.—Evidence pointing to an existing arson trust, in Chicago, composed of at least twenty persons, fire insurance adjusters and employees of insurance companies who have mulcted insurance companies out of millions of dollars yearly, has caused State Attorney Royne to start a widespread investigation.

MAY NOT SEEK EXTENSION

Intelligencer Special.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—It is believed here that the Duke of Connaught, in view of the precarious health of the Duchess, will not seek for an extension of his term of office. Prince Arthur last week obtained a special leave from his regiment, to proceed immediately to Canada if more unfavorable news is received.

KING PROMISES REFORM

REPORT DENIED

Intelligencer Special.

OWEN SOUND, Jan. 15.—A report that Hon. A. G. MacKay, M.P.P., is about to resign his seat for North Grey owing to his removal to Edmonton, is denied by the Sun, the local Liberal organ.

Arrest Suspect

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—The police have received notification of the arrest at Niagara Falls, N. Y., of Eli Barritts, who is alleged to have murdered Joe Milovitch, a Pole, during a row in a shack near the John Street bridge on the nightt of March 28, 1908.

According to the information from Niagara Falls police, Barritts has been arrested there upon a minor charge, and a remark dropped by him led to the belief that he was the man who killed Milovitch.

The Toronto police have been trying for nearly five years to clear up this mystery.

The coroner's jury said the murder had been committed my "a man at present unknown."

Garment Workers' Strike Growing To Vast Numbers

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Sixty thousand garment workers on strike in New York for increased pay and better working conditions, marched singing throught the factory district to-day and disbanded at Union Square for an open air mass meeting. Of the marchers approximately 15,000 were women.

The Shirtwaist and Dressmakers' Union, which has in the city about 30,000 members, voted almost unanimously to-day to join the strike. If they go out it will bring the total number on strike up to nearly 160,000.

Yacovloff Dances In Death Cell

MONTREAL, Jan. 14.—The last hanging which the grim walls surrounding the old Montreal jail will ever witness takes place Friday morning when Sylvio Yacoloff, who murdered his sister-in-law, Marie Louise Trembley, mounts the scaffold.

Final arrangements for the execution were completed today. Hangman Arthur Ellis, who left for Sherbrooke last night to officiate at an execution, is expected back in Montreal on Thursday. In future the executions will take place at the new structure erected at Bordeaux, where a stationary scaffold has been erected.

Yacoloff, now the lone occupant of the "Death Row," has been a source of trouble to his keepers, for the past few days. During the silence of the night he will break into song and hysterical laughter, and follow up this outbreak with a dance. When he is silenced by his guards he will stare at them with a foolish look.

Word was officially received from Ottawa that the Cabinet Council decided that the la wshould take its course, insanity expert Dr. Villeneuve having declared that he was sane.

Jealously Insane

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Insanity as the result of jealousy, was the explanation made today by relatives of Donald Jadwin, of his action last night in killing his bride of seven months and himself in the presence of several of his wife's relatives, Mrs. Jadwin was instantly killed, but her husband lived for two hours.

Jadwin, who was the son of Orlando P. Jadwin, a rich Brooklyn wholesale druggist, was married in San Francisco last June to Miss Mina Van Bergen, a prominent society girl. Two weeks ago the couple quarrelled, and Jadwin left his home. Mrs. Jadwin went to the home of her grandmother, Mrs. John Bauer, while Jadwin lived at his club.

Last night while Mrs. Jadwin, her grandmother, mother, aunt and brother were at dinner in the Bauer home, Jadwin was announced. He entered the dining room smiling. He kissed his wife and a reconciliation seemed certain, when Jadwin, without warning, drew two revolvers and fired two bullets into his wife's breast. She fell dead, and before any of the others could interfere, he fired a bullet into his own brain.

Russia and Air Power

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—Russia's ambition to become the first "Air Power" of Europe, was revealed to-day in a dispatch from St. Petersburg, which stated that the Russian Government had placed orders for 116 military aeroplanes.

Sixteen of the aeroplanes will be equipped with quick-firing guns. Others will be of a special design, protected by a armor-plate, and will be used as scout machines.

The government is drafting men especially fitted by nature to be aviators from the ranks of the army for training in the aviation school.

Unusually Cold In Far West

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 14.—A second snowfall of ten inches covered Vancouver Saturday. On the higher levels surrounding the city there is close to two feet of snow.

The temperature is below freezing point, so that the probabiliteis are that Vancouverites will enjoy good sleighing and skating, which is decidely unusual in this climate.

Some people make light of trouble; others keep it dark.

PLANS TAKING SHAPE

Canada's Military System is Improving Says Report.

The One Object Sought By the Authorities Has Been Preparedness For War, Says Annual Report of Militia Council — Interdepartmental Committee of Three Officers to Handle Mobilization—Strength of Force.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—The year's work in the Canadian militia is reviewed in the annual report of the militia council presented by Col. Sam Hughes. The one object sought, says the report in part, was preparedness for war, the power to mobilize at short notice a force of adequate strength, well trained and fully equipped. In the scheme of defence a few readjustments have been made, but no important changes introduced.

Respecting mobilization, the general scheme is assuming definite shape. It depends for its success on decentralization. Division commanders will be given as free a hand as possible and not required to adopt a uniform system. The peace strength of the militia compared to war establishment is relatively low.

An interdepartmental committee, composed of the director of naval service, chief of the general staff and general officer for mobilization has been formed. Seventeen officers took instructional courses in England during the year.

The report deals at length with the instructional schools of the militia in Canada, which in the last fiscal year granted certificates to 1,724 officers. In the year, forty officers were appointed to the permanent staff.

The permanent force now comprises 3,118 men, of which 202 are officers. The larger number, 1,201, are from Halifax, Quebec coming second with 404, Toronto with 345 and Kingston with 344. The year's expenditure under votes was $7,558,284 and by statue $21,000. This was an increase of $791,947. A total of 38,894 men received efficiency pay aggregating $174,053.

The inspector-general reports 15 city corps as good, 21 as fair, three indifferent and two disorganized. In regard to rural corps 8 are classed as good, 29 as fair, 15 indifferent and 3 disorganized. The establishment is 1,458 officers and 16,825 non-commission and men, while the number trained was 1,019 officers and 11,558 men.

"The main obstacles to our efficiency," remarked Gen. Otter, "present themselves in two forms—lack of money on the one hand and the profusion of it in the form of successful enterprises on the other; in the former militating against the provision of arms and equipment, rifle ranges and training grounds, and so placing obstacles in the prosecution of effective training in its full significance; the latter prevents individuals from sparing the time necessary to fit themselves for the military duties they have assumed."

PUBLIC WORKS OUTLAYS.

Auditor-General's Report Devoid of Criticisms.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—Volume three of the report of the Auditor-General, just published, gives in minutest detail, the expenditure of the public works, state and trade and commerce departments, but is peculiarly devoid of criticisms or correspondence. The more interesting parts of the report are yet to come.

There was no correspondence on public works affairs, and the only matters upon which some explanations were asked concerned certain estimates for the Holland River division of the Trent Canal and an appropriation towards two grade separations north of Barrie.

The total cost was $12,083, and of this $4,833 was charge to the railway grade crossing fund. This latter amount is equal to forty per cent. of the cost, whereas the act authorizes payment of only twenty per cent. For that reason payment has been held up.

COUGH STILL TROUBLES.

But Duchess of Connaught Continues to Progress.

MONTREAL, Jan. 15.—The following bulletin was issued at 2.15 yesterday afternoon at the Royal Victoria Hospital on the condition of the Duchess of Connaught:

"Her Royal Highness continues to make satisfactory progress towards recovery, though the cough, from which she is suffering, is still troublesome. Her Royal Highness' temperature is normal and she sleeps well.

(Signed) "E. S. Worthington."

To Prevent Horse Thieving.

BERLIN, Ont., Jan. 15.—An important and largely-attended meeting of the directors of the Waterloo County Mutual Protective Association was held at the Bowman House yesterday afternoon. The aim of members is to apprehend and convict horse thieves and recover the stolen animals. The directors have the satisfaction of knowing that during the past year their efforts have been successful in restoring five stolen horses to their owners.

An Ottawa Society Wedding.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—Miss Marguerite Fitzpatrick, youngest daughter of Chief Justice Sir Charles Fitzpatrick and James Montague Bate, son of the late Lt.-Col. H. A. Bate, and grandson of Sir Henry Bate, will be married in St. Joseph's Church on February 4.

Shot Himself In Foot.

KINGSTON, Jan. 15.—Forgetting the revolver was loaded, Richard Loke, aged 28, a Swede, employed at the C.P.R. construction camp, Perth, fired it off after he had cleaned it and put a bullet into his foot.

Some people are satisfied with the glitter, even if it isn't gold.

Better laugh at people's jokes; you may have occasion to spring one yourself some day.

Suffragette Ban Waved By British Government

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The British government today reversed its ban placed on the reception of deputations of suffragettes and agreed to welcome in the House of Commons a body of working women and the representatives of the woman's social and political union next week.

Premier Asquith has deputed Mr. Lloyd George to receive the women, and the Chancellor of the Exchequer probably will be accompanied by the Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Sir Edward Grey.

Militant suffragettes claim that their threats of a revival of the riots in Parliament Square, were responsible for the government's change of heart.

Do Your Looks Quite Satisfy You?

If Your Color is Bad, If You Suffer From Pimples, Here is Good Advice. Fine Results in Two Weeks.

Miss Nettie E. Callaghan, a well-known young lady in Middleton, writes as follows: "I was affected for two years with a rash, and ugly looking pimples that spread over my face. My color was poor, and my blood evidently completely out of order. Certainly it was a most despairing sort of a case, because various treatments did but little to help me. A friend of mine in Toronto, Ont. advised me to get Dr. Hamilton's Pills so I sent at once for five boxes. In two weeks I felt like new—looks improved spirits rose, and I felt I was getting well. I have used this remedy for a long time, and now wouldn't be without it."

If you are in ailing health, have blood disorders, stomach trouble, or headaches Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. 25c. per box, five for $1.00. Sent postpaid by the Catarrhozone Co. Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Canada's Revenue Increases 26 Per Ct.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—Canada's revenue for three-quarters of the current fiscal year up to the end of December has been $124,577,556, an increase of $25,095,609, or nearly 26 per cent, as compared with the corresponding nine months of 1911. If the same rate of increase is maintained for the next three months the total revenue for the year will, it is estimated, pass the $170,000,000 mark.

The net debt of the Dominion at the end of the year stood at $304,194,456, a decrease of a little over nine millions during 1912.

Bad Wreck at Regina

REGINA, Sask., Jan. 13.—Fifteen hours' hard work was required to clear away the wreckage and restore traffic on the C. P. R. main line as the result of a tail-end collision at Fushimi Siding, a few miles east of Regina.

A way freight travelling east from Regina about eighteen miles an hour was crashed into by a double-header through freight train, travelling 40 miles an hour. None of the crew of either train were killed.

Fred Chatterton, keeper of the store car on the way freight, is in the hospital and likely to die from burns received when the car caught fire. All the main traffic was held up until three o'clock Sunday morning.

To Continue Ice-Cutting

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—The Marine and Fisheries Department has been requested by Vice-President Bury, of the C. P. R., to extend the ice-breaking operations which have been going on for the past few weeks until Jan. 20 in order to enable the steamers to get cargoes at Fort William. The Board of Trade at Fort William has made the same request. Orders have been given by the Marine and Fisheries Department to continue the work daily as far as possible.

New British Gun

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Special—According to the Evening News, the Admiralty recently perfected a 16.25 inch gun. This may be mounted on the Queen Elizabeth class of battleships.

The gun, it is stated, has a broadside fire of 17,000 pounds.

Robbed Dutchess' Tomb

FLORENCE, Italy, Jan. 13.—The police of this place claim to have arrested two notorious Apaches from Marseilles, who, they declare, were guilty of the outrages on the royal tomb of the Dowager Duchess of Genoa, the mother of the former Queen Margherita, at Superga, near Turin.

READY TO RENEW WAR

Horrors of Winter Campaign Now Seem Inevitable.

Allies Declare That They Are Prepared to Resume the Conflict and Turkey Is Standing Pat—Unless Porte Listens to Reason They Will Give Four Days' Notice of Hostilities, They Say.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Unless unforeseen events should change the current of affairs, the war in the near east will be resumed within a week, and Europe will witness the horrors of a winter campaign.

The allies have fairly made up their minds to take up arms a second time. The Turks last week were threatening to leave London and let matters take whatever course they might. Now the Balkan delegates are convinced that the Turks are merely drifting, without a fixed policy, and they have decided to end the seemingly fruitless debates and wire-pulling and begin the battles anew where they left off more than a month ago.

The Ottoman Government failed to convene the grand council yesterday and apparently has no intention of meeting the allies' ultimatum on Adrianople. The allies do not believe in the efficacy of the note which the powers will present at Constantinople, because it is couched in too mild terms and simply advises Turkey to submit to the fate of war and abandon Adrianople for fear of complications in other parts of the empire, at a time when Turkey could not find moral or financial support in Europe.

The Turkish Government knows that this means nothing, because it is aware that the powers will be unable to agree on any coercive measures. Thus the presentation by the powers of the note, it is pointed out, might mean simply the opening up of a new chapter in the already wearisome diplomatic parleying and the shifting of the debates from one between the belligerents to one between Turkey and the powers.

After their second resort to arms, the Balkan delegates assert, their peace terms will be different from those which Turkey is now rejecting. They declare that Bulgaria will not be satisfied with a frontier line from Rodosto to Midia, but will draw it just before the gates of Constantinople, and they suggest a war indemnity of $200,000,000 or more.

LEADERS KEEP JOBS.

Law and Lansdowne Will Head the Unionist Forces.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Andrew Bonar Law and Lord Lansdowne decided yesterday to retain the leadership of the Unionist party in the House of Commons and the House of Lords respectively, and to abandon the stand they have heretofore taken on the subject of food taxation in connection with the scheme of Imperial preference.

In reply to the memorial addressed to him on Jan. 9 by a representative meeting of Unionists, in which the abandonment of the policy of food taxes was advocated, Andrew Bonar Law, who also spoke for Lord Lansdowne, says:

"It would have been more agreeable to ourselves and in our view more for the interest of the Unionist party that a change of method should have been accompanied by a change of leaders."

Mr. Law goes on to say that, as in the opinion of the memoralists a change of leadership would be "fatal to the interests of the party and the country, we feel it our duty to comply with the request."

MEXICAN REBELS ACTIVE.

Increasing Warfare Rouses Apprehension of U. S. State Department.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 15.—Concern is felt at the State Department over alarming reports of increased rebel activity in southern and southwestern Mexico.

Consul Edwards at Acapulco, reports that all of Costa Grande is in control of a rebel band under Julian Padilla, and that refugees are pouring into Acapulco from all directions. Padilla's men were threatening the city when the consul sent his report.

Rebels on Monday entered and sacked part of Amecameca, which is the starting point for the ascent of Popocatepetla, according to a despatch from Mexico City. The garrison finally repulsed the attacking forces.

CHILDREN TO WALK OUT.

Opposition of Ottawa to Bilingual Regulations Not Abated.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—"We have instructions from the parents of all the children attending the bilingual schools in Ottawa to have their children put on their coats and walk out the moment this regulation is enforced," said Trustee Samuel Genest of the Ottawa Separate School Board yesterday.

"We will ignore the regulation just the same as we did, as though it had never gone into effect," said Mr. Genest, "and French will be taught in the schools just as it was formerly."

Abductedor Eloped?

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Jan. 14.—Samuel Sinclair, supervising inspector of State highways, and R. Walter Starr, a senior at a nearby college, were released from jail here to-day under $3,000 bail each, to answer charges of attempting to abduct Miss Anna E. Steckel, daughter of a retired millionaire business man of this town, who declares he will spend half his fortune, if necessary, to prosecute the alleged abductors.

Miss Steckel's face and head are badly cut as the result of her struggles in the taxicab, in which it is alleged the attempt to abduct her was made Saturday afternoon. She is 23 years of age.

Sinclair is 30 years old, Starr is his nephew.

The young woman had just entered the vestibule of her home when seized by two men and forced into the taxi. The chaffeur was ordered to drive to the country, but on hearing sounds of a struggle he declares he turned his machine towards the police station, but in his haste collided with a monument in the centre of the town.

Sinclair, who is said to be a rejected suitor of the girl, declared that they were eloping with her consent.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"A MARRIAGE OF CONVENIENCE."

A large and select audience grasped the opportunity to greet the celebrated English romantic actor, Mr. Lewis Waller, who with his admirable company, made his initial appearance at Griffin's opera house last evening in "A Marriage of Convenience." While it was evident that Mr. Waller was suffering from a slight cold, he was in excellent voice, and his portrayal of the manners and courtly grace of the time of Louis XV. was perfect in every regard.

As for the story, it is that familiar plot revealed by Madame Nazimova in "The Marionettes," he fell in love with his wife. That Monsieur le Comte de Condalo in the person of Mr. Lewis Waller is only thoroughly overwhelmed but a few minutes before the final curtain, however, robs the play of much emotional power, but then one should not expect emotion in "A Marriage of Convenience."

Miss Madge Titheradge, as the convent girl wed to the Parisian cousin whom she scarcely knows, was delightful. Her delicate beauty and exquisite charm enable her to depict a lady of Louis XV.'s time in a manner that makes the portrait a beautiful memory. What little chance was given her to disclose emotional possibilities revealed her as a young actress of much promise. Mr. Reginald Dane, as her chevalier lover, whom she has met in convent days, was most efficient, as was also Mr. Edward Ryder as the general. The well-known clever actress, Miss Annie Hughes, also shone as the maid and confidante of the Comtesse. The action of the play takes but three days, but in that time the capricious pair decide to relinquish respectively a certain giddy marquise and a gay chevalier as they have found each other quite attractive enough.

"THE LOST PARADISE."

One of the events of the theatrical season will occur on Wednesday and Thursday of next week, when that famous three-act drama by Ludwig Fuldas, "The Lost Paradise," will be presented in the Griffin Opera House by local amateurs under the auspices of the Belleville hospital. Hundreds of tickets have already been sold and the ladies and gentlemen in the cast are working day and night to make it an artistic as well as a financial success. The play announced is unique in its construction, powerfully written and replete with human sentiment. It enjoyed long runs in Germany, London and other centres, and it was in this play that the famous Maude Adams made her first metropolitan appearance.

"LITTLE WOMEN."

A stage version of "Little Women," Louisa M. Alcott's immortal story, made by Marian de Forest, magazine writer and dramatic critic of the Buffalo Express, and produced by William A. Brady, will be given at Griffin's opera house Tuesday evening, Jan. 21.

"Little Women," the play, is in reality "Little Women," the book, made into a character comedy in four acts and two scenes, which tell the familiar story of the March girls, Meg, Jo, Beth and Amy, and all those concerned in the development of that story. Furthermore the story of "Little Women" is really the story of Louisa M. Alcott and her three sisters. Miss Alcott is the original of Jo; Meg is Anna Alcott, her older sister; Beth is Elizabeth Alcott, whose death in girlhood cast a heavy shadow over Louisa.

LOUISA M. ALCOTT.

Author of "Little Women," to be presented in a stage version at Griffin's opera house Tuesday, Jan. 21.

A FULL HOUSE

The police last evening were quite busy judging from the number of arrests made. Three parties were apprehended as being vagrants, a drunk was picked up and a fifth party was locked up on a charge of horse stealing. Two tramps were also provided with shelter for the night.

COMMITTED TO JAIL

Recently a foreigner, named Vlado Shando, of Point Ann, was convicted of selling liquor without a license and a fine of $100 and costs was imposed or in default 3 months in jail. As the fine was not paid Shando was apprehended and placed in the county jail where he will have to remain for 3 months if the fine in the meantime is not paid.

CONSIGNED TO THE TOMB

Yesterday afternoon the remains of the late Miss Hannah M. Sutton were consigned to the tomb. At her late residence on Herchmer Avenue the Rev. W. G. Clarke, Pastor of the Tabernacle Church, conducted services and also officiated at the grave. Many attended the obsequies and a number of floral tributes were placed upon the casket by freinds. The bearers were Messrs. G. McDonald, W. Bowen, L. Black, F. Elvins, G. Garrison and G. Barlow.

BELLEVILLE CHORAL CLUB

The Choral Club which has been holding its rehearsals in the Tabernacle Church for the past three months every Tuesday evening, completed the term last evening. It was unaminously decided to continue the Club for another term to meet on the same evening and place. The name of the Society was chosen to be known as the Belleville Choral Club. The Club is open to the public without distinction of church or creed. The work has shown excellent results under the able leadership of Mr. F. S. Rockwell. The rehearsals have been a source of very pleasant entertainment as well as much profit to the members.

ACCUSED OF HORSE STEALING

A young man named Walter Lasher of this city has apparently tangled himself in a bad box. This morning he appeared before Magistrate Masson and the charge preferred against him was as follows: That he did on the 10th day January 1913, unlawfully steal one bay horse, harness, a cutter, robes and whip, the property of Mr. John McCoy of this city. It appears that on Friday last, Lasher procured the outfit from Mr. McCoy representing he was time clerk on a construction gang, and had to drive near Kingston and would not return until last evening. Yesterday Mr. McCoy ascertained that Lasher was at Kingston and had disposed of the horse and conveyance, receiving part payment for the same. The result was a warrant was issued here for his arrest and the police of the limestone city notified to capture Lasher, which they did. Sergt. Naphin went to Kingston in the evening and returned with the prisoner. Lasher had a preliminary trial before the Magistrate to-day with the result he was committed for trial. The horse and outfit is still at Kingston but will be returned to Mr. McCoy. Mr. Anderson represented the Crown and Mr. Carnew appeared for the accused.

Agonizing Pain Prevented by Keeping Nerviline Handy on the Shelf. A Case in Point Illustrated.

Deadly cramps—the symptoms are not to be mistaken. Suddenly and without warning the patient experiences such agony in the stomach as to contort the countenance and cause him to cry aloud for help.

Then it is that the wonderful power of Nerviline can make itself felt—it cures so quickly.

"Last summer I was stricken with a frightful attack of cramps. I feared the pain in my stomach would kill me.

"My eyes bulged out and the veins in my forehead stood out like whip-cords.

"My cries attracted a neighbor, who came to my assistance, and in a moment or two handed me half a teaspoonful of Nerviline in some sweetened water.

"It seemed as if an angel had charmed away the pain. In ten seconds I was well. Nerviline has a wonderful name in this locality, and is considered best for cramps, diarrhoea, flatulence, stomach and bowel disorders. I urge all my friends to use Nerviline.

Food to be enjoyed, must not only taste good, but must look good as well.

Electric light is essentially the light for the dining room and when used with Holophane Reflectors gives both the most pleasing effect and the maximum economy.

Tastes differ in dining room illumination, some preferring ceiling fixtures giving an even light to the entire room, while others have shaded lamps or domes just over the table which give a cozier effect.

In either case Holophane Reflectors will be found of great advantage, from an artistic as well as an economical standpoint.

Our representative will be only too glad to explain these advantages fully to you. May he call some afternoon this week?

TO HAVE PILOTAGE COMMISSION

Following on representations made to the Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, by representative shipping men, it has been decided to appoint a commission to be known as the Pilotage Commission to enquire into the whole system of the appointment of pilots in Canada. The Commission will direct its energies more particularly to the method of appointment and to the workings of the pilot organizations as seen on the Atlantic coast and the River St. Lawrence.

This prompt action on the part of the Minister will meet with the approval of not only the shipping men of the country but of all those who have to travel by water. The action has been precipitated by the number of marine accidents which have taken place on the St. Lawrence within the past six months.

At one point four months ago near the city of Quebec two large ocean going steamers went aground almost at the same spot. After a thorough investigation it was found that in both instances the pilots were to blame. This led shipping people to look into the question of the appointment of pilots and it was alleged that there existed a combine amongst them to the disadvantage of capable men, who might otherwise be qualified.

This combine is described as of the family type, picturesque but dangerous. Its influence extends to the system of examining pilots. The present examining board for pilots was granted a federal charter many years ago before the potentialities of St. Lawrence shipping were fully recognized. The board was composed of members of certain families on the Lower and Upper St. Lawrence. They set the tests for admission to the rank of pilot with the inevitable result that only certain members of families were allowed to pass.

A former Minister of Marine in the Laurier Government, the Hon. Mr. Prefontaine, passed legislation that the Government should have the right to have certain ex-officio members on the Pilot Examining Board. But these are only a small number of the Board and the so-called combine has been allowed to flourish with serious results in many cases to the reputation of St. Lawrence shipping.

It is probable that the Government will have the whole system of examining pilots brought directly under federal supervision with the examiners appointed by the Government. This will do away with favoritism and indifferent tests for admission to the rank of pilot. The question is one of the most important which the Minister has been called upon to deal with as it is impossible to get lower rates of insurance on the St. Lawrence and so compete with the American ports until the present disadvantageous system of pilotage is abolished.

FRANK'S LATEST MIS-STEP

That the people of the West will not permit even Hon. Frank Oliver to attack the Borden policy was clearly evidenced at Calgary last week, according to the following despatch received from that city:

Calgary citizens who attended the naval policy meeting in Paget Hall Friday night refused to listen to an attack by Hon. Frank Oliver on the Borden policy. At every mention of the policy or Mr. Borden's name eight hundred people shouted themselves hoarse. Hoots, jeers and hisses greeted any attacks upon it.

Finding the audience entirely hostile, the ex-Minister of the Interior changed his text and delivered an elaborate eulogy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Dr. Michael Clark, M.P., for Red Deer, got along well with his audience until he, too, attempted to discuss the naval policy where Mr. Oliver left off, but his attempt was no more successful than his colleague's.

If these gentlemen would study more closely the western weathervain of public opinion they would save themselves many unsavory scenes and expressions. The Borden policy as it is unfolding for public inspection is becoming a sensitive point with the people of our country, and to disparage the Premier's creditable achievements thus far is equivalent to an upheaval in political circles. Aside from Frank Oliver's massive brain there are not a few of Canada's statesmen, and what may be termed the lay population, who know a good thing when they see it. If the Hon. Frank Oliver wishes to avoid further evidence of his rapidly increasing disfavor with Canada's western voters, we would advise him to adhere strictly to the eulogy of his chieftain, Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

OUR BANKS AND EMERGENCIES

The table below has been compiled with the object of showing the position of the individual banks as regards preparedness for serious emergency. It would, of course, be a serious mistake to draw too final conclusions from the figures given below. They are for the month of November only, as being a time of comparative strain and therefore likely to give a better idea of strength or weakness than would figures derived from averaging a whole year. In this case the situation at a given moment is more interesting than the situation over a considerable period.

On the side of reserves, there have been included notes and checks on other banks, and deposits made with other banks in addition to the reserves usually considered, as these should be assets quickly liquidated in case of need on the part of any one bank.

Assistant District Attorney Weller, of New York, says that a firebug can be bought for a $5 bill and 10 per cent. of the insurance collected on the damage he causes. For murder, $100, and for arson, $5! The criminals of New York are what the ordinary chap calls cheap skates.—Montreal Gazette.

The above is high grade compared with an incident in a western city recently, when a pedestrian was apparently injured by a timber falling from a building in course of construction. He presented a high claim, the casualty company engaged a shadower, who dogged his steps for a week; the claimant bought up the detective for $25.00, received a check for several hundred dollars and then refused to pay. The detective dare not squeal, and went without.

Depend On Ancient Cures

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Special—The position of the doctors in the remote districts in the Highlands and in the islands is unenviable, according to the report of the Committee on Medical Service in the Scottish Highlands. Many do not earn more than $250 to $350 a year. In one instance a doctor earned $200, but there is conclusive evidence of the inability of the cottagers to pay fees, their average annual income varying from $50 to $130.

It is not surprising, therefore, that the ancient superstitions "cures" are popular. Instances are cited, such as an epileptic attack being "treated" by burying a black cock alive beneath the place where the sufferer was first attacked and the "treatment" of scrofula by having a seventh son touch the diseased parts. These and similar treatments are declared to have wrought cures.

Canada Cattle Embargo

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Special—President Runciman of the Board of Agriculture, informed Captain Campbell in the House of Commons today that the government did not coontemplate the removal of the embargo on Canadian cattle. During the past two years, he said, glanders, sheep-scab, rabies and tuberculosis had existed among Canadian stock.

Captain Murray, to obviate the difficulty, suggested the purchase of a small island on the west coast of Scotland, to be utilized as a Canadian quarantine station. No reply was given.

TRAGIC HISTORY OF MAD MONARCHS

Nominal King of Bavaria Eats Grass, Hates Soap and Shoots at Passing Peasants

The death of the aged Prince Regent of Bavaria, Leopold, who for over half a century governed Bavaria, first for King Ludwig II., and then for King Otto, his two mad nephews, recalls the unhappy lot of the royal family of that country.

Ludwig I. was, to say the least, eccentric. When he saw a beautiful face, no matter the station of the owner, he sent his Court artist to paint it. All these paintings are now in the Royal castle at Munich. Among them is a portrait of Lola Montez, the beautiful adventuress, of whom the King became so infatuated that he made her a countess and gave her a pension of 20,000 florins.

But the tragedy of the Bavarian Royal House really began with the accession to the throne in 1864 of Ludwig II., a grandson of Ludwig I. As a child he showed considerable mental instability, and during his boyhood, spent in the Bavarian Alps, his imagination was so stirred by legends of knights, mermaids, swans, and beautiful ladies, that by the time he came to the throne he was hopelessly insane.

Until then, owing to his secluded life, the people generally were not aware of his failing. Once he had been made King, however, it could no longer be concealed. He was betrothed to his cousin, Princess Sophia, but on the day before the wedding he refused to marry her, and ordered valuable portraits and sculptures of her to be destroyed. Princess Sophia afterwards became Duchess d'Alencon, and perished in the Paris charity bazaar fire.

Audience of One

The King would often refuse to receive foreign Rulers or diplomats because these ceremonies interrupted his literary studies, and he would frequently interrupt audiences with Ministers with quotations from Schiller. Later he developed a dislike of meeting people, declined to attend Church, and built himself a private chapel. The presence of the public in theatres also disturbed him, and he commanded operas and plays to be performed to him alone, with the auditorium in complete darkness, so that the actors had no idea where their audience of one sat. At midnight the mad King used to drive around in a sleigh in the form of a golden swan, with six swift horses attatched to it.

At Court banquets the King believed he was on the way to the scaffold, and insisted upon being hidden behind banks of flowers. The music had to be of a thunderous character, and when it was not loud enough the King would strike the floor violently with his sword.

Eventually King Ludwig refused to associate with anybody except servants and stable lads, and Royal decrees were only issued through locked doors. He built himself magnificent residences in all directions. They were like fairy palaces, no expense being spared in order to secure the effects desired by the Royal lunatic.

It was really this extravagance in building that caused his dethronement. He was continually demanding increases in the Civil List, and if Ministers declined to meet his wishes he ordered their arrest or dismissal. So in June, 1886, he was dethroned, and Prince Leopold was appointed Regent. Ludwig was taken to the castle of Berg, but shortly afterwards he and his physician were found drowned in the Starnberger See. It is assumed that the King jumped into the water, and that the physician died in attempting to save him.

Shooting at Peasants

Ludwig was nominally succeeded by his brother Otto; but as Otto was also mad, Prince Leopold kept the Regency. King Otto's madness took the form of musical enthusiasm. Even now, in his castle prison at Fürstenried he spends most of his time awakening the echoes with the music of Verdi's operas.

The first symptoms of King Otto's madness were visible during the Franco-German war, when he called out a squad of cavalry to charge straight at a stone wall, which he insisted was a body of the enemy's infantry. He has the utmost horror of soap and water, and will seldom have his hair or his nails cut.

He often refuses his food, imagining it to be poisoned, and in order to keep him from starvation his attendants have to hide his food in places where he is sure to find it. Imagining it has been put there for someone else, he will then devour it without any scruple. Most of his time is spent smoking cigarettes or walking about the grounds of the Castle. He is fond of eating grass, and an attendant has to restrain this appetite.

One of his pastimes is shooting at passing peasants from the Castle windows with a rifle, which his attendants carefully load with harmless bullets.

A Scotsman, who died at Burghead, a little fishing village on the Morayshire coast, was an interesting link with Prince Charlie. Mr. James Petrie, who was ninety-seven, received from his grandfather's lips the story of that relative's conversation with the Jacobite leader when his army was passing north to the ill-fated field of Culloden. The grandson often recalled how the older man had advised the prince to "go back and fight at the River Spey."

Nature's Way Is The Best

Buried deep in our American forest we find bloodroot, queen's root, mandrake and stone root, golden seal, Oregon grape root and cherrybark. Of these Dr. R. V. Pierce made a pure glyceric extract which has been favorably known for over forty years. He called it "Golden Medical Discovery."

This "Discovery" purifies the blood and tones up the stomach and the entire system in Nature's own way. It's just the tissue builder and tonic you require when recovering from a hard cold, grip, or pneumonia. No matter how strong the constitution the stomach is apt to be "out of kilter" at times; in consequence the blood is disordered, for the stomach is the laboratory for the manufacture of blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience at this time of the year is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin—you feel "blue."

"More than a week ago I was suffering with an awful cold in my head, throat, breast, and body," writes Mr. JAMES G. KENT, of 710 L Street, S. E., Washington, D. C. "Some called it La Grippe, some pneumonia. I was advised by a friend to try a bottle of your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I tried a bottle and it did me so much good that I feel safe in saying it is the greatest and best medicine that I ever took. My health is much better than it was before using your medicine. It does all you claim for it and is satisfactory."

Write Ideas For Moving Picture Plays!

YOU CAN WRITE PHOTO PLAYS AND EARN $25 OR MORE WEEKLY

We Will Show You How!

If you have ideas—if you can THINK—we will show you the secrets of this fascinating new profession. Positively no experience or literary excellence necessary. No "flowery language" is wanted.

The demand for photoplays is practically unlimited. The big film manufacturers are "moving heaven and earth" in their attempts to get enough good plots to supply the ever increasing demand. They are offering $100 and more, for single scenarios, or written ideas.

Nearly all the big film companies, the buyers of photoplays, are located in or near NEW YORK CITY. Being right on the spot, and knowing at all times just what sort of plots are wanted by the producers, our SALES DEPARTMENT has a tremendous advantage over agencies situated in distant cities.

We have received many letters from the big film manufacturers, such as VITAGRAPH, EDISON, ESSANAY, LUBIN, SOLAX, IMP, REX, RELIANCE, CHAMPION, COMET, MELIES, ETC., urging us to send photoplays to them. We want more writers and we'll gladly teach you the secrets of success.

We are selling photoplays written by people who "never before wrote a line for publication."

Perhaps we can do the same for you. If you can think of only one good idea every week, and will write it out as directed by us, and it sells for only $25, a low figure,

You will earn $100 monthly for spare time work.

FREE Send your name and address at once for free copy of our illustrated book, "MOVING PICTURE PLAYWRITING"

BELLEVILLE JUNIORS WIN OPENING GAME

Defeat Kingston Frontenacs in a Hard Game by a Score of 8 to 6 Last Night.

By Alf. Smith.

Did our boys surprise them? Well, rather. The Kingston Frontenacs expected a walk-over after defeating the locals in Kingston a week ago by 13 to 7, but it was a different brand of hockey they went up against last night at the local rink, when the Belleville boys put it over the Frontenacs to the tune of 8 to 6 in a scheduled junior O. H. A. game. The game was one of the most exciting ever seen here, and the result was in doubt up to the last minute of play. Over 1,000 spectators were kept on the verge of heart failure during the whole game, and they heaved a big sigh of relief when the final gong sounded. The two teams were very evenly matched in weight, speed and stickhandling, but the uphill grind of the locals was too much for the visitors. At half-time one could not get a bet up on either team, as they were tied, 3 all, and both going about the same pace, with Kingston a little the favorite. And after the rest-time Kingston got busy and notched two goals in quick succession, making the score 5 to 3 in their favor. This woke the locals up, and they scored. But Kingston came right back at them with another, and then stopped, while Belleville kept right on going and poured in shot after shot on Cook, and ran the score up to eight. Only the excellent work of Cook saved the Frontenacs from a bad drubbing, as time and again the locals bored in past their heavy defence and he had to go out to stop the shots. He had about 10 shots to stop for every one by Brotherhood. But the Belleville boy was there with the goods when called upon. He made some phenomenal stops, had a little luck, and cleared nicely. With a little more practice he will deliver the goods with satisfaction. Whittie was the mainstay of the team and time and again broke up the combined rushes of the opposing forwards. He was a little inclined to hog the puck, but usually found himself alone when he struck the Frontenacs' end. He certainly deserves a large share of the credit for the game he played. Finkle, Wallace and Wilson worked hard every minute but seemed to bunch too much and tried too much individual play, but towards the end of the game they were working like clocks, and only the good work of Cook saved the visitors. And Hodgins, the centre, was travelling in hard luck. He is one of the most brilliant players seen on Belleville ice in a long time. The Kingston players seemed to have him marked, and they never lost a chance to get him. He was put out entirely for a few minutes, but came back on the ice gamer than ever. He was ruled off several times, but his offenses were unintentional and trivial, but seemed to catch the referee's eye every time.

The Kingston boys had better team work than the locals, but were backchecked so quickly they could not get away with it very often. If the locals would only follow their example, play their positions more and pass the puck, there would be nothing to it, in this district at least. The visitors showed several bursts of speed, but Whittie or Goyer were always on the job. Goyer is a young player, but he delivered the goods, and is a steady, reliable man at point.

Belleville scored first blood five minutes after the face-off, when Hodgins made a beautiful shot. Then Wilson made a pretty rush, passed to Finkle, who notched the second, and then Kingston got busy and scored. But Whittie took a long chance and made it 3—1, and then Kingston bulged the nets twice in succession, the first half ending 3 all.

The local fans are much encouraged over the showing of the local boys, and their enthusiasm knew no bounds at the conclusion of the game.

Gene Illsey of Trenton was referee, and he handled the game very impartially. There were quite a number of penalties handed out, but were of a minor character, Belleville suffering the most.

The line-up was as follows:

Belleville.		Frontenacs.
	Goal.
Brotherhood		Cook
	Point.
Goyer		Stanton
	Cover-point.
Whittie		Ferguson
	Centre.
Hodgins		Millan
	Rover.
Finkle		Purtell
	Right Wing.
Wallace		Angrove
	Left Wing.
Wilson		Derry

CAUGHT IN THE NETS.

And now for Picton Friday night. There is some talk of a special.

• • •

Whittie and Purtell got into a small disagreement, but there was nothing to it.

• • •

Wallace is the unlucky one. He had his nose badly cut but he stayed with the game. You can't beat Bill for pluck.

• • •

Was Dr. Gilbert looking after the boys? Well, there's no better.

• • •

The Kingston boys are a fine gentlemanly bunch, and played a clean, hard game.

• • •

And the smile on Dick Arnott! He was sure proud of the youngsters.

• • •

Albert was there strong for Hodgins, and he was a credit to them.

• • •

It was a shame the way Whittie made the whole Kingston team look foolish by his rushes.

• • •

Oh, you Finkle! You were there all the time.

• • •

Millan, the speedy Frontenac forward, showed up the best for the visitors, but he was too closely checked to do much damage.

• • •

Wilson had his check guessing all night. The speed he uncovered at times was a pleasure to watch.

• • •

And some foolish people had the nerve to bet yesterday the Kingston would double the score! Come again, old chap, the price of coal is still up in Belleville.

About the Game Called Hockey

By Alf. Smith.

Looking at the game of hockey for the first time is like grasping the handles of an electric battery on a cold day. It is as full of thrills and shocks, and when you once become attached to it you just can't leave.

Yes, it was the first time (pity the unfortunate); but, believe us, there isn't going to be any last time, not if we have to wait.

Funny, but each season of the year has its charms in the way of a thriller of some kind. We are never without a hypodermic. Life is just one jolt after another. It's either a world's series or a motorcycle race, football or auto polo, a prizefight or a six-day race. Zip! zip! all the time. No wonder the good die young.

But, as we were saying, we took our electric foot-warmer in one hand and a friend who had the tickets in the other and drifted in on one of these breathtakers last evening at the rink. We would have been sitting there yet if Dick Arnott wasn't so unreasonable. He got no Christmas present from us.

Just one glance at the game called hockey and we wondered if Chief Newton knew it was going on.

Exciting! Holy horntoads!

Just a mess of swinging sticks and slipping, animated objects—a spark-flashing riot, that's all.

They are the grandest high and lofty tumblers that ever did a brodie. They compel them to wear padding so they won't break the ice when they volplane.

Now we don't know anything about this game yet except to look up quick when we hear the ice crack. We know nothing but the in or out side workings of the pastime. All we got is a cold and the "movement" of the game so far. If we were the referee we would give the decision to the side which scored the greater number of falls. But at that we know enough about the game not to play it ourselves. The game is for our enemies and our creditors.

We did count five men on a side, though (counted 'em before the game). Each carried an overgrown stick with a hook. We did think they looked sort of foolish chasing that little poker chip all over the place. Why couldn't they have provided a Christmas present—a watch, say, or a bar check—somethink wort'a whi

"Puck" is what they call that little disc of contention. "Bullet," they mean. You should see them shoot it across that rink. We say "should see" advisedly, because in reality it is impossible to follow as it streaks about. If a player happens to linger in front of it, why he dies a lingering death; but we won't talk about that this bright winter morning.

Down at either end of the glass pond there is an odd-looking animal called a goal tender. He plays about the same part in the game as does one of those wooden-man targets in a shooting gallery. He looks as though he had been raised on dried apples and watermelon, all padded out, you know, so as to make him easier for the rest of the sharp-shooters to hit. He stands beside his cage, where he is kept at night, we suppose, and doesn't seem to have much to do except furnish business for the drug stores. That reminds us that every up-to-date hockey club has its own portable doctor and hospital.

The doctor is allowed seven minutes in which to patch up a player and pick the ice out of his constitution before the play is resumed. But, as we understand it, this time will be reduced to one minute, as the delays were threatening to cause six-day hockey.

We thought the game was over when we saw two or three of the players slide off the field and sit down. But nope; we were informed as we were jerked back in our seat that they were merely being punished by the referee for fouling. It was a shame too, as they were playing a slashing good game at the time. We will know when the game is over next time. When the final whistle toots each player painfully slips off the field and sits down to count himself. If he averages the approximate number of arms and legs, fingers and ears, etc., he solemnly shakes hands with himself, and then with the aid of his razor-edge skates, he climbs up on the shoulders of his teammates and is carried off the field a hero. Rah! Rah!

HOT BATTLE AT MIDLAND.

MIDLAND, Jan. 14.—After Collingwood shuffled their players in the senior and intermediate series and they brought out a team last night with every strength they had. The old-time rivalry was just as keen as ever and the checking hard and close. It was without doubt the most strenuous game seen here in years. The final score was 6 to 4 in favor of Midland.

STRATHROY WON ON PLUCK.

STRATHROY, Jan. 14—The first local intermediate O.H.A. game was played here last night, Alvinston and Strathroy being the contenders. The crowd was small. Alvinston has a fast bunch and showed superior condition, but Strathroy played an uphill game and their gameness was rewarded, the final score being 7 to 6.

PETERBORO BEAT KINGSTON.

KINGSTON, Jan. 14.—The Frontenacs do not appear to be of senior calibre at present, judging by the fact that last evening Peterboro won the O.H.A. senior fixture by six goals to four in a contest in which they did better work all through than Jim Sutherland's seven. Only four of last year's Frontenacs appeared in the lineup.

PARKDALE SWAMPED STRATFORD.

It was a new experience for a Toronto hockey crowd to see a Stratford senior team buried under an avalanche of goals, but that is what occurred Monday night in Toronto when the Parkdale seniors piled up a 13 to 4 score on the Classic City septette. At half-time the Paddlers had scored eleven goals to the one credited to Stratford.

TORONTO PADDLED THE TORONTO CANOE CLUB.

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—Last night the Toronto and Parkdale Canoe club juniors fought a desperate engagement at the Arena rink, the Toronto club winning in overtime by 7 to 6. At the expiration of the regulation hour the score was 5 to 5.

BRANTFORD BEAT HAMILTON.

HAMILTON, Jan. 14.—After leading the Brantford juniors by two goals to nothing in the first seven minutes of play, the Hamilton juniors were last night defeated in the opening game of the junior O.H.A. series by the score of 5 to 2.

OSHAWA'S GOOD JUNIORS.

OSHAWA, Jan. 14.—This town has another strong junior team for the 1913 season, and promises to again go a long way in the series. Last night the home boys defeated Cobourg by 9 to 3.

GODERICH BY TWO GOALS.

GODERICH, Jan. 14.—Goderich defeated Seaforth last night in the opening intermediate game by 4 to 2. The game was devoid of special mention, both teams displaying lack of practice.

ST. ANDREW'S BEAT UP. CANADA.

TORONTO, Jan. 41.—A fair crowd of graduates and students witnessed the junior O.H.A. fixture between St. Andrew's and Upper Canada yesterday afternoon, which the Saints won by 4 to 2.

PRESTON JUNIORS BEAT GALT.

PRESTON, Jan. 14.—The O.H.A. junior game, played here last night between Preston and Galt, resulted 3 to 2 in favor of Preston.

PETES HAVE GOOD JUNIORS, TOO.

PORT HOPE, Jan. 14.—In a rather loose game here last night Peterboro juniors defeated Port Hope by a score of 14 to 4.

Jimmy Preston, last season with Eaton's, will play with Stratford against the Preston seniors in the next game. Jimmy says that the junior team that beats Stratford this year will have to go some. The Classic City youngsters have already won their group.

Ingersoll juniors were defeated 9 to 6 in London on Monday night in the junior O.H.A. series.

CURLING.

VICE-PRESIDENTS RINKS WON.

The annual game between the rinks of the President and Vice-President was played off at the local curling rink last night, the Vice-Presidents' rinks winning out by 43 to 35. The result:

Jack Johnson To Live In Queen City

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—As a result of the criticisms directed against him in and about Chicago, Jack Johnson, the colored pugilist and his wife are coming to Toronto, and arrangements have been made to accommodate them at a private colored boarding house.

Manager Flanagan does not know just what business Johnson is coming here to transact, but it is expected that after a conference, he will issue a challenge to the white hopes the world over and repeat his claim to the world's heavyweight championship.

Johnson will arrive at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and will at once go into retirement, denying himself for the present to all newspaper men and callers.

Flanagan will probably issue a statement from him on Wednesday morning.

Fleets Again Engage

LONDON, Jan. 14—Special—The Daily Mail correspondent in a telegram from Dardanelles, dated Jan. 11, but delayed by the censor, reports having witnessed an engagement between the Turkish and Greek fleets at the entrance of the Dardanelles on that day. The Turkish warships were not damaged, and he was unable to say whether or not the Greeks suffered.

WILL REPEAL CHARTER

Governor Sulzer Says State Must Take Over Long Sault.

He Declares That the New York State Legislature Exceeded Its Powers In Granting Charter to Corporation and Will Cancel Rights—Pays No Attention to Effect of Dam on River Navigation.

ALBANY, N.Y., Jan. 14.—In a special message to the Legislature last night, Governor Sulzer recommended that the charter granted to the Long Sault Development Co. by the Legislature of 1907, be immediately repealed. Attorney-General Carmody reported to the Senate recently that in his opinion the Legislature exceeded its authority in granting the charter, the act being unconstitutional, and in this opinion, the governor concurs. He recommends, however, that the power be developed by the state for general distribution, and fails to consider the claim that such development may affect navigation.

The company was incorporated with a capital of $1,000,000, and its directors for the first year were: Michael H. Flaherty, Frank S. Smith, Henry H. Warren, Walter F. Willson and John C. Crapser. The corporation proposed to develop power from the St. Lawrence River, which, it is estimated, would amount to 1,000,000 horsepower if fully developed. The company has paid $35,000 into the state treasury, which the governor suggests be repaid to the company with interest.

The company has never begun operations because of its failure to get favorable legislation from the federal and Canadian Governments. A bill passed the U. S. Senate, but was defeated in the House of Representatives. Governor Sulzer said yesterday he was one of those who opposed the measure in Washington.

In the course of his message, Governor Sulzer said:

"The State of New York, in my opinion, is now committed to the policy of conserving all of its natural resources, and particularly of developing our vast water powers, so that they may be of benefit to all the people of the state."

"The Attorney-General, the State Conservation Commission, and myself are convinced that this act is void and unconstitutional, and that the appropriate action to be taken by the Legislature at this time is to repeal the said act.

"Not only is said act violative of the provisions of our state constitution, but its provisions are in other respects improvident, unwise and indefensible, both from an industrial and an economical point of view.

"Investigations made by the engineers of the State Conservation Commission demonstrate, among other things, that a full economic development at the Long Sault Rapids will produce one million horse-power, of which, by treaty arrangement with Canada, it is to be expected that New York will receive no less than one-half. It is hard to conceive of the vastness of 500,000 horse-power, transmuted into electrical energy. It is nearly three-quarters of the sum total of all the water powers now developed in New York State, including that at Niagara. It is estimated to be more than sufficient to run one-third of all the industries of our state now operated by steam.

"At present it is reported as practicable to transmit power from the Long Sault Rapids to New York City for steady continuous loads much cheaper than such loads can now be carried by steam power. This will inevitably result in a great saving to the consumer, and be of inestimable value to the state.

"In order that we secure for all our citizens the many and the lasting beneficial results of the proper development of our natural resources, particularly of our now unused water powers, in accordance with our constructive policy in these matters, to which our state now stands committed, I respectfully recommend that chapter 355 of the laws of 1907—the Long Sault Development Co.'s charter—be immediately repealed."

NOT ANTI-IMPERIAL.

Earl Grey Defends Reciprocity Pact In Letter To Times.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Times yesterday morning published a letter from Earl Grey, in which he takes exception to the way in which Austen Chamberlain referred to Canadian affairs in his speech Monday night. He desires to protest, he says, against the assumption that Laurier's policy of reciprocal free trade in certain natural products between Canada and the United States showed any want of Imperial spirit on his part. On the contrary it was the belief of Laurier and his colleagues that the free entry of the products of Canadian farms, fisheries and forests into the protected market of over ninety million people would add greatly to the wealth of Canada, and thus create an increased market for protected manufactures in Canada and the United Kingdom that caused them to favor the policy of reciprocity.

"It is possible I may go further and say it is not improbable that had this policy been accepted by the people of Canada, British preference would be further increased.

"As one of those whose desire is to secure the nearest possible approximation to interimperial free trade that the revenue requirements and national necessities of each self-governing united empire will permit, I am inclined to agree with those who believe that the adoption of the reciprocity proposals might have brought about a nearer approximation to that ideal of interimperial free trade which so dear to the heart of Austen Chamberlain. Laurier's policy was not conceived in any anti-imperial spirit, but the speeches of Taft and others alarmed Canadians as to the character of American ambitions, and no doubt had much influence in causing the Canadian people to reject the proposals of Canadian statesmen, who were just as prepared as Chamberlain himself to spend their last dollar and spend their last drop of blood in any struggle necessary to maintain the integrity of the Empire."

SAYS PACT WAS MADE

Hugh Guthrie Alleges Written Bond With Nationalists.

He Declares In Speech on Naval Debate That the Conservative Leaders Pledged Themselves to Repeal the Laurier Naval Act—Urges a Compromise Policy and Scouts Existence of Any Emergency.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—The naval debate was resumed yesterday upon the reassembling of Parliament. Miss Violet Asquith, daughter of the British Prime Minister, was in the Speaker's gallery, and Hon. James Duff, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, occupied a seat on the floor of the House.

Hugh Guthrie, the Liberal member for South Wellington, opened the discussion with a strong presentation of the arguments of the Opposition. He quoted from Mr. Asquith to show the overwhelming superiority of Great Britain on the sea, and from Right Hon. Winston Churchill to prove that the Imperial Government desired the dominions to establish local navies instead of contributing to the fleet of the North Sea.

"Let me put it the other way," said Mr. Guthrie. "Will this House rely upon the statements of Mr. Asquith, the British Prime Minister, who must have most intimate knowledge of European affairs and the situation in the Empire, or will it rely upon the Prime Minister of Canada, who only knows what he was able to pick up during a short visit to England?"

Why was it, Mr. Guthrie asked, that the Prime Minister had made it impossible for Mr. Churchill to give him similar advice eight weeks later? Why was it that he refused to sanction anything in the way of a Canadian navy, although in 1909 he had favored such a navy? It was because the Prime Minister and the Conservative party were tied hand and foot by a pledge to Henri Bourassa and the Nationalists. "This pledge, I say, is a written document, and can be produced. The Nationalists took no chances with the Conservatives in the general elections of 1911. When Mr. Gordon, who was running in Nipissing, and Mr. Smythe, who was running in East Algoma, appealed to Bourassa to get them the French vote in their respective ridings they were compelled to sign, and did sign, written pledges to repeal the Canadian Naval Service Act."

He disclaimed any desire to talk party politics, and proposed that the Government and the Opposition get together and agree upon a naval policy. Britain, he said, wished the moral support of Canada above everything else, and that would be lacking if it were known that the vote of $35,000,000 had disrupted the Cabinet and had been through Parliament as a party measure.

He suggested that, in view of the lack of unanimity in the House, a compromise between the two parties might be possible. "We might modify our proposal," he continued, "and allow the two dreadnoughts to be constructed in England and then the rest of the two fleet units could be built in Canada in a short time. The British navy would be shorn of one dreadnought, but it would be strengthened by the support of two fleet units. Therefore, I suggest to the Prime Minister and to my right honorable leader that some give and some take might be possible.

"If our action is going to give any moral support to Great Britain it has to be on different lines than the present. There is a great gulf between the parties and there might be compromise. If we cannot settle the question let us have an appeal to the country. I think the people ought to be consulted in this time of peace, security and overwhelming superiority of the Imperial forces. I would not urge this were the question one of pressing need, emergency or danger."

Mr. Guthrie said he believed that the Liberals would carry the country upon the naval policy were the Government to grant a dissolution.

Mr. Middlebro, the Conservative member for North Grey, in a spirited speech, declared that the statements attributed to Mr. Churchill had been made before the passage of the German naval act of 1912, and that the legislation by Germany has greatly increased the striking force of the navy, so that now 80 per cent. of the ships were ready for immediate action. The recent Balkan war, he declared, had shown how easily military operations could change the map of Europe; a naval attack could be made with much greater celerity. That an emergency did exist at present was recognized by everyone. The fact that Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his followers were now ready to vote two fleet units, although a year ago they regarded the suggestion of one fleet unit as excessive, demonstrated how quickly events had moved and how serious the Empire situation had become.

That a real danger and an emergency existed was recognized by every thoughtful person in England. The newspapers, Liberal and Conservative alike, had given warning to the people. The Manchester Guardian, The Westminster Gazette, The London Stnadard, The London Telegraph and The Morning Post were unanimous in admitting the German menace.

Mr. E. W. Nesbitt (North Oxford), who followed, maintained that to doubt Canada's ability to build a navy would cast an unwarranted reflection on Canadian enterprise and Canadian ability. If Japan and Russia could build up navies then Canada could. If no emergency were shown, he held that $35,000,000 was too great a sum to be expended except upon a permanent policy.

Canadian defence was the first essential of any sound Imperial loyalty. "Drop this retrogressive policy of contribution," he said, in conclusion; "let us adopt a permanent policy of protecting our own shores, thus relieving the Mother Country of that burden. If the Government does not believe that is the right policy, then let us appeal to the country at once, even without first waiting to pass a redistribution bill."

Dr. Edwards of Frontenac moved the adjournment of the debate and will continue to-day.

PLEBILCITE LATER,

Permanent Naval Policy Will Go To People, Said Premier.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—Correspondence which passed between the Prime Minister and Hon. F. D. Monk when the latter resigned as a member of the Government under the naval question was tabled in the Commons yesterday. It adds but very little to what was already known of the differences between the ex-Minister of Public Works and his colleagues, and shows that their personal relations were not in the slightest strained. Mr. Monk's letter of resignation says:

"My Dear Premier,—I regret to find that I cannot concur in the decision arrived at by the Cabinet yesterday to place on behalf of Canada an emergency contribution of $35,000,000 at the disposal of the British Government for naval purposes, with the sanction of Parliament about to assemble, but without giving the Canadian people an opportunity of expressing its approval of this important step before it is taken.

"Such a concurrence would be at variance with my pledges, and the act proposed is of sufficient gravity to justify my insistence; it goes beyond the scope of the constitutional act of 1867. Holding this view, as a member of your Cabinet, I feel it is my duty to place my resignation in your hands.

"Permit me to add that my decision has been reached with regret, on account of my agreeable relations at all times with yourself. Yours sincerely,

(Signed) "F. D. Monk."

The Premier's reply was written two days later. In it he says regarding the naval program:

"I received this morning, with very deep regret, the letter by which you place in my hands your resignation as a member of the Government. The information which has been placed before us by his Majesty's Government disclose so grave a situation that in my judgment the granting of immediate and effective aid is necessary in the interest of this Dominion, as part of the British Empire. Such a step is entirely of a temporary character, and is absolutely distinct from a permanent policy of co-operation in Imperial defence, which, when formulated, ought to be placed before the people for their consideration and approval."

HUGE OULAY ON NAVY.

Britain Plans an Expenditure of About $240,000,000.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—According to The Daily Mail, work of framing the British navy estimates for the coming year is nearly completed.

The one point remaining for decision, viz., whether five or six battleships shall be laid down, depends upon the Austrian naval program.

If the Admiralty decides to wait before taking action till the Austrian ships are laid down, it may be expected to be five battleships this year.

The naval program will then, according to the present information, involve an expenditure of $240,000,000, and will include five battleships, six light armored cruisers, twenty destroyers, a number of submarines and in addition to the personnel of 5,000 men, making a total of 142 500 officers and men.

The battleships will be of a new type, the largest and strongest which science can build or money supply. They will displace 27,000 or 28,000 tons, burn oil alone and steam 23 knots.

Thus there will be an intermediate between the present Dreadnought battleships and battle cruisers. They will be armed in all probability with eight 16 1-4 inch guns, each firing 2,200-lb. shells, or if the 16 1-4-inch gun is not adopted, with 15-inch guns, firing shells that weigh about 1,003 pounds.

MR. ROWELL'S TOUR.

Liberal Leader Starts on Friday To Stump Western Ontario.

TORONTO, Jan. 15.—Mr. N. W. Rowell, K.C., and a number of colleagues will address a series of meetings in the province on "tax reform" and other important issues. Meetings so far arranged are:

Friday evening, Jan. 17, Princeton, North and South Oxford, "Tax Reform and the Farmer."

Saturday evening, Jan. 18, Bright, North Oxford, "Tax Reform and the Settler."

Monday evening, Jan. 20, North Toronto (Rowell Liberal Club), "Tax Reform and the Housing Problem.

Thursday evening, Jan. 23, Berlin, "Tax Reform and the Manufacturers and Workingmen."

One other meeting to be held in eastern Ontario will be announced shortly.

Cipriano Grows Peevish.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Gen. Cipriano Castro spent a fretful day in his room at the immigration station on Ellis Island yesterday, and sent out his valet many times to enquire if the special board of enquiry had determined whether he should be permitted to land or should be deported. He was given small satisfaction and this increased his irritation. It was reported that the board had completed its investigation and sent its report to Washington. This was denied at the office of Commissioner Williams.

St. John Dock Strike.

ST. JOHN, N.B., Jan. 15.—The Marine and Railway Checkers' Union yesterday ordered a strike. The men are getting twenty to twenty-two cents an hour and demand twenty-five cents for day and thirty cents for night work, and a guarantee of payment for five hours every time they are called out. About 250 men are affected.

WHISKY IN OWEN SOUND.

Banned Beverages Made Entry In Pickle Bottles.

OWEN SOUND, Jan. 15.—License Inspector Bennett of this town got word of the shipment of a quantity of liquor from Berlin to Owen Sound. He made a rigid enquiry, which revealed the information that three barrels, each containing four dozen quart bottles of whisky had been shipped here from Berlin marked "pickles," and the manufacturers' name made illegible. The inspector located the shipment in the bonding warehouse and at once demanded that it be turned over to him.

The names of the parties implicated have not been made known, but warrants are now issued for the apprehension of officers of the bonding warehouse of the railways transporting the shipment and of some persons in Berlin.

TO PAY THEIR FARES.

Toronto Presbyterians Raise Funds For Assembly Delegates.

TORONTO, Jan. 51.—Toronto Presbyterians have subscribed a fund to pay the return expenses of the minister, his wife and lay representative from each congregation in Canada to the general assembly, which meets in Knox Church, this city, on Wednesday, June 4.

Dr. Grant, superintendent of home missions, is in charge of this subscription, which are in addition to all the regular funds.

Toronto Presbytery yesterday, at Cooke's Church, agreed to supplement the liberality of the donors of the fund by arranging for the free billeting of the representatives. Four thousand are expected.

Three Lives Lost.

QUEBEC, Jan. 15.—An engineer was killed and two firemen so badly injured that they died while being taken to the hospital, as the result of a collision on the I.C.R.

The collision was caused by a special train going to St. Flavie, running into the locomotive of the market train which was coaling.

Deputy Police Chief Killed.

EDMONTON, Alta., Jan. 15.—Dan Tidsbury, deputy chief of police, was injured Monday night by being thrown from a street car he was trying to board, and died yesterday morning from his injuries.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

Ontario butter brings a higher price in Toronto than New Zealand butter does in Vancouver.

The steamer Abessinia was reported adrift yesterday in mid-Atlantic, rudderless and with a broken shaft.

The Countess of Aberdeen changed her plans for returning to Britain to give Miss Asquith an opportunity to see Niagara Falls.

Mrs. A. H. Foe of Strathroy succumbed to burns she received Monday evening from a lamp explosion when she fell on the stairs.

Rev. H. M. Parsons, D.D., pastor emeritus of Knox Church, died yesterday morning at his home, 243 Beverley street, Toronto, aged 74.

Several people were injured on the High Park slides in Toronto last night, when the bob-sleigh "Merry Ho" ran into a group of spectators.

Kingston will make an effort to secure the Carnegie grant for a free library. The present building is unable to cope with the large membership.

Terrible Death By Burning

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 14.—Mrs. A. H. Foe, aged 79, was fatally injured and her daughter is in a precarious condition as a result of their being burned at their home in Strathroy.

The woman kept a small bake shop, and Mrs. Foe was helping her mother up the stairs after locking up for the night.

The old lady stumbled and fell backwards, knocking the coal oil lamp to the floor. The blazing oil set fire to their clothes, and before help came Mrs. Foe was so badly burned that she died this morning.

Students Resented Paper's Criticisms

MONTREAL, Jan. 14.—Special—Resenting a criticism of alleged behavior of the members of the faculty of medicine of Laval University during the attendance at the performance of Lakme on Saturday at His Majesty's Theatre, a body of about one hundred students from that University at 6 o'clock tonight visited the office of La Patrie, tore down the bulletin boards and burned them in the street. The large plate glass windows in the office were also smashed by the students. No arrests were made.

The item to which the students took exception indicated that the students were red Indians and savages, and that their behavior, cries and shouts did not contribute to the harmony of Saturday evening's performance.

Great Storm at Sea

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The coasting steamer Hawkwood has been wrecked off Filey, in the North Sea. The fate of the crew is unknown. The Hawkwood hailed from London and was of 1,155 tons.

The Danish steamer Gkoch has been wrecked off Girdleness, Scotland, with the loss of seven lives.

The steamer Snowdon Range, about which there had been anxiety, passed Brow Head, Ireland, to-day in tow of the Welshman, which had picked her up in the Atlantic 500 miles to the west. She had lost her rudder.

The United Kingdom was swept Saturday and Sunday by heavy gales and snowstorms. There have been many wrecks of small craft.

In the north of England the storm was of terrific severity, lasting thirty-three hours.

BRONCHITIS SUFFERER

Takes Druggists' Advice With Splendid Result.

If any one should know the worth of a medicine, it is the retail druggist who sells it over his counter every day in the week, and is in a position to know what remedy gives the best satisfaction.

Mrs. Frank H. Uline of West Sand Lake, N. Y., says: "For a number of years I was a great sufferer from bronchitis. Last July I had an attack which was more severe than any and my friends thought I could not recover from it. Then I was advised by my druggist to try Vinol, which I did with wonderful results. My cough has left me; I have gained in weight and appetite and I am as strong as ever I was. I advise all who have bronchitis, chronic coughs, or who are run-down to try Vinol."

It is the combined action of the medicinal curative elements of the cod's liver, without oil, aided by the blood-making and strength-creating properties of tonic iron that makes Vinol so efficient in such cases.

Remember, we guarantee Vinol to do just what we say—we pay back your money if it does not. Red Cross Drug Store. J. S. McKeown, Belleville, Ont.

World's Turquoise Are From Persia

NISHAPUR, Persia, Jan. 14.—By far the largest part of the world's turquoise comes from the mines near the Persian city of Nishapur, where Omar Khayyam was born and lies buried.

The mines are situated in a range of mountains rising to the height of 6,655 feet. The highest point at which turquoises have been found is 5,800 feet above sea level and the lowest 1,800 feet.

The geologic formation of the Nishapur mountains is porphyries, greenstone, limestone and sandstone, the turquoise being found in veins in the rock. The methods of the Persians who operate the mines is quite antiquated, for only ladders and pulleys are used in the rough shafts.

Unswampable Boats

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The committee of the Board of Trade, appointed after the Titanic disaster to enquire into life saving appliances, has issued a report in which it is stated that an "unswampable" self-emptying lifeboat which provides adequate shelter is the ideal appliance for life-saving at sea.

As provision for such craft is impossible in the majority of cases, the committee says it has had to consider the competitive merits of other types.

While the deck lifeboat practically fulfills the ideal requirements, it is less handy for conveying passengers from ship to ship than the ordinary open boat.

In foreign-going ships, where the boat accommodation is large, the committee recommends that pontoon rafts should be allowed, provided that the passengers to be carried by them do not exceed 25 per cent. of the total aboard such a ship.

The committee adds that the great risk of panic in small excursion steamers would be lessened by the provision of buoyant deck seats or similar appliances.

The report includes several recommendations of a technical character.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Land Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within 9 miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him, by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

VERBAL ENTRAPMENT

Happy Outcome of What Appeared to Be a Hopeless Mix-Up.

By Henry Mundon.

"If the firm doesn't raise my salary on October 19," said Allan Fielding, as he tried the new wedding ring on his fiancée's finger, "I shall do something desperate."

"But why October 19, Allan?" inquired pretty Lavinia Holden, patting his hand affectionately. "Why not wait till the New Year?"

"Because," replied Allan firmly, "everybody asks for a raise at the beginning of the year, whereas I am the only member of the staff who entered the firm's employment on October 19. Just think, next week I shall have been there five years. And to get a beggarly twenty-two-fifty a week! Why, we can't begin to live on less than twenty-five."

"But Allan, dear, you aren't going to do anything rash for the sake of two dollars and a half," said his fiancee. "Sooner or later they will do you justice, I am sure."

"You don't know old Briggs," replied Allan moodily. "No, it amounts to this, dearest. Unless he raises me to twenty-five our marriage must be postponed."

"Postponed!" exclaimed Lavinia in consternation.

"That's what I said. I'm not going to start life in a cheap flat with installment system furniture and—why, what's the matter, dearest?"

"If you think more of your old flat than you do of me," sobbed Lavinia, "you may take your old ring and leave me forever." And, flinging the ring upon the table she hurried toward the door.

"I'm Not Going to Marry a Man Who Says I'm Unreasonable."

"But Lavinia!" implored the young man. "Be reasonable!"

"It's you who ar'n't re-reasonable," she sobbed. "I'm not going to marry a man who says I'm unreasonable. If I'm unreasonable pray get some more re-reasonable girl." And she was gone leaving Allan a prey to the deepest gloom.

For he knew that Lavinia, though sweet and loving, was of a disposition which could only be described as stubborn.

Allan came to the conclusion that it would be best to settle his difficulty with his employer before attempting reconciliation with his fiancee. Accordingly, the next morning he requested an interview with Jeremy Briggs, the head of the corporation in which he occupied the post of assistant cashier.

"Mr. Briggs," he began, "I wish to apply for an increase in salary, to take effect immediately. I am to be married shortly, and I find twenty-two dollars and fifty cents a week insufficient to support a wife."

Mr. Briggs spun round in his chair, his eyebrows lifted.

"How much did you say you receive?" he asked.

"Twenty-two fifty," faltered Allan.

"Weekly or monthly, Mr. Fielding?"

"Weekly, sir," replied the other, allowing a diplomatic smile to hover over his features.

"I did not know that, Mr. Fielding," replied Mr. Briggs. "I thought your salary was eighteen dollars. I should perhaps, I've been willing to increase it to twenty, but—no, Mr. Fielding, what you ask is impossible. Good morning, sir." And he returned to his papers, while Allan, too discomposed to utter the words which he had prepared for just such a contingency, retired to his work.

All was over, then. He must relinquish Lavinia and devote himself humbly to his firm's interests. He knew that the ultimate prospects were good; he was in line for promotion; he was too wise to carry out the threat he had made. But till these prospects materialized he dared not ask Lavinia to be his wife. That evening, seated at the table in his little room, he wrote two letters. One was to Mr. Briggs, apologizing for his action. "I very much regret that we failed to reach a satisfactory understanding this afternoon," he wrote. "I hope you will forgive the unreasonable nature of my request and disregard the incident." The other was to Lavinia. In this he passionately announced at once his love and his determination, with the secret, unwritten reservation that he would some day return to claim her.

Then he went moodily to bed.

He knew Lavinia's stubbornness and pride. He knew that she would never be the first to make advances to him again. The dawn broke, and he rose after a sleepless night, ready for the new life to which he had pledged himself—a life of renunciation and labor. The sun was warm, the air fresh and ozone-laden from a sea breeze. All nature was smiling that fair October morning, and Allan's spirits went bounding up again. Only yesterday all had been well. What an ass he had made of himself—what an incomparable ass! If only he had thought things over! Now he had injured his prospects of advancement and lost the girl whom he adored.

"Mr. Briggs wishes to see you in his office at once, Mr. Fielding," announced the office boy, as soon as he had taken his seat.

Fielding arose and went in to the interview. He cared little what the message portended. To his astonishment, however, Mr. Briggs was mild almost apologetic.

"Er—Mr. Fielding," he began, "we have been looking up your record and I wish to say that—er—with regard to your letter, we have decided that we can afford to increase your salary rather than let you go."

"My letter, sir?" exclaimed Allan dazedly.

"This is your letter, sir, I believe," said Briggs testily, laying a missive before him. "And let me say, Mr Fielding, that you have pleaded better with your pen than you did yesterday in person. A vacancy is to occur in the auditing department on the first of the month. It is worth thirty-five dollars a week, and—"

But Allan only heard dimly, for stretched out before him, he read the words of his own letter:

"Mr. Jeremy Briggs,

Eastern Reserve Realty Corporation.

"My Dear Mr. Briggs:

"I must leave you at once. You will not see me again. Think kindly of me, for I gave you all my devotion and my entire life and hopes were centered in you. Yours, broken heartedly,

"ALLAN FIELDING."

Half a minute later Allan was at the telephone. Just forty-five seconds afterward he heard Lavinia at the other end.

"I shall be home tonight, Allan," she said sweetly. "Forgive you? Yes of course I forgive you, dear. But you will have to explain just why you wrote me such a dreadfully formal apology."

Mexican Rebels Decide To Accept

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 13.—Definite proposals for peace in Mexico were made to Pedro Lascurain, Minister of Foreign Relations, during his recent visit here, it was declared today.

It was said that the proposals came from insurrecto leaders, including Inez Salazar, Marcelo Carrevo and Antonio Rojas. Lascurain was asked to present the proposal to President Madero.

Dr. Jose S. Saenz, who acted as one of the rebel commissioners, said that Zapata, insurrecto leader in South Mexico, had directly expressed his willingness to accept the peace pact. Included in the proposals was one that Lascurain resign.

BLACK, GREEN or MIXED

THE TIGER AND THE BABY

By ARNOLD BENNETT

I

George Peel and Mary, his wife, sat down to breakfast. Their only son, Georgie, was already seated. He was twenty-two months old, and occupied a commanding situation in a high chair! His father and mother were aged thirty-two and twenty-eight respectively. There was silver upon the table, and the room, though small and somewhat disordered, had in it beautiful things. Through a doorway half-screened by a portiere could be seen a large studio peopled with heroic statuary plaster casts and lumps of clay veiled in wet cloths. And on the other side of the great window of the studio green trees waved their foliage. The trees were in Regent's Park. Another detail to show that the Peels had not precisely failed in life.

And indeed George Peel was not merely a young sculptor of marked talent; he was also a rising young sculptor. Further he had lately been awarded the triennal gold medal of the International Society, an honor that no Englishman had previously achieved. His friends and himself had, by the way a noble and joyous gathering in the studio, at which famous personages had been present.

Everybody knew that George Peel, in addition to what he earned, had important "private resources." For even rising young sculptors cannot live luxuriously on what they gain and you cannot eat gold medals.

On the table by Mary's plate was a letter, the sole letter.

"So he has written, fater all!" said George, in a voice that tried to be nonchalant.

"Who?" asked Mary, although she had already seen the envelope, and knew exactly what George meant. And her voice also was unnatural in its attempt casualness.

"The old cock," said Georg, beginning to serve the bacon.

"Oh!" said Mary coming to her chair and beginning to dispense tea.

She was dying to open the letter, yet she poured out the tea with superhuman leisuraliness. Then at length she did open the letter. Having read it, she passed the letter to George. And George read:

"Dear Mary—I cannot accede to your request. Your affectionate uncle, Samuel Peel. P. S. The expenses connected with my county council election will be terrible. S. P."

George lifted his eyebrows.

"Curt!" he muttered coldly.

Mary uneasily laughed.

"What shall you do?" she inquired.

"Without!" replied George, with a curtness that equalled Mary's uncle.

"And what about the rent?"

"The rent will have to wait."

"You didn't see this cutting," he said.

George, in his quality of rising young sculptor, received press cuttings from an agency. This one was from Smart Society, a somewhat vulgar weekly, and it gave, in two paragraphs, a somewhat vulgar account of the recent festivity at George's studio. It finished with the words: "Heidsieck flowed freely." It was not in the nicest taste, but it constituted indubitable proof that George was a figure in the world.

II

George had arranged his career in a quite exceptional way. It is true that chance had served him, but then he had known how to make use of chance to the highest advantage. The chance that had served him lay in the facts that Mary Peel had fallen in love with him, that her sole surviving relative was a rich uncle, and that George's surname was the same as hers and her uncle's. He had met niece and uncle in Bursley in the Five Towns, where old Samuel Peel was a personage, and, timidly, a patron of arts. It was not surprising that old Peel had at once consented to the match, and made a will in favor of Mary and her offspring. What was surprising was that old Peel should have begun to part with his money at once, and in large quantities, for he was not of a very openhanded disposition.

The explanation of old Samuel Peel's generosity was due to the fact that the main branch of the family had died out. And when Mary set her young mind on a young man of parts and of ambition, and bearing by hazard the very same name of Peel old Samuel Peel said to himself: "The old family name will not die out. It ought to be more magnificent than ever." He said this also to George Peel.

Whereup George Peel talked to him persuasively and sensibly. He convinced his uncle-in-law that young sculptors were tremendously handicapped in an expensive and difficult profession by poverty or at least narrowness of means. He convinced his uncle-in-law that the best manner of succeeding was to begin at the top, to try for only the highest things, to sell nothing cheaply, to be haughty with dealers and connoisseurs, and to cut a figure in the very centre of the art world of London. And in the end old Samuel promised to give so that George, as a sculptor might begin at the top and "succeed like success."

Matters fell out rather as George had predicted. The youth almost at once obtained a commission for three hundred pounds worth of symbolic statues for the front of the central offices of the Order of Rechabites, which particularly pleased his uncle, because Samuel Peel was a strong temperance man. And George got one or two other commissions, so that he felt himself justified in estimating his total income at seven hundred and fifty a year. It goes without saying that he spent it.

Then commissions fell off or grew intermittent, or were refused as being unworthy of George's dignity. And then young George arrived, with his insatiable appetites and his vociferous need of doctors, nurses, perambulators, nurseries, and lacey garments. And all the time young Georgie's father kept his head high and continued to be extravagant by far-sighted policy. And on many a tight morning George nearly decided that Mary must write to her uncle and ask for a little supplementary estimate. And then he won the triennial gold medal. And then at length he did arrange with Mary that she should write to old Samuel and roundly ask him for an extra couple of hundred. Hence the Heidsieck night. But on the morrow of the Heidsieck night George was gloomy. He felt humiliated by the necessity of the application to his uncle—the first he had ever made. And he feared the result.

His fears were justified.

III

Three mornings after the first letter, to which she had made no reply, Mary received a second. It ran:

"Dear Mary,—And what is more, I shall henceforth pay you three hundred instead of five hundred a year. If George has not made a position for himself it is quite time he had. The gold medal must make a lot of difference to him. And if necessary you must economize. I am sure there is room for economy in your household. Champagne, for instance. Your affectionate uncle, Samuel Peel. P. S.—I am of course, acting in your best interests.—S. P."

"Champagne! What's he driving at?" exclaimed George, glaring at Mary as though it was Mary who had written the letter.

"I expect he's been reading Smart Society," said Mary.

"Look here! Does he mean it?" George asked.

"You may depend, he means it. It's so like him. My asking for that two hundred hundred must have upset him. And then seeing that about Heidsick in the paper—he'd made up him mind all of a sudden—I know him so well."

"H'm!" snorted George. "I shall make my mind up all of a sudden too!"

"What shall you do?"

"There's one thing I shan't do," said George. "Stop here. Do you realize, my girl, that we shall be absolutely up a gum tree?

"Absolute gum tree! Simply can not keep the shop open! To-morrow my child, we go down the Bursley."

"Who?"

"You, me and the infant."

"But we can't descend on uncle like that without notice, and him full of his election. Besides he cross."

"We shan't descend on him."

"Then where shall we go?"

"We shall put up at the 'Tiger,' said George impressively.

"The Tiger?" gasped Mary.

George had meant to stagger, and he had staggered.

"The Tiger," he iterated.

The first thing his Satanic majesty says when he sees a man coming to take up his abode with him is: "I told you so."

It is the hight of meanness to measure either meanness or generosity by half-dollar contributions.

If a sleigh bell be tied about the neck of a bottle containing poison, it will sound its warning whoever may touch the bottle, day or night.

THE POULTRY SHOW A DECIDED SUCCESS

The Belleville Poultry Association has every reason to feel proud of the success which has attended the first poultry show held in this city. The Association was only formed a few months ago, but the officers and members were determined to make the first show a decided success and their labors proved not to be in vain. Not only were many birds exhibited by the members, but a large number of persons who are known to be lovers of fancy fowls came to the show and assisted in making a fine exhibit. The show was held in the Armouries and Tuesday, Wednesday and today many visited the exhibit and were more than delighted with the show. There were 400 birds shown and almost every variety of fowl known were to be seen and some were certainly beauties

Among those from outside the city and vicinity who exhibited were the following:

Messrs. Narrie & McWilliams, of Marmora.
A. H. Watson, of Madoc.
Thos. Botterell of Bowmanville.
E. W. Metcalf, Napanee.
F. D. Marsh, Napanee.
W. D. Card, Wicklow.
A. E. Peter, Wallace Point.
LaTour & Rundall, Brighton.
Vickery Bros., Oshawa.
F. Head, Peterboro.

Mr. W. H. Reid of Kingston, who is an expert judge of poultry was the greater portion of yesterday engaged in making the awards and in some classes his work was by no means a sinecure, as there were in several classes a fine lot of birds. His decisions were, however, satisfactory to all concerned. The prize list will be published in full within a few days.

Yesterday afternoon and evening Mr. George Robertson of St. Catharines, who is a Government lecturer, gave addresses on poultry raising. During his remarks, which were attentively listened by many, he gave some practical hints in reference to raising chicks and the proper care of them.

The show was brought to close this afternoon.

Hungry Pets' Cries Led To Dead Mistress

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A score of hungry pets,—cats, dogs, a parrot, and a turtle—crying for food led neighbors to break into a Brooklyn apartment during the night, where they found Fanie Luff, a charity worker sixty years old, dead. It is believed she had been dead since Saturday, probably having succumbed to heart disease.

A policeman who led the invading party of neighbors, was almost bowled over by the rush of the hungry dogs and cats which had long before picked clean to the bone a number of lamb chops strewen about the floor.

Castro Spends a Fretful Day

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—General Cipriano Castro spent a fretful day in his room at the immigration station on Ellis Island yesterday, and sent out his valet many times to inquire if the special board of enquiry had determined whether he should be permitted to land or should be deported.

Castro was given small satisfaction, and this increased his irritation. It was reported that the board had completed its investigation and sent its report to Washington. This was denied at the office of Commissioner Williams.

Germany's Big Idle War Chest

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—During the debate yesterday before the Reichstag Budget Committee on the question of removing the present limit of the issuance of bank notes and financial mobilization in the event of war, one of the Centrist leaders strongly urged that the Imperial Bank take over the famous $30,000,000 war chest which has been lying idle for forty years in the tower of Julius at Spandau, and the administration of which is in the hands of a Commission.

Novel Gifts For Miss Helen Gould

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—It was learned to-day that two unusual gifts are on the way from St. Louis for the wedding of Helen Miller Gould and Finley J. Shepard, at Tarrytown next week.

The Railroad Young Men's Christian Association building at St. Louis has been done in a gold and bronze miniature and made into a clock.

The other gift is a gold bronze jewel case, a minature reproduction of the Gould private car "Atlantic." This is the gift of thirty railroad Y. M. C. A., branches scattered over the Gould lines in the south-west.

Whiskey as Pickles To Local Option

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Jan. 15—License Inspector Beckett yesterday discovered a large quantity of whiskey shipped into this local option town in barrels marked as containing pickles in the local bonded warehouse.

As only merchandise on which duty has not been paid should be kept in a bonded warehouse, Mr. Beckett demanded that the whiskey should be handed over to him, which was done.

Summonses have been issued against the warehouse officials and the shippers of the whiskey.

Shows Wolfe Recited Elegy

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Vicar of Westerham, General Wolfe's birthplace, has received a communication from Paris stating that a copy of Gray's Elegy has long been in possession of W. H. Colling, bearing an inscription showing that it originally belonged to General Wolfe.

The discovery is important as tending to confirm the truth of Wolfe reciting the Elegy while drifting down the St. Lawrence.

PACIFIC COAST IS GREAT CENTRE OF WORLD DIVORCE

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—More than 70,000 children, mostly under the age of ten years, were deprived of one or one or both parents by divorce in this country during the past year, according to figures with which the Rev. Francis M. Moody stirred members of the New York State Marriages and Divorce Commission at its meeting yesterday.

"The Pacific Coast," he said, "has been the greatest divorce centre of the entire world. In the year 1912 alone there were granted in the United States over 100,000 divorces. In forty years 3,700,000 adults were separated by divorce, and more than 5,000,000 persons affected by these cases.

"Illinois alone provided 120,000 divorces. Pennsylvania 55,760. California 50,000 and New York 44,450. New York State, however, sent 18,169 of its couples into other States to procure divorces, and there were probably many migratory cases that are not recorded in this total. At present 90 per cent. of the cases go by default, with only one party represented."

Mr. Moody offered a resolution to organize a Federal Commission in this State, to work for a uniform federal law governing marriage and divorce, which should be the central organization for all State Commissions of this character, which have already been formed in some States, and which would meet in convention in Chicago in May.

The Rev. Dr. Samuel McCune Lindsay was appointed temporary chairman of an organizing committee.

3 O'CLOCK DISPATCHES

RENDERS DECISION

Intelligencer Special.

CALGARY, Alta., Jan. 16.—The Supreme Court has rendered a decision on a request for a stay of proceedings pending an appeal on behalf of Martin Armstrong, against whom a verdict for $20,000 for breach of promise to marry Miss Louise Callard was rendered by jury last Saturday, directing Armstrong to pay $20,000 into the court or give a satisfactory bond amounting to $25,000. In the event of his failure to do either the sheriff will seize and sell his property, the proceeds to be held by the court until a decision is given on the appeal.

OUT IN FULL FORCE

Intelligencer Special.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Scenes of great animation were witnessed in and around parliament today when the final stage of home rule bill in Commons was entered upon. All parties were present in force. Irish Nationalists were there to a man, while of Liberals, Laborites and Conservatives, only sick and those who had been paired, were absent.

STEAMER BURNS

Intelligencer Special.

NANAIMO, B.C., Jan. 16.—The steamer Oscar took fire while leaving Nanaimo harbor with a cargo of powder, and the flames getting beyond control, was beached on Protection Island. The powder exploded, resulting in the destruction in Nanaimo of several thousand dollars worth of property. The crew all escaped before the explosion.

TO BE DEPORTED

Intelligencer Special.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 16.—John R. Wilmot, scientist, author, inventor and promoter, paroled from Joliette penitentiary after serving five and one-half years of a seven year sentence, on the charge of forgery, is to be deported to England. Wilmot, who is said to hold degrees from English universities, has a criminal record.

MAY HAVE TO WAIT

(Intelligencer Special.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Thousands of women may have to wait for their spring shirtwaists, unless terms are quickly made with nearly 40,000 shirtwaist makers who struck yesterday. The strikers struck a crucial time, just before the beginning of the spring rush, when the supply of waists on hand was limited.

10,000 WAITERS READY

Intelligencer Special.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16—After a stormy and exciting midnight meeting, 2,000 cooks and waiters voted overwhelmingly in favor of immediate calling out of workers in all branches of the hotel service throughout the city. It is claimed more than 10,000 workers are ready to answer the strike call.

Reveals Plan For Establishment of Utopian Republic

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Daily Express this morning makes a feature of a story of the discovery of an amazing filibustering plot in London to seize and colonize 140,000 square miles of territory in Counani, North Brazil. The affair is being investigated by the Foreign Office and the Brazilian Legation in London.

The prime mover in the plot, according to the Express is Adolphe Brozet. The plans, the story states, include a scheme by which a number of British military and naval men will be recruited and then will embark on a fleet armoured ship, on which they will proceed to Counani, where they will seize the territory referred to, expel any Brazilian troops found there and establish a Utopian Republic.

Brozet, according to the story, has already enrolled a number of Englishmen to whom he has give commissions. He has also engaged as Secretary of Foreign Affairs an American who manages several small businesses from a London office.

The plotters meet from time to time at a vegetarian restaurant and listen to Brozet's statements in regard to their ability to raise loans of $50,000,000. They are all in dead earnest.

Gaiety Girl To Wed English Lord

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A cable from London to the New York American says:—

Miss Olive May, the pretty and popular gaiety girl, will be married tomorrow to Lord Victor William Paget, heir presumptive of the Marquis of Angelsey, one of the wealthiest men in England.

The actress has carried her point and won, not only Lord Victor's hand but a social triumph. He has courted her devotedly for a year, and while she has confessed her love for him, she has broken their engagement twice. She insisted that unless his family received her on terms of social equality, she would never marry him.

Miss May has met the Pagets, and Lady Alexander Paget, Lord Victor's mother, is so charmed by the actress' beauty and grace that she has not only given her full consent to her son's marriage, but declares that she is anxious to introduce her future daughter in law in society.

Lord Victor, who is twenty-three years old, was until recently a lieutenant in the Royal Horse Guards. Directly after his honeymoon he will enter the stock exchange firm of Bourke, Schiff and Co.

Arrested In Australia

OWEN SOUND, Jan. 15.—After a chase of more than six years, and extending half way round the world, William Proctor, wanted on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences, has been arrested, and is now at Victoria, B. C., awaiting deportation back here. Chief of Police McCarthy, of Stratford, left to-day for Victoria.

Jake Gaudaur Marries

HALIFAX, N.S., Jan. 15.—Rev. W. H. Cunningham officiated at the marriage yesterday morning at the Queen's Hotel, of Alice Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hemming of Yorkshire, England, and Jacob G. Gaudaur of Orillia, Ont., former champion sculler of the world. Miss Hemming arrived from England the day previous. The ceremony was performed in the sitting-room which had been decorated. The bride was unattended and wore a gown of white satin with veil and orange blossoms. This afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Gaudaur left for Ontario.

GOSSIP RESTORES GRAND DUKE AND MORGANATIC WIFE

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 15.—Court gossip has it that the Czar has yielded to the insistent pleading of the Empress-Dowager in behalf of her favorite son, the Grand Duke Michael, who was disgraced because of his morganatic marriage with Frau von Wrubel.

The Grand Duke, it is stated, has been rehabilitated, and both he and his wife will shortly appear at court. Frau von Wrubel has received his title of Countess of Brassowa after Imperial domain in the Brassowa district of Orloff.

According to the gossip the Countess may be persona grata, since the Czar has not hitherto given a Russian title to the morganatic wives of other Grand Dukes, who have had to be content with non-Russian designations.

The Grand Duke Michael also will get back the estates which he lost through his banishment.

REPORT IS RIDICULOUS

Whitney and Beck Laugh at N. Y. Commission's Finding.

Declaration of Power Commission Across the Line That Ontario's Hydro-Electric System Is Not a Success and Is Losing Money Is Described as Absurd by "Power Minister."

TORONTO, Jan. 16.—"There are a number of very extraordinary statements, for some of which there is no foundation whatever." Such was Sir James Whitney's terse comment on the "slam" dealt by the Senate committee of the New York State Legislature on the Ontario Hydro-electric system. The Premier would make no further remark on the criticism, evidently believing it was not worth the trouble.

Hon. Adam Beck and P. W. Ellis, chairman of the Toronto Hydro Commission, however, made short statements showing how utterly absurd was the finding of the New York Senators, who supposedly investigated the Ontario power system.

The report in question was published yesterday after the finding of the joint committee of 1911 appointed "to report on the water power resources of New York State and to recommend a plan for conservation and utilization" had been presented to the state Legislature. The verdict was to the effect that "it would be impossible for the State of New York to develop a sufficient amount of hydraulic power to make any appreciable impression on the power demands of the state."

The committee have investigated the plan of the Hydro-electric Power Commission of the Province of Ontario, and they report that in their opinion "it is not a success measured by economic and business standards." They oppose the adoption of this plan by the state.

The committee report regarding the Hydro-electric Power Commission of Ontario, that it has never developed any water power, but has acted merely in the capacity of middleman in the merchandising of electric energy; that it furnishes power to the municipalities below cost; that if the same methods were applied to it as are employed in business transactions of a similar nature, it would show an annual loss of at least $532,170 a year.

Attached to the report is a financial summary, showing that the operations of the Provincial Hydro-electric Commission are conducted at a loss of $259,080, in addition to its administration expenses, which have never been charged against the cost of power; that the burden placed on the several communities by the expenditures of the Hydro-electric Power Commission is of a variable character; that some have been bonded to the extent of $3.11 for each individual in the community, while others have been bonded for $31.

According to Hon. Adam Beck it was only necessary to digest a number of statements, which have been issued by the Ontario commission recently, to prove how much the New York committee was in the wrong. What worries Mr. Beck most is—Where did the New York gentlemen get their information? They did not get their alleged facts from the headquarters of the Hydro-electric Commission, and they did not ask for and did not have access to the books of the commission. As this Senate committee is known to be representative of the private interests in the neighboring state, it is surmised that the report, which favored the interests, was largely furnished on imagination.

Hon. Mr. Beck stated that it was needless to enter into a detailed reply to the report. The most powerful answer was the statement issued by the Toronto commission yesterday, which showed that there was a surplus for the first eleven months of operation of over $31,000 in this city alone.

Is Fatal Catarrh in Your Family?

It Runs Hand in Hand With Bronchitis, Weak Throat, Pneumonia, Consumption.

Doctors state that 95 per cent. of the Canadian people suffer from Catarrh. Few escape it. You can easily recognize it from the bad taste in the mouth and from lack of appetite in the morning. In bad cases the mucous drops from the throat into the stomach and causes nausea. The throat fills with phlegm, the patient sneezes and coughs continually, not infrequently there is lassitude and chilliness and aching in the limbs.

Doctors recommend Catarrhozone, it is nature's own cure. It drives out the germs, heals sore spots, clean away every vestige of Catarrhal taint.

You send the soothing vapors of the pine woods, the richest balsams and healing essences, right to the source of your cold by inhaling Catarrhozone. Little drops of wonderful curative power are distributed through the whole breathing apparatus by the air you breathe. Like a miracle, that's how Catarrhozone cures bronchitis, catarrh, colds and irritable throat. You simply breathe its healing fumes, and every trace of disease flees as before fire.

So safe, infants can use it, so sure to relieve, doctors prescribe it, so beneficial in preventing winter ills that no person can afford to do without Catarrhozone. Used in thousands of cases without failure. Complete outfit $1.00, lasts three months, and is guaranteed to cure; smaller size, 50c., all dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.R., and Kingston, Ont.

It is the hight of meanness to measure either meanness or generosity by half-dollar contributions

When Limbs and Chest Ache

ZAM-BUK GIVES EASE QUICKLY

Have you got cold in your bones Have you a bad attack of "general aching?" You know the feeling. Limbs ache, muscles seem to have become tired out, back ache, and now and again a twinge of rheumatism strikes you here and there. Your chest feels tight, and there is a pain between your shoulders.

Cold is responsible for this condition, and a vigorous application of Zam-Buk will put you right. Take a hot bath, and then rub your chest and the aching limbs well with Zam-Buk.

Mrs. B. Gorie, 76 Berkeley St., Toronto, writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Zam-Buk. A few weeks ago I was suffering from a bad cold, which had settled in my throat, chest and limbs. I tried all kinds of remedies, new and old, and found very little relief until I used Zam-Buk. On applying this to my throat and chest I found such ease and relief from the tightness and soreness I determined to use only Zam Buk. I also rubbed it on my limbs where I felt the rheumatic pains. In three days, from the time I first began applying Zam-Buk I was free from the cold in throat and chest, and also the rheumatism in my limbs."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, blood-poison, varicose sores, piles, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places, cuts, burns, bruises and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. Avoid harmful imitations and substitutes.

Disabled Abessinia Gets To Halifax

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The disabled Hamburg-American line freighter Abessinia arrived safely at Halifax to-day under her own steam, according to a telegram received by the line here.

Wireless reports had told of her having broken a crank shaft and losing her rudder and it was feared that the White Star freighter Armenian, which volunteered to assist her to port, had lost her in the fog. This gave rise yesterday to reports that the Abessinia was helplessly adrift.

Apparently repairs were affected so that the crippled vessel proceeded without assistance. She has a crew of 40.

Any Woman Can Have Beautiful Hair

Dandruff Disappears, Falling Hair Ceases When You Use Parisian Sage.

No preparation has done so much to stop falling hair; eradicate dandruff and make women's hair beautiful as PARISIAN Sage.

It is the only certain destroyer of the dandruff microbe, the cause of most hair troubles.

PARISIAN Sage is most daintily perfumed. It is an ideal preparation, not sticky or greasy. It does not contain poisonous sugar of lead or sulphur or any dye.

It is a magnificent dressing for women who desire luxuriant lustrous hair that compels admiration and for men and children nothing can compare with it.

It does away with terrible scalp itch over night and causes the hair to grow in abundance.

And a large bottle of PARISIAN Sage costs only 50 cents at all drug and toilet goods counters.

W. H. Lattimer guarantees it.

Pugilist Locked Up

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Jack Johnson, the negro heavyweight pugilist, was taken to the county jail here last night to await the judgment of Judge George A. Carpenter of the United States district court as to whether his bail bond of $30,00 should be forfeited.

When the pugilist's party, consisting of his white wife, two white secretaries and a valet, reached here after being turned back at Battle Creek, Mich., from a Canada-bound train, Johnson asked to talk over the telephone of Charles F. Dewoody, superintendent of the United States department of Justice. At the conclusion of the conversation, Johnson told Deputy Marshall Meyers that Mr. Dewoody would allow him to spend the night at his own home.

Meyers refused to accept the order unless from Mr. Dewoody direct. The pugilist and his retine were taken in automobiles to Mr. Dewoody's residence.

"Johnson, if you did not mean to stay out of the jurisdiction of the federal court why did you ship two of your automobiles to Canada?" demanded Mr. Dewoody. The pugilist hesitated in his reply and Mr. Dewoody gave him his choice of being held in a hotel in Chicago or taken to jail. Johnson chose the jail. He was allowed to take his wife home and to change his clothes and then was locked up.

The waiter bowed and sweetly smiled
Just at the proper time,
But soon his look was rather wild—
He only got a dime.

BALFOUR'S WARNING

If Blood Is Spilt In Ulster Liberals Are the Assassins.

Home Rule Bill Reaches Its Final Stage In the British House and Notable Speeches Are Delivered by Premier and Former Unionist Leader — Asquith Makes Plea For a Settlement of the Problem.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The home rule bill started on its final stage in the House of Commons yesterday, and the occasion was marked by two speeches seldom excelled in the House by the Prime Minister, H. H. Asquith, and Arthur J. Balfour, the former leader of the Opposition, who have no equals as Parliamentarians. Other speakers, representing all parties, followed, and the debate finally was adjourned until to-day, when a division will be taken.

The bitterness which bills of a similar nature aroused in the past was largely absent in the discussion yesterday, but with the harder hitters on the program for to-day this may not be continued.

When the orders of the day were called and Mr. Balfour, at the request of the Opposition leader, Andrew Bonar Law, moved the rejection of the measure, the House was crowded to its capacity, and every seat in the galleries was occupied by interested listeners. Mr. Balfour, who has been absent from Parliament for some weeks, while not so fluent as the Prime Minister, delivered one of those telling speeches for which he is famous, and which rouses his supporters to the height of enthusiasm and commands the respect of his opponents.

He dealt with the bill in a general way, and particularly laid stress on the case of Ulster, the present condition to which he likened to that of the American colonies before the revolution. He charged the Government with showing a dangerous want of appreciation of the position of that section.

Pointing his finger at the Government bench, Mr. Balfour concluded: "If blood be spilled—which God forbid—the real assassin will be those who have never had the courage to face the situation."

Premier Asquith defended the bill from every standpoint. He pleaded with the House to forget the past and give Ireland what the vast majority demanded. He laid stress on the safeguards introduced in the bill to prevent Protestants from being oppressed by the majority, and repeated the Government's offer to insert any other reasonable safeguards, if only the Opposition would tell what was wanted.

The Premier recalled that Mr. Balfour had made the same gloomy predictions, as he did to-day, when the Liberals gave self-government to South Africa.

"Let us do our part," concluded the Prime Minister, "to exorcise once for all these baleful influences and join the two peoples meant to be one, whom the chances of history, the seeming caprice of fortune, the follies and passions of men have kept apart in fruitful and enduring union."

T. P. O'Connor, Hon. T. C. R. Agar-Robartes, William O'Brien, James Parker, Rt. Hon. Herbert Samuel, and Rt. Hon. J. H. Campbell continued the debate. Sir Edward Carson was unable to attend.

Girl's Story of Abduction

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Eleanor Oxley, a fifteen-year-old girl, who says she was kidnapped in Philadelphia, Monday, was recovered by her father at her uncle's home in Brooklyn today. Her father recently served on a federal jury which investigated white slavery in Pennsylvania.

Eleanor says she was on her way to answer an advertisement for a stenographer when approached by two men, who directed her to accompany them, she told her relative to-day. A handkerchief was placed over her face, she was led to a lot, threatened with death is she cried out or tried to escape, and was taken on a street car to a railroad station, where a train was boarded.

At Jersey City she said one of the men went away, leaving her in the other's care, and when his attention was attracted elsewhere she walked away.

Ten Weddings a Day

WINDSOR, Jan. 15.—Special—During the last three months of 1912, the average number of marriage ceremonies performed by Windsor clergymen in Windsor averaged ten each day, or a total of 901 for 90 days. The number of marriages surpassed the number of deaths by 17 and births by 800. About 85 per cent. of the marriages were couples living out of Windsor, it is estimated. While this is nearly 100 less marriages in Windsor this quarter as compared with the previous quarter, it is a large increase over the same period in 1911.

Five Killed On Steamer

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Special—Five persons were killed when an uptake boiler on the steamer Madonna exploded, according to a wireless despatch received tonight at Fayal. The message also stated that the vessel was proceeding towards Algiers.

CHRONICLE OF THE SINNER

Being the Story of a Man Mean Enough to Deceive Even His Trusting Wife.

At two o'clock in the morning William Wilberforce succeeded after many efforts in getting his key to serve the purpose for which it had been made. Then he stumbled into the hall and fell over an upturned corner of a rug. This awakened Mrs. Wilberforce, who switched on the electric light.

When she got downstairs her husband was sitting up and staring vacantly at a beautiful picture of Queen Louise of Prussia.

"Why, William!" exclaimed his wife, "what has happened? Where are your glasses? How did you get that cut on your nose? Why are your clothes all covered with mud?"

Mr. Wilberforce put his hands up to his face and sobbed.

"Dearest," Mrs. Wilberforce cried, kneeling beside him, "tell me what is the matter."

"I can't 'm dear," he replied, "it was awful! Horrible!"

"O, William! Is it possible that you have been—"

"No, no, it ain't posshible," he interrupted. "Wash asshaulted by robboresh. Tha'sh wha' happened."

"Darling! Are you badly hurt? Did they rob you of everything?"

"No, 'm only stunned, that's all—only stunned. I licked 'm both. They didn't get my watch, 'n' they didn' get my money. I'm all ri'—jush stunned, thash all.

"Shan't I phone for the doctor, dear?"

"No, 'm all ri'. Jush a little stunned—tha'sh all."

Then, believing him, she helped him upstairs and assisted him to get into bed.

"The Lost Paradise"
Under the Auspices of
The Belleville Hospital
Prices: $1.00, 75c, 50c, 25c

This play which deals in a masterly way with Capital and Labor is one of the greatest of the age. Its record in London and New York proves this.

Notes From Police Blotter

The only occupant at the police stations last night was a tramp who was eastward bound.

A bunch of keys picked up upon the street are at the station awaiting an owner.

There was no business for Police Magistrate Masson to-day.

Berlin Police To Speak English

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—The authorities have at last taken up the question of looking after the interests of the increasing number of tourists in the city, and as a result it was announced to-day that English-speaking policemen will be placed at the Principal street crossings. These officers will be designated by crossed American and English colors on their left arms.

These positions are looked upon as very desirable, and many policemen are crowding the language schools in order to make themselves eligible for the posts.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"THE LOST PARADISE."

For the Hospital.

This intensely interesting play, which deals with capital and labor, will be the offering at the Grifin opera house on Wednesday and Thursday, the 22nd and 23rd inst., and judging from the way the seats are selling two buhper houses may be expected. This play has enjoyed long runs in all the large centers of the world, and while it is of a heavy order a vein of sparkling comedy runs through it like a warm colored thread. In the whole range of the drama there are no characters with such power to compel alternate laughter and tears as are shown in the characters of Cinders and Billy. The story of "The Lost Paradise" will appear in this paper later. The company is made up of some of the cleverest talent in Belleville, trained by two well-known professionals of wide experience, who know how to direct a company to artistic unity of effect.

"LITTLE WOMEN."

"Little Women," dramatized by Marian de Forest from the book which three generations of girls have loved, will be produced at Griffin's opera house, Tuesday evening, Jan. 21. Miss Jessie Bonstelle, who has secured from the Alcotts the dramatic rights, tells something of how the play has been worked out by Miss de Forest. She says: "It is a home play; just the life of four girls. It would be absurd as a melodrama, yet far too high ideals for a regular comedy. Although laid in four acts with two scenes, the whole production is a series of home pictures—a dramatic illustration of the book."

BOVRIL AND THE S.S. "NARRUNG"

Another Striking Testimony to the Body Building and Recuperative Power of Bovril.

Bovril and Bread the Only Food For 24 Hours.

How the Marconi Operator Kept Himself Going.

Yet another illustration of the body-building and sustaining power of Bovril is revealed by the striking letter from the captain's and officers' steward of the "Narrung," which we publish below.

During the terrific storm which raged in the Bay of Biscay from Christmas Eve, the "Narrung" was swamped again and again by mountainous waves, wrecking the tackle before the mast, carrying away the winches, breaking into the hold, tearing up the iron deck, and threatening every instant to submerge the vessel. Throughout the height of the crisis, when for 24 hours the captain and officers were fighting for their own lives and the lives of the passengers Bovril and bread was the only food served to the officers on the bridge.

Here is the letter:

S.S. "Narrung," Victoria Dock,
31st December, 1912.

Dear Sirs,—It might interest you to know that during the whole twenty-four hours or more when we were fighting the big storm the only food taken by the officers on the bridge (with the exception of the captain, who took nothing) was Bovril and Bread. The Marconi operator also kept himself going on Bovril and bread only during the same period. Yours faithfully,
(Sgd.) J. K. N.,
Captain's and Officers' Steward.

In the remarkable experiments with Bovril upon Human Subjects reported to the British Medical Association, the body-building power of Bovril was proved to be from 10 to 20 times the amount taken.

The young couple were unattended. The bride looked very pretty attired in a gown of white satin trimmed with seed pearls and lace. At the conclusion of the ceremony those present were handsomely entertained by the bride's parents. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly gifts, which was evidence of the esteem she is held by her many friends. At an early hour this morning Mr. and Mrs. King left for their home in Chicago. The Intelligencer unites with their numerous friends in wishing them every happiness and prosperity in their wedded sphere. Amongst those in attendance at the pleasing event were Mr. and Mrs. Frank King of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Elvins of Toronto.

Both are highly respected residents of our city, having lived here for over thirty years. Their union has been rewarded with eleven children, six sons and five daughters, all of whom are living. The sons are George of Toronto, David of Galt, Frank of Red Oak, Iowa, Fred of Cleveland, Ohio, Freeland of La Duc, Alberta and Ernest who resides at home. The daughters are Mrs. Joseph Fitzgerald of this city, Mrs. Rev. J. E. Connor of Moline, Illinois, Mrs. Jacob Ferguson of Ameliasburg, Mrs. George B. Palmer of Clifton, N. J. and Mrs N. E. mills of Detroit, Mich. The family circle is further enhanced with twenty-six grand-children and one great grand child. Mr. Ackerman was for many years connected with various concerns as a traveller, retiring from active service about six years ago. The anniversary will be celebrated quietly, and the Intelligencer takes pleasure in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Ackerman many more years of wedded life.

Poison Mystery Excites London

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Special—A poison mystery which may possibly develop into a full-blown tragedy is the sensation of the hour in London. In September of last year Hugh Eric Trevanion, aged 27, a grandson of Sir Daniel Cooper, a cousin of the Earl of Strathmore and also related to Right Hon. Walter Long, formerly President of the Local Government Board and a leading Conservative member of Parliament, and Lord Northland, died presumably from an overdose of veronal.

Curiously enough at the inquest, at which a verdict was returned of death through misadventure the question of holding a post-mortem examination was decided in the negative, but Mr. Trevanion's mother was dissatisfied with the decision and got permission from Home Secretary McKenna to have the body exhumed for the purpose of discovering the cause of death.

It appears that shortly before coming of age Trevanion suffered severely from insomnia, after which he became adicted to the use of drugs.

At the time of his death he was sharing luxurious flat at Hove, Brighton, with a friend of the name of Roe. On the night or his death Trevanion retired early. Later on he told his friend Roe, who had gone to his room, that he had taken an overdose of veronal. The question to be decided is whether veronal or some poison was self-administered or otherwise. The dead man was worth some $400,000.

Two Killed In An Opium Riot

SHANGHAI, Jan. 15.—Special—Two persons were killed and many wounded as a result of a pitched battle to-day over the attempts to suppress the opium traffic. Officials of the Shang Tu and neighboring districts were patrolling with a military escort for the purpose of enforcing the order of prohibition against the cultivation of opium, when they were set upon by a thousand armed supporters of the opium traffic. A fight ensued, in which both sides fired several volleys.

Naval Plan Shelved

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—Special—The question of a naval demonstration by the fleets of the European powers against Turkey was shelved, according to official circulars here, prior to the attempts of the foreign ambassadors in London to formulate a joint note to be delivered to the Turkish Government. The reason for its shelving was that several of the great powers, including some of those not belonging to the Triple Alliance, had declared against such a demonstration.

To Admit Women On Equal Terms

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Special—Women won another step towards equality with men today when the Royal Geographical Society by a vote of 130 to 51 adopted a motion by Lord Curzon of Kedleston to admit them as Fellows on the same terms as men. Lord Curzon announced that a referendum by correspondence on this subject had resulted 2,189 votes in favor of admitting women to 67 against.

Curfew For Dancers

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—The married men in Philadelphia society have served notice on local hostesses that they must end their dances earlier or there will be a lack of men. It has been suggested that the married men be permitted to retire gracefully not later than 2 o'clock in the morning. Philadelphia hostesses are awakening to the fact that there is a difference between Philadelphia and New York society. Here they must depend on the married men at dances or there will be a predominance of women.

Gardner Cassatt has a set rule that he will be ready to leave any such affair not later than 2 o'clock.

The Task of Nations

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Speaking on "The Task of Nations," last night at the dinner of the Foreign Missions Board of the United States and Canada, Archdeacon Cody of Toronto declared that the greatest danger any land can be exposed to is that of losing its soul.

"The Church has been awakened more and more between the slums at home and the foreign mission fields," he said. "How can we assure people in China that the Church is making an effort to solve its problem at home?"

Fatality at The Nipissing Mine

COBALT, Jan. 15.—A. Lefebvre, a cage tender, was instanly killed by falling 120 feet at the Fourth of July shaft at Nipissing Mine this morning.

Lefebvre was on the cage at the first level, handing out steel, when the cage moved upwards. He was aged 30, and leaves a wife and one child.

Explains Her Failure

PARIS, Jan. 15.—Mlle. Adrienne Combry, a well-known French feminist, has expressed some novel opinions on the quality of women's work, which she says often fails owing to faulty education.

"When women marry," she says, "they are far too much given to ruling their husbands, and even want to choose the color of their neckties."

Lack of coolness, often shown by women in times of danger, she also attributes to their false education.

McINTOSH BROS.

ARE YOU "AFRAID TO GO HOME IN THE DARK?"

Then why not have your front porch lighted so you can see what you're doing, and not have to creep into your own house like a burglar.

And speaking of burglars, a porch light makes one of the best protections against the visits of the man with the "jimmy." He does his best work in the dark, and an electric porch light (equipped with Holophane Reflector, of course) will discourage his efforts quicker than any burglar alarm.

If the porch light is the bane of the unwelcome guest, it is just as much a boon to the guest who is welcome. It is a promise of hospitality within and makes the visitor glad he has come And when the porch light is equipped with Holophane Glass, the light is subdued yet of sufficient intensity to make reading in the open air a pleasure.

Whether there is electricity in your house or not, an electric light with a Holophane Reflector should be on your front porch.

May we not send a representative to call on you?

FIGURES TELL THE STORY

The western crop movement is being carried on this year under the most favorable auspices. The efforts made by the Borden Government to avoid congestion, which has hitherto been a feature of the yearly crop movement, have proved successful and the traffic is being so well handled that few complaints come even from those who are most ready to find fault. A comparison with the number of bushels disposed of last year throws light upon the work now being done. Up to November 30, 1912, the grain received at Fort William and Port Arthur was 22 million bushels more than for the corresponding period of 1911 and the shipments out were 16 millions more. Wheat is the principal grain shipped by water for export. About 22 thousand more cars of grain were brought into the Twin City termnials than in the 1911 period. In the three months ending November 30 the C.P.R. handled 10,716 more cars at Winnipeg than in 1911 and the Grand Trunk 7,250 more.

There was for a short period some congestion at the Twin City's terminals because the railways brought grain in faster than it could be got out by boat. That congestion was the direct consequence of the jamming of the Buffalo and New York elevators. Ocean tonnage could not get out the grain fast enough and it backed up against the front lake terminals, which was in no way the fault of the railways of Canada. At the close of navigation the farmers of the West had in their hands about sixty million bushels of wheat out of a crop of about 200 million bushels not including seed reserves. The work of the Government also in hurrying up the completion of routes on the N.T.R. has given two rail outlets for the winter.

The latest figures up to January 7 at the Marine Department show that ten million bushels of grain will be stored on vessels at Port Arthur and Fort William this winter. Six millions have already been stored away since the close of navigation and twenty-five vessels are awaiting cargoes. This scheme of letting the vessels lie in winter quarters at these ports and act as elevators and prevent a grain blockade was brought into force by the present Government. A fleet of seventy vessels loaded with wheat will lie at these ports until the spring comes.

CANADA'S ACTIVE BUILDING

One of the most valuable, as well as the most accessible sources of information for the real estate investor, or even the person who is interested in watching the progess of the upbuilding of Canadian cities, is the building permit figures for a stated period. In addition to the approximate totals of permits issued during the year, a number of building inspectors now furnish other useful data, such as the number and cost of different classes of buildings, and such figures from a number of cities are appended to an extended article in the latest issue of the Financial Post of Canada.

At the end of 1911, in reviewing the building activity of the year, The Financial Post points out that in view of the very large increases made during the year, both on the total and by certain of the most rapidly growing cities, it would be reasonable to expect a smaller increase on the whole in 1912, and that if some cities showing the largest gains in 1911 were able to reach a similar total in 1912, the result would be very gratifying indeed. However, this opinion was far too conservative, for instead of registering a 28 per cent. gain on the total, as in 1911, the increase in 1912 was 44 per cent., and the very cities that were deemed unlikely, on account of heavy totals in 1911, to make an considerable advance, have made jumps of from 50 to 200 per cent. over the supposedly high totals of 1911.

A casual observer can not but be impressed with the tremendous headway our country is making.

HEALTHY FACTORS

There are two strong factors working to prevent undue speculation, says the Financial Post. One is the periodic tight money, and the other, a growing exercise of caution, which at present, may seem to be hurting real estate activity, but in the end will be recognized as having been one of the best methods that could be employed to keep conditions on a firm basis. Whatever happens to the real estate business, whether there is a standstill for a while—and that is what a number of careful students of the market think will happen in the near future, at least, in some cities—or whether prices recede, one thing is certain that at the present stage of development the country is prepared to absorb quite a shock without much evident distress. In other words, a poor market will not be of long duration.

A Toronto divine declared that no girl in Toronto could live on less than $486 a year. That's about $9.25 a week. Take it from us, there's a heap of back wages coming to a lot of them.—Guelph Mercury.

SIR JAMES AND THE SCHOOLS

In a recent communication dealing with the bi-lingual question in our public schools Sir James Whitney made it very clear to the separate school deputation that no change will be made in the present standard of language and none of the regulations now in force would be withdrawn. This position is one which residents of the province interested in our school methods will readily sanction, and Sir James is to be credited with an undivided ambition that in an English speaking province English should be the language of the schools.

The Toronto Globe advocates Liberal obstruction in parliament against the naval policy of Premier Borden. The Liberal leaders had better steer clear of The Globe's advice on this matter. The Globe is as far astray in its judgement of Canadian public sentiment on this naval problem as it was on reciprocity. The Globe and the Rev. J. A. Macdonald its editor in chief, wrecked the Laurier Government and the same combination will wreck the Laurier Opposition if the latter follows its advice.—Brockville Times.

The Times is exercising a mammoth degree of temerity in speaking thus of the great educator of the campaign of 1911, whose weighty counsel cost the Government in the neighborhood of $25,000. And yet it is said, give a calf plenty of rope and it will hang itself.

The reopening of Parliament after the Christmas holidays finds the Liberal party confronted with the necessity of choosing between two courses, with the future of Liberalism for many years depending upon the choice. The Liberals can continue to fight the Government proposal to aid the Empire in a time of need, or they can accept wiser counsel from the better thinking men of their party, and assist the Government in passing the bill by which Canada places three of the finest fighting ships at the disposal of the Admiralty for the preservation of the Empire and the maintenance of peace.

In the movement of the markets wheat for delivery in May is again quoted at higher figures in Winnipeg than in Minneapolis, the former being an export and Minneapolis a milling centre. This has happened many times since the politicians of the Liberal party discovered that the commercial salvation of Canada depended upon the acceptance of the Taft-Fielding plan for putting the Canadian farmer on the same level as his neighbor in the United States at Minneapolis and other places.

The message from Rt. Hon. Louis Harcourt, Secretary of State for the colonies, regarding the proposed representation of the Dominions on the Imperial Defence Committee, shows that the project has been carefully considered and matured since the first proposal of Sir Joseph Ward at the Imperial Conference of 1911. The proposal was agreed to in principle by all the representatives at the Conference, including presumably, the members of the then (Liberal) Canadian Government.

Woman Attracts Many Suitors

Several weeks ago a woman in Elgin, Ill., wrote to the Mayor of San Francisco announcing herself as a candidate for matrimony and asking his help in making her case public. She had fallen heir to a valuable estate, but there was a provision that she must be married by a certain fixed date otherwise she would lose the property.

All applicants were to write to her at Elgin. Now the woman in the case has disappeared, either having changed her mind, or else having found a suitor nearer at hand, but there is serious trouble in the Elgin Post Office.

The Postmaster, says the Chrsitian Herald, is practically buried in a reply to this woman's invitation. There are more than seven thousand letters, and almost as many photographs, and they are still pouring in at the rate of hundreds daily. Doubtless the too complaisant Mayor now regrets having given the matter publicity. It would be hard to describe the feelings of the poor Illinois Postmaster, who is the only real sufferer in the affair.

Spent Time on Trains

HAMILTON, Jan. 15.—Robert Morrow of Bath, Ont., fifty years of age, was taken off a G.T.R. train and arrested on a charge of insanity last night. On him was found $80 in cash and a bank book showing deposits amounting to $23,242.

The authorities say that for the past week he has been wasting his substance by riding on trains all over the province. He refused to buy the tickets or to get tickets from a station agent, but insisted on purchasing them from conductors and those good only to the next station.

His favorite ride was from Niagara Falls to Toronto, and he bought tickets from the conductors for each station on the route as he came to it. The result was that he had his pockets crammed with slips calling for rebates.

DON'T BE BALD

Nearly Anyone May Secure a Splendid Growth of Hair.

We have a remedy that has a record of retarding baldness and promoting hair growth in 93 out of every 100 cases where used according to directions for a reasonable length of time. That may seem like a strong statement—it is, and we mean it to be, and no one should doubt it until they have put our claims to an actual test.

We are so certain Rexall "93" Hair Tonic will eradicate dandruff, act to prevent baldness, stimulate the scalp and hair roots, arrest premature loss of hair and promote hair growth, that we personally give our positive guarantee to refund every penny paid us for it in every instance where it does not give entire satisfaction to the user.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is as pleasant to use as clear spring water. It is delightfully perfumed, and does not grease or gum the hair. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. With our guarantee back of it, you certainly take no risk. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. J. S. McKeown.

"Just so," replied the deputy calmly. "I have made it annually, word for word, for thirteen years. Nobody noticed it before."

KILLING CATTLE WITH AIR

Experiments With Pneumatic Poleaxe for Slaughtering Purposes

A poleaxe two and a half inches long, more efficient in cattle slaughtering than its primitive antecedent, is occupying the attention of London butchers, since a demonstration of humane methods of killing conducted at the Islington abattoirs under the auspices of the Council of Justice to Animals.

The weapon employed was the council's "air-killer." In appearance it looks like a large sky rocket; the rocket end is a chamber charged with compressed air, the stick an elongated valve terminating in a poleaxe only some two and a half inches long. On the pressure of a trigger the poleaxe is liberated against the head of the animal, the skull of which it penetrates without difficulty. The animal falls instantly, showing hardy a trace of the hole thus pierced.

The "air-killer" was used upon sheep, calves, and bullocks, all of which were, with one exception, killed expeditiously. It was clear that the efficacy of the instrument depended upn the operator's knowledge of the vital spot in an animal's skull. In the hand of an expert there should be no failures and the instrument costs but a trifle.

BACKWARD ALBANIANS

Like the Welsh in Britain and the Basques in Spain, the Albanians are a native stock. They speak the only original Balkan language. The Turks did not permit the Albanian tongue to be taught in schools. There is no literature, no agreement even as to how it shall be written. Of the few who can write, some use Greek letters, some the Roman. The Albanians themselves are nearly all Moslems, but 400,000 Greeks, Serbs, Vlachs and Bulgarians in their land belong to the Greek Church. The famous seven highland clans of the north, known as the Malissori, are Roman Catholic.

Blood feuds, lack of roads and Turkish misgovernment, make travel in the interior unsafe. One-quarter of all the deaths in the country are violent, either in clan warfare or in clashes with Turks. Much of the country is as independent as Montenegro. The Turk never cowed or taxed its rugged hills.

Of all fallow and backward races the Albanians have perhaps the greatest possibilities. Haeckel said that they have the best shaped heads in Europe and their natural ability is great.

TRACING MAN'S DESCENT

Scientists to See Which Race is Nearest the Ape

An attempt is to be made at the Imperial Research Laboratory at Munich to determine, by blood precipitin experiments, which of the races of men bears the closest relationship to the ape.

As the case now stands, there is general agreement among scientists that man and the ape are descended from a common ancestor; but as to whether the black, the white, the red, or the yellow man, the pygmy, the giant, or the medium-sized man, was the original human type there are strong differences of opinion. One body of theorists holds that the negro is a degenerated white type, while another insists that the white man is evolved from an ancient black type.

The Punishment of the Bagno.

In former times the punishment of the bagno (bath), one of the most cleverly cruel inflictions ever devised, was administered in Venice, where the water of the lagoons played so prominent a part in its penal system. The punishment was as follows: The prisoner was placed in a vat the sides of which were slightly in excess of the average height of a man. In order to hold in check the rising tide of a supply of water which ran into the vat in a constant stream the criminal was furnished with a scoop with which to bale out the water as fast as it came in. The respite from death by immersion thus obtained was more or less prolonged, according to the powers of endurance possessed by the victim. But imagine the mortal torture, the exhausting and even hideously grotesque efforts, the incessant and pitiless toil by night and day, to stave off the dread moment fast approaching when, overcome by sleep and fatigue, he was unable to struggle any longer against his fate.

Compliments.

Said a certain eminent actor, who at the age of fifty-nine looks no more than thirty-five:

"I try to keep my hair on and my stomach off—that is the true secret of perennial youth."

Then he told one of his famous stories illustrative of the horrors of corpulence.

"A fat man," he said, "could not help laughing one day at the ludicrous appearance of a very bow legged chap, one of those arch looking chaps, you know.

"Though a total stranger to him, the fat man slapped the bow legged chap on the back and said:

"'By jingo, brother, you look as if you'd been riding a barrel.'

"The bow legged man smiled and poked his forefinger deep into the fat man't soft, loose stomach.

"'And you look as if you'd been swallowing one,' he said."—Washington Star.

A Town You Should Reach.

The pleasant town of Get There lies far up a rocky hill, across the sands of Courage and above the swamp of Will. The path that leads to Get There leaves the pleasant thoroughfare and wanders off 'mid rocks that grind and briar vines that tear. And thousands pass along the road that leads to Nowhereville and grumble at the few who climb to Get There on the hill, and others start the thorny path and seek the town to gain, but falter at the swamp

He Favored Brevity.

A bishop once rose to address the house of lords and began by saying he intended to divide his speech into twelve heads. Lord Durham thereupon got up and begged leave to interpose for a few minutes to tell the house an anecdote.

He was returning home, he said, a few nights before and passed St. Paul's cathedral just before midnight. As he did so there was a drunken man trying to see the time. Just then the clock began to strike the hour and slowly tolled out 12. The drunken man listened, looked hard at the clock and said:

"Hang you, why couldn't you have said all that at once!"

After this narration the bishop condensed his remarks.—London Globe.

Walrus and Bullets.

The most vulnerable spot in which to hit a walrus is the back part of the skull. The forehead, being several inches thick in bone, almost invariably turns bullets even if solid ones are used in a big rifle, as should always be done. Besides the head, with the exception of the heart, there is hardly a vital spot in these huge brutes' bodies, and bullets may be fired ad libitum into these masses of flesh and blubber without seeming to have much effect.

SPORTING NEWS

HOCKEY.

HOW THEY LIKED IT IN THE LIMESTONE CITY.

The following excerpts taken from the Kingston papers regarding the game on Tuesday night. Comment would be superfluous, as some of their statements are so ludicrously ridiculous that they are really interesting.

Standard:—Belleville in Kingston and Belleville in Belleville are two separate and distinct propositions, as the Frontenac Juniors discovered last night when they journeyed up the lake, only to be retired 8 to 6. It was one of the roughest exhibitions in the junior O.H.A. for the last couple of years back and not since the days of their championship have Frontenacs forced the play under such harrowing conditions. The score was three all at half time and 6 to 4 for Frontenacs with seven minutes to play, but the local boys were all in and Belleville wound up the game with a tally every other minute. Frontenacs played a whale of a game, and it is a wonder they lasted as they did. Much lighter than the Quinte men, they worked through the latter's defence on several occasions. They paid the price every time for Belleville was depending on her heavy checking to win them the game, and it did. As a result of something thrown by one of the spectators Purtell is in the hands of an eye specialist with three stitches in a gash on the brow. Derry's eye is also swelled almost shut and Angrove is sporting two raw and banged-up knees.

Whig:—Manager "Jim" Sutherland of Frontenacs says his boys, although they had no practice since their home game with Belleville, played fifty per cent. better. Belleville, however, played fifty-one per cent. better than they did in Kingston. Belleville went wild over its victory. Belleville has not had a victory in so long that Frontenacs had not the heart to begrudge them one. Brotherhood played a splendid game in goal for Belleville, stopping a rain of shots with which Stanton, Ferguson and Millan bored into him. Cooke also made some lively stops, but found it hard in the last half to see through a cloud of smoke, which hung over the rink, and stop the long shots which Belleville resorted to. * * * It was at this stage of the game that the smoke became so thick that not only did it "grog" the players, but gave Belleville the chance to ring in a couple of long shots. It was these which won the game.

TO STRENGTHEN THEIR TEAM.

OTTAWA, Jan. 15.—The Ottawa club claim both Eddie Lowrey and Angus Duford, the crack forwards of New Edinburgh, for tonight's game with the Wanderers. Secretary Rosenthal came to terms with both men yesterday. Lowrey plays rover and Duford right wing. Ronan and others will be replaced unless they return to form and show speed in tonight's game. The Senators are also after a defense man, and it was reported today that they would try out Frank Heffernan of the T. R. and A. A. of Toronto.

THE FALLS RAN UP A SCORE.

NIAGARA FALLS, Jan. 15.—The first intermediate O.H.A. game of the season here was played last evening between Simcoe and the Tecumsehs of this city. The home team seemed to have the best of the visitors all through the entire game, putting up good, clean, fast, combination hockey. The final score was 18 to 4 in favor of the Tecumsehs.

PETERBORO' BEATS COBOURG.

PETERBORO', Jan. 15.—Peterboro' intermediates defeated Cobourg last night by 12 to 9, after leading at half-time by 6 to 4. The visitors had an early lead of 4 to 1, but were overtaken and headed. They evened up right after the intermission, and stayed with the locals till near the finish, when the Petes, by fast work, took the lead.

WHITBY WON AT BOWMANVILLE.

BOWMANVILLE, Jan. 15.—In the intermediate O.H.A. match played here last evening between Bowmanville and Whitby the visitors won by a score of 7 to 2. The score at half-time was 4 to 0 in favor of Whitby. The ice was soft and prevented good, clean hockey.

ELMIRA 13, HESPELER 4.

ELMIRA, Jan. 15.—The O.H.A. intermediate game between Hespeler and Elmira was played here last night. Hespeler brought only six men and Elmira put off one of their best players and the game proceeded with six men a side.

GRAVENHURST 29, BEAVERTON 3.

GRAVENHURST, Jan. 15.—An intermediate O.H.A. game was played here last night between Beaverton and Gravenhurst, resulting in an easy win for the locals.

WOODSTOCK 13, WATFORD 4.

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 15.—Watford juniors were swamped by Woodstock in the first local game of the season last night, Woodstock winning by the score of 13 to 4.

ANOTHER FOR COLLINGWOOD.

COLLINGWOOD, Jan. 15.—Collingwood won the junior O.H.A. game from Meaford here last night by the score of 13 to 2. The game was very rough.

The Strathconas of Winnipeg defeated the Kenora Thistles by a score of 8 to 7. The match was the first game in the new Independent senior league recently formed. The league intends challenging for the Allan Cup.

The helpless Ottawa N.H.A. team is being helplessly roasted by the Capital press and public. Unless the dead ones come to life soon there will be a shakeup in the ranks, the management says.

Bill Hyland, formerly of the Eatons, has turned out with T. R. and A. A., and will be used at rover.

GENERAL SPORTS

CANADIANS WOKE THEM UP.

San Francisco Call:—News of the decisive defeat of the Pasadena polo team by the visiting Canadians on Coronado field yesterday has caused the players and fans of the San Mateo Polo Club to sit up and take notice, for not only has Pasadena the fastest four in southern California, but last year with the assistance of Thomas Driscoll, who was substituted for Harry Weiss, it succeeded in wresting the John D. Spreckels All-American Cup from Lord Tweedmouth's British invaders. Local enthusiasts take some consolation in the fact that Pasadena presented a considerably weakened lineup in yesterday's match, but, just the same, they were severely drubbed to the tune of 9 to 3 3-4.

MONTREAL PRO. DEVELOPMENT.

Montreal Star:—Before leaving for Toronto and Chicago Mr. George Kennedy, managing director of the Club Athletique Canadien, announced to a friend that he had virtually decided to go in for professional soccer.

It is a well known fact that he has been thinking of this for some time, in fact, ever since Mr. Friedman started the professional soccer movement. It is the intention, it is understood, to have Sunday games a feature of the new enterprise.

A RADICAL CHANGE.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 15.—Stewards of the Grand Circuit met here today, announced dates for meets of the circuit in the different cities, admitted New York and Windsor, Ont., to the circuit, and adopted a rule providing that if a horse wins three stake races amounting to $15,000, it must afterward compete in a class to which it is eligible by the lowest record it has made in any one of its winning races.

QUEEN'S WRESTLER HURT.

KINGSTON, Jan. 14.—Angus McIntosh, second year Arts student, Queen's University, had his shoulder broken in an accident. He was wrestling with Bert McKenzie, one of the champion wrestlers in the college, and the latter threw him.

TORONTO HORSE SHOW DATES.

Dates for the Canadian National Horse Show, Toronto's big equine exhibition, were decided on Tuesday. This year's show will be held May 6 to May 10. M r. Alex. Mitn is the new secretary.

BASKETBALL

CANADIAN RULES REVISION.

A meeting was held in Toronto Saturday at the call of President Guy Long of the Ontario Basketball Association, for the purpose of considering changes and improvements to the playing rules. Mr. Long endeavored to bring together all the foremost referees of Ontario, the men who would be able to suggest any changes that would be in the best interests of the game generally. A successful meeting was held and the contemplated changes will be announced later.

GRAND TRUNK SYSTEM NEWS ITEMS

Two important meetings are to be held at the "Chateau Laurier," the Grand Trunk hotel at Ottawa towards the end of this month. The Niagara Frontier Summer Rate Committee will convene in the Chateau, January 21st—23rd; while the convention of the Great Lakes & St Lawrence River Committee will follow immediately afterward on January 23rd.

Among the exhibitors at the International Travel and Vacation Exhibition which is to be held in the Grand Central Palace, New York during the month of March, will be the Grand Trunk Railway System. Final arrangements have not yet been made, but the exhibit will be up to the standard which the public has come to associate with this company's name and will be of a nature calculated to interest the tourist and sportsman not only in the Grand Trunk but also in the Dominion of Canada.

Evidence of the high esteem in which the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is held in Western Canada is to be found in a letter just received by Mr. H. R. Charlton, General Advertising Agent from a prominent citizen of Moose Jaw, Sask., who says:—"We are waiting in Moose Jaw anxiously for the completion of a real good road into the city, the G.T.P. I expect our branch will be finished soon, as the rails are within three quarters of a mile of the place where they intend to put the station. The roads has many friends in Moose Jaw and we will all try to help give it a good start when within a few weeks regular trains will be running to Regina from here."

Two Children Killed While Coasting

CHISHOLM, Me., Jan. 14.—Two children, Joseph Pomerlau, aged 10 and Bernadotte Charest, 11, were killed, and two others probably fatally hurt by coasting in front of a railroad train here yesterday. They were coasting down a steep hill over the Grand Trunk tracks and were struck by the locomotive.

Mail By Airships

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 13.—Special—Aviator Harry M. Jones, who left Boston this afternoon at 2.16 in his biplane, bound for New York with the first consignment of mail matter ever sent between the two cities by air, landed in Providence, the first stop to his flight, shortly after 3 o'clock his afternoon. He intends to spend the night here and to proceed to-morrow on the remainder of his journey.

R. R. Wreck In England

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., Jan. 14.—Two passengers were killed and forty injured, many of them seriously, in a collision on the Midland Railway to-day when an express train crashed into an accommodation train at Bromford Bridge near here.

The express was proceeding to Leicester, and the accommodation train from Birmingham to Walsall. Nearly all the victims of the collision were travelling in the slow train

PLANS PARCELS POST

Hon. Mr. Pelletier Says Scheme Will Be Introduced Soon.

Postmaster-General In Debate on a Resolution Brought In by Hon. Mr. Lemieux Says That Something Will Be Done, But He Is Not Yet Ready To Divulge Details—Will Not Take Leap In the Dark.

OTTAWA, June 16.—That the Government is considering a parcel post system and that a plan will be laid before Parliament during the present session was the statement made in the House yesterday by Postmaster-General Pelletier. The Minister, therefore, asked Hon. Mr. Lemieux to withdraw a resolution favoring such a project until the Government had dealt with the matter.

It was private members' day in the House, and the naval debate was shelved for the time being.

Hon. Mr. Lemieux, who was supported by Dr. Michael Clark of Red Deer and Messrs. W. M. Martin of Regina and E. W. Nesbitt of North Oxford, dealt with the subject of parcels post at some length. For some time he had hesitated as Postmaster-General to take action, owing to protests, presumably from the country storekeepers, who took the ground that it would serve to increase the grasping power of the departmental stores. He had discovered, he said, that they had been put up to protesting by the express companies.

Continuing, he said that the true function of a Postoffice Department was that of communication. It should control not only the transmission of mail, but cables, telegraphs, telephones, and express. In Canada we had lagged far behind and were now unique in having no parcel post or at best a parcel post which could only be described as the "skeleton of a skeleton."

He contrasted the rates charged with those effective in other countries, and pointed out that we carried parcels sent to us from other countries in larger bulk and at much lower rates than we carried parcels to and from citizens of our own country. Our parcel post service was surrendered to the express companies, which charged the people most extortionately. There was no reason why the Postmaster-General with 14,000 postmasters in his service could not carry parcels cheaply and at a profit at least up to eleven pounds, the weight limit prevailing in the United Kingdom and the United States.

Mr. Martin, the Liberal member for Regina, voiced the western sentiment in favor of parcel post. The express rates in the west were extortionate and the people looked to the Postoffice Department for relief.

Dr. Clarke, the Liberal member for Red Deer, said that old country settlers in the west missed the parcel post service and demanded its establishment, and Mr. Nesbitt, the Liberal member for North Oxford, complained that express rates were very high in Ontario.

Mr. Armstrong, the Conservative member for East Lambton, twitted Mr. Lemieux upon the fact that he is now a progressive, but had failed as Postmaster-General to put into effect any of the reforms which he now preached.

Postmaster-General Pelletier, in opening, said that Mr. Lemieux, when in office, had been very keen for the parcel post until it came time to act and then he stopped short of the "abyss." The Postoffice Department had a big surplus, but that was no reason why the Department should recklessly run itself into bankruptcy. It was idle to say that the petitions from retail merchants were not bonafide. The Retail Merchants' Association had protested to the Department against the establishment of the parcel post and were soon to send a big deputation to Ottawa to emphatically voice their protests.

"I want to say right here," said Mr. Pelletier, "that we are not going to establish a parcel post just for the fun of the thing, nor are we going to establish it for the purpose of competing with the express companies or reducing express rates.

"It was not the business of the Postoffice Department to reduce express rates. If shippers found the express rates too high they should complain to the Railway Commission. The same paper, he went on to say, urged him to establish a flat rate, yet it eulogized the United States parcel post, which was based on the zone system.

"I may say in this connection," he added, "that the parcel post in Canada will not be based on a flat rate, but on a zone system."

Mr. Pelletier, however, explained that the elaborate system of zones adopted by the United States would not be copied in Canada. The plan to be put in force in Canada could not be disclosed to Parliament until it had been submitted to and approved by the Cabinet.

Rural mail deliveries should precede parcel post, said Mr. Pelletier, and the extension of rural mail delivery routes was more important than the extension of the parcel post.

In conclusion, Mr. Pelletier said that some plan for a parcel post would be announced before the close of the present session, but care would be taken not to trample on any legitimate business or to run the Government into debt. The results in the United States will be watched with interest and on March 1st we would know how the experiment has succeeded there, because we had been promised a statement of the receipts and expenditures.

Upon this assurance of the Postmaster-General, Mr. Lemieux's motion was withdrawn.

MONTREAL MARKET.

MONTREAL, Jan. 15.—Demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba wheat and barley continues good, and a steady business is being done, but, notwithstanding this fact prices closed strong in Chicago, and Winnipeg late private cables from Liverpool were easier, with bids ½d lower. There was some enquiry for oats, but the bids received, based on the May option in Winnipeg, were 3c per bushel out of line. A firmer feeling prevailed in the local market, and prices advanced ½c, with a sale of 5000 No. 2 Canadian western at 43c ex store. New crop No. 3 yellow corn is 2c higher, at 61c. CATTLE MARKETS

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

MONTREAL, Jan. 15.—At the Canadian Pacific live stock market the receipts of live stock for the week ending Jan. 11 were 1275 cattle, 540 sheep and lambs, 1400 hogs and 275 calves, while the offerings on the market this morning for sale amounted to 1200 cattle, 500 sheep and lambs, 1400 hogs and 300 calves.

The market for cattle was without any new feature, prices being steady under a good demand from butchers and packers for supplies and the scarcity of good to choice stock. The weather conditions were not so favorable, it being much milder, but, notwithstanding this fact, buyers operated freely and an active trade was done. The best steers offered sold at $6.25 to $6.50, and the lower grades from that down to $4, while good butchers' cows and bulls brought $5.25 to $5.50; medium, from $4 to $5, and common $3 to $3.75 per 100 pounds. There was some demand from American buyers for canning cattle, and shipments of three carloads were made to New York.

There was no further change in the market for lambs, prices being firm at the recent advance, with a good demand at $7.25 to $7.50, and sheep sold at from $4 to $5.25 per 100 pounds. The demand for calves was fair at from $3 to $12 each, as to size and quality.

A good trade was done in hogs, and the market was active, with prices unchanged at $9.25 to $9.50 per 100 pounds for selected lots, weighed off cars.

EAST BUFFALO LIVE STOCK.

EAST BUFFALO, Jan. 15.—Cattle—Receipts, 50; steady.

Veals—Receipts, 50; active; 50c to 75c higher, at $4 to $12.25; a few, $12.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 4800; active; 5c higher; heavy and mixed, $7.65 to $7.70; yorkers and pigs, $7.70 to $7.75; roughs, $6.75 to $6.85; stags, $5.50 to $6.25; dairies, $7.50 to $7.70.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 4000; slow; lambs 15c higher; yearlings 10c lower; lambs, $6 to $9.65; yearlings, $5 to $8.25; wethers, $6 to $6.25; ewes, $3.50 to $5.75; mixed, $4.50 to $6.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Cattle—Receipts, 18,000; market, slow and weak; beeves, $5.80 to $9.20; Texas steers, $4.70 to $5.75; western steers, $5.50 to $7.15; stockers and feeders, $4.80 to $7.60; cows and heifers, $2.75 to $7.60; calves, $7 to $10.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 26,000; market, strong; light, $7.15 to $7.42½; mixed, $7.15 to $7.45; heavy, $5.95 to $7.45; rough, $6.95 to $7.10; pigs, $5.85 to $7.40; bulk of sales, $7.30 to $7.40.

Sheep—Receipts, 25,000; market, slow; native, $4.65 to $6.15; western, $4.75 to $6.15; yearlings, $6.40 to $8.25; lambs, native, $6.70 to $9; western, $6.75 to $9.

GLASGOW LIVE STOCK.

GLASGOW, Jan. 15.—Messrs. Watson & Batchelor reported short offerings and brisk demand for cattle here at 14½c to 15c for the best Irish steers; secondary were bringing 13½c to 14c.

WON THE JURY.

A Couple of Shrewd Queries and the Railroad Lost Its Case.

A number of years ago Benjamin F. Butler was a guest of friends in Brooklyn. During his visit he noted the rule of the street railway companies compelling conductors to register fares as soon as passengers entered the cars and before the fares were actually collected. Two or three years afterward he represented the plaintiff in a damage suit for $15,000 in which a Brooklyn street railway company was the defendant. The principal witness for the company was the conductor of the car on which the accident occurred, and his testimony was so strong as to make things look bad for Butler's client. But Butler recalled the unusual rule he had remarked years before, and on cross examination he said:

"Your company requires you to ring up fares as soon as passengers enter the car, doesn't it?"

"Yes."

"Suppose a passenger boards your car and then finds he is on the wrong line. Do you state that fact to your superiors, and do they make allowance on your returns for that fare?"

"No. I lose the nickel."

"Do you mean to say the company won't take your word for 5 cents?"

"No, they won't."

"Yet," said the shrewd veteran, turning to the jury, "the company asks you to take this conductor's word for $15,000."

Butler's client received a verdict.—Brooklyn Eagle.

"Spanish Mutton."

Dog meat, we learn from the Frankfurter Zeitung, is largely sold in Germany, and more especially in Saxony, but rarely under its own name. Traders describe it as Spanish mutton, and their customers are less chary of asking for it.

Catfish in England is treated in the same euphemistic way. There was a time when this fish was never seen in the shops. Then some fishmongering genius invented the name of "rock salmon," and bestowed it upon the despised catfish, which now has an established place in the market.—London Chronicle.

The Man Fish.

Mathew Buchinger, mentioned in old English wonder books as the "man fish," was the most remarkable monstrosity of his time. He had neither hands, arms, feet nor legs. From his shoulders grew two finlike excrescences, and along his back there were several rows of scales. He had the lidless eyes characteristic of the fish species and a queer puckered mouth and no ears.

Where Ignorance Is Bliss.

Mrs. Exe—So your husband fell asleep in church last night. I suppose you woke him up? Mrs. Wye—Not until after the sermon. There was a lot in it about women's extravagance—nonsense, of course, but I'm mighty glad John didn't hear it.—Boston Transcript.

An Expert on History.

"Wombat, what year did Damon and Pythias run?"

"Lemme see. I think they headed a ticket about 1830."

"And who ran against 'em?"

"Lemme see. Wasn't it Castor and Pollux?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Sillicus—I can truthfully say I never forgot a favor.

Cynicus—Nothing remarkable about that. The fellow we accept a favor from seldom lets us forget it.—Phila-

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

ROADS MAKING MONEY.

Railway Report Is a Record of Great Prosperity.

OTTAWA, Jan. 16.—Figures and statistics relative to Canadian railways for the year 1912, made public by the Department of Railways yesterday are interesting in view of the agitation for lower freight rates.

It is shown that while the cost of operation per mile has but slightly increased the companies' earnings per mile have been greatly advanced. There was an increase in net earnings over last year of $10,978,504.

Gross earnings of the railway companies for the year amounted to $219,403,753, which was an increase of over thirty million dollars over their earnings last year. On the other hand operating expenses increased only $19,000,000, leaving a gain in net profit of nearly eleven millions.

The report goes on to show that ten years ago the gross earnings of Canadian railways were only slightly over $96,000,000. Earnings per mile in 1911 were $7,430, while for 1912 they were increased to $8,210, which means in other words that the railways earned $730 a mile more than they did last year.

Railway dividends in 1912, it is further shown, amounted to $31,164,791, as compared with $12,760,435 in 1907. The aggregate dividends for the year were equal to a little over 4 per cent. on the total stock issue, without regard to the amount which might be properly regarded as being dead.

The people of the Dominion, according to figures dealing with aid to railways, were exceptionally generous in this regard. Cash aid in 1912 amounted to $5,892,818, and of this amount the Dominion Government paid $5,828,163, the provinces $26,155, and municipalities $8,500.

Railway bonds are guaranteed by the Dominion and Provincial Governments to the extent of $245,070,045, and of this amount $91,983,553 is guaranteed by the Dominion.

SAVED TWO LIVES.

Gallant Toronto Men Rescue Women From Death.

TORONTO, Jan. 16.—Thrilling rescues of thirty-five women were effected yesterday afternoon when a bad fire followed an explosion that wrecked the top storey of McBride Brothers' building, at 35 Church street, occupied by the American Hat Frame Manufacturing Co.

Coming down Church street shortly before five o'clock Sergt. Tripp of No. 1 Police Station heard a loud report. Looking up, he saw two terrorized women climb out of a window on to a ledge some seventy feet above the sidewalk. Beseeching them not to jump, Tripp rushed to a telephone and caused a general fire alarm to be given. At the same time two gallant young fellows, John Bell, jr., of Clemes Bros., and Ambrose Kirby, bookkeeper for the F. T. James Co., rushed into the burning building, grabbed the two women who were clinging to the fourth-storey ledge and carried them through the flames to safety.

Thirty other girls employed in the factory were compelled to flee for their lives, hatless and coatless.

AUTHOR'S WIFE MODEST.

She Wants $2,000 For Titanic Wreck —Mrs. Harris Asks $1,000,000.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—A flood of petitions for damages through the loss of the steamer Titanic filed yesterday included one from Mrs. Irene Wallach Harris, who claims $1,000,000 for the loss of her husband, Henry B. Harris, the theatrical manager. This is the heaviest of the 279 claims so far filed. Mrs. Mary Futrelle, of Pelham, Mass., asks $2,000 for the loss of her husband, Jacques Futrelle, author. The claim of Mrs. Lily B. Millet, widow of Francis D. Millet, the artist, a Titanic victim, is $100,000.

U. S. Judge Hand yesterday extended the time for filing petitions on claims to February 11. The claims amount to more than $10,000,000, but the White Star Line contends that its liability is limited under the United States statutes to less than $100,000, the value of recovered records and passage money.

TO PREVENT RE-MARRIAGE.

Senator Cloran Would Ban Offending Party In Divorce.

OTTAWA, Jan. 16.—Senator Cloran introduced a bill in the Senate yesterday, which provides that when divorce has been granted, the offending party shall not have the right of marriage again. It is entitled "An Act Respecting the Evil of Divorce."

The discussion which will hinge around this bill is expected to prove unusually interesting, as divorce applications to Parliament are increasing at a disturbing rate, and this year's list is the largest in the country's history.

Chippewa To Be a Lake Port.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Jan. 16.—At its annual meeting the Board of Trade put its official stamp of approval on the plan to make Chippewa a lake port, by making it the head of navigation on the proposed new Welland Canal. The board condemned the local street car service and protested against the high toll charges of the Bell Telephone Co.

MEDALS FOR CANADIANS.

Carnegie Trust Recognizes Heroine and Dead Hero.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 16.—At the annual meeting yesterday of the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission twenty-five awards for bravery were made. Of the two silver medals given for conspicuous heroism Canada got both. One went to Doris E. Lewis, a school girl, aged fourteen. The $2,000 for educational purposes given Miss Lewis was the largest money award made. Miss Lewis saved Benjamin W. Draper, aged seven, from drowning through a hole in the ice, at Cowansville, Quebec, Nov. 25, 1911.

A silver medal was given to the father of Frank Beaumont, aged 36, farmer and boatman, who died trying to save John G. C. Beaumont, aged nine, of Toronto, from drowning in Muskoka Lake at Beaumaris, Ont., July 27, 1912.

FAVOR FIVE-YEAR CENSUS.

Commission Recommends Changes In Statistics Bureau.

OTTAWA, Jan. 16.—That the census, in so far as it relates to population and prosperity, should be taken every five years, is the principal recommendation in the report of an inter-departmental commission on statistics tabled by Hon. Geo. E. Foster yesterday. There are numerous other recommendations calculated to facilitate and co-ordinate the preparation of statistical information respecting Canada, federally and provincially, including an annual census of production; and enlargement of the Canada year book.

NO REDISTRIBUTION.

Senator Lougheed Says There Is No Present Likelihood of One.

OTTAWA, Jan. 16.—The Senators came back yesterday after their Christmas holidays.

Senator Beique asked: "Is it the intention of the Government to present a redistribution bill during the present session of Parliament?"

Hon. Mr. Lougheed replied for the Government as follows: "From present intentions, no."

Japan Seeks South American Trade.

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao, Jan. 16.—Japan is making preparations to improve her commercial relations with the southern and Central American republics in view of the approaching completion of the Panama Canal.

Count Ryoji Noda, secretary interpreter of the Japanese legation in Brazil, arrived here yesterday on a visit on behalf of the Japanese Government.

Icebreaking Ended Last Night.

OTTAWA, Jan. 16.—The icebreaking season at Port Arthur and Fort William, which was extended to permit of vessels loading grain and thus preventing a blockade, ended last night.

Fifty vessels will have been loaded by the end of the week and about nine million bushels of grain will be taken care of, ready to move out the first thing in the spring.

Fatal Railway Collision.

GLENCOE, Jan. 16.—One man was killed and four others badly injured, two of them probably fatally, when a rear-end collision occurred about ten o'clock last night at the "Y" near the coal chute here.

The dead man is Walter Challis, Wabash brakeman, of Windsor, who was in the caboose of a Grand Trunk stock train standing in the yard.

Nine of Crew Drowned.

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, Eng., Jan. 16.—Nine of the crew of the Russian bark California were drowned yesterday when that vessel was blown on to the coast of Northumberland and totally wrecked during a gale. Capt. Eskbom and seven men were saved. The California had just left the Tyne with a full cargo. She was a vessel of 2,461 tons register.

ALLIES STILL FIRM.

Unless Turkey Yields They Will Renew the War.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The Balkan kingdoms have not weakened in their determination to reopen the war unless Turkey accept their terms quickly, but, in deference to the powers, they may withhold the execution of their resolve a few days longer than seemed likely on Tuesday.

They wish the world to know that their policy is unchanged. As allies they inaugurated the doctrine of "The Balkans for the Balkan peoples," at a time when it appeared almost presumptuous folly to the great nations of Europe, and they declare now that they propose to maintain the height which their united armies won to be considered a great independent nation, and manage their own diplomacy according to their own views of what their national interests demand.

They assert that their diplomatic course is a straightforward and frank one, and, while willing to concede a brief period of delay for Turkey's answer, it is not with a view of resuming negotiations on any modified basis.

The Greek, Servian and Montenegrin delegations have notified Dr. Daneff that Bulgaria will have their full support in whatever course it decides to follow, but they will leave to Bulgaria, which is most directly interested in the issue, full liberty to make the final decision.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

A. Lefebvre, a cage tender, was instantly killed by falling 120 feet at the Fourth of July shaft at Nipissing Mine, Cobalt, yesterday.

Falling on a chair while putting up curtains, Mrs. Helen O'Neill, the young wife of John O'Neill of Brantford, received injuries yesterday which proved fatal.

There is a rumor in Guelph that efforts are being made to unseat three of the aldermen of the city. It is understood that lawyers have been engaged by some of the defeated candidates.

No further efforts will be made to pull the Uranium off the rocks at Chebucto Head, Halifax. She will be allowed to wait the first easterly wind when it is expected the swell will dislodge her.

The cable from London stating that representatives of Australia, Canada and New Zealand would meet in Vancouver next May to discuss problems of Imperial defence is news to the Dominion Government.

Dean Ellis Is Honored.

KINGSTON, Jan. 16.—Dean Ellis, of the faculty of education, Queen's, was elected president of the Kingston Canadian Club to succeed Lt.-Col. A. B. Cunningham.

Six Months For Theft.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Jan. 16.—After confessing to the theft of $18 from William Bell, George Walker was sentenced to six months' imprisonment.

A VERY ANCIENT TUNE.

It Is Also Probably the Most Popular One In the World.

Perhaps the most firmly established popular song in the world is the air familiar to Americans as "We Won't Go Home Till Morning." The origin of the tune is obscure, but Louis Elson believes that the music was composed as a love song in the tenth century or earlier by one of the troubadours, the wandering minstrels of southern France. Chateaubriand, the French writer, heard it sung by the Arabs, and he suggested that it might have been carried to the orient by the French crusaders.

It was certainly sung by the French soldiers during the war in which the first Duke of Marlborough won his fame. It was the lullaby of the baby son of Marie Antoinette. It became one of the most popular songs of the French revolution. Napoleon whistled and sang it throughout his life. Beethoven used it as one of the themes of his "Battle Symphony."

It has been for more than a century one of the most popular street songs in Europe. And there is probably not a ten-year-old boy or girl in America who does not know the tune.

The French words, beginning "Malbrook s'en va-t-en guerre," were invented by some forgotten French soldier during the war of the Spanish succession. They describe the supposed death and funeral of the Duke of Marlborough, which death, in the words of Father Prout, "did not then take place, by some mistake," since "the subject of the pathetic elegy was at the time of its composition, both alive and kicking all before him."

The song had nearly died out in France when Marie Antoinette caught it up from the peasant nurse she had employed for her baby; thereupon it spread rapidly, as songs do in France. Beaumarchais introduced it into "The Marriage of Figaro," and it was used by the red republicans for incendiary purposes of their own.

Several sets of words have been sung to the tune in the course of its history, and it has itself undergone some modifications. But its identity is clear through all the changes. Probably it is familiar to a greater number of people at the present time than any other tune in the world.—Youth's Companion.

As Milly was churning, a dog overturning
Her butter pats, close to her sped.
Did impotent anger give place to her languor
And did she act foolish? Instead
No word did she utter, but snatched up the butter,
And, aiming as poor Rover fled,
With charming affection and perfect direction,
She gave him a pat on the head.

Agnes—And did he say I looked intellectual? Gladys—Oh, no, indeed! I assure you he said nothing disparaging.—Life.

Bill—Why are you so certain that Jones is a truthful man?

Will—He had a black eye one day, and when I asked him how he got it he told me that a man hit him.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

BAPTISTS HELD THIRTY-NINTH ANNUAL MEETING

The thirty-ninth annual meeting of the Baptist Church was held last night and was a decided success. Progress and prosperity marked the year 1912 and the members are to be congratulated upon their splendid showing. The membership department showed a gain of 15. Receipts from all sources reached the splendid total of $5,080.90; of this amount $300 was for missions, $1,996.31 for the mortgage, $445 for the Sunday School, $71 for the Young People's Society, $40 for the Ladies' Mission Circle, $25 Relief Fund, $25 for the Timpany Mission Band, $72 for the Yokefellows Bible Class. Special mention was made of the fine work done by Mr. Albert Blackburn as Treasurer of the church building fund, which has had another splendid year. The annual reports from each department of the church and its societies were read and approved, and reflected a year of prosperity materially, as well as earnest spiritual efforts. The church budget for 1913 was presented by Mr. P. C. McLaurin, and included an increase in the salary of the pastor, Rev. C. G. Smith, B.D., of $100. The pastor thanked the church for this expression of their appreciation and presented a resume of the past year's work from the spiritual viewpoint.

The following officers were elected for the year 1913.

Deacons—James Riggs, Stephen Lounsberry, George I. Sturges.

Clerk of the Church, and Treasurer of the Building Fund—Albert Blackburn.

Financial Secretary—Wm. Nurse.

Treasurer—Chas. A. Hart.

Treasurer of Church Mission Funds—James A. Peck.

Choir Leader—W. B. Riggs.

Organist—Miss Riggs.

Associate Organist—Miss Wanda Riggs.

Music Committee—W. B. Riggs, Mrs. MacLaurin, Miss Riggs, Mr. Kelly.

Supt. of Sunday School—Mr. P. C. MacLaurin, B.A.

Secretary of Church-offering Envelopes—M. H. Mowry.

Auditors of church books—P. C. MacLaurin, M. H. Mowry.

Chairman Finance Committee—P. C. MacLaurin.

Missionary Committee—Rev. Robert Wallace, Mr. J. L. Hess, Mr. P. C. MacLaurin.

Flower Committee—Miss Peck.

JUST 50 YEARS AGO

Belleville, Jan. 1st, 1863

My Dear Sir,—

My sincere wishes for a Happy New Year to you. Its commencement has dawned very favorably on our efforts to secure public recognition and cooperation in the Volunteer cause here, and I feel every confidence that in another week's time I will be able to report the Battalion complete. The Officers of the Companies hope to be gazetted at once. I should like to be advised of the approval of the name of the Battalion at your earliest convenience, for as yet I am not able to designate it definitely.

Whilst feeling honored by the confidence reposed in me, in appointing me to the command of the Battalion, I cannot but observe here that I shall hope not to be held personally responsible for all the arms and accoutrements, there being no Armoury of any kind in the town, and I am a little at a loss to know what we are to do without a Drill Hall, the only one here being occupied and used at present by the "Rifles," and equipped as their Armoury also.

I send herewith the lists in duplicate, the rolls of the Companies. Will you please, after retaining either the original or the copy, send me the other with answers to my enquiries and full instructions as to procedure?

Very truly yours,
ARCHIBALD PONTON,
Lt.-Col. Commanding

To the Adjutant General.

The XV. Regiment was officially gazetted January 16, 1863.

Premier Roblin's Blunt Assertions

WINNIPEG, Jan. 15—In his speech in the Legislature yesterday on the MacDonald bye-election, Premier Roblin made a reference to Rev. Charles W. Gordon (Ralph Connor), declaring that the parson who descended from the pulpit to mix in party politics deserved all he got.

Speaking of the resolution condemning the MacDonald election methods passed by the Presbyterian Synod at Brandon, Premier Roblin declared it had been "introduced by the machinations of a designing political parson who condoned and approved of this (Liberal) debauchery."

"I repeat," he added, "that this resolution was engineered by Rev. Mr. Gordon to besmirch and injure the Government of this province. I charge him to-day with being a man who supports the corruption and the immorality and the degenerate conditions of which I have submitted ample and sufficient proof to convince any reasonable man."

The Premier also termed R. L. Richardson the defeated MacDonald candidate, the "essence of irresponsible political excrescence."

Marconi Company Wins Its French Patent Claims

PARIS, Jan. 15.—Judgment has been delivered in the High Courts of Justice of France in the action for infringement brought by Marconi's Wireless Telegraph Company against La Societe Francaise Radio-electrique, La Compagnie Generale Radio-telegraphique, and La Societe des Transports Maritimes a Vapeur.

The Court declared the validity of all the claims of the Marconi Patent. All the defendants were declared to be infringers, and an investigation of their accounts was ordered, to arrive at the amount to be paid as damages to the Marconi Company.

The Court further ordered the confiscation of all infringing apparatus supplied by the defendant companies and a perpetual injunction, the defendants to pay the costs.

40,000 More Join Strike

NEW YORK, Jan. 15—Fifty thousand flaming red posters, distributed in some 600 girls' dress and shirt waist factories today, turned nearly 40,000 more workers into the ranks of the strikers in the garment making trades, now numbering nearly 200,000. The posters were the official call for a strike.

All of these employes are girls, some of them under fourteen years of age, and their organizations have appointed committees to guard the idle workers against agents of the white slave trade.

The first demand of the dress and waists makers is "no locked doors." They declare that the lesson taught by the Asch building in which 147 girls lost their lives has not been heeded and that they are forced to work in unsafe and unsanitary shops.

The widower, being a man of experience, is apt to dodge the boarding house that advertises all the comforts of a home.

Interesting Words

A prominent New York food expert recently said:

Statistics show that of 20 million school children in this country, 15 millions are more or less defective in eyes, teeth, glands, bony structure or otherwise.

This is largely due to their being fed upon substances in which the twelve minerals in the human body, and necessary to renew that body, are deficient in the food. Chief among these are twelve minerals are Phosphorous, Iron, Magnesium, Calcium and Fluorine.

Common flour, rice, corn meal and some breakfast cereals have been robbed of 75 per cent. of their mineral elements, largely by being prepared to look "white and nice."

Grape-Nuts

FOOD

Made of whole wheat and barley, contains all the valuable mineral elements necessary to the building of sound bodies and keen brains. This food is particularly rich in organic Phosphates, the essential mineral element necessary to brain building and brain development.

A regular morning dish of Grape-Nuts and cream is the daily, healthy habit of thousands of families, who for years have found by actual test that this food has properly won the title of "King of Breakfast Foods."

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family or any male over 18 years old may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Land Agency or Sub-Agent for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within 9 miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him, by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

Man Who Worked Two Days a Week

At Alloa, Scotland, John Gilchrist, a laborer, pleaded guilty to failing to provide his four children with sufficient food and clothing. He only worked about two days per week, earning enough to keep himself in drink, while his wife had to wash barrels in a brewery to support the children. He was sent to jail for thirty days and must work when liberated.

Golf Balls for Fireworks

A fire broke out at midnight in the Kilmacolm, Scotland, Golf Club House. A crowd of spectators gathered to view the spectacle, which was rendered more brilliant by the incessant explosion of rubber core balls, which rose into the air in globes of flame of a variety of colors.

The Wearing of the Kilt

At a meeting held in Edinburgh steps were taken for the formation in Edinburgh of a branch of the Kilt Society, a body for the encouragement and the perpetuation of the use of Highland dress. Speakers, in support of the proposal, said there was evidence of a widespread movement in the direction of making the Scottish costume more generally popular.

Starved His Beagles

Frederick Henderson, Master of the Berwick Foot Beagles, was fined $123 with the alternative of three months imprisonment, at Berwick, for starving nine beagles.

An inspector found two dead and the skin of another which had apparently been devoured by six others who were in the last stages of emaciation, showing that the dogs had not been fed for weeks.

Bank Clerk's Downfall

Henry Ribton, a clerk in the Bank of Ireland branch, Sligo, pleaded guilty at the Connaught Assizes to the forgery of three promissory notes and was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment. His lawyer said prisoner was well connected, and his relatives intended sending him to Canada to retrieve his fortunes. His downfall was due to betting. In passing sentence his lordship said the bank had lost over $3,000 through the prisoner, and all that money had been pocketed by the betting fraternity.

IN THE WRONG STATE

Story of Moonshiners and Love in the Kentucky-Tennessee Mountains.

By HAROLD CARTER.

John Vincent, federal revenue officer acting in Kentucky, pulled in his mare and coolly surveyed the heights in front of him. On every side arose precipitous mountains, clothed with their perennial garb of spruce and pine. The trail, which wound sluggishly through the defile, disappeared into the heart of the forest, to reappear, a sinuous, winding ribbon, along the flank of the crest. There was no sign of human habitation in that rugged and abandoned land.

Yet somewhere on Bear mountain was the cabin of the Norman men "moonshiners" and outlaws. And for the arrest of Jim Norman, the youngest, Vincent held a warrant. He had set forth to bring him into Kempville. Others had held warrants too; but Vincent, newly appointed to his post was more reckless than they, and he had dared to ride alone into the heart of the Norman stronghold.

He reined in suddenly, for his quick eyes had caught a glimmering flash from the peak in front of him. It might have been the sun glancing on some hidden pool. But it looked more like light reflected from a rifle barrel.

After a moment's hesitation he urged his mare into a canter and plunged into the undergrowth. For the next half mile he was safe, until he emerged upon the mountain slopes. And when at last he came into the sunlight again he tethered his beast to a sapling and, drawing his revolver began to ascend the peak cautiously keeping out of the range of the hidden marksman of whose existence he was tolerably sure.

He crouched beside the trail, plunged into the scrub pine, emerging, lost again, until at length he saw the bare acclivity of Bear mountain in front of him. And near the summit was a small log cabin, set in the midst of a tiny patch of garden ground. This was the place of which he was in search.

His weapon in his hand, Vincent leaped forward, scaled the boulders on the summit, and appeared before the door. Upon the threshold, a rifle in his hands, stood a young man. His back was turned and he was attempting to eject a stuck cartridge.

"I Reckon It's Jim You're After."

"Hands up!" yelled Vincent.

The man started, stared at him for an instant, and then, with a sudden dash, leaped across the cabin, gained the rear entrance, and was away and running like a deer. Vincent followed him. He was certain that this was Jim Norman, whose appearance had been particularly impressed upon him by his superior officer when he started on his mission.

"Looks like his sister," he said. "You've seen that Norman girl down at the store? Her image! Don't go arresting the girl instead of him," he laughed.

Jim Norman had only recently returned from parts unknown, to resume his "moonshining" operations, which had been broken up by the authorities two years before. The rest of the gang was hiding somewhere across the Tennessee boundary; Jim alone had ventured back to the cabin on Bear mountain.

His revolver in his hand, the young officer followed the fugitive. But, though in the pink of condition, he could not lessen the distance between himself and the young mountaineer. His hope, however, was in his superior staying powers.

But just where the crest dipped down into the valley below the fugitive flung himself panting upon the ground, and, as Vincent ran forward, held up a hand and called:

"Stop! You can't come nearer!"

Vincent did stop, from sheer surprise. For this voice was a distinct and clear woman's voice and, as he looked he saw a strand of long, silken dark hair floating freely from below the old slouch hat.

"Miss Lily!" he gasped.

The girl sat up and laughed. "Yes, I'm Miss Lily," she said. "I reckon it's Jim you're after."

"Where is Jim?" he demanded savagely, standing over her. He had often seen her in Kempville, this dark haired and blue-eyed mountain girl of that perfection of type which flourishes, as in its native soil in the Kentucky hills. The sight of her, flushed with her race, her eyes alight with triumph, set his heart furiously beating, and, mingled with this new emotion, was one of anger and shame at having been outwitted.

"Jim?" she drawled. "Oh, Jim was in the woodshed when you came up I reckon you won't find him now, though. Jim's a swift runner. I reckon Jim's swifter than me, and you couldn't catch me," she mocked.

"Then—then—" he stammered.

"Now, Mr. Vincent," said the girl soothingly, "if it hadn't been for me you'd never have reached Bear mountain. Jim had a bead on you all along the trail. You've got me to thank for saving your life by this here change of parts."

"Well, I've got you, anyway," said Vincent sullenly.

"I reckon not," she drawled.

"Why not?"

"Because," she answered, "this is Tennessee, and I reckon your territory's Kentucky."

Vincent was dumbfounded. He had forgotten the warning, carefully conveyed, that the Norman cabin was designedly perched upon the border line, and that therefore he must take his captive within the cabin itself.

"You stop right where you are," said Lily. "If you lay a finger on me I'll tell the governor of Tennessee."

A light of amusement flickered in Vincent's eyes. Deliberately he stretched out his hand, found the cool, slender fingers of the girl, and held them.

"I guess the law doesn't say anything against amicable visiting between the states, does it?" he asked.

"Well," she admitted, "if you come that way, I—I guess it doesn't."

Vincent stepped forward and planted both feet firmly upon Tennessee soil.

"Nor about—this?" he asked.

And, placing his arm round her, he drew her to him and kissed her upon the lips.

"Lily," he said, "this isn't love at first sight, for I've loved you since I first saw you in Kempville. But it comes mighty near, and if I can't get Jim—why, I reckon I'm going to get you some day."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

CURED OF THIS HORRIBLE DISEASE

Edmonton Girl saved By "Fruit-a-tives"

EDMONTON, ALTA., Nov. 20th 1911.

"I had been a sufferer from babyhood with that terrible complaint, Constipation.

I have been treated by physicians and have taken every medicine that I heard of, but without the slightest benefit. I concluded that there was no cure for this horrible disease.

Finally, I read of "Fruit-a-tives" and decided to try them, and the effect was marvellous.

The first box gave me great relief, and after I used a few boxes, I found that I was entirely well.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine that ever did me any good for Chronic Constipation and I want to say to all who suffer as I did—Try "Fruit-a-tives"—why suffer any longer when there is a perfect cure in this great fruit medicine"

"Dead Man" as a Witness

When Sarah Smith was sent to gaol for a month in Belfast, charged with obtaining money by false pretences she admitted that owing to being in want she went to shops where a man named Farr was known and stated that he was dead and she wantd money to bury him. Farr stated, amid laughter, that he was not a relative

THE TIGER AND THE BABY

By ARNOLD BENNETT

IV.

Two days later, at about 10 o'clock in the morning, Samuel Peel, J. P., entered the market place, Bursley. It was his day for the bench and he had moreover a lot of complicated election business. On a dozen hoardings blazed the red letters of his posters, inviting the faithful to vote for Peel, whose family had been identified with the district for a century and a half. He was pleased with those posters, and with the progress of canvassing. He had imposed himself upon the town by regular habits, strict morals, a reasonable philanthropy, and a successful career. And citizens saluted him with respect and he responded with benignity.

And as nearly opposite that celebrated hotel, the Tiger, he was about to cross over to the eastern porch of the town hall, he saw a golden haired man approaching him with a perambulator. And the sight made him pause, involuntarily. It was a strange sight. Then he recognied his nephew-in-law. And he blanched, partly from excessive astonishment, but partly from fear.

"How do, uncle?" said George nonchalantly, as though he had parted from him on the previous evening. "Just hang on to this pram, a sec., will you?" And pushing the perambulator toward Samuel Peel, J. P. George swiftly disappeared into the Tiger.

Then the occupant of the perambulator began to weep.

He guessed that the babe was Mary's babe, although he was quite incapable of recogniing it. And he couldn't imagine what George was doing with it(and the perambulator) in Bursley, nor why he had vanished so swiftly into the Tiger, nor why he had not come out again. Samuel Peel had no facility in baby talk, so to tranquillize Georgie, he attempted soothing strokes or pats on such portions of Georgie's skin as were exposed. Whereupon George shrieked.

Then Jos. Curtenty, very ancient but still a wag, passed by and said:

"Hello, Mr. Peel. Truth will out. And yet who'd suspected you o' being secretly married!"

Samuel Peel could not take offense, because Jos Curtenty, besides being old and an alderman and an ex-mayor was an important member of his election committee.

Then Mr. Duncalf, the town clerk, went by, and saw the singular spectacle of the public man and the perambulator. Mr. Duncalf, too, was a bachelor.

"So you've come down to see 'em," said Mr. Duncalf gruffly, pretending that the baby was not there.

"See whom?"

"Well, your niece and her husband, of course."

"Where are they?" asked Mr. Peel, without having sufficiently considered the consequences of his question.

"Aren't they in the Tiger?" said Mr. Duncalf. "They put up there yesterday afternoon anyhow. But naturally you know that."

Mr. Peel did not gasp. It is at least two centuries since men gasped from astonishment. Nevertheless, Mr. Duncalf with those careless words had simply knocked the breath out of him. Never, never would he have guessed, even in the wildest surmise, that Mary and her husband and child would sleep at the Tiger! The though unmanned him. What! A baby at the Tiger.

Let it not be imagined for a moment that the Tiger is not an utterly respectable hotel. It is. No faintest slur had ever been cast upon its license. Still, it had a bar and a barmaid, and indubitably people drank at the bar. The thought that his great nephew and his niece had actually slept there horrified him.

And further and worse, what would people say about Samuel Peel's relatives having to stop at the Tiger while Samuel Peel's large house up at Hillport was practically empty? The situation was appalling.

He glanced about, but did not look high enough to see that George was watching him from a second floor window of the Tiger, and he could not hear Mary imploring George: "Do for goodness sake, go back to him." Ladies passed along the pavement, stifling their curiosity. At the back of the town hall there began to collect the usual crowd of idlers.

Then Georgie, bored with weeping, dropped off into slumber. Samuel Peel saw that he could not, with dignity lift the perambulator up the steps into the porch of the Tiger, and so he began to wheel it cautiously down the side entrance into the Tiger yard. And in the yard he met George just emerging from the side door.

"So sorry to have troubled you, uncle. But the wife's unwell and I had forgoten something. Asleep, is he?"

"But—but," asked Samuel, "what are you doing here?"

"We're stopping here," said George. "Ive come down to look out for some work—modelling or anything I can get hold of. I shall begin a round of the manufacturers this afternoon. We shall stay here until I can find furnished rooms or a cheap house. It's all up with sculpture now you know."

"Why I thought you were doing excellently. That medal—"

"Yes, in reputation. But it was just now that I wanted money for a big job, and—and—well, I couldn't have it. So there you are. Mind you, I am not blaming you, uncle. You are no doubt hard up like other people."

"But—but," Samuel began, stammering again, "why didn't you come straight to me—instead of here?"

George put on a confidential look.

"The fact is," said he. "Mary wouldn't. She's vexed. You now how women are. They never understand things—especially money."

"Vexed with me?"

"Yes."

"I fancy it must be something you said in your letter concerning champagne."

"It was only what I read about you in a paper."

"I suppose so. But she thinks you meant it to insult her. She thinks you must have known perfectly well that we simply asked the reporter to put champagne in because it looks well—seems very flourishing, you know."

"I must see Mary," said Samuel. "Of course the idea of you staying on here is perfectly ridiculous. What do you suppose people will say?"

"I'd like you to see her," said George. "I wish you would. You may be able to do what I can't. You will find her in Room 14. She's all dressed, but I warn you she's in a fine state."

"You'd better come too," said Samuel.

Georgie lifted Georgie out of the perambulator.

"Here," said George. "Suppose you carry him to her."

Samuel hesitated, and yielded. And the strange procession started upstairs.

In two hours a cab was taking all the Peels to Hillport.

In two days George and his family were returning to London, sure of the continuance of £500 a year and with a gift of £200 supplementary cash.

But it was long before Bursley ceased to talk of George Peel and his family putting up at the Tiger. And it was still longer before the barmaid ceased to describe to her favorite customers the incredible spectacle of Samuel Peel, J. P., stumbling up the stairs of the Tiger with an infant in his arms.—Copyright.

Los Angeles Man Counterpart Of Paris Prefect

PARIS, Jan. 16.—H. E. Stockwell of Los Angeles, was surprised on leaving the train in Paris a few weeks ago to find himself respectfully saluted by the railroad employees and many of his fellow passengers.

He had always regarded the French as a very polite people but he found that the policemen were the most courteous of them all. Whenever he passed one of these guardians of the peace the man drew himself up and delivered an impressive military salute.

This gratifying respect continued for a whole month, when having occasion to ask the way, Mr. Stockwell applied himself to a policeman. To his astonishment he was addressed as "Monsieur le Prefet." A few words of explanation solved the mystery; Mr. Stockwell is the living counterpart if that Parisia nidol, M. Lepine, Prefect of Police.

Concentration of Money And Credit

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—That the present concentration of money and credit is a "potential menace to the country," was asserted before the House Money Trust Committee to-day by George M. Reynolds, President of the Continental and Commercial National Bank of Chicago.

Mr. Reynolds said he knew of the "trend toward concentration of money and credits," and that he thought is a dangerous thing.

"I am opposed to the concentration of any sort of power," Mr. Reynolds added. "I believe that concentration to the point it has already gone is a menace. In saying that I do not wish to sit in judgment on the men who hold that power."

Mr. Reynolds said he was opposed to the principle of interlocking diretors is competing concerns would have a good effect.

In conclusion Mr. Reynolds said he believed that "competition was not dead," but he believed banking would be improved by a return to competitive conditions.

B. C. Miners Want Six-Hour Day

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 16.—Addressing the British Columbia Federation of Labor at its annual session, Premier McBride told the delegates that the recently created provincial Labor Commission was not designed for the settlement of strikes, but for for the improvement of labor conditions generally throughout the province.

Twenty-nine resolutions respecting mining were passed, the Convention voting in favor of a higher standard of technical knowledge in inspectors, and that they be provincial men; a six-hour day; the abolition of piecework; a minimum daily wage of $4; a minimum age of 18; and the prohibition of intoxicants in or around the mines.

The Credit of Alberta is Good

EDMONTON, Alta., Jan. 16.—The Hon. A. L. Sifton, Premier of Alberta, reached here last night on his return from England.

"Alberta stands high in favor with the people of the Old Land," said the Premier, and he added:—

"Everywhere I went I found Alberta favorably spoken of, and her credit is as good as that of any other province.

"I am sure there will be no difficulty about the financing of proper development works in Alberta cities or in the province at large.

"The indications are that immigration from Great Britain to Alberta will be much greater this year than in the past.

The government will push railway and telephone extension, and introduce an elevater policy. The House may meet earlier than February 13, as originally arranged."

GERMANY'S NAVAL AIRSHIP STATION FOR HELIGOLAND

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Much interest has been excited here by an announcement in the Berlin newspapers that Germany is about to erect at Heligoland a wonderful station for naval airships.

There is a deep hollow on the island of Helligoland called Sapskuhle, in which it is proposed to build a huge hangar, which, under normal conditions, will rest on the bottom of the hollow, but can be raised to the level of the surrounding land for the entrance and exit of airships. It will be able also to revolve, so that it may be used in any wind.

When the hangar is depressed the roof will bridge the hangar completely, so as to make it scarcely perceptible from above, with a view to protecting it from bomb-dropping by hostile aeroplanes.

Heligoland is 100 miles nearer Great Britain than the German mainland, from which point it is known that at least one Zeppelin made a night flight over South-east England.

LOCAL RETAIL MERCHANTS MEET IN THE CITY HALL

A meeting of Retail Merchants was held in the Council Chamber in the city hall last evening. The Dominion Secretary of the Retail Merchants Association was present and gave an address, also Mr. N. C. Cameron of Peterborough, who is 2nd vice president of the Ontario Board. Many topics of vital importance to retailers were discussed, both by speakers of the evening and the business men present. Among the subjects discussed were "reduction of our business assessment from 30% to 10% is one of the most important, as the retail merchants are paying an unfair share of the city taxes." The following subjects were also taken up:

The Workmen's Compensation Act now proposed to be introduced at the coming session of the legislature. The Retail Merchants want to be left out of it.

To enlist stronger co-operation between the manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers.

To have all weights and measures tested at the government's expense.

Credit reporting and recording of all bad pays.

Free mail delivery for the city.

The drafting of a new Peddlers' Act to include order takers.

To abolish the giving of coupons, receipts, etc., that are illegal.

To place a tax on all business done by outside retail catalogue houses.

To co-operate in refusing to give donations; to buy tickets, etc., during business hours.

The proposed parcels post.

The Bulk Sales Act as proposed to be introduced at the next session of the legislature and why it should be opposed.

The exposure of the co-operative societies and their intention of opening a large store in this city.

Quite a number of merchants were in attendance and a considerable amount of interest in the discussion of the various topics was shown.

At the conclusion of the meeting it was decided to form an association with the following officers:

President—D. V. Sinclair.
1st Vice-Pres.—H. B. Fairfield.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Fred B. Smith.
Secretary—C. B. Scantlebury.

Probing Alleged Picture Trust

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The taking of testimony in the government's suit against the "Moving Picture Trust" for alleged violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law, was continued today before Mr. Hacker. Mr. Henry N. Marvin, vice-president of the Biograph Company, one of the defendant concerns which are alleged to have formed a combination to control the motion picture industry, testified that in 1908 the several factions of the industry had been at war with each other. This led to the organization of the Motion Picture Patents Company, after a series of conferences between representatives of the large film manufacturers, including the Edison, Biograph, Vitograph, Kalem and Essanay companies.

The purpose of organizing, he testified, was not to stop competition, but to harmonize legal troubles that arose as the result of patent disputes. Two agreements were entered into between the patents company and its constituent concerns, he said, one whereby each company assigned its patents to the patents company; the other by which the patents company licensed to the other companies the patents which it controlled.

Found Wife's Body In a Trunk

AMESBURY, Mass., Jan. 16.—When Alphonse Victorine went back to his home on Pond street last night, after notifying the police that his wife had been missing since Tuesday morning, he discovered her body in a trunk in her bedroom.

Chief of Police Edward Rowell and Medical Examiner D. D. Murphy visited the house, and, after examining the body, said that there were no marks of violence. The body had been crowded into the trunk and the cover shut down. The woman was forty-seven years old. Her husband is a factory worker.

CHARGES HOTELS IN HARLEM PAY FOR POLICE PROTECTION

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Although the murder of Herman Rosenthal occurred just six months ago today, the investigation of police methods, which that crime brought about, is still far from complete, according to the District-Attorney's office. Revelations of considerable interest have continued almost daily since the conviction of Police Lieutenant Becker of the Rosenthal murder.

Today the District-Attorney is working upon evidence that 28 hotels in the Harlem section have been paying $100 a month for protection against police molestation, and that hundreds of apartments of a similar character, pay from $25 to $75 a month each.

The District-Attorney said that this evidence is already in such shape that it will be presented immediately to the grand jury with indictments seemingly assured, he believed.

He declared that the evidence involved two high police officials, attorneys, who acted as alleged collectors of graft, and a number of policemen.

3 O'CLOCK DISPATCHES

TO FIGHT DUEL

Intelligencer Special.

VERSAILLES, Jan. 17. — Premier Raymond Poincar was insulted by ex-Premier Georges Clemenceau at the opening of the national congress for the election of a new president here today. M. Poincare at once appointed Aristide Briand, minister of justice, and L. L. Klotd, minister of finance, to act as his seconds and to arrange a duel.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

GET MAXIMUM PENALTY

(Intelligencer Special.)

CALGARY, Jan. 17.—Morris and Arthur King, brothers, entered pleas of guilty on a charge of selling cocaine, and received the maximum penalty of one year in the penitentiary and a fine of $500 in police court here yesterday.

Sells Whiskey For a Pie, Fined $1,400

CONNEAUT, O., Jan. 16.—It cost Sig. Hahn, a Conneaut druggist, $1,400 to sell about an ounce of whiskey to a woman who had come into his store a few days ago.

The woman, a dry detective, asked for enough whiskey to make a mince pie, and the druggist complied. The detective at once swore out a warrant for his arrest.

Hahn was tried on four counts and pleaded guilty to each, being fined $150 on each count. He was also assessed $800 Dow-Aiken tax by the State.

A Japanese Murder

JUNEAU, Alaska, Jan. 16.—O. Itow was found guilty of first degree murder and E. Fushima was convicted of manslaughter by a jury in the United States District Court yesterday, for killing Frank Dunn, a cannery foreman at Dundas Bay last July.

Fushima and another Japanese held Dunn, while Itow ran a sword through him.

Pams Lead in Third Caucus Vote For Presidency

PARIS, January, 16.—The third ballot taken this afternoon at the joint caucus of the members of the various political parties forming the majorities in the French Senate and the Chamber of Deputies to nominate a candidate for the presidency of the Republic, gave Jules Pams, Minister of Agriculture, 313 votes; Premier Raymond Poincare, 309; Felix Ribot, 2; Theophile Delcasse, Minister of Marine, 2; and Paul Deschanel, President of the Chamber of Deputie, 1.

M. Pams, in this ballot, lacked a majority of those voting by one vote, and the result is taken to indicate how close the contest is apt to be at the Versailles Congress to-morrow when a President of the Republic will be elected.

The action of the joint caucus is not binding.

Peru Director Was Ignorant of Cruelty

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Sir John Lister-Kaye, formerly Groom-in-Waiting to King Edward, was the principal witness yesterday before the House of Commons Committee inquiring into the responsibility of British directors of the Peruvian Amazon Company for the "Putumayo" rubber atrocities.

At times Sir John, who appeared to feel his position keenly, was overcome by emotion. He testified that he knew absolutely nothing about the charges brought against the management in Peru and knew nothing of the rubber industry.

Sir John said he made the usual inquiries, before joining the Board, as to the stability of the concern, but did not ask about the labor conditions.

Kites To Carry Lines Ashore

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The use of kites to carry a line to the shore for the transfer of passengers of steamships stranded, as was the Uranium near Halifax, was advocated yesterday by Thomas A. Edison. The inventor declared that a law should be enacted to compel vessels to carry such kites.

"When a ship is driven on shore, the wind is naturally blowing from sea toward the land," Mr. Edison said. "A line attached to a kite could be played out to a certain distance and then a hawser fastened to it which would be carried to land, and and the transfer of passengers to safety thereby made possible. In the same way a hawser could be carried by kites from a rescue ship to a stranded ship."

RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT

Intelligencer Special.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 17.—William Livingstone of Detroit was re-elected president of the Lake Carriers' Association last night. All other officers were re-elected.

URANIUM AFLOAT

Intelligencer Special.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A despatch from Halifax says the Uranium Line steamer Uranium, which grounded on the rocks near there Sunday, was floated this morning.

TO BE CHIEF OF ARMY

Intelligencer Special.

ATHENS, Jan. 17.—A royal decree issued last night appoints Crown Prince Constantine commander in chief of Greek armies in Macedonia and Epirus.

Story of Koreans "Higher Up"

SEUL, Korea, Jan. 16.—Evidence favorable to some of the 106 Korean prisoners charged with conspiring against the life of Governor-General Count Terauchi, was produced at the resumption of the trial yesterday, when three witnesses called for the purpose of proving alibis were examined.

Police Inspector Vumitomo asserted positively that all the prisoners' stories of torture were fabricated. They were, he said, based on the methods of torture which had been employed under the formerly existing prison system in Korea. He also pointed out that the missionary doctor, who was personally acpuainted with a large number of the prisoners, visited the jail early in 1912 and afterwards wrote to witness thanking him and saying that all the prisoners were looking well.

Counsel for the defence argued that if the prisoners previous statements, made before the police, and in which Christian missionaries were incriminated, were not credited by the court, the other parts of their statements must similarly be discredited.

All "cocoa" is not cocoa. All Lowney's is all cocoa.

Here are some facts you should know if you want to be sure of pure cocoa.

The use of alkali and starch in cocoas is quite common. Some manufacturers even defend these methods. Eminent physicians do not.

Analyses of some cocoas have shown the use of such adulterants as animal fat, cocoa shells, sea biscuit and coarse branny flour.

It is quite possible that you have never tasted pure cocoa. By pure cocoa we mean clean cocoa beans, ground fine and relieved of the excess cocoa butter—with no other ingredients added.

Lowney's is just pure cocoa. It has nothing added to cheapen it. Its full, inimitable flavor is due to the unvarying standards followed in our Montreal factory.

Lowney's is simply delicious because it is all cocoa—made from skillfully blended cocoa beans of the choicest quality.

Sold by grocers. In tins—10c to 50c sizes.

Vessel Ashore Near Oporto

VIGO, Spain, Jan. 16.—The British steamer Veronese, with 139 passengers on board, went ashore today off Leixoes, the outport of Oporto. A high sea is running, and the vessel cannot be reached by boats.

It is hoped that the rescue of the passengers and crew may be effected by means of life lines thrown from the shore.

The Veronese, which is owned in Liverpool by the Lamport and Holt Line, was on the voyage from Glasgow, Scotland, to Brazil, and thence to New York.

Turkish Cruiser Does Daring Deed

ATHENS, Jan. 16.—The Turkish cruiser Medjidieh performed a daring feat during a heavy fog last night. She steamed out of the Dardenelles and passed unperceived through the lines of the Greek destroyers cruising off the Straits. At noon to-day she appeared off the island of Syra, one of the Cyclades, and bombarded the powder magazine and coal depots. These were not damaged, but the electrical power station was wrecked.

The Medijidieh also fired on the Greek auxiliary cruiser Macedonia, which was undergoing repairs in Smyra Harbor. When fifteen shells had been fired, the commander of the Macedonia, after landing his crew for the purpose of maintaining order in the town and to strengthen the guard over the Turkish prisoners, sank the Macedonia in the harbor to prevent her destruction by the warship.

The Medijidich then left in the direction of Smyra. The Greek fleet has been ordered to intercept her. So far as is known the other Turkish warships have not left the Dardanelles.

Attempt To Murder Turkish Commander

CETTINJE, Jan. 16.—An attempt was made to kill Riza Bey, commander of the Turkish garrison of Scutari, by the starving civilians, because the Turks would not surrender, it was learned today from a deserter from the Scutari garrison.

He declared that famine prevails in Scutari, and that riots are a daily occurrence. The fall of the city is believed to be imminent.

RUN-DOWN PEOPLE

Made Strong by Vinol.

Run-down conditions are caused by overwork, worry, too close confinement, a chronic cough or cold which it is difficult to cure.

We want to say to every person in this condition—you need Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, the great strength creator. It will supply iron to the blood in the most easily assimilated form, create healthy appetite, strengthen your digestive organs and make you eat better, sleep better and feel better.

A case has just come to our attention from West Scranton, Pa., Mrs. Chas. Proper says: "For three years I was all run-down, weak and had no appetite and after all that time I am glad to say Vinol has brought back my health and strength which is just what I was told it would do."

We are confident that Vinol is the best body builder and strength creator we have ever sold. Try a bottle on our guarantee to refund your money if it fails to benefit you. Red Cross Drug Store. J. S. McKeown, Belleville, Ont.

Conveyed First Settlers West

ORILLIA, Ont., Jan. 16.—Captain McInnes, for the past fifty years a prominent figure in the steamship business on the Upper Lakes and Lake Couchiching and Simcoe, died here yesterday.

Capt. McInnes, in the days before the Canadian Pacific Railway, was built, had a contract with the Mackenzie Government to take immigrants into Manitoba from Port Arthur by horse and wagon, and conveyed many of the first settlers into the western province.

The deceased leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters.

Women Demand Judge's Recall

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—After several club women and clergymen had spoken in bitter denunciation of Police Judge Charles L. Weller today at a mass meeting, the first petition for the recall of a judge in California was put into circulation and was signed by all the women present.

The recall campaign against Judge Weller was started by members of the Oceanside Women's Club and others because of his action in reducing from $3,000 to $1,000 the bail of Albert Hendricks, charged with assault upon a young girl. The prisoner, after gaining his liberty by depositing this sum, fled the city. Judge Weller attempted to make a plea in his own defence, but was met with a volume of hisses and catcalls that almost drove him from the platform.

Burning Money At The Capital

OTTAWA, Jan. 16.—A thick haze filled the corridors of the eastern block this morning and the atmosphere was redolent of burning money. The odor is peculiar and unmistakeable.

Three or four times a year old and worn-out Dominion notes are collected, checked up, cancelled and then consigned to a specially constructed furnace. One of these functions was conducted this morning with great ceremony, and thousands of collateral went up in smoke, new and crisp Dominion notes taking the place of those destroyed.

Greece-Italian Trouble Arises

ROME, Jan. 16.—A Controversy between Italy and Greece is threatened as the result of the action of the inhabitants of the Italian Island in the Mediterranean Sea who hoisted the Greek flag and appealed to Greece to annex the islands.

Severe punishment is being imposed upon the leaders in the pro-Greek movement, whose conduct is called revolutionary.

Countess Missed Sailing

HAMILTON, Ont., Jan. 16.—The Countess of Aberdeen and Miss Asquith, who were visitors in Hamilton yesterday had an unpleasant experience on their way to Buffalo last night. A freight train was wrecked near Welland, and a flagman rushed back to stop the passenger train. The private car in which the distinguished visitors travelled, had to be sent back by way of Hamilton and then over the M.C.R. to Buffalo. The delay caused the Countess and Miss Asquith to miss their New York connections.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"LITTLE WOMEN."

Not in years has there been such interest over the presentation of a play as followed the announcement that William A. Brady is to present at Griffin's opera house Tuesday evening, Jan. 21, Marian de Forest's stage version of Louisa M. Alcott's immortal story, "Little Women." The box office has been swamped with mail orders, and from many suburban towns have come requests for reservations, as parties are coming into town to see the dear familiar charactetrs from one of the most popular stories ever written, as they will appear on the stage, no longer dreams from a story book, but living breathing realities.

"Little Women" will be produced under the personal direction of Mr. Brady. The play will be costumed and furnished in the quaint fashions of the early '60's, and is a faithful presentation of the original story.

"THE LOST PARADISE."

Watch tomorrow's paper for the story of "The Lost Paradise," and mark your calendar for the 22 and 23, when it will be produced in the Griffin opera house. The Hospital is a worthy cause and as there is already a large sale of tickets, bumper houses may be expected. This play is clever, clean and wholesome, and you can bring your children as well as your mother and sisters to see it. It was written at the time Socialism started in Germany, and a wonderfully clever argument takes place between the owner of the Knowlton Iron Works, and Swarz, a leader of a band of strikers.

WARNING!

Information has reached us that certain dealers, when asked for Zam-Buk, try to sell something else on which they make a larger profit. They do no give this as their reason, but say: "I can sell you so and so at half the price and it is just as good."

Don't be fooled! The "cheap" preparation is not just as good as Zam-Buk—not in the same class! Most of the cheap salves are made from animal fats and oils. Zam-Buk is made from pure herbal essences and juices. There is as little similarity between the two as between a horse and an automobile!

Imitation of Zam-Buk and cheap substitutes may give the dealer a little more profit, but they won't cure your skin disease, or stop the pain of your burn or ease the agony of piles, or cure the rash on your baby. Don't be misled. Get the real Zam-Buk. See the legally protected name on the packet before paying for it.

Killed by Madman.

Romanshorn, in the canton of Thurgau, Switzerland, has been the scene of a terrible tragedy, no fewer than seven men being killed by a madman a soldier and seven others being wounded. The madman, Hermann Schwarz, had been recently discharged from the army owing to mental trouble. Provided with a rifle and a supply of cartridges, Schwarz barricaded himself in his room, and from six o'clock in the evening until past eleven kept up a continuous fire upon passers-by and upon people who attempted to break down the door and deprive him of the rifle. In all four men were killed and eight others were wounded. Bugles were blown to summon the fire brigade, and a large crowd assembled in response to the ringing of bells. Shortly after midnight a number of courageous individuals rushed the house, but found that Schwarz had disappeared. It was believed that he had taken to the forest, and the next morning a large party, comprising firemen, police and citizens, with dogs, started to search for him. After the pursuit had been in progress for some time, a policeman came upon the madman, who immediately fired, mortally wounding his pursuer. Schwarz then disappeared again. The hunt was continued, and after an exciting pursuit, in which more than 100 people were engaged, Schwarz, who was seriously wounded by shots, was at length arrested in the neighborhod of Romanshorn, but not before he had killed another of his pursuers.

Settled.

"At last, Henry, the question of votes for women is to be submitted to the people."

"So I see."

"Henry, you will admit that women are as intelligent as the men."

"Freely I admit that."

"And that as women pay taxes, they ought to have a say as to how their money is to be spent."

"That seems reasonable. But let us discuss the question. I earn the money we have, don't I?"

"Yes."

"But do I have any voice in how that money is to be spent?"

A few minutes later he put on his hat and coat and left the house, regretting that he had given that twist to the argument.—Detroit Free Press.

Quick Action on a Cold

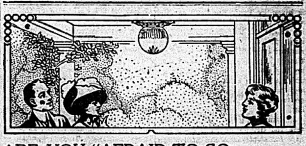
McINTOSH BROS.



ARE YOU "AFRAID TO GO HOME IN THE DARK?"

Then why not have your front porch lighted so you can see what you're doing, and not have to creep into your own house like a burglar.

And speaking of burglars, a porch light makes one of the best protections against the visits of the man with the "jimmy." He does his best work in the dark, and an electric porch light (equipped with Holophane Reflector, of course) will discourage his efforts quicker than any burglar alarm.

If the porch light is the bane of the unwelcome guest, it is just as much a boon to the guest who is welcome. It is a promise of hospitality within and makes the visitor glad he has come And when the porch light is equipped with Holophane Glass, the light is subdued yet of sufficient intensity to make reading in the open air a pleasure.

Whether there is electricity in your house or not, an electric light with a Holophane Reflector should be on your front porch.

HUDSON BAY NAVIGATION AIDS

Preparations are being made by the government to send an expedition to Hudson Bay in the spring to see about installing buoys, building lighthouses and making other arrangements for aids to navigation at Port Nelson and Fort Churchill and along the Hudson Bay Straits. The idea of the government is to have the Hudson Bay route made as safe for navigation as it is possible to make it so that a line of steamers can be established as soon as the road to the bay is finished.

The whole policy of the government is in striking contrast with the sixteen years of procrastination on the part of the Laurier administration. For sixteen years they talked Hudson Bay route and made it a rallying cry in the west for every election. But that was as far as they went. The first contract was not let until just before the last election. When Hon. Frank Cochrane came into power he found that the department was practically without information in regard to the harbors on the Bay and the feasibility of navigation. Now contracts have been let for the whole road from Le Pas to tidewater and work is being rushed as rapidly as possible. By 1914 it is expected the road will be finished to the Bay.

Expeditions were sent by Mr. Cochrane as soon as he assumed office to report on the harbors and to study the aids to navigation which would be necessary. One expedition went overland and the other by water early last spring. Port Nelson was chosen as the terminal and J. T. Hazen, the expert harbor engineer who was sent north to lay out terminals, docks and a harbor is expected to leave Port Nelson for Ottawa this month. If his report is approved arrangements will be made at once to proceed with the work on the harbor, and dredges and other machinery and plant will be sent north.

Captain Anderson, who headed the expedition that went to the Bay last year to investigate the necessary aids for navigation, is preparing his report. As soon as it is ready the government will immediately prepare for the equipment of an expedition this spring to see about building lighthouses, laying out buoys, etc. It is the intention of Hon. Frank Cochrane and Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, to rush the work so that when the road reaches the Bay everything will be ready for steamers.

SCARCITY OF FARM LABOR

That Canada's dairying industry should be unable under present conditions to suply enough butter to meet the needs of the country, let alone any for export, as was pointed out by Prof. J. A. Ruddick, Dominion dairy commissioner at Kingston this week, is a circumstance calling for serious attention on the part of the government.

The primary cause for the great decrease in the production of butter is given by Prof. Ruddick as the scarcity of farm labor. If this scarcity affects the dairying industry, it must also affect the whole of the agricultural activities in the country. Thus it is plain that the basic industry is placed under a severe handicap which may have a lot to do with those high prices of necessities of life which go to make up the high cost of living.

In Canada at the present time, says the Ottawa Journal, opportunities for employment are many, and the competition to secure efficient labor is such that the farmer suffers at the hands of the contractor, the manufacturer, the lumberman and the mining man. The scarcity of labor for farm work, where pay as a rule is not large, hours are long and the work often tedious, may not be regarded as a bad sign, all things considered. Men will work where they get most pay under most congenial conditions. The fact that Canada offers abundant opportunities for employment, that even unskilled workmen can pick and choose, is not in itself a matter of regret.

But it is plain that more men must be secured to work on the farms, especially in Eastern Canada, because in the matter of farm laborers as well as in the case of young men, the West makes an annual raid on the East, and a great many of those who go west for the harvesting season, lured by exceptionally high wages, do not come back. Evidently, also, they do not all stay in the farming business, but drift into the manifold other occupations which give promise of an easier life and quicker returns.

THE TITANIC LOSSES

One of the most interesting questions ever brought up in admiralty law is that which involves the fixing of the liability for the losses in the Titanic disaster. Judge Hand, in the federal court at New York, has granted a further extension of time in which claims can be filed. Thus far 279 claims have been filed, covering losses of life, baggage and freight and personal injuries. The total of these claims is $5,467,406.

The commissioner who was appointed by the court to determine the liability of the company which owned the Titanic, fixed it at $97,772, which is $6,772 more than the amount claimed by the respondents to be their liability limit. The law in the United States fixes liability at freight pending and passenger fares. According to the company, the freight charges collected amounted to $2,073, while the passengers fares amounted to $85,212. The lawyers for the claimants contend that the liability should not be fixed under these laws, asserting that "due diligence" was not exercised in the navigation of the Titanic. They hope to prove "negligence in navigation," as defined under the English law. If they can have their way, the limit of recovery will be fixed by an assessment on the company of $75 per net registered ton of the Titanic, which would provide a fund, it is said, of between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000. These lawyers also raise the question of negligence in navigation with "knowledge and privity," of the owner, as J. B. Ismay, managing director, was aboard the Titanic and had knowledge, it is asserted of the warnings which had been received by wireless of ice ahead. They also call attention to the shortage of lifeboats, to an alleged inadequate lookout and other points which were brought out in the investigations of the disaster.

It is not known what procedure can be followed by the claimants, but there should be some way to get the question which is raised in this case before the higher courts. It appears hardly sufficient to have such an important matter passed upon in finality by a lower court.

It is less than a year since the Titanic disaster, yet in this country this, the greatest marine tragedy has almost passed from the public mind. In England the work of caring for the survivors goes on vigorously. A total of £409,177 was subscribed and this fund has been invested at four per cent. The number of cases in which relief was furnished has mounted up to 911, of which 288 were foreign and 683 British.

Forbes Robertson's Sixtieth Milestone

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—A London cable to the American says: Forbes Robertson will celebrate his sixtieth birthday today, and will begin what will practically be his last year on the stage. After a farewell American tour, which begins next September, he intends leading a quiet life to "go back to my painting and playing with my children," as he told a friend recently.

Some of his friends say that the reason for Mr. Robertson's being slighted in the New Year's honors was his active sympathy with the woman's suffrage movement, to which Premier Asquith is bitterly opposed.

CROSSES TO MARK GRAVES OF BOERS

Money Voted by South Africa Recalls Deaths at Ceylon Detention Camp

An incident which should further cement the good feeling between England and South Africa is that the Union Government placed a sum of money at the disposal of the Ceylon Government for the erection of suitable crosses to mark the resting places of the Boers who died in captivity in the Island.

In the "Happy Valley" of Ceylon, at Diyatalawa, the Boer prisoners from South Africa were detained. The spot is regarded as a sanatorium of the Island, and its claims cannot be denied. Its air is remarkably fresh and most invigorating to those who come from the hot, damp atmosphere of Colombo. Diyatalawa is used as a recruiting station for the men of the East Indies Squadron, and is the rendezvous of the camp of exercise for the Volunteer Corps in Ceylon.

The camp is situated in a hollow. When the Boers were there, they were housed in long wooden huts, with corrugated iron roofs and the camp was surrounded with barbed wire fences, and was lit by electricity. When the majority of the prisoners signed the oath of allegiance and departed, the camp was for a time disused. Then the authorities thought it would be an excellent place for the annual camp of the Volunteers, and now five Volunteer Corps—about 800 men—go to Diyatalawa for training.

The huts are of very respectable dimensions, and many men are accommodated in them. The system of sanitation has been improved year by year, but when the Boers were in detention enteric broke out among them, and the troops guarding the camp, and carried off many victims, who were buried in the cemetery, a little distance away from the camp, the English being on one side of God's acre and the Boers on the other. The cemetery is alongside the Boer road which was built by the Boers who were paid wages for their labor. Much of their money the Boers spent either at the native bazaars which soon sprang up, or after giving their parole, at Colombo. Most of them, however, never strayed far away from the camp. Many of them were expert carvers, and earned a little money that way.

LONDON'S TALLEST SCOT

Nonagenarian Says Secret of Longevity is Two Meals a Day

Although Mr. Leslie Fraser Duncan is ninety-two, he is 6 feet 6 inches in height, and it is his boast that he is the tallest Scotsman in London. He attributes his good health and long life solely to the habit of taking only two meals a day. All his life he has never had more.

"I have not touched meat for seven years," he told an interviewer, "and I did not eat it until I was twenty. I never smoked, except for a year when I was a young man in Edinburgh, and I have rarely touched alcohol. For years my drinking has been confined to four glasses of champagne a year—one on my birthday, one on my wife's birthday, one on Christmas Day, and one on New Year's Day.

"Lord Strathcona was a boy at school with me, and he keeps working at his advanced age, a year older than myself, on two meals a day. Sir William Jenner, the famous doctor, was an advocate of this. He once said to me, 'If every man lived on two meals a day doctors would not be wanted.'"

After dabbling in law in Scotland, Mr. Duncan went to London, and for a time worked as reporter. Then, with James Grant, of the "Morning Advertiser," he started the "Railway World," for that was the time of the railway boom, and in four months made $10,000 as his share of the profits. When this had gone other ventures followed. He retired twenty-five years ago with a comfortable fortune.

AN HISTORIC FLAG

Not Much Sought After Despite Its Associations

There was sold by auction in London for the modest sum of $6.25 a silken banner 130 years old which Commemorated the Battle of the Boyne. It belonged at one time to Mr. Spencer Perceval, the Prime Minister at the head of the "No Popery Cabinet," who was assassinated in the British House of Commons a hundred years ago.

The sale of the relic recalls the story of the man to whom the assassination of Mr. Perceval was revealed in a vision on the night before the murder. He told friends the following morning of his startling dream, of the picture that was unfolded in it, and he even described the principal characters in the terrible drama that was enacted in the House of Commons when Spencer Perceval was sent to his doom.

The particulars he gave were afterwards fully corroborated in the accounts of the assassination that were published.

19 Lake Vessels Have Been Lost

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 16.—Nineteen vessels were lost on the great lakes last year, an exceptionally small total, according to the annual report of Wm. Livingstone of Detroit, president of the Lake Carrier's Association, which was read today.

Loss of life was also small as compared with former years. The report said 33 persons were drowned or killed, and of this number, 16 were of the crew of the schooner Rouse Simmons, the "Christmas tree" ship, which left Northern Michigan for Chicago last November, and was undoubtedly destroyed during a storm on Lake Michigan.

Thirteen of the ill-fated ships were steamers, three were barges, two tugs and one schooner. The most important loss was the steamer James Gayley, which sunk in collision with the steamer Rennselaer on Lake Superior. The combined loss of cargo and ship was about $300,000.

Mr. Livingstone said the year of 1912 on the great lakes "had shattered every precedent," and "the business outlook for [illegible] left little to be desired so far as the prospective volume is concerned."

THORPE'S FINE TROPHIES

King of Sweden and Czar of Russia Reward the Great Indian

Two of the handsomest athletic trophies in the world are on exhibition in the Carlisle Indian School at Carlisle, Pa. They are the awards made to Jim Thorpe, the aborigine, winner of the pentathlon and decathlon in the Olympic games. He is now stamped the champion all-around athlete of the world.

The prizes are a massive bronze bust of heroic size, in the likeness of King Gustav V. of Sweden, and the gift of that monarch to Thorpe, as a personal mark of esteem, and a silver replica of a Norse viking ship, presented to the Indian by the Czar of Russia.

The bust is 4½ feet high and 22 inches square at the base, and the ship is 2 feet long, 18 inches high and weighs 30 pounds. The trophies will be held by Thorpe for four years, and will be up for competition again at the Berlin Olympic, 1916.

HOT FLASHES.

Women in middle age often complain of hot flashes. They are at that stage of life—when their delicate organism needs a tonic and helping-hand which only Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can give them. Many women suffer needlessly from girlhood to womanhood and from motherhood to old age—with backache, dizziness or headache. A woman often becomes sleepless, nervous, "broken-down," irritable and feels tired from morning to night. When pains and aches rack the womanly system at frequent intervals, ask your neighbor about Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

MRS. J. IMHOF, of 221 S. Bentalon Street, Baltimore, Md., says: "I wrote you about nine months ago, telling you of my condition. I have a fine baby girl—she weighed nine pounds when born. She is my third child and the strongest of them all. My suffering was only for two hours. I took several bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of Dr. Pierce's Smart-Weed. I never had a well day before I took your medicines. I was surprised how well I felt—could eat—was always hungry, and never had a sick stomach. The nurse who was with me told the medicine was wonderful because I got along so nicely after having had so much trouble before. She intends to recommend it to all her suffering patients. Everybody is astonished at me because I only weighed 102 pounds before and now I weigh 135. I have had several ladies come to me and ask about Dr. Pierce's medicine. I am willing to recommend it to all who suffer and want help. If any want information I will be glad to give it to them."

CANADIENS REGAIN LEADERSHIP

MONTREAL, Jan. 16.—Before a crowd that placed standing room at a premium the Canadiens turned the tables on Quebec and won by a score of 5 to 4 after one of the poorest exhibitions offered here this season. Neither team displayed any skill, either at team play or in stick-handling, and had the Canadiens not run up a clear tally of three goals in the opening period the decision might have been reversed. The players mixed it up at all stages, and on one occasion after Pitre and Mummery had collided several times Pitre came down the ice at full speed and jumped feet first at Mummery, and good luck alone saved the Quebec player from receiving a knockout.

TORONTOS TURN TABLES ON THE TECUMSEHS.

The despised Torontos showed the Tecumsehs how to play the game of N.H.A. hockey in Toronto Wednesday night. The Blue Shirts not only won, but they did so by 6 to 1 and outclassed the Indians. The speed of the winners simply smothered the methodical Tecumsehs, whose "methods" did not work out as satisfactorily as in some of their other games, particularly that against the Torontos, who were beaten in their last appearance against the Indians by 5 to 2. The Tecumsehs did not score until toward the end of the last period. There was no scoring in the first period, while at the end of the second the count was 4 to 0.

ST. MICHAEL'S AGAIN.

HAMILTON, Jan. 16—St. Mike's speed proved a trifle too much for the Preston senior O.H.A. team in the exhibition game played at the new Alert ring last night, and the Toronto outfit got the verdict by 7 to 4. The game was witnessed by a crowd that taxed the rink to its capacity. The audience included large delegations from Toronto and Preston. With both teams shaping up as probable finalists for the O.H.A. honors, the game was looked upon as a previously arranged semi-final saw-off and this brought the hockey lovers out.

MIDLAND DEFEATS PENETANG.

PENETANGUISHENE, Jan. 16—Midland defeated the local team here last evening in a very closely contested O.H.A. intermediate game on heavy ice. The half-time score was 4 to 2 in favor of Midland and at full time the count was 6 each. At the end of the overtime play Midland had secured two goals, the final score being 8 to 6 in favor of Midland.

SEAFORTH IN OVERTIME.

CLINTON, Jan. 16.—An intermediate O. H. A. game was played here last night between Seaforth and Clinton. The game was closely contested throughout. The half-time score was 4 to to in favor of Clinton and at full time four all. In the extra fifteen minutes play Seaforth scored two, while Clinton got one.

HAMILTON 9, DUNNVILLE 6

DUNNVILLE, Jan. 16.—The Hamilton hockey team defeated the Dunnville intermediate O. H. A. team here last night by the score of 9 to 6, scoring their entire margin in overtime, when their opponents were "all in."

Belleville juniors and a large contingent of fans, who intended going to Picton tonight for a scheduled game, are much disappointed on the game being cancelled owing to lack of ice. The Picton team is scheduled to play here on Monday next.

BERLIN WALLOPED PRESTON.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—Berlin O.H.A. intermediates easily defeated Preston here last evening by the score of 7 to 1. The ice was soft and heavy, but the game was fast throughout, the locals excelling in speed and stick-handling. Berlin had the strongest team of the season, and look like district winners.

OTTAWA HAS COME BACK.

OTTAWA, Jan. 16—Ottawa came back with a vengeance last night and made a light workout of the Wanderers. The score was 9 to 1. The Montreal team went to pieces in the second period and the Ottawas made a show of them.

ST. THOMAS HAS A LEAD.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 16.—The local intermediate O.H.A. septette defeated the Tillsonburg team, their rivals in group 7, by a score of 4 to 3, last night. This gives the home team a lead of three goals on the round over Tillsonburg.

Frontenac seniors may have Richardson and Vanhorne on their lineup against Varsity in Toronto on Saturday afternoon. An excursion will be run to Toronto for the St. Michael's game on the 29th.

Dr. W. G. Wood has resigned from the treasureship of the O.H.A., owing to pressure of business. His duties will be looked after by Secretary W. A. Hewitt.

Trimm, the last year Berlin coverpoint, is with the Woodstock juniors this season.

Chatham has come to terms with the rink people, and will continue in the intermediate O.H.A.

The Trent Valley Hockey League has disbanded, and there will be no games this season.

THE TURF.

The ice on the Ottawa river for the Hull Driving Club's meeting is two feet thick. Fred. Pike will be the starter and P. P. Salter judge.

THE BATTING HERO

The batting hero.—None so famed as he,
His name tops off the list from week to week;
Emblazoned on the sporting page we see
His average—of which we proudly speak;
We hail him when he swaggers to the plate
With acclamations of concerted glee;
We cheer him as the greatest of the great,
An uncrowned monarch of the game is he.
Behold the hate upon his sunscorched phiz,
The glitter of contempt that lights his eye,
When, swinging wide that great war club of his,
He pops an easy roller or a fly;
See how he struts back to the players' coop
And sits him down with indolence and ease,
While some admirer there uncorks a whoop
And hurls at him a laudatory wheeze.
The next time at the bat he smites the sphere
Far out into the pasture for a run,
The while his worshippers rise up and cheer
Him to the echo for the deed he's done;
The sporting editor digs out a cut
And runs it on the overcrowded sheet
With: "We present a likeness of P. Nutt,

SCHOOLGIRL AN ATHLETE

For Five Years Nellie Stockwell, Aged 13, Has Been a Champion

For the fifth year in succession a Rotherhithe girl won the sports championship of the London County Council Schools in South London.

Nellie Stockwell is 13 and the daughter of the keeper of the Rotherhithe mortuary. Her latest trophy was the championship medal won at the school athletic meeting, where she was first in six events and second in four others.

She won the championship first when she was 9, and has secured it every year since, although the girl competitors have numbered more than 1,700 each time.

"I don't train in any special way," she said. "My father gives me plenty of sugar and I have running exercises, it that is all."

A FAMOUS CRICKETER

Tom Richardson's Sad End in South France

The late Tom Richardson, the famous fast bowler had for some years past dropped out of first-class cricket, but he will be remembered as the greatest fast bowler of his day. From 1892 till 1904 he took 2,000 wickets in first-class cricket, at a cost of a little over 18 runs per wicket, an extraordinary average for a very fast bowler on modern prepared wickets, andan enormous amount of work for one man to achieve in so comparatively short a career.

He was a tireless worker, of immense stamina and powerful physique, and an imposing figure on the field. In 1895 he captured fifteen Essex wickets in one match, and, bowling unchanged, through both inings of the Surrey v. Gloucestershire match in 1894, he took nine wickets for 99, and in 1895, again bowling unchanged in the match, he dismissed eleven Derbyshire batsmen for 60.

During his greatest seasons the following was Tom Richardson's record:

	Runs	Wkts.	Aver.
1897	3,945	273	14.45
1895	4,170	290	14.37
1896	4,015	246	16.32

In the test match at Manchester in 1896 Richardson took thirteen wickets for 244 runs.

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN RACING RULES

The English Jockey Club has made some important alterations in the rules governing horse racing, some of the changes having been demanded for years past by members. The most important change was the repeal of the rule permitting four furlong races for the two-year-olds, this rule having been in force for nearly ten years, and arousing much criticism from various sources, owing to the supposed harm it has wrought in that class. By a vote of 22 to 7 the club upheld the adverse criticism, and, on the ground that such a short race for colts demanded training at the expense of future development, and was a lottery, the colt first off usually having all the chances, decided to prohibit all races under five furlongs for two-year-olds.

It was also decided, the stewards voting unanimously, that no horse three years old or over can race without a registered name, many errors having been made of late owing to the fact that owners entered horses designated only by a description of parentage.

TURFMAN BEGINS ANEW

Racing King Now Working for a Living—Fortune Gone

Edward Corrigan, former king of the American turf, has gone back to Kansas City to start life over again where he left it more than thirty years ago. With what little he could save from the wreck of his fortune after the final crash came three years ago, the former millionaire horseman has leased a few acres of land near the 'Frisco tracks at Kansas, set up a stone crusher and has settled down to devote the rest of his life to leveling the limestone cliffs—the same sort of work he was doing as a railroad contractor before taking up the racing game. The former "master of Hawthorne" now goes out to his little quarry every morning carrying the dinner pail, quite as contented, apparently, as though he had never been the most imposing figure on the world's greatest paddocks.

COULD NOT MAN NAVY

Laurier Scheme Impossible Just Now, Say Speakers.

Dr. Edwards and W. F. Cockshutt in Debate on Bill Declare That Canada is Neither in a Position to Build Ships Nor Supply Crews—W. F. Maclean Objects to Privy Council Decisions.

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—The naval debate was continued in the House of Commons yesterday by Dr. Edwards of Frontenac, G. H. Boivin of Shefford, and W. F. Cockshutt of Brantford. Mr. Boivin's speech was a statement of loyalty on behalf of the French-Canadians as well as the English. W. F. Cockshutt declared that the Borden naval policy included a permanent scheme of contribution, of which he heartily approved.

Dr. J. W. Edwards (Frontenac), in resuming the debate compared the loyalty of Premier Borden with that of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He believed that Laurier was a separatist, and had been on both sides of the fence on every big quesion that the country had to deal with. "It is a good thing for the British Empire that not all British subjects in Canada are of the same calibre as Laurier," he declared. He doubted the possibility of the Canadian navy scheme, declaring that it would take from ten to fifteen years to build fleet units and to get men to man them. Britain, he maintained, had the men ready to man new war vessels, but in Canada there was more work than men to do it, and he saw no possibility of getting recruits for the navy under present conditions.

Mr. Boivin stood for a royal Canadian navy, built, equipped, manned and maintained by "the unitedly loyal, true and devoted spirit of Canadian nationhood."

"We would prefer to see the redistribution bill put through first," declared Mr. Boivin, "but we are ready to face the issue at any time. Let us solve the question through out manhood, not through our money. Under Mr. Borden's proposals," he argued, "Canada undertook the ridiculous proposition of wiping out the German peril by borrowing thirty-five millions from Britain and then sending it back. Let us spend the money and more if you will," he exclaimed, "but let us put ourselves into the undertaking. That is patriotism as we Laurier Liberals understand it. Australia is getting ready to go to the front whenever needed. We want Canada to be there too."

Mr. Boivin quoted the views of various Conservative members, including the Premier, Hon. Mr. Foster, Hon. Mr. Pelletier, Mr. Lamarche, Mr. Sevigny, and others. "It must be very convenient to belong to a party where it is so easy to agree to disagree, and still agree well enough to hold to office," he observed.

Mr. W. F. Cockshutt (Brantford), in reference to charges of inconsistency, said that the people did not want to know what a man said in various parts of the country formerly, but what he was going to do about it now. Canada could not man a navy, he declared. This had been shown. It required many men and great skill to operate a Dreadnought. Mr. Cockshutt condemned those in the Church and out of it who had discouraged the development of the military spirit in Canada to such a point of unpopularity that men could not to-day be obtained for naval service.

Mr. Cockshutt said that the Borden proposal contemplated a permanent policy of contribution. He heartily approved this. When he was a delegate to the Imperial Chamber of Commerce gathering in 1909 he had declared that the only policy was that of one British navy, the colonies bearing their share by permanent contributions of money and ships. "I am glad to say this is now to be started by the present Government," he declared.

At the conclusion of Mr. Cockshutt's speech Hon. Dr. Pugsley moved the adjournment of the debate at 11.30.

The feeling that municipal and provincial rights have suffered at the hands of the Privy Council and that Canadian statutes should be interpreted by the courts of Canada was voiced yesterday afternoon by W. F. Maclean of South York in the debate which arose upon the resolution offered by Finance Minister White empowering the Government to purchase at par future issues of Grand Trunk Pacific bonds guaranteed by the Government. Mr. Maclean suggested that it would be well for municipalities hereafter to insert a clause in all agreements made with public service corporations to the effect that the highest court of the province should be the final interpreter of their meaning.

A number of members agreed that the present right of appeal to the Privy Council should be greatly curtailed, if not eliminated.

Hon. W. T. White, in presenting the resolution for authority to purchase future bonds issued of the Grand Trunk Pacific, explained that the Government had been compelled to pay nearly five million dollars in cash to the G.T.P. and might be compelled to pay eight million dollars additional under the ruling of the Privy Council.

Several Liberal members, Hon. Geo. Graham, Hon. Wm. Pugsley and A. K. McLean (Halifax), agreed that in planning to buy the bonds the Finance Minister had adopted the proper course.

MARKET REPORTS

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—The grain markets today were nervous and irregular, but finished with a net decline due largely to a private cablegram stating that Adrianople's fall is imminent. Provisions advanced. Until the arrival of the Adrianople report gave impulse to sales, the wheat market was a sort of glorified scalping affair. Speculators sold on the hard spots and took small profits on the soft ones, or vice versa. The edge was off the export business and the trade was nervously waiting for influential news such as arrived from Constantinople.

The Liverpool market closed ¼d to ⅜d higher on wheat, and ¼d to ½d higher on corn. Berlin wheat closed unchanged, Budapest ½c higher.

MONTREAL MARKET.

MONTREAL, Jan. 16.—Cables on Manitoba wheat were firm to 1½d higher, but the demand was not so good, and only a small volume of business was worked. Demand for barley is good and further sales were made. There was a slight improvement in the local and outside demand for oats and an increased trade was done at firm prices. There was some demand from foreign buyers for spring wheat flour, and as bids were 3d higher sales of some fair sized lots were made, while the local trade is fairly active. Millfeed quiet. A firmer feeling prevails in cheese under an improved demand. Butter quiet and steady. Eggs weak owing to mild weather and increased receipts of new laid and prices have declined 1c to 3c.

Corn—American, No. 2 yellow, 65a.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 42½c to 43c; do., No. 3, 40½c to 41c; extra No. 1 feed, 41½c to 42c; No. 3 local white, 39c; No. 3 local white, 38c; No. 4 local white, 37c.

Barley—Manitoba feed, 60c to 61c; malting, 78c to 80c.

Buckwheat—No. 2, 56c to 57c.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $5.40; seconds, $4.90; strong bakers', $4.70; winter patents, choice, $5.25; straight rollers, $4.95 to $5; do., bags, $2.35 to $2.40.

Rolled oats—Barrels, $4.50; bags, 90 lbs., $2.12½.

Millfeed—Bran, $20; shorts, $22; middlings, $27; moullie, $30 to $35.

Hay—No. 2, per ton, car lots, $12.50 to $14.50.

Cheese—Finest westerns, 13c; finest easterns, 12½c to 12⅝c.

Butter—Choicest creamery, 29½c to 29¾c; seconds, 25c to 27c.

Eggs—Fresh, 45c; selected, 29c to 30c; No. 2 stock, 20c.

Eggs—Fresh, 42c; selected, 27c to 29c; No. 2 stock, 18c.

Potatoes—Per bag, car lots, 75c to 85c.

Dressed hogs—Abattoir killed, $13.50; country, $12 to $13.

Heavy Canada short cut mess carrels, 35 to 45 pieces, $23; Canada short cut backs, barrels, 45 to 55 pieces, $28.

Lard—Compound tierces, 375 lbs., $9.50; wood pails, 20 lbs., net, $10; pure, tierces, $3.75 lbs., $14.75; pure, wod pails, 20 lbs., net, $15.

DULUTH GRAIN MARKET.

DULUTH, Jan. 16.—Closing: Wheat—No. 1 hard, 88⅛c; No. 1 northern, 87⅜c; No 2 do., 85⅛c; July, 90⅝c asked; May, 89⅛c to 89⅜c asked.

CATTLE MARKETS

"Boot-Legger" Under Arrest.

GALT, Jan. 17.—John Powell, an individual known as "Boot-Legger," who admitted to the chief of police that he had been pursuing that vocation at Owen Sound, got 30 days yesterday for transferring his field of operations to Galt, where local option is more rigidly enforced. He had a small tumbler in his pocket when arrested.

NOT PRESENTED YET.

Powers' Note Delayed By Hitch In German Instructions.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Another day has passed without progress in the peace negotiations. The ambassadors of the powers have not yet presented their collective note to the Porte. Constantinople despatches say that the delay is due to the failure of the German ambassador to receive instructions from his Government.

Part of the European press blames Germany, charging that she is standing outside the concert of Europe and playing a game of her own. The ambassadors at London deny this. One said yesterday:

"This suggestion is wholly unjust. Thank God, the most promising feature of the situation is that all the powers are marching together."

Considerable difficulty has been experienced in carrying on an exchange of views through code telegrams, and this is explained, to be the real cause of the delay. The fact that King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, with his Ministers, journeyed to Mustapha Pasha for a council of war Wednesday, with Gen. Savoff and the commanders of the four Bulgarian armies, is considered as proof that the Bulgarians' threat to begin the war soon is in earnest.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

PRAISE FOR HYDRO.

Second New York State Report Boosts Ontario's System.

ALBANY, N.Y., Jan. 17.—Quite another story as to the success of the Ontario Hydro-Electric power system is told in the report of the State Conservation Committee from that which was issued Wednesday by the joint Ferris committee of the Legislature.

In its report to the Legislature, the Conservation Commission strongly advances the storage of flood waters and regulation of stream flow, and recommends the gradual development of the undeveloped water powers by the state and the transmission of electrical energy to the various municipalities.

The work of the Hydro-Electric Commission in the Province of Ontario is cited by Commissioners G. E. VanKennen and John D. Moore in the report as an illustration of the New York commission's plan.

"It shows," says the report, "that through the Hydro-Electric Commission many municipalities in Western Ontario are being furnished with electrical energy for light and power purposes; that in Ontario the movement is not regarded as political, but as a great economic question. It is claimed that the project in Ontario is highly successful from a financial and engineering viewpoint; that the service is reliable and efficient; that the sales of electric current have constantly increased and prices have been continually reduced."

BANKS ARE MERGED.

Home Bank Concludes Negotiations For Internationale.

MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—The official announcement was made last evening that the syndicate, headed by Sir Henry Pellatt, which had accumulated 75,000 shares of the International Bank, had sold out to the Home Bank of Canada, and that G. Bird, formerly general manager of the International Bank, has been appointed supervisor of branches for the Home Bank in the Province of Quebec. The formal transfer will be made in a week or two, and the official statement is also made that the Home Bank will have at least two resident directors in this city, as that institution has been endeavoring to get foothold in the province for some time past.

About the time the announcement was made Judge Leet dismissed the case in the police court, instituted by Mr. Decout of Paris, charging Bird with making a false return to the Government.

Yesterday morning John Knight, secretary of the Bankers' Association, and Chief Accountant Muir of the Merchants', went before Judge Leet and assured the magistrate that there was nothing wrong with Mr. Bird's report, and that any bank manager would have done the same thing, hence his honor's decision declining to issue a warrant.

ROWELL AT WOODSTOCK.

Liberal Leader Addresses Western Ontario Dairy Association.

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 17.—N. W. Rowell, K.C., returned to his North Oxford riding yesterday to address the Western Ontario Dairy Association, in convention here.

He urged that the ideal of people of this province should be to work out a social and industrial system whereby every man would be able to earn sufficient to keep himself and his family, to educate his children and to save something for a rainy day. A distribution of wealth rather than accumulation was suggested as a proper solution of the economic problem.

Addresses were delivered by G. H. Barron on new experimental stations, and Dr. J. F. Morrison, on the cause and prevention of fishy flavor in stored butter; by J. R. Ruddicu on "The Future of Dairying in Ontario"; by J. R. Ruddicu, on "The Work of the Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioners' Branch"; and by Prof. H. H. Dean, on "Cheese Investigations at O. A. C. During the Past Three Years."

S. E. Facey, Harrietsville, was elected president.

MONTREAL FIREMEN ESCAPE.

Several Carried Out of Burning Building and Chief Is Nearly Killed.

MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—Several firemen were carried out, choked into unconsciousness by smoke. District Chief Mann escaped death by inches when a great plank came crashing down upon a ladder upon which he was standing, and damage aggregating $100,000 was caused by a fire which broke out yesterday morning on Devisier street. The premises are occupied by the Canadian Tungsten Lamp Co. and the MacCorwick Biscuit Co. of London, Ont., the plant and stock of both of which concerns were injured by fire, smoke and water.

This was the third big fire in the city within fifteen hours, most of the firemen having been on duty for 24 hours.

Cost of Living Climbs.

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—The index number of wholesale prices rose slightly in December, standing at 135.2, as compared with 134.8 in November, and 129.4 in December, 1911. Commodities advanced slightly in nearly all groups, the only decline of importance being in grains and fodders. In retail prices, the upward movement was not as strong as during the past few months, meats and dairy products being steadier.

Kingston's Stern Puritans.

KINGSTON, Jan. 17.—Because pool tables were placed in the local Y.M.C.A. a liberal giver to the institution has withdrawn his subscription. It is reported another supporter who recently cut off his support did so for the same reason.

Daring Hold-Up In Sombra.

SARNIA, Jan. 17.—Word has just been received here of a daring hold-up Wednesday evening of a Sombra Township farmer, who was returning to his home from town. The man was held up at the point of a revolver and relieved of his money. The men then took his horse and headed for the St. Clair River, where it is thought they crossed into the States.

TO CHOOSE PRESIDENT.

French Parliament In Throes of Important Election.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—A President of France will be chosen to-day by the members of the Chamber of Deputies and of the Senate sitting together as the National Assembly at Versailles. The eve of the election found the situation as respects the candidates as involved as it was at the beginning.

The joint caucus to nominate a candidate for the Presidency ended yesterday without giving an absolute majority to either Premier Poincare or Jules Pams, the Minister of Agriculture, and it is impossible to forecast to-day's result, although apparently the election lies between these two officials. The third ballot taken yesterday afternoon gave Premier Poincare 309 votes, while M. Pams received 313, and five votes went to three other candidates.

It is thought, however, that the Radical left may bring forward a new candidate, or revive the candidacy of Antonin Dubost, president of the Senate, or ex-Premier Felix Ribot, if M. Pams does not win on the first ballot, for which, it must be remembered the Socialist, Edouard Vaillant, stands.

It is explained that the uncertain situation is due to the fact that a large number of M. Poincare's supporters would on no account vote for M. Pams if the Premier withdrew, while none of the opponents of proportional representation who support the candidacy of M. Pams would vote for Premier Poincare, if the Minister of Argiculture retired.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

Samuel Reid, a bartender, was found drowned in Toronto yesterday.

The date set for opening the Panama Canal to commerce is Jan. 1, 1915.

Thousands of Orangemen and members of Unionist clubs held demonstrations in Belfast last night, and burned a copy of the home rule bill.

The Ontario Artillery Association, at its annual meeting in Toronto yesterday, passed a resolution in favor of universal military training in Canada.

It is now a certainty that the Central Railway will be constructed with the least delay possible from Montreal to Midland and other points in the province of Ontario.

The Manitoba Legislature by a unanimous vote yesterday decided to adopt the resolution favoring an inquiry into the advantages of a public hydro-power system.

The bye-elections in Antigonish, N.S., to fill the vacancy in the Provincial Legislature resulted in the return of J. S. O'Brien (Con.) over Hon. C. P. Chisholm (Lib.)

Churchill or Nelson?

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—In the Senate yesterday, on motion of Senator Casgrain, an order was made for the production of plans, reports, soundings and all other [illegible] information respecting the ports of Churchill or Port Nelson. He said there was a good deal of doubt about the availability of Nelson because of shoals. He thought it might be well to have a special committee of the Senate look into the information so far collected.

A PLUCKY ARREST.

Lone Constable Goes Into North and Gets Jack Weston

TORONTO, Jan. 17.—Tracked by city detectives to the borders of Northern Ontario, followed over miles of open country into the woods and then rounded up in the heart of the bush by a lone provincial constable, are the events that preceded the arrest of Jack Weston, alias John Wilson, 52 miles north of North Bay, yesterday morning.

Weston is wanted in Toronto charged with highway robbery, shooting with intent, burglary and numerous other offences.

It was early morning when the constable reached the camp. Knowing the dangerous character of the accused, Markle took no chances in making his arrest. By adopting a ruse he took Weston by surprise and soon had him in custody.

By the arrest of Weston the city detectives believe they have cleaned up a notorious gang of robbers, of which Weston is ringleader.

Steamship Rate War.

ANTWERP, Belgium, Jan. 17.—The Atlantic steamship pool has been practically dissolved, according to the Neptune, by the Canadian Pacific Co.'s decision to inaugurate a new system between Trieste and Canada, and the Hamburg-American Line's announcement of a new line of steamers between Hamburg and Boston. An immediate rate war will be begun according to the periodical.

The delegates of all the Atlantic steamship lines are to meet in Berlin on Jan. 28.

Sarnia Wants Hydro.

SARNIA, Jan. 17.—The new council is getting things in working order to proceed as soon as possible with the Hydro-electric matter. The citizens are very anxious that the power should be secured for the town. The council has also to deal this year with improvements which will cost $300,000, including a new waterworks.

Mylius Is Deported.

BILL IS BEFORE LORDS

British Commons Passes Measure Amid Great Excitement.

Majority of 110 Is Given by Coalition Government After a Series of Brilliant Speeches—Fate of the Bill Is, of Course, Sealed When It Comes Up For Final Disposition In the Upper Chamber.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—After a long, stern battle the home rule bill passed the House of Commons last night by a majority of 110. It was later read for the first time in the House of Lords.

There were two divisions in the lower House, Mr. Balfour's motion for its rejection was defeated, 258 to 368, while the third reading was carried by a vote of 367 to 257, one member of each side having left the House in the interval.

The result of the division was too much a foregone conclusion for a tremendous demonstration, but Irishmen inside and outside of the House did their best, and, assisted by the Liberals and Laborites, gave the measure for which they had waited and worked so long a good send-off on its way to the House of Lords, where its fate is certainly sealed.

The division was preceded by another series of brilliant speeches by the political leaders, among whom were Frederic E. Smith, and the Solicitor-General, Sir John A. Simon, two of the cleverest among the younger members of the veterans; John E. Redmond, Timothy Healy and Augustine Birrell, Chief Secretary for Ireland.

The House was crowded throughout the day. The Nationalists were only one short of their full strength, Jos. P. Nannetto being prevented from attending by a paralytic attack which he suffered yesterday. Several of the older Nationalists, who are seldom able to attend, came over from Ireland for the division.

The Laborites and Liberals also turned out in force and the Unionists were not far below their total membership. The galleries likewise were filled to their capacity, those occupying seats including many dignitaries of the church and the Bulgarian peace plenipotentiaries.

When the figures were announced the Nationalists waved hats, handkerchiefs and papers and cheered lustily for Premier Asquith and Mr. Redmond. The latter, who is usually impassive, was carried away by the enthusiasm of his followers, and entered into the spirit of the demonstrations as effusively as they.

Those who crowded the lobbies received the figures with another roar of welcome, and followed this by cheering the bill itself as a copy was carried by an official from the Commons to the Lords.

The Upper House met especially to receive the bill and formally passed its first reading.

Schooner's Crew Rescued.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The British schooner Hardwick yesterday stranded on Fullers Rocks, four miles southwest of Popham Beach, Maine. The crew was saved by the Hunnewells Beach Life Saving Station. The revenue cutter Woodbury will attempt to save the vessel.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the Belleville Agricultural Society was held Thursday afternoon in the Council Chamber, city building, presided over by Mr. G. M. Campbell, President of the Society.

Amongst those present were:—Messrs. G. G. Horton, G. M. Campbell, W. E. Anderson, H. K. Denyes, R. J. Garbutt, J. Clapp, S. Wellbanks, C. Weese, A. Jones, J. Elliott, R. H. Ketcheson, L. R. Terwilligar, Col. Ponton, W. A. Martin, W. Carnew, W. C. Mikel, P. Mott.

The President stated that during the past year the Society had done well. The debt which was upon the Association had been considerably reduced and the prospects were that the remaining debt will be wiped out this year.

Mr. R. H. Ketcheson, Secretary, read the minutes of the last annual meeting, which were confirmed.

Mr. G. G. Horton, Treasurer, presented the annual financial statement which was as follows:

Prizes paid in goods	99 00
Total	$2587 87
Balance on hand	28 51
	$2616 41

On motion the report was received and adopted.

The Secretary read the names of the members of the Association, totaling 125.

Mr. L. R. Terwilligar, as a director of the Association, said he was pleased with the financial statement presented, especially with the fact that the debt was being reduced.

Mr. W. E. Anderson spoke of the necessity of having the citizens of Belleville unite in making the Belleville Fair a success. The fair is growing in interest and all should help to make the fair a greater success in the future.

Mr. H. K. Denyes said he was pleased to see that the Belleville fair was growing, and he hoped it would continue to grow. Last year we had a good show and the attendance was good. We had no reason to be discouraged, but on the contrary, to be encouraged. He predicted a bright future for the fair.

Mr. R. J. Garbutt said that the Belleville Fair was the best on the frontier. All should join hands in making the fair a success.

Mr. A. Jones, manager of the Molson's Bank, being called upon, said there was no reason why the Belleville Fair should not be improved. This can be done if there is a united action in the matter. The agricultural fair is an event which should be encouraged.

Mr. John Elliott, manager of the Standard Bank, spoke favorably of the Belleville Fair, which he was interested in. We should put our shoulder to the wheel and make the Belleville fair what it should be—the greatest fair in central Ontario. The fair is only in its infancy and in the future it will grow. He felt confident the citizens of Belleville would unite in making the fair a success. He advocated the election of a good Board of Directors, some of whom should be from the city. He was pleased that the fair was a success.

Col. Ponton said as a citizen of Belleville and a farmer of Sidney Township he was naturally interested in the Belleville fair. For years he had been identified with the fair and his heart was in the fair. He was of the opinion that the fair could be made more successful if it was more widely advertised and if larger prizes were given. This would be the means of having greater competition in the various classes. The receipts would, he felt confident, be augmented, if there were larger prizes given. The citizens of Belleville and those from the farming community should unite in making the fair a great success. The interests of Belleville and the surrounding district was identical with the success of the Belleville fair. He hoped that Belleville would be well represented on the Board of Directors, and there is no doubt that they will do their duty. Make the fair a September event in this city, that will be both interesting and profitable. Mayor Wills was heart and hand with the fair being made a success and would do all in his power to assist in making it a success.

City Solicitor Mikel considered that more ginger might be put into the Belleville fair. There was no reason why we should not have a larger and more successful fair in the future than we have had in the past. Belleville was an important centre and was progressing. The city was on the main line of three railways and we have excellent shipping facilities. Make Belleville fair the event of the year in the city. Lay out the plan and follow it out in a vigorous manner and success will reward the effort made. He would like to see celebrations combined into one great event, say, Labor Day, and have the fair on that date. This would bring many to their home town.

Mr. Carnew said he was always ready to assist in the Belleville fair or in anything that will attract attention to the city. Belleville fair, in order to be more successful, should have better accommodation for exhibits. In the horse department there should be better prizes offered. What we want is an entertainment that will attract the crowd. Advertising more is a necessity for the greater success of the fair. He would do all in his power to assist in making the fair both attractive and successful.

Mr. H. K. Denyes said the Society was somewhat handicapped owing to the fact that it does not own a foot of land or any of the buildings. If it owned the grounds the buildings might in the future be improved. We must do the best we can under existing circumstances.

Mr. R. H. Ketcheson stated that last year the fair was extensively advertised in this and adjoining counties.

It was decided to take no action in the matter of having a horse, cattle or grain show in the spring.

On motion the society decided to engage three expert judges for the fair.

Col. Ponton suggested that every effort be made to have a better fruit exhibit. This would be a feature of the fair and prove attractive. This was a great fruit growing district and a fine exhibit could be made.

Mr. R. H. Ketcheson said that the next annual district fair meeting would be held in Napanee on the 31st inst.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Hon. President—Mayor Wills.
Hon. Vice-Pres.—J. Elliott.
President—G. M. Campbell.
1st Vice-Pres.—C. Weese.
2nd Vice-Pres.—H. K. Denyes.
Directors—W. B. Deacon, Col. Ponton, A. Jones, Capt. Hunter, L. R. Terwilligar, S. E. Haight, W. Carnew, Major Riordon, H. K. Ketcheson, W. W. Anderson, S. Wellebanks, R. H. Ketcheson, R. J. Garbutt, A. Martin and P. Mott.

On motion the President and Secretary were appointed delegates to the Fair Association meeting to be held in Toronto.

Messrs. H. K. Denyes and C. Weese were appointed delegates to the central district fair meeting to be held at Napanee on the 31st inst.

The newly elected Board met and Mr. R. H. Ketcheson was elected Secretary and Mr. G. G. Horton Treasurer.

Auditors—J. L. Clapp and H. Fairman.

The dates of the fair were selected as Tuesday and Wednesday, September 9th and 10th.

MADOC

(From The Review)

The inaugural meeting of the Council was held on Monday, when the members took the declaration of office and assumed their seats around the municipal board. The Council is:—Reeve, T. H. Thompson; Councillors, W. J. Atkins, M. Bristol, Jos. Burns, and Rev. E. A. Saunderson.

The various committees were appointed, officers appointed, and a number of accounts passed. Following are the committees for 1913:

After installation of officers the members enjoyed an oyster supper at Caverly's restaurant.

Tabernacle League Have Social Meeting

A large and extremely interesting social meeting of the Tabernacle Epworth League was held in the lecture room last evening at which a number of invited guests were present and enjoyed the occasion exceedingly. It was in reality the re-organization of the League, with the purpose of giving an impetus to the work for the winter months. A programme had been arranged, consisting of a chorus by the company, prayer and remarks by Rev. W. G. Clarke, honorary president; mandolin solo by Miss Isa Moore, accompanied by Miss Mabel Goodsell; piano solo by Miss Florence Davis; song by Mr. Fred Burke, and remarks by several interested in the work. Then came the election of officers, with the following results:

President—Mr. C. A. Macfarlane.
First Vice-President—Mr. A. P. Bell.
Second Vice-President—Miss Grace Maidens.
Third Vice-President—Miss Florence Davis.
Fourth Vice-President—Mr. Burton Asselstine.
Fifth Vice President—Miss Ethel Slater.
Recording Secretary—Mr. B. Bleecker.
Corresponding Secretary—Mr. N. Thompson.
Treasurer—Mr. C. Mastin.
Assistant Treasurer—Mr. Earle Maidens.
Organist—Miss Mabel Goodsell.
Assistant Organist—Miss May Williams.
Convener of Prayer Meeting Committee—Mr. Parliament.
Convener of Forward Movement—Miss Isa Moore.

Following this refreshments, which had been prepared in the large league room, were partaken of by the company.

Plans are being laid for a series of events during the season, which will prove of social and fraternal enjoyment to the society.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the adding to the membership list of about 30 names.

Peasant (reading over his accident insurance to his powerful wife)—Look here, next time you fall out with me you'd better take care. This policy says that when I suffer from circumstances over which I have no control I don't get anything.—Fliegende Blatter.

Insulted Him.

Mrs. Highupp—John, I was never so angry in my life as this afternoon, when that lecturer at our club deliberately insulted you. Mr. Highupp—Insulted me? Mrs. Highupp—Yes; he referred to the railroad of which you are president as a common carrier.—New York Times.

Who's that knocking at the kitchen door?

Why, it's Mrs. Edwards round again—she's always ready to lend a hand with the cooking. That nourishing home-made Irish soup of hers is a real dish-of-all-work—useful in a hundred ways.

It's fine and tasty by itself. It's the secret of a savoury sauce. It's the making of a made dish. And, to bring out the goodness of your own soup and gravies and hashes and meat puddings there's nothing like adding

EDWARDS' DESICCATED SOUPS

Prime beef and the finest of Irish vegetables—that's what Mrs. Edwards puts in it; nothing but what's pure and delicious. As there is no strong added flavouring, it will blend perfectly with any other soup. Remember to boil it for half an hour.

5c. per packet.

Edwards' Desiccated Soups are made in three varieties—Brown, Tomato, White. The Brown variety is a thick, nourishing soup prepared from beef and fresh vegetables. The other two are purely vegetable soups. S. H. B.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Land Agency or Sub-Agent for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within 9 miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him, by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

THE FAULT OF THE FOG

That Aubrey Watson was a nice boy nearly every one agreed; but he was my unlucky star. We were all right as long as we went out separate ways but let either of us deviate from the path and there was a crash that could be heard.

The first time I met him I lost my dancing slipper in the middle of the floor; it was an idiotic hare-and-hounds figure anyhow. The next day he came to call and dropped one of mother's Doulton teacups. Then he too me to drive—I think with the idea of a ramble through tree-bordered lanes, as a change from the prosaic motor-car—and the trap lost a wheel!

Mother began to shudder when she heard his ring at the dor, and after he tore off the flounce of my most attractive gown by stepping on it I had little responsive shudders myself.

I don't think now that he was awkward, although I did at the time. He made an effort to explain after the driving accident that, when he came near me, he was so dazzled that he was not responsible. But I reminded him—I was more than a bit frigid; did you ever walk home behind a three wheeled trap, with one axile trailing in the dust, and your cavalier driving the cab from the path at the side of the road—I reminded him that even his being dazzled would scarcely take a wheel off.

Then one night, when Paul, our chauffeur, was ill with tonsilitis, mother and I took our fate into our hands and agreed to let Aubrey Watson drive us in his new motor car to the Country Club. You now of course what happened—how he insisted on taking the beach road, so I could see the moon on the water—every man I know shows me the same moon on the same water, how the tide was coming in, how one big breaker after another washed up around us, swirling over the floor of the car, carrying off mother's lorgenette and my fan, while we stood on the seats and told Aubrey Watson how we enjoyed this moonlight bathing, and not to worry, we could easily order a dozen or two point lace fans and lorgenettes in the morning, and how the author of our rambles sat there, refusing to move, gritting his teeth with rage, lighting match after match between breakers to see if the batteries were dry.

Of course they weren't dry—there was nothing dry about the car except the roof. When it was all over and the sea was merely playing sportively around the trees, Aubrey got out to inspect the damage. It must have been plenty, for after a lot of pushing around the spar and throttel, of pumping up the pressure and lighting matches to look at the indicator, we still stayed firmly where we were. Aubrey tried to crank up, but the engine merely turned over on its other side with a grunt and went to sleep again. It was, as you will imagine, a unique situation.

After a while one of the accetylene lamps went out and the car looked like a dog asleep with one eye open. Finally, when neither coaxing nor veiled profanity availed anything, we got out, mother and I, and ankle deep in wet sand, we walked and walked, and then we walked. It was 2 o'clock when we reached the Country Club and were put to bed, wrapped up in blankets and smothered with hot water botles. The Van Dunep girls who went down to bathe at 5 o'clock the next morning, met Aubrey Watson still in his evening clothes, and he looked as if he had been tramping up beach all night. Bea said she could hear the water in his shoes squashing up and down.

But, after all, that was only the beginning. The real disaster occurred the followng week. The Dudley gave a lawn party ending with a cotilion in a tent; it was very complete every one said, from Japanese lanterns and lots of punch to sand flies and mosquitoes. Then some idiots suggested going out to the Catamaran, a big floating raft that was anchored on the second sand bar, out in the harbor. I'd been fighting shy of Aubrey Watson all evening, so I went too. When we got out to the raft it was very dark. Percy Haswell helped me up the little iron iron ladder and turned for some one else. Afterward he said his foot slipped—anyhow there was a crash and he went head first into the boat. Somebody screamed and Percy groaned that his skull was fractured. There was a lot of excitement and before I realized it the boat was headed for shore again, and I was left, stranded—or not exactly that; one cannot be stranded on the water—in the darkness. One of the girls called that they would be back for me at once and I dropped limply to the floor of the Catamaran and stared at the rows of Japanese lanterns strung from the Dudley veranda to the Dudley trees, and from the Dudley trees out along the Dudley doc.

When some one on the other side of the raft coughed apologetically, I nearly fell off with surprise.

"You needn't be alarmed about Haswell," the voice went on savagely. "He couldn't fracture that thick skull of his."

"It's you is it?" I said coldly. "I might have known it."

"Yes it sis. It's too bad, isn't it?"

This I ignored. It was perfectly evident that it was too bad.

"May I troucle you," I asked, "to take me back in your boat?"

"Won't you stay a little while?" His tone was almost imploring. "There's a place there to the right where the swell strikes the sand, and a bit of spray flies that looks like a mermaid."

"Oh, indeed!" This was distinctly an affront. "If I am disturbing any love affair, I——"

"You're not disturbing my love affair," he said coolly. "It is a communion of the spirit, and you do not interfere at all. In fact, I believe I like to have you around, you stimulate my imagination."

"Thanks", I said icily. "In other words, I'm a sort of mental cocktail. Well, I'm going now," rising; "I'll send your boat back for you."

The swell at that moment lifted the raft sharply at one side and slid under the other. I sat down suddenly and tried to find something to hold to. I found it, a man's coat sleeve and I held desperately for a minute. I glanced toward the shore; somehow the lanterns showed less plainly—from gorgeous colored butterflies against the dark they looked like pale fireflies, flashing a faint gleam at intervals.

"What is it?" I asked anxiously, as Aubrey Watson stirred uneasily and got to his feet.

"Give me your hand," he said imparatively, "you mustn't slide off and I'll have to look around."

"It's a fog," I said suddenly, 'a fog like a blanket. Hurry we must get home."

"Say, look here," he said sitting down again and still holding my hand, "honestly I would have given anything if I hadn't been on this cursed raft when you got here. I've brought you the worst kind of calamities ever since I've known you, and upon my word, every day they grow worse. I'd give my right hand to save you trouble, and instead all I seem to do is to pull you into it."

"What is it now?" I asked with the calmness of utter despair.

"Oh, nothing he said mildly, 'except that I haven't any boat, I got the bunch to land me here."

"Well, they'll be coming back won't they?"

"Yes, they'll come back all right, but look at the fog."

Hon. Martin Burrell Discusses British Cattle Embargo.

Mr. Donnelly of South Bruce Brings Runciman's Recent Aspersions Up In the Commons and Minister Declares That Canadian Herds Are Feer From Disease Than Those of Britain—To Urge Removal.

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—Aspersions cast upon the healthfulness of Canada's cattle by the chairman of the British Board of Agriculture were fervently deprecated in the House of Commons yesterday, both by the member for South Bruce, who brought the matter up, and by the Minister of Agriculture, who replied.

On the orders of the day being called Mr. Donnelly read the following Canadian Associated Press cable:

"London, Jan. 15.—The Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Agriculture, informed Capt. Campbell in the House of Commons that the Government did not contemplate the removal of the embargo on Canadian cattle. 'During the last two years,' Mr. Runciman said, 'glanders, sheepscab, rabies and tuberculosis had been noticed among Canadian stock'."

Mr. Donnelly proceeded to say that this was a question of paramount importance to the stock raisers of Canada. It was alleged that Great Britain was not continuing the enforcement of the embargo for the purpose of preventing the introduction of diseases, but a measure of protection to the British stock raisers.

Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, replied that he had received a cable from the High Commissioner in reference to the strictures of Mr. Runciman, and stating that it was not likely that the British Government would pass legislation removing the embargo.

Mr. Burrell gave a brief outline of the circumstances leading up to the imposition of the embargo against live cattle down to the protest against the policy which was made by the Canadian Government in 1907. The British reply at the time was that it was impossible, not because of the existence of disease in Canadian cattle, but because of the great extent of the boundary between Canada and the United States, which rendered easy the introduction of cattle diseases from the latter country.

Mr. Burrell showed that, as a matter of fact, Canadian herds were freer from disease than those of the United Kingdom, but it was not deemed consistent with the self-respect of Canada to continue to urge upon the Government the reversion of what appeared to be a settled policy.

Methodists To Build One Million Dollar Structure In Toronto.

TORONTO, Jan. 17.—Toronto is to have the greatest religious publishing house in the world within two years. The Methodist Book Room board will put up a million-dollar building on the site at the southeast corner of Queen and John streets.

The building committee has been authorized to raise four hundred thousand dollars for this year's operations, and four hundred thousand dollars next year. This $800,000 and the sum obtained for the Wesley Building in Richmond street, will place over a million dollars at the disposal of the committee.

Work will be commenced as early as possible this spring, so that the new Methodist connexional headquarters may be available at the earliest possible date.

THE REPORT OF THE HIGH SCHOOL LITERARY SOCIETY

A joint meeting of the Junior and Senior Literary Societies of Belleville High School was held on Friday last, the programme for the meeting being furnished by members of the Senior Literary Society. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, which was held before Christmas vacation, the gathering was favored with a solo by Miss Helen Simpkins. The next number on the programme was the reading of a part of the first edition of the school paper,—"The High School Elevator," by Laura Wrightmyer in which some of the most noticeable current events were referred to. Then folrowed the very interesting and profitable address by Mr. F. E. O'Flynn on the people and countries which have atracted so much attention in the Balkan war. The speaker made very vivid references to the migration of these people from their former homes, touching briefly on the circumstances connection with the founding of their present day countries. When pointing out the various characteristic qualities of the nations involved in the war, a very concise but apt comparison was made between the economical, industrious Bulgarain and the polite, aristocratic Servian. Another very interesting feature of the address was a description of the perculiarly-shaped cap worn by the Montenegrians, carefully illustrating the true significance of each of the colours which so attractively compose it. The speaker after pointing out the indications on the part of the Allied States towards Turkey, closed the address by wishing the Socities and school every success during the coming term. The remainder of the "High School Elevator" was then read, the chief points of interest being some important notes on the hockey match between Kingston Frontenacs and Belleville Juniors. After a piano duet was rendered by Misses L. Swetman and Dorothy Grant, Mr. C. M. Reid, Chairman of the Board of Education, said a few words commenting the appropriateness of Mr. O'Flynn's address. The meeting was then brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

Presentation At Holloway St. Church

At the close of a most helpful and impressive service, conducted by the Pastor, last night, Mr. Sanderson said there was a pleasant but somewhat sad duty to perform.

They were pleased to have with them Mr. S. A. Lawrence, a former Trustee and beloved member of the church, who with his good wife, were about to remove to his new home in the West, where Mr. Lawrence had been for a year and a half. Mr. Sanderson then called upon Mr. B. Quincey, in whose Sunday morning class Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence have been for some twenty five years. Mr. Quincey spoke of their faithfulness, not only to the class but to the Church of God in all departments of Christian work, and as a citizen of Belleville. He assured Mr. Lawrence that he and his faithful wife, would ever have a warm place in the hearts of the people of Holloway St. Methodsit Church, and prayed their future home might be as happy and blessed of God, as their present home had been. May the church there, said Mr. Quincey, be a source of spiritual uplift, and may you be a great help to them.

The Pastor then asked Mr. Lawrence to come forward, saying he regreted very much Mrs. Lawrence's indisposition through the trying ordeal of moving, and Miss Ida Martin, Mrs. Adams, and Mrs. Gilbert, on behalf of the W. M. S., the Pastor's Bible class and Mr. Quincey's class, presented Mr. Lawrence and his estimable wife (whose absence they regretted) with a beautiful caserole, and a handsome coffee perculator. Mr, Lawrence in a few words thanked the many friends who had thought of them so kindly and said he would convey to his wife their kind words and gifts. The meeting closed with that good old hymn "Blest be the tie that Binds."

Want To Send Baby By Post

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Postmaster-General Hitchcock was embarassed yesterday by receipt of the following letter:—

"Fort McPherson, Georgia.

"Postmaster-General, Washington—Sir: I have been corresponding with party in Pa. about getting a baby to raise (our home is without one). May I ask you what specifications to use in wrapping so it (baby) would comply with regulations and be allowed shipment by parcel post, as Express Company are too rough in handling. Yours,—"

The signatunre is withheld.

As babies do not fall within the category of bees and bugs—the only live things allowed in the parcel post—the request must be refused.

Prince Albert on Cruise

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Prince Albert the second son of the King, who, according to recent reports, was about to visit the United States and Canada, will join the Duke of Cumberland on a sea-going ship to-morrow, and will make a cruise in the Canaries and the West Indies for six months.

Bulgarian Finances Are Satisfactory

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 17.—The Bulgarian Minister of Finance, T. Theodoroff, about whose mission to St. Petersburg there has been much mystery, declares that the purpose of his trip here and to other European capitals is to arrange for a Bulgarian loan after the war had ceased. The sum necessary, he says, would amount to more than 200,000,000 francs (approximately $40,000,000). The negotiations which had been arranged in Paris for the spring, have, he adds, been abandoned by the French bankets, who were opposed to the war. The results in St. Petersburg, however, have been satisfactory.

M. Theodoroff, who leaves to-day for Paris, speaking of the dispute between Romania and Bulgaria, points out that any cession of territory must be approved by the Bulgarian Parliament, and this is utterly impossible to secure for the cessions demanded by Roumania.

The Bulgarian army, he asserts, is able to hold its present positions before the lines of Tchataldja against an army three times as strong as that of the Turks. This statement is thought to be perhaps indicative of the Bulgarian intention merely to hold the Turks and allow Adrianople to fall.

For Drunken Chauffeurs

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—Governor Sulzer to-night signed as the first law of 1913 the Fitzgerald Bill, designed to make more stringent the punishment for intoxicated chauffeurs operating machines in violation of the motor vehicle law. It provides for a penalty of one year's imprisonment or a fine of $500, or both.

"I don't think we ought to countenance drunken chauffeurs," said the Governor in approving the measure. "Sober ones have hard work dodging pedestrians."

Winning Ticket On The Titanic

ROME, Jan. 17.—The Bank of Italy believes that the winning lottery tickets, first prize of 1,500,000 francs, was lost on the Titanic last April with a batch of other tickets which were sent to the United States on that vessel. All efforts to trace the holder of the ticket have been fruitless.

FIND TWO BODIES IN RUINS OF EDMONTON CONFLAGRATION

EDMONTON, Alta., Jan. 17.—Two bodies have been so far recovered from the ruins of the Italian boarding house crushed by falling walls in last night's frie. One is that of a woman, probably the wife of the proprietor, and the other that of a child.

It is believed there are two more bodies in the ruins, which are being searched by the firemen, and volunteers.

The firemen were unable to turn water on the blaze for more than an hour after the alarm was sounded as a result of frozen hydrants.

Over half a dozen firemen were overcome and Fireman A. Dutton is in the hospital badly injured, while Chief Lauder is out of commission.

The loss is now estimated at a quarter million.

The fire strated in the Braken Kerr Co., and spread to the Lechamber block before being brought under control.

The insurance on Braken Kerr loss totals $45,000.

Johnson Agrees To Fight Palzer For Championship

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Jack Johnson agreed to-day to fight Al Palzer in Paris for the world's championship on the night of June 25, the eve of the Grand Prix races.

Tom O'Rourke, Palzer's manager, announced this afternoon that he had received a telegram from Johnson in Chicago, accepting the terms offered by R. Lippe, an American now in Paris, arranging the match.

The terms provide that the winner shall receive 60 per cent. of the gate receipts, with a guarantee of $30,000.

Johnson's telegram follows: "Terms satisfactory. We will make arrangements when I see you in regard to pictures and transportation. Wire Lippe O. K. Thanks.

GUELPH, Jan. 17.—Eddie Johnstone, a Guelph boy, after scoring a success at Bologna, Italy, has been engaged for the Costanzzo Theatre, Rome, and will sing star roles with Battistini and Farnetti in Verdi's "Do Carlo" and Mascagni's "Isabeau." He has refused offers from Covent Garden, London, and Collon, Buenos Ayres, intending further study, and it is rumored in Rome that he will be engaged for La Scala, Milan, next autumn.

Mr. Jonhston's success during the past two years has been phenomenal, the city of Bologna presenting him with a statue of Venus and Psyche and a letter of thanks.

$43,000 For Assassin

BOMBAY, Jan. 17.—The Commissioner of police of Bombay is authorized to offer a reward of £3,333 for information leading to the arrest of the perpetrator of the bomb attack on Lord Hardinge.

This is the largest offer that has yet been made by the authorities.

In addition to the above offer, the Government of India has offered £1,000 reward, and the natives of Delhi and several Indian princes have subscribed £4,332, making a total of £8,665 which will be paid to the informer who causes the arrest of the assassin. Lord Hardinge is, according to a Reuter telegram from Delhi, still progressing favorably towards recovery.

Jewish Reporters Strike

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Reporters and other writers on the Jewish daily newspapers of the city to-day added another strike to the to the labor unrest. Editors-in-chief, city editors and even stockholders are gathering and writing the news for these papers and proprietors declare the editions will be issued as early as usual.

The strikers members of the Jewish Writers' Union, demanded a minimum wage scale of $25 weekly; an agreement that no reporter shall be forced to write more than three columns a day, and less blue-penciling of copy by the editors.

Stirring Scenes At Fire

MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—Several firemen were carried out overcome by smoke, District Chief Mann escaped death by inches when a great plank came crashing down upon a ladder upon which he was standing, and damage aggregating nearly $100,000 was caused by a fire which broke out this morning on Devizier Street.

The premises are occupied by the Canadian Tungsten Lamp Company and the MacCormick Biscuit Company, of London, Ont.

Elections In China

LONDON, Jan. 17.—A despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Pekin says the elections throughout the country are going against President Yuan Shih Kai in an overwhelming manner. They are all in favor of the Radical leaders in the south. A conflict is bound to occur when the new Parliament meets, and it may shake Pekin to its foundation.

First a Cold Then—Consumption

Catarrh Never Stops in the Nose or Throat, but Works Down to the Lungs.

Doctors Freely Recommend the Inhaling of "Catarrhozone"

An inflamed condition of the throat affords the necessary conditions to develop the germ of consumption. The medical world asserts positively that the infection of the majority of consumptives is caused in this way. For that reason we want you to know about Catarrhozone. It is a throat and lung healer made of balsamic and healing oils that possess the power of destroying the germs that maintain Catarrh. You know gargling does no good—it can only temporarily relieve; it cannot destroy the germs that cause the disease. Now, Catarrhozone is a medicine that you breathe to the very spots that are infected with disease germs. The air passing through the Catarrhozone Inhaler becomes laden with a healing germ-destroying vapor that quickly cures the worst case of Catarrhozone known.

Catarrhozone has been used in many lands for many years as the most successful, the most highly recommended most pleasant and efficient for disease of the respiratory passages the world knows. You can do nothing wiser today than buy Catarrhozone, fifteen minutes' use will prove how true every word of the above is. Complete outfit, guaranteed satisfactory and sufficient for three months' treatment, price $1.00, smaller size 50c, all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES.

Every member of the Belleville Pushers' Club was present last evening at the Y.M.C.A. for their regular meeting. The character of Abraham was discussed thoroughly and with profit. At the conclusion of the lesson Clifford Barragher invited the boys over to the restaurant across the street, where his mother, Mrs Barragher, entertained to the full. She treated them to a few dishes which Clifford had prepared. The boys all prophesied a great future for Cliff as a cook. After supper the president, Eric Wrightmeyer, along with Harry Sills, were initiated in royal order, and the class dispersed at 8 p.m. to meet next week at Jim Lindsay's.

The Belleville Alerts had their initial meeting last evening at the Y. M. C. A. The supper was great. The officers of the club are as follows: President Meecham Denyes; vice-president, Ernest Taylor; sec.-treas., Will Colling; teacher Mr. Marston. Mr. Marston invited the club to spend an evening next week at his home on Bridge street.

The Men's Meeting tomorrow will be in the hands of Mr. C. A. Macfarlane who has secured as speaker for the 4.15 meeting Rev. Mr. Clarke, pastor of the Tabernacle.

Rev. S. B. Hershey of Rochester was present at the Star Course attraction last night. He was so well pleased with the reader, Miss La Dell, that he arranged for several appearances of her company during next season in his territory.

Mr. Enos Bacon, who made a hit a week ago, has been secured for two evenings, Feb. 6th and 7th, when he will give, under the auspices of Dr. McCulloch's committee, two new programs.

An Auto Polo Game

What is thought to have been the first automobile polo game ever played was staged in Wichita, Kansas. Four stripped automobiles and eight men took part. An ordinary basketball was driven back and forth over the field, the object being to drive it between goal posts sixty yards apart. Carl Evans and Ross King, two race drivers, did the greater part of the playing. The game was played in three ten-minute periods and ended with the score a tie, 1 to 1. King's automobile turned a complete somersault in the air on one sharp turn, but was righted and he finished the game. No one was injured.

NO MORE DANDRUFF, FALLING HAIR, SCALP ITCH

Men and women—do you want a splendid head of luxuriant hair free from scalp itch and dandruff?

Do you want hair so bewitchingly radiant that it compels the admiration of all who see it?

WHY HESITATE?

An Offer That Involves No Risk For Those Who Accept It.

We are so positive our remedy will relieve constipation, that we offer to furnish it free of all costs if it fails.

Constipation is caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestines or descending colon. To expect relief you must therefore tone up and strengthen those organs and restore them to healthier activity.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. They are eaten like candy, and are particularly ideal for children. They act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They have a neutral action on the other organs or glands. They do not purge or cause any inconvenience whatever. They act to overcome chronic or habitual constipation and the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments. Try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Two sizes, 10c. and 25c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. J. S. McKeown.

Child Dies From Bite of Mad Dog

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 17.—Bitten by a stray dog on December 8, Alexandra the four-year-old daughter of John Kenn, an employee of the city gas works died this morning. She did not suffer the terrible agonies usually attributed to hydrophobia. She had been feverish, but in a conscious condition for the last 24 hours. She was not taken ill till last Saturday. Physicians pronounced it a case of hydrophobia, but the child had no convulsions. It is the first death from such a cause in St. Thomas. The dog, which the child attempted to stroke, and which bit her on the cheek, was never found, though several resembling it were put to death by the police.

WHAT WOMEN ARE SAYING ABOUT RESTORATONE TABLETS.

SIMCOE, ONT.,
OCTOBER 1ST, 1912.

"I came out from England four months ago, and owing partly to change in climate was in very poor health. The doctors told me I must give up all work and rest for two or three months. Some friends advised me to try RESTORATONE TABLETS, which I did and, instead of resting, I have been able to continue my work, gradually growing stronger each day. I cannot say too much in favor of RESTORATONE TABLETS."
MRS. M. GOODHEW.

What others say:—

183 BERGEN ST., BROOKLYN, N.Y.:— "I am now free from Indigestion and in excellent health." NELLIE SUTHERLAND.

249 WEST 21ST. ST., NEW YORK:— "Your RESTORATONE TABLETS have cured me of a long standing ailment peculiar to women." KATHRYN DOHERTY.

These are only a few of the many cases cured by

RESTORATONE TABLETS

These tablets are especially for that large class of the female sex who are in a delicate or chronic state of ill health. The great virtue of RESTORATONE TABLETS lies in their wonderful tonic effect on the blood and weakened organs, allowing each to perform its function as nature intended. RESTORATONE TABLETS are a reliable cure for Anaemia, Headache, Indigestion, Nervousness, and all female troubles and irregularities.

STORY OF "THE LOST PARADISE."

Some years ago, just outside of Boston, there lived a man named Andrew Knowlton. He had been a wild, irresponsible boy who had married young and had one daughter whom he idolized. Margaret Knowlton's character was seemingly molded like her happy-go-lucky fathers and her frivolous mothers. Until her 24th birthday everything ran smoothly. There was plenty of money and nothing but apparent happiness in the home. But there were times when Andrew Knowlton appeared harassed. His business manager became suspicious and when Knowlton finally mortgaged the iron works to buy a necklace for his daughter, old Fletcher gave him a strong raking over the coals.

There was at this time a young man named Reuben Warner, a product of the factory; a man whose father had been for time superintendent of the works, and had frequently met Margaret and loved her. One day, owing to her unconscious encouragement, he proposed marriage to her and was scornfully refused. A few moments before she had accepted Ralph Standish, who was a member of her social set, but a hard, disagreeable young man, whom her father had taken into partnership.

About this time young Warner discovered in an old diary, belonging to the deceased Dr. Standish, father to Ralph, a paragraph which proved that Warner was the real inventor of a wonderful dynamo which Andrew Knowlton had appropriated. The young man was resolved to keep this discovery to himself because of his love for Margaret, but when Standish tried to bring about reforms in the factory, finally precipitating a strike among the men, Warner in his excitement aroused in Margaret who had come over to see the iron works a suspicion that there had been a theft committed. Warner, upon Knowlton's refusal to grant higher wages, goes out with the strikers in spite of the commands of his employers and the pleas of Margaret. Then Warner determines to have his rights in regard to many matters and compels Knowlton to admit his guilt to young Standish. Margaret overhears some of the conversation and insists upon hearing the truth. The shock of learning of her doting father's dishonesty, and Standish's dictatorial manner causes her to break her engagement and then she sends for Reuben Warner. He has been so thoroughly humbled by her previous manner that he is slow to grasp the situation, and it is not until she tells him in three words that she loves him that he realizes the happiness in store for him. Everything is hushed up. Standish severs his business relations with Knowlton, and Warner is taken into the business.

The play, "The Lost Paradise," tells the story in a more interesting way and teaches a strong moral lesson.

THE IDENTICAL COMPANY.

The following telegram speaks for itself:

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 17, 1913.
R. F. Nallin, Mgr. Griffin's opera house, Belleville.

Will you please give your patrons the most positive assurance that they are going to get identically the same company and production of "Little Women" as presented by Mr. Wm. A. Brady to Toronto during Christmas week, to capacity audiences at every performance. This is a guaranteed attraction.

A. J. SMALL.

SOMETHING ABOUT "LITTLE WOMEN."

Very quaint and very simple was the costuming of the period in which "Little Women" was lived, and in which Louisa M. Alcott wrote her immortal story, and it has been the effort of all who had to do with the staging of the play—made by Marion de Forest from the familiar story—to keep accurately to the period.

When the curtain rises at Griffin's opera house on Tuesday evening next the audience will see reflected both in stage furnishings and stage costuming the fashions of the early sixties. The furniture is really old. The pictures are hung with the red cord and tassels of the war period and they are identical pictures used at that time.

Standards of Value.

A rich American wanted to buy valuable pictures by the square foot, but he found they were not sold that way. He was in the same position as a person who bought yeast cakes by size or weight, instead of considering the bread-making qualities. The Leigh-Smith Musical Company

As has been the case throughout the Star Course series at the Y.M.C.A., the attendance last night, attracted thither by the appearing of the Leigh-Smith Company, was very large, the seats and gallery being fully occupied. As will be seen by the following programme, the entertainment provided, entirely musical, was of a very refined nature, proving a rare treat to the assemblage. In Miss Alice Genevieve Smith, the harp soloist, too much praise cannot be given, her beautiful sensitive touch upon the wires bringing forth a harmony that held the listeners spell-bound. This young lady is a rare performer, and her repeated appearances in response to continued call was but an evidence of the close touch her instrument was brought to the hearts of all.

Mr. Harry Stuart Robinson as a violinist, was superb, his instrument responding to the expert handling of the artist in a melody of tone that was good to hear.

Then came that reader of readers, Marietta La Dell, several selections, among which were "An Abandoned Elopement," "His First Love," "The Christmas Home Coming," "What a Two Days Old Baby Thinks," and "Little Jack Horner" creating a hearty response that fairly shook the building. This lady is a thorough mistress of her art, and well worth hearing.

Finally, the quaint Miss Vera K. Mullin, singer and whistler, unique in her individuality, all that could be asked, her pretty voice attracting and fine execution creating a most favorable impression, while the bird like trills as a whistler were beautiful to hear.

The entertainment was a thorough treat throughout.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

DATE OF TRIAL FIXED

Michael McGraw who is charged with horse stealing, has been brought up before Judge Deroche and elected to be tried by His Honor. The date of trial was fixed for Monday the 27th inst. It is alleged that McGraw stole a horse from a Tyendinaga resident.

A SUCCESSFUL SERIES

The series of meetings which have been held in the Holloway Street Church for the past two weeks, proved most beneficial to the membership and all who attended. Good numbers have been present, and the spirit of a deep nature.

RECOUNT OF BALLOTS

A recount of the ballots for Messrs. J. L. Newton and J. E. Brown candidates for the Deputy Reeveship of Hungerford Township will take place. At a recent municipal election the vote was a tie, each securing 444. The clerk of the municipality who was invested with the right to cast the deciding ballot voted in favor of Mr. Brown and declared him elected. The application for a recount was made before Judge Deroche yesterday afternoon.

LOOKING FOR HIS MONEY

Mr. N. Armitage who resides in Tyendinaga Township, near the boundary of Hastings and Lennox County, was in the city to-day for the purpose of recoverying, if possible, $20 which he paid for a cutter which was sold to him and did not belong to the party who sold it. On Saturday last Mr. Armitage was in Napanee and bought the cutter in question from Walter Lasher, who claimed he owned it, whereas it belonged to Mr. John HcCoy of this city and was part of the outfit Lasher is charged with stealing.

WEDDING BELLS

BOYLE—ANDERSON

A marriage of much interest locally took place in Napanee, Thursday, when Miss Ethel Augusta, youngest daughter of Mrs. William Anderson, Barriefield, was united in marriage to Gordon George Boyle eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boyle, Belleville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Samuel Sellery. Miss Anderson was well-known here and was one of St. Marks' choir's most charming members, and has the best wishes of a large circle of friends. The young couple left immediately after the ceremony for western points. On their return they will reside in Belleville. —Kingston Standard.

McINTOSH BROS.

ARE YOU "AFRAID TO GO HOME IN THE DARK?"

Then why not have your front porch lighted so you can see what you're doing, and not have to creep into your own house like a burglar.

And speaking of burglars, a porch light makes one of the best protections against the visits of the man with the "jimmy." He does his best work in the dark, and an electric porch light (equipped with Holophane Reflector, of course) will discourage his efforts quicker than any burglar alarm.

If the porch light is the bane of the unwelcome guest, it is just as much a boon to the guest who is welcome. It is a promise of hospitality within and makes the visitor glad he has come. And when the porch light is equipped with Holophane Glass, the light is subdued yet of sufficient intensity to make reading in the open air a pleasure.

Whether there is electricity in your house or not, an electric light with a Holophane Reflector should be on your front porch.

May we not send a representative to call on you?

THE VALUE OF BARGAIN SALES

The Kingston Whig is apparently worried over the expressions of a pulpit orator, last Sunday, who seemed to see in the advertisements of some men that which seriously reflected upon their selfishness and asks its readers the question: "Is there anything improper, imprudent, or immoral about bargain sales?" We have no means of knowing why the worthy divine broke away upon the subject—possibly because he or some of his family were unfortunate in their dealings—but in a general sense, and under honorable conditions, the practice is to us an evidence of enterprise on the part of our merchants to keep their shelves clear of antiquation, giving their stocks a freshness and beauty which only quick sales can govern. In the discount sales of our local merchants since the holidays, and in fact throughout the year, our people have profited by the excellent values received, and the stocks, which would otherwise have created a congested condition in the stores, have been greatly reduced, thus making room for the newest patterns obtainable. As, undoubtedly in Kingston, Belleville is blessed with many honorable business men, who hold the patronage of the people by giving good value for money received, and inviting all to participate in the benefits of frequent bargain sales, necessitated by increased stock. To take up The Whig's argument:

> "Bargain sales, such as are advertised in the Kingston and Toronto (and we might add in Belleville) papers, are not illegal and do not suggest the use of questionable methods in our business men. A visitor to England has commented on the integrity and honesty and fair play which characterize the tradesman in his dealings with the people. When he says a piece of nice cloth is all wool his word can be taken. When he measures out a yard of something he gives the measure at both ends. Thus the spirit that dominates in the draper's, dominates in the grocer's, and is apparent in the municipal and national life of the people.
>
> "Jocularly it has been declared that some of our merchants, or perhaps their hirelings, water their liquors and sand their sugar, but in advertising their goods for sale they must redeem their promises. If they did not what would happen? They would lose their business, and they would deserve to lose it. It is the part of good business to get rid of certain stock at a sacrifice or a loss. It does not pay to carry over unseasonable goods. They will go no depreciating in value, and the business realizes this, and before it is too late announces a clearing sale, perhaps at a financial loss.
>
> "The fact that two men may advertise the same products, and at practically the same prices, is not an evidence of irregularity or business folly. It marks, if anything, the keenest in the competition and shows how the minds of business men sometimes follow the same line of reasoning, and manifest this by their decisions. Only this and nothing more."

A Belleville merchant, controlling a large trade, respected far and wide for his honorable dealing, recently declared to an Intelligencer representative that his sacrifice sales were profitable in the end, in that he was able to keep his stock down, freshen it frequently, and benefit his patrons, whose appreciation was evidenced in their continued trade. Yes, honorable bargain sales are "proper, prudent and moral," and if conducted in Kingston as in Belleville are legitimate inducements for public patronage.

LET US BE PATIENT

Hon Mr. Pugsley makes out a most convincing case for the Laurier policy, for a Canadian navy, built in Canada, and manned and maintained by Canada. If the people in this country could vote on this question, free from politics, they would undoubtedly favor the plan under which Canada would build up a great industry, and makes its full strength really effective in co-operation with the British fleet. —St. John Telegraph.

Will The Telegraph please stand up and tell us when Canada can equip a shipyard for the building of such Dreadnoughts as are called for? These ships should be built at one, and we have not the facilities for constructing them within—the Lord only knows when. The Mother country is more than willing that we should do our own building when we are in a position to turn out creditable work within a reasonable period. She will turn in to us such work as we are capable of doing, until we arrive at a state of mechanical perfection calling for the highest grade of production. But until we reach that point we should be satisfied with the minor orders, growing up gradually to the top step of the ladder. The country calls for the best; we are not as yet in a position to produce them; the better method is to give England the order, as provided in the Borden policy, and then establish our own constructive plant for future operation. It is the safer plan to begin at the bottom and work up than to start at the top and—find ourselves unexpectedly at the bottom. As to the manning of the three ships, will The Telegraph undertake the task of collecting suitable men by the time they are floated? With the present prosperous condition of our country he would find 99 out of 100 with a preference for land occupations, while England has her trained men ready for service.

Naturally, the port of St. John, having the nucleus for a shipbuilding plant, with a dozen or so men employed, The Telegraph is anxious for its enlargement. This desire will be realized in time if our confrere is patient. But at present it is in its infancy, and must grow much before it can shoulder up to the nations of the world.

As for going to the people "free from politics," in such case The Telegraph would undoubtedly be treated to an eye opener, as on Sept. 21, 1911.

DOES BRITAIN WANT THE OPIUM TRADE?

Not very long ago there was a statement in The Times of London, England, that in spite of China's avowed policy of suppressing opium production, the fields of China were today aflame with poppies. Then came an official statement in the House of Commons that China had "signally failed" to carry her anti-opium policy into effect. This was news to many who thought they were in touch with the situation, and there was a general call to the missionaries to give the facts as they saw them. These have been readily forthcoming, and the general testimony is that while, in a few more remote sections, the unrest incident to the revolution gave opportunity for the illicit growth and use of opium, the new Government officials are proving themselves even more zealous in the suppression of the traffic than were the old ones. So far as can be determined by the evidence at hand, China is honestly endeavoring to destroy the opium evil. But another difficulty has arisen of which we are heartily ashamed. Certain British merchants claim the right to import opium into treaty ports, and have been doing so. But the Chinese claim the right to arrest the Chinamen who purchase this opium, and now the British opium merchants, realizing that their craft is in danger, are insisting that the Chinese have no right to arrest their own subjects for purchasing British opium, and they propose suing the Chinese Government for heavy damages. We trust that the end will be the utter and inglorious defeat of these most ill-advised British merchants. We thought the day had wholly passed when British merchants would try to force such a traffic upon an unwilling nation. One thing seems pretty well assured, that, treaty or no treaty, the British Government will never again fight the battles of the opium merchants.

A MAN WHO KNOWS

Says GIN PILLS Are Good For Pain In The Back

WHEN your grocer tells you he uses a certain tea in his own home, you feel pretty sure it's good tea.

And when a prominent druggist takes GIN PILLS for his own Backache, you can feel quite sure there is nothing else quite so good.

Winnipeg, May 19th, 1912.

"In the autumn of 1911, I suffered with a continual pain in the back. As a druggist, I tried various remedies without any apparent results. Having sold GIN PILLS for a number of years, I thought there must be good in them, otherwise the sales would not increase so fast. I gave them a fair trial and the results I find to be good".

GEO. E. ROGERS.

GIN PILLS have well earned the confidence which druggists, as well as the public, have in them. For years they have been relieving the pain of Rheumatism, Lumbago and Kidney Troubles generally, and changing tortured cripples into strong, supple men and women.

Why should you go on suffering when there is a remedy so easily obtained and so reliable? GIN PILLS cost but 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. Money back if they do not help you. Sample free if you write National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto. 150

SMALL CHANCE FOR TURKEY

If the war in the Balkans is to be resumed, the allies will have every advantage, provided they are content to limit the purpose of the fighting to those objects for which they have been contending at the peace conference. Of course, if they attempt to take Constantinople, the result may be somewhat doubtful. The capture of a great fortified city, even when indifferently defended, is a difficult matter. Paris succumbed to the powerful German army only through starvation. Constantinople could not be starved without a superior naval force in the Black Sea, where the allies have no navy, and an army on the Asiatic side of the Bosphorous, where the allies hardly could venture without strong naval support.

But if it is a question merely of capturing Adrianople, Scutari and Janina, it can be only a matter of a few weeks or months before these places will have to yield unless the Turks can take the offensive and go to their relief. Adrianople, in particular, was on the verge of starvation when the armistce began. The task of the Turks is to move out from behind the Tchatalja lines, reconques the country from which they have retreated and drive the Bulgarians away from Adrianople. But the Bulgarians have fortified themselves in front of the Tchatalja lines, and it is hardly possible that the Turks who fled before them in the open field could now drive them out of entrenched positions.

If the war is renewed, it probably will be more on account of political conditions in Constantinople than as a result of military judgment.

CURRENT COMMENT

Hugh will be given ample time to consider another method of unity before this theory is adopted. It savors too much of a one-man machine.

According to the Montreal Gazette Joseph Kirwin, serving a life sentence in prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, has appealed for a pardon on the ground that the proverbial seven-year change of tissues of the body has cured him of the crime mania that brought him into court on charges of piracy on the Great Lakes and smothering a young woman to death. His explanation is not a good one. Opponents of his release may use his own argument and say that his body is again undergoing a change which would not guarantee the safety of the law-abiding if he were free. The new bodily development might be worse than the old.

Do You Feel Moody, Irritable, Depressed

When That Languid, Laggy, Easily-Tired Feeling Comes, Your Liver is Slow.

Tells How To Cure Quickly.

"Even when I was young I was not robust and healthy like other girls. I suffered from headaches and had sort of blue feelings that deprived me of the joyful spirits and pleasures other girls seemed to get. After I married I found I could not throw worries off like other women, and those full feelings of despondency and weariness made me very unhappy. There was no cause to feel so, and my doctor said my liver was sluggish, and this accounted for my poor color, my tiredness, langour and despair. The pills the doctor gave me were too purgative, made me weaker because they were too active for my constitution. Dozens of my friends recommended Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and they were so mild and helpful. Well, I never used a pill that acted so quietly as Dr. Hamilton's. They were so comfortable to use, I was afraid they might not help. But in a week I knew they had been actively engaged in cleaning up my system. They did the work of a tonic and blood medicine combined. I improved to a marvellous degree with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and I now maintain the most perfect kind of health by using them just once or twice a week."

It is Mrs. E. V. Erlanger, well known at Gloucester, who relates the above experience. She proved what you and all others, men and women, can prove—that Dr. Hamilton's Pills are best for restoring health and best for keeping the system in perfect running order. Don't be misled into using anything but Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. a box, five for $1.00, at all druggists and storekeepers, or postpaid by the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Alexander the Great.

Alexander succeeded to the throne of Macedonia in his twenty first year. He died at the age of thirty-two. Thus in the space of about twelve years the young soldier had brought the Greek states into submission, crushed Darius and his million of Persians and crossed the Indus and defeated the Indian king Porus. Alexander was not merely a brutal conqueror, but tried to weld the various countries into a solid empire.

Excellent Plan.

"I see," said Mrs. De Jones while Mrs. Van Tyle was calling, "that you have a Chinese chauffeur. "Do you find him satisfactory?"

"He's perfectly fine," said Mrs. Van Tyle. "To begin with, his yellow complexion is such that at the end of a long, dusty ride he doesn't show any spots, and then when I am out in my limousine I have his pigtail stuck through a little hole in the plate glass window, and I use it as a sort of bell-rope to tell him where to stop."—Harper's Weekly.

Memory.

"I remember, I remember the house where I was born"—
But forget to mail the letters friend wife gives me each morn.
I remember Grover Cleveland's first inaugural address,
But at my own street number I can only wildly guess.
I remember books and plays and songs—oh, very well, indeed!—
But not to buy the shoestrings that I chronically need.
I remember dim traditions of the ancient tribes of men,
But never, never can I think to fill my fountain pen.
I remember the beatitudes, the decalogue I mind,
But the family alarm clock I never think to wind.
So with a memory like this that clings to abstract things
One's apt to crown one's cabbages and eat one's bloomin' kings!

CITY OF BERLIN -- CANADA

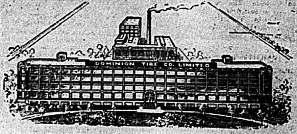
One of the Most Important Manufacturing Centres of Ontario

The Little German Settlement of 1855 Now a Thriving City of 25,000 Inhabitants

In 1855 Berlin was composed of 400 inhabitants, principally Pennsylvania German farmers. In those early days it supported a Lutheran meeting house, a post office, a German newspaper, a physician, a lawyer, three stores, a brewery and two taverns.

In 1912 Berlin became a city, with a community of 25,000. No city of its size on the continent of North America contains so many up-to-date factories, such seething energy and brainy well-equipped men for their government. Its varied manufactures require the best skilled artisans and mechanics. This class of labor is peculiar to this city, and another gratifying condition found in Berlin is that over 70% of its inhabitants own their own homes.

Although Berlin has several large rubber companies, yet another one is rapidly bringing its new factory to completion. The Dominion Tire Company, Limited, with a capital of $1,000,000, will, in a few months, open its doors to skilled workmen for the manufacture of "Dominion" Automobile Tires.



The Factory will be the last word in building, machinery and equipment.

Forty acres of land are necessary for the present and early future requirements of this great undertaking. The main building is of steel and concrete, has dimensions of 432 by 90 feet, 5 storeys including basement, each floor has a depth of 17 feet, the "all-daylight" windows are on every side, and the operatives will be flooded with the light of day.

Niagara Hydro-Electric, and also steam power will be used. Electricity equal to 1,500 horse power will be necessary to start the wheels revolving. Every mill and every calender will be brand new, and of the very latest pattern.

The motors will be supplied by the Canadian General Electric Co., Limited. The Transformers by the Canadian Westinghouse Company, Limited. The boilers by the Babcock and Wilcox Co. Jones Underfeed Stokers and Economizers will also be found in the power house, which will have no equal in Canada.

The Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Railways will each have their sidings, thus ensuring prompt shipment of goods, both inward and outward.

Realizing that ideal conditions are conducive to the best work, the Company has instructed Mr. Albert Kahn, the noted architect of Detroit, to harmonize both the external and internal arrangements of the Factory, so that this result may be attained, and that each workman employed will have every incentive to give the best that is in him to the service of the Company. Both the interior and exterior will be finished in a way to delight an artist, and it will certainly be appreciated by the citizens of Berlin.

And why all this expense? Why all this extreme care? For the reason that the Company realizes that everything in connection with the putting together of Automobile Tires must be perfect, and unless "Dominion" Tires are as complete in construction and finish as a watch, they will not be put out for sale.

There never was in the history of commerce such a demand made on the manufacturer as that made by the consumer of pneumatic rubber tires. The "best" regardless of price is what the owner of every car demands. A cheap tire is not admissible, and can only bring disaster on both the manufacturer and the consumer.

The Dominion Tire Company's output will find a ready sale. What the price will be is not yet known, but there can be no doubt that the keen competent men who will direct the destinies of this important Company will furnish the public with a tire that is all right and unexcelled in point of appearance and durability.

The Canadian Consolidated Rubber Company, Limited, will be the sole selling agent and distributor for "Dominion" Tires.

HOCKEY.

THREE STRAIGHT DEFEATS.

TORONTO, Jan. 17.—While the University of Toronto juniors were winning their second consecutive game last night the Parkdale Canoe Club youngsters were sustaining their third consecutive defeat. The teams met at the Arena and the Blue and White won by 5 to 4 after a fast, hard-checking game, in which the play was very even. The Paddlers lined up as in their game with Toronto Canoe Club, showing a number of good individuals, but no hockey team, and they played no combination.

OSHAWA AT WHITBY.

WHITBY, Jan. 17.—The Oshawa juniors, accompanied by about 900 admirers came to Whitby last night, and took away the scalps of the local youngsters. The ice was very heavy, and the superior weight and strength of the Oshawa players told greatly against the lighter Whitby team. The score to within five minutes of half-time stood 1 to 0 in favor of Whitby. Then the locals lost their steam, and the final result showed 6 to 1 in favor of Oshawa.

VARSITY BEAT BOSTON.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 17—The University of Toronto team showed a decided reversal of hockey form tonight and consequently took the measure of the Boston A. A. seven at the Arena. The score was 8 to 4. The contest was somewhat similar to the former meeting between the two combinations, but this time it was the Canadians and not Boston who came through with the driving finish.

THE O. H. A. WEEK'S PROGRAM.

The O.H.A. games scheduled for the remainder of this week are as follows:

Saturday.

Senior—Kingston v. University of Toronto at Toronto; Midland at Simcoes at Toronto.

Intermediate—Port Hope at Trenton.

Junior—Toronto C. C. v. University of Toronto at Toronto.

PRESTON JR.'S BEAT WATERLOO.

WATERLOO, Jan. 17.—The Waterloo junior O.H.A. team opened up the season here last night by losing to Preston juniors by 7 to 3. The half-time score was one all. The mild condition of the weather made the ice very heavy and fast hockey was a scarce article.

A VICTORY FOR AYR.

AYR, Jan. 17.—In the O.H.A. intermediate series game played here last night between New Hamburg and Ayr, the home team won by a score of 5 to 4. The home team were superior in combination play.

The only games played in the O.H.A. last night was an intermediate one between Dunnville and Hamilton, resulting 5 to 4 in favor of Dunnville, and a junior game in which Upper Canada beat St. Michael's by 10 to 6.

Richardson, Van Horne and Powell, three Frontenac veterans, have turned out with the Kingstonians and may be used against the University of Toronto on Saturday.

Gustin and Mohan of the Hamilton Alerts are out with the Tecumsehs. They ought to add speed to the Indian forward line, and that is what it needs.

Paris defeated Guelph Victorias by 30 to 1 in an intermediate O.H.A. game played at Paris Wednesday night.

Tecumsehs have offered Frechette, Mohan, Langman and Hunt for Laviolette of Canadiens.

Several O.H.A. games have had to be postponed this week on account of lack of ice.

There is some talk of changing the Quebec N.H.A. franchise to Hamilton.

"Beulah" Davidson has yielded and will play for Parkdale seniors.

BASEBALL.

"DICK" HAS SIGNED AS UMPS.

"Dick" Nallin has signed his contract for 1913, to act in the capacity of umpire in the International League circuit, which embraces Toronto, Montreal, Buffalo, Providence and other points.

Mr. Nallin's Belleville friends, while regretting to lose his genial company, will congratulate him upon his appointment.

CHAMPION OF ALL CHAMPIONS.

The revised records of the American league tell some particular interesting stories. In all departments of the game pitching, batting and base-running, 1912 produced stars whose performances were truly record-breaking. But amid all the scintillating deeds of her greatest players baseball has more cause to glory in the remarkable feat of her champion batter, Ty. Cobb.

Last year the sporting world was startled by the reappearance of the .400 hitter. This phenomenal average has long since been relegated to the discards, and old-time fans thought of the batting averages of Pop Anson and Ed. Delehanty as deeds of revered memory, whose like would never be seen again. Batters as great as any of the old champions would come, no doubt, but the development of pitching science and, above all, the introduction of the foul strike rule, were too heavy handicaps to be overcome. So it was with no little degree of amazement that the authorities noted the wonderful burst of speed which carried Ty Cobb and his closest rival, Joe Jackson, across the seemingly impossible .400 mark.

At the beginning of this season Joe Jackson told me in a long conversation that he felt certain no player this year would attain that phenomenal record. .300 was, according to Joe, about the limit of human endurance, all things considered. But the Cleveland star was wrong. He himself by a wonderful spurt came within five points of the fabulous mark, scoring the truly gigantic average of .395. But Ty Cobb, still wholly unrivalled, passed again well beyond the margin, and at the close of the season has piled up to his favor the phenomenal average of .410.

Ty Cobb has been heaped with honors. He has won substantial prizes as the batting champion and as the greatest of all-around players. He needs no prizes today to make his renown secure. It is only necessary to say that for the last four years his average has ranged from .420 to .377, and that his average for the four years is .398. In other words, for four continuous years of the hardest kind of service, in which his energies have been taxed as those of no other player in the game (for more is expected of Cobb than of anyone else, and he must always live up to this high reputation), his grand average has only fallen two points below the .400 mark. There is only one man who could possibly improve such a record or even equal it. His name is Ty Cobb. —Baseball Magazine.

OTTAWA NOW HAS SHAUGHNESSY

OTTAWA, Jan. 17—Frank Shaughnessy, the successful coach of the McGill football team, will manage the Ottawa team next summer in the Canadian League. Shaughnessy is president of the Ottawa club, and his home is here, but Claude Varnell, owner of the Fort Wayne club, endeavored to hold him, and it was feared until yesterday that the negotiations for his transfer would not be successful, but word was received tonight that Varnell had decided to allow Shaughnessy to remain in Ottawa.

TO HAVE CHARGE OF BERLINERS.

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—The directors of the Twin City Athletic Association have secured a contract from "Jo-Jo" Keenan of London, who played third base for Hamilton last year, to manage the Berlin team this season. He will have complete control and no time will be lost in sending out contracts to members of last season's team under reserve.

KINGSTON, Jan. 17.—The bonspiel arranged by the Kingston Ladies' Curling Club was called off owing to the continued thaw. The 'spiel was to have opened Wednesday afternoon and continued till Friday night. Montreal, Toronto and Peterboro' ladies in attendance were greatly disappointed. They were entertained at luncheon on Thursday at the rink and at a bridge at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Givens on Thursday night.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE SOLVES THE PROBLEM RF GOOD HAIR

After Prof. Sabouraud confirmed the germ origin of dandruff, science was confronted by a new problem which was not solved until the discovery of Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide being the first successful preparation compounded in harmony with this new theory, becomes the original remedy to kill the dandruff germ.

Since then, numerous preparations said to be "just as good" as Herpicide have been thrown upon the market; others have adopted Herpicide claims, and without making any change in their remedies, but none have ever reached the same degree of popularity. Everywhere this remedy is recognized as the one genuine dandruff germ destroyer. As a result Herpicide has more satisfied users than all other hair preparations combined.

Being the original remedy, users expect more astonishing results from Herpicide than they would look for from any other preparation and they usually get them. So wonderful has been the success of this germicide that it has now recognized as the standard hair remedy of the world.

Herpicide kills the dandruff germ, checks falling hair. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c. and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Applications may be obtained at the good barber shops. Insist on having real Herpicide. Send 10c. in postage for sample and book to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

MARKET REPORTS

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Local grain markets declined again today, while provisions gained slightly. At its best today wheat was nearly a cent under yesterday's top and generally ruled under the previous close. A report of 30 loads sold at Manitoba and Duluth for export helped the early price to the highest of the session, but this gain was only momentary. Prices slumped heavily on moisture in the winter wheat country, indifferent cables, an easy spot market and a private estimatethat the Argentine will have 160,000,000 bushels to export to Europe. Exports from that country continue on a huge scale. The northwest freely offered to arrive here at the opening of navigation at 1-2c under May.

The Liverpool market closed unchanged to ¼d lower on wheat and unchanged to ¼d lower on corn. Antwerp wheat closed 1¼c lower, Berlin ¼c lower, and Budapest ⅜c lower.

Lumbago Cured Every Ache Gone

Thousands Still Suffering That Can Be Quickly Cured by "Nerviline."

THE CASE OF HAROLD P. BUSHY.

"Three years ago I discovered that a man subject to lumbago might just as well be dead as alive." These words open the sincere, straightforward letter of H. P. Bushy, a well-known man in the plumbing and tinsmithing business.

"One attack came after another, and lumbago got to be a chronic thing with me. I could scarcely get in a day's work before that knifing cruel pain would attack my back. I used a gallon of liniments; not one of them seemed penetrating enough to get at the core of the pain. I read in the Montreal Witness about Nerviline, and got five bottles. It is a wonderful medicine—I could feel its soothing, pain-relieving action every time it was applied. When I got the disease under control with Nerviline, I built up my strength and fortified my blood by taking Ferrozone at meals. This treatment cured me permanently, and I urge everyone to give up the thick, white oily liniments they are using, and try an up-to-date, penetrating, pain-destroyer like Nerviline.

"Please publish my letter the world over. I want all to hear of Nerviline."

Don't be cajoled into receiving anything from your dealer but "Nerviline." Large family size bottles 50c., trial size 25c., all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

MONTREAL MARKET.

MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—Business in Manitoba wheat and barley over the cable was much quieter, owing to the easier markets for the former at American and Canadian centres and the fact that bids were ½d to 3d lower. The local trade in coarse grains was also quieter. Flour steady, with a fair demand. Millfeed quiet. Butter and cheese steady. Eggs unsettled and easier, owing to mild weather.

ROWELL AT PRINCETON

Liberal Leader Opens Crusade For Land Taxation.

He Declares That the Right to Lighten the Assessment on Improvements Is Now Being Demanded on Every Side—A Question of the First Magnitude Since Bill Was Rejected by Committee.

PRINCETON, Ont., Jan. 18.—A large audience of farmers attended a meeting at the opera house here to hear N. W. Rowell, K.C., Opposition leader in Ontario, expound the principles of his proposed assessment law.

Mr. Rowell stated that the complete rejection of the Rowell-Ellis assessment bill by the special committee had raised an issue in the province of first magnitude.

"What is the situation which faces us? The municipalities of this province must each year raise by taxation the revenues to provide for the municipal services for the year. The municipalities determine the amount to be raised, and the Legislature determines the method of raising. The demand of the municipalities is simply for a form of local option as to the method of raising this revenue. Surely this is a reasonable request."

"The more you tax the products of industry," he declared, the more you increase the cost of production and distribution. The more you thereby increase the cost of living to the average man, the harder you make it for him, and in this vast land of wealth you have no right to place any restrictions upon it. Yet to-day we are confronted, particularly in our large cities, with land prices absolutely beyond the reach of the working men," he declared. "This, coupled with the high price of food products, creates acute conditions under which the workmen have to exist. In many of the cities acres and acres of land are held up for speculation, and the securing of high profits, due not to the owner's enterprise, but that of their neighbors.

As to the declining rural population he stated the Government was only just beginning to appreciate the serious import of such a decline with its consequent reduction of supply and rise in prices. The Ontario Government was spending hundreds of thousands of dollars every year to encourage farmers to improve their farms so as to make life on the farm more remunerative and comfortable, but the system of taxation penalized the good work done, because the more the farmer improved and increased the productivity of the farm, the higher went his assessment.

"It is not an issue between us and the Conservative party," concluded Mr. Rowell. "The progressives in the Conservative party are up to us in this fight. Some of them have been pioneers in this department, and to them all credit is due for putting such a great cause above tame submission to the party whip. The real fight is between the forces of progress and those of stagnation and reaction, and with such fight there can be but one issue. Our cause is bound to win. The stars in their courses are fighting for us, the forces of progress are everywhere carrying the field."

Reporters In Error.

COOKSTOWN, Jan. 18.—Hon. Jas. Duff speaking with regard to the tax reform question at the annual meeting of the Liberal-Conservative Association of South Simcoe, held in Cookstown yesterday, stated that some papers had erred in reporting the answer of Sir James Whitney to the deputation, which recently waited upon the Ministers. He stated that it was the intention of the Government to try the scheme of sending out circulars to the various assessors giving full instructions regarding the present law. By thoroughly acquainting each official with the regulations of the act, he believed that all trouble would be eliminated. If this did not prove satisfactory, then the Government would consider the revising of the act.

BRANDT PARDONED.

Notorious New York Case Is Settled by Governor Sulzer.

ALBANY, N.Y., Jan. 18.—Governor Sulzer yesterday pardoned Folke E. Brandt on the ground that his sentence of thirty years for burglary in the home of Mortimer L. Schiff of New York City, was excessive.

At the request of Governor Sulzer, Attorney-General Carmody made a statement in which he said he favored Brandt's pardon, "not as a matter of mercy, but as a matter of justice." He criticized the procedure through which Brandt was tried and sentenced.

Mr. Carmody declared that the governor's action wiped out a "blot on the judiciary of the state," and shows "that there isn't anything that can defeat the end of justice."

It was stipulated by Governor Sulzer in pardoning Brandt that he is not to accept a theatrical engagement and must not in future reflect upon the character of anyone.

Bard o' Glen Erie Dead.

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Jan. 18.—John Wilson Robertson, 70 years of age, born in Carolside West Lodge, Berwickshire, Scotland, for 22 years a resident of Fort William, died yesterday from heart failure.

Robertson was known as the Bard o' Glen Erie, and had earned quite a reputation as a poet.

MEN-YOU NEED NERVE

EARLY INDISCRETIONS AND EXCESSES HAVE UNDERMINED YOUR SYSTEM

Wonderful Nervous System

The nerves control all actions of the body so that anything that debilitates them will weaken all organs of the system. Early Indiscretions and Excesses have ruined thousands of promising young men. Unnatural Drains sap their vigor and vitality and they never develop to a proper condition of manhood. They remain weaklings, mentally, physically and sexually. How you feel? Are you nervous and weak, despondent and gloomy, specks before the eyes with dark circles under them, weak back, kidneys irritable, palpitation of the heart, bashful, debilitating dreams, sediment in urine, pimples on the face, eyes sunken, hollow cheeks, careworn expression, poor memory, lifeless, distrustful, lack energy and strength, tired mornings, restless nights, changeable moods, premature decay, bone pains, hair loose, etc.

This is the condition our New Method Treatment is GUARANTEED TO CURE

Hon. Mr. Burrell Provides Big Grant For Agriculture.

Resolution Is Introduced In Commons To Vote Largest Sum In History of Dominion—Naval Debate Is Resumed—Dr. Pugsley Contends That Canadian Navy Is Possible at Present—Sam Sharpe's View.

OTTAWA, Jan. 18.—Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, last night gave notice of a bill which he will introduce providing that the large sum of ten million dollars be appropriated for the purpose of aiding agriculture.

The resolution will be introduced in the House next week, and is as follows:

"That it is expedient to provide that a sum not exceeding ten million dollars be appropriated and paid out of the consolidated revenue fund of Canada during the period of ten years, beginning with the year ending March 31, 1914, for the purpose of aiding and advancing the farming industry by instruction in agriculture, including the work carried on by veterinary colleges.

This is the largest lump sum ever proposed for aid to agriculture in the history of Canada, is an elaboration of the "federal aid to agriculture" bill introduced by the Government last session, and a fulfilling of the pledges made by the Conservatives, while in opposition. It is understood that the money is to be spent in co-operation with the provinces, and that a number of agricultural colleges will be erected throughout the country. Mr. Burrill's announcement, when introducing such an important measure, is awaited with the keenest anticipation.

The speakers in the debate yesterday were: Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Mr. Morphy, Mr. Gauthier, Liberal member for St. Hyacinthe, and Major Sharpe.

Dr. Pugsley, after reviewing the history of the Laurier Naval Act and its results, said the Conservative argument that Canada could not build an adequate fleet was fallacious.

Dr. Pugsley said there was every reason to believe that shipbuilding would be carried on on this continent at as low a cost as in Britain or any other country. That was shown by the fact that when Argentine two years ago invited the builders of the world to tender for the construction of two Dreadnoughts the contracts went to American builders, though the builders of Britain and of Germany had competed for the order. In Canada recently the Collingwood Shipbuilding Co. had underbidden British firms and had secured an order for the construction of a vessel for the Canadian Government.

Even if it cost more to build in Canada, would it not be worth the extra cost to secure the establishment of a great industry in this country? Would a few millions be too much for this? Shipbuilding was about the only industry which was not favored by the Canadian tariff with protection. There was no duty charged to bring into Canada British-built ships or parts of ships for repairs. The people of Canada paid taxes for the clothes they wore, the implements they used, and, in many cases, for the food they ate. Was it right that any form of aid should be denied the establishment of a shipbuilding industry? Hon. Mr. Hazen said he longed for the day when shipbuilding should be re-established in Canada. Well, the way to establish shipbuilding was to begin, and not to hope or talk about it.

The Conservatives claimed that it would be impossible to get in Canada men for the Canadian navy. Admiral Kingsmill did not hold this view. In his report he had pointed out that the fact that the continuance of the service was not assured had interfered with getting the men. The admiral had also said that the large number of desertions by men who had enlisted was due to the fact that most of them came from inland points and were not accustomed to sea life. They had found it uncongenial. The admiral had further stated that no effort had been made to enlist men from among the fishing population of the Dominion, but that when that effort was made plenty of suitable men would enlist.

The House had better wait and see what the Government's permanent policy was to be, said Mr. Morphy (North Perth). Without knowledge of what is to come in this respect, we know there will be a permanent Canadian policy, and if Britain rules the seas what is the use of a Canadian navy? The British navy can look after us. The argument for a Canadian navy comes down to the idea of inculcating shipbuilding in the Maritime Provinces. And even this is met, because the Admiralty indicate that they will build certain vessels in Canada with Canadian workmen and Canadian material.

Mr. L. J. Gauthier of St. Hyacinthe maintained the loyalty of French-Canadians in Quebec, and their readiness to do their part in manning and maintaining a Canadian navy, to be at the service of the Empire in any time of stress. The Borden policy, he said, was unsound and was engineered for political purposes.

Major Sam Sharpe of North Ontario reminded the House that no private member was authorized to disclose the future policy of the Government.

"I myself hope," he said, "that the permanent policy will be a Canadian navy, but I stand where I stood in 1910 when I voted for the Monk amendment, which required the whole question to be submitted to a plebiscite. Just now I favor not two, three or four Dreadnoughts, but whatever is required to meet the demand of the hour. Any permanent policy in my opinion should not be entered upon unless by a referendum."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

PREPARING ANSWER.

U. S. Reply To Panama Protest To Be Ready In a Few Days.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The preparation of the State Department's answer to the British protest against the exemption of American coastwise shipping from tolls in the Panama Canal, is advancing rapidly, and unless some unforeseen obstacle is encountered the document will go forward by mail to the American embassy in London within a few days.

Following the precedent established by Sir Edward Grey in requiring the British Ambassador in Washington to read his protest to Secretary Knox, the latter official will instruct Mr. Laughlin, the secretary and charge of the American embassy in London, to read his answer to Sir Edward Grey at the Foreign Office. Allowing for the usual delays, this communication can scarcely be made to the British Government much before the end of the present month. That would allow but one month and a few days in which the present administration could deal with this question, hence the inference is unavoidable that unless there should be a complete change of front by one side or the other all that can be accomplished before March 4 will be a slight advancement of the arguments in the case.

There is reason to believe that such is now the sole aim of this administration, and that its latest note will be devoted to the effort to eliminate from the discussion all issues not absolutely pertinent, and to establish by mutual agreement certain facts as a basis either for an adjustment of the issue directly between the two countries, or for the drafting of an arbitration agreement under the terms of the existing treaty with Great Britain, which would carry the controversy to The Hague tribunal. In either case it is felt the State Department will have escaped the charge of having purposely delayed the negotiations, for the work accomplished will be of substantial benefit to the incoming administration in dealing with the case.

NEARLY KILLS WIFE.

Russell County Farmer Beats Her With a Hammer.

CLARENCE CREEK, Ont., Jan. 18.—While in a fit of insanity William Gauthier, aged 65, a farmer of Orient, in Russell County, ten miles from Ottawa, a village four miles from here, made a savage attempt to kill his wife with a hammer by striking her several blows on the head. He evidently thinking her dead when she fell unconscious to the floor, killed himself immediately after by cutting his throat with a razor.

Mrs. Gauthier now lies in a precarious condition at her home.

The only witness of what really happened besides the two principles was their little three-year-old grandson. According to the story told by Mrs. Gauthier, she was sitting sewing at a table in the dining-room. The child was playing in the room when he gave a cry of warning, and, looking around, she saw her husband behind her with a razor in one hand and a hammer in the other.

Before she could move he hit her twice over the head, and she fell off the chair.

For some time Gauthier had been acting strangely, but it was not thought he was in such a state of insanity to warrant sending him to the asylum.

BIG SMOKESTACKS FELL.

Accident at Sarnia Imperilled Number of Workers.

SARNIA, Jan. 18.—With a crash that was heard for blocks, two of the steel smokestacks at the Cleveland saw mills here fell yesterday. Men were at work trying to topple over one of the stacks, but it fell in the wrong direction and carried down its mate a few feet away. Several guy wires on another 150 foot stack were carried away, and its fall was expected for a few moments.

A large hole was crushed through the roof of one mill by the heavy stacks. No one was injured.

Express In Collision.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 18.—There was another serious wreck on the Wabash Railway yesterday morning, when No. 1 express ran into the rear-end of freight train No. 95, at Nixon, breaking up the caboose of the freight and injuring Brakeman A. Wilson and F. Dalton, both of St. Thomas.

The wreck, it is said, was caused by the failure of the switch to work at the siding at Nixon. The passengers were not hurt.

The wreck delayed traffic a couple of hours.

Liquors Confiscated.

OWEN SOUND, Jan. 18.—By order of Magistrate A. D. Creaser, the consignment of 144 bottles of whisky, seized on Monday by License Inspector Sockett, in the bonded warerooms at the Grand Trunk station, was yesterday morning declared confiscated and will be destroyed or otherwise disposed of by the inspector.

POINCARE IS CHOSEN.

President-Elect of France Is Popular With the Public.

VERSAILLES, France, Jan. 18.—Raymond Nicoles Landry Poincare, for the past twelve months Premier of the French Cabinet, was elected President of the Republic of France yesterday by the National Assembly, composed of the members of both chambers of Parliament, in succession to President Armand Fallieres, whose seven-year term expires Feb. 18th.

The wildest confusion, out of which arose two challenges to duels, marked the casting of the ballots.

Premier Poincare was chosen President on the second ballot, his plurality over his nearest competitor, Jules Pams, Minister of Agriculture, being 187. The deciding vote stood as follows: Raymond Poincare 483, Jules Pams 296, Marie Edouard Vaillant 69.

Raymond Poincare's selection for the Presidency of France, although made by Parliament as required by the constitution, is regarded as representing as well the popular will of the nation.

M. Poincare, France's foremost statesman, is now in his 53rd year. He is of medium height and sturdily built. Above all he radiates an impression of force, both physical and intellectual. He is versatile and comes of a family distinguished in science and literature. The President-elect himself is a philosopher, a writer and a member of the French Academy, with a notable career in French law circles. He has a peculiarity of never sending his clients bills for legal services, always saying that they may send him whatever they consider to be the value of his work. He is capable of disposing of a great variety of affairs in a short working day, owing to his habit of keeping to essentials and effectively keeping others to them. Also, in consequence, he has time for private study and much social life. The President-elect is often seen on first nights at the theatres, and he attends the principal horse-racing fixtures.

NEW SCHOOL FOR WEST BELLEVILLE THIS YEAR

A meeting of the Board of Education was held last evening for the purpose of winding up the business for the past year. Considerable business was transacted, including the passing of a motion to requisition the City Council to provide by way of debentures $50,000 for a new Public School in West Belleville. This will be presented to the Council at its next meeting. Other matters of importance were disposed of. Messrs. J. Elliott and H. Sneyd, who were appointed by the Council as High School Trustees to fill the unexpired terms of the late Messrs. Wm. Johnson and W. D. Hudson, were present and were cordially welcomed by the Chairman and members of the Board.

Those in attendance were: Messrs. C. M. Reid, Chairman; J. H. Anderson, S. T. Harris, J. Elliott, C. F. Sharpe, H. Sneyd, E. J. Butler, A. J. McCrodan, L. C. Pascoe, F. E. O'Flynn, S. S. Moore, B. Mallory, W. N. Ponton, P. Harrison and F. S. Deacon.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Mr. W. M. Belair, Secretary of the Separate School Board, stating that Mr. H. L. Ingram had been appointed the representative of their Board upon the Public School Board.

From Mr. D. Barragar, Principal of Octavia Street School in reference to the Board securing certain forms to be used in the penny savings bank which is in vogue in that school.

From the Secretary of the Teachers' Association, asking for a grant, which is supplemented by a grant from the Government.

It was recommended that the salary of the Secretary-Treasurer and Solicitor be fixed at $450, to date from January 1st, 1912.

That the Board requisition the City Council of Belleville for $50,000 for the purpose of erecting a public school in West Belleville upon property owned by the Board.

On motion the Board went into Committee of the Whole on reports, etc., Mr. S. T. Harris in the chair.

The Finance Committee's report was unanimously adopted.

A communication was read from the Principals of Queen Victoria and Queen Alexandra Schools asking the Board to provide chairs for the assembly rooms.

Mr. O'Flynn spoke in support of having 300 chairs provided in each school, and he moved that the matter be referred to the Printing and Supplies Committee with power to act.

Mr. Moore seconded the motion, which was adopted.

Mr. Diamond, Secretary, stated that he had written for supplies for certain forms for use in Octavia St. School for the penny savings bank in that school.

A motion prevailed that the school committee of Queen Alexandra School be empowered to flood a portion of the grounds in connection with the school for skating purposes.

The committee rose and reported. The report was received and adopted.

MOTIONS.

Mr. O'Flynn moved, seconded by Mr. Sharpe, that Mr. H. J. Clarke be reappointed as the Board's representative on the Public Library Board.—Carried.

Moved by Col. Ponton, seconded by Mr. Mallory, and resolved, that the following requisition be made upon the City Council of the City of Belleville:—

The Board of Education of the City of Belleville hereby require the City Council of the corporation of the City of Belleville to pass a bylaw for the borrowing of the sum of $50,000 by the issue of debentures for the erection and equipment of a Public School in West Belleville.

And for that purpose that the City Council aforesaid issue the debentures to the said value of $50,000 drawing interest at 4½ per cent. annually payable in 30 years; and that a sinking fund be created for the payment thereof and that the bylaw provide that the annual amount be levied on account of the sinking fund and be paid to the Provincial Treasurer as provided for by section 8 of the Ontario Securities Act, 1908.

The Board will be satisfied with the proceeds realized from the sale of said debentures in the event of not bringing their face value.

Also that the Chairman of the Board and the Chairmen of all the various committees be appointed to present the same to the City Council.

Col. Ponton, Mr. O'Flynn, Mr. Deacon, Mr. Anderson and Mr. Elliott spoke briefly in support of the motion, which was adopted by a standing vote.

Mr. O'Flynn stated that he had received enlarged pictures of Premier Whitney and Hon. Dr. Pyne, Minister of Education.

A motion prevailed that the Secretary of the Board acknowledge the receipt of the pictures and that they be suitably framed and placed in the new schools.

On motion of Mr. Anderson, seconded by Mr. Sharpe, Miss Northcott will give the scholars of Grier Street School lessons in drawing.

A motion prevailed that the members of the Board for 1912 procure two photographs of themselves, they to be grouped in a frame and placed in the new schools, the members to provide the photos and the Board to procure two suitable frames.

ENQUIRIES.

Under this head, Col. Ponton asked if there had been an inventory prepared of the school supplies on hand.

Secretary—None that I have seen.

Col. Ponton expressed regret that Mr. E. J. Butler would not be a member of the Board during the present year. This was to be regretted, but another would, however, take his place. He moved that the Board place on record their appreciation of the valuable services Mr. Butler had rendered while a member of the Board.

Mr. O'Flynn seconded the motion, which was carried by a standing vote and singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Mr. Butler thanked the members of the Board for the resolution. He had been upon the Board for three years and he could truthfully say that each member of the Board had done all in his power to promote the cause of education. The two public schools were a credit to the city, and he hoped the third one would be built as soon as possible.

Mr. O'Flynn moved, seconded by Mr. Sharpe, that a vote of thanks be tendered to Mayor Wills for the princely manner in which he had recently entertained the members of the Board.—Carried.

Mr. C. M. Reid thanked the members of the Board for the harmony which had prevailed during the past year and for the assistance which had been given him in his position. Much business had been transacted during the year, and all had been done in the most pleasant manner.

After the minutes of the meeting had been confirmed the Board adjourned sine die.

WHY SHOULD NOT OLD PEOPLE RETAIN THEIR YOUTHFUL VIGOR

No Reason Why Men And Women Of Sixty, Seventy And Eighty Should Not Be Well—The Secret Of Happy Old Age

"Fruit-a-tives", The Famous Medicine Made Of Fresh Fruit Juices, Again Proves Its Great Value In Curing Kidney Trouble.

Old age pays the cost of living. Few men and women of fifty, sixty and seventy are free of Kidney Trouble. Hard work, mental strain and general debility, tell in the long run. And many men and women show they have Kidney Trouble by suffering with pain in the back, headaches, rheumatism, sciatica, bladder disease.

To such people "Fruit-a-tives" has proved one of the wonders of the age—and the most remarkable discovery of the century in modern medical science. This fruit medicine has performed hundreds of cures where the sufferer had been told that the case was incurable.

Take, for instance, Mr. Geo. W. Barkley, a prosperous farmer and one of the leading citizens of Dundas County, Ontario.

At seventy-six, he is the picture of health—with the vigorous actions and the sprightly step of a man of fifty.

Yet for twenty years, he suffered with Kidney Trouble. He took "Fruit-a-tives" and it cured him.

CHESTERVILLE, ONT., JAN. 25th, 1911

"For over twenty years I have been troubled with Kidney Disease, and the doctors told me they could do me no good, and said I would be a sufferer all the rest of my life. Nearly a year ago, I tried "Fruit-a-tives". I have been using them all the time since and am glad to say that I am cured. I give "Fruit-a-tives" the credit of doing what the doctors said was impossible."

GEO. W. BARKLEY.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit, and is the only one that acts directly on the kidneys. It cures. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50 or trial size, 25c. At dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THE FAULT OF THE FOG

It was true. The lights on shore had disappeared now. All around there was only a heavy choking black pall, so dense that is seemed to weigh on me and smother me.

"We can shout," I said hopefully. "And have you anything we could burn? Even a pocket handkerchief —."

"If we cannot see the glare over there," he said dismally, it isn't likely they could see anything here."

But he obediently got out his matches and burned up his small linen, piece by piece. The result was scarcely encouraging, as a dampness there was a great deal more smoke than flame, and my white chiffon scarf went up in a perfect cascade of sparks. Still there was no result, no call came over the muggy water. I was coughing with smoke and fog, chilled with cold, smothering with indignation.

"It's—it's dreadful," I broke out finally. "It would—would be funny if it wasn't so tragic. If you come within three hundred yards of me something awful happens."

"Yes, I know it," he said dejectedly. "I'm going home in the morning——"

"If there is any morning," I choked.

"But you cannot deny," he went on more hopefully, "that there is one case where I had nothing to do with the matter, and where my being here is, to say the least, a comfort. What if you were alone?"

"If you had been back in the tent, dancing with proper young ladies," I began, "instead of flirting with mermaids—"

"I came out here," he said meekly, "because the only girl I cared to dance with wouldn't dance with me."

"Perhaps you didn't ask her," I suggested.

"I didn't need to. She dispises me! And when I tell her, as I shall some day, that I was born on Friday, the 13th——"

"Look here," I said suddenly. Don't you—haven't you a kind of queerish feeling, as if this thing is moving?"

Aubrey leaned over and peered into the darkness below. Then he loosened his grip of my arm and rose cautiously. "Don't move for anything," he said. "I'll try to find the anchor rope."

Before I realized it, he had slipped his dress coat around me, with its ridiculous tails over my shoulders, and he was down the steps, fumbling in the water underneath, before I knew what he meant to do. Something like sputtering profanity came up from below, followed by a form that stayed discreetly away from me, and dripped water all over the wooden flooring of the raft.

"She's loose," he said quietly, "but I don't think she's moving much."

"Loose!" I screamed, "and with the tide going out. Why, we'll be out at sea in an hour."

"Perhaps," he said, "but don't be nervous. With this air tight cylinders she cannot sink——"

"She can turn over," I screamed wildly.

"Not when it's as smooth as this I think; if you're sure you can hold on I'll take the anchor rope and try to tow her a bit."

"It's too far to swim," I was ready for tears now. "Besides, which way will you go? I haven't any idea where the shore is, and I know you haven't either."

He hadn't even the courtesy to answer. He stood for a minute, I couldn't se his face, but I suppose he was deciding which way to tow. Then I heard him let himself down into the water.

The floor of the raft tilted and righted itslef with every swell; my arms ached from holding to the edge of the platform, and all around that wretched fog hung like a wall. I could have battered my fists against it. I wanted to shriek from loneliness and fright. It seemed hours and hours that I sat there alone, staring into the darkness for some landmark. Finally I could not stand it another instant.

"Aubrey," I called frantically, "come back here; you may get a cramp or—or something."

"Can't—I'm busy,' he called through the fog.

"Come at once," I said firmly. "I shall not sit here another instant alone. I'm so lonely, I don't know what to do."

In a moment Aubrey came around to my side of the raft and pulled himself to the edge.

"I won't come near you," he said, I'm dripping.'

"Where are we?" I demanded.

"Oh, we'll be all right," he said, with an effort at cheerfulness. "Somebody will find us."

"We may be run down," I shuddered. "We're probably in the open sea by this time. And it's growing rougher, too."

Aubrey sat down on the very edge and reaching over gingerly took my hand.

"We'll hope for the best," he said "but I want to tell you something, so that if—well, so that you will always remember whatever happens—"

"Don't," I said shivering. "Whatever happens to you will happen to me."

"Will it? Do you mean that, sweetheart? Do you mean that you are willing to share my fate, my life, perhaps my death?"

"Oh, Aubrey, don't; I cannot hear it." I said. "Don't talk about your death—it's too terrible."

The fog was lifting a little now. I could see his face dimly.

"Then we'll both live," he said decisively. "With your love—"

"I didn't say I loved you—" I began.

"With your love, I'm ready for any endeavor," he said, leaning toward me. "I think I know a way—"

"What is it?" I cried.

"Do you love me?" he asked.

"What is it?"

"Are you willing to marry me and risk the hoodoo—to."

"Yes, yes," I said frantically, "but what is the way——"

"You will marry me—positively not later than November—no—October?"

"Yes, September, if you like," I asented. "Only tell me."

He leaned over and kissed me quickly. Then he laughed joyously, exultantly.

"Look behind you sweetheart," he said. And there emerging slowly from that fast thinning fog, was the Dudley launch, while just behind, still a trifle pale, the Dudley lanterns gleamed yellow and red on the shore.

"Then—then—" I stammered, "it was all——"

"A mixture of fact and falsehood," he said, as he kissed me. "We have not moved an inch."

"You have lost a suit," I said glancing at his dripping clothes.

"I have gained my suit," he said idiotically.—Mary Roberts Rinehardt.

New Zealand's Resources.

The timber trade of the Bay of Plenty, New Zealand, district has been for some time steadily increasing, and is now one of the most flourishing in the district. Rimu is the principal product, and is exported in large quantities to various parts of the Dominion with the demand, if anything, slightly in excess of the supply. The resources of the district are such that it will be twenty years before the back portions of the country will have to be exploited. To cope with the increase of trade, many of the mills are being enlarged and bigger plants are being installed.

Paris Man Gets Job.

MEDICINE HAT, Jan. [illegible]—W. J. O'Neill of Paris, Ont., has been appointed city solicitor for Medicine Hat.

ANSWER IS CRUSHING

Hon. Adam Beck Completely Disproves Slander on Hydro.

"Power Minister" Issues a Statement Showing That the New York State Report Is Based on Utterly Wrong Figures — Administration Charges Are Included by Hydro Commission —Senator Demanded Proof.

TORONTO, Jan. 18.—The Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission comes out with another answer to the misleading statements by the New York State Senate Committee. This one is even more effective than those previously issued, by reason of the fact that figures are given to prove how utterly in the wrong were the "young gentlemen from New York" who came north for fish under the guise of obtaining facts about the Hydro-electric system. These figures give a full account of the amount of power used, the operating and administration expenses and how the surplus of $55,166.45 was obtained. It was stated by the New York Senators that the Hydro Commission did not include administration charges. In the latest statement is given detailed expenditures on operation showing the amount of administration and general expenses, as well as operating and maintenance charges and interest on capital cost.

Owing to increased loads on the Niagara system in the last three months of operation, the commission found it advisable to revise rates, which will have the effect of making a reduction to municipalities of over $100,000 during the present fiscal year.

Sworn Evidence, He Says.

UTICA, N.Y., Jan. 18.—Former Senator T. Harvey Ferris, chairman of the joint legislative committee that recently submitted a report on the subject of water power in New York State, was informed yesterday that Hon. Adam Beck of the Hydro-Electric of Ontario, claimed that Ferris' committee did not have access to the books of the commission.

He made the following statement: "The full summary attached to the report of the joint commission of the Legislature and all figures given in it are founded upon sworn testimony taken before it. Among other things it purports to give horse-power actually used in the Niagara district September, 1912, the capital cost charged as of February, 1912, and the rates charged. If these are not in accordance with the original records of the Hydro-Electric Commission, let Mr. Beck produce those original records."

One Commissioner Dissents.

ALBANY, N.Y., Jan. 18.—Assemblyman J. Lewis Petrie of Greene County disagrees with some of the findings of the Ferris legislative committee on the question of water power, and will file a minority report. Mr. Petrie considers the report too favorable to corporations now owning water powers and having hydro-electric plants.

In addition, Mr. Petrie does not agree that the plan of selling electric energy in the Canadian Province of Ontario was an expensive failure, as his colleagues allege, and believes he can show how the plan can be worked out for the benefit of both the state and the consumer.

LOWER PULP TARIFF.

Reduction In U. S. Paper Schedule Is Also Indicated.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Substantial reduction of the tariff all along the line in the wood pulp and print paper schedule and retention of approximately the existing duties on tobacco, cigars and similar articles constitute part of the Democratic tariff revision program to be presented to the coming extra session of Congress. This was the situation as viewed last night by Democratic leaders, following two sessions yesterday, and another last night in the marshalling of testimony on schedules M., pulps, papers and books, and F., tobacco and its manufactures.

Just how far the Democratic members will goin cutting the paper schedule is problematical. So far they have not held a conference on the subject, but the consensus of their sentiment favors reduction wherever possible in this part of the tariff law.

Chief interest of the day centered in the presentation of the arguments of the spokesman of the newspaper publishers and of the diametrically opposed paper manufacturers.

Manitoba Railway Plans.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 18.—The time allotted for the completion of the work allowed in the charter of the Midland Railway expires this year, and the Midland Company will ask the Legislature for an extension of time for five years so as to complete the various works for which they have charters in the province.

The company has also increased its capital from $500,000 to $10,000,000, and is planning a big program of work for Manitoba.

Vol. 46 BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, MONDAY, JANUARY 20, 1913. NO. 220

Confirm Loss of Freight Steamer And Full Crew

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 18.—Confirmation of the loss at sea of the Southern Pacific freighter El Dorado, and of the loss of her crew of forty-one members was secured to-day by company officials, who said they would send notices to Lloyds to that effect.

The Eldorado, which was bound from Galveston to New York, went down in a great storm which raged off the Atlantic for three days.

Memorial services for the crew will be held here on Sunday.

Among the members of the crew were: First officer, Wm. Gower, Chicago; assistant engineer, Chas. Herbert, S, Joseph, Mo.; T. S. Arnold, Kansas City; Clyde Scott, Wacross, Ga., and Wm. Anderson, Alton, Ills. Her captain was E. E. Wood, of Philadelphia.

Captain Complains of Bad Treatment

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—A deep-sea quarrel was aired along the wharves yesterday when the White Star freighter Armenian arrived from Liverpool.

The Armenian was the vessel which tried to help the Hamburg American line freighter Abessinia last Sunday when she was drifting helpless with broken shaft and rudder. Captain Jacobson, of the Armenian, is indignant because, he says, the disabled steamer ignored his offer of assistance.

The Armenian, said Captain Jacobson, stood by the Abessinia until daylight firing bombs and burning signal lights, but receiving no answer. When the fog arose in the morning the Abessinia steamed away. When she reached Halifax recently it was learned that she had been able to make temporary repairs and for this reason found it unnecessary to accept the aid for which she had signalled.

"I think it was a shabby treatment," said Captain Jacobson. "This is what we got for returning a long distance and spending considerable time in their service."

All Ready For Gould Wedding

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Arrangements for the wedding of Miss Helen Miller Gould and Finley J. Sheppard at Lyndhurst, Miss Gould's country home at Tarrytown, next Wednesday have been completed.

The date was chosen by Miss Gould because it is the anniversary of her parent's wedding. Miss Gould will have only two attendants, her young nieces, Helen and Dorothy Gould, daughters of her brother, Frank J. Gould.

Louis J. Sheppard wil be his brother's best man. There will be no ushers. The ceremony will be at noon and will be performed by the Rev. Dr. Daniel Russell, pastor of the Irvington Presbyterian Church. Only relatives and a few intimate friends have been asked to the marriage.

Department For Tourist

ROME, Jan. 18.—A state tourist department is advocated by Signor Ferraris, one of the most prominent members of the Chamber of Deputies, as the easiest means if increasing Italy's wealth. The state revenue benefits considerably from the present tourist traffic in the matter of customs, railway tickets and entrance fees to museums and galleries.

Signor Ferraris has in view the doubling of the present tourist revenue and advocates direct intervention of the state to promote tourist traffic.

'The industry of the foreigner,' he says, 'has been sadly neglected by the state. Italy's many advantages are not sufficiently advertised, and while the efforts of the hotelkeepers and others are praiseworthy, they lack the support of the government'. Therefore he wants sufficient backing for his boom.

Italy's increased political importance has rendered unanimous reforms indespensable, says M. Ferraris. There must be a better system of education, and also an improvement of the sanitary conditions of the workingmen. To pay for this he suggests the establishment of state tourist department with agents throughout the world, who will urge foreigners to visit Italy and spend their money.

Signor Ferraris has the support of a number of powerful institutions, and may succeed in his scheme.

Madame Edvina Scores in Boston

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 18.—The artistic and vocal triumph of the stars of the Boston Opera Houe was seen last night with the first presentation of "The Jewels of the Madonna," Mme. Louise Edvina, the Canadian prima donna, having the role of Maliella.

The production was gorgeously staged, while the lyric beauty of Mme. Edvina's voice was never more brilliantly displayed and her dramatic presentation of the tumultuous moods and passions of the Wolf Ferrari opera, commanded repeated calls.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and a party of Montreal friends, came to Boston in a private car of the president of the Canadian Pacific to honor Mme. Edvina's presentation and were the guests of Director Russell in his private box

Every seat in the house was sold for last night's performance several days ago.

Calgary To See Fight

CALGARY, Alta., Jan. 18.—There is a strong probability that Luke McCarty and Tommy Burns will meet in Calgary about Easter to battle for the heavyweight championship of the world.

Local men are promoting the bout and the negotiations have reached a stage where little remains to be arranged but the minor details.

McCarty it is said started his pugilistic career as the result of a few words of advice from the Canadian champion and the meeting of pupil and teacher for the world's honor will have a peculiar interest.

Tommy Burns has commenced training, and while he is in good shape right now he does not propose taking any chances.

"My one desire," he said the other day, "is to be champion again. What I mean is this: I lost the championship to a black man and I would like to win it back again as a white man, and when I lose it again it will be to a white man.

"I wish the public to know that I am sincere in this matter and I will meet McCarty if he will meet me, no matter what happens."

Women of Smart Set Caught Gambling

NEY YORK, Jan. 18.—Women of New York's smart set who have a penchant for visiting the private gambling emporiums run for their special benefit are on the anxious seat to-day following a raid late last night on a fashionable apartment in West Ninety-Second Street, where fifteen women and seven men, all in evening dress, were found around the poker tables. It is believed the police have a list of such places, as well as the names of many women in supposedly select circles who have the high-play habit.

Rumors said subpoenas are likely to issue.

All the players in last night's raid were allowed to go after they had given their names, most of which the police believe were fictitous. The proprietress of the apartment, who gave her name as Belle Gubner, and a man associated with her, were arraigned to-day.

Live Baby in Box That Boys Kicked

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—A dozen boys playing football with a pasteboard box in a vacant lot in Broklyn to-day sat down to rest after half an hour's play.

"That's a funny looking box," said one of them. "Let's see what's inside."

They untied the strings A four-day's old baby boy, naked and to all appearance dead, rolled to the ground. A policeman took it to a hospital. Half an hour later it was crying lustily. It will probably live.

Takes Russia's Advice

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 18.—The Mongolian deputation which came here to thank the Russian Government for its recognition of Mongolian independence, has decided, on the advice of Russia, not to approach any other European power with a similar request.

The members of the deputation asked Russia to finance a Mongolian national bank, and also to provide a financial adviser for the Government.

Telephone Girl Now Countess of Ashburnham

FREDERICTON, N. B., Jan. 18.—There is an interesting romance in connection with the new Earl of Ashburnham.

So indifferent was he in regard to his title that it required considerable effort on the part of the Earl of Ashburnham to locate his brother. The latter had travelled in various parts of the globe but was finally located in Fredericton in the year 1902. Here he has lived ever since.

In the ear 1903 the new Earl married Miss Maria Anderson, daughter of the late William Anderson, of Fredericton.

Miss Anderson at the time was employed as a telephone girl, and during her service as such she made hosts of friends by her obliging and genial disposition. They have since rejoiced in her good fortune, and now heartily congratulate her on becoming Lady Ashburnham.

It was also Miss Anderson's position as a telephone girl that secured for her her present husband. He it is said, fell in love with her on account of her pleasant voice over the phone.

3 O'CLOCK DISPATCHES

AN IMPORTANT AMENDMENT

Intelligencer Special.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—When the Franchise Bill comes up in the House of Commons this week a crucial debate will arise on the clause extending the franchise to every "male" person. Sir Edward Grey will move as an amendment the elimination of the word "male" and on the outcome will depend the issue whether thirteen million women as well as twenty-five million men shall be added to the number of parliamentary electors.

MORE SPECIMENS

Intelligencer Special.

BROOKS, Alta., Jan. 20.—Geological researches being pursued by Barnum Brown in the bed of Red Deer River, north of Brooks, have resulted in the discovery of some specimens of prehistoric life new to science. One of them was, in its day a carnivorous lizzard which has been named Saurapholus or crested lizzard.

APPROVES PLANS

Intelligencer Special.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 20.—The provincial Government has approved plans of the Canadian Northern's entry into Vancouver. The railway has agreed to spend four million dollars in filling False Creek during the next five years.

PRESENTED ULTIMATUM

Intelligencer Special.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Bulgaria, Servia and Montenegro today presented an ultimatum to Turkey, giving the Ottoman Government fourteen days in which to make a favorable reply to their demands, according to a news agency despatch from Constantinople.

FULL POWER TO RESUME WAR

(Intelligencer Special.)

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Full power to declare a resumption of hostilities against Turkey was telegraphed today to Dr. S. Daneff, leader of the Bulgarian delegation and his colleagues by the Bulgarian Premier, J. S. Guespoff.

Carrying Out The Astor Will

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—In carrying out the will of the late John Jacob Astor the trustees of the Astor estate, James R. Roosevelt, Douglas Robinson, Vincent Astor and Nicholas Biddle, transferred yesterday eight parcels of real estate, aggregating $3,968,000 to Mrs. Madeline Force Astor, her infant son, John Jacob Astor, and Ava Alice Muriel Astor, Mr. Astor's daughter by his first wife.

The Astor will left the income of a trust fund of $5,000,000 to Mrs. Madeline Force Astor, to be hers absolutely on her reaching her majority; and a trust fund of $3,000,000 to young John Jacob Astor.

While these eight parcels have an assessed value of only about $4,000,000 the income from them probably represents a much larger amount. The value of them is not, however, great enough to cover all the bequests of Mr. Astor to the three persons named in the deeds.

White Slave Act Works Wonders

LONDON, Ont. Jan. 18.—United States immigration officers declared yesterday that the new White Slave Act is working wonders in its deterrent effects at the border.

They say the Act is so drastic and universal is its application that the white slavers are thoroughly frightened, and that where a few months ago every train which passed through the tunnels had one or more suspicious case, they are seldom heard of now.

Roughest Passage Ever

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—On the arrival of the Kaiser Wilhelm II. and the Finland, the commanders of both liners reported that the passage had been the roughest they have ever known. Captain Cuppers, of the Kaiser Wilhelm II., has been forty-five years at sea and will retire after he has taken his ship back to Bremen.

Three of the Kaiser Wilhelm's life boats were torn from their festenings and smashed into kindling. Six members of the crew were hurt and had to be carried to the sick bay. For three days none of the passengers were well enough to venture into the dining room or on deck.

Captain Barman, of the Finland, likened the roar of the storm to Niagara and at midnight on Friday sighted that strange electric marvel of the sea, "St. Elmo's Lights." The Captain said the phenomena lasted for half an hour and the lights which appeared at the tops of the four masts resembled huge balls of fire. Two hours later the wires of the wireless apparatus showed a blue flame and gave the liner the appearance of a phantom.

Death Roll In Wrecked Verones May Reach 80

ORPORTO, Portugal, Jan. 18.—The death list is the wrecking of the Lamport and Holt steamer Veronnese which was driven ashore seven miles north of here on Thursday in a gale, may go to 80, according to word received from the scene to-day.

The ship was half submerged at the time this message was sent, and was on the point of going to pieces.

Twenty-four persons were lashed to the rigging, but life savers were unable to reach them. Fifty six others among them a number of seamen were missing.

The sea was so high that small boats could not live in it.

Fifteen bodies, seven of them of children, were washed ashore during the night.

In addition to her 139 passengers, the Veronese carried a crew of sixty.

Another Suffragist Plot

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The American London cable says: A new source of excitement has been provided in the House of Commons by the discovery of a militant suffragist plot to raid the chambers next Monday, the day on which the Government hopes to take up the committee stage of the Franchise Bill.

Mrs. Drummond, chief of staff of Mrs. Pankhurst, is organizer of the affair, and so serious is the view taken of the matter that special warnings have been issued to have a large reserve force of police available at Westminster.

The deputation to the House of Parliament will include all classes of working women, professional as well as industrial, and Scotland, Wales and the industrial centres of the North are sending strong contingents.

Warm Current In The Pacific

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Jan. 19.—Special—Mr. Dannevig, the head of the Australian Fisheries Department, reports the discovery of a warm current which originates in the equatorial Pacific and flows into Eastern Australia and Tasmania at the rate of seven miles an hour. It is one hundred miles wide.

Jack Rose Bankrupt

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Jack Rose, one of the four informers, in the trial of Charles Becker, for the murder of Rosenthal, filed a petition in bankruptcy here today. Rose estimated his liabilities at $11,618. His chief creditors are tailors, jewelers and physicians. He has no assets.

IRVING H. BEERS,

Who will appear with the local company in "The Lost Paradise," at the Griffin opera house next Wednesday and Thursday nights. Mr. Beers, it will be remembered, played this city some twelve years ago in Mr. Frohman's all-star production of "The Tyranny of Tears," and later as Oswald in Ibsen's Ghosts. This actor has appeared several times on Broadway, supporting in a prominent capacity such celebrated stars as Mrs. Fiske and Donald Robertson and some of the acknowledged critics have pronounced him a clever actor. In 1907-8-9 Mr. Beers was lessee and manager of the Westminster opera house, New Westminster, B. C., and the City Hall Auditorium, Vancouver, B.C. Under his direction the Edmonton Dramatic Club won the much coveted Earl Grey trophy, and in 1910-11-12 he was dramatic instructor at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., and Queen's University, Kingston. He will produce a play for McGill University, Montreal, later this season, and next season will make a transcontinental Canadian tour with several productions under the auspices of the Canadian fund for the prevention of tuberculosis. Miss Osborne, who is associated with Mr. Beers, is also a Broadway artist. This production is under the auspices of the Belleville Hospital.

GRAND TRUNK SYSTEM NEWS ITEMS

The first steps in an important scheme of reorganization affecting the whole Transportation Department of the Grand Trunk Railway System were taken this morning with the appearance of the official circulars.

The first signed by Mr. Howard G. Kelley, Vice President of the Department and approved by the President Mr. E. J. Chamberlin announces the appointment, effective from date of Mr. D. Crombie as General Superintendent of Tranportation. Mr. Crombie was formerly Assistant to the Vice President. Other appointments are as follows:

Mr. C. G. Bowker, Joint Superintendent of Southern Division, to be General Superintendent Eastern lines, including Montreal Division, Montreal Terminals, Belleville Division, and Ottawa Division. Mr. H. E. Whittenberger, Superintendent Middle Division, to be General Superintendent Ontario Lines, including Toronto Terminals, Hamilton Division, London Division, St. Thomas Division, and Stratford Division.

Mr. U. E. Gillen, Superintendent Eastern Division, to be General Superintendent Western Lines, including Districts 25, 26, 27, 28, 29 and the Pontiac, Oxford & Northern Railway.

The second circular is issued by Mr Crombie in his new capacity and is approved by Mr. Howard G. Kelley, Vice President. It abolishes the office of Superintendent of Car Service and records the appointment of Mr. W. F. Farrell, formerly Superintendent Toronto Terminals, as Superintendent of Freight Service; also Mr. Fred Price, formerly Superintendent of Car Service, as Superintendent of Passenger Service.

Mr. David Crombie, who is thus placed next to the Vice-President in charge of the Transportation Department was born at Hamilton, Ont., in 1861 and is therefore anohter of those younger Canadian Railroad men who are coming to the front on the great transportation systems of the Dominion. He entered railway service in 1864 and is therefore another of those younger Canadian Railroad men who time he has been successively ticket clerk on the same road at Chatham, Ont. from 1887 to 1889; train despatcher on same road at London, Ont, 1889 to 1890; train despatcher Flint and Pere Marquette Road at Saginaw, Mich., 1890 to 1892; car distributor same road 1892 to 1894; car service agent, same road, 1894 to 1897; Superintendent of Transportation, same road, 1897 to 1901; returned to enter private business 1901; returned to the Grand Trunk Railway as Master of Transportation at London, Ont., 1903 to 1907; Assistant to the General Transportation Manager, 1907 to 1910; Assistant to the Vice-President of the Transportation Department, 1910 to 1913.

The first train to pass onward over Canada's new National Transcontinental Railway line carried a consignment of prairie wheat to an Ontario Flour Mill en route for South Africa. Now Mr. W. B. Cronk, General Superintendent of the N. T. R., who is at present making a tour of inspection over the whole completed line in his private car, "Transcona" has the honor of being a passenger on the first train westward to Winnipeg. On his return Mr. Cronk will go as far east of Cochrane as possible to view the grading and track-laying work at the head of steel.

ARSON AS A BUSINESS

New York Prisoner Confesses to a Wholesale Trade.

Isador Stein, Known as Izzy the Painter, Was in the Habit of Receiving Clients on the Street Corner—Efforts Are Being Made To Get the Men "Higher Up" in the Traffic—Chicago Has "Trust," Too.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Additions to the striking revelations for which arson for profit is practiced in this city, furnished by "Izzy the Painter," the convict firebug informer, were made by him yesterday to the district attorney, whose office spent a busy Sunday preparing for the examination of witnesses in the "arson trust" investigation by the grand jury to-day when more indictments may be returned.

"Izzy," who is more formally known as Isador Stein, continues to tell of fires that he made throughout the city, giving facts and circumstances with the greatest detail and accuracy, says a statement from Assistant District Attorney Weller last night. The accuracy of so many of Stein's statements as shown by comparison with the official records, is gratifying to the prosecuting officials as making easier the task of securing necessary corroborative evidence against men "higher up" in the "trust."

Stein, who, according to the authorities, has confessed to setting more than fifty fires, told the district attorney that the vicinity of a fire engine house was preferred as the location of a fire, Mr. Weller's statement said, as when no alarm was turned in it took longer for information about the fire to get to the fire marshall's office giving time for the odor of gasoline or benzine used by the firebug to disappear.

Stein says that more than 100 people have asked him to make fires for them since he came to this city in 1907, the statement adds. "Stein says that while standing on the street corner, two or three people each day would ask him to make a fire for them." In one case a man told Stein that he wanted to have a fire, but that he could not have it until the following week, because he wanted to move out his new piano. Accordingly the piano was moved out and Stein went ahead.

Chicago's Arson Trust.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Revelations Saturday in an all-day investigation of the "arson trust" by the states attorney concerned at least five persons in a fire fraud scheme, which involved several big fires in Chicago and other cities. A number of witnesses were examined and their testimony will be presented to the grand jury.

Included in the list of suspected men in Benjamin Fink, alias Finkelstein, alias Franklin, now in custody under suspicion of being one of the leaders of a nation-wide gang of incendiaries.

SPAIN TO GET REFORMS.

New Premier's Program Is Said To Be Sweepingly Liberal In Tendency.

MADRID, Jan. 20.—Count Alvaro de Romanoes, the new Premier, will publish his program as soon as the King returns from a hunting trip in Granada. The program, which is strongly marked by liberal tendencies, is understood to comprise complete reconstruction of the associations' bill, after negotiations with the Vatican, complete religious freedom, secularization of the cemeteries, obligatory civil marriage, a diminution of the number of non-elective senators and a corresponding increase of elective senators, abolition of the death penalty, freedom of education, increased salaries for teachers, important public improvements, the creation of a second squadron of the fleet; and various measures to improve the condition of the working classes.

Woman and Babes Burned.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Jan. 20.—In a fire believed to be of incendiary origin in a frame tenement house here yesterday, a woman and her two children were trapped on the third floor and burned to death. Two men were injured, one probably mortally, by jumping from a third storey window. Mrs. Louis Simbro and her two daughters, two months and four years of age respectively, are dead. Rafeal Murillo, a boarder, is in the hospital in a critical condition. The charred bodies of mother and children were found in the ruins.

CURED QUICKLY BY "NERVILINE"

No stronger proof of the wonderful merit of Nerviline could be produced than the letter of Miss Lucy Mosher, who for years has been a well-known resident of Windsor, N.S.

"I want to add my unsolicited testimony to the efficacy of your wonderful liniment, 'Nerviline.' I consider it the best remedy for a cold, sore throat, wheezing tightness in the chest, etc., and can state that for years our home has never been without Nerviline. I had a dreadful attack of cold, that settled on my chest, and fourteen remedies could not break up. I rubbed on Nerviline three times a day, used Nerviline as a gargle, and was completely restored. I have induced dozens of my friends to use Nerviline, and they are all delighted with its wonderful power over pain and sickness.

"You are at liberty to publish this signed letter, which I hope will show the way to health to many that need to use Nerviline.

(Signed) "LUCY MOSHER."

All sorts of aches, pains, and sufferings—internal and external—yield to Nerviline. Accept no substitute. Large family size bottles, 50c.; trial size, 25c., at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

THE SKEPTICAL BRITISH.

Only Two Persons Would Buy Five-Pound Notes at a Penny.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—As the result of a wager and to test the scepticism of the British public a man disguised as a peddler appeared in the West End streets of London on Saturday and offered genuine £5 notes for a penny each.

Although he offered the extraordinary bargains for an hour, flourishing the notes in his hand and crying "Five-pound notes for a penny each," even permitting people to examine them, the peddler sold only two.

Amy and Laurie in "LITTLE WOMEN", at Griffin's Opera House Tomorrow Night.

"LITTLE WOMEN."

William A. Brady will present Marian de Forest's dramatization of "Little Women," Louisa M. Alcott's famous story, at the Griffin Opera House, Belleville, tomorrow night, Jan. 21.

The modern city man will draw a breath of long ago from the performance of "Little Women," with the same Meg, Jo, Beth and Amy that most of us delighted in reading about when we were children. It is a transcript from a more fragrant age and a more wholesome childhood than our children of today can possibly know. There is, too, a charm and beauty about "Little Women" that the man-of-affairs today dreams he will find at the end of the road.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

NOT MILTON'S "PARADISE LOST."

The event of the season in entertainments will occupy next Wednesday and Thursday nights, Jan. 22nd and 23rd, when an enchanting play, "The Lost Paradise," will be presented for the Belleville hospital, at Griffin's theatre by some of the cleverest amateur players in Belleville, under the direction of two professional actors, who have produced plays throughout Canada. Miss Osborne and Mr. Beers assure us that the talent of Belleville is above the average and that the play is going to be an artistic success, little short of perfection. The play will interest everyone, for nearly every phase of life is depicted, from the idle millionaires of society to the miserable starved drudges of the iron-workers' children, who earn $3 per week and many who cannot afford even the common necessities of life. The play is filled with humorous scenes, sufficient to counteract the tears which you choke back, and will prove interesting to children as well as grown people. An exquisite set of furniture has been loaned by Mr. Smith of the Dominion Bedding Co., and the stage will be as artistic as the home of a millionaire can be expected to be. The strike scene in the second act will prove exciting enough for the most blood-thirsty spectator, and the dainty comedy of a pair of shy lovers and the loyalty of three factory waifs will prove of sufficient interest to hold the attention of the most blase of theatregoers.

The hospital expects this will be the greatest success in its history, and the 25c, 50c., 75c. or $1.00 admission which you donate will help to swell the total, besides enabling you to enjoy a memorable evening. Tickets at Doyle's drug store.

Weary Tiredness Changed to Vigor

That Played-Out Feeling Was Quickly Remedied and Health Restored.

Story of a Merchant Who Almost Lost His Business and His Health Through Neglecting Early Symptoms of Disease.

"My life for years has been of sedentary character," writes T. B. Titchfield, head of a well-known firm in Buckingham. "Nine houre every day I spent at office work and took exercise only on Sunday. I disregarded the symptoms of ill-health, which were all too apparent to my family. I grew thin, then pale, and before long I was jaundiced—eyes and skin were yellow, my strength and nerve energy were lowered, and I was quite unfitted for business. In the morning a lightness in the head, particularly when I bent over, made me very worried about my health. Most of the laxative medicines I found weakening, and knowing that I had to be at business every day I neglected myself rather than risk further weakness. Of course I grew worse, but by a happy chancee I began to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I was forcibly struck by the fact that they neither caused griping nor nausea, and it seemed incredible that pills could tone, cleanse and regulate the system without causing any unpleasant after effects. Dr. Hamilton's Pills acted with me just as gentle as nature—they gave new life to my liver, strengthened my stomach, and won me back to perfect good health. My skin is clear, dizziness has disappeared, and my appetite, strength, spirits are perfect."

Refuse anything offered you instead of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are sure to cure. Sold in 25c. boxes, five for $1, at all druggists and storekeepers, or postpaid from the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Recital at Christ Church

At the close of the service in Christ Church last evening, an interesting organ recital was given by Mr. Percy G. Robbins, who was ably assisted by Mr. Dan A. Cameron, chorister of Bridge Street Church. The programme was one of a highly classical nature and the superb execution by Mr. Robbins was worthy of favorable comment. Mr. Cameron rendered two vocal selections during the course of the evening's entertainment, which were excellent in every particular. The church was comfortably filled, the audience being well pleased with the programme which was as follows:

Organ—Pomp and Circumstance .. Elgar
Organ—Answer .. .. Wolstenholme
Organ—Sposalizio .. .. Liszt
Vocal—Selected .. .. ——
Mr. Cameron.
Organ—Sonata in D Minor .. Rheinberger
Organ—Finale (Symphony Pathetique) .. .. Tschaikowsky

WEDDING BELLS.

WEESE—LATTIMER

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at 12 o'clock noon on Christmas Day at Dresden, when Miss Mary Luella only daughter of Mrs. Chas. Lattimer, was married to Mr. John A. Weese of Belleville. Rev. L. Bartlett of Tupperville performed the ceremony. Mr. John Lattimer, brother of the bride played the wedding march. The bride was given away by her eldest brother, Herbert, and looked pretty in a dress of white embroidery and carried a bouquet of roses and carnations. The house was tastefully decorated with holly and evergreens. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome, fancy hatpin and to the organist a signet tiepin. After the ceremony the party sat down to a sumptuous wedding dinner. The happy couple left amid showers of rice and confetti for Saria, Port Huron and other eastern cities. The bride's travelling dress was of blue silk with hat to match. On their return they will reside on Mr. Weese's farm near Belleville, where Mrs. Weese will be at home to her friends after February 1st. The out of town guests at the wedding included Mrs. Archie Lattimer and daughter, Susie, of Brussels, Mrs and Mrs. Geo. Crouch of Florence, Mr. and Mrs. M. Weese and Mr. and Mrs. Gay.

The wonderful era of prosperity that is now being enjoyed in Canada is exemplified by the report of the "SALADA" Tea Co., which states that, during the year just ended, there were 1,223,437 pounds more "SALADA" tea sold than in 1911.

This INCREASE would supply every household in the Dominion with one pound of tea.

WINTER IN ALGONQUIN PARK.

With Switzerland, Canada is taking its rightful place as the winter playground of the nations. One of the most popular districts where unrivalled opportunities are found for healthful sport and where an invigorating atmosphere may be enjoyed is the Algonquin National Park of Ontario. In summer it is the stamping ground of the angler, camper and tourist, but with the first frost of autumn the camper and angler have stored their tents, their rods and their canoes, and the lovers of winter sport follow in the footsteps of the summer visitors and take possession of "The Highland Inn," the well-run and comfortable hotel at Algonquin Park Station. Algonquin Park is at an altitude of 2,000 feet above sea level, is reached by the Grand Trunk Railway. It is about 200 miles north of Toronto and 175 miles west of Ottawa. The winter rates at "The Highland Inn" are $14.00 to $16.00 per week, and the several attractions of the park in winter are depicted in a handsome booklet entitled "Winter in Ontario's Highland Heritage," copies of which may be had free by addressing a postal card to Manager, Highland Inn, Algonquin Park Station, Ont.

Held Up Mail Car

BIRMINGHAM, Jan. 19.—Special—The mail car No. 21 of the Southern Railway, which left here last night after twelve o'clock, was entered at Riverside, Ala., by a train robber, who, after holding up the messengers on the train, got hold of a number of registered letters and packages and left the train at Lincoln, a few miles away. An alarm was given and officers were notified at Birmingham.

There is no telling how much the booty amounted to, though the officials say it is small.

Take a Lesson From the Hotel Man

The best lighted room in a hotel is the lobby, not only because it is a general meeting place for the guests, but because it is the first room they enter on their arrival and the one from which they get their initial impression of the "house."

For the same reason, care should be taken in lighting the front hall of your home; it is there that your guests are received. Electric light and Holophane Reflectors will add much to the visitor's impression of your home—the electric light giving the warm glow of welcome and the Holophane Reflectors making this light most economical.

In many homes the hall is practically a part of the living room, a place that, above all else, should be bright and cheerful. And it is here that Holophane Reflectors can be used with especially good effect.

The telephone, usually, is in the hall and an electric light placed near the instrument will save many steps.

Why not let our representative talk to you about the economical lighting of your house?

GROWING FLAX IN CANADA

Flax is one of the most interesting crops grown in Canada. It is a popular crop for the new settler, especially in Saskatchewan, as quick returns are possible and it is the most suitable crop for new broken land. Preliminary estimates of this crop show that in 1912, flaxseed upon a greatly increased acreage of 1,077,800 acres (allowing for deduction of non-productive areas) was expected to yield 28,145,000 bushels, or at the rate of 13.74 bushels per acre, figures which compare with a total of 7,867,000 bushels from a productive area of only 682,622 acres in 1911, when, it will be recalled, so large a proportion of the area sown in the Western provinces was not harvested in consequence of the late and stormy season.

Number one Northwest flax of Canada is generally conceded to be the finest in the world.

The following figures, taken from The Monetary Times, show the rapid increase in the cultivation of this crop in Canada during the past four years:—

	Acres, area.	Total yield, bushels.	Total value.
1908	139,300	1,499,000	$1,457,000
1909	138,471	2,213,000	2,761,000
1910	476,877	3,802,000	7,898,800
1911 Area sown .., ...	1,131,586	12,921,000	19,467,000
1911—Area harvested	682,622	7,867,000	11,655,000

These figures show increases of 390 per cent., 424 per cent., and 718 per cent. in acreage under cultivation, total yield and total value, respectively.

The average price per bushel has increased from 97 cents in 1908 to $1.50 in 1911. In 1910, the figure was $2.07 per bushel.

The yield per acre in the past four years compares as follows:

Year	Yield per acre, bushels
1908	10.76
1909	15.98
1910	7.97

Saskatchewan is growing the bulk of the flax in Canada. In 1911 that province produced 6,413,000 bushels, valued at $9,639,000 out of the total crop of 7,867,000, valued at $11,855,000.

The increase in flax acreage in Saskatchewan last year was largest in those districts which have the least railway facilities, as the farmer with the long haul can obtain more money for his load of flax than he can for any other kind of grain. Saskatchewan is likely to make some attractive records in the matter of flax-growing during the next few years.

FARMERS AND THE BANKS

Little has been heard from the bankers of Canada respecting the proposed amendments to the present Bank Act. Mr. Duncan Coulson, president of the Bank of Toronto, has broken first the official silence. At the annual meeting of the bank, he discussed the feature in the proposed act relating to loans to farmers. A clause has been added to the act permitting banks to make advances to them on the security of grain and cattle in their possession, enabling a pledge or an assignment to be taken as security. While Mr. Coulson admits it is but right that farmers should have privileges enjoyed by others, he thinks that too much importance should not be attached to the benefits this clause of the act may afford. Such advantages, says The Monetary Times, even though accompanied by security under the act, must rest largely upon the responsibility of the individual borrower. The grain given as security remains in his custody, and, therefore, the personal element must be largely considered. "At present" advances are made to farmers without this security, and as freely, he thinks, as they will probably be made with it, and, considering the number of banking offices in the West, and the competition that exists between banks, the cases should be few in which responsible farmers do not receive the accommodation to which they are entitled.

The same clause was discussed last week by Mr. Alexander Laird, who thinks it will undoubtedly be of great advantage in many instances, and will at least legalize the practice already quite common, and probably tend to prevent hasty marketing of produce. As a matter of fact, large advances are made to farmers on the security of notes and actually upon what they possess in the way of products of agriculture, and their reputation of honesty and ability, always an essential consideration when lending money.

Good reputation, to a banker, ranks almost as high, if not equal to, his security. Mr. J. P. Morgan emphasised that point in his examination before the Money Trust investigating committee in the United States. Honesty in business is a sure way to magnetize bank funds. It applies as much to the farmer as to the merchant.

A STEEL INDUSTRY FOR CANADA

The proposed establishment of a Canadian plant of the United States Steel Corporation is a substantial reminder that our neighbor still thinks his Canadian investment policy is sound. British capital has financed our railroads. It has been content to have in return bond interest and confidence. Meantime, it has secured comparatively little control of the enterprises it has financed.

While remembering that the United States is itself borrowing large sums of money, it is none the less significant that its financiers, capitalists and business men are taking a more intimate interest than are Britishers, in Canadian development. They are planting branch factories in the Dominion one after another. If the tariff is absorbing too much of the profits of goods manufactured in the Republic and sold in the Dominion, they shove a subsidiary plant over the tariff wall. They are accustomed to the prevailing labor conditions. They like our laws, and they appreciate the substantial gait of this country.

British capital is none the less appreciative, and in dollars and cents it is giving us far more than the United States. It is, however, less demonstrative, and it is not getting its fingers into the Canadian pie as thoroughly as are our cousins. In short, British capital has not taken seriously the establishment of branch plants in this country. The United States invasion in that respect has become an exceedingly important factor. There is now such a solid wedge of that country's branch factories in Canada, that it is rapidly becoming an integral part of Canada. In other words, the habit is so general that it is now difficult to distinguish between the Canadian and the United States plant in Canada. This is a subject we would like to see our kinsmen over seas consider more seriously, even at the expense of theoretical discussions as to a change in British preference, food taxes and the tariff. The obstacles are not insurmountable. The United States has proved that.

HOW AN INDIANA GIRL

Get Strong and Well Again at Small Cost.

Miss Alta Abel, of West Baden, Ind., says: "I was a complete wreck, always tired, worn out and nervous. I had to spend about one-third of my time in bed and my life was not worth living. Vinol, your delicious cod liver and iron tonic, was recommended, and it has done me more good than all the medicine I ever took in my life. That nervous and tired feeling is all gone. I have gained in health, flesh and strength, until I feel like another person."

Vinol is the most efficient strength creator for such women. It is the medicinal elements of the cod's livers contained in Vinol aided by the blood-making and strengthening properties of tonic iron which make it so far superior to all other tonics to build up health and strength for weak, tired, ailing women. It contains no oil and has a delicious taste.

We give back your money if Vinol does not do all that we claim. Red Cross Drug Store, J. S. McKeown, Belleville, Ont.

Czar's Desire For End of The War

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 18.—Czar Nicholas's desire for peace in the Balkans is shown by a sensational incident, which is reported to have occurred at the Imperial Grand Ball on the Russian New Year's Eve. The story runs that the Czar upon meeting the Turkish ambassador to Russia, grasped him by the hand and exclaimed:

"You must advise your government to conclude peace voluntarily, otherwise it will be forced to do so later."

The Turkish diplomat was much impressed by the Czar's earnestness.

There are some people who imagine they can't be sincere without saying disagreeable things about their friends.

Sermon by CHARLES T. RUSSELL, Pastor Brooklyn Tabernacle.

SLAVES SET FREE RETURN TO BONDS

Bible Has Been the Great Emancipator of Human Slavery.

Washington, D. C., January 19.—Pastor Russell preached at Washington Temple to-day, his third sermon on our Union Depot texts. His text was: "The Truth shall make you free." (John 8:32.) He said:

Truth is the great Emancipator. All enslavers are opposed to the Truth, realizing its power upon the minds of their victims. The taskmasters of to-day would fain hide the Truth from the wage-slaves, but in general find it impossible—so great is the power of the press—and there are still publishers who have not sold their moral sense for sordid gain.

In times past, when chattel slavery prevailed, the master found it to his advantage to educate his slaves and thus increase their value, but to his disadvantage to give them ethical culture along the lines of human rights. The feudator lords of the past established a serfdom and were very willing that the common people should consider them demigods, not amenable to the same laws as their subjects.

The same principle apparently prompted the emperors of old Rome, yea, and back to Nebuchadnezzar, the first world emperor, to proclaim themselves Pontifex Maximus and to encourage their people to render them religious as well as secular devotion. The natural selfishness of man has ever thus prompted him to take as much advantage of his fellows as circumstances would permit.

I am not here saying that the masses may not have fared about as well under those fetters as if they had been free. I am not arguing that all men are born equal. I am merely stating the facts as all acquainted with history know them. I am putting these facts as a background, that my text may shine out the more luminously. "The Truth shall make you free."

I can imagine many able men identified with the sciences, each claiming that his science, or truth, has done more than any other to break the shackles of ignorance and to set men free. The artist would tell us of the power of the picture to influence even those who cannot read. The publisher would tell us of the enlightening influence of the press. The astronomer would laud his science and tell us of its broadening influence upon the human mind. The geologist, historian and dramatist would each claim for his art the honor of setting men free.

But admitting all the claims thus set before us, I ask you to consider my plea that the Bible has been the great Emancipator from human slavery, mental, moral and physical. All other torches derived their spark from the Bible, the Torch of liberty lighted by Divine Providence.

The secret of this great power is that the Bible alone sets forth the relationship of man to man. The Bible alone tells us that all humanity are of one blood, all creatures of the same God, all amenable to Him, either for rewards for well-doing, or punishments for ill-doing. While the Bible instructs that kings, princes and all in authority should be recognized, and that honor should be rendered to whom honor is due, yet it also tells us that the king upon his throne is amenable to exactly the same laws as his most menial servant, and that if he violates the law he is sure to be punished. No other book in the world ever placed humanity thus on the same level.

Moreover, the Bible points out that the present life is merely a schooling time related to the future life as cause to effect. It shows, as none other book does, that every act of life, every spoken word, yea, every wilful thought, bears upon our character-development and prepares us for higher things in the life to come, if faithful, or, contrariwise, will give us more steps to retrace in the upward way, and correspondingly more difficulty in ever reaching the reward of life everlasting.

As we look back into the past, we see the nations stupid in the hands of crafty sovereigns. We see the nation of Israel, sodden with fear of their Egyptian taskmasters, not daring of themselves to take steps for liberty. But after they had been delivered from Egyptian bondage, after God had entered into a Covenant with them as a nation at Mount Sinai, they were a changed people.

The thought that God was for them and had promised them aid worked wonders, not only with the leaders, but also with the rank and file. True, they were inclined to gravitate toward the ways of the heathen nations. But to the extent that they remained loyal to their Covenant with God, and trusted in Him, they became intelligent.

Although one of the smallest of the nations, they exercised a great influence throughout the world. The promise made to Israel that they should become the leading dominant nation of the earth and give laws to all the other nations for their blessing was a contagious suggestion. The Babylonians took it up, and put it into effect by conquering the world. The Medes and Persians followed. Next came the Grecians, ambitious to be the ruling nation. Later came the Romans into power as masters of the world, conquering other nations and giving them laws which still very largely prevail, but which apparently were based upon the Mosaic code.

In considering the influence of the Law given at Mount Sinai, we are to remember that primarily and properly it affected very few. Those few were the faithful ones mentioned by St. Paul in Hebrews 11. But in a general way all the Jewish people were influenced by the spirit of the Law Covenant, and were made more courageous, more liberty-loving, than formerly, and more so than were other peoples. Josephus felt called upon to defend his people from the charge of being so independent, so headstrong as to be continuously rebellious.

HOW BLOOD IS MADE.

The liquids and the digested foods in the alimentary canal pass through the wall of the canal into the blood. This process is called absorption and takes place chiefly from the small intestine. After absorption the blood carries the food through the body, and each cell takes from the blood the food it needs. A pure glyceric extract made from bloodroot, mandrake, stone, queen's root and golden seal and sold by druggists for the past forty years under the name of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, gives uniformly excellent results as a tonic to help in the assimilation of the food and in the absorption by the blood of the food it requires. Eradicate the poisons from the blood with this alterative extract which does not shrink the white blood corpuscles, because containing no alcohol or other injurious ingredients. Thus the body can be built up—strong to resist disease. This is a tonic taken from Nature's garden that builds up those weakened by disease.

Dr. Pierce, founder of the Invalids' Hotel at Buffalo, N.Y., has received many letters similar to the following:

Mr. Fred R. Munro, of Paradise, N. S., writes: "I take great pleasure in writing you as regards my case and its cure. In September I was taken with Typhoid Fever, which put me in a dreadful condition. I was weak, run down, nervous and was reduced to a mere skeleton. I had tried most everything I could get but nothing did me any good until, at last, I was advised to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and 'Pleasant Pellets,' which I did. Before I had used one bottle I saw a great improvement and when I had used this treatment two months, using only a few vials of 'Pleasant Pellets,' I returned to perfect health. I cannot find words to express my thankfulness for this wonderful medicine. I advise all sufferers to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, as he cures when others fail."

F. R. Munro, Esq.

The Roman emperors seem to have had the idea that the religion of the Jews should be stamped out because it was a liberty-producing religion, unfavorable to their designs. We remember St. Paul's declaration that the Gospel gathered out of the Jewish nation all "Israelites indeed"—"the Elect"—and that the rest were blinded. The blinded ones drew from the ancient promises of God those conceptions of life which, unregulated by the Spirit of the Lord, devoured them with pride and ambition; and such a spirit of independence has made them lawless.

The effect of this, as history shows, was that civil strife destroyed their nationality much more than did the Roman armies, which merely came in at the close and terminated the reign of anarchy. The lesson we would point from this narrative is that the spirit of Divine Truth lends toward liberty more than all other influences combined, but that this liberty may be dangerous to those who receive not the Divine Law and Message into good and honest hearts as Israelites indeed.

The teachings of Jesus and the Apostles went first to the Jew, by Divine direction, gathering from them a "peculiar people, zealous of good works," a class at once godly, reverential and liberty-loving. So independent were they that they willingly rejected the teachings of the Scribes and Pharisees, and braved persecution, ostracism, for what they believed to be the Truth.

Already they belonged to the most independent people of the world, the Jews; but the Message of Christ made them still more independent than their brethren. It made them free indeed by giving them a clearer knowledge of God and His Divine arrangements. The Gospel Message gave them courage to become martyrs for Christ.

Sinai's Law admitted the nation of Jews to be God's servant people, but the Message of Jesus, confirmed at Calvary and Pentecost, gave a still higher hope and still more ennobling thought. It was the teaching of Jesus that through His death, a Ransom-price was provided, which eventually would permit the return of all mankind from the power of sin and death, to harmony with the Creator and to everlasting life.

More than this, the Message was an invitation to those who had eyes of understanding and ears of appreciation, that they might, in association with the Redeemer, become the agents of God in bestowing Restitution blessings upon mankind. But in order to be sharers with Christ in His glory, they must be sharers also in His sufferings and ignominy. As He was despised and rejected of men they must not expect to escape similar experiences. Their share in the Kingdom would depend upon their faithfulness and loyalty even unto death.

Is it any wonder that this Gospel Message served to stir their hearts, to open their lips and to make them courageous beyond all others of the whole world? The Message made them free! It explained that in becoming the disciples of Jesus they passed out from under slavery to sin, and became children of the Highest. It declared that, becoming children of God, they were associated with Jesus, they became heirs of God and joint-heirs with Jesus Christ, their Lord and Redeemer—if so be that they should suffer with Him.

These, liberated from all fear of death, made free through their confidence in the Savior, manifested their courage. They knew that faithfulness must bring them persecution, yet they kept not silent. They were persecuted by the Jews, because they disturbed the order of things prescribed by the Chief Priests and Pharisees. They were imprisoned, whipped and persecuted, but they went everywhere preaching the Gospel.

Amongst the Gentiles they had similar experiences. Those who made silver shrines for Diana perceived that if the people believed the teachings of the Christians they would have no further use for their shrines. On commercial grounds they opposed the preaching of the Gospel and sought to destroy those who bore the Message. Stripes, imprisonments, tribulation on every hand were the results. Soon the Roman emperors realized the Christians to be a new force and feared the awakened influence on their peoples. Nero and Diocletian crucified them, burned them, caused them to be devoured by beasts, thus making public spectacles of them and rendering the very name of Christ odious. Yet even this could not stamp out their spirit of liberty.

Alas! a change came, as the persecutions gradually relaxed, and millions espoused the name of Christ without having received the true Gospel Message to make them free. So for centuries there followed a period of darkness, ignorance and superstition. Yet God was not without His witnesses. A few retained the spirit of the Hockey fans are again to be disappointed. The condition of the ice at the rink this morning forced the management to 'phone the Picton team and cancel the game for this evening. UPPER CANADA BEAT ST. MIKE'S

TORONTO, Jan. 18.—Somehow the hockey public cannot be made to believe that, for real hustling, clean, fast hockey, the O.H.A. junior series has a wide margin on most other kinds. Another great junior battle was fought at the Arena yesterday afternoon before a small crowd. The game deserved a packed house. St. Michael's were beaten by Upper Canada College by 10 to 6. It was a desperate struggle, with honors even until the last four minutes, when the U.C.C. lads notched four goals.

An Ottawa despatch says: Those who claim that the N.H.A. games are "fixed" had another chance to holler yesterday. Of course the Wanderers defence opened out to allow Ronan and Darragh to score three easy goals; of course Quebec didn't try to beat Canadiens at Montreal. And what a farce these Toronto teams are making of it; the critical ones figure it out that there will be a four-cornered tie when the teams start in on the seven-man game on February 1. ?

Orillia juniors, last year's runners up in the O.H.A., have practically won their district. They beat Newmarket by 7 to 3.

Torontos have offered Randall and Jupp to Sydney of the Maritimem Provinces League.

The Detroit artificial ice plant has broken down and there will be no hockey in the City of the Straits until February.

MARATHON WINNER TRAINS HIMSELF

McArthur, the South African Policeman Met Many Disappointments Before Landing Big Prize

Kennedy Kane McArthur, winner of the Olympic marathon at Stockholm, was born in Dernock, County Antrim, Ireland, six miles from the Giants' Causeway, 30 years ago. When he was 18 years old he joined the Irish Rifles, and with this regiment went to South Africa to fight the Boers. After the war he settled in Bloomfontein. He became a mounted policeman, following that calling to this day. His beat is on the veldt, 6,000 feet above sea level, and in patrolling it he has to be in the saddle many hours each day.

Until he settled in South Africa, McArthur had done practically no running. There, however, he became interested in association football, and it was in playing this game that he first learned to use his legs. One day a youngster challenged him to a 100-yard dash. McArthur lost and suggested a half-mile race. At this distance he won, and he developed considerable speed, so he specialized on this event. Then he tried the mile. A year later he won the 880, mile and four-mile championships of the Cape in 2.02 1-5, 4-41 and 21.50. No marathoner has ever shown such speed at these distances. Ten miles has been turned by McArthur in 52.38.

McArthur weighs 165 pounds. He is a six-footer, has strong features, with deep-set blue eyes and his whole body is finely muscled. Four years ago he defeated Hefferon, who was second to Hayes at London in 1908, in the South African trials for the Olympic team, but the selection committee looked upon his performance as an accident, and McArthur was not sent. His record for the full Greek distance (26 miles 385 yards) is 2 hours 40 minutes.

In 1910 he convinced his countrymen of his worth and he was sent to Athens to run in the Marathon of the games scheduled there. On account of international troubles in Greece these games were called off. The same year he journeyed to London to compete in the Polytechnic Harriers' Marathon and here again met with disappointment. King Edward died shortly before the time scheduled for the race so this event was called off for a year.

McArthur trains himself, but has a masseur constantly in attendance. He uses pneumatic rubber heels on his running shoes. He attributes his success in life in the open air, the use of plain food and no alcohol. He tried cutting out tobacco, but found that he ran no better, so now he doesn't hesitate to smoke when he feels so inclined.

He believes it is wrong to run the full distance while training for long runs. His partiality for mountain climbing is based on actual experience. He declares that by so doing he improves 5 per cent. when he runs on sea level.

HERMIT OF WOODS DANCED IN CAFE

His Feet Could Not Keep Still When he Heard "Bonnie Doon" Played

While groups of five o'clock tea parties were refreshing themselves in a Montreal cafe, and the orchestra was playing softly, a tall, muscular man, who had been sitting quietly taking tea alone, leaped from his seat, and with wild gestures began leaping about the room to the imminent danger of the tables.

"He's crazy!" cried the startled customers to each other, as they gazed at the man. Women became hysterical, and men started for the telephone to call the police.

The orchestra, which had been playing "The Banks of Bonnie Doon," stopped suddenly. No sooner had they ceased playing than the man concluded his weird dance and sank into his chair breathless but contented, and those nearest to him heard him whisper to himself: "Aye, but that was gr-r-and, mon!"

Strange Old Character

The one-time famous "Jock" MacDonald, of Inverness, was again in the limelight. Twenty years ago "Jock" was turnkey in the Inverness jail, and one of the most talked of men in the North of Scotland.

Left alone in charge of a party of Norwegian smugglers he single-handed overcame them when they attempted to escape.

It was not all smooth sailing for "Jock." His coy Highland lassie was fickle and Jock was jilted. So he came to Canada and plunged into the woods, building himself a "bachelor's palace" on the outskirts of the little village of Tacheville, on the Kaministiquia river. For two decades "Jock" was the "eccentric" of the Fort William country. Working at odd jobs—now in a logging camp, now fishing, now acting as guide to hunting parties in the "north country," Jock made his living in seclusion and quiet.

Wanted to See Home

Then the fever for a change came upon him and he resolved to make for his old home. Then came a letter from his aged mother stating that she was on her way to Canada and wanted him to meet her in Montreal.

Never since he left home had this lonely wanderer heard the strains of instrumental music, and when the old familiar air of "Bonnie Doon" fell upon his ears he was beside himself with joy.

CANADA'S LUMBER KING

His First Big Financial Stroke Was Purchase of Doubtful Railway

Canada's premier lumberman is J. R. Booth, of Ottawa. Among the friends of Booth there is a question whether he made his fortune in lumber or in railroading, but it is the general belief that his estate is about equally indebted to these two sources of revenue.

Booth was born in Ottawa, Canada, in 1841. His father was possessed of more than the average means, but before his death, which occurred when the present head of the family was a boy of 15 years, he lost all of his money and thus compelled his son to depend upon himself.

This enforced independence bought out all there was in him. He saved and worked, worked and saved, and at a comparatively early age built up a huge lumber business from a tiny sawmill on the Ottawa River. He did not capitalize but paid hard cash for all that he bought.

His first big stroke in the world of finance was when he bought the Canada Atlantic railroad, an indifferent sort of institution, with few visible assets and fewer prospects. Booth set about his task with the confidence and determination that have been his chief characteristics. The road extended from Montreal to Parry Sound, and covered a distance of about 450 miles.

Booth had no associates in this deal. Out of his lumber earnings, which had been reasonably large up to that time, considering the day and age, he attacked railroading on his own responsibility. Analyzing the situation with his peculiarly analytical mind, he put the railroad's stock in a vault in the Ottawa banks. He was peering into the future when the Grand Trunk railroad, then a struggling organization, would be compelled to buy him out. He kept the railroad stock in the bank, unpledged, for five years, when the Grand Trunk first made overtures for their purchase at a price many hundred times in excess of what Booth had paid for them.

No one knows how much Booth made on this deal, but it is believed that the amount gave him his long waited for boost toward great wealth.

Egg Membrane for Skin

For a long time doctors looked for a good substitute for human skin for grafting. The possibility was lately demonstrated by taking the membrane that lines the shell of a newly laid egg, plastering it over a burn, and making it grow as human skin. The discoverer of this process was treating a child which had previously been burned, and in breaking a raw egg which he desired the child to swallow, dropped part of the membrane by accident upon the burn and bandaged the wound. Later on it was discovered that the accidental placing of the egg membrane over the burn caused cells to augment in number and gradually to extend over the wound until at the end of some weeks, the surface was completely covered with the new skin. The treatment was called to the attention of physicians, and it is now being used to cure scalds.

PEOPLE'S PULPIT

[illegible], and were [illegible] peculiar, and had trying experiences amongst their brethren. The cause of this general lapse into darkness was that the Word of God was no longer the Torch. Instead, the word of bishops became the standard, and later, the decrees of councils.

By and by, in God's Providence, the Torch of liberty again was lighted. Huss in Germany and Tyndale in Great Britain, became leaders in a movement to bring forward the Word of God. The darkness hated the light and almost extinguished it. Those who lifted the Torch perished as martyrs, and Tyndale's Bibles were burned at St. Paul's Place, London.

For a time it seemed as if the Torch had been quenched, but later it blazed forth again. Luther and his associates held it up. The Bishops who had burned Tyndale's Bibles were themselves forced ultimately to produce a translation. Two Catholic versions of the Bible and our common English version, and Luther's version followed.

The Torch flared up, and the whole world began to be influenced by it. The British, the Germans, Scandinavians and Dutch, became potent influences of civilization and enlightenment throughout the world. To-day these nations are still in the forefront, America with them, while the nations which neglected the Bible, have until now made little progress. Now all nations are being influenced by this wonderful Book, although they know it not. The doctrines which the Bible inculcates have given to the civilized world its high conception of human liberties, human rights, human equalities.

What we point out respecting the Jews and the influence of their Law upon them, we must now point out with respect to Christendom and the influence of God's Message to-day. To the saintly Jews, the liberty granted helped them to appreciate the privilege of laying down their lives in God's service. But to the remainder of the nation the liberty led on to greater discontent and strife.

So it is to-day. The saintly of Christendom, blessed by the great promises of God and inspired by the Truth respecting the redemption from sin and death, are most courageous. But these having become the servants of God, manifest their courage by their faithfulness and loyalty to the principles of righteousness, laying down their lives in the interest of God's Truth.

Here also we find, as with the Jews, that others having the same knowledge but not being sanctified by the Truth, are made the most discontented. In other words, independence and liberty are not under the restraints of sanctification to God and His service, are dangerous to the peace of the world. Thus we see that the most dangerous elements of society are those people who have had more or less contact with the Gospel and its liberty-inspiring Message. Not having received the Truth into consecrated hearts, they are disposed to use their liberty according to their own judgment merely, ignoring the Divine arrangement outlined in God's Word.

Thus we see around us to-day strife. Strife in business, and along social lines, and in a general massing of interests among the lower classes, a massing of wealth among the upper classes and a general preparation to destroy one another in a sanguinary struggle for supremacy. The Truth has begotten a spirit of liberty; but the Divine Word having been neglected, liberty is in danger of becoming license, leading to anarchy and the wreck of our present civilization.

St. Paul gives the true conception of liberty. It is freedom to do right. If all could so use liberty, what a blessing it would be! St. Paul voiced the people from this day till now. He explained that through accepting Christ he became dead to other masters and free from the authority of sin, Satan and death. But this release was granted to him on condition that he would fully give up his own will and accept, instead, the will of Christ. He accepted the proposition and declares that thus he became Christ's bond-slave.—1 Corinthians 7:22.

We perceive his thought. The will is the lever which governs and controls the mind. Having given up his will to Christ, St. Paul was thus more fully bound to Christ than any earthly slave has ever been bound.

All accepted by Christ give first their wills, and thus bind every act, word and thought into subserviency to the will of God in Christ. This was St. Paul's experience, and must be the experience of all those who, like St. Paul, hope to be of the Royal Priesthood, who will be joint-heirs with Jesus.

To some it might seem a terrible captivity to be thus bound as respects even their thoughts; and it would be terrible to be bound to any except the one Master and Head. But to those who really appreciate the Truth, the Holy Spirit of God, to those it is a blessed bondage, in which they rejoice. More and more their minds become transformed and renewed. More and more they rejoice in the liberty wherewith Christ makes them free from all other bondages, and more and more they rejoice to be servants of so gracious a King.

Canadian Wheat In Britain.

A British Government return shows that Canada sent to England last year twenty-one and a half million hundredweight of wheat, the next largest figure to twenty-five millions from the East Indies.

Canadian cattle imported totalled 6,800, as against 42,239 in 1911. The value of Canadian bacon sent here was $5,875,000, over $3,000,000 less than in 1911.

The United Kingdom sent us 1,600,000 gallons of spirits.

The most noticeable thing about British exports to Canada is the steady increase in finished products.

WHO WAS GEROME MAN OF MYSTERY?

For Fifty Years He Lived in a Canadian Town and Spoke Only Two Words

Nova Scotia's legless man of mystery died at Digby some months ago and with his passing, Death sealed a mystery as hopeless of solution as the mystery of the Man in the Iron Mask. Two slender clues were all that might help to solve this mystery. Two words:

"GEROME;" "TRIESTE."

For over 50 years the only possible source of other clues was the legless man who uttered those words, the first in August, 1861, the second some years later. For over 50 years that man kept his silence. Saving these two proper names, no word passed his lips in all those years.

The legless man came from the sea. He was marooned on the beach near Digby in 1861, landed from an unknown ship that beat into the harbor and sent a dory ashore, then put promptly to sea again. A few hours later, in a sequestered inlet, fishermen found an unconscious man on the beach, lying just above the tide line.

A bottle of water and a few ship's biscuits were found by his side. The man's legs had been cut off—apparently only a short time before. The flesh of the stumps was still raw. To all questions the stranger was silent till old Rudier Comeau asked him his name in Italian. "Gerome," was the reply.

Then the castaway lapsed into silence. From that day till he died half a century later he spoke but once, and then only to ejaculate "Trieste" when someone surprised him with the question, "Where did you come from?"

He accepted gratefully the food and shelter that the Comeau family gave him. He chopped wood for the household, wielding and ax powerfully and with skill. Though he came from the sea there was nothing about him to mark him certainly as a sailor. The Acadians believed him to be an Italian, but they did not know. Always his eyes were bent seaward. Day after day he watched the horizon. And when a strange vessel hove in sight a faint flicker shone in his eyes.

But a strange sail was the only thing that held any interest for him. If he had any hope in life it was the sea that veiled it. And when at last he came to die he passed as grimly as he had lived. Not even in death was his tongue loosed to tell anything about the strange prank that fate had played with his destiny.

There only remain questions—questions that inevitably arise, and as inevitably go unanswered.

Who was "Gerome?" Some political refugee? The captain of a mutinous crew? A pirate chief deposed and cast out by a more powerful rival? Or merely a common sailor, accidentally crippled, and cruelly marooned to get him out of the way?

Is there to-day in the port of Trieste, on the Austrian Riviera, somebody, aged wife or son or daughter, who looks out over the Adriatic, hoping against hope for the return of "Gerome?"

COOLING HOT HEADS

Cooling hot heads is to be done in a scientific way in the future. The old method of wrapping a wet towel around the forehead will be tabooed as soon as the manufacturers of the recent discovery of Dr. G. Gaertner of Vienna are able to supply the orders.

Dr. Gaertner was not trying to alleviate the sufferings incident to the "morning after" when he patented his device. What he wanted was to secure something that would do away with the wet and clammy cold and hot compresses that are necessary in some diseases or ailments that make the head hot or cold as the case may be, for his intention is good to correct either fault.

The device is nothing but a mask made of aluminum coils for the face or a cap of the same material for the head. The coils are hollow, of course, and a constant stream of hot or cold water is passed through them from conveniently placed fountains or tanks. Anyone can make a thing that will have the same effect by knitting together rubber tubing in the way the aluminum is fastened.

MR. ROWELL AT BRIGHT

Liberal Leader Gives His Version of Taxation "Blockade."

Comparing Sir James Whitney's Regime To That of the Family Compact, He Declares That the Province Is Up In Arms For a New Assessment Act—Says the Premier Ignored Expert Evidence.

BRIGHT, Ont., Jan. 20.—"Why are we forced to obey the autocratic assumption of a dictator?" asked N. W. Rowell, K.C., leader of the Liberal Opposition in Ontario, at a meeting here, which is the north-border town of his own constituency. He assailed Sir James Whitney for what the speaker termed his reactionary methods on the question of assessment reform, and declared the writing was on the wall for all opponents of needed tax reform.

Mr. Rowell deplored what he characterized as the tendency of the present administration to belittle self-government and to hold back reforms for no particular reason. "Why cannot we have this legislation in this province?" he asked. "Why cannot we have it?" he reiterated, amid applause. "Cannot we manage our own affairs? Are not we supposed to legislate for ourselves? The reasons are that we have a dictator who is determined to force his own whims and fancies upon us but has no ear for public needs. How long are the people going to stand it? We have never been subjected to such systems since the days of the Family Compact.

"We had experts appear before our House committee for the express purpose of telling us how we could eliminate the grievances voiced all over the country, but Sir James Whitney was away on a holiday, and unfortunately he came back before we had come to that stage where we could have handed in a recommendation to the Government. He was in the Parliament building while these men were giving evidence, but did not bother himself to hear them, until one morning he called and practically ordered the committee to throw out the bills."

Mr. Rowell read a long list of names of cities, towns and townships, there being 217 bodies of different shades of opinion, 119 labor organizations, 160 newspapers, Conservative and Liberal. "And yet," he said, "Sir James says there is no demand. These petitions have been filed at the Parliament buildings, and he can see them if he will take the trouble. Mustn't that man be blind to these appeals of the people? But he doesn't stay there, he says, 'you don't need it. There is no demand for it, if the assessors in the province would properly administer the act'."

E. W. Nesbitt, M.P., also addressed the meeting.

MEETS VIOLENT DEATH.

Conductor Pennock Killed When the Engine Starts Suddenly.

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 20.—George Pennock, a G.T.R. conductor, residing in Brockville, was killed yesterday morning a few miles west of Thousand Island Junction.

The engineer mistaking the approach of a west bound train for a signal to stop, applied the emergency brakes. A few seconds later, noticing his mistake, he opened the throttle wide again. In the meantime Pennock had gone to the door of his caboose to throw out a fusee to flag No. 8 express, following closely.

The sudden shock of getting under motion, threw him violently against the railing, breaking his ribs, which punctured the heart and lungs, causing instant death.

Pennock's body was picked up between the tracks. He was one of the oldest conductors in this section of the line. He leaves a widow and grown up family.

BORDEN IS INDISPOSED.

Premier Has a Slight Attack of the Influenza.

OTTAWA, Jan. 20.—The Cabinet sat practically all day Saturday, but Premier Borden had no announcement to make at its close.

There will be no naval talk this week, and there is practically no change in the political situation, at least upon the surface. Tuesday is mentioned as the day when the opposition will hold a caucus to discuss the party's future attitude towards the naval bill, but this by no means is definite according to Liberals who were about the lobbies last night.

Premier Borden has a slight attack of influenza, and will likely be kept out of the House for a few days.

Chicago Garment Workers May Strike.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Threats of 40,000 Chicago garment workers to walk out in sympathy with the New York strikers became positive Saturday. A strike committee, composed of business agents of local unions, was appointed and empowered to manage the details.

At a mass meeting of non-union garment workers, 200 recruits pledged themselves to join the organized workers in case of a strike. Union organizers are said to be working in many big garment factories, urging non-union employes to join the organization.

Jaurez Lines Repaired.

EL PASO, Texas, Jan. 20.—After burning many bridges on both railroads between Jaurez and Chihuahua City, rebels have permitted the repairing of the telegraph lines. This enables them to use the wires for their own purposes, and at the same time hear all that is transmitted by the federals. No attempt has been made to repair either road.

MARKET REPORTS

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—All board of trade markets were dull and featureless today the usual week-end situation. Prices decline slightly. Cables being unchanged from Liverpool and advices generally without color. Somebody started a story that the best known of the private crop prophets was preparing a bullish bulletin on wheat. It helped prices until the prognosticator published a formal denial. There was another report that one of the most influential traders was buying wheat, and this was formally denied, but not until it had caused a slight upward flurry. In general the pit followed any important buying or selling orders and in the absence of these did nothing. Primary receipts for the week were larger than a week ago, the gain coming from the southwest. Northwest receipts decreased a little.

The Liverpool market clos. 1¼d lower on wheat and ¼d to ½d lower on corn. Antwerp closed unchanged, Budapest ⅛c higher, Berlin ⅜c to ⅝c lower, and Paris ⅛c to ½c higher.

MONTREAL MARKET.

MONTREAL, Jan. 18.—Cables on Manitoba spring wheat came weaker today at a decline of 1½d to 3d, in sympathy with the lower American and Canadian markets on Friday. At the above reduction there was a good demand from foreign buyers, there being a number of orders in the market for round lots, but as the prices bid were out of line with exporters' views no sales were made. The local market for oats was dull, but there was some demand for new crop American No. 3 yellow corn and sales of several cars were made at 60c per bushel, ex-store. The sales of wheat here for export account for the week were over 1,000,000 bushels. The export trade in flour was quiet, but the local demand is fair and the tone of the market steady. The demand for millfeed is slow and prices are easy. Butter is quiet and steady. Cables on cheese were firmer, but the demand from English buyers is still quiet. The egg market is unsettled and easier. Receipts for week 1831 cases, against 898 a year ago. Demand for provisions is fair.

More Churches For Italians.

TORONTO, Jan. 20.—Two more Roman Catholic Churches for the Italian population of Toronto are to be built this year, according to the announcement made at the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel by His Grace Archbishop McNeill last evening.

MAY BE SIGN OF PEACE

Turkey Will Hold a National Assembly on War Question.

Porte's Call For a General Convention of the People May Mean Further Concessions to the Balkan States—Ottoman Government Announces Determination to Hold Adrianople and the Islands in the Aegean.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The Porte's decision to call a National Assembly on Tuesday to take under advisement the Balkan situation probably heralds further concessions on the part of Turkey—concessions which could not be yielded by the Cabinet without risking its fall. In any case, the Balkan delegates in London do not believe that the Porte's reply to the joint note of the powers will be such a flat refusal as foreshadowed from Constantinople.

Yesterday's despatches reported that the Turkish Government had reached a decision not to cede Adrianople or the Aegean Islands, but was willing to enter into negotiations respecting those islands some distance removed from the Dardanelles. If Turkey's answer is unsatisfactory, the allies, in deference to Europe, will ask the powers whether they have means to compel Turkey to comply with their wishes. If not, the allies will carry out the plan already announced, leading to the resumption of the war.

In such event, the allies will regard all concessions heretofore made for the sake of peace, either to Turkey or the powers, as void. Thus they will not recognize the undertaking consenting to an autonomous Albania, or the promise of Servia and Montenegro to retire from the Adriatic.

Opposed to Concessions.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 20.—The Turkish Foreign Minister, Noradunghian Effendi, Saturday night submitted to the Council of Ministers a draft of the reply to the note of the powers. It is understood that it insists upon the retention of Adrianople for the following reasons:

First, because the Bulgarian inhabitants are in the minority in Adrianople, not only in comparison with the Moslems, but as compared with other Christians. Second, because of the splendid defence of the garrison. Third, the loss of Adrianople, containing the temples of the Caliphs, would ruin the prestige of Islam. Fourth, the loss of Adrianople, which is the gate of Constantinople, would endanger the existence of the empire.

"The Porte therefore prays," continued the reply, "that the powers take consideration of the vital necessities of the empire and make representations to the Balkan States, with a view to peace. Turkey sincerely desires to find a common ground of understanding and will even consent to fresh sacrifices."

Regarding the Aegean Islands, the reply says that Turkey refuses to abandon the islands near her coasts, but is ready to continue pourparlers respecting the distant islands.

Noradunghian Effendi has instructed the Ottoman ambassadors abroad again to sound the powers with regard to Adrianople. The Superior Council of War has handed the Council of Ministers a report on the military situation.

Ironworkers To Meet In Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 20.—The annual convention of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers will be held here Feb. 24, it was announced Saturday by J. E. McClory, acting secretary-treasurer.

The convention was to have been held in Milwaukee last September, but was postponed because of the trials of thirty-two labor leaders in the "dynamite conspiracy."

At the convention questions arising out of the convictions of the leaders will be considered.

Burglar Invents Alarm.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—After serving twenty-eight years in prison for various burglaries, Wm. Cornell hopes to put an end to the burglary business for others. In his cell in the tombs where he is awaiting trial on a new charge of burglary he received a letter from Washington Saturday notifying him that a burglar alarm which he had invented had been approved, and he would receive a patent shortly.

Death of Maitland Newman.

KINGSTON, Jan. 20.—One of the oldest and best known commercial travelers in Ontario died yesterday in the person of Maitland Newman, after an illness extending over six months. Deceased had extensive connection with business houses all over the province.

U. S. Soldiers Seize Rail Land.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Jan. 20.—A company of the 29th Infantry marched from Fort Porter to the foot of Erie street Saturday and seized that part of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western coal trestle which, the Government alleges, encroaches on Federal property. The land is fifteen feet in depth, extending along about 1,000 feet of the harbor entrance, and is worth seven hundred thousand dollars. It has been the subject of litigation between the railroad and the Government for twenty years.

The next move, U. S. Attorney O'Brian said, rests with the railroad, and unless they move quickly, he added, the trestle will be torn down.

Was Not Poisoned.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 20—A postmortem on the body of Ebba Hallonquist, whose sudden death was at first thought to be due to candy she ate, reveals the fact that death was due to acute enteritis. Her physician states she had been ill for several days.

RIVER ON RAMPAGE.

Serious Damage Done at Wallaceburg by Floods.

CHATHAM, Jan. 20.—As a result of the floods in the river Sydenham at Wallaceburg, due to heavy rains, the tug Maude early Saturday broke loose from her moorings and drifted down stream, crashing into the Duncan street bridge. The force of the collision swung the bridge open and the tug went through, lodging against the Pere Marquette bridge further down, closely followed by a freight boat, which, after striking the bridge, sank in thirty feet of water. The barge Belknap and the tug Roney also broke loose, striking the Duncan street bridge, forced the swing shut, and jammed there. The south approach of the bridge is demolished and the ice piled five feet high in places. Cellars and stores are flooded.

Grand River Subsides.

GALT, Ont., Jan. 20.—The Grand River flood which came on Saturday, suddenly and unexpectedly, somewhat subsided yesterday. Beyond flooding cellars abutting on the stream, no damage was done. But oldest inhabitants say that midwinter flood is invariably followed by heavy and disastrous spring freshets. Not a pound of ice have been stored in Galt this winter, and if the weather keeps open, it will mean importation of 5,000 tons to supply the town next summer.

Ohio's Rise Ruins Crops.

GOLCONDA, Ills., Jan. 20.—The rise of the Ohio River is causing the most damage to live stock and crops since the flood of 1884, according to reports received here. The river rose nine inches in the last 24 hours. Thousands of bushels of corn and many head of hogs and cattle have been destroyed.

AN INTERNATIONAL AFFAIR.

Italian Infant Is Born Passing Through Sarnia Tunnel.

SARNIA, Jan. 20.—As a Grand Trunk train was passing through the tunnel under St. Clair River yesterday afternoon there was born by a woman of Italian parentage a baby girl. The woman was traveling alone, knew no words of English, and to learn her name was impossible. Her ticket showed that she was traveling from Toronto to Chicago, and a brief note which she carried indicated that she had intended to reach the metropolis and there present her husband with a smiling daughter. A note indicated that she would be met in Chicago by her husband.

Traveling was too severe a strain for her delicate condition, and as the train was passing through the tunnel the babe arrived. Conductor Callahan was in charge of the train. He passed through the various coaches calling for a physician, but none was among the passengers. A veterinary surgeon, traveling from a Canadian city, offered his services, and because of the absence of one more skilled he was asked to officiate.

The mother objected vigorously when an attempt was made to move her from the train at Port Huron and take her to the hospital. Though she could understand no English, she realized that if she stopped here her husband in Chicago would be disappointed when she failed to arrive, and refused to leave the train.

The passengers became nurses to the child born on the boundary between the two countries and exerted every effort to lend comfort to the mother and infant. A purse of about $200 was collected when a hat was passed among the tourists, and this amount was presented to the infant girl.

Three Schooners Aground.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Jan. 20.—The coal steamer Evelyn, from Philadelphia to Key West, with coal for the navy, was driven hard aground off Cape Henry early Saturday in a southwest gale. Captain Hecker and his crew were taken off safely. The schooner, General White, from Mobile, was driven aground and an unknown schooner was sunk. The crew later were rescued.

SHOULD PROTESTANTS PREACH IN QUEBEC?

The following excellent sermon was delivered by Rev. Chas. Geo. Smith, B.D., from his home pulpit in Victoria Avenue Baptist Church:

Last year at Ville St. Pierre, a mob set upon Mr. Lanctin and Mme. Daigneau, two of our Baptist missionaries, and injured them with stones, rotten eggs and other missles, while they were conducting a peaceful open air service. When the matter was aired in the court it was remarked that it was unwise for Protestants to preach in Quebec, as it belonged to the Catholics and was the natural home of the Roman religion. The answer to these remarks is that Quebec belongs to Canada, and the British Empire, and is—or should be—the natural home of all who choose to live there peaceably, whateevr be their race of creed. We Baptists are deeply interested in this matter, because of our noble Grande-Ligne Mission, founded by Madame Feller 70 years ago. Last year we spent $26,500.00 in Christian work and education in that province. We also received $250.00 from the Grand Orange lodges of East and West Ontario to aid our work, thus showing their practical appreciation of our efforts. Are we wrong in preaching our gospel in Quebec? I answer, decidedly, No! Is our money thrown away? I answer No! for we have had splendid results and every dollar has been nobly invested in Bibles and Christian education at our Feller Institute. Moreover, we insist upon and demand the right of free speech under every corner of the blessed Union Jack, the fairest flag that floats in the heavens today. I am glad to tell you that the rank and file of Catholics admit this, and the Mayor and Council of Ville St. Pierre has made overtures—to our legal representatives—asking for a settlement, offering to pay reasonable damages and to pass a resolution expressive of their regret at the injuries to our missionaries. I think this lesson has been a salutary one, and that in future our Baptist missionaries of Grande Ligne will be able to peaceably prosecute their work in any part of Quebec.

Another reason why we should labor in Quebec is that it is a poor rule that does not work both ways. Roman Caholic missionaries come into Ontario, and hold missions in our Protestant centres for the avowed object of reaching non-Catholics. The Paulist Fathers hold big missions in Toronto every winter for this purpose, and a list of conversions is made after each mission. The Catholic Extension Society also spends large sums in propagandist work in Ontario among Protestants. And does any sane Protestant resent the visits of the Paulist Fathers and Catholic missions? Certainly not. I have myself been to hear them preach on several occasions, and will doubtless go again. A healthy rivalry is not to be discouraged; it is educative, and enables us to compare our various systems of beliefs, and to properly guage our differences, and to note our points of agreement. And our Ontario laws protect Catholic missions even in centres overwhelmingly Protestant, and true Christians will respect their efforts, and would be the very first to resent any outrage or insult offered by senseless mobs or bigoted numbskulls. And I say that Catholics—especially their priests and educated laity—should see to it that the same measure of justice and good will which we mete out to them in Ontario is withal meted out to us in Quebec. That is both logical, and according to the Golden Rule. Even when we are insulted and grossly misinterpreted we do not resort to sticks and stones. What folly such action would be on the part of twentieth century Christians! We have a striking instance of this in the case of Rev. Bernard Vaughan, who, preaching in St. Patrick's Church, Montreal, two years ago, went out of his way to denounce Protestantism, calling it a soulless religion invented by the wit of man. In spite of these outspoken sentiments—which we believe are utterly false and untrue—Father Vaughan was not stoned in Montreal, nor was he hissed in Toronto. He was answered by argument, proof and historical data, and that is the only way to fight religious battles honorably. Nor are we so silly as to believe that Father Vaughan is base or unworthy as a man or minister because he attacked our religion. We know he is a good man, and I suppose there are few Protestant pastors who have not read his famous book of sermons on "The Sins of Society." Moreover, the Catholics owe a great debt to the Baptists—which, to be sure, they gladly acknowledge—though in some parts of the world they seem to have forgotten it. Let me remind them that the Baptists are the only denomination who have been in existence for three hundred years, who have never persecuted Catholics and who have always insisted that they have equal rights and every civil and religious liberty. The descendants of the Pilgrim Fathers refused religious equality to the Catholics in America. What happened? Roger Williams and the Baptists of the State of Rhode Island sheltered the Catholics and insisted on their equality before God and in the eyes of the State's laws. So that they ought to be the very last sect to say that Baptists should not preach in Quebec. Our lease is not up; it is a permanent one, and we are going on with our Grande Ligne mission in Quebec, in the same peaceful and loving manner we have now done for 6 years. We claim the same rights in Quebec that the Catholics claim in Ontario, and we will have them. Personally, I wish very much that Archbishops Bruchesi, Begin and Gauthier would discourage the more ignorant classes of their people from the petty forms of persecution which are permitted in various parts of Quebec upon Protestants. I know that educated Catholics and priests would scorn to engage in such acts of violence as were perpetrated on our Baptist missionaries last year. But the ignorant classes need the check of the Archbishops, and I fail to understand their silence in the face of the known facts. Again, it is a mystery that intelligent Catholics will permit the publication of such foolish statements as sometimes appear in their Quebec papers. I am certain that The Catholic Register of Ontario would never be guilty of such stupidity. Here is what The Rosary, published in Quebec says: "We want fighting Catholics. We have played the game of tolerance until the game is played out. We must fight with all our might until we have laid hands on as much of the power, place and position of the country as our claims entitle us to demand." Here is what The Watchman, a Quebec Catholic paper says: "We would like to rack and quarter Protestantism; we would like to impale it and hang it up for crows to build nests of; we would like to tear it with pincers and pierce it with red-hot irons; we would like to fill it with molten lead, and plunge it into hell fire a hundred fathoms deep." Such uselss vagaries are neither witty nor wise, and are utterly devoid of sense and intellectuality. We could dismiss them as mere diatribes, only for the grave issues that it is possible for them to provoke. Indeed, it is to such printed misrepresentations that the riots of last year were due; plus the guilty silence of the priests. So I plead with you for a continuance of your support and prayers for our Baptist work in Quebec. It is not a question as to whether a Roman Catholic can be saved to go to Heaven. God has His elect in every church, and whosoever believeth in Him hath eternal life. It is too late in the day for intelligent Christians to think that any one church or creed; or all the churches and creeds and Bibles in the world can save a man; or that the absence of them will damn him. But this is the question: Have we Protestants more light, more liberty, more equality in our faith? We believe we have and therefore we will be traitors to our Savious if we fail to obey His command—"Let your light so shine before men." I want you to follow me as I read a portion of the 76th annual report of our Grande Ligne Mission, which has just been published:

OUR FIELD.

Our endeavors of necessity, have been largely among the people of the Roman Catholic faith; not that we regard ourselves called to specially antagonize Romanism, but rather from the fact that in the Province of Quebec, where our labors are more particularly directed a very large proportion of the population profess this faith, so that if we are to preach the gospel "to every creature" under such circumstances, we must reach out to them.

OUR OUTLOOK.

There have been many incidents during the past year which have served to bring into strong relief a feature of Romanism that is altogether too much overlooked, viz.: That it is just as much a political system as one of morals and religion, indeed, its political side is a part of its religion, it claims to govern the State even as it governs the individual, and brooks no interference with its pretensions either in one or the other.

Rome has always been opposed to the intellectual advancement of her people. So long as she can keep them in ignorance, so long she can keep them in subjection. The only saving clause in the intellectual progress of Quebec lies in the intellectual superiority of the adjoining provinces, so that even the Roman Catholic parent demands a better education for his child, and Rome will have to advance against her purpose and her will or else lose her children.

In social and moral reform the province of Quebec is rapidly advancing. True morality can never be produced by homilies, penances or religious ceremonies. True morality is the fruit of regeneration, and there is no place for regeneration in the whole Roman system except at the baptismal font. The steady work of the evangelical bodies is permeating the whole country.

Feller Institute has again been a large factor in the success of our work. It is not easy to measure the silent, yet mighty influence that this institution is exerting upon the present and future of Quebec and the Dominion. It means a different class of French churches. Today the bright eye, the intelligent look upon the faces of these who have enjoyed the privileges of this institution would enable an almost perfect stranger to pick them out from among their fellows. Better still, they are rapidly coming to the front in commercial life and centres, but still better, many of them become Christians while with us and are thus enabled to exert an influence for righteousness and truth.

Not less than sixty professed conversion at Feller Institute during the year.

The swing of the pendulum is indicated in a personal utterance of one of Quebec's most progressive men as he said: "I am a devont Roman Catholic, but the demands of the church and the tyranny of the priests are fast driving hundreds of our most cultured and educated people into infidelity." Shall the history of France be repeated in Quebec? How can Quebec be saved from infidelity? The answer lies with the people of God.

A MARTYR TO DUTY.

After Lifework Among Lepers Sir Geo. Turner Is Stricken.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Although Sir George Turner is afflicted with leprosy as the result of his heroic self-sacrifice he has no intention of abandoning active work among the sufferers of the disease. He has decided to devote the remainder of his life to lepers and has offered his services to the mission to lepers in India and the East, but it is felt there is greater scope for his work in South Africa, where he knows all the conditions. He will probably return to that field of labor. He is full of brave hope to do something more for his fellow-sufferers.

Sir George Turner, interviewed, said his treatment of lepers so far had been on the general principle of making the lepers more comfortable and in retarding the advance of the disease. There was a great possibility, however, that some remedy might be found. "Generally speaking," he said, "people have a very erroneous idea with regard to the contagiousness of leprosy. In my opinion leprosy usually, if not always, is spread by contagion, but most lepers are not nearly so dangerous to the public as a person suffering from phthisis."

PLEDGED TO SILENCE.

Brandt Must Go to Prison Unless He Keeps Quiet.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—After serving six of the 30 years to which he was sentenced for burglary at the home of Mortimer L. Schiff, where he was a servant, Foulke E. Brandt left for Minnesota on an early train Saturday to begin life anew and enjoy the freedom of the pardon granted him by Governor Sulzer because the sentence was excessive.

Brandt has been warned if he repeats or refers to the slanderous statements previously made, which he retracted publicly Friday, or seeks to gain any notoriety by either writing of his case or appearing on the stage, the pardon will be revoked.

Cornered by Posse Ended Life.

PASSADAUMKEAG, Me., Jan. 20.—Harry Robertson, a lumberjack, shot and killed Constable Maurice D. Bean Saturday and several hours later committed suicide when cornered by a posse after a 15-mile chase through a heavily-wooded country. Robertson killed the constable as the latter was attempting to arrest him on a charge of forging orders for camp supplies.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Land Agency or Sub-Agent for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within 9 miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him, by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

Women in Fierce Riot

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—With hatpins and umbrellas several hundred women fought the police to-day in one of the fiercest riots since the beginning of the garment workers' strike. A lone policeman who tried to protect male strike breakers was beaten black and blue.

The policeman arrested one woman, but had to summon twelve more bluecoats before he could get his prisoner to the station house. The police accomplished this by forming a hollow square which was beet on all sides by the battling garment workers.

Five women were arrested in this riot which started when the women assaulted a truck driver delivering mattresses for the use of strike-breakers.

The dress and waist makers began voting today on the acceptance of an agreement for the settlement of their difficulties. The strikers say the proposals grant practically all their demands.

The strike of dress and shirtwaist makers, one of several trades involved in the garment workers' walk-out, was settled to-day and most of the 3,000 workers will return to the shops next Monday.

The terms of the agreement include a general increase in wages, shorter hours, the appointment of a board to settle questions of sanitation and a permanent system of arbitration.

German Dirigible Wrecked in Wind

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—Special—The dirigible balloon Schuettelanz, which was forced to land near Potsdam yesterday because of the failure of the elevating rudder, was seized by a cross wind and carried on to a house, where it hung, the envelope badly rent, and the balloon otherwise damaged. A mechanic jumped out from an altitude of sixty feet, breaking his arms and legs. The accident followed a three hours' trip in a high wind.

NOT A SECRET NOW

Daisy Kilrain, Stenographer, Talks to Her Writing Machine.

By HILDA CLIFFORD.

I really wonder if every girl feels as I do under similar circumstances. Certainly, I hope so, for I am too happy to draw a long breath. What is it that has made me so wildly joyous, oh little typewriter of mine? I will tap out the story on your keys, for you are indirectly responsible for it all.

First, do you need an introduction to me? If so, I am Daisy Kilrain, stenographer, and happiest girl in the world, just nineteen. Yesterday I could have said nineteen and never kissed, but today, well, typewriter, I'll tell you all about it. I've had several other places, but came here six months ago, and am the only girl in the business, the other employes being all men and boys, from the Head down to Kit the office boy. Of course my work was taking the letters of the Head, and occasionally ones from the rest, although they talk so slow that I can write them right off on you. The Head can rattle them off so fast that it keeps my pencil flying to keep up. It's hard to tell you just what the Head looks like, for you aren't a girl with eyes in your head; but he's great and big and such a man! His eyes look right into yours, and woe is me if you ever tell even a tiny fib; but I never have. There is something about such a man that inspires confidence, and, yes, love; I might as well write it and get it over. Some of the fellows in the outer office said that he was a woman hater, but I never believed that, for there are kind lines about his mouth, and when he smiles his whole face lights up, and you feel better and stronger for having known him. There is a lot of work here, but I like to work and keep busy, so I didn't mind until the bookkeeper began putting off some of his work on me. He found out that I can add better than he, and then he kept on giving me more and more of his figuring to do, so that I had to stay overtime every night. At first I said nothing; then I thought I was entitled to dinner money, and spoke about it. He smiled, a rather unpleasant smile, and said:

"Is It Possible You Can Care for an Old Crusty Fellow Like Me?"

"Righto, Miss Daisy, you shall have your dinner, but I'll pay for it," and of course that ended dinner money for me, because I wouldn't have let him pay for anything for me, not if I starved.

ever married her employer unless she was fearfully in love or wanted a home very much indeed. Perhaps she is right, but I wonder why. Of course a man's stenographer does know him better than his home folks, in a way, but when he has only nice traits of character to show, why shouldn't she love him all the more? When a girl sees a man bear up under misfortune, keep his temper, show consideration under circumstances that would make a saint long to break all ten of the commandments, why, that tends to show how awfully nice he is, doesn't it? I think so. At last, yesterday morning, things came to a climax. The bookkeeper had piled things up on me the day before so that it was nine o'clock before I left the office, and I had not stopped for dinner. I left the work on the desk ready for him, but when I came down in the morning I found Kit the office boy nearly frantic because he had spilled ink all over all that carefully tabulated stuff, and I knew I would have to do it all over. This upset me so (though I didn't say a word to Kit; poor little chap, he couldn't help it) that my hands were shaking when I went in for dictation, and everything looked blurred before my eyes.

The Head began, speaking in his usual rapid way, but it really seemed to me that he, too, was nervous. Suddenly I found that he was beyond me, and I said, my voice trembling:

"Excuse me, but you are talking too fast."

He stared at me, and no wonder, for it was the first time I had ever asked him to speak slower.

"What's the matter?" he asked kindly, and I broke down. Just think of it, I cried like a baby, and all the time he was patting my shoulder with the ruler which he had snatched up in his excitement, not knowing what to do with a sobbing girl. I kept on crying harder and harder, and he kept on patting my shoulder with renewed force, until at last I couldn't stand it any longer, and so I gasped out:

"Please don't hit me any more, you're fairly pounding me," and then he looked at the ruler and realized what he was doing. He gave a gasp himself, and said kind of breathlessly:

"Why, bless my soul, what have I been doing?" and gazed at me, as I could see through my fingers, for my hands were over my face.

"I didn't mean to do this way," I began to apologize.

"And I never meant to pound you," he explained, still holding the ruler and looking from it to me and back again. The funny side of it struck me and I began to laugh through my tears, and then to cry again, and then it all happened so suddenly.

He bent nearer, asking in that kind, nice way of his: "My poor little girl, what is it? Who has been imposing on you? Bless me, I can't bear to see a woman cry."

"My dear Miss Kilrain, I am going to ask you a very strange thing."

"Yes," I said encouragingly.

"I am wondering if you would feel hurt if I asked for your resignation," he blurted out.

"Why?" I asked simply.

He turned towards me, and caught my eyes. I did not try to hide my secret any more. There was no need. The dear reached forward, caught my hands in his own, asking eagerly:

"Tell me, little girl, if it is possible that you can care for an old crusty fellow like me?" Dear typewriter, he is only thirty-five, and to call himself old!

"It not only is possible, it IS," I said, rather mixed up as to words, but certainly not as to meaning; and then I ceased to belong to the unkissed, and this is my last day here. The poor dear thought it his duty to send me away, because he feared his love for me might disturb me. Do you wonder, typewriter of mine, that I am the happiest girl in all the world?

SPOILS OF VICTORY

A Story of Intrigue and Love in the Frozen North.

By CLARICE ANTON WESTICOTT.

"Will you remember me when I am gone, Leona? Tell me!" The tone was masterful.

"Perhaps."

The man gave a sharp exclamation and catching the girl by the wrist he said sternly:

"Don't speak that way. When you do it cuts like a knife," and his other hand fell half-unconsciously upon the hilt of the hunting knife in his belt.

"How dare you? You know, Jean Lemare, I have never told any man that I love him."

"Actions speak louder than words," the man returned coldly. "Those glorious eyes of yours say yes, when your lips form no. You have listened to my words of love and never turned away."

"They interested me as long as they were different," the girl returned, maddeningly.

"When you have something new to say, expect me to remember you; but until then I do not care to even listen," and the trapper was left alone with his rage and love. Until his departure on the following day the spoiled beauty kept out of his way, and once he had disappeared, she drew a deep sigh of relief.

Smiling a little to herself, and yet wondering if he would study something new to say to her when he emerged from the dangers of the unbroken path into the wilderness, she hummed a song he favored, and was so wrapped up in her own thoughts she did not hear the stealthy step of a man who stole upon her. Small wonder that she did not, for he was skilled in tracking down the wildest kind of game, and hiding his presence from the keen-scented wild things of the unexplored north. The first that she realized that she was not alone was when Leona felt a man's arms about her, and a man's mouth pressed to hers; and frightened almost to death she looked up into Jean's dark, flashing eyes.

"You told me to make love differently," he said, after he had kissed her breathless, "and so I have. I knew no other man has ever held you in his arms or taken kisses from your lips. Now I have put my stamp on you. I know you well enough to know that the man who kisses you will be your husband, or you will go unwed to your grave. I've staked my life on your love for me. Kill me if you wish," and he handed her the heavy revolver that kept his knife company in his belt.

The girl's face quivered, her eyes filled with tears, then waving away the proffered weapon, once more she fled, but this time threw back no laughing challenge over her shoulder.

With a heavy sigh, and yet with the light of hopeful love in his face, Jean retraced his steps, and this time fairly began his long journey. For weeks afterwards, Leona felt her cheeks burn crimson at the very thought of Jean's kisses, and yet in her heart she was not angry, for she did love him, though her untamed girlish nature rebelled at restraint. As the days crept on, she took pleasure in the thought that she belonged to this mighty hunter, and she began to plan her future as his wife. Suddenly her happiness was crushed as the tender verdure beneath the branches of the felled forest tree. After a day that had seemed unusually long to her impatience, although one of the shortest of the year, she was sitting in the chimney corner idly listening to her father, when some of his words recalled her to attention.

"I didn't think that of Jean. He ought to be ashamed of such a thing."

"What?" Leona asked.

"Marrying an Indian girl," was the careless answer.

"He never did!" she said fiercely, her eyes blazing in the firelight.

The factor nodded his head. "Yes Long John says so. Father Acton married them at St. Pierre mission, of which she was a convert. I'm sorry, for I never have held to these mixed marriages," and then he caught his daughter as she fell forward.

For a week she lay ill, and when she finally crawled forth into the open air she loved so well she was like one smitten. All her proud, young courage was gone. She shunned the trappers who flocked to her father's store, and spent her time out in the woods where Jean had kissed her maiden lips and held her in his strong arms. Into this retreat no one dared penetrate, not even Long John Hathers. He would not give up the secret hope in his heart, and tried to court her, although he said but little. His eyes glowed a red fire that nothing extinguished. Leona at first scarcely noticed him, then hated him for the love she saw he bore her, and prevented him from speaking of it until one day when the sun was beginning to feel warm, and she was once more in the woods. Believing herself entirely alone, she began to live over once more the love scene of the fall before, when suddenly Long John stood before her, speaking madly of his love, and pleading madly with her to return it.

The girl fought like a young tiger. She knew now that he had been a witness to her last scene with Jean, and it drove her mad with rage. Finally, seeing the hateful, bearded face coming nearer and nearer, she cried aloud for help, and in providential answer to her cry it came, for suddenly Long John measured his length on the grass, and she saw Jean like one in a dream.

"Come, Leona, sweetheart," Jean said tenderly, "give me the welcome back I deserve," and he held out his arms.

"How dare you?" she gasped. "What will your wife think when I tell her?"

"What about the Indian girl?" she continued, for the man looked puzzled.

"Indian girl? Oh, you mean the one I found and took to the mission. Why, dear, she is only eleven."

Leona gave a gasp of happiness, and Long John, crawling to his feet, once more saw Leona in Jean's arms, but this time she went of her own accord.

"Let him go," said Jean merrily, as he watched the tall figure of his late adversary disappearing in the distance. "He has lost, Leona, despite the lying reports he circulated, and the spoils of victory are mine, aren't they, dear?"

For answer the girl raised her face to his, and their lips met for the second time.

PROUD OF HIS NEW CLOTHES

Rhodesian Native, Returning From Mines, Was Scandalized By Unclad Relatives and Friends.

A town in Rhodesia is not generally a town, declares Mrs. M. L. Woods in "Pastels Under the Southern Cross." A few scattered shops, a broad road deep in red dust, down which a sudden miscellaneous herd of blacks occasionally pours, constitute a town. Of these natives, Mrs. Woods gives the following description:

They are collected from all parts of Rhodesia, from Portuguese territory, even from Nyasaland. Dressed in anything and everything, they come pell-mell, grinning and chattering, some like young colts bounding into the air as they go. These happy fellows are probably rejoicing because they are being sent to some mine where certain of their friends and relations are already working.

This is the native as he appears entering on his term of service at the mines. I once saw a group of black men who had completed their term of service and were on their way home. They were serious, dignified, conscious of clean and complete costumes, consisting of shirt and trousers and a hard straw hat. Each had his neat bundle and his gaily painted wooden box.

We were once appreciative witnesses of the home-coming of such a miner at a wayside station. A party of relatives and friends had come from the kraal to meet the returning one, all innocent in their nakedness and rags. The plutocrat surveyed them with a scandalized eye; coldly he waved their salutations and endearments, obviously too shocked and pained to appreciate them. Then he withdrew from the platform to the foot of a neighboring tree, and beckoned his bewildered friends to approach. In a few minutes, before the eyes of the passengers in the train, he had clothed his whole party with decency, and surely, in their eyes with splendor. Then, and only then, did he condescend to return their greetings; and, exceedingly joyful, all marched off together in the direction of their kraal.

In 1417 Frederick of Nuremberg, his descendant was made Elector of Brandenburg. The Prince of Hohenzollern abdicated in favor of the King of Prussia in 1849. Charles, son of Charles Anthony, was elected Prince of Roumania in 1866. His brother, Leopold, was nominated for the throne of Spain in 1870, but withdrew on account of the excitement of the time, brought on by the

Varied Mineral Resources of Eastern Ontario

A Country of Surprises, With Many Rich and Valuable Deposits.

The following letter, dated from Hastings, January 18th, which we clip from the Toronto Star, is so full of rich meat that we gladly reproduce it:

Canada is so full of resources that that the new things I am running across are a continual surprise. I came down here to see about the gold deposits about which I had so frequently heard. I thought that gold was all I could find. Instead, I am "discovering" almost any kind of mineral that you can name, and when properly gone after must prove great Ontario assets. Nearly every man I meet has something new to tell me about, or ask, '"Have you see—?" With one it is gold, with another copper, still another, "Do you know that we have the best graphite in the world?" And my "No." soon became stereotyped.

What surprised me most was to run across vast deposits of marble, that I am free to confess we have nothing in the States to equal in either texture or beauty. Right here in Hastings there is a world-beater, for variety, in a small area. They showed me on the property of the Canadian Marble Company, a close corporation, more than twenty varieties, and claimed to have more than thirty-five varieties. Just imagine running across the marbles of Italy, Scotland, Vermont, Tennessee, and the rest of them, all thrown together in one deposit, and you will have a conception of what has been discovered right here in one of Ontario's counties.

In colors, there are browns, blues, greys, purples, pinks, reds, blacks, creams, whites—if white be a color—and then other beds so variegated that you would think that molten mass of all the colors had been stirred together, and then allowed to slowly cool, leaving a result that makes one think of "Pictures in the Clouds."

I had heard so much about "Made in Canada" that I had come to believe that in all lines the spirit was general: "Home First and Always!" But when I see the Toronto Bank sending down to Tennessee for its marble, the King Edward Hotel Company crossing the Atlantic to Italy for its interior finish, the Royal Bank going over to Vermont for its material, and even the Parliament Buildings depending on the quarries of Indiana for its stone, I cannot but think that the spirit is not general, since more beautiful than all of the varieties and qualities were long ago "Made in Canada." Down home we are not so patriotic. At least "Made by Uncle Sam" is not looked for when making a purchase. And so I shall not be surprised to hear of our architects crossing the line to get what they cannot find at home, since we want the best, no matter from whence it comes.

It is not for me to criticize, but it does seem a bit strange, with enough to build another Toronto, almost at its doors, that its architects should send away to other countries of the world to get what may be had so near at hand.

This one company has 1,200 acres, and practically all of these are underlaid with marble of fine texture and rare beauty.

It is interesting to see how they go about finding out the extent of the deposits. The company has its own core drill. Holes are bored down, to, say, 100 feet, and careful records kept of the cores, which are highly polished to determine the texture of the marble. The machine, or whatever they call it, is moved about, and other holes are bored to the same depth as the first, and the distance measured between. The result gives what they call "insight." But all I could were the cores themselves, which are very beautiful.

I asked if they could get any one color in any one place, and they began a dissertation on "monotones," pointing out that "Here we have a deposit of white that runs 80 feet wide and 300 feet long. There's a deposit of grey; over there is one of pink," etc., each in its well-marked place. It surely was interesting, and I came away feeling that I had learned something worth while.

Some of the best graphite in Canada is found in this same country, while deposits of iron, in paying beds of it, are lying ready for development, throughout a number of the counties in this part of the Province.

If this part of Old Ontario had the men of enterprise found in the New, its wealth in mineral would not have to be accidentally "discovered" by the writers of "Canadian Resources." But this will only be for a time. Men of enterprise are beginning to drift in and are finding the good things. The trouble up till recently, has been more carefully looked after than the real development work of the properties. But this is changing and honest management is becoming the rule and results are already being noted. This may be seen in such properties as the Cordova and the Ore Chimney Mines, in Peterborough and Frontenac Counties, from both of which big things are expected. The latter will shortly add to its equipment a concentrating plant, now that it has opened up a big bed of ore of paying values. The former has long been well equipped with machinery of all kinds, but it lacked a man who knew how to get results. Peter Kingaard is now in charge of affairs, which means that the Cordova has found the man, for Peter knows how to get results.

COMBINED INSTALLATION OF ODD FELLOW LODGES

The installation of officers of Mizpah Lodge No. 127 and Belleville Lodge No. 81 occurred at the former's rooms last evening, commencing promptly at 8 o'clock. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather a large number were in atendance and the following officers were installed:

BELLEVILLE LODGE, NO. 81.

J. P. G.—C. F. Frost.
N. G.—W. J. Carter.
V. G.—L. E. Walmsley.
Rec. Sec'y—W. D Embury.
Fin. Sec'y—R. W. Adams.
Treas.—J. A. Coon.
Warden—D. Montgomery.
Chaplain—W. F. Ashley.
R. S. N. G.—W. Soules.
L. S. N. G.—S. A. Barclay.
R. S. V. G.—B. Burnham.
L. S. V. G.—E. Shutt.
L. S. S.—R. Saunders.
R. S. S.—A. Duesberry.
Conductor—E. Dickens.
I. G.—D. Pringle.
O. G.—H. Ransome.
Physician—Dr. A. E. MacColl.
Trustees—L. C. Pascoe, F. Sharpe, and H. Ransome.

MIZPAH LODGE, NO. 127.

J. P. G.—Chas. Cochrane.
N. G. W. A. Pringle.
V. G.—H. E. Gross.
Rec. Sec'y—C. A. Ostrom.
Fin. Sec'y—Jas. Duckworth.
Treasurer—L. B. Cooper.
Warden—D. Young.
Chaplain—W. Thompson.
R. S. N. G.—P. G. Deniko.
L. S. N. G.—H. Thompson.
R. S. S.—J. Duesberry.
Conductor—W. H. Brown.
I. G.—R. Emerson.
O. G.—R. Warring.
Physician—Dr. Platt.

D. D. G. M. Ross of Brighton was the installing officer and performed the work in a very creditable manner.

After the installations were completed those in attendance proceeded to the rooms of Belleville Lodge No. 81, where a banquet was held. The tables were tastefully decorated and an appetizing repast, furnished by Thompson Bros., was highly enjoyed. After the inner man had been sufficiently satisfied, the balance of the evening was taken up with toasts and subjects of a timely and important nature. The chairman of the evening, Rev. Bro. A. L. Geen, performed his duties very capably.

The first toast "To the King" was the singing of the National Anthem in which all present joined, accompanied by the Oddfellow's Orchestra.

The Grand Lodge of Ontario, and the Supreme Grand Lodge of Canada were ably responded to, respectively by D.D.G.M. Mayor Ross of Brighton, and Col. L. B. Cooper, P.M.

"The City of Belleville" was responded to by Mayor Bro. J. F. Wills and Alderman Bro. F. M. Clarke. The Mayor's remarks were very interesting, the basis of which was "to boost Belleville," and make it one of the best cities in Ontario. He also touched upon the progressiveness of the newly elected City Council and the work it intended to accomplish this year. He also remarked that the event of the Grand Lodges convening in our city the coming summer would be the means of advertiising Belleville to a considerable extent.

The toast to "Visiting Brethren" was responded to by Rev. Bro. A. R. Sanderson and Bro. J. O. Herity. Wm. Pringle, N.G., of Mizpah Lodge, and W. J. Carter, N.G., of Belleville Lodge, responded to the toast to the officers elect.

The response to "The Press' was given by Bros. J. F. Wills and J. O. Herity.

During the course of the evening a fine musical programme was rendered by the Oddfellow's Orchestra, including an excellent cornet solo by Mr. Reginald Hinchey.

The affair came to a close about midnight, with all in attendance expressing their enjoyment of a most pleasant and profitable evening.

3 O'CLOCK DISPATCHES

CHRISTIANITY RESPONSIBLE

Intelligencer Special.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Dr. Arthur J. Brown, Secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, addressing a meeting of Presbyterian ministers here yesterday, said the leading Chinese of the revolution which led to the founding of the Republic were all Christians and had learned from missionaries or who had studied in Christian lands.

RECLUSE LEFT FORTUNE

Intelligencer Special.

BROCKTON, Mass., Jan. 21.—Known as a poor man, Horace William Howard, a recluse who died recently, left a fortune of nearly half a million dollars, of which he willed $400,000 to charity, including $185,000 for the establishment of a home for the aged in Brockton, and large sums to the Brockton Hospital and other institutions here.

RECOMMENDED MORE VESSELS

Intelligencer Special.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—With a view of strengthening naval militia organizations of the great lakes, the United States Navy Dept. has recommended more training vessels of modern construction for sailers of the inland seas.

A FEW INVITED

Intelligencer Special.

TARRYTOWN, N.Y., Jan. 21.—It was learned today that the total number of guests at the wedding of Helen Gould and Finlay J. Shepard tomorrow, will be about 75, including members of both families. Shepard's mother is too ill to attend. The Gould family began to gather at Lyndhurst today. Miss Gould will be attended only by her two little nieces.

NO ICE ON RIVER

Intelligencer Special.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Just 102 years ago Fulton established the Hudson River record by navigating one of his steamers on this date as far as Albany. The record was equalled today for the first time. There is not a attended only by her two little nieces. are consequently glum.

A CLOSE CONTEST

Intelligencer Special.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The Londonderry bye-election polling is expected to take place on Thursday week. Parties are so evenly balanced that a single death on either side may turn the balance ,and the mortality list is therefore being watched with keen anxiety by both sides.

SIX POWER LOAN

Intelligencer Special.

LONDON, JJan. 21.—According to a Pekin correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, confidential information is reaching there that the six power loan cannot be underwritten on the continent.

Protest Against The Exclusion of Cipriano Castro

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Secretary Nagel of the Department of Commerce and Labor, will be asked to reverse the action of the Board of Special Enquiry excluding Cipriano Castro from the United States, on the ground that the Board exceeded its powers.

The brief sent to Washington today in Castro's appeal asserts that the immigration authorities practically tried the ex-President of Venezuela for alleged crimes committed in foreign countries of which he had not been convicted, and which he denied.

The brief finds fault particularly with questions asked Castro regarding the management of the internal affairs of Venezuela,' and asks what would have occurred had ex-President Roosevelt been interrogated thus in Europe.

Darrow On Trial At Los Angeles For Bribery Again

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 20.—Clarence S. Darrow was placed on trial to-day for the second time on a charge of having attempted to corrupt a juror in the McNamara case.

After a trial lasting nearly all last summer, Darrow was acquitted of having bribed George N. Lockwood, a talesman called in the trial of James B. McNamara, now serving a life-sentence at San Quentin prison for blowing up the Los Angeles Times building.

To-day the lawyer was put on trial on a charge of having bribed Robert F. Bain, the first juror chosen in the same case.

District-Attorney Fredericks is authority for a prediction that the present trial will not last mroe than two weeks.

Becker Will Ask For New Trial

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Allegation that one of the Becker jurors was separated from his fellows during the course of the trial will be used by council for former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, in asking for a new trial.

Joseph A. Shay, attorney of record for Becker, to-day confirmed reports to this effect and declared that he had in his possession affidavits of witnesses who saw Juror Samuel H Haas twice in the neighborhood of his home in Bedford Park at night during the progress of the trial.

Haas himself is said to admit that he was near his home on two occasions at night, having had permission to go to his dentist.

It is alleged by Becker's counsel, however, that the Court gave no such permission, and that Haas should have at all times been in the company of his eleven fellow-jurors.

Opposes Independence In The Philipines

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—President Taft, in a speech at the Ohio dinner on Saturday night, came out strongly against the Bill before Congress providing for independence for the Phillippines in eight years.

"If I were a partisan I should not ask anything better than that the Democratic party should pass the Bill," he said. "The passage of this Bill would return to plague the men responsible for it for twenty-five years.

"Is it possible," the President asks, "that little as this Democratic administration knows about the Phillippines they are going to let them go, and defeat our efforts to raise and educate the Phillippine people. Is it possible that it is going to do that with no foundation whatsoever and without the approval of somebody who knows the islands? I hope not. Possibly I am interested in the case, but I am interested chiefly in the Phillippines."

Gaby Deslys Has Lost Jewels

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Gaby Deslys, who has just returned from a week's engagement in Toronto, announced last night that she had been robbed of $70,000 worth of jewellery, somewhere between Albany and this city.

Her trunk had been broken open and the jewellery stolen, she said.

Reporters saw two broken trunks at the Grand Central last night. The railroad detectives are investigating the matter.

Deserter Succeeds In Spurt For Liberty

BUFFALO, N.Y., Jan. 20.—Frank F. Daniels, 20 years old, an alleged deserter from the army engineer corps, made a successful break for liberty under fire of the guards at Fort Porter early today.

Daniels was arrested eight weeks ago and brought here to await trial. Last night he was put to work in the furnace-room of the barracks. He made the dash for freedom under the eyes of the guard, who fired several shots at him. Daniels dodged among the post buildings and escaped in the darkness.

The sheriff of Plymouth, Pa., notified the Federal authorities recently that he held a warrant charging Daniels with highway robbery, alleged to have been committed shortly after he disappeared from an eastern army post.

Treat The Prince As Other Cadets

LONDON, Jan. 20.—Prince Albert, the second son of King George, who sailed from Devonport on Saturday aboard the training ship Cumberland on a six-months' voyage, goes as an ordinary cadet.

It was planned at first to give the young prince a special cabin aboard the ship, but the King promptly vetoed this. His Majesty declared that his son must be treated as are other cadets.

The Cumberland will go first to Teneriffe, in the Canaries, and then to the West Indies. It will arrive in Porto Rico on March 18, in Jamaica on March 23, at Havana on April 3, and at Hamilton, Bermuda, on April 10.

From the latter place the ship will go to Gibralter, Malta, and the Mediterranean.

PLAIN TALK ABOUT PILES

Don't you believe that experience is better than hearsay? If you suffer from piles, just try Zam-Buk. You can do so at our expense. So assured are we of the result that we will send you a free trial box if you send to our Toronto offices full name and address and a one-cent stamp to pay return postage.

Scores of people daily acquaint us with the benefit they have derived from the use of Zam-Buk for piles. Mr. F. Astridge of 3 St. Paul St., St. Catharines, Ont., says: "For five years I have suffered untold agony with protruding piles. The pain was so great at times I would almost scream.

"I lost weight and had no appetite. I tried everything I ever heard of for piles, as I was willing to take anything to get relief. It was useless, however, and I almost gave up in despair."

"One day a friend gave me a sample of Zam-Buk and told me of a friend of his who had been cured. I decided to try Zam-Buk, and the relief I got was encouraging. I used three boxes, and at the end of that time I was completely cured. I wish I could have got Zam-Buk years ago; it would have saved me a great deal of misery."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bites, ulcers, blood-poison, varicose sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places, cuts, burns, bruises, and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. You are warned against harmful imitations and substitutes. See the registered name, "Zam-Buk," on every package.

ENOS BACON

Returns to Belleville, Thurs. and Fri., Feb. 6th and 7th.

"Seldom has an artist won so complete a success, as was the good fortune of Enos Bacon, the Yorkshire Nightingale, who was heard at the People's Palace last evenig. He possesses two lovely voices; a rich, mellow baritone and an exquisite soprano. We shall not forget his rendition of Goodbye by Tosti. A duplex singer of unusual talent, an elocutionist of exceptional ability is so seldom found in one man. He kept his audience thrilled from beginning to end."—Jersey City Journal.

No Surprise Can Fluster His Nerve

Harry R. Charlton, the Premier Advertising Man of Canada, Is Ever Ready For Emergency.

Of the men who get here and "do things" over in Canada, Harry R. Charlton would take the Nobel prize, if such a prize were in line.

But as it is not, the Emperor of Japan has seen fit to make up for it by making Mr Charlton a Chevalier of Japan and a member of the Order of the Sacred Treasurer, and King George V. has written Montreal's young captain of—yes, industry, instructing him when and where he shall wear the decoration. An acquaintance, friend, and companion of princes, near-kings, vice-presidents and presidents—the suave, quiet and Chesterfieldian "Taft of the advertising world," is Harry R. Charlton, maker of empire as well as of friends, and incidentally advertising manager of the Grand Trunk railway system.

One would never guess this by making the acquaintance of Canada's biggest advertising man in his office. It's a toss-up who is the quietest man in the Grand Trunk office palace, Mr. Chamberlain, president of the road, or Charlton. It's a matter of history that nothing can excite or ruffle the latter, and that is why no advertising problem has ever come up that he has not been able to get away with. He doesn't get excited, even in a wreck. There is a story of a wager between two of Charlton's friends. One of them wagered that he could "give Harry a scare," got a huge 44-caliber revolver, put in a blank cartridge, sneaked up behind Charlton while the latter was seated, and fired it close behind him. Charlton was signing a letter. He finished, then swung coolly around, and said with mild disapprobation, "Don't go fooling with those things, B—. You'll shoot somebody some day."

That's why whenever a "blue blood" comes to Canada, Mr. Charlton is put in charge of the band. About the second or third thing to do is to notify him. He's as much at home with a real king as with one of the clerks in his office, and he guides princes and presidents and grand dukes about the continent, entertains them, and gives them a good time in such a thorough way that when they go home they send him all sorts of medals and decorations and blue ribbons. Charlton has eight gold medals and half a dozen diplomas which he has received at various times.

It is not stretching the point in the least to say that Charlton has a hard time keeping his job, for there is always some other big road or corporation ready to pull him out of his position for their own particular use. But it is probable that he is now a fixture with the G. T. R. He has already a wide experience for a man who doesn't look over 30, even if he is a bit older. From 1891 to 1896 he made a record as advertising manager of the Canadian Pacific—such a good record that the Davis—Lawrence company put out a magnet big enough to draw him, and held him for two years. It was then, in 1898, that he took charge of the Grand Trunk railway system's advertising, and to-day he is recognized as one of the three or four foremost makers of new and greater Canada.—Detroit Free Press.

SEEKING INTERVENTION

Turkey Working Hard to Save Her Reputation in Islam.

Delegates Hope That Mediation By the Powers Will Give Excuse For Ceding Adrianople and Ending the War — Allies Are Determined to Close the Negotiations Within a Week—Turks Weakening.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The Balkan plenipotentiaries, who are awaiting the Turkish reply, do not conceal their impatience and their firm determination to prevent Turkey from postponing the settlement longer than a week. Meanwhile unofficial conversations have begun among the allies regarding their inter-Balkan delimitations. Dr. Daneff, head of the Bulgarian delegation, and the Greek Premier, M. Venizelos, were engrossed in this task yesterday. As no agreement has yet been reached concerning Saloniki, the Greeks hope to find no difficulty in retaining the town when the Bulgarians get Adrianople.

Rechad Pasha received long cipher messages from Constantinople yesterday afternoon, and it is asserted that he was instructed to confer with Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, with the object of obtaining direct intervention by the powers under the form of mediation, or in another way, if more acceptable, so that Turkey might be spared the humiliation of ceding Adrianople at first hand.

Hechad Pasha, accompanied by Tewfik Pasha and Osman Nizami Pasha, later in the day visited the British Foreign Secretary, but the nature of Sir Edward Grey's reply has not been disclosed.

The meeting of the National Assembly at Constantinople has been postponed until Wednesday and the Porte's reply to the note of the powers will be presented after this meeting. The general impression is that the Turkish Government is weakening with respect to the demands of the allies.

A Bucharest despatch says it is expected that a settlement between Roumania and Bulgaria will be effected before Feb. 1 by an agreement providing for rectification of the frontier. Roumania, however, will not get as much as she wanted; Bulgaria will cede some of the forts in the neighborhood of Silistria, but not the town itself.

DANISH STEAMER SINKS.

Entire Crew of Vessel Believed to Have Gone Down on Board.

CHARLESTON, S.C., Jan. 21.—Another tragedy of the sea was recorded here yesterday, when Captain Ree, of the Dutch steamship Preeda, reported the sinking of a large Danish tramp steamer, about fifty miles off Plymouth, England, on Dec. 26, during a hurricane. The entire crew perished. The name of the vessel is not known, but officers of the Preeda believe it probably was the Ivar of Copenhagen.

The vessel was sighted by the Preeda during a storm on the afternoon of Dec. 26. Captain Ree signalled to the steamer offering assistance, but received no reply. The Preeda continued to approach the distressed steamer, but before she was reached a high sea broke over her and she sank.

The Preeda stood by the spot where the ship went down in the hope of recovering bodies. None were found, and near midnight the Preeda resumed its journey to the port here.

NEARLY THREE MILLIONS.

Catholic Directory Gives Number of Adherents In Canada.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The Catholic Directory for 1913, just published and compiled with Cardinal Bourne's authority, says that in England and Wales there are twenty archbishops and bishops, 3,838 priests, and 1,797 churches, chapels and stations. For Great Britain there are 27 archbishops and bishops, 4,401 priests, and 2,182 stations.

For the first time in the directory attempts to state the number of Catholics in the British Empire, the figures whenever possible, being given from state returns. In England and Wales there are 1,793,038 Catholics; Scotland, 547,336; total in Great Britain, 2,340,374. In Ireland there are 3,242,670 Catholics.

British America has 3,195,916 Catholics, including 2,824,558 in Canada. Australia has 1,184,509.

The total number of Catholics in the British Empire is 12,968,814, an increase in twelve months of 392,589. The Catholic population of the world is estimated at 292,787,085.

Idaho In Blizzard's Grip.

HAILEY, Idaho, Jan. 21.—As a result of a severe snowstorm in the Wood River district, several passenger trains are stalled, wires are down, and cattle are perishing. For two weeks a blizzard has raged, entirely isolating several points from communication.

Two hundred head of cattle near Hailey are snowed in without water or food. Many other herds are lost or unable to reach the river.

To Honor George Clare.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"THE LOST PARADISE."

The final rehearsal of "The Lost Paradise will be held this evening and a finished performance is promised tomorrow night. The birthday cake, used in the first act, is all ready and Polly has only to light the little candles to make it a perfect vision of beauty. A great deal of pains is being taken with the stage setting to make it a fit frame for our clever amateur actors, and altogether an entertainment of unusual merit is a certainty. Get your tickets immediately and save a disagreeable wait outside the box office, Wednesday and Thursday nights. The price of admission is within the reach of all. $1.00 will give you the best seat in the house, 75c. will give you a fine view of the stage, and 50c. ro 25c. will also enable you to see a play worth four times those amounts. Belleville people want the Belleville hospital to excell, and the money which is made through this entertainment will enable the hospital to make marked improvements. Tickets on sale at Doyle's Drug Store.

"LITTLE WOMEN."

William A. Brady has secured the stage rights to "Little Women," the story which made the fame of Louisa M. Alcott, and the play will be presented at Griffin's Opera House tonight.

The play is in four acts and two scenes showing the March sitting room, and the Plumfield apple orchard at harvest time. The interior set will be a replica of the Alcott living room, in which the play practically was lived. Many of the identical properties and costumes used by the March girls in their homemade plays will be used in the production, especially Jo's boots, in which she played the heroes and villains, and which "she got from a lady who had a friend who knew an actor." The costumes will be in the fashion of the early '60's, and the production is planned to reflect the closest fidelity to the spirit and period of Miss Alcott's story.

"THE GAMBLERS."

"The Gamblers," Charles Klein's gripping play, which holds the record for long runs among serious dramas for the past season in New York, comes to Griffin's Opera House, Tuesday evening, Jan. 28, under the direction of The Authors' Producing Company.

The story of the play involves a debonaire young freebooter who has come into the management of his staid old father's bank, and who, in his effort to expand the business, resorts to various questionable practices. There is a woman in the case, the wife of the prosecuting attorney for the Federal Government, who was once the sweetheart of the young broker and whose husband is given to posing as an infallible moralist, and he allows his unjust jealousy to override his sense of legal justice. Mr. Klein illustrates the axiom that there is no gain without risk.' He shows that men and women cannot make tremendous gains without making tremendous losses and that success in fame and fortune does not always mean real success in life.

"The Lost Paradise"

No doubt Belleville, with her usual generosity and fine spirit of charity and civic pride, will give bumper houses to the production of "The Lost Paradise," a masterpiece of its kind, which will be given for the benefit of the Hospital. Personally I know how gratifying it has always been to my faithful bands of workers on occasions in the past when we have been able to help along that splendid and unique institution—unique in the fact that it is the only institution, I am told, in the world that is entirely managed and conductel by public spirited women. Aside from this I must say a word for Mr. Irving Beers and his clever and charming associate, whom I know to be artists of the first water. The public may rely on them for a dramatic treat, on a par with the finest professional companies. I only regret that business engagements away from home will not allow me to personally give them a hearty helping hand.

Seek to Beautify Old London City

LONDON, Jan. 20.—"To beautify London," is the object of "The London Society," which was inaugurated last week at a meeting at the Mansion House under the presidency of the Lord Mayor.

At this meeting Lord Curzon of Kedleston, made an interesting address to a large and enthusiastic gathering which included many people of note in the worlds of society, art and business.

The object of the society is not merely to secure the erection of fine buildings and the laying-out of handsome thoroughfares, but also what Lord Curdon called something more important to preserve historic treasures.

Plans To Impeach Japanese Cabinet

TOKIO, Japan, Jan. 20.—Plans to impeach the Japanese Cabinet at the reassembling of the Diet tomorrow has been made by the Sieyukais, or constitutional party, which has a majority in the lower house, but it is thought probable that an adjournment will be taken until February 5, when, it is expected, the Budget will be introduced.

Should the Opposition insist on its impeachment of the Cabinet, the Diet will be dissolved at once. The Cabinet, however, will remain in power until the strength has been demonstrated at the elections of the new party which Prince Taro Katsura, the Premier, formerly announced today it was his intention to form.

He declared that the new group would be a constitutional party, composed of Unionists drawn from all the other parties and factions.

Our WESTERN LETTER

EDMONTON, Alta., Jan. 20.—Human derelicts and prisoners will work out their keep and fines on a municipal farm if the tentative plan, suggested by Mayor Short, is adopted by the council of Edmonton. The question of establishing the department and the building of a model home for neglected children will come up for discussion and action at a meeting early in February.

Judge Tayler, of the criminal court, who is heartily in favor of the establishment of a work farm, said today:

"We should have some system whereby while in prison a man might be able to earn sufficient money to support those depending upon him during his incarceration. A plan might be arranged allowing prisoners to do certain work and the wages thus earned could be handed to the family to support them. It is difficult to give justice when by sentencing a man to prison it is known that by so doing suffering will be thrust on innocent women and children."

Silas H. Carpenter, chief of the police department of Edmonton, who has had 35 years' experience in dealing with all kinds of wrongdoers, is of the impression that if the institution were placed under expert management much lasting good would result, "and," he added, "we should take a step toward the ideal of crime prevention. I believe that drunkenness is a disease and often hereditary, also that crime in any form is a species of insanity. The time cannot be far distant when science will recognize these truths."

Take a Lesson From the Hotel Man

The best lighted room in a hotel is the lobby, not only because it is a general meeting place for the guests, but because it is the first room they enter on their arrival and the one from which they get their initial impression of the "house."

For the same reason, care should be taken in lighting the front hall of your home; it is there that your guests are received. Electric light and Holophane Reflectors will add much to the visitor's impression of your home—the electric light giving the warm glow of welcome and the Holophane Reflectors making this light most economical.

In many homes the hall is practically a part of the living room, a place that, above all else, should be bright and cheerful. And it is here that Holophane Reflectors can be used with especially good effect.

The telephone, usually, is in the hall and an electric light placed near the instrument will save many steps.

Why not let our representative talk to you about the economical lighting of your house?

LIBERALS BACK DOWN IN OPPOSITION TO NAVAL POLICY

The House of Commons opened on Tuesday, Jan. 14, after a four weeks' adjournment. The Conservative members have returned to the Capital more enthusiastic than ever in favor of the Borden naval proposals, and state that they find the country almost unanimously in favor of the Premier's plan to give three Dreadnoughts to the British navy.

Before the House adjourned for the Christmas recess the Liberals were talking of forcing an election on the navy question, and during the holidays there has been considerable agitation from a certain section of the party and from a certain part of the Liberal press for the Opposition to hold up all business in Parliament, stop the estimates and compel the Government to go to the country. However, after having consulted their constituents, the Liberals are back to Ottawa in a changed frame of mind and apparently prepared to accept the Borden navy bill after a perfunctory debate.

When the House adjourned on December 18, following the speech of one of the Cabinet Ministers, the member for South Wellington, Hugh Guthrie gave a parting challenge to the Conservatives to appeal to the country. It was even in the form of a defiance and was taken to indicate that the party intended to force the issue. In the meantime Mr. Guthrie has been holding a series of meetings in his riding. Evidently he has not been very strongly convinced that the country is enthusiastic over the Laurier naval scheme. When he resumed the debate on Tuesday of last week, the speech, instead of being of a fighting nature, was exceedingly pacific, and he wound up by holding out the olive branch in the shape of a compromise. However, as the compromise he suggested was practically that the Government should adopt the Laurier proposals, it is not being seriously considered. There was was no talk of forcing an election, and the whole tenor of the speech was decidedly mild in character.

As a matter of fact, the whole talk of forcing an election and the general agitation in the Liberal party against the Borden scheme has emanated from several of the ex-Cabinet Ministers who are aching again for the fruits of office, and having nothing to lose and everything tc gain by another contest are naturally anxious to take the gambler's chance. They were supported in this agitation by a certain section of the Liberal press. Hon. Mackenzie King and Hon. Sydney Fisher were the two most prominent in the movement. They have been frequenting the corridors at Ottawa and have succeeded in playing a considerable part in the inner councils of the party. Their interference has been bitterly resented by the rank and file, and the present revolt in the party at Ottawa against any policy of obstruction is regarded as very significant. They were discredited before, they are more discredited now. Whether they will again be able to gain the upper hand in the party caucus and induce the Opposition to adopt a fatuous policy of holding up business and making such a vital and Imperial question as the navy a party football, remains to be seen. But, judging by the comments of the average Liberal member at Ottawa, Messrs. King and Fisher will have to take very much of a back seat and the Borden naval bill will probably pass the House in less than two weeks.

COMPROMISE VS. EMERGENCY

The Conservative party is playing up that term "compromise" just as they did the term "emergency" a few weeks ago. Hugh Guthrie certainly did use that expression in his speech but the "compromise" was to receive its first walking lessons from the Government.—St. Thomas Journal.

The Journal, like its party co-herents, is apparently as unfamiliar with the term "compromise" as the word "emergency." For the edification of our St. Thomas contemporary we would state that emergency as applied to the Borden policy meant provision against future needs, as in the case of our friend's printing plant; he builds it up in the line of facilities against the day of surplus patronage; he guards against conflagrations by accumulating protective conveniences; and brushes up his industry generally with a view to impressing his opponents in business; he writes up his business; he leaves no stone unturned to enlighten the people of his journalistic jurisdiction that he is it, and no one can be compared to him in speed, quality of production and general mechanical beauty. No one dare attack him in a competitive way. He rules, and that settles it. Do you catch it, brother?

As to the term "compromise," as applied by Hugh Guthrie, it simply amounted to "come over to us and we will gobble you up." Do you catch that also, Brother Journal?

Further information may be obtained by consulting an unabridged dictionary.

Earl Grey, former Governor-General of Canada, has been expressing his feelings in the London Times as to the motives which prompted Sir Wilfrid Laurier in negotiating a reciprocity treaty with the United States. He does not seem to think his action was a lack of Imperial spirit. Earl Grey has another think coming, and then perhaps he may discover what the result would have been had the agreement gone into effect. A Peterborough contemporary is lamenting the fact that the Police Magistrate of that city should have to make a special plea for a place for other than the jail for poor old people whose only crime is that they did not or could not make provision for their maintenance in their declining years. "MY STOMACH IS FINE

Since Taking Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets"

Mrs. J. Merkhuger, Waterloo, Ont., enthusiastically recommends Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets. Her experience with them, as she outlines it, explains why.

"I was greatly troubled with my stomach", she writes. "I had taken so much medicine that I might say to take any more would only be making it worse. My stomach just felt raw. I read of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, and a lady friend told me they were very easy to take, so I thought I would give them a trial and really they worked wonders. Anyone having anything wrong with his stomach should give Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets a trial, they will do the rest. My stomach is fine now and I can eat any food."

One of the many good features of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets is that they are so pleasant and easy to take. The relief they give from heartburn, flatulence, billiousness and dyspepsia is prompt and permanent. Try one after each meal—they'll make you feel like a new person.

FRY'S Cocoa—A Gracious Stimulant

Not only is FRY'S a rich and delicious food beverage, but it possesses to the full that mysterious, elusive but very desirable "spirit of cocoa" which scientists call "theobromine," a quickener of the brain and nervous force, with no unpleasant after-effects. Exquisite in aroma, of sure purity, easy of digestion—FRY'S is the result of nearly two centuries' experience in high-grade cocoa making.

Baron de Vaux Mosson, Secretary at Mexico, is appointed Second Secretary at Havana, and M. Ayguesparsse Third Secretary at Mexico.

Robert de Billy, First Secretary at Tangier, will go to Rome as First Secretary to the French Embassy there. Merie H. Leduc is appointed Chancellor at New Orleans.

Louis G. Clinehant of the Press Bureau of the Foreign Office, has been promoted to a first-class Secretaryship.

Emotional Insanity Murderer's Defense

WINNIPEG, Jan. 20.—"I do not want people to think that I did not know what I was doing when I did that, because I did," was the statement made by Walter A. Eves, from his cell at the General Hospital on Saturday and one of the first indications given to the outside world of the man accused of taking the life of Mrs. Hancock.

The hospital authorities will not state positively that Eves will recover sufficiently to stand trial, but the opinion is that such will be the case.

The prisoner is kept in a quiet cell in the lower part of the institution in order that his recovery may not be interfered with by outside influences.

Councel for the defence claims that a plea of "not guilty" will be entered and it is believed that the defence will bring up the theory of "emotional insanity."

IT GROWS HAIR

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk.

In all our experience with hair tonics there is one that has done more towards gaining our confidence than any other. We really believe this remedy, known as Rexall "93" Hair Tonic, is so superior to other preparations that we offer it to you with our personal and unqualified promise that if you use it and it doesn't prove satisfactory to you, we will, upon your mere request at our store, return to you the money you paid us for it.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic acts scientifically destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It acts to penetrate to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necessity, is delicately perfumed, and will not gum nor permanently stain the hair.

We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair, and in every way give entire satisfaction, come back and tell us, and get your money back. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. J. S. McKeown.

Alaska Indians On The Warpath

SEWARD, Alaska, Jan. 20.—The Indians are on the warpath and the school teachers and missionaries at Tyonik and Beluga, on the coast of Cooks Inlet, have fled for their lives.

This startling statement was made here by W. A. Vinal, United States Commissioner and Recorder at Ophir, head of the Innoka river, his wife, and F. A. Twitchell, of Tacotna, who have reached this point from the interior.

According to their story, Professor Cooper and Mrs. Cooper, the Government school teachers at Tyonik, deserted the school and fled to Susitna, 80 miles distant. They started out in the face of a blinding blizzard and were escorted part of the way by the Vinal party, who do not know, however, that they reached their destination.

The teachers were warned by some of the pupils that the natives were planning to kill them and plunder the school. The school at Beluga was also deserted.

A posse headed by Deputy Marshal Ike Vans has set out for the scene of the disorder, but terrible gales are blowing in that vicinity and it may be some time before word comes out.

Mystery Over Priest's Death

PARIS, Jan. 20.—Violently sobbing, a young, handsome, richly dressed, thickly veiled lady appeared before the police at Agen, near Bordeaux, and informed them that Abbe Chessaing, Priest of the Parish, lay dead in her drawing room with a bullet through his head.

The police questioned the lady, who gave her name as Alice Crespy, and said she had been divorced from her husband and was living with her sister and her mother.

"The Vicar came to bid adieu on his removal to a distant parish," she added. "He asked for certain books, which I went to fetch. When I returned he lay dead, having presumably picked up a small pistol which had been left on the table and which was accidentally discharged."

The police believe the Priest committed suicide.

SPORTING NEWS

HOCKEY.

BAKERS VS. PRINTERS.

The printers would like to have the bakers' lineup and they will arrange for a game later.

WHICH WILL IT BE?

During the past week we have been continually hearing that the Intelligencer printers are strengthening up their team for the game with the Deacon Shirts, by putting on five outside men. We did not at first pay much attention to what we thought was idle rumor, but it seems to be an assured fact that we have heard the truth. Even yet we are loath to believe that the Intelligencer printers would challenge us to a game with themselves, and, after we had accepted, to find they intend playing a team picked from the printers of the city and even one outside the city.

Now, Intelligencer printers, play fair and confine your team to the limits set by yourselves. While we do not mind allowing you one outside man, still, considering the fact that every member of our team is a bonafide employee of the Deacon Shirt Company, we think that the addition of five outside men to your team is, to use the vernacular, going it too strong. So, if you persist in playing more than one outside man, we will strengthen our team also, but, nevertheless Saturday, the 25th, will see us on the ice ready to give a good account of ourselves, and it is up to you to say whether you play against the regular Deacon team or a bunch of all-stars that all the printers in Hastings county would have to go some to beat.

THE SPORTING EDITOR,
Of The Deacon Gazette.

WHEN WILL IT BE?

Printers' Comment:—While remarks relative to the above "few kind words" are entirely unnecessary, as The Intelligencer readers of this column can readily see (between the lines) that the Deacon Shirts, through the voluminous vocabulary of their "ever-vigilant"(?) sporting editor, are displaying evident signs of what may be termed "stage-fright," or in a more explanatory manner, they are putting up this protest to discontinue the game, until such a period as they have the required practice to insure defeating the printers, which would take them well into the summer to get in shape. You will recollect their previous remarks pertaining to an apparent "yellow streak," after which kindly read the above "few kind remarks" once more, and it will be extremely easy to ascertain the exact locality of "that streak." We have not challenged any of their lineup as yet, and in this particular instance were not especially interested, feeling quite confident that we could beat them under any condition. We herewith publish our lineup and will allow them to challenge any member of the same, provided they will grant us a similar privilege. Their assertion regarding five outside men is ridiculously absurd—not worth commenting on. If the Deacons want to play the game, why, settle down and say so before the "Roses Bloom in Springtime." Our line-up:

HOCKEY AS SEEN BY AN ENGLISHMAN.

Hockey is something like football, only more so, says an English writer who witnessed his first gafe about ten days ago. The difference is that the hockey player assaults his foeman with skates instead of cleats.

Technically the object of the game is to clout a little animile known as a puck, with a bow-legged club, and shove it into an enclosure known as a goal. But in the heat of combat the puck is forgotten and the club is wielded with great nerve and enthusiasm on the foeman's skull.

Hockey requires consummate skill. It demands a fine sense of equilibrium to maintain one's balance while skating on an opponent's ear and kicking him in the slats at one and the same time.

Hockey is one of our most healthful sports if one manages to live through it. It is not advisable for invalids to play the game unless they are resigned to the next world and carry heavy insurance.

KINGSTON SENIORS DEFEATED.

TORONTO, Jan. 18—While University of Toronto scored five goals to Kingston Frontenacs' three in the senior O. H. A. game at the Arena tonight, the winners did not display any decided superiority. The students led at half-time by 3 to 2.

The Kingstons made a number of changes in their lineup from the team which appeared here ten days ago, and the changes were an improvement. Had the Frontenacs been able to "go the route" they might have won. They lacked condition and stopped badly in the latter stages of the game. Ice has been a scarce article in Kingston, while the University team has had the advantage of the artificial surface at the Arena for practice.

QUEBEC'S SPEED TOO MUCH FOR TECUMSEHS.

TORONTO, Jan. 21.—Saturday night's N.H.A. game at the Arena, which Quebec won from the Tecumsehs by 4 to 2, suited the fans better than any other National Association game seen here this season. There was a perfect playing surface for the teams and the pace throughout the entire game was terrific. Quebec ran away from the Tecumsehs in the final ten minutes of the last period, scoring three goals and blanking the Braves.

TORONTOS BEATEN BY 3 TO 1.

MONTREAL, Jan. 21.—Over going that was covered with water and slush the Wanderers had little difficulty in proving themselves a better band of hockey players than those brought from Toronto by Manager Redpath. The locals assumed the lead early in the game and held their opponents well in hand at all stages, winning by 3 to 1.

OTTAWA BLANKED ON OWN ICE.

OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—George Kennedy's Canadiens gave the Ottawas the worst beating they have ever sustained on their own ice in last Saturday night's game. The playing surface was slushy and the conditions, it was calculated, would suit Ottawa, but Canadiens outplayed them all around and won by 6 to 0.

TORONTO, Jan. 21.—The championship of their district was won by the Toronto Canoe Club juniors on Saturday afternoon at the Arena, when the Red Wing team beat University of Toronto by 5 to 2. The winners were always better than their opponents, and the play was largely in Varsity territory, in both halves.

The New Edinburgh hockey team met with its first defeat of the season and its second since it joined the Interprovincial Saturday night when Father Stanton's Ottawa University students stopped them up with a 3 to 1 score, thus tieing them in the Ottawa section championship race.

Tht result of Saturday night's N. H. A. games entrenched Canadiens in the lead, with Quebec second, and Ottawa, Tecumsehs and Wanderers tied for third place.

FOOTBALL

WESTERN CANADA REFUSES TO BE RULED BY EAST.

REGINA, Sask., Jan. 21.—As a protest against the attitude of eastern football authority the Western Canada Rugby Union at its second annual meeting held here on Saturday night, decided to break away from the Canadian Rugby Union, formulate playing rules of its own and altogether ignore the self-appointed eastern authorities. The Western Canada Rugby Union rule book will be published containing the playing rules and other data, including the constitutions and bylaws of the three affiliated unions. This radical action came as a result of the attitude of the east toward the west during the past two years. The refusal of the Canadian union to consider the suggestions made by the Alberta union was the immediate cause of the drastic action.

The rules under which the Western Canada Union will play will be merely a revision of the present Canadian rules with the redundancies and contradictions removed.

C. H. Bellanger was chosen president of the Western Canada Union for the year 1913, and the place of the next annual meeting was fixed for Calgary. Murray Thomson, the former University of Toronto star, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Chamberlin Not Worrying.

OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—"I don't know very much about it, and I am not paying any attention to it."

So said President E. J. Chamberlin in regard to the indictment returned in Washington in connection with the alleged agreement between the Grand Trunk and New Haven roads not to extend the Grand Trunk Railway into Boston.

President Chamberlin was here to spend the week-end with Mrs. Chamberlin.

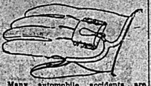
LONDON, Jan. 21.—A good deal of interest has been created in Britain by the suggestion made in Paris, that the medal for the Franco-German war should be awarded to Lord Kitchener, who took part as a volunteer in the operations of the war.

Lighted Auto-Glove



Many automobile accidents are caused by rear end collisions between cars, through the failure of the car behind to slow up when the leading car stops or slows down to turn out.

Few such accidents occur in the daytime because drivers have formulated a system of signaling with the hand that indicates to the following driver just what the man in the lead intends to do. At night, however, it is impossible to see the hand signals and the accidents are frequent.

The danger has been practically obviated by the invention of a small electric contrivance that is fastened to the back of the driver's glove. It consists of a small electric light with a powerful reflector which is sewn into the glove. The wires lead from the light and the battery operating it to the inside of the thumb and forefinger of the glove. When the lead driver wishes to signal he holds up his hand and presses his thumb and forefinger together. The light flashes and the proper signal can easily be given.

UNBREAKABLE GLASS

New Invention Makes Windows Strong as Sheet-Iron

How easily can a robber throw a brick through a plate glass window and grab a handful of jewelry! And it's just as easy for him to smash a window in your home, using a muffled hammer.

That is, if the glass is the kind most commonly used. The newest discovery is the "triplex" glass; two plates of glass coated on the inside with gelatine; a layer of celluloid is between them. The whole is then put under a hydraulic press in order to obtain thorough welding, and it emerges as transparent as ordinary glass. They're making it in England.

Fourteen good-sized stones were forcibly thrown at the glass shown in the accompanying photograph, cracking the glass, but leaving it sticking together.

AN ORIGINAL DOG SIGN

It Places the Burden of Responsibility Upon the Trespasser

In England they are using a new sign for back yard gates. Instead of the usual "Beware the Dog" sign that has been handed down from generation to generation the up-to-date housekeeper makes a plain statement of the fact and lets the visitor draw his own conclusions. The sign states simply—"The Dog Behind this Door BITES."

Nail to Fasten Latch

There are many things stolen from back yards that would not be taken if the hook on the bak gate was not so easy to unlatch.

The hook can be made as secure as a padlock by the expenditure represented by the cost of one ordinary wire nail. The nail should be driven in the gate post about two inches above the hasp into which the hook rests. It should be bent sharply at a right angle, so that the head of the nail will rest on the top of the hook when it is in the hasp.

The nail can easily be turned when one desires to open the gate, but once in position it would be necessary to break the gate down before it could be entered.

Safety razor blades can be sharpened by immerson in a solution of one part, by weight, of muriatic acid to 20 of water and then polishing them.

OLDEST EXISTING GAME

Tennis Made Its Appearance in Europe in the Middle Ages

Most people, when they speak of "tennis," refer to lawn tennis and not to the far more ancient game which was the forefather of the modern adaption. Tennis proper is perhaps the oldest of all existing ball games. It is also one of the most difficult games to learn, on account of the number and intricacy of its rules, which, however when learned make it one of the most interesting.

It has an additional interest, also, owing to its historical associations. Tennis first made its appearance in Europe in the middle ages, when it was played in open courts and in the parks belonging to the feudal castles of France and Italy.

The name of tennis is suggested to have sprung from the exclamation "Tenez," which was used by early French players when serving the ball. In France the game was called jeu de paume. It would seem from this that originally the ball was struck with the palm of the hand only. Afterward the players wore a glove. Strings and cross strings were next stretched upon the glove to give a greater impulse to the ball, and from this to the addition of a short handle was an easy transition.

The game was much improved by the building of closed-in tennis courts at first with walls only, then with both roofs and walls. In France they still play it, sometimes in the open, and in Italy a rough version of it called pallone can still be seen. In England there are 27 courts, and there is one in Dublin.

NEW MOTOR SPEEDWAY

Every Possible Scheme to Make Racing Safe to be Employed

In erecting the projected Metropolitan Motor speedway at New York those building it will be able to profit by the mistakes made by others in putting up motordromes elsewhere. At Atlanta, for instance, it was found that the turns were not banked quite high enough to stand the maximum speed of several sensationally fast cars. The Indianapolis speedway builders made their course originally with a concrete surface, and when this proved unsatisfactory were obliged to resurface the entire oval with vitrified brick at a great additional expense for material and labor.

Lessons can also be learned from the Los Angeles motordrome at Playa del Rey, which was the first experiment made in mile board track building. Every known and tried device to make the track and stand safe for contestants and spectators alike will be introduced. The same energy and management which prepared the twelve miles of Long Island motor parkway for the 1908 Vanderbilt Cup race in four months will be employed to put the new stadium into shape.

Thousands have used it with uniform success, and that ought to be proof enough that it will cure you, too. The pleasant germ-killing medication is breathed from the inhaler into the nasal passages, throat and lungs. It kills the germs and heals the sore membranes; it cures these diseases quickly and for all time. Nothing in the world so satisfactory as Catarrhozone. Large size, lasts two months, price $1.00; trial size, 50c. All dealers or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Moving Pictures and Their Origin

What we know as moving pictures originated, it is stated, in a question asked by Sir John Herschel of his friend Charles Babbage. This was in 1826, and the question asked was how both sides of a shilling could be seen at once.

Babbage replied by taking a shilling from his pocket and holding it before a mirror.

This did not satisfy Sir John, who set the shilling spinning on a large table, at the same time pointing out that if the eye is placed on a level with a rotating coin, both sides can be seen at once.

Babbage was so struck by the experiment that the next day he described it to a friend, Dr. Fitton, who immediately made a working model.

On one side of the disc was drawn a bird, on the other side an empty bird cage. When the card was revolved on a silk thread, the bird appeared to be in the cage. This model showed the persistence of vision upon which all moving pictures depend for their effect.

The eye retains the image of the object seen for a fraction of a second after the object has been removed.

This model was called the thaumatrope.

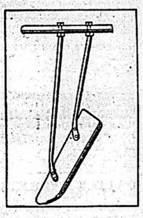
Next came the zoetrope, or "wheel of life." A cylinder was perforated with a series of slots, and within the cylinder was placed a band of drawings of dancing men. On the apparatus being slowly rotated, the figures seen through the slots appeared to be in motion.

The first systematic photographs of men and animals taken at regular intervals were made by Edward Maybridge in 1877.

NEWEST SOD CUTTER

Broad Blade Shears Through Turf with Ease and Speed

The cutting of sod with most of the tools used in that operation is rather tedious. It is usually done with a short curved blade on the end of a long handle and the workman has to step on the top of the blade to force it through the turf and repeat the action every six or eight inches. A western man devised a sod cutter that appears to be a big improvement over the old type. A broad, sharp blade is fixed to two substantially parallel arms that are attached to a handle. To cut the sod the workmen inserts two sticks in the ground and runs his guide line from one to the other. Then he starts at one end with the cutter and pushing it straight ahead of him, literally ploughs his way along. It is easy to see how much time this implement will save.



PUSH BLADE STRAIGHT AHEAD

CARING FOR HORSES

Leading the colt to and from the watering trough two or three times daily is not enough exercise for him. Let him race around the yard or paddock for several hours every fine day.

All young animals have a certain alotted period of growth. See that the colts get the care intended to promote size at the proper time, for once they have passed a certain age growth ceases, and efforts to renew it are in vain.

A horse which has free access to water at all times very seldom injures himself by over-drinking, but it is not wise to allow an exhausted or overheated animal to drink to excess, neither is it wise to deprive such an animal of the means to refresh himself. Let him have a little, and when he cools down and is rested a little let him satisfy his thirst.

Foul or bad air in the stable is generally heated air, or in other words air which has been exhaled from the lungs of the horses. If the stable is "stuffy" or over-warm improve the ventilation. Horse stables do not require to be kept at a high temperature, but pure air is necessary, and to keep it pure the foul air must be driven off.

Feeding three times daily is preferable to two feeds a day for horses. The limited capacity of the horse's stomach does not fit him for long fasts. A horse is also a more or less restless animal, and three small feeds are preferable to two large feeds as they spread the feeding over a longer time, and shorter intervals lapse between feeds.

SHOULD EXTEND I.C.R.

Hon. H. R. Emmerson Expatiates on Feeders For Railway.

Former Minister Proceeds to Outline His Views In Spite of Hon. Frank Cochrane's Assurance That Case Is Under Consideration — Sir Wilfrid Laurier Asks Regarding Steel Rail Duties—Temporarily Remitted.

OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—The greater part of yesterday's session of the Commons was spent in discussing Hon. H. R. Emmerson's resolution declaring that it would be desirable that the influence of the Intercolonial Railway should be widened and extended by securing by "lease or purchase such of the branch lines now connected with the I.C.R. as will serve direct and profitable feeders." The resolution further declared that it would be in the general interest of the country "to secure these lines without a special consideration to the immediate financial results."

Mr. Emmerson had only got nicely started when Hon. Frank Cochrane interrupted to say that it would not be necessary for him to proceed. The first part of the resolution, he said, declaring it to be desirable to secure these branch lines, was still under consideration, and as for the second part of the motion, it was not in the public interest for the Government to give an estimate of the value of the branch lines.

Mr. Emmerson did not propose, however, to be silenced. He declared that because of the laxity of the Government in taking over branch lines touching the Intercolonial in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, these small lines were absorbed by the C.P.R. and the people of the Maritime Provinces were getting in the grip of a railway monopoly. Already there were many complaints from many sections of high freight and passenger charges. Mr. Emmerson said that he did not wish to treat the matter from a partisan point of view; it was one phase of the great transportation problem, which sooner or later would have to be grappled with and solved.

Clarence Johnson of Digby, who followed, twitted Mr. Emmerson with not having put his principles into practice while Minister of Railways, and expressed the belief that the present Government would safeguard the interests of the people.

The discussion was continued by several members, including Hon. C. Marcil, ex-Speaker of the House. Mr. Marcil received applause from both sides. It was his first speech since quitting the Speakership.

A number of important questions were asked by the Opposition and answered by the Government when the House met.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier wanted to know if a remission of customs duties had been given to the Algoma Steel Co. on steel rails imported at Fort William, the date of the remission and the statute under which the remission had been made.

Hon. Dr. Reid stated, in reply, that this remission was made at various times after June 1, 1912, under section 92 of the Consolidated Revenue and Audit Act. The whole of the remission was $294,000, being one-half of the duty on 75,000 tons of imported steel rails. Fifty thousand tons of these rails were for the use of the G.T.P. Railway and twenty-five thousand tons for branch lines of the C.P.R. in the northwest. The rails were urgently required by the railway companies for the completion of lines in the northwest provinces in time to be available for the movement of the crop, and evidence was submitted showing that the rail-producing companies of Canada would not be able to supply the rails required by reason of being under contract for the full output for the season.

Mr. E. B. Devlin asked a question relating to labor conditions and the high cost of living, which elicited from Hon. T. W. Crothers the information that the Labor Department were investigating the cost of living and wages in Canada as compared with the United States.

Mr. J. H. Sinclair of Guysboro was told that the Government is considering a suggestion of increasing the rate of interest to depositors in the postoffice savings bank from 3 to 3 1-2 or 4 per cent.

Hon. J. D. Hazen told A. K. MacLean of Halifax that repairs to the Niobe had cost to date $202,715, with some items still to be considered.

Mr. Cash of Yorkton was informed by Hon. J. D. Reid that Dr. J. D. R. Williams had been dismissed from the position of collector of canal tolls at Cardinal, Ont., because of lack of qualifications and neglect of duty. Dr. Williams' successor is George Reid, a brother of the Minister, who had previously held the position, and had been dismissed without "just reason."

Stage Wound Was Real.

MONTREAL, Jan. 21.—During the third act of Le Portefeuille Rouge at the Theatre Nationoscope yesterday afternoon, Ernest Valhubert, as Maurice, was accidentally shot down by Paul Coutlie, as Vestrias, when the former breaks away from his guards and rushes across the stage. Blank cartridges are used in the performance, but some hard substance in the barrel of the rifle entered Valhubert's groin, and he was painfully but not mortally wounded.

Guelph Cuts Light Charges.

GUELPH, Jan. 21.—At the first meeting of the light and heat commission for 1913, Mayor Carter was elected chairman. It was decided to reduce the minimum charge of 50 cents a month for gas consumers to 25 cents, and the one dollar charge for testing meters was cut off. This puts the gas on the same basis as the electric light.

WHY KEEP ON COUGHING?

Here Is A Remedy That Will Stop It

Do you realize the danger in a neglected cough?

Then why don't you get rid of it?

Yes, you can shake it off, even though it has stuck to you for a long time, if you go about it right.

Keep out in the fresh air as much as you can, build up your strength with plenty of wholesome food, and take Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne.

This reliable household remedy has broken up thousands of hacking, persistent coughs, which were just as troublesome as yours, and what it has done for so many others it will do for you.

Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne contains absolutely no harmful drugs, and so can be given safely to children, as well as adults. Your physician or druggist can confirm this statement, for we are ready to send them on request a complete list of all the ingredients.

MEXICO FACES CRISIS

Latest Revolution Has Grown to Alarming Proportions.

Madero Has Been Denounced at a Mass Meeting of Disaffected, and Deputies Go In Daily Fear of Assassination—Editors Fined Without a Trial — Fighting Reported Near Acapulco

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Jan. 21.—While the rebels are becoming more active in many quarters in Mexico, a mass meeting here was the scene of violent attacks upon Madero and his Government, and it is feared there will be more trouble in the Chamber of Deputies the next time it convenes.

Fighting between the Federal and rebel troops is reported in the vicinity of Acapulco. Three hundred insurrectos are now between San Angel and Contrearas, suburbs of Mexico City, and a band of a thousand has taken Napantla, killing or wounding many of the rurales, while six women were carried away by rebels from villages in the State of Mexico.

Five leaders of the independent group of Congress spoke violently in denouncing Madero at a mass meeting of protest at the arrest of editors and newspapers. The editors are said to have been fined without trial. All the speakers bitterly arraigned the Government, while Deputy Meheno gave a pledge to demand justice from the courts, and declared if that was refused he would call upon the people to revolt. Another Deputy said that in the event of intervention, however, they would be with Madero. The audience shouted "No, we will fight, but without him."

Luis Cabrera, Government leader in the Chamber of Deputies, in a speech in the Chamber yesterday said that Deputies feared an attack from crowds in the galleries. He said he was convinced that many spectators were armed, and said that all Deputies carried pistols for their defence.

It was learned later that serious fears of such an attack exist in the Government group of Deputies, and that steps may be taken to have persons searched on entering the galleries.

FINDS COLD LIGHT.

French Scientist May Have Revolutionized Illumination.

PARIS, Jan. 21.—M. Dussand, a French scientist, who has discovered a means for the production of what he terms "cold light," gave yesterday some details of his discovery, which, it is thought, may revolutionize electric lighting.

Starting on the principle that rest is as essential to matter as to animal organism, he has constructed an electric lamp, in which the light is concentrated on a single point by filaments working successively; thence the light is projected through a lens magnifying a thousand-fold. Thus he has succeeeded in concentrating a two-thousand candle-power light on one point and in passing 32 volts into an eight-volt lamp, which, with the ordinary light, would burst.

Experiments with this lamp have established that the new light is absolutely without danger, as no heat is given off, and it requires a hundred times less current than the ordinary lamp. It can be worked by a tiny battery, or sufficient motive power can be obtained from a jet of water from an ordinary faucet, or even a squirrel turning a cage.

GASOLINE SAUSAGES.

They Were Part of Stock-in-Trade of Chicago Firebug.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—"Gasoline sausages" were used to start incendiary fires by members of the alleged "arson ring," according to testimony presented to State Attorney Hoyne yesterday. In one fire, it was said, a score of sausage skins filled with gasoline were strung on wires. These "gasoline sausages" exploded when the fire reached them and spread.

A new chemical preparation known as "fire powder," also was used by the alleged "firebugs" in starting the incendiary blazes. This preparation enabled the alleged "firebug" to be several miles away from the building before the fire was discovered.

Rounded Up Boundary-Jumpers.

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 21.—Seven Chinamen, four of whom were from Brockville, were caught by U. S. immigration officers near the shipyards in Ogdensburg, N.Y., yesterday morning. It was a clean round-up. The gang, it is thought, organized here before making the dash across the river to Uncle Sam's domain.

CATTLE MARKETS

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

MONTREAL, Jan. 20.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ended Jan. 18, were 1911 cattle, 700 sheep and lambs, 2500 hogs and 350 calves. The supply in the market this morning for sale amounted to 1600 cattle, 600 sheep and lambs, 1800 hogs and 225 calves.

An easier feeling developed in the market for cattle today and prices, as compared with a week ago, show a decline of 25c per cwt. At the opening of the market holders of choice steers asked as high as $7 to $7.10 for full loads, for which buyers bid $6.85, and for good cattle sellers demanded $6.75 per cwt., which buyers refused to pay, consequently the trade was rather slow for the first hour, but later on when drovers eased prices trade became brisk. The top price paid for picked lots of choice steers was $7 and for good $6.50, while canning stock was in good demand at $3 to $3.25 per cwt.

The tone of the market for sheep and lambs is strong owing to the small supplies now coming forward and the keen demand for the same for shipment to outside points, but the local demand is quiet at present as buyers in most cases have ample supplies of frozen stock on hand. Prices were unchanged for lambs, but sheep were 25c per cwt. higher with sales of ewes at $5.25 to $5.50 per cwt.

The demand for calves is fairly good at steady prices.

The market for hogs was unchanged, prices being firmly maintained under an active demand from packers, and sales of selected lots were made at $9.25 to $9.50 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

Butchers' cattle, choice, $6.50 to $7; medium, $5 to $6; common, $4 to $4.75; canners, $3 to $3.25; choice cows, $5.50 to $5.75; medium, $5 to $5.25; bulls, $3.50 to $5.50; milkers, choice, each $75 to $80; common and medium, $65 to $70; springers, $50 to $55.

Sheep—Ewes, $5.25 to $5.50; bucks and culls, $4.75 to $5; lambs, $7.25 to $7.50.

Hogs—F.o.b., $9.25 to $9.50 per cwt.

Calves—$3 to $12

EAST BUFFALO LIVE STOCK.

EAST BUFFALO, Jan. 20.—Cattle—Receipts, 4400; slow and 20c to 35c lower; prime steers, $8.50 to $8.75; butchers, $6 to $8.25; bulls, $4 to $6.50; stock heifers, $4 to $4.50; shipping, $7.25 to $8.25; heifers, $4.75 to $7.50; cows, $3.25 to $6.50; stockers and feeders, $4.50 to $6.75; fresh cows and springers, active and strong at $35 to $80.

Veals—Receipts, 800; active and steady at $4 to $12.

Hogs—Receipts, 14,500; active, 5c to 10c higher; heavy, $7.90 to $8; mixed yorkers and pigs, $8; roughs, $7 to $7.10; stags, $5.50 to $6.50; dairies, $7.90 to $8.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 14,400; active; sheep, 10c to 25c higher; lambs, 25c higher; lambs, $6 to $9.60; yearlings, $5 to $8.60; wethers, $6.25 to $6.50; ewes, $3.50 to $6; sheep, mixed, $4.50 to $6.25.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Cattle—Receipts, 27,000; market, slow; beeves, $5.85 to $9.10; Texas steers, $4.70 to $5.70; western steers, $5.40 to $7.10; stockers and feeders, $4.75 to $7.40; cows and heifers, $2.75 to $7.30; calves, $7 to $10.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 44,000; market active; light, $7.35 to $7.65; mixed, $7.35 to $7.65; heavy, $7.15 to $7.67½; rough, $7.15 to $7.30; pigs, $6 to $7.50; bulk of sales, $5.30 to $7.65.

Sheep—Receipts, 27,000; market, steady; native, $4.60 to $6.25; western, $4.75 to $6.25; yearlings, $6.50 to $8.20; lambs, native, $7.85 to $9.10; western, $6.90 to $9.25.

LIVERPOOL LIVE STOCK.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 20.—John Rogers & Co. cable that on shorter supplies there was a firm trade at Birkenhead market, and tho Saturday's quotations still rule at 12½c to 14c per lb. for Irish steers, there is every prospect of an early further advance.

DETECTIVE KILLED.

Chicago Auto Bandits Slay Officer With Own Revolver.

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—A climax to the season for members of the automobile bandit crew came yesterday with the shooting and killing of Detective Peter Hart with his own revolver, supposedly by one of the bandits.

The detective was shot through the heart when he entered a flat at 1,617 South Wabash avenue for the purpose of arresting "Bob" Webb, said to be an accomplice of James B. Perry, confessed bandit, now under arrest.

After shooting Hart, the assassin leaped through a window to an adjoining roof, ran the length of the block, went down a stairway and escaped in a crowd.

Knowledge that Webb had a woman friend in the flat led the police to watch the place. Arrangements were made with an occupant of another flat in the building to notify the detectives if Webb should come. Hart was told yesterday afternoon that Webb was there, and the detective hurried to the place. He evidently encountered his slayer soon for other detectives, attracted by the sound of a shot, arrived in the flat within a few minutes after Hart and found him near death. He died before they could call a doctor.

The woman in the flat was arrested. Her name has not been revealed to the police.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

North Wellington Liberals nominated Dr. N. C. Wallace as candidate for the Federal House.

The Duchess of Connaught was removed from the Royal Victoria Hospital on Saturday to the home of Mr. James Ross of Montreal.

The water in the forward hold of the steamer Uranium has been pumped out and the ship now stands upright at the wharf at Halifax.

The C.N.R. will lay steel into Calgary before the present week. The end of steel was only four miles away from the city limits Saturday night.

Charged with keeping a house where cock-fighting was taking place, Leon Houde, of Montreal, yesterday pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs.

C. H. Mills, M.P.P. for North Waterloo, will second the address in reply to the speech from the throne when the Legislature assembles on Feb. 4.

The Malay States Dreadnought for the British navy will be ordered immediately, and construction finished as quickly as possible. It will be christened Malaya.

London City Council may seek power from the Legislature to foreclose the city's interest in the London & Port Stanley Railway and vest its assets in a new company.

Samuel Grigg, the evangelist, in Winnipeg yesterday pleaded not guilty to the charge of bigamy, and asked for a jury trial. E. R. Levinson asked for a remand until Jan. 28.

John Gray of London, Ont., left a B. C. lumber camp for home some weeks ago, and since then has not been heard from. It is feared that he succumbed on the trail to civilization.

A loss which may reach considerable proportions is thought to have been done to oyster beds in Long Island Sound by the recent high gales, and more particularly by the extremely low tide on Jan. 3.

WILL CONTROL STREETS.

Cochrane Promises Municipalities Reform In the Law.

OTTAWA, Jan. 21.—When the new Railway Act is introduced it will likely contain the provision that all telephone, telegraph and power transmission companies must come under the jurisdiction of the Railway Commission and Canadian municipalities will be given the power to control their own streets. This was intimated by Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Railways and Canals, yesterday afternoon to a delegation which waited upon him, representing the Canadian Municipalities Union.

This was the real intention of the original legislation, but federally incorporated companies, which had received charters before the Railway Commission Act was enacted, always contended that the act was not applicable to them.

If Mr. Cochrane carries out the idea which he intimated yesterday afternoon, the real purpose and intent of the original act will be secured.

ROWELL BANQUETTED.

Liberal Leader Delivers Another Address on Tax Reform.

TORONTO, Jan. 21.—N. W. Rowell, K.C., leader of the Ontario Opposition, was the guest of honor at a banquet of the North Toronto Liberal Club in Masonic Hall last night. About 160 were present. In the course of a short address, Mr. Rowell launched out his present pet subject—tax reform.

"We believe that a valuable contribution would be made toward the solution of the housing problem, and the betterment of the social and industrial conditions in the city, he says, if we substantially reduced—even if we would not at the present time entirely remove the tax upon incomes, business, buildings and improvements." And that the burden so removed from industry should be placed upon the land, which is daily steadily increasing in value by reason of the growth of the community and the industry of its citizens.

The accomplishment of tax reform, declared Mr. Rowell, would not altogether solve the housing problem. It would be necessary to go further. Men who owned land were entitled to take advantage of the recent law and hold it for a rise in value. It was not the method of raising municipal taxation that was the vital question, but the method of maintaining the best social and industrial conditions.

In conclusion, Mr. Rowell briefly reviewed the Liberal policy to abolish the bar, and answered a question as to the prohibition of treating as being a half-way measure. Both parties, he said, were agreed on the necessity for further legislation.

Says Preference is Dead.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Speaking at the city of London free trade meeting yesterday, Lord Avebury referred to the Unionist policy of food taxation and the recent Unionist speeches. Lord Lansdowne and Mr. Bonar Law did not wish to put on food taxes; and would only do so if the Dominions insisted. This, he felt, sure the Dominions never would do. Food taxes were dead and manufactures only remained, but then we import no manufactures from the Dominions. That being so, what became of preference? It was dead.

RICH AND VARIED PROGRAMME BY LOCAL BOARD OF TRADE

The following eight important resolutions have been submitted by our Belleville Board of Trade to the Associated Boards of Trade of Ontario to be passed at the annual meeting to be held in Toronto at an early date. These resolutions, forwarded to the respective Governments concerned have great weight in determining departmental policy and enabling Ministers to feel the pulse of the people.

Resolved, that a commission should be appointed to investigate the cause, and to recommend means for remedying the effect of the present high cost of living in Canada, more especially with regard to the two essentials food and fuel.

Resolved, that as far as possible all commercial laws should be assimilated and co-ordinated, to produce unity and to beget confidence.

Resolved, that the establishment of Parcel Post throughout the Dominion is necessary if Canada is to keep abreast of the times, and public opinion is ripe for any change that will bring closer together producer and consumer, and facilitate trade.

Resolved, that a sub-committee of the Executive should be formed, to meet frequently throughout the year, to consider and to secure for Ontario her fair share of Dominion publicity in connection with immigration, trade and commerce, and resources.

Resolved, that it is in the interests of trade and commerce in Canada and especially in the interests of Ontario that a uniform Dominion Insolvency Law should be enacted.

Resolved, that every effort should continue to be made to carry on the campaign for good roads, more especially in the avenues of trade between the towns and cities and the source of supply—the country round about; and free and well protected markets should be encouraged at all centres of trade.

Resolved, that the construction of industrial railways and branch lines and spurs leading to mines and industries and all other methods of facilitating inter-communication by transportation, whether electric or steam or otherwise, should be encouraged by the Governments both of the Dominion and of the Province.

Since the interests of the farming community and the residents of the towns are inter-dependent, and since there seems to have been a general tendency of the young men of the farm to leave and go to the town, and since up to the present time there has not been a perfect recognition of the mutual nature of the interests of the town and country;

Therefore, be it resolved that this Associated Boards of Trade in the Province of Ontario, suggests to local Boards of Trade that they make an effort to have members of the farming community become members of their Boards of Trade, and also be it resolved that a committee of this Association be appointed to go into the question and communicate with the various organizations representing the farming industry in Ontario, and prepare a report to be presented at the next annual meeting of the Association on what improvements can be made to make life on the farm more attractive to the younger members and also to report with regard to what assistance can be given to the farming community in the way of advertising their farming produce in local and foreign markets.

Secret-Service Men For President-Elect

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—A request for $3,000 for secret service on Wilson was made upon Congress yesterday by the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. MacVeagh.

"I believe the duty of the Government is to afford adequate protection to the President elect," said Mr. MacVeagh.

"I instructed the chief of the secret service immediately after the election, to do everything possible to safeguard the President elect, under existing conditions, but, I feel that this work should be specifically provided for and directed by law."

Implicates Confederate

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 19—Special—William Gregg, formerly a clerk in McCallum's tobacco store, was brought back from Brantford yesterday, when he was arrested by the police of that city on advice from the local police, charged with robbing the cigar store of $150.

At the Police Court Gregg implicated Joseph Riddell, late of Collingwood also a clerk in the store. The robbery was committed last Tuesday night, the safe being rifled and papers and goods being strewed about the floor. The two clerks left for the East on the early morning train. A warrant is out for Riddell, but he has not yet been apprehended.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Making Use Of Mother Earth

Rev. A. M. Hubly preached Sunday morning in Emmanuel Church from Gen. ii:7.

After a brief discussion of the creation of the universe as given in Genesis, the preacher said: "God crowned His six days work by making man. Let us not cavil with the record regarding the length of time, nor with the method and manner of the making.

"Be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day."

Therefore, we are not concerned about the length of the sixth day, any more than about the geological ages which may have been included in the five days preceding it.

The Lord, who wraps in the acorn a great oak of a thousand years' growth no doubt could, by a word, create a tree equal in all respects to one of a thousand years' growth.

We would not question the truth of our text, in its statement, that "God formed man out of the dust of the earth, inasmuch as we never saw a man formed or made by any other process.

The mother conceives, and gives birth to the child, only as her own life is sustained by that which comes from the earth. There is no way by which the infant becomes a full grown well formed man but by receiving and appropriating the products of earth.

By the process of natural law, clusters of grapes are hung upon the branches of the vine and man, by pressing the fruit, makes wine.

The Lord of life and the maker of all things needed not the vine, the branches, nor the fruit to fill the water pots with wine when the need could not have been met by the process of nature's law.

Man's extremity is God's opportunity, because God's purposes and power are equal. There is this to be noted, however. The Almighty does not despise small means, but makes use of that which is near at hand.

By a word the Son of God could have filled the cups upon the table of the marriage feast with wine, but He made use of the water and the water pots, and so honored the servants with the privilege of co-operating with Him in supplying the need of the feast. He still gives men the opportunity to co-operate with Him in turning life's water into wine.

When feeding the thousands in the wilderness, no doubt, Jesus could have done without the lad's little luncheon basket with the five barley loaves and two fishes; but He made use of the means at hand, and only eternity will reveal the riches of glory accruing to the little boy who ministered of his substance to the Creator and maker of all things. Many men posing as being wise, above that which is written have tried to discredit the statement of our text. To prove it false, they have labored, and lectured and wrote, till cold carnality, child heart and brain, froze their ink and shattered their inkstand. They have set up a theory of evolution.

I have no doubt that our God could evolve a man from anything, or even from nothing, but why should I on that account discredit the only account we have of the creation of man, which bears the divine impress—an impress which grows clearer and brighter with age.

Is it not logical to believe that God made use of what was so near at hand, as the earth, from which to form man, especially when the earth has always been, and still is, the essential contributor to the life of men?

NO VOTES FOR WOMEN

Antis In England Vigorously Oppose Any Reform.

LONDON, Jan. 21.—Lord Curzon aroused frenzied enthusiasm at the anti-suffrage meeting in Queen's Hall last night by declaring: "We don't want an open door at all, not to the million women dressed up as municipal electors, or thirteen million women marching as the vanguard of the great army which will eventually take charge of the destinies of state."

Members of Parliament, both Liberal and Unionist, members of the aristocracy, and representatives of arts and letters constituted the gathering which met to protest against the female suffrage amendment to the franchise bill which comes before the Commons on Friday. The topic is monopolizing political interest and embarrassing the Government more than any other.

Mrs. Humphrey Ward was a picturesque figure in lace cap and black gown. "Women with votes," she declared, "would be inferior political units serving as raw material for the political purposes of men."

Aged Couple Are United in Death

AMHERST, N. S., Jan. 20.—Word was received here to-day of the death at Anderson, California, within a few hours of each other, of Mr. and Mrs Obed Tingley, of Point de Bute, N. B., aged, respectively, 76 and 71.

Mr. and Mrs. Tingley had only been in California a few weeks, and were stricken with pneumonia. Their son, at whose house they died, leaves for New Brunswick with the bodies to-morrow.

THE "ENTRE NUS"

How Invitation by Cross-Eyed Man Mixed Things Up.

By ADELE MENDEL.

"Don't say another word about the dance, I beg of you," said Beatrice "I simply can't bear to hear any more about it."

"Since when are such subjects too frivolous for your ears?" queried Drusilla, raising her eyebrows and looking up from her fancy work "Especially when in all your finery and glory you most likely will lead the grand march with Charles."

"Nothing of the kind," answered Beatrice in a I-don't-care-what-happens tone.

"Didn't you have a new gown for the occasion?"

"Yes, and I'll wear it if only to show some people that I can't be stunned by their audacity."

"But if you're not going with Charles, who is?"

"Hallie Weston."

"Incredible! Why, only last week Charles remarked in his nonchalant way, 'What do you girls see in Hallie? She reminds me of the brook that went on forever, with her incessant talking.'"

"Drusilla, when a young man talks to you about a dance and asks your opinion on all details, and then at the eleventh hour asks another girl, do you think he can ever justify his conduct?" asked Beatrice.

"No, and I simply can't understand it," admitted Drusilla.

"Are you sure?"

"Positive. Hallie and I met Charles on the street. He came towards us in his usual cordial way, and stopped to say to Hallie, 'I'm going to take you to the "Entre Nus" affair, Hallie must have had some inkling as she didn't appear surprised, and only said, 'I thank you; what time will you call for me?'

"For a moment I felt the keen insult that he should invite her in my presence, and then I said, 'I'm going with Jesse Tompkins.' You know Jesse is always pestering me to go with him, so I knew I could rely upon his taking me. We left Charles at the corner, and though I was the one to be offended, he doesn't even bow to me when we pass each other by."

"I Simply Can't Understand It," Said Drusilla.

"Jesse is much shorter than you; don't you feel like a giantess when you're with him?"

"Well," said Beatrice, "it came to me like a flash that I wouldn't give either one of them the satisfaction that I couldn't go, and anyway a little man with loads of money is better than no man at all."

"That's philosophical enough, my dear, but don't get a bad case of glooms over it. If Charles is so fickle and changeable in his affections, it's better to know it now than later."

After Drusilla left, the words, "it's better to know it now," kept ringing in Beatrice's ears. She hated to face the truth that any man could so lightly throw her friendship aside after all his professions of sincerity.

"I'll not have any one's sympathy," she determined. "At the dance I'll be the gayest of all."

"Why, Beatrice," exclaimed her friend a few days later, "how much better you look than the last time I saw you; you are fairly radiant. It must be your hat. It's so becoming."

A faint color rose to Beatrice's cheek. "Don't blame it all on my hat," she said; "give me credit for a portion of my good looks."

"I just saw Hallie and she failed completely to appreciate Charley's charms," continued Drusilla; "and she never was so bored in all her existence, that she was the only girl whose partner did not send her a corsage bouquet, and he never even was concerned whether her program was filled or not. In fact she said there was no pleasure to go with a young man who was constantly noticing another girl. Why do you think he asked her and then was so rude?"

Hallie smiled.

"Promise you'll never tell."

"I'll never tell a soul."

"He was an unwilling victim. Toward the end of the evening Charlie came up to me saying, 'Hope you enjoyed yourself.'"

"Oh, immensely," I replied.

"Doesn't your back ache from dancing with that midget?" he asked in a maddeningly sympathetic way.

"Not a bit," I answered. "Jesse is a splendid dancer."

"Then you prefer that dwarf's attentions to mine?" he exclaimed in a jealous rage.

"Just as much as you prefer Hallie to me," I replied.

"But I don't and never will," he protested, looking at me tenderly. "I asked you for tonight, not her."

"You asked me? How can you deliberately say that when I heard you invite her?"

"Didn't I look at you, when I said 'I'm going to take you to the dance?'"

"Then I laughed and laughed until I could not laugh any more."

"What was so ludicrous about that?" interrupted Drusilla.

"Until that moment I never thought about it. He's cross-eyed, and when he looked at Hallie, in his own heart and soul he was in reality staring at me. That's where all the trouble came up."

"Oh, how disconcerted Hallie would be if she knew."

"She never will. The best part of our quarrel was the reconciliation."

"It's always been my pet aspiration to see you two married," said Drusilla.

"Well, your wish will soon come true."

"Beatrice," asked Drusilla, "won't it be dreadful after you are married if Charles should say loving things to you and look at another woman?"

"I won't mind that ever again," declared Beatrice vehemently. "Because Charles says all other women look alike to him except me. So there!"

ALL FOR THE SAKE OF BETSY

When Col. J. J. Astor Jeopardized His Yacht and Passengers for a Dog.

Some years ago Col. J. J. Astor and his yacht Nourmahal and his son, Vincent, were reported lost at sea, the New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times-Star recalls. Every one got excited about it—especially in New York newspaper offices. It was a New York newspaper, you may remember, which ran this headline over the story of the wreck of the Titanic: "Col. John Jacob Astor Lost at Sea; Two Thousand Others Also Drowned."

The Astor part of the headline was in very large pink letters and the rest was comparatively modest type When the Nourmahal was reported lost the papers began to talk about sending out searching expeditions The government dispatched a cruiser to search for Astor. Now Richard Barry tells the story of that episode for the first time. "Astor was very fond of his pet dog," says Barry. "The pet dog hated the sea. The second day out on the cruise the dog began to mope. Astor told the captain of the yacht to point her nose for shore. 'I'll take Betsy off and give her a run,' said the master of millions.

"They landed that day on the Carolina shore and Betsy got her run. But one run wasn't enough for her Each day, as they voyaged south, Betsy was taken on land to stretch her legs. Finally they were off the Honduras coast, and Betsy began to howl for a frolic. The captain protested that the coast line was insufficiently charted, and that the Nourmahal was in danger of being wrecked if he was obliged to run in too near.

"'No matter,' said Astor. 'Betsy isn't happy.'

"So they put in, and shelved the Nourmahal on a rock, and every one north of Panama became violently excited because it wasn't possible to hear from the Astors, and it cost the yacht owner a good many dollars to get her off. But he didn't care. He was fond of Betsy—and Betsy had her run."

Tolerably Well.

The last pig-tail has disappeared from the Chinese embassy in London. It belonged to the majordomo of the Chinese ambassador, and it is now on its way to China as a present to that functionary's wife. A story is going the rounds that at an official reception recently a member of the Chinese embassy was presented to a well known lady.

"We no tallee Chinee velly well," she said.

THE SCRUBWOMAN

BY MARY HASTINGS

It was midnight before the picnic train returned its tired pleasure-seekers to the city. A chilly breeze leaped at them across the open station platform, making the starched ruffles of Rose's white dress rattle like dried leaves. Solicitously Woods hurried her into the waiting room.

"You should have worn a coat," he chided.

"Oh, I don't need one; I'm not really cold," the girl replied, with the sensitive pride or youth that prefers agonies of exposure to the shelter of the shabby jacket. "I did not want the bother of it all afternoon."

"It's no bother to me," the young man protested. "I don't want you to take cold and spoil your day."

"There's nothing could spoil that!" She spoke impulsively and turned a radiant young face to him in confirmation. Her big blue-grey eyes were still shining with their memories.

A scrubwoman on her hands and knees before them half rose to lift her pail from her path. Wet and steaming and shapeless in her looped up clothes, she turned her shawl hooded face indifferently to them. The girl made a quick, startled noise in her throat, and at once something forbidding and belligerent flashed at her from the scrubwoman's sunken eyes, and then the gaunt figure dropped to all fours again and set to scrubbing.

"What is it—did you get your feet wet"? said the young man.

"Oh, no, I—I just started to say something—I guess I forgot what." The girl laughed nervously. Then as he held open the dor into the street: "My, it is cold!" she exclaimed.

The young man pressed her arm to his side. "I'm going to get you a hot chocolate," he declared. "You're shivering

When, at 6 in the morning, the scrubwoman let herself into her small flat she did not hurry wearily to bed as usual. She opened the door of the room next hers and entered.

Rose was asleep. Hearing her name she drowsily unclosed her eyes to see a tall bent figure standing over her bed in the morning twilight. She sat up quickly.

"I just want to speak t' ye a moment." The scrubwoman had a husky whisper of a voice, hoarsened by long years of exposure to icy winters over her steaming suds. "Did you say anything to that Mr. Woods about—about what I was t' ye?"

The girl hesitated.

"What say?" the woman repeated. Her deafness was one of the reasons why she had to be a scrubwoman.

"No," owned the girl. "No I didn't."

The woman drew a long breath and let herself down on the bed with due regard to her rheumatism.

"Lord!" said she. "I have been worried to death for fear you'd gone and given it all away."

The girl leaned closer to speak into her good ear. "I didn't want you to think I was ashamed of you, ma. I didn't know what to do."

"Ashamed!" the woman grunted. "I'm not worrying any 'bout whether you're ashamed of me or not! But I am ashamed of myself of the work I got to do, 'n I don't want it advertised all over town. Think how a decent, dressed-up fellow like that Mr. Woods would feel to find his girl's mother scrubbing a station in front of him. Why, 'twould undo all I ever done for you, Rose. I was real worried all night."

"I felt badly 'bout the other side of it" said the girl. "It seemed so awful to have you working away there and me coming in off a picnic."

"It wouldn't have fit very well the other way round," retorted her mother with grim humor. "Did you have a pleasant day rose"

"Oh, grand!"

The scrubwoman paused. "And Mr. Woods—was he as nice as ever t'ye"?

The dimness of the room hid the quick rush of color to the girl's face. She had a fair, pink and white skin, as candid as her blue-grey eyes.

"Oh, yes," she said in breathless reassurance, "And ma—?"

"Well, what say?"

"He wants to come here and call. He wants to come this very afternoon.'

"Well, he can, can't he? 'Ain't that what I got a parlor tor? And a piano? And you taking lessons?"

"He wants to meet you. He said so." The girl looked in shy question at her mother.

The mother gave a wheezy chuckle. "He ain't going to buy no pig in a poke, is he? But that looks like he's in earnest, Rose, and it's the right and proper way for him to do. . . . I will wear that black dress Mrs. Robinson gave me. I only wish I didn't have so many teeth out—it makes me look fiercer'n I am." She paused a moment in her thought. "I'll do up your white dress in the morning," she added. "You have to wear that again.'

"No, I'll do it up. You need your sleep, Ma."

"You can't do it as good as I can, 'n you'll be all tired out by the time he gets here. You do as I tell you, 'n let that dress alone, 'n when I get up I'll see to it. . . . What time is he coming"

"I don't know. He just said afternoon."

"H'm. Well, you wake me at 11. Now get to sleep yourself. I would not have come in, but I was worrying. . . . . . . .he'd a' been so ashamed. . . . ."

"I guess his folks are pretty nice," the girl assented.

"Not any nicer'n I was before I married your father and came to this country. My father was an English farmer and we kep' a servant. That is why I want to see you out of all this, Rose, and started in life the right way. I don't want you to make a mistake again."

The girl's sensitive color deepened painfully.

"No, ma," she said, "I'm sure—I'm sure this ain't any mistake.'

It rained that afternoon, an indecisive little dizzle, with interludes of spring sunshine that drew the girl hopefully to the window.

"If 'twould only clear up so's we could take a walk," she murmured. "He spoke of going to the park. I don't know how I'll get along. Just entertaining him."

"Ain't there that piano"? the mother pointed out.

"Yes, but—but for the whole of Sunday afternoon! It's so much easier to keep talking when you're going places, and we've always gone places before."

She was in a flutter of nervous excitement, of mingled dread and anticipation. Her hands, as she repinned the mother's collar, were quite cold.

"You look awfully well, ma," she murmured hopefully. "I don't know when I've seen you look so well."

"I don't know when you have ever seen me look well at all," returned the mother dryly. "I got through looking well before you were big enough to take notice."

Uncle Sam To Send Warship to Mexico

WASHINTON, Jan. 21.—Disquieting reports of a grave situation at Vera Cruz, Mexico, to-day caused the State Department officials to seriously consider detaching one of the warships from the first division of the Atlantic fleet at Guantanamo for immediate duty at the Mexican port. If no reassuring news comes during the day this may be done.

Disorders and widespread rebel activity continue in Southern Mexico, small towns and ranches having been attacked and pillaged. Women have been carried off and bandits have demoralized the populace.

That the Madero Government was providing little or no protection for foreign interests has again ben made evident by the recent action of American planters in announcing that they proposed to pay tribute to the rebel Zapata to protect their growing crops against other rebels and raiders.

Proposes Divorce And Fight Reforms

CARSON CITY, Nev., Jan. 21.—Governor Tasker L. Oddie in his message to the Nevada Legislature yesterday recommended the passage of a law requiring residence of one year instead of six months in the state before a divorce could be obtained. He also advocated a law limiting the number of rounds in a prize-fight.

Pointing out that Nevada is surrounded by states which have given women equal suffrage, the governor urges ratification of an amendment giving them the right to vote in Nevada.

The Death of Sir James Coats

LONDON, Jan. 21.—The death is announced of Sir James Coats of the famous firm of J. & P. Coats, Ltd., in his seventy-ninth year.

Sir James Coats, who was created a baronet in 1905, was a son of the late Sir Peter Coats. He married in 1857 Sarah Ann, the daughter of John Auchincless of New York.

HELEN GOULD MARRIED

Intelligencer Special.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Helen Miller Gould, daughter of the late Jay Gould, and Finley J. Shepard, assistant to president of the Missouri Pacific Railway, were married today in the drawing-room of the bride's stately stone mansion at Lyndhurst-on-the-Hudson, in the presence of 75 invited guests, all members of the Gould or Shepard families or intimate friends. The service was performed by Rev. Daniel Russell, pastor of the Irvington Presbyterian church. The bride was attended only by two little girls, Helen and Margaret, daughters of the bride's brother, Frank Gould, while the bridegroom was attended by his brother, Louis J. Shepard. The bride was given away by her brother, George Gould.

CHINAMEN CAPTURED

Intelligencer Special.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Jan. 22.—Seven Chinamen evidently smuggled from the Canadian side of the line, were arrested last night. Four were taken from a box car nar a shipyard, west of the city, and three others were found walking the tracks; in that vicinity.

The less brains a man has to spare he more likely he is to lose his head.

NEW CRATER FORMED

Intelligencer Special.

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, Jan. 22.—A new crater has formed on Colima, which continues its violent eruptions at intervals. Forest fires have occurred from the flow of lava, and crops over a wide area have been seriously damaged.

TROD ON FLAG

Intelligencer Special.

PANAMA, Jan. 22.—Halligan and Crosby, a vaudeville team, accidentally trod on the Panama flag on the stage. Radicals want to make it an international incident.

GORED BY A BULL

Intelligencer Special.

PLATTSBURG, N.Y., Jan. 22.—A bull which George H. Whyland, a telegraph operator at South Junction, near here, was leading, leaped upon him when he fell on the icy road, and fatally gored him as he lay prostrate.

PHILANTHROPIST DEAD

(Intelligencer Special.)

VIENNA, Jan. 22.—Karl Wittgenstein, who at one time controlled the whole Australian iron industry, died yesterday. He was a great philanthropist and a patron of arts.

WILL TRY TO AMEND PANAMA MEASURE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—"The United States should either submit the Panama free toll question to impartial arbitration or retire from the position we have taken," was the declaration of Senator Root, in the Senate to-day in a speech favoring repeal of the free toll provision of the new Panama Canal Act.

Senator Root took the position that Congress should not have passed a law last summer that discriminated against foreign shipping and granted free tolls to American coast-wise shipping. That action, he declared, had been a source of "great regret to multitudes of our fellow citizens," and had "created a painful impression throughout the world."

Senator Root was an active opponent of the free toll provision when the Canal Act passed last August, and his speech to-day opened a fight to secure an amendment of the law before it goes into effect. Senator Root declared to-day that Congress had been tired out before it was taken up last summer, and that the measure never received proper consideration.

"We were weary and exhausted and our minds were not working during that period," he declared.

Nine Slightly Hurt In C. P. R. Wreck

WYNYARD, Sask., Jan. 21.—Eight miles west of here, Sunday, the Canadian Pacific Western Express, eastbound, struck a spread rail and the first and second class dining cars were overturned on a six foot dip. Nine passengers were painfully but not seriously hurt. The dining car caught fire but the chef crept in and put out the blaze with milk and snow.

The following is a list of the injured:

W. H. Roper, Yorton, head cut; Miss May McArthur, Winnipeg, side wrenched; A. E. Coote, Brandon, shoulder hurt and rib bruised; A. N. Minchello, New York, shoulder bruised; Miss Stina Benson, Leslie, Sask., right hand bruised; Samuel H. Collins, Stainfield, County Down, Ireland, scalp wounds and bruised shoulders; Mat. J. Johnson, Minneapolis, strained back; W. C. Johnson, his son, bruised back, and Mrs. M. E. Craven, Saskatoon, scalp wounds, cuts on elbow and nose.

Turks Put Ban n New Wom s Garb

LONDON, Jan. 2 The Daily Chronicle's Constantino correspondent sends this despatc

"The military comma t at Constantinople has just is a significant order forbidding kis' women to appear in the ets in attire which is contrary to religious law and to the national tom. Deft dressmaking has conver the old-fashioned black outer ga nt into a most attractive custome hich accentuates rather than hid he natural lines of a good figure. his order does not represent a h that the Turkish women will go b o shapeless clothes. It is inter d as a caution against arousing aticism in these critical times, w might be harmful to the mor lvanced members of the Turkish r sex."

AGED MOTHER FOUND HER SON IN THE FAR WEST

EDMONTON, Alta., Jan. 21.—After a nine months' search for her only son, Mrs. Martha Foster, a widow, has found him at last on a homestead in the far north, and is now on her way back to her little farm at Blackwater Foot, in Northern Argyleshire, Scotland.

Widowed several years ago, Mrs. Foster had hard work making a living from her barren little place. Two years ago her only son, Robert, left for Canada, and for several months he wrote home regularly, enclosing cheques from time to time to make life easier for his aged mother. Fifteen months ago the letters ceased, and all enquiries from Scotland failed to reveal any trace of the man.

Greatly alarmed, the mother at length set out for Canada in the hope of finding her son alive. Though herself sixty-six years of age, she spent months in following him from place to place, her travels including a three days' tramp alone in the Peace River district. Eventually she located Robert ten miles west of Fort Johns.

"Robert is doing nicely, but this country is too cold for me," she said, adding that she expected her son home in nine months. She explained that her son had been told by friends in the old country that his mother was dead, and as he was far away from postal facilities his letters had ceased.

Danger Is Past From Thames Flood

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 21.—The river continued to recede this morning, and all danger was considered past last night. Tonight there is a slight rise again, with four feet going over the Springbank dam. This is a foot higher than last night, but so far no serious damage has been reported. There was a heavy rainstorm today, which increased the flow somewhat and this storm was accompanied by thunder and lightning, with a high temperature. However, there is a decided change tonight, the mercury having taken a big drop, while

Calgary Girls Not So Bad as Reported

CALGARY, Alta., Jan. 21.—Calgary citizens, acquainted with the facts, do not at all agree with the statement made by Ald. T. A. P. Frost, to the effect that there are two hundred girls in the city under 18 years approaching illegitimate motherhood. Ald. Frost's statement has created a good deal of comment, and the general opinion is that he exaggerated conditions

BEEF SHORTAG DUE THROUGHOUT WEST

CALGARY, Jan. 21.—A tage of beef in the prairie provin f Canada for a couple of years he prediction of J. C. Hargrave, S., Dominion Inspector of Live k for Alberta. He explans that transition stage between the day plenty of beef and free ranges, a e day when the country will be full of farmers each raising a few head of cattle, and that a temporary scarcity will be the natural result. Prices will not exceed the present figure. Mr. Hargrave says that Alberta stock is free from disease now, so far as epidemics are concerned.

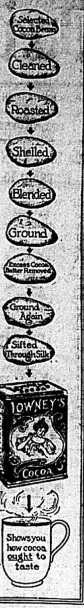
Are You Drinking Pure Cocoa or Cocoa Mixed with Starch?



Cocoa is made by grinding cocoa beans and pressing out some of their fat or "cocoa butter". The removal of the excess fat leaves the cocoa more perfectly digestible.

A common way to cheapen cocoa is by adding starch.

A leading English physician says that starch added to cocoa reduces the "nutritious gluten and stimulating theobromine."

Lowney's contains no starch. It is as pure as cocoa can be made.

It is produced in our spic-and-span factory at Montreal. Lowney's Cocoa conforms with every requirement that goes to make cocoa wholesome and appetizing.

You will never learn how delicious cocoa can be until you have tasted Lowney's.

Sold by grocers. In tins—10c to 50c sizes.

Automobile Bandit Gang Broken Up

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Frank Madia, owner of the Michigan avenue garage, which was used as headquarters of the automobile bandits, surrendered today while the city's police force was in the midst of its search for Robert Webb, the gang chauffeur, who late yesterday shot and killed Detective Peter Hart.

Madia was surrendered by his attorney, who advised him to tell everything he knew of the desperadoes, who for weeks have laughed at the police and have levied toll on shoppers and others in every part of Chicago, despite the attempts of armed squads of detectives who have patrolled the city in autos.

Madia is said to have acted as the agent of the automobile robbers in disposing of stolen property.

After murdering Detective Hart with the officer's own revolver, Webb made his fourth escape in eleven days. He was one of the motor crew that shot Policeman Frederick Sticken on January 9. On January 14 he jumped from a window and eluded the police; last Saturday he was arrested and released on the word of Madia, gang headquarters' keeper. Yesterday he killed Hart and fled.

World's Rubber Production.

About one-half the world's supply of rubber comes from the Brazilian sections of Ceara, Manaos and Para. Their product sets the price for the raw material in the consuming markets. The trees grow wild. No systematic preparation of the ground has ever been necessary, and the entire care of the rubber gatherers has been given to obtaining only the juice from the rubber tree and getting it to market.

Natural Gas Wrecks Home

BUFFALO, N.Y., Jan. 21—Florus Fuller, 60 years of age, a wealthy resident of Holland, N.Y., was burned to death in a fire that destroyed his home today. The fire followed a terrific explosion of natural gas within the house, which wrecked the structure and shook buildings for miles around.

Fuller told friends last night that his wife had gone to Buffalo, but no trace of her has been found here.

Gasoline Sausages

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—"Gasoline sausages" were used to start incendiary fires by members of the alleged "arson ring" according to testimony presented to State's Attorney Hoyne today. In one fire, it was said, a score of sausage skins filled with gasoline were strung on wires. These "gasoline sausages" exploded when the fire reached them and spread.

A new chemical preparation known as "fire powder," also was used by the alleged "firebugs" in starting the incendiary blazes. This preparation enabled the alleged "firebug" to be several miles away from the building before the fire was discovered.

Burying San Francisco.

He was a wealthy youth, blessed with plenty of money, and a great number of people were ready to take it away from him. He lived in San Francisco, which city, according to reliable report, is as full of speed and action after dark as Ty Cobb is when he steals home with the winning run.

One night the young man, full of check books and ideas, hired a string of 40 cabs and hacks, and, forming them in single file, led the procession down Market street, the principal thoroughfare of San Francisco. His walk was slow, grand and impressive, and the vehicles followed him at a snail's pace. It looked like the funeral of a pet dog or a Mohammedan.

Suddenly a policeman ran out and put about his neck strong but uncaressing fingers.

"What are you trying to do?" asked the officer of the law.

"Why," said the leader of the procession solemnly, "this town is dead, and I'm burying it."—The Popular Magazine.

Prescription for Headache!

If you should go to your family physician and ask him for a prescription for headache, and he knew the very latest discoveries in medicine, he would prescribe the ingredients of ZUTOO tablets.

Yet he might not get the happy combination of the ingredients secured in ZUTOO tablets after long trial and experiment.

The ingredients of Zutoo Tablets are prescribed for headache by the very best physicians of the day.

Praised by all users, thousands gladly testify to the merits of this reliable cure for headache. 25c at dealers. Try it.

GUESTS AT POLICE STATION

Two prisoners, a man and a woman, and three tramps, were last night provided with apartment at the police station.

TO MEET THIS EVENING

There will be meeting of the Poultry Association in the Cheese Board Room, Standard Bank, at eight o'clock this evening.

AT THE ALTAR

Karl Rogers Green, Gananoque, and Charlotte Dennis, Belleville, were quietly married yesterday, January 21st at the Tabernacle Parsonage by the Rev. W. G. Clarke, B. A.

ALLOWED TO GO HOME

Albert Laberen, a stranger who has been confined in the county jail for a week on a charge of vagrancy was this morning by Magistrate Masson given his liberty upon promising to leave for his home in the eastern part of the Province.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little Miss Dorothy Roblin, Charles Street, celebrated her fourth birthday yesterday, entertaining a number of her young friends. After having spent an enjoyable time, they departed early, wishing their young hostess many happy returns of the day.

BRIGADE CALLED OUT

The Fire Brigade was called to the Anglo-American Hotel last night in answer to an alarm rung in about midnight. While considerable smoke was in evidence and some discomfort experienced by the guests of the house, the conflagration otherwise was of a trivial nature, and the damage slight, if any.

FORCED OPEN FRONT DOOR

At 1.45 this morning the police were called to the residence of Mr. J. Gerow who resides on Murney Street It appears that some one made a determined effort to enter the house by forcing open the front door. At this stage of the proceedings the would be burglar was frightened away by some members of the household being awakened. There is no clue whatever as to who the guilty party was.

JUDGMENT RESERVED

In the case of Ferguson vs Fesserton Lumber Company, which was in progress here for two days before Judge Deroche, judgment was reserved The case was not completed until 9.30 last evening. After argument had been heard on both sides, judgment was reserved. Messrs. W. S. Morden and W. D. M. Shorey for plaintiff and Mr. W. A. Anderson for defendants. The plaintiff claimed $400 alleged due him on contract for supplying lumber to the defendants.

HORSE CASE SETTLED

The case of Vlada Cirquanoqua, a foreigner who was accused of restraining a horse belonging to Mr. W. McDonald, was to-day settled by the accused paying all costs in the proceeding, amounting to $32. The parties are residents of Point Anne. It was clearly proven that the foreigner had no right to restrain the animal, out it was not a case of theft, hence a settlement was advised.

ILLEGAL SALE OF LIQUOR

A local hotel proprietor was to-day summoned to appear before Magistrate Masson on a charge of selling liquor during prohibited hours. Considerable evidence was taken and the same was very conflicting. His worship found the accused guilty and a fine of $75 and costs was imposed. Mr. Anderson represented License Inspector Arnott and Mr. Carnew appeared on behalf of the accused.

SOLD CIARETTES TO MINOR

Magistrate Masson this morning gave judgment in the case of a local shop keeper who was charged with providing cigarettes to a minor. In the case in question the lad when he made the first purchase produced an order to procure the cigarettes, but was supplied with some without the order. The minimum fine of $10 without costs was imposed. Mr. Mikel, K. C., City Solicitor, appeared in the case on behalf of the city.

CHARGED WITH VAGRANCY

Ethel Bovary and John Coughlin were last evening placed under arrest on a warrant which charged them with being vagrants. The parties in question are residents of the city and had previously been charged with a similar offence. Mr. Carnew, who appeared for the accused suggested an enlargement of the case and the Magistrate complied with same, granting a remand for one week. In the meantime the couple will remain in the county jail.

Tolstoi's Will on Stump

PARIS, Jan. 21.—The Journal des Debats publishes the late Count Tolstoi's will, which was written in 1910 on the stump of a tree a few miles from Yasnaia Poliana, leaving his entire literary property, published and unpublished, to his daughter, Alexandra.

The first clause says: "Bury me where I die; if in town, then the cheapest cemetery, in the cheapest coffin, like a pauper; no flowers, no wreaths, no speeches, without priests or lithurgy, if possible; but, if this is distasteful to those burying me, bury me according to custom with lithurgy, but as cheaply and simply as possible."

Half Babies' Calamities

NEW YORK, Jan. 21. Prof. Scott Nearing of the University of Pennsylvania, speaking on the subject of eugenics, under the auspices of the Federation for Child Study, told his audience that if 1,000 Harvard or Yale graduates were segregated from the rest of civilization they would at the end of the sixth generation have diminished to 50 persons.

Professor. Nearing said that as long as the unfit children of society are helped on to life this age cannot expect to attain anything like perfection. He quoted statistics regarding Chinese society, where no medical aid has been given to keep weak children alive, which showed that the average Chinaman is far better able to undergo physical hardship than the average Occidental.

"The great crime of the age," exclaimed Professor Nearing, "is the fact that no attempt is being made to increase the efficiency of the race. To show, for example, how race suicide is on the increase, in 1800 a family of eight children was a common thing, while today one of four is a matter for wonderment. The lamentable part of it is that on Fifth avenue children are a scarcity, while in the tenements they are quite common. "No American whose wages amount to $600 or less should have children."

Plenty of Tillson's now!

Sometimes it does seem that everybody in Canada is eating Tillson's Rolled Oats.

From grocers everywhere we have been receiving hurry-up messages like this:

"Why don't you ship us more Tillson's? We're all out."

If you have had trouble in getting Tillson's you'll be glad to know—

There's plenty of Tillson's now.

The immense increase in the demand for Tillson's has compelled us to equip two more of our mills to produce this delicious oat-flake.

We are shipping more than three times as much as ever before.

Nearly every grocer has a full supply. Every grocer can get it promptly

AMERICAN DECISION FEATHER IN CAP OF MINISTER OF MARINE

The Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, by his quick action and grasp of what was best for the interests of Canada, has great reason to be pleased with the refusal of United States Secretary of War Stimson to grant the application of the Sanitary District of Chicago for permission to divert from Lake Michigan 10,000 cubic feet of water per second instead of 4,167 feet as at present, thus lowering the water levels of the Great Lakes. Mr. Hazen, when informed of the application, which was made last year to the United States Department of War, quickly saw how significant such a question was to the best interests of the Dominion. Engineers of the Department were ordered quickly to Washington to watch developments while the case was being heard there, and Mr. Daniel Mullin, K.C., of St. John, N.B., one of the leaders of the New Brunswick bar, was appointed to argue the case for Canada.

Mr. Mullin, assisted by the officers of the Marine Department, made out a strong case from the Dominion standpoint, while the Shipping Federation, the Montreal Harbor Commission, and the Marine Association, were also ably represented.

The chief contention of the Canadian Government and interests was that the withdrawal of 10,000 cubic feet per second from Lake Michigan would interfere to a serious extent with navigation on the Great Lakes and connecting rivers. Also it was contended that such a drain would reduce the lake levels from at least four to six inches on the St. Lawrence River, and that this would probably result in the reconstruction of a number of Canadian canals and harbors, thus involving an expenditure of millions.

Secretary Stimson gives an interesting judgment. He begins with a resume of the history of the drainage canal, and points out that President Taft, when Secretary of War, refused a similar application on the ground that the question should be submitted to Congress.

Secretary Stimson points out that, as a matter of fact, the sanitary canal never has received congressional sanction. He dismisses as inapplicable the acts providing for a canal between Lake Michigan and the Illinois River because they deal entirely with questions of navigation and declares that when they were enacted ninety years ago the purpose to sanitate the city of Chicago by means of a canal could not have been dreamed of. He sums up the formidable opposition to the application of the sanitary district by representatives of twenty-three cities and six states, the great navigation interests of the lakes, and Canadian Government and private interests, as marking a distinct change in the situation from the time the canal was projected. Voluminous reports of commissions and engineer boards are cited as a basis for the conviction on the part of the Secretary that the withdrawal of 10,000 cubic feet per second would substantially interfere with the navigation of the lakes and connecting rivers.

Observations during the last 46 years show that such a drain would reduce the lake levels from 4.8 inches on the St. Lawrence river to 6.9 inches in Lakes Huron and Michigan, at mean lake levels, the lowering effect being much greater at low water periods, when the additional shortage would be most felt. This reduction, it is said, would substantially injure all the American and Canadian harbors on the Great Lakes, and at Montreal the river level probably would be lowered twelve inches. The United States has spent over $90,000,000 on these harbors and the Canadian Government has improved over fifty of its harbors which would suffer. Reconstruction of the American and Canadian canals might even be necessary owing to the reduction of the depth of water over the sills. The lowest estimate by the chief of engineers of the injury to American vessels by a reduction of their tonnage capacity is $1,000,000 per year, while the International Waterways Commission place the loss at the interest on a capital of $37,500,000.

The argument that the provision of the treaty giving a preference to the use of the water of the lakes for domestic and sanitary purposes over those of navigation, in the secretary's opinion, applies only to the "ordinary" uses of such water, and not to such an extraordinary sanitary use as would substantially injure navigation, a contention declared to be amply sustained by Supreme Court decisions.

And while speaking of the treaty, the Secretary declares that the Canadian view that the application would affect the material interests of their country, is quite sufficient to place it under the jurisdiction of the International Joint Commission, rather than under that of an administrative officer. For all of these reasons the application is denied.

The verdict has been received with pleasure by the shipping interests of the country, and is regarded as a strong justification of the attitude taken by the Canadian Government.

TURKEY'S PET CITY

Present indications point to the probable resumption of hostilities in the Balkans. Turkey has but ten days to decide what course she will pursue, at the end of which time, if she does not submit, fighting is bound to be renewed with increased energy, which may mean the total wiping out of that nation.

At first sight, according to historic authority, it seems strange that Turkey should attach so much importance to the retention of Adrianople. It is a strong place from [illegible] military [illegible]point, but its isolated position [illegible] partition which will inevit[illegible] the war, will [illegible]ness as a [illegible] consent to [illegible] Macedonia [illegible] stand [illegible] remarkable. Except Constantinople itself, the Turks would part with any other portion of their Empire more willingly than with this city. Sentiment has most to do with it. For a hundred years before they captured Constantinople, Adrianople was their capital. It was then, as it is now, almost the outpost of their advance into Europe. Its importance from a military standpoint has been noted. The Turks feel that, although the day of their power in Europe has almost drawn to its close, their flag over Adrianople would still be seen from eastern Bulgaria and northern Thrace.

For two months Turkish troops have defended the battered fortress with wonderful courage. No doubt its surrender after the cessation of hostilities would complete the wreck of the present government at Constantinople. Christian nations would do well to see that a massacre of Christians in the city of Constantinople did not follow the surrender of the northern fortress.

Thus it is that Adrianople remains the most serious obstacle in the way of a final settlement. Russia and Japan would not consider peace so long as Port Arthur held out. It might well be that the fall of Adrianople would pave the way for a final settlement. If all reports be true, General Janiver is this time fighting on the side of the allies, and General Faim is working with him hand in hand, for the reduction of the fortress.

THE GOVERNMENT A FRIEND OF THE FARMER

Mr. Burrell announces that $10,000,000 is to be set aside for the promotion of agricultural education and the general stimulation of scientific farming and the live stock and dairying industries throughout Canada. It is believed that the money will be spent at the rate of $1,000,000 a year and that every part of the Dominion will benefit.

The departure is the outcome of a report drawn up by Mr. C. C. James, C.M.G., and recently presented to the Minister of Agriculture. The tillers of the soil will be further assisted by Mr. White's amendment to the Bank Act authorizing the chartered banks to lend money to farmers on the security of their live stock and of their grain held over winter. This change in the law will tend to prevent the congestion of railway traffic and the lowering of prices by a general attempt to market all the grain grown on the prairies within two or three months of harvest.

The reform should encourage the extension of the live stock industry all over Canada and promote the widespread adoption of mixed farming over wide areas where ruinous wheat cropping is now practiced. In addition there is the Government's intention, blocked by Liberal Senators last year, to appropriate large sums of money for the construction of good highways in all the provinces. Certainly the Borden Ministry is showing marked initiative on behalf of the farming community, but the consumer also will benefit from the great increase in the production of foodstuffs that should result.—Toronto News.

And now President-elect Wilson declares against the customary $90,000 inauguration ball at Washington. And not only that, but it is intimated that he will walk into the capital city in the good old modest way of days agone. Of course "pea soup" is a funny thing to call a man. It is neither descriptive nor poetical, but we have heard men called far worse things than that, without serious consequences.—Montreal Herald.

The phrase is mild compared with that of the Toronto Globe, which called the Minister of Public Works a "painted lath." And the Minister never replied. He considered from whence the appellation came.

It has just been disclosed that a Richmond, Virginia, editor who died some time ago, was short in his accounts $681,899, all of which he had lost in Wall Street. It is real kind of The Herald to admit that Col. Sam "got value for his money." Had the Laurier Government done so financial conditions might have been made easier for the present Cabinet Ministers.

Man's Body On Street For Hour

MONTREAL, Jan. 21.—The spectacle of a man's body lying out on the sidewalk on St. Peter street for an hour and ten minutes before it was removed by the morgue authorities was witnessed yesterday afternoon by thousands of people and at one time a band of men threatened to take upon themselves the care of the remains as a protest against the carelessness of the authorities. The body was that of George Grigley, aged fifty, Overdale avenue, who dropped dead. An ambulance was called, but when it was found that the man was dead those in charge of it refused to take the body. The morgue was at once notified, but was unable to send a sleigh for the remains for over an hour. An enormous crowd collected and the policemen who undertook to guard the body finally removed it to a building to prevent sympathizers taking charge of it.

Riot in Legislature

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 21.—A riot broke out in the House of Representatives of the Wyoming Legislature yesterday when Speaker Pratt and Speaker Protem Wood both claimed the right to preside. The scene of violence lasted fully three-quarters of an hour and included two separate encounters between Pratt and Wood.

The situation was ended when headed leaders of either faction announced an agreement to let the question of authority rest until afternoon. With Wood sitting in the Speaker's chair and Pratt wielding the gavel the show of authority seemed about equal.

Upon convening at two o'clock the House was called to order by Speaker Pratt. A motion was at once carried to adjourn until tomorrow. This leaves the confirmation of Pratt's committees still unsettled.

Alcohol as Liquid Fuel

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—A London cable to The Tribune says: Alcohol is to solve the fuel problem, said Professor Lewes, lecturing on "liquid fuel," at the Royal Society of Arts last night. There was only one way, he averred, to regenerate the sun's energy to make it available for power, and that was alcohol.

In vegetation, he remarked, we could find energy absorbed by a plant from the sun. That energy could never be regenerated as coal or oil, but it could be as alcohol. At present, however, this was practically out of the question.

Boy of 13 Bluffs Burglar

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Eddie McCarthy, aged 13, and small for his years, held a burglar at the point of a rusty, unloaded revolver in the dining room of his home at 455 East 116th street until neighbors, attracted by the screams of Eddie's two small brothers, hurried into the room and pinned the man to the floor while Eddie ran for a policeman.

At the Morrisania station the prisoner said that he was John Callahan, 43 years old, of Bridgeport, Conn.

A bundle containing clothing and furs valued at $100 was found on the dining-room table.

Stomach Always Baulked, Had Constant Indigestion

Smell of Cooking Made Him Sick—Bilious Two Days a Week.

Cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Mr. Clemmons' experience is not unusual. Nowadays poor stomachs are more the rule than the exception. But the proper treatment is sure to make a quick cure. You can always depend on Dr. Hamilton's Pills, they reach the trouble at once, go right to business, work while you sleep and have you feeling better if not cured next morning.

"My food seemed to decompose in my stomach," writes Mr. Ralph Clemmons, of Newbridge P. O. "I had a stomach that failed in some way to perform its work. Digestion seemed more or less arrested and I grew thin, yellow, nervous. The stomach became distended, and impeded apparently the action of the heart, for often at night it would do great stunts. At times I would vomit a mucous mass, and at these times my head ached most terribly. A friend who had been cured of a similar condition, advised me to take Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly, which I did. The result in my case was simply marvellous. Dr. Hamilton's Pills removed the cause, strengthened the stomach, excited the liver to normal action, the kidneys were released of excessive work. Health soon grew within me. I can now eat, sleep and live like a live man."

Be advised—use Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they are sure to do you good. 25c. per box, five for $1.00, at all druggists and storekeepers or by mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

These were headline contrasts today coincident with an official forecast of "much colder" here. With the mercury at near 70 yesterday it could be much colder without altogether upsetting the phenomenal mildness of the past few days, but early this forenoon there was hardly any sign of an immediate freezeup.

CALENDAR FOR 1913

Bringing visions of comfortable and luxurious travel through a territory unrivalled for scenic beauty the calendar of the Intercolonial Railway just received with the compliments of the Traffic Dept., is warmly appreciated as a happy reminder of past enjoyments and an inspiration for future travel.

The calendar is as usual very handsome and is printed in excellent taste. On a hand tooled background of maple leaves is an oval centre piece printed in quadra color showing the Ocean Limited speeding thro' a scene where ocean and land with a setting of fleecy clouds combine to form a very handsome picture. Over this is the emblamatic moosehead with the words 'The Fast Line—The People's Railway' in pale yellow. Set in the four corners are the reproductions of the four I. U. R. booklets descriptive of Quebec and the Maritime Provinces. The lettering is done in white with gold outline while the tab is chocolate brown with white figures showing prominently the statuary holidays being marked by squares of shaded white and gold. On each side of the tab in white lettering are some cheerful facts concerning the splendid thro' trains the Ocean Limited and the Maritime Express.

The design of the calendar is greatly enhanced by a surprinting of gold on a background of maple leaves. As a reminder of the Intercolonial and its fine train service it is excellent. As something both ornamental and useful for the office use it is much to be desired. It.

Why Have "Nerves?"

This is the reason why women have "nerves." When thoughts begin to grow cloudy and uncertain, impulses lag and the warnings of pain and distress are sent like flying messages throughout limbs and frame, straightway, nine times in ten, a woman will lay the cause of the trouble to some defect at the point where she first felt it. Is it a headache, a backache, a sensation of irritability or twitching and uncontrollable nervousness, something must be wrong with the head or back, a woman naturally says, but all the time the real trouble very often centers in the womanly organs. In nine cases out of ten the seat of the difficulty is here, and a woman should take rational treatment for its cure. The local disorder and inflammation of the delicate special organs of the sex should be treated steadily and systematically.

Dr. Pierce, during a long period of practice, found that a prescription made from medicinal extracts of native roots, without the use of alcohol, relieved over 90 per cent. of such cases. After using this remedy for many years in his private practice he put it up in form of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, that would make it easily procurable, and it can be had at any store where medicines are handled.

Mrs. Lila B. Hawkins, of Zeus, Va., writes: "I had been failing in health for two years—most of the time was not able to attend to my household duties. Female weakness was my trouble and I was getting very bad but, thanks to Doctor Pierce's medicines, I am well and strong again. I took only three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' and used the 'Lotion Tablets.' I have nothing but praise for Doctor Pierce's wonderful medicines."

Take a Lesson From the Hotel Man

The best lighted room in a hotel is the lobby, not only because it is a general meeting place for the guests, but because it is the first room they enter on their arrival and the one from which they get their initial impression of the "house."

For the same reason, care should be taken in lighting the front hall of your home; it is there that your guests are received. Electric light and Holophane Reflectors will add much to the visitor's impression of your home—the electric light giving the warm glow of welcome and the Holophane Reflectors making this light most economical.

In many homes the hall is practically a part of the living room, a place that, above all else, should be bright and cheerful. And it is here that Holophane Reflectors can be used with especially good effect.

The telephone, usually, is in the hall and an electric light placed near the instrument will save many steps.

Why not let our representative talk to you about the economical lighting of your house?

HOCKEY.

COLLINGWOOD BADLY BEATEN.

TORONTO, Jan. 21.—The electric scoreboard at the Arena ran out of figures last night when the Toronto Canoe Club won a senior O.H.A. game from Collingwood. The score was 14 to 5 in favor of the Canoeists, and the game was about the poorest exhibition of senior hockey seen in the city this season, with the possible exception of that between last night's winners and the Simcoes, who have since dropped out of the running. The Red Wing team could have made half a dozen additional goals had they cared to try. The Collingwood team had not been on the ice for a week or more and were in very poor condition.

THE GAME IN PARIS.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—Another international hockey match took place, when the Oxford-Canadian Ice Hockey Club came over to Paris for a match organized by the Club des Patineus de Paris as one of the features of their Gala de Patinage held at the Palais de Glace. The members of the Canadian team were Messrs. Higgins (captain), Ceady, Hossie, Paterson, Siddall, Ewart and Curtis, while Mr. Pedley of Montreal played on the French side. The two teams were pretty evenly matched, and the game resulted in a tie of six points to six.

ST. MICHAEL'S WON FROM ST. ANDREW'S.

TORONTO, Jan. 21.—St. Michael's College did the unexpected when they beat St. Andrew's College 4 to 1 in a junior O.H.A. game at the Arena yesterday afternoon. The Presbyterian boys were looked upon as sure winners after their victory over Upper Canada College and the latter's triumph over Father Carr's boys. Neither team showed much speed except in the latter stages of the game. The result of this game means a three-cornered tie in this group.

KINGSTON BEAT TRENTON IN THE WATER.

KINGSTON, Jan. 21.—In what was practically a pool of water last night Kingston Frontenacs won their O.H.A. junior game from Trenton by 7 to 0. At half time the score was 4 to 0. Trenton used Pringle in goal in the second half without a certificate. Slush and water prevented team work. Frontenacs had the advantage of weight and kept the play around the Trenton goal most of the hour of play.

OWEN SOUND JUNIORS AGAIN.

OWEN SOUND, Jan. 21.—The Owen Sound junior O.H.A. team defeated the Chesley team last night in a one-sided game by 12 to 4. The ice was in fair condition and the game was fast enough to be exciting. The winning of this game practically clinches the district for Owen Sound, though they have one game to play with Wiarton, whom they defeated in Wiarton a fortnight ago by a one-sided score.

BERLIN INTERMEDIATES WON.

BERLIN, Jan. 21.—An important game in the intermediate O.H.A. series here last evening ties up the clubs that are struggling for supremacy, viz., Berlin and Elmira, in group No. 5. Berlin won by 8 to 5, but the figures do not give a fair indication of the play. At half-time the score was 8 to 1 in favor of Berlin, but Elmira came strong in the second period and had the locals fooled off the map.

Six-man hockey has been an utter failure in Toronto. The fans who have been clamoring for seven men and real hockey will have their wishes gratified in a few days. The N.H.A. has seen its mistake and will revert to seven-man teams as demanded by the people who "pay the fiddler."

Queen's University Intercollegiate team may be without the services of Box, their clever centre man, for the next few games. In the game against McGill last Friday night he broke his thumb.

L. M'CARTY WANTS $30,000

CALGARY, Alta., Jan. 21.—To meet Tommy Burns in Paris, France, for the heavyweight championship of the world, Luther McCarty demands the modest sum of $30,000. His chances of getting this from the men who have been trying to arrange the match are not promising, to say the least.

Richard Klegin, the French promoter, has been on the trail of McCarty but so far has only caught him by wire. Klegin left Calgary after waiting several days for a reply to his messages, and at Spokane had this wire from Billy McCarney, McCarty's manager: "McCarty will meet Burns in Paris, France, first week in June for a purse of $30,000, championship belt now held by McCarty to winner."

To this Klegin sent a reply as follows: "French syndicate will give McCarty $30,000 provided he first defeats Jess Willard, Jack Johnson and Bombadier Wells. Be reasonable and we can arrange match."

And this is where the matter stands at present.

How to Cure Horse Distemper

An Experienced Horseman Solemnly Declares Nothing Is So Satisfactory as Nerviline.

Says Nerviline Is Fine Liniment.

"After fifty years' experience in raising horses I can safely testify that no remedy gives such good results for an all-round stable liniment as Nerviline." Thus opens the very earnest letter of J. J. Evanston, who lives near Wellington. "I had a very valuable horse that took distemper a month ago, and was afraid I was going to lose him. His throat swelled and hard lumps developed. His nostrils ran and he had a terrible cough. I tried different remedies, but was unable to relieve my horse of his pain and suffering till I started to use Nerviline. I mixed a bottle of Nerviline and sweet oil and rubbed the mixture on the throat and chest three times a day, and you would scarcely believe the way that horse picked up. Nerviline cured him. I also have used Nerviline for colic in horses and cows, and earnestly recommend it to every man that is raising stock."

For strains, sprains, swellings, colic, distemper, coughs, and colds, no liniment will prove so efficacious in the stable as "Nerviline"—it's good for man or beast, for internal or external use. Wherever there is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse substitutes. Large size bottles, 50c.; trial size, 25c., at all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

The Partition of Turkey.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The Ambassadorial conference will begin to-day the discussion of limits for the future Albania. The Servian memorandum to the ambassadors lays claim to Scutari and Ipek for Montenegro, and Prisrend and Prilep for Servia. Austria is expected to offer strong opposition to these claims.

Railways Are Begging.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 22.—The "hard coal roads" affected by the Supreme Court's recent decision have petitioned for a modification of the decree to permit them to continue the so-called 65 per cent. contracts with coal companies which have leased coal lands of them.

The court held the contracts were in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Traveler's Downfall.

BRANDON, Man., Jan. 22.—Arthur Tuckerman, 25 years of age, a well-connected motor supplies traveler from Montreal, was sentenced here yesterday to six months' imprisonment on four charges of forgery, a check for $15 being involved in each case. He pleaded guilty and made restitution.

Jamaica's New Governor.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—C.I. Sir Wm. Henry Manning has been appointed governor of Jamaica, to replace Sir Sydney Olivier, who has held that office since 1907.

Col. Manning has been governor and commander-in-chief of the Nyasa land protectorate since 1910.

No Operation on the Governor.

Ex-Governor Hauser of Montana was a very eccentric man and exceedingly obstinate. One day he was taken ill and sent for a noted surgeon. The doctor thumped him all over and then announced in triumphant tones that the governor would have to be tapped.

"What's that?" demanded the patient.

"Oh, not much. I expect I will not have to cut into you but a few inches."

"A few—what?" roared the governor. "I'd like to see you try it on me!"

"But you will die."

"Then I'll die whole."

The doctor went away, shaking his head, but next day, after another thumping, announced regretfully that an operation would not be necessary.

"I thought so," remarked the governor dryly.—Los Angeles Times.

A Difference of Opinion.

When Bigead wrote poems they gave him delight.
He thought them the greatest on earth
And remarks of his own thereupon would indite
Concerning their merit and worth.
"I consider this equal to any one's wit,"
He indorsed with humor sardonic,
And the editor cynically scribbled on it:
"I don't. Yours, Ed. of Comic."

THIRD LINE NOTES.

Miss Laura Phelps was the hostess last Friday evening at an "at home" given to the two adult Bible classes of our Sunday school. The early part of the evening was spent in games, including contests, the prizes of which were awarded to Mr. Morley Phillips and Mr F. Wallbridge. After partaking of a dainty luncheon everyone retired to the drawing-room, where the most pleasing feature of the evening transpired. Our pastor, Rev. S. A. Kemp, in his very able manner, gave a brief account as to the aims of Sunday school work, after which Miss Gladys Benmore and Miss Evelyn Cooley presided at the organ. We were then favored with an anthem given by our Bethany quartette. At an early hour (for it was early in the morning), everyone, feeling his inability to express his appreciation of the evening's entertainment, bade his hostess "au revoir."

Mr. Earl McCutcheon of Albert College staff, occupied the pulpit here on Sunday last.

Miss Graham of Avondale has been holidaying at the home of her sister, Mrs. Nelson Schryver.

MEAT MAY BE FREE.

Democratic Tariff Program Indicates Sweeping Cut.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—"Free Meat," proposed by the House Democrats at the last session, but blocked by a Presidential veto, was indicated as part of the extra session of Congress tariff revision program, at the hearing before the House committee on ways and means yesterday.

Members of the committee emphasized the majority sentiment in favor of free meats and a strong trend towards free cattle, in accord with the general policy of the Democrats last year to transfer the necessities of life to the free list, including free sugar and free lumber.

Protests against putting cattle and meats on the free list was voiced by H. S. Cowan of Fort Worth, Texas, as spokesman for the cattle industry west of the Mississippi River. Mr. Cowan said that such a plan, if adopted, would mean a flood of cheaper meats from the South American ranges, and pictured a ruin of the industry in Texas. He urged the committee to maintain a fair preferential in the American markets, and said that any importations of foreign cattle would come from Mexico, Canada and the Argentine.

PORT NELSON NOT CHOSEN.

Hudson Bay Terminus Has Not Yet Been Selected.

OTTAWA, Jan. 22.—Notwithstanding numerous published statements to the effect that Hon. Frank Cochrane had decided upon Port Nelson as the terminus of the Hudson Bay Railway, it was definitely given out at the Department of Railways and Canals yesterday that no decision in the matter has yet been reached.

Nothing final will be decided upon until Mr. Hazen, the chief engineer of the Department, who has been in the north country since last July, investigating the respective merits of Port Nelson and Port Churchill and who is now on his return to Ottawa, places his report in the Minister of Railways' hands.

LEAPS FROM BRIDGE.

New Yorker "Proud To Die on Soil That Gives Equal Rights.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—A man sprinted along the footpath near the New York city terminus of the Manhattan Bridge yesterday, swerved suddenly, scaled the railing, and plunged downward. A moment later his body was flattened out on the sidewalk of a little park below, in sight of 2,000 striking garment workers.

Two letters, signed Solomon Bergman, were found in his clothing. "Hope, courage, belief are everything," read one. "I lost all, therefore I cannot live. I am proud to die on the soil which gives equal rights to all men."

Flight of Birds.

Some birds have a long range of flight, such as the martingale, wild goose and several members of the vulture tribe. In general birds are restricted to certain geographical areas, although the same fishing eagle that inhabits the shores of Scotland is seen in south Europe.

And sometimes a man who calls himself an art connoisseur is considered an artless bore by his acquaintances.

THREATENED WITH PARALYSIS

Peter E. Summers relates his experience: "I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, but received little benefit. I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the NEW METHOD TREATMENT and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and continue to do so.

BANK ACT DEBATED

Members Instill Interest Into Financial Measure.

Hon. W. T. White Believes That Governmental Inspection Would Be Impracticable and Unsatisfactory—Is Also Opposed to Increase in Currency Without a Full Gold Reserve—Members Ask Royal Commission.

OTTAWA, Jan. 22.—Finance Minister White's bill, providing for the decennial revision of the Bank Act, was under heavy fire yesterday by Mr. Duncan Ross, the Liberal member for Middlesex.

Mr. White, in moving the second reading of his bill, eulogized the Bank Act as it now stands, and frankly indicated that it stood in little need of any amendment. He was unalterably opposed to the public inspection of banks, or to any increase in the money of the country by the issue of Dominion notes against a gold reserve of less than 100 per cent. He was followed by Mr. A. K. MacLean, the Liberal member for Halifax, who has assumed the role of financial critic for the Opposition, but who merely echoed what Mr. White had said, and was no less eulogistic of the chartered banks and the present Bank Act.

Messrs. Demers and Carvell, both Liberals, arraigned the Finance Minister's proposals. Mr. Carvell asked that a royal commission be appointed to investigate the whole question before the bill passed.

Mr. White said there was a considerable demand throughout the country, be admitted, for the public inspection of chartered banks. He was opposed to such public inspection as illusory and calculated to mislead the public and lull shareholders and depositors into a false sense of security. Moreover, the business of banking was the lending of money upon personal security. Trust companies, loan companies and the like make loans on real estate and buildings, but the banks loaned to a man upon his standing, character and reputation. The local manager might pass upon these, but an inspector who was a stranger in the locality would be incompetent to judge of them. For this reason the bill required the shareholders to elect auditors at their annual meeting who would report to them upon the condition of the bank and who would be independent of the board of directors.

The Minister denounced as impracticable, unfair and unsound the suggestion made by Duncan Ross, Liberal member for Middlesex, that the banks should be required to deposit with the Government five percentum of the deposits they received from the public, as a redemption fund for the protection of depositors in case of failure. To carry out this suggestion, Mr. White said, would require locking up five per cent. of the total deposits, or $50,000,000. The idea was vicious in principle, he said, because it required the strong, well-managed banks to become responsible for the losses of mismanaged and weak banks.

Turning to the question of Dominion notes and national currency, Mr. White said he did not believe in issuing Dominion notes against a gold reserve of 25 per cent. or 50 per cent. but only against a gold reserve of 100 per cent. The present one and two-dollar bills, he said, did not count. They would probably never be presented for redemption.

A. K. MacLean, Liberal member for Halifax, followed. He did not believe that the outside inspection of banks should be confined to auditors to be chosen by the shareholders. As a matter of fact, he said, shareholders can never be assembled together, and the general manager and one or two directors would attend to electing the auditor, as they did to everything else.

Mr. White's remedy against the bank mergers, Mr. MacLean deemed to be absurd, but personally he was not disposed to regard bank amalgamation as objectionable. The inspection of banks, he contended, should be made either by the Government or by the Canadian Bankers' Association. He did not see what possible good could come from the provision in the bill for bank merging or amalgamation. So far as he could ascertain, the provision was that the Minister's consent was required. Amalgamation was occurring in other countries. It was not necessarily a bad thing. It was always desirable that a weak bank should be absorbed by a stronger one. He trusted that when the bill went before the committee the Minister would give a full explanation of the proposal for a central gold reserve.

Mr. W. F. Maclean (South York) followed. He declared that the two preceding speeches had been most conservative. He was afflicted with the heresy of believing in a larger issue of Dominion notes. He believed in the public inspection of banks. "If you have a policeman on the street as security, public officials in the bank will also furnish a safeguard," he declared.

Sir Edmund Osler spoke briefly at the conclusion of the deliverance of the South York man. He pointed out that the banks had to look to Canada for their support. British investors did not like the double liability which devolved upon shareholders, and the English banks paid larger dividends. Sir Edmund stated that no Canadian bank was making 4 per cent. on its free money, but in response to questions by Mr. F. F. Pardee (West Lambton) and Mr. Maclean, added that the bank in which he was interested had paid 18 per cent. last year upon its capital.

through the double liability of the shareholders, and, "in my opinion," Mr. Duncan C. Ross (W. Middlesex) went on, "not a depositor will get one cent of the amount which he has placed with the bank." As a matter of fact, no less than six hundred families had been made destitute.

Major Sharpe (North Ontario) declared that the bill fell far short of what the public wanted, and was practically little improvement on the old bill. The Minister of Finance, he thought, had not had "his ear to the ground." He intimated that said ear had been given solely to the Bankers' Association, and that the bill represented the minimum of their demands. He believed changes much more radical than those proposed should be incorporated, and that in respect to the vital point of external inspection the bill was no improvement on the present law.

Mr. E. W. Nesbitt (North Oxford) moved the adjournment of the debate.

WOMEN SEE WHITNEY.

Delegates Ask Changes In Laws Regarding Their Sex.

TORONTO, Jan. 22.—A large and influential delegation of the women of the different local councils of Ontario waited upon the Government at the Parliament Buildings at noon yesterday. Supporting the Premier were Dr. Pyne, Dr. Reaume and Messrs. Hearst and Duff. Among the requests were one for a Provincial Housing Commission with women on it. Another that a law should be made constituting mothers equal guardians of their children with the fathers; that men in the jail should be given work to do by which they might earn money to be used for the support of their families; and that an examination for the mental and physical fitness of the contracting parties should be required before a marriage license should be issued.

Sir James said that he held the National Council of Women in the highest respect, and that he would always be glad to hear their requests and to give them careful consideration.

LABOR'S DEMANDS.

Union Leaders Present Suggestions For Legislation.

TORONTO, Jan. 22.—Twenty-one resolutions, suggesting changes to laws now in force, were presented to Sir James Whitney, by a deputation of representatives of organized labor, led by Allan Studholme, M.P.P., East Hamilton, on Tuesday. It was the Premier's annual reception of a small army of wage-earners, and the conference occupied one hour and a half. Most of the resolutions were passed at the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, held in Guelph a few months ago.

One of the most important steps that the Government was asked to take was suggested by James Simpson, who urged provincial control and operation of all telephone and telegraph systems in Ontario, under the local Government's jurisdiction.

Mr. Simpson also came out in favor of tax reform. He advocated a system of local option of taxation. Sir James Whitney made no comment on the resolution touching this question.

T. G. Mills of the Cobalt Miners' Union presented a resolution urging an eight-hour-day for miners and sanitary conditions for camps.

MAD AT SAM SHARPE.

Major's Remarks In House Rouse Ire of U. S. Officers.

MONTREAL, Jan. 22.—(Can. Press.)—A Washington despatch to the Gazette says: Great indignation has been created in Washington by the speech of Major Sam Sharpe, in the House of Commons at Ottawa, to the effect that "few native Americans sign for the navy" and that those who are "desperate, no good socially, morally or otherwise," and finally, that the navy becomes a home "for destitutes and moral degenerates, deserters from foreign ships."

The speech of Major Sharpe was the topic of conversation in the Army and Navy Club, where the members were vigorous in characterizing Major Sharpe as uninformed or else malicious.

Sturdy Protestant Pardoned.

MADRID, Jan. 22.—The Government has cancelled the punishment inflicted on a Protestant soldier for refusing to kneel during a mass at Ferrol, and will shortly publish a regulation drawn up in such manner that repetition of the incident will be impossible in future. The soldier had been condemned by the highest military court to six months' imprisonment.

Free Traders Is Leader.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Jan. 22.—Joseph Cook, a pronounced free trader, has been elected leader of the Liberal party to succeed Alfred Deakin, resigned.

The appointment was made at a special conference of the Opposition, when it was stipulated that the present Commonwealth tariff should be maintained.

Entered Yards Too Fast.

PRESCOTT, Jan. 22.—Finding that the westbound train entered the yards too fast and that Brakeman Roberts, Montreal, on the eastbound did not properly protect the train, the jury empanelled by Coroner C. F. McPherson yesterday concluded their investigation into the wreck on Jan. 12th, when Fireman Archibald McGillivray and Engineer Milne, both of Brockville, were killed.

Fire Sweeps Frontier Town.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN, Jan. 22.—Fire, which started early yesterday morning, did damage to the extent of $125,000 before it was under control. The fire was discovered in the basement of the Queen's Hotel, and at one time looked as though it would wipe out the whole town, but was confined to the business section.

REPLY IS DESPATCHED

Pres. Taft Has Approved U. S. Note on Panama Tolls

Contents of United States' Answer to Sir Edward Grey's Protest Will Probably Be Published In a Week—It Is Believed to Contain Refusal to Change Schedule—Senator Denounces Country's Policy.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—President Taft has approved the note prepared at the State Department in reply to the communication from Sir Edward Grey, the British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, protesting against the exemption of American coastwise shipping from the payment of tolls in the Panama Canal.

As a matter of official courtesy information is withheld as to the exact status of the note until it has been received by the British Government in London through the American embassy there.

It is believed that the American note was despatched by mail immediately upon its approval by the President and that it should be in London within a week. The British Government, however, will not be obliged to wait that length of time to become acquainted with its contents, as the amenities of diplomacy require that simultaneously with the mailing of a despatch of this character a copy be supplied to the resident ambassador or Minister of the power to whom it is addressed. Ambassador Bryce, it is pointed out, need not hesitate to make free use of the cable to supply the British Foreign Office with at least an outline of the American note.

Following precedents established in the publication of the Grey note, it has been arranged that Secretary Knox's reply shall be given for publication simultaneously in Washington and in London. It is believed here that after attempting to eliminate a number of propositions contained in the British note regarded as not germane to the real issue, Mr. Knox has devoted himself principally to the effort to show that "all nations" in the Hay-Pauncefote treaty does not necessarily include the United States, and that it is entirely competent for this Government to treat its own shipping differently from that of other maritime nations so far as the canal is concerned.

Denounces Tactics.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—"Shall we inform the world that the United States is false to the agreements, false to its pledged word? Shall we have it made known the world over that you must lookout for the United States or it will get the advantage of you? That it is astute, cunning, slippery?"

With this vigorous denunciation of the attitude of this country in the Panama Canal controversy with Great Britain, Senator Elihu Root closed a two-hour speech in the Senate yesterday with an appeal for the submission of the Panama question to arbitration, or to the repeal of that section of the canal law that would give free passage to American coastwise ships.

Speaking from the experience of a member of President Roosevelt's Cabinet, when the Panama Canal zone was purchased, and when over 25 arbitration treaties were made with foreign nations, Senator Root delivered the most vigorous attack on the attitude of the United States that has been heard since the Panama controversy with Great Britain arose.

It became known following the Senator's address than Senator Brandegee, chairman of the inter-oceanic canals committee, will call a meeting within a few days to take up Senator Root's amendment for the repeal of the free toll provision. Led by Senators Root and Brandegee, both of whom opposed the original passage of this provision, a determined effort will be made at this session of Congress to change the law before it goes into effect at the canal, so that the cause of dispute with Great Britain will be removed.

TO CELEBRATE NUPTIALS.

Helen Gould Will Feed Homeless Men of New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22—(Can. Press.)—While being showered with gifts herself and busy with preparations for her wedding, Miss Helen Gould has made the army of homeless men in New York happy with the announcement that they will receive a treat to-morrow at her expense. To-morrow is the day of her marriage to Finley J. Shepard of St. Louis, at Lyndhurst, her country home, near Tarrytown.

The feast for the poor will be served by relay to a thousand men in the basement of the Bowery Mission, in whose work Miss Gould has long been interested. A musical entertainment will be provided also.

Tunisian's Rough Trip.

HALIFAX, N.S., Jan. 22.—The Allan liner Tunisian arrived in the harbor yesterday morning over three days late from Liverpool.

Like all the recent arrivals she reports hurricanes and heavy seas on the Atlantic. So fierce were the gales in mid-ocean that at times she could only steam five knots an hour. Last Tuesday the run was but 96 miles.

Owing to the heavy seas the saloon portholes on the port side were smashed.

Canadian Money In Jamaica.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—In order to cope with the new demands which have been created by the opening of the Panama Canal, the Colonial Secretary, the Rt. Hon. Lewis Harcourt, stated in the House of Commons last night that the Government of Jamaica were negotiating with a Canadian syndicate for the provision of better facilities for coaling docking, and a repairing site has been secured abutting Kingston harbor.

SHIPBUILDERS ASK AID

Big Deputation Waits on Premier Borden With Demands.

Unless Something Is Done to Help Canadian Industry It Will Be Ruined by Foreign Competition, Declare Delegates—Prime Minister Says Government May Well Have All Government Ships Built Here.

OTTAWA, Jan. 22.—Unless the Dominion Government takes immediate and effective measures for the protection and encouragement of the shipbuilding industry of the Dominion, by according it greater protection from the competition of British, United States and foreign competition, it will quickly go out of existence.

This in brief was the substance of a somewhat lengthy and comprehensive memorial placed before Premier Borden yesterday afternoon by a big deputation representing shipbuilding firms from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The protection and preserving of the industry by granting a protection of 20 per cent. in the way of tariff legislation, or by subsidy, was strongly urged by the deputation. Under existing conditions of competition with Great Britain this step they considered as absolutely necessary to prevent the quick disappearance of Canadian shipbuilding.

It was pointed out that Canadian firms are compelled to pay duty on much of the material for building purposes, as well as upon a great deal of equipment, and with this handicap had to compete with the great shipbuilding organizations of Britain, where wages and the cost of every kind of material were more than 20 per cent. cheaper.

Premier Borden listened with great interest to the points made by the various spokesmen of the deputation, and in his reply he promised to give the most earnest consideration to their request. He suggested that the Government might well adopt a policy of having all Government vessels built in Canada, even should the cost be greater than it would be if the orders were placed in Britain.

The deputation was introduced by Major Currie of Simcoe and consisted of the following gentlemen: Captain McDougall and Sandford Lindsay, president and secretary respectively of the Collingwood Shipbuilding Co.; John B. Miller, president of the Polson Co., Toronto; Black and Cowie, representing the Pickford & Black Co. of Halifax; H. Bullen of the Esquimault Marine & Dry Dock Co.; G. D. Davie of Levis, S. Dymena and W. J. Fair of the Kingston Dry Dock & Shipbuilding Co.

WANT NOTE EXPLAINED.

Turkish Authorities Refer to "Europe's Broken Faith."

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Turkey, before presenting her reply to the joint note of the powers, wishes to obtain explanations concerning certain passages in the note. Instructions to this effect have been sent to the Turkish ambassadors accredited to the powers. Rechad Pasha, head of the Turkish peace plenipotentiaries, and Tewfik Pasha, ambassador to Great Britain, have been particularly enjoined to seek elucidation, as they are in London, where the note was prepared.

Explanations are to be requested on the following points: The joint note says that in case of the prolongation of the war, the fate of Constantinople might be put in question. Does the note mean that the allies might be allowed to attack, conquer and remain in Constantinople, or does it mean that the powers themselves might control the Government in the Ottoman capital?

The note speaks of the "moral, material and benevolent support of the powers." What must Turkey understand by that? How is this support to be extended—under what form; to what extent; what guarantee is there of fulfilment of this promise?

Similarly, what assurance do the powers offer for the settlement of the question of the Aegean Islands in such a manner as to exclude further menaces to the security of Turkey.

It is stated that the Turkish delegates, in endeavoring to obtain satisfactory answers to these questions, have made reference to what they describe as "Europe's broken faith," in failing to live up to the promise made four months ago, that the status quo would not be changed whatever the result of the war.

Letter of Condolence

To Bereaved Family of the Late Mr. Samuel McGuire

Dear Friends,—We the officers and members of Downey L. O. L. No. 425, now assembled, take this opportunity of extending to you our sympathy in the loss of a kind and loving father. We believe that he has to be with those that are near and very dear to him. Then why should you mourn?

You have lost a father. We have lost a brother. One who of late years was unable to meet with us in our lodge room as often as he would like, yet by that true stamp of manhood, and the brethren, both old and young, learned to honor and respect our late brother.

We have laid to rest one of our oldest members. One who for a number of years had been an honorary member, but he has gone; gone, we believe, to have his name written in that roll book above, and become a member of that great lodge where the ties of friendship are never broken.

Then it becomes your duty, as well as ours, to live the few remaining years, that we may be able to face death and say, "Oh, death where is thy sting.

FOR DELICATE CHILDREN

A Mother's Letter to Mothers.

Mrs. E. W. Cooper of Bloomfield, N. J., says: "My child, seven years old, had a bad cold and was weak and quite run down in health. She had been in this condition for about six weeks when I began giving her Vinol. It was a wonderful help to the child breaking up her cold quickly and breaking up her strength beside. I have also found Vinol a most excellent tonic for keeping up the children's strength during a siege of whooping cough."

Vinol is a wonderful combination of two world-famed tonics—the medicinal body building elements of cod liver oil and iron for the blood, therefore it is a perfectly safe medicine for children, because it is not a patent medicine, everything in it is printed on every package, so mothers may know what they are giving their little ones.

Therefore we ask every mother of a weak, sickly or ailing child in this vicinity to try Vinol on our guarantee. Red Cross Drug Store, J. S. McKeown, Belleville, Ont.

Held Their First Lodge Meeting

Shannonville, Loyal Orange Lodge, No. 242, Shannonville, held their first Royal Arch meeting of this year, January 20th, which proved to be a great success. The number present was 56 some of the visitors driving 15 miles in a pouring rain.

There were seven applications for advancement to the Arch Degree and six were present and received the same. They are as follows: T. Arthur Macfarlane, R. C. English, Russell Macfarlane, Crawford F. Mitchell and Frank McKenney.

Brothers T. Arthur Macfarlane and R. C. English are to be congratulated on the addresses given by them. Many other addresses were rendered by visitors and brethren. Mr. G. M. Smith of Benjamin L. O. L. 274, Belleville, spoke on behalf of the Sentinel and secured the amount of 21 new subscriptions and 2 renewals. Tea was served and the lodge closed at 3 a. m.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"LITTLE WOMEN."

A fair-sized but appreciative audience last evening at Griffin's opera house witnessed the dramatization of Louisa M. Alcott's famous novel, entitled "Little Women." A feature of the play, which carried with it a delightful vein of humor and pathos, was that no one character enjoyed a monopoly of success. Each and every one in the cast contributed their share in making the play a success, and the work of the performers was excellent and uniform throughout. Misses Jane Salisbury, Lela Dunnin, Edna Walther and Catherine Calhoun portrayed the four sisters of the March family and played their parts in a manner as to leave nothing undesired. The male members of the cast also acted true to life. The play was presented in four acts, with romantic scenic effects, in keeping with the period that unfolded the plot. All who witnessed the play thoroughly enjoyed the same. The musical program rendered between acts was of an especial nature and much appreciated.

TO-NIGHT.

At 8.15 tonight the curtain will rise upon "The Lost Paradise," which has been in rehearsal since Christmas, and a clever aggregation of Belleville's talented amateur players will interpret this remarkable comedy-drama. Mr. Mather, who has been handling the duplicate tickets for the hospital, has been besieged with orders for more tickets, and Doyle's drug store has been kept busy arranging these tickets for reserved seats. That this play will be an artistic success is vouched for by Miss Osborne and Mr. Beers, who have been directing the piece. Great attention has been paid to detail and the natural manner in which the action of the play is accomplished compares favorably with that of professional companies one sees. Owing to unavoidable circumstances a member of the cast was obliged to leave Belleville and it was necessary almost at the last minute to supply his place. Mr. Wm. Connolly will play the part of Schwarz, the strike leader, in a scene which is a feature of the second act. The hospital board expects to realize a large sum by this performance, and the people of the town are certain to respond, because the proceeds are to go to so worthy an object and because the play in itself is worth double the price of admission. Come tonight and then you can tell your friends your opinion, (which is sure to be good.) Thus you will accomplish two purposes: the encouragement of local talent which is doing so much hard work, and the helping of Belleville hospital, than which there is no more worthy institution. Admission 25c, 50c, 75c, and $1.00.

ENGLISH GRAND OPERA FOR BELLEVILLE.

Do the Patrons of the Griffin's Opera House Want It?

Are there enough music-loving people who appreciate high-class music to justify the management of the Griffin opera house in bringing here the Sheehan English Opera Co. on Friday, February 7th, in "The Bohemian Girl"? That's the question.

The Sheehan English Opera Co. is the largest and most expensive English opera company on tour at the present day. Besides having the largest and most brilliant array of opera stars ever assembled under one banner, Mr. Sheehan has secured the services of Mrs. Emily Grey, famous harpist, direct from Covent Garden, London, Eng., and Miss Sibley Remus, violinist virtuoso Paris Opera Comique, and a special grand opera orchestra under the direction of Wm. Glover, England's foremost director.

It costs $1,200 to bring this attraction to Belleville, and the tickets must be sold and subscribed for at least two weeks in advance of the show, if this great opera company is booked for the Griffin opera house. What's the use of having an opera house, yet never having English opera?

The subscription list and seat reservation will be placed on sale Friday and Saturday, January 24th and 25th. Do not order tickets unless you expect to pay for them at least two days ahead of the show.

The prices are unusually low.

It's up to you. If you want English grand opera, order your seats Friday and Saturday at Doyle's, if there is to be an English opera company in Belleville this season.

"THE GAMBLERS."

This most recent great play by Charles Klein has to do with present day problems. A technical point in the banking laws seems likely to send a technically innocent man to jail, and his son cheats at cards to save his father and open the way for his own conviction. Then there is the wife of the Federal investigator, who has at one time loved the man her husband is investigating. When the man the authorities are after robs the home of the investigator, and incidentally that of the woman he formerly cared for, and is discovered by the husband, the play reaches a climax that is not straightened out until the last act.

"The Gamblers" is a gripping Wall Street drama with a punch. At Griffin's opera house Tuesday evening, Jan. 28.

GUNMEN IN RIOTS.

New York Gangsters Assist Striking Garment Workers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—A few thousand girls went to work in the dress and shirtwaist factories yesterday, but in other branches of the garment makers' trade the strike developed more violence than the police have had to contend with on any other day since the trouble began.

The strike-breakers were attacked as they came out of the subway stations and the police say that east side gangsters played an important part in these battles. More of the rioting occurred in the area bounded by Fourth and Fifth avenues and Bowery, Bleecker and Fourteenth streets. Men and women were beaten and trampled and policemen engaged in rough-and-tumble fights all over the streets. More than thirty arrests were made.

The Supreme Court was asked yesterday afternoon to grant a sweeping injunction against the employes of manufacturers belonging to the New York Clothing Trade Association. The injunction, if granted, would restrain the strikers from all manner of interference with employes who remained at work.

Lucky For Him That They Met.

"I'm sorry that we ever met," I heard ma tellin' pa last night,
And pa said he was sadder yet. I guess he said it just for spite.
Then ma she scolded pa some more and after that commenced to cry
And threw her new hat on the floor and said she wished that she could die.

Pa said that he was just a slave and hadn't any right to live.
The more he earned the more he gave, the more ma wanted him to give.
"I never get a chance to play. I'm just a drudge, that's what I am,"
Pa said, and then he went away and gave the door an awful slam.

When I was gettin' into bed and ma bent down to hear my prayers
She cried some more and turned her head and said her life was full of cares.
I'm sorry for them both, and yet I'm glad they can't be free agen,
Because if they had never met, why, I would be a norphun then.

English Literature In Bulgaria.

Bulgaria is the most literary of the Balkan states, and the works of English writers have a considerable vogue there, both in the original and in translations.

The Turk's Dinner.

Rarely indeed is a wealthy Turk seen at his wife's dinner table. He usually dines in a part of the house remote from that occupied by his connubial partner or partners, and his companions are generally his elder sons and perhaps some male friends.

Baby Superstitions.

Welsh mothers put a pair of tongs or a knife in the cradle to insure the safety of their children. The knife is also used for the same purpose in some parts of England.

Red Hair.

History shows that no great genius ever had red hair. Alone among the poets of the world was Swinburne, whose hair was distinctly reddish, and among the great reformers only John Bunyan's hair was really red. The simon pure carroty head, however, appears nowhere linked to world fame.

Mica.

To clean mica in stoves take it out and thoroughly wash it with vinegar slightly diluted. If the black does not come off readily let it soak in the vinegar a little while.

Saves the Books.

Insects will never attack books that are dusted once a year with powdered alum and white pepper. Three parts of alum should be used to one of pepper.

Wooden Spoons In Russia.

The peasant class in Russia, which forms 77 per cent of the total population, still uses the wooden spoon. The people of this class cannot afford steel knives and forks and never have plated silverware. The middle classes use steel and plated ware, and the wealthy classes usually have sterling.

Snob.

In some English college lists those who were not of noble birth were entered as s. nob.—sine nobilitate. Thackeray grafted the word snob on the English language.

MARKET REPORTS

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Corn advanced a cent and led the grain markets upward today. Provisions declined 2½c. Wheat opened higher because Liverpool failed to reflect the local weakness of yesterday. A decline ensued on flatness in the spot market, and then a recovery on reports of export business. Then there was another slump when it was stated that the latter traffic was in old Manitoba. In the end a report from New York that 40 loads had been sold abroad, and the pronounced strength of corn caused another upturn. The market had hardly started downward again when the close of the trading day came. Business was active in the last hour.

The Liverpool market closed unchanged to ⅛d lower on wheat, and ½d higher on corn.

THE SCRUBWOMAN

BY MARY HASTINGS

The girl gave her a sympathetic smile, but she was too young for the tragedy of her mother's battered form, her sunken mouth, her wheezy chest, and work-inflamed hands to pierce her understanding. But she saw and was grateful, that in the decent black of Mrs. Robinson's dress, with her grey hair puffed and curled over the worn temples, a certain fineness and dignity of feature was coming to her mother's aid through all the ravages of time.

The jangling of the bell brought Rose to the door and in a moment she returned, ushering in her caller. With the infallible instinct of embarrassed yougn me for discomfort he chose the piano stool while Rose and her mother sat opposite upon the narrow sofa and the three maintained a formal and high keyed conversation, acutely conscious of themselves, of the situation, and of the bobbing heads of Rose's brothers and sisters surreptitiously hovering near the door. At her mother's instigation Rose played her latest piece, with cold fingers that slipped off the right keys on to the wrong ones, and sang very falteringly a popular song about June and moon and spoon. Then a grimy finger was seen beckoning in the doorway.

"What say?" demanded the scrub woman. "Come in, Nellie."

But Nellie shot her message at them from the shelter of the hall. "Mrs. Nelson says she'd like you to come over and sit with her. She isn't feeling well."

A few moments later when the mother had made her excuses to the couple in the parlor, her voice was heard rising from some rear region of the flat in unguardedly loud reproof.

"I told you to come in and tell me that—not hang around in the hall," she rebuked. "I might have known you would act silly about it!"

Rose in her confusion turned scarlet, but Woods laughed—the first free laugh since his entrance.

"I guess your mother ain't forgotten how 'tis to be young," he chuckled, and the boyish merriment of his eyes drew Rose's shy, answering smile.

After that things went easier, so much easier that it was a surprising reminder of the flight of time when the mother entered with a supper tray. She had had her meal with the children, she explained, and they could have a tea party by themselves. Rose opened her eyes at that tray with its generous provision of tea and sandwiches and cold ham and cake.

Half an hour later the girl came flying out to the kitchen with the tray. She put it down and gripping her mother by the arm, led her out to the back entry, shut the door and put her lips to her good ear.

"Oh ma!" she said, in a tone of calamity. "He saw my certificate."

"Hey? What you say?"

"My certificate—my marriage lines. We forgot to take it down." She gave a little gulping laugh.

The mother put a steadying hand on hers, with a calm of manner that refused to recognize misfortune.

"What'd he say?" she asked quietly.

"Why, nothing for a minute. I looked up and saw him standing there staring at it. Then he read it out: 'Rose Margaret Ross—why that sounds like you,' he said, and I said, 'It is me.' Then he says, 'You must have been pretty young,' and I says, 'I was.'"

"An' didn't you tell him how it happened?"

The girl shook her head. "I could not hardly get a word out," she owned miserably.

"An' didn't he say nothing else?"

"He said, 'Why don't you use your own name?' and I said, 'It ain't my name—I got a divorce?' But, oh, ma!" cried the girl, passionately, "maybe 'twould have been better if I'd kept that name and told the folks where I worked that I'd been married, and then I'd never a had to explain like this and feel so—so——"

"No it wouldn't of," denied the scrub woman sharply. "What chance would you have had, Rose, starting in to work at seventeen with another man's name tacked to ye and the story of the divorce hanging over ye? I wanted you free. Once a nice fellow got to know you, you could explain about that marriage and he'd understand. But if he'd heard tales about it all before, it might keep him from ever knowing you. The world's full of nice girls that never got into such trouble, and you needed all the chance I could give you. Now you listen to me. Go back in that parlor like as if nothing had happened and tell him all about it. Hold up your head and go on talking, and don't mind if he's a little queer and offish at first—of course it's a surprise to a man to find his girl's been there before. But there! You've really had less experience of life than most girls your age, and he ain't known you this had to learn about that marriage some time, and I don't know as he could have learned it a better way than seeing your certificate framed parlor... .. ..Go back and hold your head up."

Rose held her head up as far as the parlor door, but it dropped in sombre fascination before the framed card. She took a quick step toward him.

"Don't look at that," she begged. "I wish you'd forget all about it."

"I wish I could," he said, turning his grave, puzzled look on her.

"I have," she insisted. "It's just like the lines of some stranger hanging there."

"I wish you would tell me about it."

"There ain't much to tell," she hesitated, flushing painfully. "I was just a silly kid—sixteen—with my head turned by having a fellow look at me who was lots older. And I went on an excursion to St. Joe and let him coax me into marrying him. I don't know what possessed me, but I was such a kid I didn't know what I was doing. And in about three months my mother came and took me home."

"Wasn't he good to you?"

The girl's sensitive mouth twitched. "He drank," she said simply.

There was a pause in which the young fellow stared down at his hands, and the girl's look dwelt on him in involuntary entreaty. "I've never seen him since," she added. "He's just as dead to me as if I buried him, and deader, for there's nothing I cared to remember. I've just forgotten it all. It only seems like a bad dream to me now."

The smooth fairness of her face confirmed this, the dreaming tenderness of her eyes, the sweetness of her shy, unsurrendered womanhood. A bad dream was all it had been to her, troubling the bright shadows of her girlhood—the grim reality of it, the menance and the burden had been born by that older, sadder heart, those stronger shoulders of the mother.

The young man's face had grown red. A question, abashed but imperative, looked at her from his eyes and forced itself from his hesitant tongue.

"Didn't you—didn't you love him?"

"Oh, no, no!" she protested in breathless denial. "Why I didn't know what love means!" and then her blood rushed to meet his, as at some unguarded admission; and she sought diversion at the piano.

He laughed at that—a note of pure boyish relief and amusement, and the constraint and aloofnes melted from his manner. When she sang he stood behind her and let his left hand rest on her shoulder—a very stiff and detached little caress of which they were both embarrassedly aware, but the significance of whose persistence and acceptance set their hearts to beating tumultuously.

In the next room the scrubwoman had gone to bed. She needed all the sleep she could obtain, for she was going out to wash the next day as well as scrub for the next night.

Much as she needed it sleep would not come. Perhaps it was the piano beating out time in the next room that kept it at bay, or perhaps it was the thoughts whirling through her tired head.

She remembered the first time that her husband had come home drunk—what a poor, frightened little fool that girl wife of the old years had been! But she had soon grown harder, for the drunken spells had come closer and closer together till at last they overlapped in a hideous stream of shameful memories.

She remembered when her hearing began to go, and bronchitis and rheumatism to come, and she remembered the children and the bitter resignation with which she schooled herself to meet the death of two of them, saying they were better off so. But she had done her best for the five that were left her and now, Rose, her eldest appeared to be safe.

She remembered how she had struggled to pay for the girl's divorce; she had not obtained one for herself—it had been enough simply to take the children away from that father, but Rose was young with possibilities of a happy life before her. .. .. .. She would miss Rose's seven dollars a week when she was married. She wondered with an inrush of fear, how she would manage, then sternly reassured herself. She always had managed and she would manage—her very body was the bridge on which those children's feet were crossing to lives of decency and respect and simple pleasure.

The piano had ceased and a murmur of talk and soft laughter from the steps showed that the April night had cleared. The spring sweetness drifted in to her through the open window mingled with the happy tones of Roses's voice and the scrubwoman's anxious feature's relaxed.

"I guess he ain't held it against her," she thought. "I did the best way after all." Then a fancy came to her and she smiled—a strange smile of content and pathetic wistfulness. "Rose Woods—how pretty 'twill be!"—Copyright.

Premier Of B. C.'s Vigorous Support Of Borden Policy

VICTORIA, B. C., Jan. 22.—Vigorous support of Premier Borden's naval policy by Sir Richard McBride, was the feature of the debate on the address, in reply to the Speech from the Throne, in the Legislature yesterday.

The need of naval protection on Canada's Pacific Coast line, was particularly emphasized by the Premier of British Columbia.

It had been to him, he said, a matter of deep regret, that the question of the Canadian navy had assumed a political complexion and developed into a subject of partizan controversy. Mr. Borden's policy adequately expressed the staunch Imperial sentiment of all Canada.

Dealing with the question of ample protection for the Canadian Pacific Coast, Sir Richard said:

"Every day is pointing out to the world the rich variety of our resources and the magnitude of our potentialities as a great nation of the future, while across the sea, that wonderful people—the Japanese, and the Chinese as well—are intensely engaged in nation building. They cannot but note the conditions which obtain in this province. They cannot but be interested by the resources and potentialities of this land.

"They are not to be blamed if they take more than a healthy interest in this part of Canada, and if in an unguarded hour, the naval forces of these countries, or either of them, should cross the seas, and take possession of some of our desirable territory, we, in Canada, have ourselves to blame."

Sir Richard observed that only a week ago the readers of the public press had seen mentioned the enormous naval and military preparations which Japan was at present making. He was not a sensationalist, and not an alarmist, but he believed he voiced the sentiments of British Columbia on this important subject in saying that the necessity of preparation in adequate protection by land and sea for whatever the future might bring constituted the vital issue of the hour.

No Time Allowed For Lynching Bee

GULPORT, Miss., Jan. 22.—Within seven hours after he had shot and killed Chief of Police Charles Dickey to-day, Percy Newkirk, a negro, who had been trapped by the officer while in the act of robbing a store and indicted by the county grand jury, tried on a charge of murder, convicted and sentenced to be hanged one month from this date. Notwithstanding the quick justice, a large and excited crowd gathered in the streets near the jail after the trial was concluded, but later dispersed.

Chief Dickey was killed when he, with two other officers attempted to arrest Newkirk and another negro. Several citizens and officers later surrounded the building and captured Newkirk, who confessed to the shooting.

New Shipyard For Canada

MONTREAL, Jan. 22.—The great English shipbuilding firm of Swan, Hunter and Wigham Richardson are now considering entering the Canadian shipbuilding trade, according to the statement of Clarence I. DeSota, Canadian director of the firm, to-day.

For some time, said Mr. DeSota, in discussing the matter, this firm has been cosidering the matter, and it has now been definitely decided that if a Canadian navy is to be constructed in Canada the great Wallsend-on-Tyne firm will tender. Already, in fact, it is understood land has been purchased by the firm in Montreal, Quebec and Halifax with the object of providing for shipyards. All classes of ships would be built, including battleships and merchantmen.

Plan a Swiss Greenland

GENEVA, Jan. 22.—A novelty of the coming Alpine season will be sleighs drawn by Siberian dogs on the Jungfrau and the Aletsch glacier. They will give visitors the idea of the appearance of ice and snow in Greenland.

Six dogs are now being trained for the work.

Hundreds of Pilgrims Drowned

SUAKIM, Egypt, Jan. 22.—Three hundred and fifty Mohammedan pilgrims from India to Mecca were drowned to-day by a flood which overwhelmed the entire caravan at its encampment midway between the sacred city of Medina. Arabia, and the port of Yembo on the Red Sea.

A sudden avalanche, accompanied by great torrents of water, swept down the mountain in the neighborhood of the camp, carrying away in its path people, animals and tents.

Only fifty of the 400 pilgrims composing the caraven were saved and have since reached Yembo.

Changes Religion To Wed Duke

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 22.—Announcement was made today that Saturday, February 8, had been selected as the date of the wedding of Miss Eleanor Douglas Wise to the Duke de Richelieu. The ceremony will be performed by Cardinal Gibbons in the Cathedral and will be followed by a breakfast at the Stratford Hotel.

Miss Wise will be received into the Catholic church before that date. The engagement follows a romantic courtship in Paris. Miss Wise is by no means an heiress, but the Duke is wealthy.

Miss Wise said today: "After our marriage we shall go to Rome, where we shall have an audience with the Pope."

Although Miss Wise and her family are Protestants, her great uncle, the late Judge Bolivar Daniels, was a Catholic and a great friend of Cardinal Gibbons.

Many Suspects in New York Arson Trust Disappear

NEW YORK, Jan. 22—Many members of the "Arson Trust," alarmed by the confession of Izzy Stein, the chief mechanic, have disappeared, and, it is believed, have gone to Canada or Mexico.

Stein has given to Assistant District Attorney Weller the names of all accomplices who acted in Manhattan and the Bronx, and evidence will be presented to the grand jury as rapidly as the cases can be prepared.

Henry C. Freeman, an insurance adjuster under indictment, was arraigned before Judge Rosalsky, who fixed bail at $3,500. Freeman did not have bondsmen and was committed to the Tombs.

It is believed Freeman knows all about the higher grade of incendiarism in this city and will confess.

The police declare that more than a score of men under suspicion as "fire bugs" have sold their furniture and possessions and decamped.

3 O'CLOCK DISPATCHES

FARMERS ADOPT RESOLUTION

Intelligencer Special.

CALGARY, Alta., Jan. 23.—The United Farmers of Alberta, in a resolution adopted just before adjournment, declared themselves in favor of universal peace and against the navy policies of both parties in Canada. They would have Canada lead the world in a great disarmament movement. Out of six hundred delegates, only twelve voted against the resolution. The convention by an unanimous vote, also adopted an out and-out free trade resolution.

UNIVERSAL PEACE ASSURED

Intelligencer Special.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Dr. S. Daneff, the Bulgarian plenipotentiary, officially announced today that an agreement had been reached between his country and Roumania. This, with despatches from Constantinople announcing that the Porte would yield to all demands of the allies, assures the peace of all Europe.

CONFISCATED DIAMONDS

(Intelligencer Special.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Cut diamonds, weighing 40½ carats, smuggled across the Canadian border and confiscated by the Government, were sold at auction here yesterday by a United States Marshal for $2,513, or $509 more than the Government appraisers thought the gems were worth

TO FIGHT JEANETTE

Intelligencer Special.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—It will be Joe Jeanette and not Al Palzer whom Jack Johnson will box in Paris on June 24, should Johnson be permitted to leave this country, according to a statement made yesterday by Dan McKettrick.

WILL REQUEST GUARANTEE

Intelligencer Special.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The Constantinople correspondent of The Times, believes that the Porte, before accepting the powers' note, will request a guarantee that no further demands shall be made by the allies.

TO PRESENT NEW ARMY BILL

Intelligencer Special.

BERLIN, Jan. 23.—The Frankfurter Zeitung says the new army bill will be laid before the Reichstag at the present session. No details are given respecting the measure.

Turk Fleet Lost Forty Killed

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 22.—The Turkish losses in the naval battle with the Greek fleet off the Dardanelles on Jan. 18th, totalled four officers and 36 men killed, while 164 others were wounded.

In the course of the fight a Greek shell exploded inside one of the turrets of the Turkish battleship Torgut Reis, killing and wounding every man in it, and disabling both of the 11-inch guns.

Severe damage was also inflicted by the Greek projectiles on the Turkish battleship Assar-I-Tewfik.

The Turkish gunners declare that they inflicted important losses on the Greeks.

If the average man did the right thing he would pray that his friends might be delivered from him.

Steal Montreal Bag of Mail

KINGSTON, Jan. 22.—Between midnight and 5 o'clock this morning a registered mail bag was stolen from a truck at the Grand Trunk Railway junction while en route from the local post office to Montreal.

The charred remains of the bag were found about half a mile west of the junction station, and part of the contents, consisting of correspondence, were recovered by the police.

Post office officials are investigating and cannot fix the value of the contents of the bag, except that there were no large remittances, the bulk of the mail being of small parcels.

The police have no clues beyond the fact that a brakeman on a westbound train telephoned from Napanee that he saw two men just west of the Kingston and Pembroke Railway diamond crossing around a fire at the side of the track.

Say Roosevelt Was Misled by Steel Company

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Mr. Theodore Roosevelt and Mr. William Ellis Corey, former president of the United States Steel Corporation, were the chief witnesses called to-day to testify, at the resumption of the Government hearings, looking to the dissolution of the so-called steel trust.

The oft-repeated story of the absorption by the Steel Corporation of the Tenessee Coal and Iron Company was again the nucleus of the ex-President's testimony. How he sanctioned the deal was told by Mr. Roosevelt when he testified before the Stanley Committee last year. At that time he said he was satisfied that the Steel Corporation in taking over the T. C. and I. Company was actuated only by a desire to check the panic of 1907.

The Government contends that officers of the defendant corporation misled Mr. Roosevelt as to the status of affairs.

Mr. Roosevelt was asked but one question to-day by counsel for the Government, namely, whether statements contained in a letter which he wrote to Attorney-General Bonaparte concerning the T. C. and I. Company deal were true.

To this the former President replied in the affirmitive.

Counsel for the Steel Corporation then took up the cross-examination. Mr. Roosevelt testified that he was aware that the Government, through the Bureau of Corporations, had undertaken an investigation of the Steel Corporation before the T. C. and I. Company was taken over. They reported to me unfavorably in regard to the Standard Oil, but favorably in regard to the Steel Corporation, he said.

Sees Peril in Angry Husbands

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 22.—'Husbands be happy, or at least amicable with our wives. That is, if you cannot be happy with them, be as happy as you can.'

'Wives, be gentle and kind to your husbands. Do not quarrel with them. Spend economically, wisely the money they earn and give to you.'

'Bachelors, get married and marry women of placid disposition and frugal habit.'

Such, in effect, are the unwritten orders just issued by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railway, of which Mr. Charles S. Mellen is president. It is whispered among the railway's employees that the orders were incited by merest accident, caused by the carelessness of an engineer who had a terrific row with his wife just before he took out his train.

The road's officials are of the strong opinion that an engineer who has just banged his front door behind him angrily, asking himself, 'Why did I ever marry her?' is not in the proper frame of mind to drive a train carrying hundreds of passengers or tens of thousands of dollars worth of goods.

Is Largest Battleship

NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE, Eng., Jan. 22.—Special—The largest and most powerful battleship afloat, the Brazilian super-Dreadnought Rio de Janeiro, was launched from the slips at Elswick to-day. She displaces 27,500 tons, and is armed with 14 12 inch and 20 6-inch guns. She is designed to attain a speed of 22 knots an hour.

CROTHERS CRITICIZED

Minister of Labor Has Busy Skirmish With Opposition.

Lemieux Asks For Papers In C.P.R. Strike Case and Various Liberal Members Take Occasion to Assail Minister—Brotherhood Too Various In Its Makeup, Says Latter—Intercolonial Extension Again.

OTTAWA, Jan. 23.—The House was lethargic yesterday afternoon after the debate on the Bank Act, which became rather exciting at times at Tuesday's session.

It was Hon. T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor, who was on the firing line yesterday, the recent C.P.R. strike being under discussion. The matter came up upon the motion for the production of papers made by Hon. Mr. Lemieux, but a number of Liberal members took occasion to criticize the Labor Department.

It was admitted that the brotherhood had applied for a conciliation board last summer and that the application had been refused by the Minister. Subsequently a board was granted to enquire into the grievances of the strikers in Eastern Canada, and the report of the board was in their favor.

Mr. Crothers, in his own defence, objected that the brotherhood included employes in many departments of the service scattered all over the country, and their grievances numbered no less than twenty-nine causes of complaint. The Opposition insisted that the conciliation board should have been granted, and that the number of grevances alleged and the number of employes involved constituted no defence for turning down the application.

The discussion was somewhat hampered by the fact that the correspondence and papers relating to the case were not before the House.

Hon. G. P. Graham complained of the criticism to which he had been subjected on account of the Grand Trunk strike of a year or two ago, and contrasted Mr. Crothers' vigorous treatment of the Grand Trunk with his inaction in respect to the C.P.R. Co.

Mr. Buchanan, the Liberal member for Lethbridge, said the impression had gone abroad that the Canadian Pacific was too close to the present Government, and laboring men were distrustful of the administration of the Lemieux Act.

Some of the members of the Maritime Provinces spoke in favor of a resolution requesting the Government to build additional railways in eastern Nova Scotia. In this connection Hon. H. R. Emmerson urged the double tracking of the Intercolonial. Hon. Frank Cochrane restated his position taken at the last session, namely, that the Government railway system would not be extended unless it could be done so with a reasonable expectation of commercial advantage. As to the Intercolonial, he said the first and most urgent need was the improvement of the roadbed between Truro and Sydney. He believed the hauling capacity of the motive power of the road should be increased fifty per cent. by improvements in this part of the system.

Hon. Frank Oliver, rising to a question of privilege, denounced as maliciously untrue the recent charges made against him by Sir R. P. Roblin, which involved some incidents in the Macdonald bye-election and the attitude of Mr. Oliver when Minister of the Interior in respect to the swamp lands of Manitoba.

Mr. Aikins of Brandon introduced a bill forbidding the alienation by way of sale or homesteading of water powers and lands contiguous thereto and of lands containing desposits of coal, oil and gas.

MAY REOPEN CASE.

Sen. David Asks For Papers In Manitoba School Question.

OTTAWA, Jan. 23.—In the Senate yesterday Senator David moved for correspondence exchanged between the Catholics of Manitoba and the Government of Canada since the beginning of last session with deference to the school system of that province, or asking for legislation on that subject.

Senator David said when the boundary measure was before Parliament last year it was stated the laws of the province would be amended so as to satisfy the Roman Catholics of Manitoba and Keewatin.

Senator Lariverie said his views as to rights of Roman Catholics' educational facilities had not changed. However, he understood that there were now negotiations going on before the Roman Catholic Church and the public school authorities of Manitoba which might lead to a satisfactory conclusion. While these negotiations were on he would not like to see anything done which might interfere with their success.

FOR CONSTIPATION

A Medicine That Does Not Cost Anything Unless It Cures.

The active medicinal ingredient of Rexall Orderlies which is odorless, tasteless and colorless is a comparatively new discovery. Combined with other extremely valuable ingredients, it forms a perfect bowel regulator, intestinal invigorator and strengthener. Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy and are notable for their agreeableness to the palate and gentleness of action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience.

Unlike other preparations for a like purpose, they do not create a habit, but instead they act to overcome the cause of habit acquired through the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics and harsh physic, and permanently remove the cause of constipation or irregular bowel action.

We will refund your money without argument if they do not do as we say they will. Two sizes, 25c. and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. J. S. McKeown.

BANKER RELEASED.

Ottawa Authorities Refuse the U. S. Deportation Request.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 23.—Despite the request from the Federal Government of the United States, that C. A. Bonds, the late managing director of the Night and Day Bank of Memphis, Tenn., be deported, the immigration department at Ottawa yesterday morning wired instructions that Bonds be released, as there was absolutely no valid reason why he should be detained.

The U. S. consul-general here, on hearing the decision, entered a protest against Bonds' release, on the ground that he was a felon in the United States and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary for using the mails to defraud.

Remanded For Trial.

WINDSOR, Jan. 23.—George Lauzon of Essex, charged with shooting with intent to kill John Garrow, whom, he claimed, he shot at when he found him "peeping" in his window, was remanded for trial at Sandwich yesterday morning. Lauzon was released on bail of $2,000. He will be tried on Feb. 12.

DON'T GROW BALD, YOUNG MAN!

Take Care of Your Hair While You Have Hair to Take Care of.

It's a safe ten to one bet that the young man who uses PARISIAN Sage as an occasional hair dressing will never grow bald.

There's a reason, of course, and it's a very good and sufficient one.

Dandruff germs cause falling hair and falling hair means thinner hair and in due time baldness.

PARISIAN Sage prevents baldness, by destroying the cause of baldness—the little, persistent vociferous dandruff germ.

If you have dandruff or itching scalp it means that dandruff germs are sapping the vitality from the roots of your hair. Get rid of all hair troubles by using PARISIAN Sage.

It is not a dye, mind you, neither does it contain poisonous sugar of lead or even sulphur. It is a scientific preparation that abolishes dandruff, stops falling hair and scalp itch, and makes hair grow lustrous and luxuriant.

Many young women as well as men are growing bald and for the same reason.

Use delightful, refreshing PARISIAN Sage; it nourishes the hair roots, if the roots are not dead, and brings to every user a head of glorious hair—radiant and fascinating. Large bottle for 50 cents at drug stores and toilet counters. See that you get PARISIAN Sage.

W. H. Lattimer guarantees it.

LIFE IN THE FAR NORTH

Sailor Willing to Risk Another Winter Among the Eskimos

Undeterred by a previous distressing adventure in the regions of the extreme north a Scottish sailor named John Westrell, of Aberdeen, intends to embark upon a walrus-hunting cruise in the Arctic Ocean. On his first voyage he was shipwrecked and spent a long, dark winter in an Eskimo's hut.

"We intended our voyage to be one of four or five weeks only," said the hunter, in an interview. "We had not a large crew; four of them were King Island Eskimos, who had been taught by the skipper to run the engines and steer the ship. There was also a Japanese cook. He began to shiver whenever he saw the ice.

We picked up some more Eskimos at Cape Prince of Wales, all of them eager hunters, and then we went through Behring Straits, and were soon in the Arctic Ocean, going in a northerly direction. We reached the icefield two or three days later. I believe we stayed too long, but the hunting was good. It was a gale which separated three Eskimos and myself from the schooner. We were a good many miles away, and we had to take what shelter we could, and that was not much, among the hillocks. Then after the gale came fog. We got lost. Fortunately we had some food with us, but by the time the fog cleared the ship had been carried away by the breaking ice floe. We wandered for nearly a week, and at last struck a small Eskimo village, where we stayed the winter."

Housekeeping in the Arctic is an interesting if sometimes disagreeable necessity. There were only four houses in the village at which the shipwrecked men had arrived, and Westrell knew that if he was to live through the winter he must live as the Eskimos lived. A real snow house was built, and for several months the party ate raw meat and obtained drinking water by melting snow over a blubber fire. Seal and walrus meat were their mainstay. When the cold became severe the houses were sealed up, and everyone huddled round the fire.

"I found these Eskimos goodhearted, kind people," said Westrell. "They did everything to make me comfortable, and my hunter companions acted as interpreters. Often of an evening, after we had been hunting seals during the day, we all assembled in the largest hut and spent some hours singing and dancing." When the weather permitted, walrus hunts were organised, and in the early days of the winter hundreds of the animals could be seen lying asleep on the ice. When the ice broke up the following summer Westrell and his companions were rescued.

THE COAST INDIANS

Gradually Taking to Agriculture—Valuable Tree Grows Wild

Mr. Thomas Wilson, Dominion inspector of Indian orchards and instructor in horticulture to the Indians, after a tour among his charges in British Columbia, said that although the progress of the tribes in fruit and vegetable growing does not appear to be very marked from year to year, yet it is in fact substantial and is quite noticeable if a period of ten years or thereabouts be taken for purposes of comparison.

Among some of the tribes little attempt is being made to establish agriculture or horticulture, because the Indians are making a good living in other ways. The Haidas of the Queen Charlotte Islands, for instance get as much as $60,000 a year from the canneries at Masset. They have a regular municipal government and light their village by acetylene. Tuberculosis and ophthalmia, however, are still making ravages among them and the Indians do not seem to be making much progress in learning how to combat these diseases.

Mr. Wilson recommended to the Provincial authorities that steps be taken to preserve the "bearberry" tree, from the bark of which the drug cascara is obtained. It grows wild in parts of the Province but could easily be cultivated so that an acre would produce about four tons of cascara worth $150 per ton. The American supply is becoming exhausted and Mr. Wilson thinks that timber leaseholders in British Coolumbia would do well to see that the "bearberry" tree is not destroyed when the land is logged over.

Of the possibilities of Queen Charlotte Islands, Mr. Wilson has a high opinion. The soil is very rich and will be excellent for vegetable production when it has been drained and the sourness has been mitigated. A band of wild cattle, descendants of some that swam ashore years ago when jettisoned from a Hudson's Bay Company boat, now roam about in considerable numbers.

USEFUL WILD LIFE

Student of Creatures of the Woods Urges Against Their Extermination

In an address at Ottawa, Lieut.-Colonel Wood, a well-known traveller and historian, made a most eloquent appeal for the preservation of wild life in Canada. Recent visits to Labrador and Newfoundland made him very familiar with his subject, which, indeed, he has studied all his life. Colonel Wood spoke of himself as "an animal man," and said that he had always been interested in the conservation of wild life in Canada.

There was no reason for war between man and wild animals, but as man was "getting there, he had waged it. But it was interesting to note that to get ahead of other animals man had had to take the animal into partnership with him—the dog. He had been to Canadian Labrador, 300 miles of coast which few people ever knew existed. The only domestic animals there were dogs, and it was possible in the primitive state of such civilization to see the vast debt man owed to the dog. When the dogs, however, got hungry in the winter they went back to their wild state and ate men. He knew a case of nine dogs eating a family of five people.

After the stage of war came the stage of sport, and he had nothing to say against sport—but it was necessary to put certain limits upon the destruction of wild life.

West Newfoundland should be a paradise for wild animals, but it is a desert. And it was a mistake to imagine in any part of the country that because there was a plentitude of wild life that it would never disappear. This had been said of the buffalo and many other animals. On the coast of Labrador the population of 1,200 people relied for fresh food on the birds it shot, yet he knew of a millionaire who landed one day from his yacht and shot out a whole island.

The elder ducks about this part of the world were ruthlessly destroyed and yet a very profitable industry could be built up on the St. Lawrence if they were preserved. The study of wild life developed progress, and he sincerely hoped that one small part of the world would be left, and in Canada, where man would have through the study of wild life an opportunity of re-creating himself.

AN IDEAL LANDLORD

A Good Name Better Than Riches—This Man Had Both

John Thomson, who died in Hamilton, Ont., was known as an ideal landlord, and was blessed by tenants who were living in his houses at rents of five and six dollars, while others were paying fifteen and twenty. He acquired the houses many years ago, and refused to raise the rents. His modest boast was that he made his profit out of the property, not out of the tenant.

Mr. Thomson was not a fussy philanthropist, and was not widely known. He seems to have been guided by simple, natural human impulses. He was good-hearted, unostentatious, and free from greed. He lived in comfort, and died worth $200,000; "worth" it in more than one sense.

Clock Saved Life

John Struat, night watchman at a London, Ont., factory was shot through the hand while on duty and saved from death only by an alarm clock which he was carrying. Struat, while going his rounds heard a window broken, and, observing a man outside, called to him. The marauder pulled a revolver and fired point-blank at the watchman's face. Struat raised the clock which he was carrying, and while the bullet penetrated his hand, his life was saved by his promptness.

Two Railway Men Are Injured on Midland Division

As the result of an accident which occurred about noon to-day, on the line of the Midland Railway, a branch of the G. T. R., two men were conveyed to the hospital here, one of whom suffered painful injuries. The accident occurred near Madoc junction and particulars are meagre. A train had to be cut in two owing to the engine being unable to make the grade, and whilst this was being done, something went wrong and the two parts came together with much force. The fireman, Gordon Jamieson, was thrown upon a portion of the boiler in such a manner that his face, shoulders and arms were terribly burned. Zokas Randell, a brakeman, was thrown off the train and was severely shaken up and bruised about the body. The victims were rushed to the city on a special and were then conveyed in the ambulance to the hospital where their injuries were attended to.

Changes in this Division of G. T. R.

Several changes of an important nature have recently occurred on the line of the Grand Trunk Railway here, and as a result more officials will be located here.

Mr. H. F. Coyle, who was for some time Assistant Superintendent, has been appointed Superintendent of the Belleville division, his territory being from Montreal to Toronto, from Belleville to Midland and northern branches, making about 800 miles in all under his supervision. His headquarters will be at Belleville.

Mr. H. M. Gain has been appointed trainmaster between Brockville and Toronto, and his headquarters will also be in this city.

Mr. W. J. Nexin of Brockville has been appointed train master between Brockville and Montreal.

Mr. J. D. McMillan will be train master at Lindsay.

Mr. C. S. Ogilvie has been appointed assistant engineer with headquarters at Belleville.

All of these will be under the supervision of Mr. Coyle, and will report to him.

The appointment of Mr. Coyle as superintendent of this division is hailed with pleasure by all G. T. R. employees who know him personally. He is recognized as a capable railway official.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

AT THE ARENA

A very large crowd attended the arena last evening. The I. O. O. F. band rendered excellent music for the skaters.

RECOUNT OF BALLOTS

A recount of the ballots cast in the recent municipal election in Hungerford Township for the Deputy Reeveship, took place this afternoon at Tweed Village before Judge Deroche. The result was a tie between Messrs. J. L. Newton and J. E. Brown and the returning officer gave the casting vote in favor of the latter. Mr. Newton then instituted proceedings for a recount.

SALVATION ARMY FUNERAL

The funeral of the late Mr. Malcolm Weir of this city, who died in Toronto, took place this afternoon from the family residence, Dunbar Street. The obsequies were under the auspices of the Salvation Army of which deceased was a member. At the house and grave services were conducted by Adjt. Hamilton of this city and Adjt. Habkirk of Toronto. The band in connection with the local corp was in attendance. Interment took place at the Belleville cemetery.

LAID AT REST

Many were this morning in attendance at the obsequies of the late Mr. Patrick Meagher showing the esteem in which deceased was held. The cortege at 9 o'clock left the family residence on Dundas Street and proceeded to St. Michael's Church where requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Killeen. At the grave at St. James cemetery, Rev. Father Keeley officiated. Many floral tributes and mass cards were contributed by friends. The bearers were Messrs. W. Williamson, J. S. McGurn, P. Hayes, A. Tisdale, F. Dolan and W. Kyle.

FRIGHTENED BY AUTO

Yesterday afternoon, Mrs. William Garrison, acompanied by her grandson, were driving along the Canifton Road towards their home, when they were the victims of an accident which might have been of a serious nature, but fortunately for them, such was not the case. The parties were in the vicinity of Lazier's Mill when an auto came along and the driver of the latter made no effort to turn out but drove by rather close to the horses. This caused the animals to shy off the roadside, upsetting the vehicle, and throwing Mrs. Garrison and her grandson out. The lad held on the reins and prevented the horses from running away. The party in the auto did not stop but drove on towards the city. Every effort will be made to ascertain who was driving the machine. The whiffletrees of the democrat were broken in the spill.

CLUB HOUSE FOR SALE

The chairman of the Harbor Commissioners having written the Minister of Marine Department, asking him to cancel the lease of the water lot on which the Club House stands, in Victoria Park, which has been granted, the Club House is offered for sale until February first, after which time a contract will be given for its removal.

HEARSE DEMOLISHED

Messrs. Tickell & Sons of this city, to-day had the misfortune to have one of their hearses demolished. A body had been conveyed to White's cemetery, Front of Sidney, and the return trip was being made when the misfortune occurred. Whilst coming down Murney's Hill one of the traces become unfastened and the driver of the team was unable to guide the animals. He jumped from the hearse and as he did so the team started off at a lively gait down the hill and over the lower bridge. At the south east corner of Front and Bridge Streets, the hearse collided with a telegraph pole, overturning the conveyance and virtually demolishing it. The horses escaped injury and were stopped at this point. The damage sustained will amount to several hundreds of dollars.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. Ed. Fielding of Hamilton is in the city to-day.

Mr. L. Ascher of New York, is in the city visiting friends.

Mr. C. H. Cunningham of Ottawa, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. W. E. Tummon of Crookston is visiting in the city to-day.

Mr. John Cameron of Toronto is in the city to-day on business.

Mr. E. H. Williams of Pittsburg, Pa., is visiting in the city to-day.

Mr. James Collins of Toronto, is in the city visiting his parents on Pine Street.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Dando and daughter, Ruby, left to-day on the flyer for the West.

Mr. B. F. Allison of Clive, Alta., is in the city visiting his daughter Mrs. Percy Mitchell, Dunbar Street.

Mrs. Ira Badgley, Corbyville, has left to visit her daughter, Mrs. I. D. Hicks, on acount of Mr. Hick's serious illness.

G. T. R. Officials Visit This City

There was considerable activity displayed about the G.T.R. station today owing to the fact that a number of officials of the road arrived here, but the purpose of their visit is not known. They were as follows:

Mr. C. G. Bowker of Montreal, General Superintendent.

Mr. J. R. Donnelly of Allandale, Master Mechanic.

Mr. G. McIntosh of Montreal, Airbrake Inspector.

Mr. W. H. Ferrell of Montreal, General Superintendent of Freight and Transportation.

Mr. W. J. Fee of Lindsay, Road Foreman of Engines.

Mr. J. C. Szammers of Toronto, Road Foreman of Engines.

Mr. C. Mitchell of Lindsay, Road Master.

Mr. W. Kearns of Lindsay, of the Bridge and Building Department.

Annual Meeting of The Cemetery Co.

At the annual meeting of the Belleville Cemetery Company held at the Secretary's office, Campbell Street, the officers for the year were elected, being as follows:

President—S. Masson.

Sec. Treas.—W. H. Hudson.

Directors—Messrs. S. Masson, J. McKeown, J. W. Walker, W. B. Riggs, W. B. Robinson, S. A. Gardner, J. L. Tickell, W. H. Hudson and B Mallory.

Ground Committee—S. Masson, J. McKeown, J. W. Walker, and J. L. Tickell.

Mr. J. S. McKeown, Chairman of Committee.

Resident care taker—J. S. Wedden.

Auditors—A. McGie and J. G. Galloway.

The financial statement which was referred to the auditors, whilst showing satisfactory results for the year also showed that there was a large indebtedness due the company for taking care of plots.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"THE LOST PARADISE."

A large audience greeted the drama, "The Lost Paradise," given at the opera house last evening, under the auspices of the Belleville Hospital, which proved in every sense a credit to all who participated. The play has been faithfully undergoing rehearsal for several weeks under the direction of Mr. Irving H. Beers and Miss Osborne, two experts in the dramatic line, and many of our people have been looking forward to an especial treat for the scheduled dates. The nature of the production, which partook of capital vs. labor, was an interesting subject, in that it had much in common with the far-reaching questions under discussion the world over. The scenes, the capitalist's luxurious home, the superintendent's office in the factory, and the heated workroom, were given in all their reality, and the toiling masses, in their hand-to-mouth conditions clearly portrayed. Of the characters much could be favorably commented, among whom, in creditable prominence may be mentioned Mr. Irving H. Beers, the promoter, as Reuben Warner, the faithful superintendent of the works, whose acting and general stage presence was truly of a superb nature. Mr. Beers manifested a thorough conception of the play throughout, his character calling for a number of dramatic, almost tragical, scenes, that were superbly handled. Mr. F. Barrett as Mr. Fletcher; Mr. Walter Patterson as Andrew Knowlton, the capitalist and head of the works; Mrs. James Grant as Mrs Knowlton; Miss Lou Davey as Miss Margaret Knowlton; Miss Gladys Vermilyea as Polly Fletcher, the country girl who captured Mr. F. W. White as Bob Appleton; Mr. Billy Doyle as Ralph Standish; Miss Helen Simpkins as the trim maid of the Knowltons, were fully up in their work, while Miss Maysell Stork as "Cinders," the factory girl, fairly brought the house to her feet, her partner in distress and love, Mr. William Doyle as Billy Hopkins being a whole show in himself. In the pathetic character of "Nell," the crippled factory girl, Miss Helen Fraleck was assuredly a gem. Mr. William J. Connelly made an excellent leader of the factory strike for an increase in wages, his assistants as delegates to the heads of the works backing him up in a thoroughly practical manner. On the whole, Mr. Beers and his co-workers are to be congratulated upon their successful presentation, and it is hoped this evening they will be greeted with a bumper house.

"THE GAMBLERS."

Charles Klein's gripping drama, "The Gamblers," will be the attraction at Griffin's opera house, Tuesday evening, January 28, being presented by the Authors' Producing Company, of which John Cort is president. The play was conceded the most successful among the serious dramas produced in New York last season.

John Emerson, a financier of the old school, is content to count his profits by thousands. He has a son who has the "greed spirit" in a highly developed state. The son's ambition finally involves his father and partners in a clash with Washington. Federal authorities having been sent out to put a stop to the money-making methods of the young man, these officers take charge of the banks. The son has recovered all of the notes that are an evidence of guilt and all the bank officers are relieved of guilt but one. By a deal of the cards it is decided who shall be the scapegoat. The old president draws the fatal card, but the son makes it a misdeal and takes his father's place. Then looms up his bitterest enemy as the prosecutor for the Federal government. The wife of the lawyer then enters the story with a written confession from one of the bank directors who has left the notes at the prosecutor's home, having been frightened into betraying his associates from immunity.

ENGLISH GRAND OPERA FOR BELLEVILLE.

Do the Patrons of the Griffin's Opera House Want It?

Are there enough music-loving people who appreciate high-class music to justify the management of the Griffin opera house in bringing here the Sheehan English Opera Co. on Friday, February 7th, in "The Bohemian Girl"? That's the question.

The Sheehan English Opera Co. is the largest and most expensive English opera company on tour at the present day. Besides having the largest and most brilliant array of opera stars ever assembled under one banner, Mr. Sheehan has secured the services of Mrs. Emily Grey, famous harpist, direct from Covent Garden, London, Eng., and Miss Sibley Remus, violinist virtuoso Paris Opera Comique, and a special grand opera orchestra, under the direction of Wm. Glover, England's foremost director.

It costs $1,200 to bring this attraction to Belleville, and the tickets must be sold and subscribed for at least two weeks in advance of the show, if this great opera company is booked for the Griffin opera house. What's the use of having an opera house, yet never having English opera?

The subscription list and seat reservation will be placed on sale Friday and Saturday, January 24th and 25th. Do not order tickets unless you expect to pay for them at least two days ahead of the show.

The prices are unusually low.

It's up to you. If you want English grand opera, order your seats Friday and Saturday at Doyle's, if there is to be an English opera company in Belleville this season.

Wild Oats Make White Slaves

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 22.—That college students are in a way advance agents for traffickers in white slaves was the statement made by Clifford G. Roe, a Chicago attorney and reformer and himself an alumnus of the University of Michigan, before an audience of 200 Harvard graduates.

"College men have the wrong moral standard," said Mr. Roe. "They read in the Bible of the return of the prodigal son and think they have a right to sow their wild oats and then beg forgiveness for all the dastardly work already done."

Montreal Police Put Ban on Tights

MONTREAL, Jan. 22.—Police officials announced this afternoon that orders would shortly be issued to all theatres in town that no performers shall in future be allowed to appear on the stage in tights.

The result is that panic reigns among the theatre managers. The blow is directed by the police against burlesque houses in particular, but it will also affect the high-class theatres.

"We cannot play Shakespeare or grand opera without tights," declared Mr. H. Quintus Brooks, manager of His Majesty's theatre this afternoon. "Fancy playing comic opera in pants and then fancy Rosalind appearing in "As You Like It' in anything but tights.

"How are we going to produce Faust in grand opera if we are denied tights? We couldn't even play Hamlet without tights."

"How the order will work out remains to be seen, but if it is enforced to the letter, there will be a revolution in stage costumes."

Twins Trouble The Law

LONDON, Jan. 22.—The twins, Ebenezer Albert Fox and Albert Ebenezer Fox, are so alike in appearance that the police are puzzled to find out which is which. Ebenezer Fox claims compensation from the Home Secretary for wrongful imprisonment on a charge of poaching. While Ebenezer Albert was in prison on this charge, Albert Ebenezer wrote to the Home Secretary that he was the guilty party. The Home Secretary did not reply, and it has been decided to call the case quits, as one brother recently served a month's imprisonment for an offence committed by the other.

Girl Dies in The Street

LONDON, Ont. Jan. 22.—Birgit Millured, a 17-year-old girl, who came to this city a few months ago from her home near Christiania, Norway, expired suddenly in the street while proceeding to her employment at Beck's Box Factory to-day. Miss Millured, who made her home with her aunt, Mrs. Wilfred Johnson, at 41 St. Andrew Street, West London, had been in apparently good health. Coroner Dr. Ferguson concluded that death was due to natural causes and no inquest will be held.

Kaiser's Daughter Will Shortly Wed

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—Special—It is reported that there has been a reconciliation between the Hohenzollern and the Duke of Cumberland families. It is said that this understandig will result in the betrothal of the Kaiser's only daughter, the Princess Louise, with the Prince of Cumberland, and of Prince Adalbert, the third son of the Kaiser, with Princess Olga of Cumberland.

Ideal Age to Wed is 25

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 22.—Prof. Dallas Lore Sharp, of the department of English at Boston University inclines to 25 years as the ideal age at which men should marry. He scoffs at 20 and 30.

"There is nothing particularly God fearing or discreet or reverent about 30," says Dr. Sharp. "Thirty is the timed age. Forty is the dangerous age. Twenty is the ageless age, the silly, milky, tasseled age, when a boy is still liable to be croupy and to need castor oil and his mother.

"When a man reaches 30, however, he knows that he is not a poet and a captain of industry and that the moon is not made of cheese, and that love in a cottage is not the same as love in the suburbs or in a city flat. He knows just enough at 30 to count the cost. A man who has figured all the way to 30 will figure on to 31. As a matrimonial proposition a man may be at his best between 30 and 40, but as a genealogical proposition he is a dead tree already. A man may perchance come to fatherhood, marrying at 30 once, even twice, indeed, as records show, but 30 is too late to form the habit of it

"Marriage is not a matrimonial proposition, but a family affair, first and last, and should be entered into at a time best calculated to promote the increase of bibs about the groaning board. I am inclined to put the ideal marriage time at 25."

McINTOSH BROS.

A home is known by the parlor it keeps

It's about the only room the average visitor sees and the whole house is sure to be judged by the appearance of the parlor.

For this reason the parlor is generally the best furnished room in the house. It should be the best lighted room also. Nothing shows off mahogany, bric-a-brac and tapestry as well as electric lights set in Holophane Reflectors.

The parlor is usually the music room too, and an electric bracket that sheds light over the piano will be found a great convenience..

The most pleasing effects in parlor lighting may be had by the use of Holophane Reflectors. These Reflectors are of rich, sparkling optical glass, designed in the most fashionable shapes. They add not only to the beauty of a room, but they economize on light.

If you are not satisfied with the lighting of your parlor, let us send a representative to talk to you about economical lighting by electricity.

GOVERNMENT PROBING DREDGING GRAFT

A thorough investigation into the dredging contracts of the old government has been decided upon by Hon. Robert Rogers, Minister of Public Works, and Hugh Stewart, K.C., of Brockville, has been retained as counsel to conduct the probe before the public accounts committee. Some sensational evidence it is expected will be forthcoming as it is well known that the dredging contracts of the old government were a fruitful source of graft. Evidence from time to time came to the surface before the public accounts committee in recent years, but with the famous Liberal blocking brigade sitting tight on the lid it was difficult to carry the inquiry far.

The report of the Public Service Commission submitted to parliament recently called attention to the fact that some thirty million dollars had been paid out for dredging in the last ten years. It has been stated in the report that there had been a series of frame-ups between contractors who arranged between themselves for the securing of particular contracts, and the enhancing of prices. Several tenders would be submitted for each contract, but there was really no competition as the prices named were arranged before hand by the companies tendering.

The first move in the direction of the inquiry was made last week when Mr. John Stanfield, chief government whip, moved before the Public Accounts Committee for all papers, vouchers, etc., in connection with the payment of $225,509 for dredging at Tiffin, Ont.

Mr. W. F. Grant, of Midlands, Secretary of the Canadian Dredging and Construction Company, was summoned to give evidence before the Public Accounts Committee this week.

THE CHRISTIAN'S DUTY

Of all the bad habits, despondency is among the least respectable, and there is no one quite so tiresome as the sad-visaged Christian, who is oppressed by the wickedness and hopelessness of the world.—Canadian Freeman.

We do not believe the Almighty made man to go through this world with a sour visage. Our experiences, while down here, are largely what we make them, dependent, wholly and unreservedly upon Him who governs all things. The coming of Christ into this world was for the purpose of instilling within our hearts His Spirit, which would guide us in the way of truth, virtue and wisdom, giving us that contentment, fullness of joy and substantial fellowship which makes us beings worthy of patronage. The church fraternity need it; society needs it; political life needs it; the business world needs it; and if the home had more of it there would be fewer divorces. The Christian is the only Bible many a poor mortal reads; if his testimony is not backed up by a cheerful, benevolent life, his influence for good is dwarfed. "A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance;" a heart filled with a fellow-feeling opens innumerable doors for usefulness. Each one of us was sent into this world with a purpose—with a specific work alloted us; the question with us should be, how can we carry out the individual allotment to the best advantage. There is nothing more tiresome than a sad-visaged Christian. The mournful countenance forsooth! None of it for us. When you meet a so-called Christian with a face like a funeral procession, look out for him; he will bear watching. The glory of the facial expression is but a reflection of the glory within. O Lord give us more of it; the world needs it sadly.

That Mr. E. W. Thomson, Canadian correspondent of the Boston Transcript, and practically the only surviving associate of George Brown in the editorial direction of the Toronto Globe, is a strong Liberal, few in these part need to be told. In several Alberta election campaigns he has taken a keen personal interest. Accordingly, when he expresses an opinion favorable to the naval policy of Mr. Borden it has not a little significance. Writing in McLean's Magazine Mr. Thomson declares that the Premier has "by sincerity of intention, thought, conclusion and statement proved himself a right honorable man." "Grant his prime postulate," adds Mr. Thomson "as is avowedly done by almost all Canadians except Mr. ohn S. Ewart and a few others, than everything proposed by Mr. Borden seems wise. Also ingenuous. He has contrived to satisfy those Canadians, who, like myself, hold that the defence of Canada's coasts should be first provided. The singular merit of the Premier's plan is that it meets both requisitions in the speediest possible way."—Edmonton Journal.

In order to be a social favorite a man may be a cheerful liar.

Many Conservatives would like to know what authority W. F. Cockshutt, Dr. Edwards, and other Conservative members had for intimating, by inference if not direct, that there was to be no Canadian navy proposal as a permanent policy. Mr. Borden is discreetly silent on the nature of his permanent policy if he has yet any broad ideas of how the thing can be worked.—Peterborough Review.

This is practically the same cry that was raised before the convening of Parliament. But that Mr. Borden will abide by the proper methods at the proper time may be relied upon. These bugbear questionings are as old as the hills, and should be allowed to wend their way with the winds that blow them where they will.

What interest could a leading Liberal in Great Britain have in shaping his opinions to help out the leader of the Conservatives in Canada? asks a Western exchange. In any case it was not for Mr. Borden to try to determine whether the First Lord of the Admiralty was in earnest or not. He simply acted on the advice of the man who by virtue of his position should be best qualified to give it. This was the proper course for him both in the interests of Canada and of the Empire at large.

Made The First Texas Emblem

FT. VALLEY, Ga., Jan. 22.—The girl who made the first Texas flag, when that state was an independent republic, lies buried in a neglected grave near here. Arrangements have been made by a commissioner sent by Governor Colquitt of Texas for the removal of the remains to Austin, where they will be received with all honor.

Miss Joanna Troutman, in 1856, then a girl of 18, fashioned the Lone Star flag, which is still a state emblem of Texas. The present session of the Texas legislature is expected to appropriate funds for the removal of the body and the erection of a monument over the grave in the state cemetery at Austin, where rest the remains of many famous Texans.

After a strenuous fight the firemen succeeded in confining the fire to the Bass Fur Company building, and the loss is estimated at $60,000.

DISOBEYED PARENTS TO WIN WORLD'S TITLE

Jackson Who Won 1,500 Metre Race at Olympiad Had to Run Away From Home

A. N. S. Jackson, the young English runner who captured the 1,500 metre event at Stockholm, figured on John Bull's Olympic team against the wishes of his parents; in fact, he literally ran away from home to join the team, after having been selected for a place because of his splendid showing in the trials. Jackson's father is very wealthy, and even now that his son is a world's champion, objects strongly to the young man's continued efforts on the cinder path. As far back as two years ago, when Jackson took up a course at Oxford, his parents were against his participation in athletics.

The Englishman is a truly remarkable runner. Students of athletics in England had little confidence in his ability to trim speed merchants like John Paul Jones, Abel Kiviat and Mel Sheppard. Jackson's victory is made all the more remarkable when you consider that 300 yards from the finish he was running in fifth position with only one chance in a thousand of winning.

Jackson comes of the best English stock. He is a clean liver and for his short career in the game has done remarkable work. Twenty years old, tall and lithe, he is bound to duplicate the wonderful run he showed in the Swedish stadium.

Last March he sprung a surprise on the experts in England by winning the mile event at a meeting between Oxford and Cambridge. The time was good and they say he could have done better had he been pushed harder. He is an example of what can be expected of a youth who pays strict attention to his trainer.

TWO IRONING-DAY PROBLEMS SOLVED

This will be interesting to mothers on "ironing day" when there are nice waists and laces to be done.

Wax is a very necessary thing for successful work at the ironing board, but often those who attempt doing up their fine pieces get too much wax on the iron. Four or five holes half an inch deep are sunk in the ironing board and filled with melted wax. (Fig. 1.) Over this is placed a couple of thicknesses of cotton cloth. The wax hardens in the holes. When it is necessary to wax the iron it is passed over the cloth that covers the holes and the trick is done—just enough wax being taken off on the iron. When the holes are emptied they can easily be filled again and they are always there, ready for use.

Another little trick is to make a stand for the iron on the board itself (Fig. 2)—a stand that will prevent the burning of the board and at the same time keep the iron from sliding off. This is done by driving a number of ordinary carpet tacks in the end of the board in the form of a circle, filling the circle with tacks and leaving the row on the outside edge a little higher than the others—all of them should project a little from the board to keep the iron off the wood. The higher ring around the edge will prevent the iron from slipping away, even if the board is on a slant.

MAKE FIRE WITH ICE

It is Quite Possible, Even Simple, as This Will Show

Ice is not generally regarded as a substitute for matches in lighting a fire and yet it can be used for that purpose by a person who knows how. Scientific management of the ice is all that is necessary. It should be very clear ice and the day on which the experiment is tried should be a bright, sunshiny day. The chunk of ice is manipulated in the hands by rubbing until it takes the shape of a lense and the sunlight is permitted to pass through it just as with the so-called burning glasses. It is easily done by anyone familiar with the method of lighting paper or shavings with a reading glass.

Any Housewife can Imitate the Butcher's Skill With This Board

While many excellent cooks have envied the butcher and his chopping block, they have also not attempted to install one in their own homes because they fear they would not be able to chop quite so truly as can the experienced butcher.

An excellent way to have a chopping block and slicing board that also obviates danger to the fingers is shown in the illustration. A staple is driven into the board, a staple large enough to be firmly fixed and still leave room for the point of a kitchen knife to pass under it. The knife in place, chopping of all sorts and a great many kinds of slicing can be done, as a very heavy pressure can be applied to the knife.

Poultry Pointers

Give the hens plenty of good pure water in clean dishes.

It pays to provide plenty of green food for the laying hens.

Learning how to prevent diseases in poultry is worth far more than learning how to cure them.

Cleanliness, light, dry houses, fresh feed and pure water count in the poultry business.

A general cleaning up of the premises will help greatly in keeping down rats.

Brooder chicks must be provided with some kind of exercise.

Grease or insect powder should be applied to all young chicks infested with lice.

It is poor policy to feed inferior grain to poultry, especially to the laying hens.

Don't keep the culls, the loafers, the puny, weakly chicks around. Cull them out.

Protein the hens must have, and animal protein is better for them than vegetable protein.

Don't feed corn alone. Give the hens some wheat and oats if you want plenty of eggs.

Refuse from the family table is relished by the hens, and it pays better in the hen pen than in the hog pen.

For hatching purposes eggs from two-year-old hens give better satisfaction than eggs from younger stock.

HORSE BLANKET CLIP

Hooks Into Breeching and Keeps Cover From Blowing off

No matter how carefully a man may blanket his horse, the wind or the animal's own restlessness may cause the cover to be either blown off or thrown off. The horse then suffers from the cold and the blanket is trampled on and torn. But along comes a man with a simple little fastener that prevents any such mishaps. A piece of wire is bent into a hook that opens upward. At the top is a large safety pin by which the device can be fastened to the blanket in an instant, or it can be left fastened. All that need be done, then, to keep the cover on is to hook the wire under the breeching strap, and no matter how hard the wind blows or how much the horse stamps and switches his tail, there it will stay until the owner unhooks it.

Winnipeg a "Melting Pot" for All Nations of the Earth

Winnipeg stands unique among Canadian cities, but the uniqueness is not in her beauty, but in her people. Less than one half of her population are Canadians and a full quarter are what are called "foreign." In the number of nationalities, Winnipeg approaches New York; in the noise of her varied tognues, she rivals Babel. A map of the city indicating the nationalities by color would "show more stripes than the skin of a zebra." Winnipeg numbers among her citizens, English, Scotch, Welsh, Irish, Italians, Germans, Russians, Ruthenians, Poles, Austrians, Bohemians, French, Swiss, Spaniards, Finns, Magyars, Chinese, Japanese, Africans, Swedes, Norwegians, Danes, Dutch, Icelanders, Turks, Americans, Arabians, Hebrews, Syrians, East Indians, American Indians, Egyptians, Hungarians, South Americans, Cubans, Slovaks, Bavarians, Greeks, Servians, Maltese, Malays, Hindus, Roumanians, Portuguese, Dalmatians, and perhaps a few others.

CHINA CLAY INDUSTRY

Quebec Has Valuable Deposits of This Commodity

One of the newest industries being developed in the Province of Quebec is the mining and refining of kaolin or china clay, which is being carried on at St. Remi d'Amherst.

In a little valley in the Laurentian hills, surrounding Lac du Sable, after the pine timber had been cut and floated down the Maskinonge River, a settlement of habitants, mostly of the family of Tasse grubbed the stumps and settled down to win a living from the soil lying between the rocky ridges. Some fourteen years ago in digging wells near their log cabins the settlers came on a white substance at the rock level under some twelve feet of overburden. The only use they found for it was to mix it with water and whitewash their homes. Later it was found to be valuable for other purposes.

China clay is used largely in the manufacture of porcelain and chinaware. The largest use in Canada is for coating white papers. It is also used in the textile industry for sizing and bleaching calico and cotton, in the rubber industry in making high tension and ordinary electric insulators, chemical apparatus, and for refractory ware, such as crucibles and other assaying apparatus.

EGGS COOKED TO SUIT HIM

How John Randolph Had Them Boiled With Assistance of String of Servants.

Most persons who eat eggs at all are particular about them. The boiling of an egg seems a simple matter, but many a breakfast has been spoiled and many a temper rasped by the cook's failing to observe the precise number of minutes and seconds that the process should occupy.

That very original man, John Randolph, is said to have invented a method of getting his eggs cooked exactly to his taste that worked perfectly. As in the case in many country homes in the south, the kitchen was in a separate building at some distance from the house, and servants were plenty.

When the "sage of Roanoke" took his seat at the breakfast table there was a line of servants from the dining room to the kitchen. Mrs. Randolph, the mother of the statesman, held an open watch in her hand.

"In!" exclaimed Mr. Randolph, and the word "in" was passed from mouth to mouth until it reached the waiting cook, who dropped the eggs into the water. After the requisite number of seconds the holder of the timepiece signified that the cooking was done. "Out!" went forth the command in like manner, and the eggs were quickly removed.

The system required six or seven servants to cook one egg, but Randolph was accustomed to declare that this was the only way that he could get it cooked to suit him.

Abalone Meat In Demand.

Dried and smoked abalone meat, most of which is cured in southern California fishing ports, is purchased by Oriental importers at fancy prices. Occasionally it sells for $300 a ton. In some instances divers are employed to procure the mollusks, and it is not uncommon for an experienced man to bring to the surface two tons of meat and shells in a day.

NEW ZEALAND EELS.

Monsters That Kill Salmon and Drown and Eat Human Beings.

Eels can cause the death of a salmon of considerable weight by the use of strategy. One will obtain the grip between the dorsal fin and the tail and then hold on like a bulldog, while the unfortunate victim in vain throws itself backward and forward endeavoring to shake off its captor, until at length its strength is exhausted, and the eel proceeds to make a meal at leisure.

Worse crimes than these are laid to their charge in New Zealand. A great number of bathing fatalities had taken place at a certain spot, where the current ran with such strength that a powerful swimmer could only just stem it. It was a favorite pastime to have a tussle with the stream, but several times a bather disappeared before help could reach him, and when his body was found it was discovered that much of it had been eaten by eels.

The cause of the fatalities remained unknown for a long time, but at last it was discovered that while the swimmer was almost stationary in the rapid stream a huge eel would seize him by the foot or leg and drag him down beneath the surface. Eels attain an immense size in those waters, twenty to thirty pounds being no uncommon weight.—London Telegraph.

AN OLD CLOTHES MODEL.

Why the Poor Man Posed In the Rich Man's Garments.

"Of all queer jobs last night's was queerest," said the impecunious man. "About 5 o'clock I called on a rich man on whom I have a kind of claim and asked for a small loan. He said he had nothing to lend, but that if I would come up to his house about 8 o'clock he would give me a job whereby I could earn a couple of dollars. I went. The rich man sat before a pile of old clothes.

"'I am going to give away all these things that are not fit to wear,' he said. 'That is what I want you for—to find out which suits still look decent. I can't get much of an idea when they're on myself, but you've got a tidy figure, and anything that looks well on you will still pass muster on me, and I'll keep it.'

"I began to try on clothes. I turned and twisted while that man examined his stock. Finally he determined to send six suits to the Salvation Army. The rest he guessed looked classy enough to wear on rainy days. For my evening's work he gave me $2 and a suit of cast off clothes."—New York Press.

SPORTING NEWS

HOCKEY.

MANY GOING TO TRENTON.

The Belleville junior O.H.A. team goes to Trenton tomorrow night for a scheduled game with the team of that town, and there will be a good bunch of supporters accompany them by special train. The boys are going strong now, and have had a couple of strenuous practices the last couple of nights. It is possible there may be a slight change in the former lineup of the team, as a couple of new boys are showing up well in practice. Higgins, although only a mere youngster, appears to be fairly fast and may be seen in uniform in Trenton. Wallace has been suffering from a slight cold but he will be in the game tomorrow night.

THE BIG GAME ON SATURDAY.

Next Saturday afternoon at the local arena the big game of the season is to be pulled off. The event is to take place between the hours of six and seven, the printers' manager having made all necessary arrangements with Manager Arnott. The printers will be dreadfully disappointed now if the Deacon Shirts fail to appear, as they have been besieged by their many friends all over the city with inquiries as to when the game will be played. The lack of ice has put the boys in fine shape as they were in great danger of becoming overtrained before the soft spell came, waiting for the Deacons to settle about that "all-star" lineup they are endeavoring to import for the occasion.

QUINTE HIGH SCHOOL HOCKEY.

Representatives from Belleville, Deseronto and Trenton high schools and Picton and Napanee collegiates, met at Trenton last Friday night, and arranged dates for the coming season. The following schedule was agreed upon:

Jan. 21—Trenton at Picton.
Jan. 24—Trenton at Belleville.
Jan. 24—Picton at Napanee.
Jan. 28—Napanee at Deseronto.
Jan. 31—Belleville at Napanee.
Jan. 31—Picton at Deseronto.
Feb. 4—Deseronto at Belleville.
Feb. 7—Napanee at Picton.
Feb. 7—Belleville at Trenton.
Feb. 11—Deseronto at Napanee.
Feb. 14—Belleville at Picton.
Feb. 14—Trenton at Deseronto.
Feb. 18—Napanee at Trenton.
Feb. 21—Picton at Belleville.
Feb. 21—Trenton at Napanee.
Feb. 28—Picton at Trenton.
Feb. 2j—Belleville at Deseronto.
March 7—Deseronto at Trenton.
March 7—Napanee at Belleville.
March 14—Deseronto at Picton.

T.R. AND A.A. BEAT PARKDALE.

TORONTO, Jan. 22.—Few teams have been subjected to such a checking as the Toronto R. and A. A. gave Parkdale in their senior O.H.A. fixture at the Arena last night. The superior speed of the T.R. and A.A., and their persistent checking back, enabled them to beat the Paddlers 9 to 3. The fast ice was suited to the speed of the athletic club, and, with the exception of a few minutes in the second half, the Paddlers did not appear to class with the winners. The score at the interval was 6 to 0.

WOODSTOCK'S 14-YEAR-OLD STAR.

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 22.—By a score of 17 to 3 the locals tonight triumphed over the junior O.H.A. team from Ingersoll. The half-time score was 9 to 1. The match was decidedly fast, and despite the fact that both teams lacked condition there was no let-up until the final gong had sounded. A feature of the game was the playing of Childs, a fourteen-year-old youngster, in goal for Woodstock.

OSHAWA WON AT PETERBORO'

PETERBORO', Jan. 22.—While the ice was good last night, the locals were better than Oshawa juniors, but as the surface softened the visitors were more effective and they won by a score of six to four. The locals were ahead by the score of 4 to 0 at the end of the first fifteen minutes, but this lead was reduced to 4 to 3 by half-time.

GODERICH DEFEATS SEAFORTH.

SEAFORTH, Jan. 22.—Goderich won from the locals by 6 to 5 in an intermediate O.H.A. game here last night. In the first half the locals notched 3 to the visitors' 1, but in the second half the Goderich team came back strong and scored five, holding the locals to one lone tally. McIvor in goal played a star game for Goderich.

LONDON TROUNCE BRANTFORD.

BRANTFORD, Jan. 22.—London beat the locals 18 to 4 in a loosely-played intermediate game here last night. The half-time score was 10 to 1. Watson was the only Brantford man who put up a good game, while the London team was very fast.

ANOTHER FOR MIDLAND.

MIDLAND, Jan. 22.—In the return intermediate O. H. A. game here last night Midland again showed in front all the way with the Penetang team and won by the score of 5 to 2.

K. C. I.'S BEAT PICTON.

KINGSTON, Jan. 22.—Kingston Collegiate Institute won from Picton 10 to 1 in a junior O.H.A. game here tonight.

TRENTON LOST AT HOME.

TRENTON, Jan. 22.—Peterboro' won from the locals 7 to 3 in an intermediate O.H.A. game here tonight.

COLLINGWOOD BEAT BRADFORD.

BRADFORD, Jan. 22.—Collingwood defeated the home team here last night in the intermediate O.H.A. series, by the score of 11 to 5.

According to Billy Kean of Winnipeg, an all-star hockey team, consisting of players picked from the Monarchs, Winnipegs and Victorias, will leave Winnipeg about February 15 on a tour of the principal cities of the United States and will go as far as New York. On returning it will play the final game in Toronto.

Boston Journal:—It must have been a hard blow to Canadians in this city who remained away from the Boston A. A.-Toronto game, believing that another of their teams was bound to be beaten, only to pick up the paper the next day and learn that the Unicorn seven was soundly whipped.

Angus Duford, the Ottawa amateur, may jump to the pro ranks. He has received several offers from several Maritime League teams.

The report in the Toronto papers that the Picton juniors had dropped out is incorrect.

Collingwood have retired from the senior O.H.A. series

THE INCENSE TREE

It is Small and Not a Bit Inclined to be Ornamental

Frankincense is a variety of gum that frequently forms a component of incense, but the term is not met with in commerce, to which incense means a gum that exudes from a tree flourishing in considerable quantities in British Somaliland and elsewhere. There is an inferior gum of this kind that grows in India and other countries of the East.

The incense tree seldom attains a height exceding fifteen feet. It presents a thorny and unsightly growth and thrives in desert regions. Dealers grade incense according to color—bright yellow, medium and dark yellow. The chief market for it seems to be Aden, whence it is taken by Somalis during the winter months.

DYSPEPSIA MADE HIM MISERABLE

Suffered Agony Until "Fruit-a-tives" Cured Him

Hundreds of people gladly testify to the wonderful curative powers of the famous fruit medicine, "Fruit-a-tives". To those now suffering with Indigestion, Dyspepsia or other Stomach Troubles, this letter of Mr. Stirling, the well known real estate operator of Western Ontario, shows the way to a speedy and certain cure.

GLENCOE, ONT., AUG. 15th. 1911

"Fruit-a-tives were so beneficial to me when I suffered with distressing Dyspepsia, that I wish to inform you of their satisfactory results.

Although I have, in past, suffered agony with Dyspepsia, I am now in perfect health. "Fruit-a-tives" accomplished the desired result"

N. C. STIRLING

"Fruit-a-tives" will cure every trace of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach Bloating, Pain After Eating, Biliousness and Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only remedy in the world made of fruit juices and valuable tonics.

ANIMALS AS DOCTORS

Both Wild and Domestic Creatures Know How to Treat Illness

It is held that the simple remedies of nature generally suffice to cure beasts of their ailments and that they are guided to them by instinct.

A large number of species wash themselves and bathe—elephants, stags, birds, ants, etc. Animals rid themselves of their parasites by using dust, mud and clay. Those suffering from fever restrict their diet, keep quiet, seek darkness and airy places, drink much water, and sometimes plunge into it from time to time. When a dog has lost its appetite it eats that species of grass known as "dog's grass." Cats also eat grass and catnip, when sick. Sheep and cows in the same circumstances seek out certain herbs. An animal suffering from chronic rheumatism invariably keeps as much as possible in the sun. The warrior ants maintain regularly organized ambulances.

Latreille cut the antennae of an ant. Other ants covered the wounded part with a transparent fluid from their mouths. If a chimpanzee is wounded it stops the flow of blood by placing its hand on the wound or dressing it with leaves and grass.

A terrier had an injured eye. It remained lying under a counter, avoiding heat and light, although it had been its habit to keep close to the fire. It adopted a general treatment—rest and abstinence from food. The local treatment consisted in licking the upper surface of its paw, which it then applied to the wounded eye, again licking the paw when it became dry.

Cats also when hurt treat themselves by this simple method.

Gasoline in Mines

Gasoline locomotives are made in England that can be used safely in mines, their ignition taking place within tight boxes, while they exhaust through water.

New Rubber Plant

A species of tree of unlimited growth in Natal, heretofore regarded as worthless commercially, has been found to yield a juice that contains rubber in large qantities.

French scientists have devised an X-rays method of determining the relative values of various kinds of coal.

Systematic exercises, according to tests in a German university, can be made to increase a man's lung capacity 12 per cent.

A Scientific Discovery

Relation of Disease to Microbic Life—Its Application in Treatment of Catarrh.

It is now an established fact that microbic life is the cause of throat and nasal catarrh, and to cure the disease the microbes must be killed.

Many remedies have been tried—snuffs washes and ointments; but they have all proved ineffectual because they do not reach the affected parts.

Late scientific investigation has produced a specific for all diseases of the nasal and respiratory organs caused by germ life.

This pleasant remedy called "Catarrhozone" recalls more than anything else the rich balsamic scent of the pine woods so eagerly sought by invalids in the Adirondacks. When breathed through the inhaler it vaporizes very rapidly and reaches all the affected parts, destroying the microbic life that causes diseases such as Catarrh, Asthma, and Bronchitis.

Catarrhozone acts energetically as a stimulant to the mucous tissues of the throat, nasal passages, and bronchial tubes, thus relieving congestion and quickly restoring to a healthy condition every part affected by Catarrh.

For speakers and singers and persons troubled with an irritable throat, bronchitis, asthma, catarrh, or la grippe, Catarrhozone is of inestimable value.

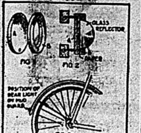
The inhaler can be carried in your pocket and may be used at any time or in any place. Catarrhozone is a guaranteed cure and never fails to permanently cure the most chronic cases. Price $1.00 at all druggists, or direct by mail to any address by the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

NEW DANGER SIGNAL

English Automobilists Furnish the "Red Light" for the Fellows Ahead

In order to make the roads of England safe for automobilists, it is necessary for cyclists or others who may to a greater or less extent "obstruct" the way, to carry red lights.

It might sound very foolish to state that all the people who obstruct the road do is to furnish the red color for the light and that the automobilist is compelled to provide the light himself. This is true nevertheless and in spite of the fact that the fast travelling auto must furnish every ray of the light, it is possible for him to do it while going at the rate of 60 miles an hour and to light up the obstruction with a red brilliance while he is yet 100 yards away.



This puzzling condition of things is so simple that the explanation sounds almost absurd. The principle is easily understood in the description given of a new rear "light" for motor cycles which has become rather popular in England.

A glass marble is cut in half and mounted on a wooden base consisting of a flat disk of wood and a ring of the same material to hold the marble to the disk. (Fig. 1). Between the wood of the disk and the flat surface of the half marble is placed a piece of shiny ruby colored paper. (Fig. 2). The parts are then glued together and the under side of the disk is attached to the rear mud guard of the motor cycle or bicycle. (Fig. 3). The brilliant light from the head light of an automobile strikes the glass marble and is instantly reflected back as though it was a red light.

WIRE CLOTHES HANGER

It Can be Used Equally Well for Skirts or Trousers

It is easy enough to obtain a coat hanger that will keep a coat or cloak in fairly good shape, but trousers and skirts offer a problem that the person careful with his or her clothes finds difficult to solve.

A Montreal man seems to have arrived at a way out of the difficulty. He secured a piece of heavy iron wire about 4 feet long and bent it to form a perfect circle. He then doubled the wire until it formed two half circles, with the point where the joint in the original circle came at the apex of one of the halves. He attached a hook to both halves just at this point, so that the hook and two wires were firmly fastened together. Then he bent up the ends as shown in Fig. 3.

By hooking the bent ends under the buttons of his trousers on each side he had a trouser hanger that was perfect, and with spring enough to keep the trousers tight at the waistband.

The same sort of a hook, made smaller, will do for a skirt if loops are made in the waistband of the skirt through which the bent ends of the hanger can pass.

SAVE YOUR THUMB

This is the Proper Way to Crack Nuts and Avoid Profanity

The nutting season comes once a year, but nuts are obtainable at all times. Now, there is no real reason why careless people should subject their hands to vicious poundings in the process of cracking nuts. A nut cracking block is the device that relieves human kind of this burden. The block can be any size or thickness, just so it is thick enough to permit the sinking of a few holes of different sizes to hold different size nuts.

Holes in block for nuts

The nuts are then placed in these holes and hammered at will. Another feature of this little aid to sunny dispositions is that the nuts are cracked in much better form for eating, as the force of the blow can be better regulated, as well as the amount of nut that is struck and the place where the striking takes effect.

Cross Atlantic in 3 Days

Spanish interests are planning to build a railroad from the straits of Gibraltar to the point in Africa nearest South America, whence the Atlantic could be crossed by steamer in three days, reducing the time between Spain and Brazil to five days.

And some men seem to have corns on their intellects.

If you have a shadow of suspicion, keep it dark.

A CITY WITH A PAST

Salonica Once a Kingdom and Scene of Labors of Apostle Paul

Salonica is one of the oldest cities in Europe, and bears the scars of a hundred wars in its ancient ruins and relics. It was built on the shores of the Aegean Sea near the site of the still more ancient Greek City of Therma, which derived its name from the neighboring hot springs. The founder of Salonica was Cassander, and it was named after his wife Thessalonica, the sister of Alexander the Great, in 315 B.C. The city rapidly became important both from a commercial and from a military point of view. There the Apostle Paul founded a flourishing Christian colony, to which the two epistles to the Thessalonians were written.

For two thousand years Salonica appears to have been more receptive of new ideas than most other cities, and becoming part of the Turkish Empire it enjoyed more freedom than any other Turkish city. It was in Salonica that the movement of the New Turks was cradled, if indeed it was not born there. It was in Paris that the first congress of the elements that were destined to overthrow Abdul Hamid was held, but some years before this Salonica had given birth to a "committee of liberty" that merged with the larger body.

Insurrection was no new thing for the citizens of Salonica, for in the fourth century it is recorded that 7,000 of them found guilty of rebellion were massacred by the Emperor Theodosius. In the seventh century the Macedonians sought to capture the city, but they found that the citizens of Salonica were stubborn fighting men and though the invaders were assisted by an earthquake, which threw the defenders into disorder, the attacks were repulsed with heavy loss.

More successful was the invasion of Stephen of Bulgaria, who forced Salonica to grant him many valuable trade concessions and other rights a couple of hundred years later. It is interesting to note that under this treaty, made a thousands years ago Bulgaria still claims control of the city. There were several subsequent conquests, notably that of the Sicilian Normans in 1185. Later on the conqueror of Constantinople, Baldwin conferred the city upon the Marquis of Montserrat, and in the transfer it is called a kingdom. The Marquis did not remain long in enjoyment of his toy crown, for shortly afterwards Theodore of Epirus acquired possession. Thereafter the title was bandied about among several royal houses, and gradually became extinct when the Turk became master of Macedonia.

To-day Salonica retains memorials of its former greateness in the form of some famous old buildings, nor is it without present-day importance since it has a population of 130,000. It is the terminus of four railroads and has a commerce of $12,000,000 a year.

KING GEORGE'S KEYS

King George is not bothered with that bugbear of most men, a pocket bunch of keys. The only key which his Majesty carries about is one which opens the private writing desk in the library of each of the Royal residences, the several desks being all fitted with an identical lock. The key in question is quite a tiny one, and is attached to the end of the King's watch-chain and worn in the waistcoat pocket.

His Majesty's private keys are kept in the writing desk in the King's own room wherever he may be staying. There are only eight in the bunch.

One locks or unlocks the bureau in the writing-room at Buckingham Palace, containing a number of the late King Edward's private papers, another gives access to a safe in which are kept books and documents relating to the most important private affairs of the Royal family; whilst a third opens the fireproof case containing the King's unique collection of postage stamps, the finest in the world.

No one ever handles these keys except his Majesty himself or his trusty private secretaries, Lord Knollys and Lord Stamfordham.

A KING'S GOLD WATCH

Time-Piece Still Treasured Which Murat Gave to Russian Soldier

In an obituary of a Colonel Tchernozouboff in a Russian provincial paper an extraordinary story is retailed in which is bound up a romatic episode.

Among the colonel's effects was a gold watch, on the case of which was the inscription: "Eléonore à Joachim Ne m'oublie pas!"

Upon this "Do-not-forget-me" watch hung a tale of the great war. In 1812 the colonel was a simple Cossack, in a regiment engaged in harrying the French retreat; while Murat was King of Naples, and in command of the French cavalry. It was on the eve of Borodino; and Murat, galloping ahead of his squadron, was cut off and surrounded. It looked as though he was doomed.

The range was short and the Cossacks were about to fire, when Tchernozouboff intervened. "Present arms!" he cried chivalrously. "Hurrah for the King of the Brave!" Murat had time to put spurs to his horse and ride away.

As the King rode off he took out his gold watch, gave it as a souvenir to the Cossack who had saved him. Platoff, the Hetman of the Cossacks admiring Tchernozouboff's chivalry, gave him his commission, and made him his aide-de-camp.

The watch was thereafter treasured as an heirloom in the Tchernozouboff family, though they received an offer of no less than 20,000 roubles for it.

Some men try to realize on their opportunities before they arrive.

Better a tramp in the woods than one in the kitchen.

SKILLED HELP NEEDED

Dominion Grange Plans an Immigration Campaign.

Farmers in Convention at Toronto Decide to Maintain an Organizer Who Will Make an Effort to Get the Right Class of Farmer Brought in From Great Britain—Against Federal Roads and Navy.

TORONTO, Jan. 23.—Because the shortage of labor continues to be one of the greatest setbacks on Ontario farms, the Dominion Grange, at their meeting in Victoria Hall last night decided to work in co-operation with the Government and other immigration agencies in bringing out skilled farmers from the old country. J. J. Morrison of Arthur, Ont., who has been secretary of the Grange, at their number of years, was offered the position of permanent organizer. He has not yet accepted. It is the intention of the Grange to organize in all parts of the country, and it will be one of the duties of the new organizer to put forth every effort to get the right class of men from the old country. It is also likely that the Grange will appoint a man to work in England to select properly-qualified farm hands.

According to one of the speakers last night, thousand of dollars were lost last year because farmers could not employ men to help reap the harvests. This loss was especially heavy in connection with the apple crops. Thousands of bushels of apples were left on the trees because men of any sort were unobtainable. In order to overcome this serious difficulty the Grange has decided not to rely on the Salvation Army and the Government immigration agencies, but to take a hand in the business of bringing out farm hands themselves.

The naval question caused considerable discussion. The attitude of the Grange was decidedly against a donation of any sort to Great Britain, it being the belief that a large contribution or the establishment of a navy was unnecessary, and threw additional burdens upon the shoulders of the farmer, who had sufficient trouble in meeting taxes. It was decided to draw up a petition to the Government, asking that the question be put to the people and let their decision be final.

The Grange's attitude on the naval question is expressed in the resolution which follows and which was unanimously carried by a standing vote:—"Prior to the last general election we were told by Mr. Borden that we should have a chance to pronounce upon the whole question of the navy, if he and his party were returned to power. The public generally understood his promise to be clear and definite and they accepted it in good faith. Now they are confronted with the prospect of handing over $35,000,000 to the British Admiralty without any constitutional means of protesting against the same."

Mr. Glendenning delivered his annual address to the Grange during the morning session. Every phrase of farming was dealt with in a forceful manner by the master. He again declared the necessity of reciprocity with the United States of natural products and an increase of British preference. Some of the things he favored were: Parcels post system, local option in assessment reform and a referendum on the naval question. He denounced militarism in schools. He declared that farmers in general were suffering heavy taxation to assist favored interests, "which tried to pay dividends on stock, much of which is watered."

"Shortage of labor on the farm continues to be one of the greatest hindrances to successful farming. Electricity has been put forward as a soluton of this vexed problem. There is no doubt but electrical power would assist in many ways in reducing manual labor on the farms, but the prices quoted for power by the Hydro-Electric Commission put electrical power out of the question with the average farmer."

"It has been proposed by the Federal Government to expend a large sum of money in building leading roads through the country for the benefit of farmers. There are very few roads in the country that can be called leading roads. Towns, villages, and railway stations are plentiful, and all roads leading to these places, which are only a few miles in length, are the leading roads so far as farmers are concerned. Few farmers take long drives other from choice or necessity in these days. The agitation for this good roads scheme, for the benefit of the farmers, has come from men in cities, towns and villages, who are interested in automobiles, either as manufacturers, salesmen or owners. We are opposed to any expenditure on roads by the Federal Government. We believe that roads should be built by the provinces and municipalities."

In the afternoon an abundance of resolutions touching on various subjects were passed and will be sent to the Provincial and Federal Governments. The Grange went on record against militarism in public schools. A resolution in favor of local option in taxation pointed out that municipal and county councils should have the right to exempt improvements if they saw fit to do so. In the resolution on the naval policy, the grange pointed out that it was against a contribution or a Canadian navy and that the people, and not politicians, should have the final say. They desired that a referendum containing three questions should be submitted to the people, these to be; 1. A contribution of Dreadnoughts; 2. a Canadian navy, and, 3, to remain as we are. Resolutions favoring reciprocity of natural products with the United States and wider preference were also passed.

WINNIPEG GRAIN MARKET.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 22.—On the wheat market today trading was quiet and peices lower. Opening figures were ¼c to ⅜c lower, but later firmed up in sympathy with corn and oats. During the later hours the market was dull and the announcement that peace was actually concluded had no apparent effect on prices.

Cash demand was quiet and offerings heavy, while export trade was inactive, quotations being out of line. On contract grades there was a decline of ⅛c to ⅜c. Tough grades were ½c lower for all but No. 3, which advanced ½c, and No. 6, which advanced ¼c.

Oats opened unchanged, closing unchanged to ⅛c lower on the options, while cash oats were unchanged at ⅛c to ¼c higher.

Flax was in better demand and prices firmer. Options closed ¼c to ½c up, and flax ½c higher for Nos. 1 and 2, while No. 3 closed unchanged. Deliveries thru the clearing house were 5000 bushels wheat.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN MARKET.

Corn—No. 3 yellow, 42⅝c to 44c.

Oats—No. 3 white, 31½c to 31¾c.

Rye—No. 2, 57c to 59c.

Bran—$19.50.

CATTLE MARKETS

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

MONTREAL, Jan. 22.—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market, the receipts for the week ended Jan. 18 were 1400 cattle, 1500 sheep and lambs, 1295 hogs and 375 calves. Offerings on the market today were 1600 cattle, 500 sheep and lambs, 1300 hogs and 300 calves.

A week feeling prevailed in the market for cattle and prices generally ruled lower, owing to the fact that the supply was far in excess of the requirements of the trade and especially so as the bulk of the offerings consisted of common and medium stock for which there is only limited demand at this period of the year, and particularly so for the former. At the reduction in prices the trade was slow thruout the day and a number were left over unsold. A few of the best steers brought as high as $6.25 to $6.50, but the bulk of the trading was done at $6 while cows sold at from $3 to $5, and bulls at from $3 to $4.50 per cwt. as to quality.

There was no change in the condition of the market for sheep or lambs, prices being firm on account of the small supplies available and the continued good demand for the same. Sales of choice ewe sheep were made at $5.25 to $5.50 and bucks and culls at $4 to $4.50, while lambs brought $7 to $7.25 and $7.50 per cwt., as to quality. The demand for calves was fair at prices ranging from $3 to $10 each.

A weaker feeling developed in the market for hogs in sympathy with Toronto. Sales of selected lots were made at $8.75 to $9.25 per cwt. weighed on cars.

EAST BUFFALO LIVE STOCK.

EAST BUFFALO, Jan. 22.—Cattle—Receipts 50 head; steady.

Veals—Receipts, 75; active and steady at $4 to $12.

Hogs—Receipts, 3000; fairly active; heavy, 5c lower; light, strong; heavy, $7.75 to $7.90; mixed, $7.90 to $8; yorkers, and pigs, $8 to $8.10; roughs, $7 to $7.10; stags, $5.50 to $6.50; dairies, $7.60 to $8.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 2000; sheep, slow and steady; lambs, active; lambs and yearlings, 20c to 25c higher; lambs, $6 to $9.60; yearlings, $5 to $8.50; wethers, $6.25 to $6.50; ewes, $3.50 to $5.85; sheep, mixed, $4.50 to $6.15.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22. — Cattle — Receipts, 14,000; market steady to 10c higher. Beeves, $6 to $9.15; Texas steers $4.70 to $5.70; stockers and feeders, $4.90 to $7.65; cows and heiferr, $2.70 to $7.25; calves, $7 to $10.85.

Hogs—Receipts, 44,000; market weak; 5c to 10c lower; light, $7.20 to $7.50; mixed, $7.25 to $7.52½; heavy, $7.05 to $7.52½; rough, $7.05 to $7.20; pigs, $6 to $7.35; bulk of sales, $7.40 to $7.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 28,000; market closed weak; 10c to 15c lower; native, $4.90 to $6.35; western, $5 to $6.35; yearlings, $6.60 to $8.25; lambs, native, $7 to $9.23.

GLASGOW LIVE STOCK.

GLASGOW, Jan. 22.—Messrs. Watson and Batchelor, cattle importers, report all classe of cattle in good demand this week. Scotch steers 16¼c to 17½c, Irish 14c to 16c, according to quality.

TURKEY ACCEPTS FATE

Peace Is Now Assured in the Balkan Conflict.

Elder Statesmen of the Ottoman Empire Yield to Demand Sent by the Powers and Now Only Details of Completing the Treaty Remain to Be Considered—Allies Are Discussing Question of War Indemnity.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The plenipotentiaries of the Balkan kingdoms are immensely pleased over the decision of the Grand Council at Constantinople to accept the advice of the powers. While it had become increasingly certain in the past 48 hours that the Turkish elder statesmen were prepared to face the bitter fate that ends the Empire's history as an European nation, it was hardly expected that they would register their decision so quickly and so definitely.

This is so unlike the customary Turkish tactics that some suspicion is entertained, without supporting proof, that Turkey might still have cards up her sleeve.

The Porte's reply to the joint note of the powers will be handed to the ambassadors to-day, however, and the remainder of the negotiations leading to the signing of the peace treaty are expected to be an anti-climax.

One crucial point of difference remains to be settled in the question of indemnity. The allies propose to levy a heavy payment upon the defeated nation. They speak of $200,000,000 as an adequate sum. Their minimum is an amount equal to the Turkish debts attached to the territories which they will annex under the treaty.

The Turks are likely to contest the indemnity strongly, and the bankrupt condition of their country furnishes them with a potent argument for an appeal to the powers. The negotiations over the settlement of minor questions and for the taking over of the conquered province will occupy a considerable time, and it will be some weeks before the treaty is signed.

M. Novakovitch, the ex-Premier of Servia, said last night:

"The Turks seem finally to have recovered the faculty of reasoning, but why to-day instead of six weeks ago, as they must pay what our four armies have been costing us all this time. We have not yet set down figures for the indemnity, but we have practically decided on what basis it is to be calculated and how it is to be divided among the allies.

"Each Balkan state will take as a basis the number of soldiers it put in the field, averaging the cost of each soldier during the time the country has been on a war footing.

"The sooner Turkey concludes peace the less he will have to pay. The powers must help us in this question also, as the indemnity will be employed to pay the share of the Ottoman debt falling upon us proportionately to the territories we acquire."

MAY FORCE GREY OUT.

If Suffrage Amendment Is Killed He Will Resign.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—A cable to The Tribune from London says:

The woman suffrage agitation has developed an exceedingly grave aspect, the following statement was made on high authority last night:

"If the suffrage amendments is defeated and Sir Edward Grey feels that the decision has not been arrived at on the pure merits of the case and without consideration of any possible danger to the Government, he will feel compelled to vote against the franchise bill on third reading and resign.

"It was on this understanding that no consideration except that of suffrage should be allowed to enter into the division that Sir Edward Grey agreed to the course adopted by the Cabinet on this question, and Mr. Asquith will probably make it plain this week that that is the attitude adopted by the Cabinet."

FAVORS NEW PORTFOLIO.

N. W. Rowell Would Have Ministry of Labor and Health.

KINGSTON, Jan. 23.—To an audience that filled the city hall, N. W. Rowell, K.C., last night spoke on tax reform, working man's compensation, and abolishing the bar. Lt.-Col. R. E. Kent, president of the Liberal Association, was in the chair. Before Mr. Rowell was called upon speeches were delivered by Dr. A. W. Richardson, Ald. T. F. Harrison, and Elmer Davis, while J. C. Elliott, M.P.P., West Middlesex, followed.

Mr. Rowell spoke for an hour, his remarks on three subjects were punctuated with applause, and at the close he was tendered an enthusiastic reception by his followers.

He first took up the workingmen's compensation act, and said it was absolutely necessary that in Ontario we should have a Department of Labor and public health to work out problems which had to do with workingmen. "And I promise you that if the Liberals are returned to power such a department will be opened, with a Minister of the Crown at the head, whose business it will be to look after the interest of the workingmen," he said. He scored the present Government for not providing proper legislation for the welfare of the workingman, and charged that the Government had the matter up for six years, yet had not acted.

"Sir James Whitney does not like to be termed unprogressive," he added, "and claims to have been misrepresented in his stand on the matter. If Sir James describes his attitude as not one of hostility, but as one who desires to consider all suggestions offered, what would his attitude become on a measure he really did oppose?"

Discoverer of Tuberculosis Cure Indignant at Fake Remedies.

BERLIN, Jan. 23.—Dr. Friedmann—indignant over the fact of certain physicians declaring they are in possession of his tuberculosis serum, whereas he declares what they have is ineffective or positively harmful—will place his remedy at the disposal of the Minister of the Interior today.

One prominent Berlin physician attempted to get Friedmann bacilli from the body of a man who had been inoculated by Friedmann, and asserts he succeeded.

Others secured cultures from the bacteriologist with whom Friedmann conducted some experiments twelve years ago, and who has been claiming he preserved the original culture. Friedmann had not planned to disclose the remedy so soon, but declares he is unwilling to have his name associated with serums being employed by his rivals, many of whom, moreover, have been attacking him bitterly. Friedmann has been deluged with offers to visit America and personally introduce his serum, and has about decided to do so.

MISS GOULD MARRIED.

Multimillionairess' Wedding Is Quiet Affair.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—In the presence of seventy-five relatives and friends gathered in the spacious and flower-bedecked parlor of Lyndhurst at Irvington-on-the-Hudson, Miss Helen Miller Gould, daughter of the late Jay Gould, admired or beloved by thousands of person whom she has befriended, became yesterday the bride of Finley J. Shepard, eastern representative of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, whom she met in the exciting moments of a railroad wreck.

Simplicity was the dominant note of the wedding ceremony, and the great house, which might have been crowded with friends who would have been glad to have honored the bride, gave admission only to a limited number of relatives and most intimate friends.

Numerous and beautiful as were the wedding presents seen at Lyndhurst yesterday, they were but a part of the many tokens of love bestowed upon the bride not only by her immediate friends and relatives but by the officers and men of the United States navy, by whom she is held in high esteem for her work in behalf of the naval branch of the Young Men's Christian Association and by many other organizations to which she has given aid.

Royal Bank Plans Twenty-Storey Skyscraper in Toronto.

TORONTO, Jan. 23.—Six months from now the Empire's tallest building will be commenced at King and Yonge street, Toronto. On the northeast corner the Royal Bank building will loom twenty storeys high. Plans were yesterday passed by the Board of Control, with a recommendation that council approve.

This twenty-storey structure puts Toronto right into the front row on this continent. Few American cities can boast of twenty-storey buildings, nor of such a costly and attractive lot as Toronto will own when those buildings now projected are finished. This will be a record year in building permits.

The Hospital Donations Discussed

To the Editor of The Intelligencer.

Dear Sir,—I notice in The Intelligencer that subscriptions are requested from the citizens of Belleville to supplement the most generous offer of Mr. Bausch of Rochester for the purpose of equipping an operating room in the Belleville General Hospital with every up-to-date facility that modern operating room requires.

I also observe that the citizens of Belleville are not tumbling over each other in their anxiety to hand their subscriptions in [illegible].

Some people account for the slowness with which subscriptions are received by saying that Belleville has had several subscription campaigns in recent years and that the people are not able to subscribe more. This is not a reason, but rather an excuse, as I can think of one hundred men in this city who could give from $50.00 to $100.00 or more each to this most worthy object and never miss the amount from their bank accounts, notwithstanding generous subscriptions made by them for other purposes in recent years, and I know scores of other persons who could give give from $5.00 to $25.000 and never suffer from one want.

There are two other excuses (not reasons) offered for not subscribing in this instance which on the surface appear to indicate some justification.

1st. Some people have the impression that the operating room in the Hospital is well enough equipped for all purposes, and in proof of this they point to the successful operations performed in it during past years.

2nd.—Others say that the doctors get all the benefit from the operating room in the hospital, and if they want anything better let them pay, the whole cost themselves.

Now these two arguments are used by some in sincerity, but all those who know the situation will agree with me when I say that they are both unfair and a complete misapprehension of the matter.

I frankly confess that six months ago I thought the operating room in the Belleville Hospital the most complete and up-to-date I had ever seen. This is an absolute truth, simply because I had not seen any other operating room up to that date, and therefore was not not in a position to judge. (I wonder how many people in Belleville are at present in exactly the same position as I was then).

When, however, I recently stepped into an operating room in New York City and found it equipped with every conceivable appliance for surgical work that human skill could provide my pride in the operating room in the Belleville Hospital was completely shattered in a moment of time. Later on I was able to examine this same operating room and others in the same Hospital together with their splendid equipment and hundreds of instruments. I said to myself "The surgeons of Belleville must be a mighty clever lot if they can get along with the operating room in the Belleville Hospital while the surgeons of New York find it absolutely necessary to have every possible equipment up to the very last minute.

Being a mechanic myself, I can fully appreciate what it means to a surgeon to have a complete equipment and the very best tools for his work.

Therefore, argument No. 1 is not a good one in actual experience or fact.

Now in reference to the doctors getting all the benefit. Permit me to point out that a new and up to date operating room would not increase the surgeons' fees one dollar. Their fees would be just the same in a new operating room as in the old. The only advantage that would come to them would be to have at hand every facility to perform operations and the satisfaction every expert workman has in up to date tools for his work, and the great satisfaction of knowing that everything possible has been done to save the patient's life.

It is only fair to bear in mind that statistics prove that even in small hospitals like the one in Belleville, fully fifty per cent of the operations are performed on charity patients for which the surgeons do not receive one cent.

Therefore, argument No. 2 must be abandoned.

Now, as an actual fact, the people who will benefit by a new and up to date operating room are the patients who lie on the operating table, and they alone. With me there is no room for argument on this point as my recent experience has demonstrated this fact very clearly.

The strong, healthy man may think he may never need an operation; therefore, he should not be interested. If he only knew it, he is the very man who should be interested. The man who is blessed with buoyant, exuberant health, ought to get down on his knees every day and thank Providence for his priceless blessing.

His gratitude ought to be infinitely greater than that of the man who gets sick and recovers as he is liable to get sick again. No man can put a true estimate on good health. But don't boast, Mr. Healthy Man, too soon as you (or possibly one of your family) may be the next one on the table, notwithstanding present health, and if you are, my word for it, you will be mighty thankful if the Belleville Hospital has a new operating room equipped with every appliance for saving life up to the last minute, as the surgeons may need every equipment together with their very highest skill to save your life.

This appeal to the citizens of Belleville by the Hospital Board is in my judgment one of the most important presented to Belleville people for years and deserves a quick and generous response.

It is the great pressing need of the sick and suffering requiring surgical operations and I do not know of a more Christian act any man can perform than to help this worthy cause.

I may not be quite orthodox, but I am strongly convinced that the highest type, the highest form, the highest expression of religion is service to our fellows.

Therefore, my fellow citizens of Belleville, remember that if you may never need an operating room yourself, scores of other people do, and it is your privilege and duty to help the other fellow. He cannot equip the room alone, nor possibly can you, but we can each do a share in humanity's cause. I would like no better commendation than this: "Inasmuch as ye did it unto the least of these, my brethren, ye did it unto Me." Nor would you, my reader.

Now, Mr. Editor, notwithstanding that my expenses last year for sickness alone, were almost enough with Mr. Bausch's subscription to equip this room, and might justly be offered as an excuse for not subscribing even to this worthy object, I must have a part in this undertaking, and you may put my name down for $50.00. I cannot do less, and I would be delighted to do more. Surely, my fellow citizen, your obligation to "the other fellow" in the Belleville Hospital is just as great as mine, and if not, it surely is as great as that of Mr. Bausch, a stranger from the United States whose only interest in our Hospital is his gratitude for the care he received while a patient in it and the startling impression he received that a new operating room is imperatively needed at once.

If the people of Belleville fully realized what an invaluable asset they have in their Hospital, which has been brought to its present high standard by the splendid managerial skill of the ladies in our city and the splendid hospital staff, there would be no need to solicit subscriptions, as sufficient voluntary subscriptions would constantly be received for all its needs.

I should be sorry indeed if it were necessary for some people to travel, even for a little time, along the border line of the Great Eternal in order to realize this fact. I should much prefer that they take my word for it and as an expression of their appreciation of their good health send in at once a generous subscription to this good cause.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space in your paper, I am,

Yours respectfully,
HENRY PRINGLE.

Belleville, Jan. 22, 1913.

"You are Looking Older Than When I Saw You Last"

Have You Ever Had THIS Said of You Because of Grey Hairs?

It is most embarrassing to have a friend remark that you are "Looking Older."

Grey hairs are NOT becoming, people may tell you so, but they are saying to themselves:—"What a pity. She is not old. And she used to have such BEAUTIFUL hair."

There is one quick, absolutely sure, easy way of getting rid of grey or faded hair — simply use HAY'S HAIR HEALTH.

Benefit by the experience of thousands of others, who are using HAY'S HAIR HEALTH. It brings back the fine, glossy, brilliant color of your hair—restores the grey hairs to their natural color immediately, and keeps the scalp free from dandruff.

Druggists the world over have been interested in the number of women who voluntarily recommend HAY'S HAIR HEALTH. It is not unusual for them to say: "I want to tell others about it. It's perfectly splendid." Try it yourself, today. You'll be surprised how quickly the grey hairs disappear.

FREE: Sign this adv. and take it to any of the following druggists and get a 50c. size bottle of HAY'S HAIR HEALTH and 1 cake of HARFINA SOAP FREE, for 50c; or $1 size bottle of HAY'S HAIR HEALTH and 2 cakes of HARFINA SOAP FREE, for $1.

The "Y" is Not The Y. M. C. A.

Many have an idea when they see reports of the "Y" that it is the Y. M. C. A. Well! this is not the case. The "Y" would like to impress on your readers that "Y" means the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union. As this is rather a lengthy title, it was shortened to the "Y" and is used all around the world.

Our Canadian "Y" has a motto, "To make this life worth while and Heaven a surer heritage." With this thought in mind our local "Y" is putting on a series of public meetings on the 4th Tuesday evening of each month in the Baptist Church, to which the general public, men, women, boys and girls are cordially invited. However it takes the exception to serve the rule and the exception is next Tuesday evening when only girls from 14 to 80 are invited, and realizing that variety is the spice of life, the "Y" the having Miss Green, the very efficient Supt. of our Belleville General Hospital, give a talk for girls on "Health" with recitations and music by local talents. A social half hour will be spent in conversation and refreshments. This programme will be interesting to our women and girls and well worth hearing, also out of the ordinary as will also the February programme, when three essays wil be given by the winers in our Prize Essay Contest.

The "Y" girls wish to thank those that so thoughtfully gave their Christmas work also for the library fund.

A "Y" Member.

GRATEFUL MOTHER!

What Zam-Buk Did For Their Little Ones.

Thousands of mothers in Canada owe a debt of gratitude to Zam-Buk for its cure of their children, and hundreds of them are not slow to recognize the claim.

Mrs. J. Quiding, of Ninette, Man., says: "My little boy was suffering very badly from a form of skin disease over his eye. I applied Zam-Buk to the affected part, and in a very short time the sores were completely healed."

Mrs. F. Miners, of 311 Suffolk St., Guelph, Ont., says: "My little daughter Lorinda (6), contracted a skin disease. This first broke out like tiny water blisters, afterwards taking the form of dry scabs. These would disappear for a short time, and then reappear worse than ever.

"We tried Zam-Buk, and with each application the irritation and soreness were greatly relieved and the child rested easier. Perseverance with Zam-Buk worked a complete cure."

All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. Refuse harmful substitutes.

Annual Meeting of St. Andrews Church

The annual congregational meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church of this city was held last evening and many members of the church attended the same. Rev. A. S. Kerr, pastor, presided over the deliberations.

The reports presented were of an encouraging nature, and showed the church to be in a progressive condition.

MANAGER'S REPORT.

The Manager's report showed the total receipts for the year to be $5,256.24.

The receipts for missions from all sources was $1,280.

The Managers especially acknowledge the signal services rendered to the congregation by the Ladies' Aid during the year. The beautifying of the church grounds was initiated, carried out, and paid for by the Ladies' Aid, in addition to providing for the interest on the mortgage. For these and other services we record our grateful thanks, and we are sure the congregation will unite heartily with us in appreciation of the efforts of the Ladies' Aid.

The Managers recognise the great importance of the choir in the services of the church, and feel that they were most fortunate in securing the services of Mrs. A. P. Allen to conduct and lead the praise services of the congregation.

Mrs. Allen's enthusiasm and musical ability is already seen in the good work of the choir and our young organist, Miss Fenn, is ably assisting in the improvement of the music of the church.

The thanks of the Managers and congregation are due, and most heartily given to all members of the choir, to the Treasurer for their services during the year, and to the Sunday School Teachers for their faithful interest in the young.

It is with deep regret that we have to record the death of Mr. W. P. Hudson, who for many years was a faithful member of the Board of Managers, where his genial personality will be much missed.

With united effort and zeal the congregation look forward to the year 1913 for better results in every branch of the work of our church.

THOS. STEWART,
Chairman.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The Sunday School report showed that the average attendance of teachers and officers and scholars was 200, or an increase of 20 over last year. The high water mark in the matter of attendance was reached on Rally Day when the attendance numbered 268. The total enrollment of scholars is 258 and teachers and officers 35, making a total of 293.

Reports were presented from the Women's Foreign Missionary Auxiliary, the Ladies' Aid and St. Andrew's Guild, all of which were well received.

The office bearers for the ensuing year are as follows:—

KIRK SESSION.

Rev. A. S. Kerr, M.A., Moderator; W. J. Campbell, Clerk; Wm. Tennent, Wm. McGie, W. C. Reid, W. H. Hudson, A. Leslie, John Fenn, B. Mallory, W. D. Horie, Wm. McIntosh.

The Golf Caddie.

The earliest known use of the appellation "caddie," and then called "cadie," is to be found in the London Morning Penny Post, when George II. was still on the throne and the "Forty-five" was in very immediate popular remembrance. News from Scotland had it that "one Duncan Grant, a discharged soldier, who has passed in Edinburgh sometimes as a street cadie," had incurred a heavy penalty for a rather trivial swindle in a transaction over herrings. He was to be taken from the Tolbooth and "put in the Pillory, to stand for the Space of an Hour, with half a Dozen Herrings about his Neck, and thereafter to be banished the City of Liberties for ever."

It was a rough sort of making the punishment fit the crime which some irate golfers would desire to revive for their caddies even in this more humane age.—Westminster Gazette.

Japan's Musical Trio.

In Japan a favorite musical instrument is the kokiu, a kind of two stringed violin. It is supposed to have had the same origin as the violin and to have been brought to Japan by the Portuguese about 300 years ago. The kokiu is played with a bow, like the violin, but instead of being held under the chin is held vertically upon the lap by the left hand. The samisen and kokiu are often used to accompany the koto, and when played together they are called "the musical trio" by the Japanese. The samisen is the most generally played by the people.

WHY CHINESE ARE HARDY

Bad Sanitary Conditions There Cause Only Fittest to Survive

Peculiar power to resist disease is a characteristic of the Chinese, according to Professor E. A. Ross. For instance, out of ten children born in western homes three, normally the weakest three, will fail to grow up; out of ten children born in China about eight are doomed to die in infancy. The difference is due to the hardships that infant life meets with among the Chinese, and with such rigorous selection there results a stock displaying a peculiar hardiness. Living in the supersaturated, manstified land, profoundly ignorant of the principles of hygiene, the masses have developed an immunity to noxious microbes which excites the wonder and envy of the foreigner.

"They are not affected by a mosquito bite that will raise a large lump on the lately come foreigner," says Professor Ross. "They can use contaminated water from canals without incurring dysentery. There is very little typhoid, and what there is is so attenuated it was long doubted to be typhoid. The physicians agree that among the Chinese smallpox is a mild disease. The chief of the army medical staff points out that during the autumn manœuvres the soldiers sleep on damp ground with a little straw under them without any ill effects.

"Coolies, after two hours of burden-bearing at a dog trot, will shovel themselves full of hot rice, with scarcely any mastication, and hurry on for another two hours. A white man would writhe with indigestion. The Chinese seem able to sleep in any position. I have seen them sleeping on piles of bricks, or stones, or poles, with a block or a brick for a pillow and with the hot sun shining full in their face. They stand a cramped position longer than we can and can keep on longer at monotonous toil unrelieved by change or break."

Newspapers and Children

Some one has asked the question:—"Shall we allow our boys and girls to read the newspapers?" Of course, we all know why such a question is asked. There is much in our daily paper we wish might be eliminated; the murder trials, divorce proceedings, crimes without number in all their revolting aspects, and what Lowell calls the "stagnant goose ponds of village gossip." But, since fathers and mothers read the daily paper, they cannot consistently prohibit their children from doing the same. In its way, the newspaper is a great educator. It brings us each day in touch with the whole world. Its recapitulation of current events is timely and helpful. The newspaper is a necessity. We could not spare it from our table, in spite of its faults. There are newspapers and newspapers. It is for each parent to bring into his home as clean a sheet as he can, knowing that the innocent eyes of his little children will scan its pages.—Suburban Life.

TONS OF BIBLES PRINTED YEARLY

Enormous Output of One Great Publishing House—Demand in Canada for Diglot Edition

There is only one book in the world whose annual output from a single publishing house is quoted at 500 tons.

There is only one book in the world that can, in the nineteenth century of its age, double the demand for itself in three years.

There is only one book in the world that is translated into 630 tongues, read from the igloo of the Eskimo through the grass hut of the Hausa trader, clear down to the last lone village of the Southern and most South Sea Islander. It is the Bible, of course.

"The British and Foreign Bible Society alone issues its book in 440 languages," said Dr. R. Kilgour, editorial superintendent of that institution, while on a visit to Canada, "and eight new tongues were added last year, one for an obscure tribe in an island beyond Borneo, one for a people on the borders of Siam, one for New Guinea, two for Africa, two in European Gypsy dialects, and one for the Chinooks who are scattered from Oregon to Alaska along the Pacific. The young people of this tribe could read English, but the old folk longed for at least a little portion of their own jargon. So, of course, the society had to give it to them.

Fifteen Millions a Year

"Last year we issued 7,000,000 bibles, testaments, and portions," Dr. Kilgour went on, "and when you add to this the contributions of the society of Scotland, the German and the American societies, you'll find that the old book was turned out in upwards of fifteen million copies." These bibles are distributed not only through branches, but are carried to the farthest queerest corners of the world by an army of 1,100 colporteurs. In the cafes and music halls at Budapest, on the docks at Antwerp, in the apple orchards of Tasmania, the nitrate fields of Chili, the mines of Johannesburg—everywhere these silent, intrepid missionaries go with the old book.

The Diglot Edition

And Canada has been the cause of about $80,000," said Dr. Kilgour. "A the newest departure in the society's plans—the diglot edition. Here we see the English, side by side with any one of 29 other languages. Port Said, Johannesburg, and Winnipeg lead the world in the use of these diglots.

"And I'm inclined to think Winnipeg comes first," said Dr. Kilgour.

One doesn't wonder that an income of over a quarter of a million pounds sterling is needed for so stupendous a work.

"Last year we had a deficit of 16,000 pounds," said Dr. Kilgour. "At first we couldn't understand it, but when the figures came in we realized that it was because of the enormously increased demand from China, Japan and India. Asia is waking up."

TWO OLD CHURCHES

Montreal Has One With Foundations Two and Half Centuries Old

The old Bonsecours Church is the oldest stone church in Montreal, or probably in the Dominion. It was commenced in 1657; burned in 1754; reconstructed in 1772; and restored in 1888. The first church was of wood and was the united effort of the first colonists, who were aided, both by the zeal and the means of Mother Bourgeois, who came out to teach the young alike of the Indians and the early settlers. The original foundations of the church remain intact.

St. Gabriel's Presbyterian Church on the Champ de Mars dates back to 1792; but the old Bonsecours was commenced at a time when the colony was still in its infancy, and the Indians were a source of constant terror to the handful of men and women who, acting as they believed under the inspiration of God, came out to the wilderness to civilize and Christianize the barbarous aborigines.

Paupers' Bodies for Dissection

By thirty-two votes to six a motion by Mr. Thos. Lawlor, declaring against the sending of bodies of the destitute to schools of anatomy, and seeking to provide that those not claimed by relatives should be decently buried, was rejected by the South Dublin Guardians. On Mr. Lawlor asking a lady guardian whether she would give her body "to be hacked for research work," Mrs. Greene said she would, and the chairman said he would give his body willingly.

Music for All

To enable a person ignorant of music to play an accordion an inventor has equipped an instrument with mechanism operating a perforated music roll, like that of a piano player.

For Safety at Sea

Should an electric lamp in a vessel's signal light go out a new device automatically switches on an auxiliary lamp and signals the fact to the vessel's bridge or captain's cabin.

Handy Man About Home

A kitchen sink which folds into a wall, a combined fireless cooker and gas stove and an ironing board with a sleeve pressing attachment have invented by one man in England.

To Keep Trees Watered

For keeping the roots of trees moist there has been invented a reservoir to be sunk in the ground, which permits water to flow from an opening the size of which can be regulated.

The man who consults a beauty doctor evidently has a leaky brain box.

Many a man fools himself when he thinks that he is fooling his wife.

THE STEAMER CHILD

Of the hundreds who heard with sick horror of her disappearance, only six or seven persons remembered her arrival. She had danced out over the high doorsill as the ship was leaving the smooth calm of the harbor for a roughening sea, and had stood for a moment looking about her, her square chin lifted, her straight brown hair flying, the collar of her blue sailor suit blowing about her ears, her skirts tossed almost to her shoulders, her thin little legs in their black bloomers and stockings, bending back to meet the wind.

There were only a few person in sight. Near at hand stood a group of old gentlemen telling of storms they had weathered; half way down the deck were a young man and woman. For an instant the child hesitated, as if selecting her prey; then, without a sound to warn them of her coming, she dashed up to the group of elderly gentlemen, thrust her hand between the knees of the least steady, and clasped his legs with her arms.

"Play camel!" she commanded.

For an instant the old gentleman wavered as if about to fall; then one of his friends put out a steady hand.

"What is your name, little girl"? he inquired, in an effort to appear unruffled and kindly.

"Elizabeth Myers."

"Where are your father and mother?"

"Father's conducting a Tucker Tour. He has sixteen women to look after and thirty-two bags, and they're fighting him already. And mother's sick. Somebody'll have to play with me."

The old gentlemen placed their knees close together, and stood with their backs to the rail. The ship plunged more deeply, spray dashed into their faces, and they said, with wan smiles, that the would go below.

The sailors began to fasten the canvas above the rail. The floor sudenly became wet. The child bounced down the deck with sickening agility. The young man in the steamer chair looked desperately uncomfortable. Two hours before he saw the young lady's name on the steamer list, and his heart leaped with joy, but now he wished only that she would leave him alone.

For an instant Elizabeth eyed them with a knowing grin. She had known other lovers. She started forward to speak to them—then a more delightful possibility attracted her. She plunged toward the rail and thrust her head far out between the horizontal bars. The ship lurched, there was a shriek, a swirl of skirts, and she found herself in the clutch of a firm hand.

"I only wanted to look over!" she shrieked.

"Let me go! I'll tell my father."

The hand of the young lady administered a final shake, and she led Elizabeth to the door as a help on her journey.

"Go, by all means, and tell your father!

"There is always a child like that on a steamer," she said, as she came back. "They're a regular type.'

It was only a day before the sky cleared, the sea became smooth and the long lines of steamer chairs were filled. Elizabeth's father proved to be a bustling little man, a school teacher, with all the solicitude of a tour conductor in the early stages of his journey. His wife was tall and slender. She lay back in her chair, talking about Elizabeth, who, she said, was "made of quick-silver." She said, also, that Elizabeth had never ben punished—she had too delicate a nature; at which the ladies of the Tucker Tour looked meaningly into one another's eyes.

The ladies of the Tucker Tour declined even to answer Elizabeth's questions. When on her way to her mother's chair, she scrambled over them, with a partly eaten orange in her hand, a look of hatred would come into their eyes.

The young man had reappeared, and had found the young lady, and together they had gone to the bow, with rugs and books. But they did not read. Elizabeth, watching them from behind a mass of machinery, thought them very dull. But, Elizabeth, lacking excitement was always able to create it. She danced out from behind the machinery.

"You kissed her," she declared shamelessly.

The young man caught her by the arm.

"I'll put her overboard if you say so, Helen," he said to the young lady.

The young lady flushed scarlet; then she put out her hand. Usually she had no difficulty in making friends with children. This one needed to be made friends with for the same reason that one is polite to an enemy. The young lady was crossing alone, in her own independent fashion. She had a perfectly natural desire to discover whether her rejection had seriously hurt this handsome suitor, and she did not wish to have to avoid him.

"Come here, little girl."

Elizabeth jerked from the young man's grasp.

"I'll tell everybody on you," she threatened.

Elizabeth decided that sport here was over for the present. She would steal back after a while, when they were not expecting her. She would catch them yet. The bow was cold when one had no steamer rug, and Elizabeth was hungry. The steward, with his great tray of bouillon, was a tempting victim, and she could tease him to her heart's content. He would not dare shake her.

It was only Elizabeth and her father and her mother who did not distinguish one day from another by her escapades. It was the day before they reached San Miguel that she had almost started a panic by shouting fire; it was at San Miguel that she had almost upset the little boat in which they went ashore; it was at Gibraltar that the lighter was delayed fifteen minutes while her father hunted frantically for her. Even her mother was a little affected by this disappearance; she said she was glad that they were in the Mediterranean—it seemed safer for Elizabeth.

When they finally realized that she was gone there were various reports about the last time that she had been seen. She had not come to luncheon with her mother and father; but, knowing that there was a place at the second table that she often appropriated they had not looked for her. Her father had been made chairman of the "sports" committee and he had been busy all morning persuading people to register for "egg races," potato races," and tugs of war; he had had no time to look after Elizabeth.

The young man said he had seen Elizabeth before luncheon. His voice was sharp; he spoke as if he were more angry than sorry over her disappearance. There had been one moment, that morning, when he had dared to put out his hand and close the book that the young lady was reading; then, from behind the machinery came a wild yell, and the steamer child burst forth.

"I saw you," she screamed. "I saw you!"

"Well run and tell,' he commanded savagely.

But Elizabeth had refused to go. She danced about them screaming. A sailor came forward, then a passenger. The sailor grinned. It was a sympathetic grin, but it was a grin none the less. The young lady had fled, and the young man had waited for two hours for her to reappear. It was not much wonder that he said the rumor that Elizabeth had gone overboard was too good to be true. The man to whom he spoke agreed with him. He had a firm jaw, like Elizabeth's. He said she had butted into him and knocked him off his feet.

"She'll turn up; don't be afraid."

Elizabeth's mother was not disturbed at first. After luncheon she remembered that Elizabeth had not appeared, and she sent the deck steward to find her. He said she had had her luncheon with the second table.

"I must go and look for her," said her mother, but instead she sat down on the foot-rest of a member of her husband's party and talked for half an hour. She said again that Elizabeth was made of quicksilver.

Presently she climbed to the hurricane desk. There her husband and three old ladies were playing shuffle board.

"And where is my little girl?" asked Mrs. Myers.

"I don't know.. Isn't she with you?"

"I havn't seen her since this morning. I guess you'd better look for her."

Mr. Myers laid down the stick with alacrity. "I will."

Elizabeth's mother went down the steps. She walked lazily along the row of steamer chairs.

"Has any one seen my little girl?"

In fifteen minutes Elizabeth's father was walking about more swiftly. He had searched the upper deck and the promenade deck and the state room and the dining room. He could go no further without permission and a guide. It was only Elizabeth alone who dared to penetrate alone to steerage and hold. He went out to the bow once more and looked about. The young man rolled up the young lady's rug, still waited. At sight of him the young man sprang to his feet, remembering the rumor he had heard.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

PROMINENT LOCAL MEN AT KINGSTON CANADIAN CLUB

Speaking of the presence of Mr. J. W. Johnson, M.P.P., and Lieut.-Col. W. N. Ponton, at the Canadian Club, in that city on Tuesday evening, the Kingston Whig of the 22nd has the following to say:

The Canadian Club, under the leadership of its 1913 executive, was favored with a quiet but inspiring address from Lieut.-Col. W. N. Ponton, of Belleville, and another interesting talk from J. W. Johnson, M.P.P., of Belleville. The speeches and business of the club were preceded by an excellent dinner, which was served in the thoroughly satisfactory style characteristic of the Hotel Frontenac.

These are the new officers:

Honorary President—Very Rev. D. M. Gordon, D.D.

President—W. S. Ellis, M.A.

Vice-Presidents—J. L. Kniting, K.C., Prof. L. Gill, R. Uglow.

Committee—Messrs. W. H. Macnee, J. B. Carruthers, Ira Martin, F. G. Lockett, T. F. Harrison, Rev. Dr. Macgillivray, W. R. Givens, J. G. Elliott, Hiram Calvin, Elmer Davis, G. Y. Chown, A. W. Wheatley.

The Treasurer's report, as presented by A. J. Macdonnell, showed total receipts for the year to be $723; expenditures $614, leaving a balance of $109 at the opening of the year. The sum of $125 in fees had been collected since the new year, so there was ample funds on band for the publication of the annual report.

The thanks of the club was tendered by motion of T. F. Harrison, to the secretary and treasurer for their painstaking work in the club's behalf during the year. The officers suggested by the nominating committee were elected by the club, and the chair of the evening passed from Lt.-Col. A. B. Cunningham to Dean Ellis.

Upon taking his seat Dean Ellis threw out the suggestion to the members that during the year something might be done in the way of marking and getting possession of as far as possible places of historic interest in Kingston. These things are a public right and should be placed at the service of strangers and visitors.

COL. PONTON'S ADDRESS.

Colonel Ponton speaks in a quiet but thoroughly attractive manner, and his extensive knowledge of men and things relating to patriotism in history made his speech most fascinating. He made himself directly at home with the club by recalling faces who were present from his own Belleville and who had come "from the suburbs to the centre" by changing their residence to Kingston.

His address, though not bound to one subject, centered largely around the flag and its meaning to us. The article in the report of the secretary relative to the Canadian club furnishing speakers for special occasions in the public schools gave the speaker his opening thought, and he dwelt for a few minutes on the work to which we are called of assimilating the heterogeneous population among us into a fairly homogeneous nation and educating them to and understanding of the flag and its glorious associations.

"The church cannot do it," he said. "Politicians will not do it, therefore it is left to us. The Canadian club should be a centre disseminating patriotism."

We have no forts nowadays, but we have redoubts of citizenship, of patriotic sentiment, and of love, a tie composed of three strands, and "a three-fold cord is not quickly broken." The strands are memory, hope and love. We all have a past, and a glorious heritage it is, and yet it is not only our fathers that patriotism dwells upon, but our children and thus comes hope. The home is the centre of all, and this takes in love. for the hearthstone is the keystone of national greatness. Patriotism embraces the past, present and future.

"I cannot but believe, said the speaker, "that as the unseen waves of electricity pass from land to land over the broad ocean, the bonds of British brotherhood crossing the seas permeate this empire with a spirit that cannot be broken."

There is nothing so contagious as loyalty; let us spread it through our new Canada. The empire has lost her desire to expand. Her ambition is now to consolidate and unify.

In speaking of Canada's resources they are not, he said, tabulated in vulgar terms, such as wheat belts, timber lands and mining areas, but in the spirit of our people. It is not a question of boundary, but of living thought.

Our great work is with the new citizens we are making. We must introduce among them a campaign of manhood. We must educate and enthuse them. Our flag is an inspiration to all when it is understood. Bring our men up to the flag—do not bring the flag down to them.

Col. Ponton dwelt for a few minutes upon Queen's as a factor in the work of empire building, also of the Royal Military College, and its wide range of interest and influence. Kingston, he said, is the home of scholars, the home of arms and the cradle of great men.

"I do not measure a city," he said, "by its size any more than I do an army, but by its worth."

Col. Ponton followed his address by passing around among those present a wonderful array of relics of his own collection, including old Canadian and British seals, old documents, old papers, and many a romantic story followed with these curios.

J. W. Johnson, M.P.P., spoke briefly after Col. Ponton, and told some unique stories of old times in Kingston. He said Kingston's position was a strong one, and that the deepening of the Welland Canal would bring her a great future.

He spoke of the vast power possibilities in Northern Ontario, and its future. He also spoke of the future of Queen's University, and suggested that in calling on Pr.mier Whitney for a grant, that we must not be timid.

Col. J. H. V. Crowe moved, and W. H. Macnee seconded, a vote of thanks to the speakers of the evening.

COLLEGE GIRLS HAD A RIDE IN PATROL

MONTREAL, Jan. 23.—Some in their bare feet, all of them in nightgowns, a few covered by kimonas and dressing gowns, hastily donned, twenty daughters of prominent families, pupils in the select boarding school of the Misses Edgar and Cramp, made up this morning as strange a load as any Montreal police patrol have ever carried.

A fire which broke out in the school building on Guy street, drove teachers and pupils out in a hurry, shortly before five o'clock. All got away without personal harm, but very few saved anything except the flimliest clothing. The fire was on the top floors, and the drowsy girls, following to the last detail their usual fire drill, assembled on the ground floor where the police and firemen found them very little excited.

As some of the girls have their homes in the city, the police patrol was called to distribute them.

BILLION DEAD OF TYPHOID GERMS INJECTED

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Col. W. B. Banister, Merical Corps, U.S.A., during a discussion last night before the Chicago Medical Society, on serum treatment and prevention of typhoid fever, said that 50,000,000 dead typhoid germs in a serum injection is an "infinitesimal dose."

"In the army we would consider 50,000,000 infantile," he said. "When we vaccinate a man against typhoid we give him an injection of 500,000,000 dead typhoid germs the very first time. Of course, we wait until his day's work is nearly finished. But we expect him to be on duty bright and early next morning and ready for the next dose of at least one billion germs.

"In the last San Antonio, Tex., encampment, when the city was full of typhoid, we had 12,000 men in camp for eight months, and only one mild case of typhoid during the time."

Mob Attempts Assassination of Hungary Premier

BUDAPEST, Jan. 23.—News of an attempt to assassinate Herr Von Lukaes, Premier of Hungary, at Parenzo, in the Margraviate of Istria, was received here to-day.

Twelve persons were injured in a bayonet charge by soldiers upon those seeking the Premier's life.

While he was walking in the street yesterday a mob of workmen attacked the Premier, hurling stones and other missiles at him. Von Lukacs led to a nearby house, pursued by the workmen. Soldiers were called out and dispersed the mob with bayonets.

The Premier is spending his midwinter vacation in Istria.

Intelligencer Special.

CHRISTIANA, Jan. 24.—The Norwegian Cabinet, under the Premiership of General J. K. M. Brailie, resigned today, owing to its defeat at the general elections last October.

Nationalist Dies, Another Arrives

Canadian Goes Back to Londonderry To Vote in By-Election --Ulster Will Fight.

LONDONDERRY, Jan. 23.—Another nationalist has died, but his death is neutralised by the arrival of one from Canada.

Intensity of feeling on both sides is not to be measured by the speeches of Colonel Pakenham and Mr. Hogg, which in both cases are notable for absence of sectarian or personal bitterness.

Col. Pakenham has expressed his opposition to home rule in calm, reasoned argument, but the extreme attitude of Ulster to the measure found expression in the speech of Deputy Lieutenant Heidman of Tyrone, who said: "If by any mischance Home Rule is forced on us we in Ulster have another alternative which we mean to use. That is, to protect ourselves we will take the law into our own hands in North Tyrone

"We have fifteen Unionist clubs all very much alive, all going through the drudgery of drill, being taught the use of arms, so as to be ready to obey their commanders when the time comes to defend their country to death, should the necessity arise.

"Nationalists taught us that Ulster's resistance is all brag and bluster; we mean to show them it is stern reality."

Bowery Boy's Wedding Feast

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Fifteen hundred "Bowery Mission boys" had roast beef, turnips, bread, coffee and apple pie for supper last night, the gift of Helen Miller Gould in honor of her marriage to Finley J. Shepard. In groups of several hundred the "boys" formed in lines on the sidewalks near the mission, rushed hungrily in to the tables and after eating their fill united in resolutions of thanks to Miss Gould for her bountiful act.

The diners cheered a message of encouragement from Governor Sulzer. Everybody hurrahed when a speaker said that their benefactor, "instead of thinking about her trousseau and hats and gowns, as other brides do, was thinking of you men."

Strike Leaders Are Sentenced

NORTH BAY, Ont., Jan. 23.—Three leaders in the Porcupine mining strike were prosecuted under the Lemieux Act for inciting a strike at the Hollinger mine and were found guilty yesterday before Magistrate Torrance and sentenced to a five hundred dollars' fine each or three months in gaol.

The accused refused to pay the fines, preferring to spend their three months in Sudbury gaol, if necessary, as a protest against what they consider an unjust law.

Barrister Godfrey of Toronto conducted the prosecutions. A. G. Staght of Haileybury, counsel for the accused, states he will appeal from the sentence.

Navigation Still Open

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 23.—Special —So far as Port Arthur is concerned, navigation is still open, and boats could enter the harbor at any time. Tugs are keeping the inner harbor open and moving steamers to and from elevators. To-day tour of the Great Lakes Company fleet went out into the bay to break up an ice field so that a favorable wind might blow it out into the open bay.

SHOTS FIRED IN RIOT

(Intelligencer Special.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Men said to be detectives, standing between a mob of garment strikers and a gang of strikebreakers last night, fired a number of shots. Joseph Milestein, a by-stander, was mortally wounded.

TURKISH SITUATION MENANCING

Intelligencer Special.

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—The Turkish situation is regarded here as most menacing and it is believed that the Porte will refuse to hand over Adrianople and that intervention of the powers must result.

"Big Tim" Called Incompetent

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Timothy D. Sullivan, congressman-elect from this city, was yesterday judged an incompetent by a sheriff's jury. Four physicians pronounced him incapable of taking care of his property, which is estimated to be worth about $1,000,000.

Mr. Sullivan has been a patient at a private sanitarium here since last September. He is suffering from "maniacal depressive insanity," according to one of the medical witnesses, another of whom testified that a cure was "possible but not probable."

It ought to be easy for a man to keep in the straight and narrow path.

When I Studied Flour

LIKE many other women, some of the things I have used most I have known least about. Flour is one of them.

When I studied flour, I was surprised to learn that only about 72% of a grain of wheat is fit to go into flour; and only about 40% goes into Rainbow Flour, which is the very best flour made.

That is why it pays to remember the name of the most carefully made flour and insist on having it.

I heartily recommend Rainbow as being all that a good flour should be.

The great difficulty of the miller is to separate perfectly the waste particles from those that belong to good flour.

If he is too zealous he takes away much of the good gluten without which flour will not raise properly. If he is careless he is not particular about leaving in some part of the five skins, the germ and the "crease dirt," and the fibre. His make of flour would be impure, bad in color and poor in keeping qualities.

It is only the expert miller who can make perfect flour.

The concert given by the Choir of the First Methodist Church, assisted by Messrs. F. Phillips and G. Brown of Toronto, on Monday night last, was heartily appreciated by those in attendance.

LIBERAL ASS'N ELECTS OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the Liberal Association of the County of Prince Edward convened in the Opera House on Saturday last, the 18th inst., with a fair attendance, when the following officers were duly elected for the year:

President—D. L. Shannon.
1st Vice-Pres.—Herb. McDonald.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Morden Gilbert.
Secretary—Arnold Platt.
Treasurer—C. B. Allison.

INAUGURAL MEETING

The inaugural meeting of the Picton Public School Board for 1913 was held on Wednesday evening, January 15th, the following being present: Messrs. D. P. Boles, M. E. Knox, E. C. Garbutt, N. Ostrander, Thos. Walmsley, Wm. Haylock, Gilbert Arthurs, S. E. Mouck.

Mr. E. C. Garbutt was elected chairman by acclamation.

The following appointments were made:

Representative to Collegiate Institute Board, Mr. G. E. Boulter.

Representative to Public Library, Mr. H. W. Kerfoot.

Treasurer, M. J. F. Gillespie.

Secretary, Mr. F. W. Martin.

Examiner at Entrance Examinations, Mr. J. Murray Wilson.

MR. MALLORY HAS RUNAWAY

Quite a ripple of excitement was observed on the street on Tuesday afternoon last. Mr. Clarence Mallory came down form Bloomfield for a load of coal, and after loading, as he stepped to the office door with ticket, his team bolted and ran up the hill and Main Street as far as Moxon's store, where they came in contact with W. H. Kingsley's buggy, all the parcel express, and finally with a telegraph pole nearby, which stopped them. No great damage was done to the rigs, however, but Mr. Kingsley, who was just untying his horse received a [illegible] cuts, one on the back of his hand and a slight one on his face, and complained of a bruised shoulder. Mr. Mallory's waggon tongue was somewhat shattered, but by applying some nails and fence wire, he drove home.

MAIN ST. CHURCH TEA-MEETING

The annual tea-meeting given by the Ladies' Aid of Main St. Church, was, as usual, a great success. Supper was served at six, and the beautifully arrayed tables tempted the eye as well as the appetites of those present. At eight o'clock the programme began, Mayor Adams acting as chairman. His address, although short, was enjoyed by all. He said as this was his first appearance before the public to give an addresse since being elected as Mayor, he was feeling rather nervous. He also said he didn't know how the ladies of Main Street Church could give so much for the money, and those who attended their tea-meetings knew they would not only get more than enough to eat, but a good programme.

The programme was excellent, consisting o solos by Miss Rockwell, Mrs. Rockwell, Miss Gussie Powers, and Mr. Silson, sen., duets by Miss and Mrs. Rockwell, and Messrs. Silson, and recitations by Miss Lillian Dobson and Mrs. Blake Collier. Proceeds amounted to about $75.00.

Sells One Million Pills Per Day

Because He Spends Five Hundred Thousand Dollars a Year Advertising Them.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Special—Sir Joseph Beecham, of "Worth a guinea a box" fame, testified before the Committee on Patent Medicines today that he sold a million pills a day. The approximate weight on the pills sold by his firm every year was fifty tons. He admitted that his expenditure for advertising these pills was $500,000 a year.

Roosevelt Asks Reform

NEW YORK, Jan. 23—Theodore Roosevelt, drawn by the pitiful stories he had heard about the hardships of the girls and young women who manufacture wrappers and kimonas in the dingy East Side "factories," made a personal tour of inspection yesterday. He visited two of the meeting places of the strikers and interviewed several score of them, listening with interest to the stories they told.

When he came away the Colonel sadly shook his head and was heard to murmur:

"It's terrible to see the way the lives of the future mothers of our country are being crushed out."

As a result of his investigation the Colonel said he would ask State Senator Falland to introduce a measure asking for a legislative investigation of the conditions which exist in these factories.

Killed in Coal Shed

SARNIA, Ont., Jan. 23.—Three men were instantly killed at the plant of the Port Huron Salt Company, and one seriously injured when an overhead coal shed collapsed burying the men under hundreds of tons of coal.

Several Sarnia men are employed in the place, but escaped without injury. Churchill, Sensigh and MacFarlane are the victims.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"THE LOST PARADISE."

A large and appreciative audience greeted the local talented artists in the second production of that ever-popular drama, "The Lost Paradise," given under the direction of Miss Edith Osborne and Mr. Irving H. Beers, in the interests of the Belleville hospital. The company throughout portrayed their respective roles in a most commendable manner, and strongly demonstrated the rich fund of dramatic talent possessed by our local people. The play itself was one true to life, and every-day occurrences, and staged in a most interesting way.

Between the second and third acts Mrs. James Grant rendered a soprano solo, in which she displayed superb voice A recitation by Mr. Beers, demonstrating his remarkable elocutionary qualities, was also highly appreciated.

Miss Osborne and Mr. Beers are to be congratulated on the fruits of their efforts in the production of this drama, made possible by the co-operation of those who participated. It was a pronounced success in every regard.

"THE GAMBLERS."

The Authors Producing Company announces Charles Klein's gripping drama, "The Gamblers," as the attraction at Griffin's opera house Tuesday evening, Jan. 28. The gamblers of Mr. Klein's play are a group of bank directors. They have successfully established a chain of banks and seek to extend their operations. Their policy is expansion and they expand by breaking the banking laws. The banking company borrows to an extent far beyond the amount of its capital, the banking inspectors appear at the most convenient moment, and steps are taken towards prosecution by the government. The attorney for the prosecution is an old friend of the Emersons or friend he would be if he were capable of friendship. He would prosecute a friend rather more quickly and unsparingly than he would an enemy. He knows no friends when business stands in his way. He has political ambitions, and these ambitions will be served by a vigorous, relentless prosecution of the Emerson group.

Eve of Awakening in Military Training

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Lord Roberts received a presentation yesterday from the National Service League.

In making the presentation, Lord Curzon of Kedleston said:

"Speaking with some knowledge, I believe we are now on the eve of a great awakening on the matter of military training. I believe the greatest men of the country are thoroughly aware of the appalling imminence of the danger by which we are confronted, conscious that our resources are inadequate to meet it, and are prepared to make a move in the direction we have in view.

"I should not be surprised if, at no distant date, there was approximation of views between the two parties ordinarily severed and that compulsion in some form or another will form part of our military system, I entertain no doubt."

ALLOWED TO GO HOME

A week ago a young man named Thomas Yates was arrested at the G. T. R. station here by railway constable Donovan, who found him locked in a freight car. This morning the magistrate allowed Yates to return to his home in Toronto.

IMBIBED TOO FREELY

John Smith and William Smith, the former claiming Trenton as his home and the latter living at Deloro, were this morning before Magistrate Masson charged with drunkenness to which they pleaded guilty. They were fined $5 each or in default 15 days in jail. Both went up on the hill.

CASE DISPOSED OF

Magistrate Masson to-day gave judgment in an assault case from Sidney Township which has been before the court for some time. In one case the charge of assault was dismissed and in the other case a conviction of common assault was registered and a fine of $10 and costs was imposed. The costs in the case amounted to a considerable sum.

THE CANADIAN CLUB

An especially interesting event is scheduled for the Y. M. C. A. this evening, when the Canadian Club members and guests will sit down to a well prepared repast at six o'clock, followed by a timely address by Prof. E. Smith Gordon, M. A., of Toronto University. Members and business men of the city, are requested to favor the occasion with their presence. Mr. F. E. O'Flynn, the president, will preside.

CONFIRMED IN HIS SEAT

At Tweed Village yesterday afternoon before Judge Deroche a recount took place of the ballots cast in the recent municipal election of Hungerford Township for Deputy Reeve. Messrs. J. E. Brown and J. L. Newton were the candidates and the result was a tie, both being credited with 444 votes. The returning officer gave the casting vote in favor of Mr. Brown. A recount of ballots was applied for by Mr. Newton and granted. As a result of the recount Mr. Brown is confirmed in his seat by a majority of three. Seven ballots were in dispute and of these Mr. Brown proved to be the gainer. Mr. Carnew of this city was present on behalf of Mr. Brown and Mr. Collins of Tweed represented Mr. Newton.

MR. HOWARD WAGNER

Writes Personal Letter to Her Druggist About a Bad Cough.

Mrs. Howard Wagner of Milton, Pa., writes her druggist as follows: "For two months I suffered from a bad cold, from which I could get no relief, then I began to cough until midnight every night. I consulted a doctor and took two kinds of medicine, but without benefit. One day, seeing Vinol, your cod liver and iron medicine advertised in my paper, I sent for a bottle. After taking it the second day I did not cough so much and felt stronger, and at the end of a week I could go to bed and sleep without coughing once. I have now taken in all six bottles, and I never felt better in my life. I have a fine appetite and have gained twelve pounds. As Vinol has helped me so much I want others to know about it."

The curative and strengthening properties of Vinol built up Mrs. Wagner's health and her cough disappeared as a natural result.

We guarantee that Vinol will do all we claim and will pay back your money if Vinol does not satisfy you. Red Cross Drug Store, J. S. McKeown, Belleville, Ont.

G. T. R. NOTES

Mr. C. G. Bowker of Monreal, General Superintendent of the G. T. R., accompanied by Mr. H. F. Coyle of this city, Superintendent of Belleville division of the road left to-day for a trip of inspection to Midland.

The frame building just west of the station premises is being remodelled and will be used for the new offices which have been created here.

The former motive power shop which was unused for some time, is at present occupied by a number of officials.

It is rumored that the Company will in the near future, erect an up-to-date station in this city.

Passenger and freight traffic is at present exceptionally brisk.

Presented a Clock

(From Madoc Review)

On Saturday evening, January 18th, a number of friends met at the home of Mr. Hugh McMechan.

After lunch was served by the ladies the social evening was brought to a close by singing "Auld Lang Syne" and "God be with You." All present were unaminous in declaring a good time.

The following address was read by Miss Mary Gordon and the presentation made by Miss Beatrice Nicholson:-

Mrs. Hugh McMechan.

Dear Friend and Fellow-Worker,—We are gathered this evening in your pleasant home to spend a social hour with you and your family. And while gathered together your friends of St. Paul's congregation wish to express to you, in some tangible form, their appreciation of your faithful services as organist for this congregation. You have, at great inconvenience to yourself, unselfishly performed your duty at all times and on all occasions, and we wish you to know that we appreciate your efforts, and as a token of respect and goodwill—not as a reward for services rendered—we ask you to accept this mantle clock with our best wishes for a happy and prosperous future, and hope you and Mr. McMechan and Miss Edith may long continue to be fellow-workers with us in the Master's vineyard.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES.

Invitations are out for the promenade concert to be held in the Association building Saturday evening at 7.45, under the auspices of the "Ancient Order of Its." The Sprague orchestra will be in attendance, and a good time is anticipated.

The Belleville Pushers meet at Jim Lindsay's on Charles street and the Belleville Alerts meet at the home of their teacher, Mr. Marston, on Bridge street, for their regular meetings this evening.

Candidates Warned Not to Kiss Babies

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Candidates who are becoming active in the aldermanic campaign were warned last night by Health Commissioner George B. Young against hand-shaking and kissing of babies on account of the prevalence in the city of scarlet fever, diphtheria and smallpox. Dr. Young attended the meeting of the aldermanic health committee. He declared that the baby-kissing feature of the campaign should be strictly forbidden.

A home is known by the parlor it keeps

It's about the only room the average visitor sees and the whole house is sure to be judged by the appearance of the parlor.

For this reason the parlor is generally the best furnished room in the house. It should be the best lighted room also. Nothing shows off mahogany, bric-a-brac and tapestry as well as electric lights set in Holophane Reflectors.

The parlor is usually the music room too, and an electric bracket that sheds light over the piano will be found a great convenience.

The most pleasing effects in parlor lighting may be had by the use of Holophane Reflectors. These Reflectors are of rich, sparkling optical glass, designed in the most fashionable shapes. They add not only to the beauty of a room, but they economize on light.

If you are not satisfied with the lighting of your parlor, let us send a representative to talk to you about economical lighting by electricity.

REAL ESTATE MISREPRESENTATION

Canada has for some time been passing through a remarkable real estate boom, and the fact that in many cases property has greatly advanced in value has made it possible to place much more property on the market and dispose of it at prices which will probably never be warranted in this generation. And in the sale of such property, whether in the east or the west, it has been the case only too frequently that the buyer has purchased something very much different from what he expected to obtain. A case of this kind came before Justice Lennox, of Ottawa, last week, and is reported in the Ottawa Free Press. Three purchasers of real estate sued a real estate company for the recovery of money paid to the agents of the firm last July. The property purchased is said to be about a mile and a half from Wainwright, Alta. The agreement specified the property as Woodland Park, Wainwright, and this the Judge held meant, or ought to mean, Wainwright. The plaintiffs declared that the agents who sold the lots had promised them an "option" or "turnover" of the property within three months. This the agents denied. A good many witnesses were called and the evidence was very contradictory, but His Lordship declared that he believed the statements of the plaintiffs. He is reported to have said: "I am satisfied that the manner by which the signing of the agreements was brought about was substantially as claimed by the three men. I am clearly of the view that the signing was brought about by systematic fraud. I am also satisfied that the transactions were based upon a well thought out fraudulent scheme, and that, although these frauds were perhaps amplified and detailed by the two agents, they were partly initiated when the contracts were drawn up. I hope sincerely that it will not be a custom in Canada to send that kind of a contract out. It is a snare. It is a means of borrowing money for the purpose of floating what may be a wild-cat scheme by a company which produces no evidence of being worth a penny by offering a six per cent. guarantee. Whether I am right or wrong, I think there should be a ventilation of the fraudulent methods of some real estate agents at as early a date as possible." He then gave a verdict for the plaintiffs. We think there will be a very hearty endorsation in many places of the Judge's idea that there should be a "ventilation of the fraudulent methods of some real estate agents at as early a date as possible."

LOCAL MEN AT KINGSTON

Wednesday's Kingston Whig contained an editorial which referred in such complimentary terms to two of our prominent citizens, that we publish it with pleasure.

The Canadian Club, well officered and with a neat bank account, has entered upon another year of its existence. The club numbers two hundred members and should be largely increased, as the secretary's remarks, in view of Kingston's history and its place in Canadian annals. The annual meeting, last night, was an eminently enthusiastic one, and all in attendance at Hotel Frontenac were delighted with the valuable contributions from two of Belleville's eminent citizens. It was a pleasure for Kingstonians to meet them, and to find them such whole hearted, generous persons. J. W. Johnson, M.P.P., was found to be an old 14th Regiment boy, and he promised, with several other Belleville citizens, to be on hand at the semi-centennial. He spent some years in Kingston and spoke optimistically of its future. It was destined, he believed, to be a great centre, not only educationally, but commercially.

Col. Ponton, in his address on "Canada's place in the Empire," proved himself to be a remarkable after-dinner speaker. His felicity of expression and his charm of manner was incomparable. He was enthusiastic over his theme, showed wide reading and an aptness in literary style that made every body feel that a master mind was expressing the noblest impulses of a real, patriotic, British soul. His address was not flambuoyant, but was a thrilling story of the solidarity of the empire and the great underlying principles which made Britain the mother of nations. She dealt justly and honestly with all peoples and her peace and peace loving methods were to the advantage of every power under the sun. In delightful language he described the patriotism of Britishers with the underlying principles of memory, hope and love. These, bound together, have a strength and power that has been felt through numberless generations. It was ours as Britishers and Canadians to reverence the past, to emulate and to ever recall the noble deeds of those who have in stirring times proved the British character, with honor and lustre to themselves. He gave illuminating illustrations of the part Canadians had played in British civil and military life, and it was as true of them as of the British-born—they were loyal to their ideals and the British flag.

Col. Ponton's exhibition of relics was decidedly interesting and his statement that Sir Isaac Brock was in 1812 styled the President of Canada, was a new and interesting disclosure. Sir Isaac Brock himself had used the title, and in old documents, both military and civil, it was found to be upon them.

Col. Ponton's address might be called a poem; it was beautifully worded, and crowded with literary gems, and so well delivered that his visit again to Kingston will but add to the number of those who will be delighted to hear him.

Dean Ellis struck a strong note when he urged that Kingston, with so many places of historic interest, should have them marked by the Canadian Club, so that visitors might look upon the places that to them are sacred in Canadian history.

TO ESTABLISH HEALTH DEPT.

The Government will introduce this session a bill to create a department of public health, and the work of preparing a bill has been placed in the hands of Hon. Martin Burrell, the Minister of Agriculture, under whose department the present branch of public health lies. At present the several departments are undertaking different branches of public health work, and the work is naturally done in a more or less haphazard manner. For instance, quarantine is looked after by the Minister of Agriculture, the inspection of immigrants is handled by the Minister of the Interior, and the pure foods act is administered by the Minister of Inland Revenue.

While the scope of the bill has not yet been definitely settled, some of the fields of work which it is proposed to allot to the new department, and which Dr. Roche is considering, are the following: Sanitary advice to municipalities, quarantine, the health of employes of public works, the collecting of vital statistics, the adulteration of foods, the sanitary and medical side of Indian affairs, the medical inspection of immigrants, the operation of sick seamen's and marine hospitals and the supervision of a ational Bacteriological Labratory at Ottawa.

Mrs. S. H. Stern of Newark, N.J., joined her second husband the other day in formally adopting her eight-year-old daughter by her previous marriage.

BANK ACT WELL RECEIVED

The Bank Act revision introduced by Hon. W. T. White, Minister of Finance, before the Christmas recess, is being well received by the people of the country at large. It is seen that there will be no disturbing effect upon money and the delicacy of the financial machine will in no way be impaired.

One feature which has been praised is the establishment of a "Central Gold Reserve." The result of this will be that there will be no apprehension of a scarcity of currency at a time, when the emergency provisions are not operative for with the deposit of gold or Dominion notes in the custody of trustees the banks will have the privilege of issuing their own to the full amount thus deposited. This will undoubtedly be a very important step towards ensuring that the general business of the country should not be hindred through lack of currency.

SPORTING NEWS

HOCKEY.

AN APOLOGY.

The Deacon Shirt Company hockey team most humbly apologise for anything they said in their write-up to the Intelligencer on the 21st inst. On that date we believe we asserted that the Intells were going to play five outside men, but, since then we have found that we made a gross error and were entirely mistaken, for as we look back we can readily see that such statements were not worthy of the slightest attention. Upon reading their reply to our misgivings, we find they are only going to play four outside men. Oh, well, that's not so bad. Accordingly we believe we are entitled to one outside man, and as will be noticed, we have inserted his name in our lineup given below:—Goal, Hincher; point, Middleton; cover, Barrett; centre, Hibbard; rover, Finkle; right wing, Bulger; left wing, Rayfield.

SPORTING EDITOR,
Deacon Gazette.

Printers' Comment.—At last the Deacons have sent in their lineup at the ninth hour. They need not have been afraid. The printers' team is composed of sports, in every sense of the word, and were willing to play the Deacon Shirts even if Finkle had got all his O.H.A. associates to help him, but instead of getting them he has unearthed a real "dark horse" from a local business college. The Deacons are welcome to him. We are surprised they did not try to get Sammy Simmons, or, perhaps they haven't heard that a former local star is in town. Every one of the men on the Intelligencer team is a printer living in Belleville, and they are going to play the game of their lives even if they are confronted with an all-star imported team, calling themselves representatives of the Deacon Shirt Company. As a final word, before the big game tomorrow afternoon, we might suggest to the Deacons that if their sporting editor is going to unear any more "live" ones such as the above brainy epistle, he ought to wait until the ice-dealers have a chance to lay in a little ice so they will keep. We really hate to comment any more upon it as they might have some more "misgivings" and fail to appear tomorrow afternoon, thereby disappointing the 1,000 or more fans who are expected to be present.

A STRONG TEAM FOR TRENTON.

The local juniors will be represented by a strong team when they line up against the Trenton team in Trenton tonight. They will be accompanied by several hundred supporters, who will go up by special train on the C. N. R., and the boys and fans are confident of an easy victory. Wilson is unable to play, but "Soup" Goyer is taking his place on the wing. Hodgins will be moved back to point, and Higgins will hold down the centre position. The rest of the team will be the same as formerly. Since their last appearance the boys have improved wonderfully in teamwork and shooting, and if they remember this tonight there will be nothing to it but a walk-over. The boys will line up as follows:—Goal, Brotherhood; point, Hodgins; cover, Whittie; rover, Finkle; centre, Higgins; right wing, Wallace; left wing, Goyer.

TORONTOS DOWNED QUEBEC.

TORONTO, Jan. 23.—"Reversals of form" are becoming fashionable in the National Hockey Association. The Torontos beat Quebec 6 to 3 here last night, and beat them so handily that the fans are higher in the air than ever regarding the chances of the two local teams in the professional association.

Quebec's brilliant performance against the Tecumsehs last Saturday made them 2 to 1 favorites over the tail-end Torontos last night. At no stage of the play did the champions and Stanley Cup holders look like winning. In every period the Torontos had the better of the play. The score in the first period was 2 to 1 in favor of the locals, in the second "twenty" it was 4 to 1, and in the final period each side scored twice, making the score on the game 6 to 3.

TIMEKEEPERS CONFUSED AT HAMILTON GAME.

HAMILTON, Jan. 23.—Last night's O. H. A. intermediate game between the Hamilton and Niagara Falls Tecumseh ended in a farce, with four minutes and fifteen seconds remaining to play. The timekeepers disagreed as to the actual time left to play, and Referee Waghorne, to settle the dispute, took the watch. He, too, erred in chasing the teams to the dressing-rooms and when he realized his mistake ordered them back. Tecumsehs refused to go on with the game on the ground that it had been called and the Hams continued and ran in four goals, enough to win by 9 to 8. The score when the time was called gave the Tecumsehs the lead by 8 to 5.

OTTAWA BEATEN BY TECUMSEHS.

OTTAWA, Jan. 23.—Tecumsehs defeated Ottawa 4 to 3 after an exciting overtime match last evening. The visitors outplayed the Senators throughout and would have made a much larger score had it not been for the wonderful work of Lesueur in the nets. The Indians had the stronger defence and their forwards had the Ottawas outpaced throughout.

WANDERERS BEAT CANADIENS

MONTREAL, Jan. 23.—In one of the most strenuous contests seen in local hockey circles this winter, the Wanderers scored a single goal victory over the Canadiens last night, defeating them 4 to 3. The pace cut out in the early part of the opening period was a killing one, and both teams slowed down considerably before the expiration of the first twenty minutes.

STRATFORD SENIORS BEATEN BY PRESTON.

STRATFORD, Jan. 23.—The local senior O.H.A. team added another to their string of defeats last night, being vanquished 8 to 3 by the Preston seven in a rather listless game. Steadier team play and superior shooting won the game for Preston. The halftime score was 4 to 0 in the visitors' favor.

ORILLIA ARE GROUP CHAMPIONS.

ORILLIA, Jan. 23.—In a fast junior O.H.A. game last night, Orillia defeated Newmarket in the return game for the championship of this district by 12 to 0, and so qualify for the semi-finals. The visitors put up a good game, but the Orillians checked hard and would not let them shoot.

HAMILTON JUNIORS WON.

BRANTFORD, Jan. 23—Hamilton junior O.H.A. team won from the local boys last night by the score of 6 to 2. The ice was in very poor shape, and the puck was frequently over-skated. The Hamilton boys have acquired good combination since their last game, while Brantford have had no chance to practise since they met Hamilton.

COBOURG WON FROM PORT HOPE.

COBOURG, Jan. 23.—The first intermediate O.H.A. game of the season at Cobourg was played tonight, when the locals defeated Port Hope 6 to 1. The ice was very heavy.

Victoria won from Vancouver 5 to 4 in a Pacific Coast League fixture on Tuesday night. Tommy Dunderdale scored the deciding goal when there was but a minute of play left. Victoria now leads the league with five wins and one loss. Vancouver is second with three wins and three losses and Westminster last with no wins and four losses.

The New York Hockey League has reinstated M. E. Macdonell, who was said to have been declared by the Alberta branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada to be not entitled to an amateur card. If the Alberta union made that decision Canadian teams visiting New York will not play against any team in which Macdonell is included.

Professional hockey gets its daily "boost" by the announcement — never made good—that some team is to be strengthened by the addition of a player from the amateur ranks.

The Guelph junior O.H.A. team will take a special train to Hamilton on Monday for their association fixture in that city. A victory for Guelph will practically give them the district.

Ottawa pros. are endeavoring to secure Marty Walsh for their forward line. There is no chance of Marty coming east. He is now residing in Edmonton.

Tecumsehs have signed Dumart, a centre man, who played with Berlin pros. a few years ago. He will play in only the home games.

The Whitby juniors have dropped out of the O.H.A., owing to the uncertainty of the ice.

Oshawa, by beating Peterboro' on the latter's ice practically cinch their section in the junior series of the O.H.A.

Safety for the Watch

What is the safest way of carrying a watch? Have a small ring sewn into your left waistcoat pocket. Put the watch in the pocket. Pass the end of the chain through the ring hook it on to the watch—and there you are. The pickpocket who snatches at your chain will not get the watch, and yet you can easily take the watch out of your pocket yourself.

NO USE FOR TITLES.

Dominion Grangers Silently Express Unanimous Disapproval.

TORONTO, Jan. 24.—With unanimity that expressed itself in almost dead silence, the members of the Dominion Grange adopted a resolution yesterday, declaring that the association believed that titles were unnecessary for and even detrimental to Canada's welfare. This declaration of democracy, says Mr. Henry Glendenning, ex-president of the Grange, is a new plank in the Grange's "Code of Laws," but, according to him, it will remain in the constitution, no matter if farmers by the hundreds are knighted—which to him, by the way, seemed unlikely.

The cause is as follows:

"We desire to commend the principle involved in the bill introduced recently in the Dominion Parliament by J. H. Burnham, M.P., advocating the abolition in Canada of the practice of the bestowing of titles, believing that it tends to create man-made distinctions between man and man."

In a resolution introduced by Mr. Downey of Orangeville, and passed unanimously, the Grange asks for an investigation of Canadian banks before the renewal of any charters. The resolution is as follows:

"That a royal commission should be appointed to make a thorough investigation of the whole banking system before the charters of any banks be renewed for any period of years; and that these results be made public in an official blue book."

VAN BIENE IS DEAD.

Famous Actor-Cellist Dies at End of His Little Play.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Auguste Van Biene, known to theatrical audiences all over the world as the composer and player of "The Broken Melody," died on the stage of the Hippodrome at Brighton last night, aged 63 years. The haunting refrain of "The Broken Melody" had inspired over six thousand theatres audiences before its composer brought its career to an end. "If I had not done so," he once said, "it would have driven me to a lunatic asylum."

"The Master Musician" was its successor, and like "The Broken Melody," it afforded Van Biene opportunities for his wonderful 'cello playing. Three solos were his share of the melody. The last was that of "Home, Sweet Home." At its conclusion the curtain is rung down on the musician, who has collapsed in a chair. Van Biene went through the act at two performances last night. When he fell back in the chair in the second performance nobody in the audience thought it more than the prescribed dramatic finish to the scene. The stage manager, however, noticed an unaccustomed realism, and the curtain was rung down more hurriedly than usual. When the stage manager went to the actor he found he was past human aid. Van Biene was dead.

Charged With Theft.

BERLIN, Ont., Jan. 24.—Chas. Bonnolski appeared in the police court yesterday charged with the theft of three horses from three hotel sheds in Berlin and Waterloo on Tuesday evening. He was allowed his freedom on parole.

CANARIES ARE NERVOUS.

And They Dread Mice That Like to Steal Their Bird Seed.

One of the common troubles with canaries and one that few bird owners realize is that of nervousness. The nervous system of a canary is as highly sensitive as that of a delicate woman. Any sudden shock to their senses, whether of sight or sound, is liable to throw them into convulsions, that often result in death. An old bird dealer mentions a frequent but rarely known cause of sickness and even death among the little creatures.

"I had two canaries," he said, "that for some reason I could not discover fell into a frightfully nervous state and started to pine away. I doctored them with all the remedies known to bird lore, but the poor creatures continued to droop in dismal decline. At last I discovered the trouble. It was mice.

"Mice are as fond of bird seeds as canaries themselves. In the darkness of the night the mice would creep through the bars of the cage and devour the seeds, while the poor little canaries sat above shivering themselves into a state of nervous prostration from the very terror of the monsters below. I removed the cage to a position where the mice could not get at it, and my pets rapidly recovered."—New Orleans States.

One Sin of Housekeeping.

The ultimate sin of the housekeeping code is straightening things out in a desk or on a table. When I depart from my quarters in the morning my sitting room table looks self possessed and homelike, bearing three ash trays, four or five books, matches, a pipe, a can of tobacco, papers, magazines, pencils, pens, a letter or two, a bottle of ink and maybe a necktie or so. A place for everything and everything just where it ought to be easy to reach or thereabouts. But, alas, on return what a state that table is in. The books have been put back on the shelves, the ash trays mobilized, pen and pencils arranged in orderly lines, neckties stuck away in a dresser and the letters planted in the most conspicuous place with those containing bills uppermost.—Toledo Blade.

Huge Stamp Thefts.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24—Enormous frauds against the Government through the illegal trafficking in stolen postage stamps have been unearthed by postoffice inspectors.

Reports received yesterday by Postmaster Hitchcock show that the frauds have been conducted on so tremendous a scale that they involve at least $2,000,000 annually.

Turkish People Say They Will Not Give Up Adrianople.

Kiamil Pasha and His Ministry Resign as Result of Clamor In Constantinople and Young Turk Leader, Shefket Pasha, Is New Grand Vizier—Mobs Gather and Cheer at Fall of the Elder Government.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 24.—A crisis in Turkish affairs came yesterday with dramatic suddenness. The grand vizier, Kiamil Pasha, and the Ottoman Cabinet, resigned, and Mahmoud Shefket Pasha, formerly Minister of War and commander of the constitutional army which enthroned Mehmed V. as Sultan, was appointed grand vizier.

Nazim Pasha, the former War Minister and commander of the Turkish army, was shot dead during demonstrations here last night which preceded the resignation of the Cabinet. Enver Bey and Talaat Bey had given explicit orders that no blood should be shed, but Nazim Pasha's aide-de-camp fired from a window of the Porte at Enver Bey and his companion, and they returned the fire. Their bullets killed Nazim Pasha himself. In spite of this tragedy there was no disturbance of order elsewhere.

Wednesday the grand council, representing the intellect and wealth of the nation, pronounced in favor of peace almost at any price. Yesterday a vast crowd, drawn from all classes of the proletariat, declared for war rather than peace without Adrianople. And because the crowd was backed by the general public opinion, the Government surrendered and relinquished office, making way for the same men whom the popular movement brought to the top after the revolution of 1908 and 1909.

The resignation of the Cabinet, in which Kiamil Pasha was grand vizier, was announced in the following official statement:

"The decision of Kiamil Pasha's Cabinet, taken in response to the note handed to the Turkish Government by the European powers, to abandon the fortress of Adrianople and part of the islands in the Aegean Sea and the convocation of an extraordinary assembly of the grand council of the Ottoman Empire, to which the Cabinet's decision was submitted—a course contrary to the prescriptions of the constitutional charter and violating the sacred rights of the people—roused the indignation of the Turkish nation, with the result that the people made a demonstration before the Sublime Porte and brought about the resignation of the Government."

The crowd which had assembled outside the offices of the Sublime Porte had not dispersed last evening.

The Council of Ministers met shortly before noon to give final shape to the note accepting the proposals of the powers. About 3 o'clock people from all quarters began to gather in front of the gate to the grand vizierate. Enver Bey, one of the leaders of the Young Turks, who was identified with the campaign in Tripoli, and Nadje Bey, a prominent Unionist, arrived about this time and were deputed to inform the Cabinet that it must retire.

Enver Bey soon issued from the vizierate and announced that he held the resignation of Kiamil Pasha, which he was taking to the palace. This was greeted with tremendous cheering, which was frantically renewed an hour and a half later, when he returned with an irade appointing Mahmoud Shefket Pasha grand vizier.

In the meantime Talaat Bey assumed provisionally the portfolio of the Ministry of the Interior, and Izzet Pasha that of war. In an interview Talaat Bey said that the movement had not been planned, but was the outcome of popular feeling owing to the attitude of the Government with regard to Adrianople. If Adrianople were abandoned, he said, disturbances would break out over the length and breadth of the empire. With regard to money, the whole nation would make a sacrifice.

Kiamil Pasha and the other members of his Cabinet remain in their residences under guard.

SUFFRAGE FIGHT ON.

Britain Taking a Keen Interest In Franchise Bill.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—(C.A.P. Cable.) There was vastly more interest here yesterday over the chances of woman's suffrage in the Commons' debates, starting to-day, than there was over the Unionist food differences.

Considering that every section of the Commons, from the Cabinet downwards, is perplexingly divided, absolutely anything may happen.

Blood will first flow from over Sir Edward Grey's proposal to delete the word "male" from the opening clause of the bill.

"Every male person shall be entitled to be registered as a Parliamentary elector."

Premier Asquith is totally against votes for women. It is said he is feeling resentment against Grey and Lloyd-George for having, by their support of woman's suffrage, led the Ministerialists into the present difficulties.

Rochester Garment Workers Strike.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Jan. 24.—Following the vote Wednesday night to go on strike, over 6,000 clothing operatives yesterday morning refused to go to work, and only one of the large factories in this city is in operation. That will be closed before night, the workers say.

Railway Contract Awarded.

HAILEYBURY, Ont., Jan. 24.—The contract has been let to Jones & Girouard, of Montreal, for thirty miles of railroad construction on the new C.P.R. extension from Timiskaming station to Ville Marie.

Secretary Knox's Note Holds Out Arbitration Proposal.

U. S. Official Assures Sir Edward Grey That American Coastwise Trade Will Not Be Allowed to Compete In Foreign Commerce and That Other Nations Will Not Be Heavily Taxed To Make Up Rebate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Secretary Knox's reply to the British protest against the exemption of American coastwise shipping from Panama Canal tolls assures the British Government that domestic coastwise trade will not be permitted to extend operation into foreign competitive fields, and that increased tolls will not be laid on foreign shipping, to balance the remission to American ships. If Great Britain is not satisfied on these points the U. S. proposes a special commission of adjustment.

The communication is devoted to the point and number of the issues upon which the two Governments failed to agree, and as to these—only two—it is contended that they are entirely susceptible of adjustment by diplomatic means, and without recourse to arbitration.

If this course should not prove satisfactory to the British Government it is suggested that the whole controversy be referred to a special commission of enquiry, provision for which was made in the unratified Knox-Bryce general arbitration treaty. That convention was approved by the Senate, with an amendment which curtailed the power of the special commission of enquiry to mere investigation and report, and refused to permit the commission to bind either country to a course of arbitration in its findings. Because of this amendment President Taft has so far declined to consummate the treaty by exchange of ratifications with the British Government.

To meet the needs of this present issue Secretary Knox now offers to give life to the treaty by an immediate exchange of ratifications, which would ensure the existence of a general arbitration treaty between America and Great Britain after the lapse of the existing Hay-Pauncefote treaty, June 4 next. As an alternative, the Secretary is willing that a commission be created for the special purpose of ascertaining the facts in regard to the effect upon British shipping of the Panama Canal Tolls Act and the President's proclamation fixing the tolls.

Much of the secretary's argument rests upon his contention that Sir Edward Grey's protest, being made in advance of the issue of the President's proclamation fixing the tolls, is entirely inapplicable to the controversy in its present state, and that, as a matter of fact, the British contention rests upon apprehension of things that may happen in the future to the injury of British shipping, which in all probability will never occur.

Summarizing the British objections, and commenting upon them, Secretary Knox does not deny that Congress has the power, through the President, to violate the terms of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty in its aspect as a rule of municipal law. That, he says, would only become a just ground for complaint in the event that the power was used against British shipping. "It is the improper exercise of this power and not its possession which alone can give rise to an international cause of action," remarks the Secretary.

Only when complaint is made by Great Britain that British vessels actually have been subjected to unequal treatment or inequitable tolls, Secretary Knox asserts, can the question be raised whether the U. S. is bound by the Hay-Pauncefote treaty to collect tolls from American vessels and whether vessels are entitled to equal treatment.

BISHOP O'CONNOR DEAD.

His Lordship of Peterboro Was Fifty Years In Church.

PETERBORO, Jan. 24.—His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, who has been seriously ill for the past two weeks, died in St. Joseph's Hospital last night at 8.15 o'clock. It was known several days ago that his lordship could not recover, and he had since gradually weakened. He suffered from neuralgia of the stomach and complications. The funeral will be held on Tuesday at 9.30 a.m., with services at St. Peter's Cathedral, and interment at St. Peter's Cemetery.

Rt. Rev. Alphonsus O'Connor, D.D., who was the spiritual head of the diocese of Peterboro, was born in Kerry County, Ireland, in the year 1838, and was therefore 75 years of age. His lordship came to this country with his parents when only two years old, and spent nearly all his life in Canada. Although born in Ireland, Bishop O'Connor was devoutly Canadian in patriotism and feeling. His lordship was ordained in the priesthood in 1861. His education he received at St. Michael's College, Toronto, and later at the Grand Seminary, Montreal. In the diocese of Toronto he spent the years from 1861 to 1889, and served in various places until consecrated in Peterboro Cathedral by Archbishop Cleary of Kingston, on May 1, 1889.

In Barrie, where he was dean before coming to Peterboro, he is especially remembered, a portion of his life having been spent in the northern part of his first diocese before it was broken up with Sault Ste. Marie, as the new jurisdiction.

COTTON DUTY TO DROP.

Another Cut Will Probably Be Made In U. S. Tariff.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The attack of mill interests on the proposed Democratic revision of the tariff on textile manufactures has resulted so far in a virtual conclusion of the ways and means committee majority to strike a lower rate readjustment even than planned in the previous Democratic cotton revision bills.

There will be substantial reductions from the tentative cotton schedule basis, running down as low as five per cent. on the cheaper goods that the working classes depend upon.

The compromise revision schedule proposed Wednesday by Lewis W. Parker of Greenville, S.C., former head of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association, assumed more importance yesterday as a basis for Democratic general reduction plans. It was frequently referred to during the examination of witnesses and it will have a considerable bearing in the committee's figuring on the low rates.

ROWELL AT BERLIN.

Liberal Leader Expounds Doctrines to Audience of 800.

BERLIN, Ont., Jan. 24.—N. W. Rowell, leader of the Opposition, invaded a hostile constituency last night, and over 800 turned out to hear him expound his doctrines.

Sir James Whitney and the Government, more particularly the Premier, were scored on several points. Mr. Rowell tackled the workmen's compensation act, and criticized the Government for its dilatory methods in handling such an important question. He touched upon tax reform and wound up with a peroration on the abolition of the bar, on the conclusion of which he was liberally applauded.

Liberals Approve of Bill But Continue to Obstruct.

Charging that British Unionists Are In Alliance With Borden Government, A. K. Maclean Assails Hon. Mr. Foster For Speech In London —Minister Refuses to Be Drawn Into Discussion of Preference.

OTTAWA, Jan. 24.—A bill confirming the reciprocity arrangement between Canada and the British West Indies occupied the attention of the House during the entire session yesterday. The Liberal members protested that they had no objection to the treaty, but none the less persistently obstructed the passage of the bill. During the afternoon, Opposition strove unsuccessfully to get up a discussion upon tariff reform in England, upon Imperial preference generally, and even, as a last resource, upon reciprocity. Hon. George E. Foster, who has charge of the bill, good-naturedly parried these attempts to distract the attention of the House, and in a short time secured a second reading and advanced the bill to the committee stage. There, however, it was obstructed by the Liberals until adjournment, and will probably be held up again to-day with a view to delaying the naval debate.

Hon. George E. Foster, in moving the second reading of his bill to bring into effect the reciprocity treaty between Canada and the British West Indies, said that he would not detain the House with any statement. The bill had been fully explained on the first reading, and the provisions of the treaty were well known to the public.

A. K. Maclean, Liberal member for Halifax, complained of the statement made by Mr. Foster in London last summer to the effect that no reciprocity agreement would have been made with the British West Indies had the Liberals won the last Dominion election.

He was becoming weary, he said, of the oft-repeated charge that reciprocity with the United States meant disloyalty to the Empire. This charge was being made by members of the Unionist party in Britain and by missionaries they sent out to Canada. He said the speeches made by Rt. Hon. Walter Long in this country constituted a gratuitous insult to the people of Canada, and were on a par with the "muddling and vacuous utterances" constantly proceeding from the English tariff reformers.

These remarks created a stir, as it so happened that Captain Long, A.D.C., of Government House, brother of Rt. Hon. Walter Long, and the young son of the latter were in the Speaker's gallery at the time.

Mr. Maclean described Mr. Foster's declarations to the British Unionists as "absolutely untrue, absolutely unfounded, and absolutely unworthy of himself," when Mr. Speaker Sproule stopped him and asked him to retract.

"I will not take time to debate the point of order now," replied Mr. Maclean, "so I will substitute the statement that his words were a cause of the greatest astonishment and surprise to his well-wishers."

Dr. Clark of Red Deer thought that Mr. Foster was a poor commercial agent for Canada. The Minister was circumnavigating the globe for the sake of getting better trade relations with Australia and New Zealand and the British West Indies, but was ignoring the United States. Our total trade with the British countries abovenamed was $60,000,000 and our trade with the United States $460,000,000.

Hon. T. White said it was useless to discuss reciprocity, because it was a dead issue in this country. The people had decided against it and there was now no popular demand for it except in a few districts. If another election were held to-morrow and reciprocity was the issue, the Liberals would be beaten twice as badly as they had been in 1911.

Mr. E. M. MacDonald, Liberal member for Pictou, N.S., and Hon. William Pugsley, at the evening session, endeavored to secure a declaration of policy from the Government upon the subject of Imperial preference. It was freely stated by the Unionist party in England, said Mr. Pugsley, that Canada would withdraw the preference unless a food tax was imposed by the United Kingdom. He desired to know what the understanding was between the Government and Mr. Bonar Law.

Mr. Foster replied good-humoredly that he did not propose to be drawn. He would at the proper time discuss Imperial preference, but just now he was anxious to have the bill before the House adopted. He added that the Government had no present intention of decreasing the British preference.

Bill Hollenback, the former All American fullback, will succeed Andy Smith as coach of the Pennsylvania football team next season.

Have the Intelligencer Sent to Your Home Address

Mr. Biggar at St. Agnes Hall

To the Editor of The Intelligencer:

Dear Sir:—In view of the lecture to be given next Tuesday in St. Agnes' Hall by H. P. Biggar, it will be of interest to your readers to know something of the lecturer.

Mr. Biggar is an old Belleville boy and needs no introduction to the older residents who have followed his career with interest and pride, but for the benefit of a younger generation and of newcomers, some information may be desirable.

Mr. Biggar is an enthusiastic Canadian and has spent many years in the study of our English history, on which he is now considered to be the greatest living authority.

After graduating from Toronto University in 1894 he pursued his studies at the Universities of Berlin, Paris and Oxford, taking the degree of Bachelor of Letters at this last University in 1899. He then spent a year in Spain looking up fresh documents on the early Spanish and Portuguese explororers. He also made similar researches in the Archives of Italy.

In 1905 he received an appointment from the Canadian Government to collect material for the Archives at Ottawa, bearing on early Canadian history. He has published two important books bearing on this subject: "The Early Trading Companies of New France" and "The Precursors Jacques Cartier."

Mr. Biggar was married last December in London to a Canadian lady, Miss W. M. Howland of Toronto, and they are now spending their honeymoon in Canada. Being much interested in the progress of the Belleville Hospital and the present subscription for a new surgery, he kindly offered to give a lecture in aid of this fund.

Trusting that our people will take advantage of the opportunity to hear our distinguished former citizen and at the same time assist our beloved hospital.

Thanking you for your valuable space.

Yours truly,
H. C. E.

DESERONTO NEWS

(From The Post)

Willie Baker, of Toronto, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Baker.

Mr. Walter C. Stratton has been confined to his home for a few days, suffering from a severe cold.

The marriage took place quietly Jan. 22, of Marion Josephine, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lapum, of Centreville, to Mr. James Morten Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Rose, Selby.

On Tuesday, the 28th inst., the County Council will assemble in Belleville for organization for the year. There is every prospect that Mr. Charles H. Ketcheson, Reeve of Sidney Township, will be selected as Warden.

A lady in town has just received a letter from a friend in California giving an account of the recent severe weather in that state. As a result of the frost the flowers have been destroyed to such an extent that the flower festivals that are held annually will have to be abandoned this year.

The board of managers of the Presbyterian Church have taken advanced ground in the way of advertising their church. They have made arrangements with the 'Post' to have a column advertisement for at least three months. Their minister, the Rev. Mr. Dowling, is of the opinion that if advertising is beneficial in a business way, it ought also to be beneficial to a church.

Principal Whiting, of the Public School, has received the following acknowledgment from Mr. Douglas Davidson, secretary-treasurer of the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto: 'I beg to acgnowledge, with grateful thanks, your favor of Jan. 3rd, enclosing seventeen dollars and eighty cents as a donation to the funds of this hospital, from the Deseronto Public School. I can assure you that the Trustees appreciate very much this generous contribution, and the kind interest taken in this charity.

An Oklahoma man lost his dog and this is the way the newspaper man let the fact be known: 'Henry Mitchell lost his dog and don't know where to find him. He wore two ticks upon his neck, and a short stub tail behind him. The dog is long and narrow built, with spots of black and white, and if he sees a smaller dog he always wants to fight. He holds his tail up stiff and straight when he's for war prepared, but points it downward to the ground whenever he is scared. The stump tail dog that now is lost, was Henry's friend and crony, but now, alas, he sadly fears, he's made up in bologna.'

A very interesting meeting of the executive of the Children's Aid Society was held in the Town Hall on Friday afternoon of last week. The verbal report of the agent, Chief Donaldson, was heard and it was the concensus of opinion among those present that the organization of a branch in Deseronto had been already justified. It was decided to invite the cooperation of our ladies, and with that end in view each of the four resident clergymen were asked to name three ladies from each of the congregations to become members of the executive. It is hoped with the co-operation of the ladies the society may be of service to families that need temporary aid in the way of clothing, etc.

Prince of Wales To Visit Kaiser

BERLIN, Jan. 23.—It is stated that the Prince of Wales, after his present term at Oxford, will call on the Kaiser at Potsdam, after which he will visit several German cities. He will then be received officially at Potsdam by the Emperor, who will confer upon him the cross of the Black Eagle.

It is understood that there is the greatest interest in Court and society circles in the visit of "the blonde Prince," as the son of the English King is known in Germany and extensive preparations are on foot to give him a good time.

A good way to have all the friends you need is not to need any.

Are You Blue and Worried?

Nervous? Some of the time really ill? Catch cold easily and frequently suffer from biliousness or headache? The reason is that your system does not rid itself of the poisons in the blood; just as impossible as it is for the grate of a stove to rid itself of clinkers. The waste does to us exactly what the clinkers do to the stove; make the fires burn low until enough clinkers have accumulated and then prevent its burning at all. Your liver is sluggish—you are dull and heavy—sleep does not rest, nor is food appetizing. In this condition illness develops. Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery eradicates the poisons from the body—a glyceric alterative extract made from bloodroot, golden seal and mandrake root, stone and queen's root, without the use of alcohol. No matter how strong the constitution the stomach is apt to be "out of kilter" at times; in consequence the blood is disordered, for the stomach is the laboratory for the constant manufacture of blood.

MRS. BLAKE.

MRS. BENJ. BLAKE, of Port Dover, Ont., Box 36, writes: "I have been a great sufferer for years from throat trouble, catarrh, indigestion, female troubles, bloating, constipation and nervousness—at times I would be in bed, then able to be up again. Was under many different doctors' care, and would get better for a little while, then I would go down with chronic inflammation all through me. For nineteen years I had this poison in my blood. After trying nearly everything I got worse. I read in The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. I have taken the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' and have used five bottles of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. I am now able to do my work and walk with pleasure. I feel like a new woman. I enjoy everything around me and thank God for letting me live long enough to find something that made me well again."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate liver and bowels.

THE STEAMER CHILD

"What is the matter?"

Elizabeth's father clutched him by the arm.

"My little girl has not been seen since lunch time. I have looked everywhere, and now the crew are searching the ship. I haven't told my wife yet. Do you know that this ship goes fifteen miles an hour, and that she has been gone for three hours?"

The warm breeze suddenly grew cold. The young man seemed to see he as on that first day, trying to look down into the water.

"Oh, we'll find her!" he said. "Certainly we'll find her."

He ran to the upper deck and looked about carefully even peering under the canvis over the lifeboats. A sailor touched his arm.

"We've looked there, sir."

"Would it be possible for a child to get far enough out of sight of everybody to go overboard?" asked the young man.

The sailor shrugged his shoulders.

"That child could do anything. The captain's chased her off the bridge, sir. We had special orders to watch her."

It was very evident when the young man reached the promenade deck that every one knew the child was gone. Her mother's stateroom opened on the deck, and her moans could be plainly heard. Women were crying. The cross man with the jaw like Elizabeth's, his face quivering, stared back over the sea, as if he expected to discover the little brown head. Every throb of the engine was audible. There was not only the sea to fear, but this relentless force that drove on and on, away from the scene of tragedy. A prosperous Italian woman, going back in the first cabin screamed suddenly—a shrill, heart-breaking sound. Her husband explained that her baby had been buried at sea when they went to the new country.

The young lady had appeared now she stood with a group of women at the forward end of the deck. Her face was white she was listening to the stewardess telling of the thoroughness of the search.

"She can't be on the boat, ladies," she insisted. "There isn't a corner that she could get into that hasn't ben searched. The only question is, when did she go over?"

The young lady walked blindly away toward the row of empty chairs. Before she reached it the young man met her.

"Come with me; don't listen to these chattering women."

Whether or not the steamer child had told, no one paid any attention to them as they went to the bow.

"I am cold," said the young lady shivering.

When he had folded her up closely he looked about vainly for his own rug. He would do without it; he did not mind a little cold.

The young lady, staring out over the sea, still shivered. He wished that she would cry, and that he might put his arms about her and comfort her. It would now, alas! be perfectly safe. But the young lady was not one with whom one could take liberties. That was one of her charms. Then suddenly she solved the problem for him. She put out a shaking hand.

"Ellwood, I can get along vrey well except when trouble comes and then—"

"Then I say to myself that I've been a—a fool."

The young man gathered her hand into both his. He was not yet certain that he understood her aright.

"Do ou mean that—"

It seemed that death itself could not effectually silence the steamer child. There was a fiendish "Aha!" from above their heads—and there she was.

There was a hollow space inside the machinery which lifted the anchor. She had climbed up and forced herself painfully into it, wrapped in the young man's rug, and there she had lain in wait for them.

For an instant the two gazed at her. Then the young man sprang to his feet. He gave the impish face no second glance, but raced down the deck and into Myer's stateroom.

He pushed open the door without knocking. Mrs. Myers lay on the couch, her husband and the doctor bending over her. Elizabeth's father saw him first. He looked like an old man.

"You haven't found her?"

The young man nodded. She's out on the bow."

"A—alive?"

The young man smiled tremulously. "Very much so."

Elizabeth's mother sat up.

"Take me to her!"

Her husband and the doctor begged her not to go, but she would not be disuaded. They crowded down the narrow hall and out toward the bow.

The passengers had seen the young man running toward the Myers' room and there was a large audience to witness the reunion.

Elizabeth still hung suspended in the machinery. She could not get down. Wrapped in the young man's rug she was not cold, but she was cross and hungry, and she resented the ignominy of her position. She was scolding volubly.

The ship doctor supported Mrs. Myers.

"Give her to me!" she cried to Elizabeth's father. "John lift her down."

But John was not quite ready to lift her down. His face had changed again; it looked younger, and there was an added squareness of jaw that made him look like his daughter.

"Elizabeth," he said, with a new tone of voice, "what are you doing up there?"

Elizabeth kicked and struggled.

"I hid," she cried viciously; "I hid to watch em hold hands. Every day I watch em."

There was a burst of hysterical laughter from the passengers. The young man stepped a little closer to the young lady. But she seemed to need no defense.

"He has a perfect right to hold my hand," she quietly said. "But, believe me, if he wished to do it, he would choose another place than the same boat with you Elizabeth."

There was an instant's silence; then Elizabeth demanded again to be taken down. The ladies of the Tucker Tour began to say that Elizabeth's father was cruel. He was looking at the young man.

"Has she annoyed you?"

The young man also enrolled himself in the black books of the ladies of the Tucker Tour.

"Intolerably," he said inhumanly.

Elizabeth's father lifted her down. The anguish with which she had racked him for the last hour still made him tremble; the spectacle that she had made of them flushed his cheek with shame. Irritation with the ladies of the Tucker Tour may have added a little valuable temper to his mood.

"Elizabeth, kiss your mother."

Elizabeth struggled to get out of his arms, but he would not let her go, even while her mother languidly embraced her. Mrs. Myers was accustomed to frights like this. The shock was already passing.

Elizabeth looked up at her father. Something in his face frightened her.

"What are you going to do?" she cried.

Mr. Myers turned to his fellow passengers.

"I wish to apologize for this exhibition," he said gravely, still holding Elizabeth.

"But, papa?" cried Elizabeth.

There was now not only fright in her face—there was amazement and awe and a new respect.

"What are you going to do? You are not going to punish me, papa! To s-spank me, papa?"

She looked from face to face—at her mother, who did not dream that papa would punish her; at the ladies of the Tucker Tour, whose championship, she felt dimly, only did her harm; and finally at the young man, her enemy. His eyes had met the young lady's; he was now too happy to take pleasure in the punishment of the steamer child.

"I am sure she will be good."

Her father looked down at her once more before he carried her away. There was now no mistaking his intention.

"Yes," he said firmly but sorrowfully, "she will."—Copyright.

Report of Springer Lock Manufacturing Company, Ltd.

The annual meeting of the Springer Lock Manufacturing Co. was held at the office of the Company, Coleman Street on Wednesday, Jan. 22nd, at 7.30 p.m.

In the absence of the President, Sir Mackenzie Bowell, the Vice president, Mayor J. F. Wills, K.C., occupied the chair.

There was a good attendance of shareholders, and much enthusiasm was manifested over the report presented, and which showed splendid progress made by Mr. Springer and his associates since taking over the management of the Company three years ago.

The report read by Mr. A. I. Bird, Secretary-Treasurer of the Company, showed the amount of goods sold and shipped during the year was forty per cent. greater than the previous year, and at the same time there was a corresponding increase in the net profits.

A considerable addition to the real estate of the company was made by the purchase (from the Yeomans estate) of the large lot immediately north of the Company's buildings, thereby securing ample space for future extension of the business.

A large sum was expended during the year in new machinery, tools and patterns, and the Company is now in a position to compete with any factory in their line in the Dominion of Canada.

The former Board of Directors were unanimously re-elected for the ensuing year. They are: Sir Mackenzie Bowell, J. F. Wills K.C., W. C. Springer, C. [illegible] White, G. A. Bennett, J. H. Sills and A. I. Bird.

At the meeting of the Board held immediately after the adjournment of the shareholders' meeting, the following gentlemen were chosen officers: Sir Mackenzie Bowell, President; J. F. Wills, (Mayor of Belleville) Vice-president; W. C. Springer, Managing Director; A. I. Bird, Secretary-Treasurer.

Chicago's Oldest Citizen is Dead

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—Edwin O. Gale, in point of residence the oldest Chicagoan, died last night at his home in Oak Park, a suburb, at the age of 81.

From a frontier village of 600 white inhabitants, overrun with wild animals and Indians, Mr. Gale witnessed every step of the change that up to the time of his death has resulted in a city of more than two million people.

He was brought to Chicago in 1835 by his parents, the old brigantine Illinois carried the Gale family from Buffalo to their new home at Fort Dearborn. The family brought the first piano, which at once became the wonder of the Indians who gathered about the Gale house to hear the 'bird in the box,' as they called the instrument. Mr. Gale was engaged in the drug business during most of his life time.

Striking Waiters Besiege Hotels

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Trouble between waiters and proprietors of New York hotels and restaurants became acute today, when efforts were made to carry out "the general strike" declared last night. Hardly had the order been issued when 2,000 men began a march through the hotel district.

They besieged the Hotel Knickerbocker where Proprietor James B. Regan bodily discharged all of his waiters yesterday, and the Hotel Belmont. It is alleged at the hotels that some of the strikers or their sympathizers threw bricks thru the windows, causing excitement among the midnight guests in the dining rooms. No one was hurt, however, and only one man arrested.

TRENTON VISITED BY A DISASTROUS FIRE

Midnight Blaze Destroys a Brick Block and Two Business Places—Adjoining Stores and Property Damaged—Heavy Loss

Between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock this morning, a fire broke out in the dry goods store of Sutcliffe & Son, Trenton, and before it was extinguished, damage to the extent of about $100,000 was done to the building and stock. The fire started in the staircase at the back of the Sutcliffe store, and evidently had been burning for some time, as the entire lower floor was in flames before it was discovered.

Spreading to the adjoining building, occupied by the Haines' shoe store, the fire completely gutted both stores and destroyed the stocks. The stock in Haines' shoe store amounted to $12,000, upon which there was an insurance of $8,000.

The fire at one time assumed such magnitude that Chief Colborne of the Trenton fire department communicated with this city for assistance, and a special C. N. R. train was in readiness to convey members of the local brigade with apparatus to the neighboring town, but subsequently the call was cancelled.

The block in which was situated the Sutcliffe and Haines stores, belonged to Mr. A. T. Byewater.

Nothing is left but the bare walls. Adjoining this block is the Hooey Block, in which is situated B. S. Hooey's liquor store and J. Shurie's drug store. Both of these business places suffered a considerable loss by water and smoke. The post office and the Bank of Montreal, adjacent, were at one time in danger, but the Trenton fire brigade, against great odds, confined the flames to the Byewater Block. The loss will probably amount to about one hundred thousand dollars, chiefly on dry goods stock, boots and shoes. This is at least covered by insurance. The block destroyed was of brick construction, and will be a total loss.

The heat from the fire was so intense that two plate glass windows in Carter's shoe store on the opposite side of the street were broken.

Will Change Forts Into Pleasure Parks

PARIS, Jan. 24.—The formidable problem of finding accommodation for 120,000 people who are to be evicted from the dwellings owing to the surrender of the antiquated fortifications of Paris to the city authorities by the French Government, is now before the municipal council of the French capital for solution.

The space occupied by the wall is twenty-one miles in length, encircling Paris, and the 'firing zone' 500 yards in width facing it, is to be converted into public parks. This space is now covered by many thousands of wooden ramshackle houses occupied in most cases by the poorest class of work-people and rag-pickers, but in many instances turned into resorts for criminals and tramps. The proprietors pay a small annual sum for the privilege of being allowed to construct these huts on the condition that they are subject to destruction in case of war. There is not sufficient accommodation for the occupiers in other parts of the city.

The amount of money expended on these old fortifications, erected in 1840, and now to be raised is estimated to have exceeded $200,000,000. It is impossible to enter the city without passing through one of the seventy gates now used as stations for the collection of the tax imposed on provisions coming into Paris from the country districts.

Farmers Oppose The Liquor Trade

CALGARY, Jan. 24.—The big convention of the United Farmers of Alberta came to an end with fireworks. What appeared to be an attempt of the Alberta Federation of Labor to capture the farmers' organization marked the closing session. The attempt failed after a stormy scene lasting an hour.

Tentative overtures between the officers of the two organizations, which had resulted in the election of two officers of the United Farmers of Alberta to official positions in the labor organziations, led the labor leaders to believe that complete affiliation of the two organizations was possible, and plans looking to that end had apparently been made. The meeting effectively repudiated such an issue to the overtures.

Important among the resolutions accepted that a declaration in favor of the suppression of the liquor traffic and until that is accomplished the support of the organization to all movements toward local option.

Other resolutions adopted pledge the farmers to support organized labor in its efforts for better conditions and demands that legislation be put into effect in favor of reciprocity, and a demurrage scheme which will put the shipper more nearly on an equal basis with railways than now.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE DESTINED TO FAILURE IN NEAR FUTURE

LONDON, Jan. 24.—The Government won the preliminary skirmish on the Franchise Bill in the House of Commons tonight.

The amendment proposed by Mr. Andrew Bonar Law, the Opposition leader, to reject the Premier's time limitations in the debate was defeated by a vote of 259 to 191.

Premier Asquith made quite clear the attitude of himself and his colleagues in the Cabinet on the subject of women's suffrage last evening, when he moven the adoption of the timetable for the debate on the Franchise Reform Bill in the House of Commons.

The Premier said the opinion on woman suffrage was so sharply divided on both sides of the House that it was impossible for any government to propose the enactment of votes for women.

While Mr. Asquith himself was a strong opponent of the policy, he realized that this was a great hardship on supporters of the movement. Therefore, with the full consent of the Cabinet, he had decided to leave the question to the free judgment of the House.

BREAKS DOWN DOOR TO FIND WIFE DEAD AND GAS JET OPEN

MONTREAL, Jan. 24.—Lying across her bed dead in the midst of choking gas fumes, the body of Mrs. G. H. Aubin was found in the bed-room of her home at Back River last night after her husband had, with neighbors, battered in the door.

Returning home from work, last evening, Mr. Aubin was unable to find his wife in the house. As it grew late, and she failed to appear, he began to search the premises, and trying her bedroom door, to his surprise found it securely locked. Rushing out, he summoned neighbors, and with their help, managed to break open the door, only to find the room filled with gas, which was rapidly escaping from a wide-open jet, and his wife lying dead across her bed.

No reason has yet been given to account for Mrs. Aubin's action, and her husband has not yet suggested any cause, as to why his wife should wish to take her life.

Twelve Drown In Shipwreck

GREAT GRIMSBY, Eng., Jan. 24.—Twelve of the crew of the Norwegian barque 'Agda' were drowned when that vessel foundered at midnight on Tuesday off Spurn Head at the mouth of the Humber. Three other sailors the only survivors of the wreck, who were picked up by a trawler and landed here to-day, told the story of their sufferings.

The vessel, which was bound for Rio de Janeiro, sprang a leak on Tuesday during a violent storm, and her holds rapidly filled. The members of the crew took to a boat, which was capsized three times. On each occasion some of the struggling sailors were swept away and sank. The three survivors clung to the boat and drifted for twelve hours, washed hither and thither by the varying currents before they were sighted by a Grimsby fishing vessel, which rescued them with great difficulty.

Castro Drives Board of Officials From His Room

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—General Cipriano Castro, enraged at the refusal of the special Board of Enquiry at Ellis Island to permit him to enter the country, ordered the three members of the board from his rooms yesterday. When they demurred he called his valet and tried to throw them out. They withdrew.

"I will not talk to you. Away!" he shouted, when the officials sought to question him further concerning the killing of General Paradox in Venezuela.

The Board, its two interpreters and its stenographer, all talking at once, tried to claim the Venezuelan, but without avail. He summoned his valet and reached for his gold-headed cane. When the officials withdrew Castro banged the door shut and locked it.

The appeal from the Board's decision against Castro is now pending in Washington.

3 O'CLOCK DISPATCHES

ENDORSE STRIKE

(Intelligencer Special.)

VICTORIA, Jan. 25.—The British Columbia Federation of Labor at an annual meeting here passed a resolution endorsing the principle of a general strike as a means of protesting against and preventing war and also went on record as advocating universal peace. Delegates also passed a resolution urging that Labor Day be observed on May 1 instead of on the first Monday in September.

THREATEN TO CLOSE FACTORIES

Intelligencer Special.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Jan. 25—Clothing manufacturers declared today that they will close down all the factories Monday unless the striking employes return to their work unconditionally. This would throw 12,000 persons out of work. The strikers demand recognition of the United Garment Makers' Union, but the manufacturers say they will not grant this.

STUDENTS' NARROW ESCAPE

Intelligencer Special.

SYRACUSE, N.Y., Jan. 25.—Lives of hundreds of students were endangered when a fire broke out early this morning in Callanan Hall, the men's dormitory at Cazenovia seminary. Four students, overcome by smoke, were rescued by Cazenovia firemen. The building and contents were damaged to the extent of $25,000.

RUMORED TURKISH REPUBLIC

Intelligencer Special.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Rumor was current in London, Paris and Berlin last night to the effect that the Sultan of Turkey had been dethroned and a republic proclaimed. As there was no confirmation of the rumor anywhere, it was generally discredited in official circles.

NO INTENTION FOR PEACE

Intelligencer Special.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The Daily Express today prints a sensational interview with an unnamed Turkish diplomat in London who asserts that the Turnish delegation to the peace conference never intended to make peace and that its only aim was to procrastinate to the utmost, believing a favorable bargain could be made with Austria.

COLLISION CAUSES FATALITY

Intelligencer Special.

LOCKPORT, N.Y., Jan. 25.—One man was killed and over a score more were injured, two probably fatally, in a collision between a trolley passenger train and a freight train on the International railway here early today.

One Airman Killed Two Badly Injured

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—Another fatal flying accident occurred to-day during the military manoeuvres near Burg, Prussia. Lieut. Otto Schlanel was instantly killed by falling to earth from a considerable height when the military biplane in which he was flying collapsed. The aeroplane was taking a sharp curve when it crumpled up and fell. The pilot, Lieutenant A. Van Scheel, of the Queen Elizabeth Guard Regiment also was dangerously injured and was taken to the hospital unconscious.

RHEIMS, France, Jan. 24.—The well-known French flying man, Charles Gaulard, was thrown to the ground from a height of 240 feet by the capsizing of his monoplane while making a flight to-day round the spires of the cathedral here. He sustained very serious injuries, but he still lived when picked up, although he is in a critical conditioon. He obtained his pilot's certificate in November, 1910.

UNIVERSITY TO BE BUILT IN ST. VITAL.

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 25.—The announcement that the University of Manitoba has had its site definitely chosen in St. Vital is expected to mark a new era in realty values south of the city. The grounds chosen are particularly spacious and beautiful, and while naturally enough the location does not meet with the entire approval of all, the hope is generally expressed that construction will be begun at an early date.

MUCH PROGRESS AT BRANDON.

Brandon, Man., Jan. 25.—That the work of Mr. Watson Griffin, Industrial Commissioner, of this city is beginning to bear fruit heavily is attested by the decision of The Great West Fireworks Co. to locate here and erect eight or ten buildings at once. The manager is stated to be the greatest fireworks expert in America. In addition, an American manufacturer of valves and engineering specialties and a Canadian maker of jute bags have decided to locate here on certain conditions. Plans are now under way for a large departmental store on Tenth Street, to be 100 by 120 feet and nine stories high. This will be a thoroughly modern structure in every way. A busy year in all lines is looked forward to, it being expected that Brandon will accomplish as much this spring and summer as she has in the past three years put together.

HUNDRED PER CENT. INCREASES AT HUMBOLDT.

Humboldt, Sask., Jan. 25.—Substantial proof of the progress made last year at Humboldt is to be found in the official figures of the town. Comparing 1911 and 1912, it is found that assessments have jumped from $579,535 to $1,161,271, building permits from $115,000 to $235,000, and bank clearings from $1,923,382 to $3,403,871. In other words, for every house built last year, there have been two built this year and for every dollars' worth of business done last year in Humboldt, 1912 has seen a turnover of two dollars. Development in a northerly and westerly and westerly direction is particularly active.

QUARTER MILLION REALTY DEAL.

Fort William, Ont., Jan. 25.—A $250,000 realty deal was consummated in Fort William last week by which forty-five acres of the Bank of Montreal's property on Island No. 1 was sold. It is stated on good authority that the buyers represent one of the largest industrial firms in the Dominion. The realty market in the Dominion. The realty market in Fort William is expected to be particularly active this year.

NEW POST OFFICE FOR VEGREVILLE.

Vegreville, Alta., Jan. 25.—That Vegreville's new Post Office will be rushed to completion in the spring there is now no doubt. The Minister of Public Works has advised the Vegreville Board of Trade that the plans as finally drafted by his department have been approved by the Postmaster General and that tenders for construction will be called for early in the year. So far a $52,000 appropriation has been made but it is not considered that this sum will be sufficient to cover the building as planned. The total cost will probably run considerably in excess of this.

HEAVY BUILDING PROGRAM AT WEYBURN.

Weyburn, Sask., Jan. 25.—Among the many important structures which will be erected at Weyburn this year are the new court house and land titles office for which the authorities have already secured a site. Plans have been completed for a large apartment house, many large business blocks, and many new houses, many of which will be erected by outside capital. The C.P.R. will build a 150 foot addition to their freight sheds and the G. T. P. will begin operations on their new station as soon as weather conditions permit. The J. I. Case Threshing Machine Co., who have a nine acre site here, are also under contract to begin building this year. Other negotiations now under way will call for several large industrial constructions during the year.

TOWN COUNCIL ACTIVE.

Nokomis, Sask., Jan. 25.—$30,000 was spent by the town council of Nokomis during 1912 for town improvements. Three miles of cement sidewalk and curbing were laid, cement crossings were put in on all the principal corners and in the business and residential district, and arrangements were made to have the better residential streets boulevarded with trees to be planted in the spring. $5,000 of the expenditure was used in grading streets so that Nokomis' thoroughfares are in the best possible condition, although not paved. Between $5,000 and $6,000 was spent on a rink for skating and curling. Nokomis has the finest rink between Brandon and Saskatoon. The programme for 1913 includes the town hall, electric lighting system and improved fire service.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

THE GAMBLERS.

Every city in the land knows that there are bankers who do tamper with the funds entrusted to them. Charles Klein's play, "The Gamblers," is true to this life. The gamblers control a chain of banks. They have obtained much power, but in their desire to expand they resort to violations—"technical-violations"—of the banking laws. They are first citizens to whom this sort of thing is business. The bank borrows beyond its capital and these officers are about to be prosecuted. One of the gamblers is interested in the wife of the prosecutor for the Federal government. From this the real plot develops. The sympathy you give the man who has broken the law may be wasted, but that is quite beside the point. The fact remains that every character in "The Gamblers," which comes to Griffin's opera house Tuesday evening, Jan. 28, is genuinely human.

Clocks have a definite use

Some are made to tell you that it's morning.

Others measure time for the work in the kitchen.

Some are voiceless, others sound the hour from end to end of the house.

Some are a little larger than a good sized watch.

Others are big and bigger and biggest.

But each is intended for a certain purpose.

Needing one in your house?

You'll find what you are looking for right here—clocks of all sizes for all uses at all prices.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

QUIET WITH POLICE

In police circles to-day everything was exceptionally quiet. No arrests were made last night, and there were no cases before the Magistrate.

AT THE BATTERY

Major G. V. Horden, District Staff Officer of Kingston, was in the city yesterday conducting a staff course at the Armouries. Several of the officers of the 15th and 49th Regiments were in attendance. This short course has been held for several weeks and will continue for some time, on Friday of each week.

WEDDED IN CLEVELAND

On Wednesday of this week, Mr. Hope McGinnis, merchant of this city was married to Miss Honor Maude Marsh of Cleveland, Ohio. The wedding was solemnized at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Andrew MacDonald, who resides on Decker Avenue, Cleveland. Rev. Mr. Caulk, Rector of the Church of the Holy Spirit, officiated. After their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis will take up their residence in this city. Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis with a wish that their wedded life may be both pleasant and profitable.

How to Treat Sprains and Strains

After Ten Days' Suffering Mr. Quinn Says Nothing Cures Like Nerviline. Thousands Recommend "Nerviline."

One of the most soul-distressing accidents that can befall one is a bad ankle or wrist sprain. "If I had only known of 'Nerviline' earlier, I could have saved myself an enormous amount of pain and many agonizing nights of sleeplessness." Thus writes P. P. Quinn.

"I tumbled from a hay loft to the barn floor and sprained my right ankle and left wrist. They swelled rapidly and caused excruciating pains. It was not convenient to go to the city, and the liniment in the house was useless. When I get Nerviline Relief came quickly. It took down the swelling, relieved the pain, and gave me wonderful comfort.

"I can recommend Nerviline for strains, bruises, swellings, muscular pains, and sore back. I have proved it a sure cure in such cases."

Think what it might some day mean to you to have right in your home ready for an accident or emergent sickness, a bottle or two of Nerviline. Get it to-day.

DEATH OF AGED LADY

An estimable aged lady in the person of Mrs. Mary Boulter, widow of the late Mr. James Boulter, passed away in this city yesterday afternoon, the cause of death being senility. Deceased who was 88 years of age, was born at Demorestville, Prince Edward County, where until three years ago she had always resided. For the past three years she had made her home with her son, Mr. George Boulter who lives at No. 2 Bellevue Terrace. Mrs. Boulter was a member of the Presbyterian Church and was a lady who was admired by all who knew her, being possessed of a friendly and lovable disposition. Many years ago her husband, Mr. James Boulter preceded her to the tomb. Surviving is a family of two sons and two daughters. The sons are George of this city, and Fred of Toronto. The daughters are Mrs. S. A. Cole of Meaford and Mrs. Emma Anderson of New York. The remains were to-day taken to Glenwood Avenue, Prince Edward County for interment.

RHEUMA DRIVES OUT RHEUMATISM

After 25 Years of Misery, This Man Walks, Works and Feels Fine Again.

Right away—the first day you start to take RHEUMA—the Uric Acid poison begins to dissolve and leave the sore joints and muscles. Its action is little less than magical.

RHEUMA works so speedily you actually can feel the Rheumatism leaving the body. A bottle costs but 50 cents, and if you are not satisfied W. H. Lattimer will return your money. Read this:

"I wish to state to you the facts and nothing but the facts. I bless the day a friend brought me a 50-cent bottle of RHEUMA. I used one-half of it and it did me more good than all the other medicines I ever tried. I had been afflicted with Rheumatism all over my body for more than 25 years; I could not walk, and was a broken-down man. During that time I spent a small fortune trying to be rid of the terrible disease, but without help. However, RHEUMA reached my case, and I thank God I can again use my feet and do my work.

"Before taking your medicine I was staying with a daughter on her farm, and despite her loving efforts to tempt my appetite I could not eat. After I had taken RHEUMA two days my appetite returned. Yours for prosperity."—Prof. H. H. Kolling, 7 S. Ninth St., Richmond, Ind., Oct. 10, 1912.

BANKING LEGISLATION

The second reading of the bank act at Ottawa this week was the subject of animated debate. So long as Mr. White's proposed amendments are discussed upon their merits and not from the political viewpoint, such discussion is healthy for the country. The bankers, we feel sure, are in favor of free criticism and suggestion. While we have an excellent bank act, moulded from time to time to meet the financial needs of the country, we may have a still better one as the result of co-operation between the public, the bankers and the government.

The public realize that they must be financed by the banks, and the public desire, therefore, fair treatment, as they have generally had in the past. The bankers, recognizing that they enjoy certain privileges, wish to extend legitimate credit, run their business in a business-like way and satisfy their shareholders and depositors. The Government has to regulate the privileges and suggest amendments to the bank act deemed necessary every ten years.

No reason is there why such a serious and important matter should be the subject of acrimonious debate. The proper desires of every factor in Canadian banking can be gratified by a calm and non-political consideration of the act.

The question of government inspection was prominent in this week's debate. Mr. White maintained that it would be ineffectual, and would create a false sense of security and relieve the directors of a sense of responsibility. As he truly pointed out, the very essence of banking is the loan on personal credit as opposed to the loan on securities.

The personal factor in banking, says the Monetary Times, has not been generally considered as it properly should. Whatever audit or inspection is devised, whatever safeguards are taken, we must, as Mr. White says, always rely in the final analysis on the integrity and ability of the officers and directors. We think it will be pursuing a useless suggestion to advocate government inspection. No government of any political color whatever would attempt to undertake it.

Mr. White has carefully considered English legislation, and the provisions for audit incorporated in the act substantially put it in the same position as the most advanced legislation in British countries. The bank shareholders are the proprietors. The loss falls principally on the shareholders, and they should appoint the auditors. It has been suggested that through proxies the directors should appoint these officials. It is impossible to prevent this, but it is provided that there must be ten days' notification to all shareholders. There is no case on record of collusion between directors and an auditor, and the directors are as interested as the other shareholders. Penalties have been made severe, five years' imprisonment being prescribed for improprieties, and penalties have also been added for negligence.

Double liability has always been an unpleasant incident at the time of bank failures. Mr. White was asked if anything had been done to relieve the shareholders from that. The suggested amendments do not propose and change in that direction, but Mr. White thinks that under the new inspection the liability might be limited to the paid up capital as in the case of a corporation.

THE SPRINGER LOCK MANUFACTURING CO., Ltd.

It is with pleasure that we note the magnificent progress of the Springer Lock Manufacturing Company, Limited, of Coleman Street, this city, the annual report of which will be found on another page of this issue. That system and business energy, combined with favorable national conditions tend to prosperity, is amply demonstrated in the conduction of this enterprise. Although but three years have passed since coming into existence, it today stands at shoulder-height with any like industry in the Dominion, with ambition for still further forging into prosperous prominence as the leader in its line of production. Aside from the fact that the Board of Directors is made up of safe business men, to the energy of the managing director, Mr. W. C. Springer, a practical man at the mechanical helm, is due the splendid showing thus far, and particularly that of the year just closed, the figures of which give a forty per cent. increase over the previous twelve months. It is truly an inspiration to visit the works, with its clean, well lighted apartments, containing the most up-to-date equipment for speed of production and perfection of goods, an inspection of which by a representative of The Intelligencer yesterday, demonstrated an ability to meet every demand of the market. With the latest designs as patterns and the most efficient workmen obtainable the Springer Lock Manufacturing Company is, despite its short business career, destined to be reckoned with as one of the most popular competitors for patronage the world over. Success to it.

CURRENT COMMENT

Mr. Taft says he has been a failure as a politician and there are several million people in the United States ready to agree with him for once. Yet he is but one among a large army of aspirants to political fame.

* * *

That Great Britain will expend two hundred and forty million dollars in building five battleships, six cruisers and a number of minor vessels for her navy should answer the question of certain Liberals as to whether there is an emergency confronting the Empire.

* * *

France has decreed that the drum must be abolished, as a part of its military equipment, and other powers have followed its example. This may be all very well for effete Europe, but no 12th of July celebration is going to be complete over here without its rattling inspiration, and we know it.

* * *

There are rumors of rebellion among the conservative members when the provincial legislature meets. Some independent spirits insist upon the right to sneeze without special permission of the "Big Boss."—Whig.

That depends upon how loud they wish to sneeze.

* * *

A boy of 13 was sent to jail with hard labor the other day in Montreal, although he afterward got off on a technicality. Surely there was something wrong here. A boy has hardly reached the criminal class. Juvenile courts are intended to care for such cases, and the law provides for their establishment and maintenance.—Guelph Mercury.

* * *

The announcement that the Dominion Government is to appropriate $10,000,000 as Federal aid to agriculture is being treated rather coolly by the Liberal press. It's about time those so-called friends of the farmer woke up to what such a large expenditure means in the advancement of the agricultural interests of this country.—Guelph Herald.

* * *

The Jewish Writers' Union of New York is out after a five hour work day. If they write stuff like the Tory papers in Canada print around election times, five hours would do very nicely.—Guelph Mercury.

But they don't. It is a sort of Liberalized idea that personal ambition must be attained whether common sense or thought for the good of the fraternity enters into it or not.

* * *

Mr. Emmerson has been repeating in Parliament, his arguments in favor of the Government taking over and operating as part of the Intercolonial system all the short railways connecting therewith. When Mr. Emmerson was Minister of Railways he had charge of the Intercolonial in the year it spent $8,508,000 in operating and maintenance outlay to earn $6,782,000 in traffic receipts. His practice was so unsatisfactory that it may be doubted if the country will be warranted in accepting his theory as to what is good for the property.—Montreal Gazette.

ANY HEADACHE CURED, TIRED SYSTEMS RE-TONED

WHEN YOU'RE DULL, TIRED, RESTLESS DAY AND NIGHT SOMETHING IS WRONG IN THE STOMACH.

A Prominent Publishing Man Says the Quickest Cure is Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

Headaches never come to those who who use Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and this fact is vouched for by the Assistant Manager of the Poultry Success Magazine, of Springfield, O., Mr. J. H. Callander, who writes: "No better medicine than Dr. Hamilton's Pills. We use them regularly and know of marvelous cures that resisted everthing else. They cleanse the whole system, act as a tonic on the blood, enliven digestion, help the stomach, and make you feel strong and well. For headaches, indigestion and stomach disorders I am confident that the one prescription is Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

Being composed of natural vegetable remedies, Dr. Hamilton's Pills possess great power, yet they are harmless. They aid all organs connected with the stomach, liver and bowels. In consequence food is properly digested, the blood is pure and nourishing, the body is kept strong and resists disease, all druggists and storekeepers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box, 5 for $1.00, or by mail from the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Hydroplane To Race For Gold Cup On St. Lawrence

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Jan. 24.—In the hope of retaining the gold challenge cup of the American Power Boat Association on the St. Lawrence River, it became known to-day, that A. Graham Miles, of New York, is now having built at the George C. Boldt yacht house on the St. Lawrence a racing hydroplane which is expected to develop a speed of 50 miles an hour.

It is also expected that the boat will be entered as a challenger for the international trophy won on Huntington Bay, L. I., last year by the English challenger, Maple Leaf IV.

The construction of the boat has been kept secret heretofore.

Turkish Delegates Blame The Powers

LONDON, Jan. 24.—"The blood of Nazim Pasha" said one of the Turkish Peace Delegates here this morning, "is on the head of the European Powers. Their unfair and precipitate attempt to force Turkey into the unjust surrender of the fortress of Adrianople has borne its inevitable fruit."

The Turkish plenipotentiaries express the deepest regret for, and condemnation of, the killing of Nazim Pasha, but declare that the events which occurred yesterday were to be expected by any one who knows Turkey, the patriotism of her people, and the spirit of her army.

"Now both the Balkan allies and the European Powers have had a taste of what Turkey is capable of doing, of what resistance she is able to offer, and what sacrifices she is ready to endure." He added: "Nothing is more dangerous than a wounded lion."

Nazim Pasha's Body Is Laid At Rest

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 24.—The funeral of Nazim Pasha, who was killed here last night, took place this morning. The new Grand Vizier and Minister of Minister, Noradunghian Pasha, was old comrade of the dead commander-in-chief, was present.

After the burial the members of the Cabinet went to the Palace and took the oath of allegiance to the Sultan. Subsequently the retiring Foreign Minister, Nordunghuan Pasha, was called to a meeting of the Cabinet Council to explain the foreign situation.

The Sultan went to the mosque at noon to attend the usual selamilk, at which Mahmoud Schefket Pasha and Enver Bey olsa were present. The function passed off without incident.

Putnam's Corn Extractor Cured Letter-Carriers Corn

Mr. J. McGuire, of the Kingston, Ont., Post Office, says: "I was almost crippled with corns. They made me so lame and sore I could scarcely walk. I used a number of remedies but got no relief. Fortunately I tried 'Putnam's Painless Corn and Wart Extractor.' A few applications perfectly cured my corns. I recommend 'Putnam's' Corn Extracter. Price 25c. at druggists.

German Imports

MONTREAL, Jan. 24.—Trade reports for the year 1912 from January to November incolusive, have been completed by the German consulate here, and show an increase in imports to Germany from Canada of $7,000,000. The figures are: $3,500,000 and $10,500,000 respectively.

These figures, it is pointed out, will not agree with the statistics compiled by the Canadian authorities as the German tables show all imports from Canada, many of which, however, did not come direct, but through other countries. It is said that whereas the trade has increased to considerable extent, Canada is not getting her fair share of the market. William Bergholdt, of the German consulate, stated today that nearly half Germany's exports are cereals, and foodstuffs and that as her population is increasing at the rate of one million a year there was no reason why Canada should not avail herself of the opportunities for wider market.

France Asserts Fidelity

PARIS, Jan. 24—The new French Cabinet, under the premiership of Aristide Briand, today submitted the customary declaration of policy to the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate. The document reaffirms France's fidelity to her alliances and friendships in regard to foreign affairs. The intention also is announced of bringing forward numerous domestic measures, the most important among which is the completion of the legislation giving proportional representation to minorities in parliament.

"PAIN COMPLETELY LEFT ME"

So Says Thomas Stephenson after Taking GIN PILLS

To those who have suffered, year in and year out, from the dragging misery of Kidney Disease, anything that will relieve the pain is a blessing indeed. That is just what a well-known resident of Lachute Mills, Que., and his wife both found in GIN PILLS.

Lachute Mills, P. Q.

"I was troubled for many years with Kidney Disease, and a friend told me to take GIN PILLS. After taking a few boxes, I was greatly relieved, and after finishing the twelfth box, the pain completely left me.

My wife is now using GIN PILLS and finds that she has been greatly relieved of the pain over her Kidneys.

I can safely recommend anyone suffering from Kidney Trouble to give a fair trial to GIN PILLS." THOMAS STEPHENSON.

Would you welcome such a relief? Then take GIN PILLS. They go right to the spot—ease the pain almost at once—neutralize the Uric Acid which is causing all the trouble—strengthen the kidneys so that they will be able to keep the blood pure—and quickly take away that weakness and tenderness of the back which undermine the energy and vigor of manhood and womanhood.

Don't pass GIN PILLS without a trial. Every box is sold on the positive guarantee that if six boxes, used according to directions, do not help you, your money will be cheerfully refunded.

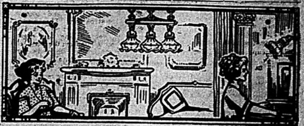
McINTOSH BROS.



A home is known by the parlor it keeps

It's about the only room the average visitor sees and the whole house is sure to be judged by the appearance of the parlor.

For this reason the parlor is generally the best furnished room in the house. It should be the best lighted room also. Nothing shows off mahogany, bric-a-brac and tapestry as well as electric lights set in Holophane Reflectors.

The parlor is usually the music room too, and an electric bracket that sheds light over the piano will be found a great convenience.

The most pleasing effects in parlor lighting may be had by the use of Holophane Reflectors. These Reflectors are of rich, sparkling optical glass, designed in the most fashionable shapes. They add not only to the beauty of a room, but they economize on light.

If you are not satisfied with the lighting of your parlor, let us send a representative to talk to you about economical lighting by electricity.

SPORTING NEWS

HOCKEY.

About 400 hockey enthusiasts journeyed to Trenton last night to witness the scalping of the Trenton team by the Belleville aggregation to the tune of 8 to 2. Considering the unsatisfactory condition of the ice, it being bare in many places, the game was speedy. The score at half-time was 2 to 0 in favor of Belleville. The Trenton team succeeded in notching two goals in the course of the game, one just after half-time and the other in the last stage of the game. Our youngsters put up a good account of themselves, working together with that co-operation that is bound to win out. Whittie did most excellent work, his end-to-end rushes being very brilliant. Brotherhood's work in goal was phenomenal. Had the ice been in good condition it is a safe bet that Trenton would have received a more terrific beating than that of last evening. Belleville certainly has a good team, and notwithstanding the various setbacks caused by weather conditions, the "bunch" is to be reckoned with during the series. Now, altogether, and hand it to them again on Monday night, fellows. You can do it, because it is a "dead cinch."

The lineup:

	Belleville.	Trenton.
Goal.	Brotherhood	Pringle
Point.	Whittie	Anderson
Cover-point.	Finkle	McGorman
Royer.	Hedgins	Tripp
Center.	Higgins	Lamore
Right Wing.	Wallace	Halley
Left Wing.	Goyer	Hoag

ONSIDE SHOTS.

We had to play against eight men, but it was easy.

• • •

There's nothing to it, boys. We must cinch that junior O.H.A. rag this year.

• • •

Don't be afraid to come to our town, Trenton. Our boys are gentlemen and the Belleville fans are noted for their good sporting proclivities.

• • •

The Trenton defence was strong, especially Pringle in goal. He is a peach. The shots rained in on him all night, but he handled most of them with finished ease.

• • •

McGorman was there with the rough-house stuff, but a Trenton fan, who seemed to speak with authority, said he could do it a little more, and was surprised that he was so mild last night.

• • •

The time-keepers had to ring the gong and lead the referee by the hand to the corner where Bill Wallace was writhing in agony from a dirty cross-check. Did a Trenton man go off? A foolish question.

• • •

Did you see the dirty blow Hedgins received from Tripp—the end of the stick in the face. Tripp went off with a satisfied grin on his face, not waiting for the "referee" to ask him if he really meant to do it.

• • •

All the local boys worked well and hard. Wallace had them puzzled with his stickwork; Whittie was simply a red streak when he got started; Goyer's shot was wicked; Finkle demonstrated that he can play defence as well as forward, and that is going some; Hedgins was all over and at the right time; Higgins played his position always and never lost an opportunity to shoot, while Brotherhood had his eye on the puck from the face-off, and his stops were phenomenal.

FROM O. H. A. HEADQUARTERS.

The Tecumsehs have decided to protest Wednesday night's intermediate O. H. A. game in Hamilton on the ground that the game had been completed when they left the ice with the score 8 to 4 in their favor. There was still four and a half minutes to play, according to Referee Waghorne and the official claims he told the Niagara Falls manager to bring his team back on the ice, which the Tecumsehs deny.

Cobourg has taken out an O.H.A. intermediate certificate for Thomas J. Turpin, who intends to play goal. He weighs 300 pounds and rumor says he fills the net completely.

The Seaforth club entered a protest with the O.H.A. yesterday against Goderich on Tuesday night's game, which was won by Goderich by 6 to 5. The grounds of protest are not stated.

Cleveland Press:—"'Dutch' Poland refused to play the second half of the game. 'That guy Riley Hern knows me, and he won't let me get away with anything,' lamented Poland. 'There's no use leaving the bench. I'll be right back if I do.' Trimble relieved him."

Yes, they both hail from Stratford, and used to be teammates on the Classic City seven. "Dutch" would have a fat chance to get away with anything with Riley on the job.

The Trent Valley Hockey League for 1913 is said to be dead. The league was reorganized and officers elected at the annual meeting held in Marmora last December, but only two clubs, Havelock and Stirling, entered teams. In view of that it is said that the officials have decided to return the money deposited by these clubs and disband the league for this year.

Winnipeg Telegram:—Win or lose the Allan Cup in the championship race now in progress in this city, the champion Victorias, holders of the Canadian amateur hockey title, will make a trip across the Rocky mountains at the close of the season to play against the amateur teams of Vancouver and Victoria.

Nicholson of Tecumsehs and Paddy Moran of Quebec are tied for the goal-tending honors. Both have been scored on 39 times.

St. Michael's will play their postponed senior game with Peterboro at Peterboro on Monday night.

Ottawa Citizen:—Well, there's at least one consolation for local sportsmen. The baseball season is only three months away. That's one game at which Ottawa can show the way.

Rice, formerly of this city, is guarding the nets for the Dominion Bank team in Toronto this season.

Harry Smith of Tecumsehs says that he has played his last game of hockey.

Dr. Roy Thomas, the former Varsity and Barrie goalkeeper, is the man who has been coaching the Varsity senior O. H. A. team.

TORONTO'S FASTEST GAME.

TORONTO, Jan. 24.—What was unquestionably the best game of hockey amateur or professional, played in Toronto this season, was that at the Arena last night, when St. Michael's outlasted University of Toronto and beat the Blue and White by 6 to 4. There was one solid hour of thrilling, dashing, combination hockey. A dizzy pace was set—so dizzy that both teams were very much exhausted after twenty minutes of the second period had elapsed. Those who thought that Quebec's N.H.A. team set a fast pace against the Tecumsehs here a week ago were more than ready to admit that the St. Michael's-Varsity game last night was faster. Unlike the Indian-Quebec game, both teams had great speed.

LINDSAY MIDGETS BLANKED.

LINDSAY, Jan. 24.—The Lindsay Midgets could not come back. True, the team is a new one, but in the game last night against Markham intermediates, the first home game of the season, the locals showed disorganization and lack of practice, losing by 8 to 0. Ice conditions were fair and the fight was a stubborn one, but although the Midgets worked hard individually, they could not contend against Markham's superior combination.

WATERLOO WON ANOTHER.

WATERLOO, Ont., Jan. 24.—The Waterloo junior O.H.A. team recorded their second victory last night, when they defeated New Hamburg by 4 to 2. Yesterday's steady downpour of rain put the ice in rather soft condition, but a good keen game was witnessed.

PLAYED A TIE GAME.

BEAVERTON, Jan. 24.—The second O. H.A. game ever played in Beaverton resulted in a well-contested game of hockey under most unfavorable conditions. The ice was very soft, but the game was good nevertheless, the final score being a tie—9 goals for each team.

COLLINGWOOD JUNIORS WON.

THORNBURY, Jan. 23.—Collingwood defeated the locals 8 to 6 in a junior O. H. A. game here last night.

HUGH McKENNA, Esq.

ST. STEPHEN, N.B. Jan. 17th. 1911.

"I wish to tell you of the great good "Fruit-a-tives" have done for me. For years, I was a martyr to Chronic Constipation and Stomach Trouble. I was greatly run down and my friends feared I had Consumption. I tried numerous doctors and all kinds of medicines, but received no relief until advised to try "Fruit-a-tives" by Mr. McCready, of St. Stephen, and am pleased to say that I now enjoy excellent health. "Fruit-a-tives" are the best medicine made, and I strongly advise my friends to use them".

HUGH McKENNA.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine that will positively and completely cure Constipation. This wonderful compound of fruit juices acts directly on the liver, causing this organ to extract more bile from the blood, and to give up more bile to move the bowels regularly and naturally.

Feb. 10—B.H.S. vs. Y.M.C.A.
Feb. 13—B.B.C. vs. XV. Regt.

All games to be played on Y.M.C.A. alleys. No man to play on more than one team.

RADIUM CURES CANCER.

Many Successful Cases Reported by London Institute.

LONDON, Jan 25.—The long-awaited first report of the Radium Institute of London was published yesterday in The British Medical Journal. It indicates that in addition to a long list of minor non-malignant conditions, such as birthmarks, eczema, tubercular glands, radium often cures and almost always improves cancers of a deadly type. The following summary is given of patients treated: Apparently cured 53, cured 23, improved 245, not improved 70, abandoned treatment 88, dead 55. The term "apparent cure," the report explains, when used in relation to cases of cancer, means that all traces of the original disease disappeared. There were no signs of any recurrence, and patients, so far as can be determined, are free from any indications or symptoms of the disease. The "abandoned treatment" group includes those cases in which the patient had to leave London and those who could not afford to travel repeatedly from the country to the institute.

Epitheliomata skin quickly responded to the treatment. Some varieties of cancers, when attacking not the skin, but the tongue or lip or the lining of the mouth, are almost universally disappointing in their ultimate response to radium therapy. Temporary improvement is not infrequently seen, but the treatment practically has no effect in preventing or delaying the appearance of secondary growths in the glands of the neck and elsewhere. In internal cancers, in which an operation cannot be performed with any hope of success the pain is often greatly relieved.

Some slight degree of benefit resulted in the case of cancers in the breast. For the rest the report says that on the whole it was encouraging. Radium, however, should never be used to take the place of an operation when this is possible.

GRAND TRUNK SYSTEM NEWS ITEMS

Further announcements particularly affecting the Eastern Division of the Grand Trunk Railway System in connection with the reorganization scheme of that company's Transportation Department have now been made public.

The first circular issued by Mr. C. G. Bowker, the new General Superintendent of Eastern Lines records the appointment of Mr. H. F. Coyle as Superintendent of the Belleville Division (districts 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10) with headquarters at Belleville, Ont. Also of Mr. J. J. Conolly as Superintendent of the Montreal Division (districts 1, 2, 3 and 4) with headquarters at Montreal, and of Mr. R. W. Scott as Superintendent of Montreal Terminals, with headquarters at Montreal.

The following appointments are contained in a second circular issued by Mr. Bowker: Mr. F. L. C. Bond as Division Engineer of the Eastern Lines with headquarters at Montreal. Mr. G. Beckingham as Superintendent of Track of Eastern Lines with headquarters at Montreal; Mr. J. H. Johnston, as Superintendent of Bridges and Buildings of Eastern Lines, with headquarters at Montreal.

The above are all approved by Mr. Howard G. Kelly, Vice-President. A first circular issued by Mr. J. J Connolly, Superintendent Montreal Division, announces the appointment of Mr. T. Cushing as Trainmaster of the Third District with headquarters at Richmond, Que., vice Mr. R. P. Smallhorn, who has been assigned to other duties.

A circular issued by Mr. R. W. Scott, Supt. Montreal Terminals, announces the appointment of Mr. R. P. Smallhorn, as Freight Agent, at Montreal. Mr. H. F. Coyle, Supt. Belleville Division, issues two circulars, one appointing Mr. C. S. Ogilvie assistant engineer of the Belleville Division with headquarters at Belleville and the other appointing Mr. H. M. Gain as Trainmaster of Sixth and Seventh Districts with headquarters at Belleville.

These appointments are all approved by Mr. Bowker.

On Western Lines, Mr. Gillen the new General Superintendent, issues his first circular appointing Mr. J. Caldwell Superintendent of Detroit Division, including Durand Terminals (districts 27, 28, 29 and P. O. & N. Ry.) with headquarters at Detroit, Mich., vice Mr. C. S. Cunningham, who has resigned.

Mr. J. Ehrke is appointed Superintendent of Chicago Division including districts 25 and 26, with headquarters at Battle Creek, Mich.

These appointments are both approved by Mr. Howard G. Kelley, Vice President.

Mr. N. R. Charlton of the Grand Trunk Railway System returned from New York Tuesday, where he had been completing the arrangements for an extensive exhibit of the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific at the Travel and Vacation Exhibition, to be held in the Grand Central Palace, Lexington Ave., New York, March 20th to 29th next. The space that will be occupied for this purpose is 600 square feet and a number of original and new ideas will be embodied in the exhibit that will give Canada a splendid advertisement before the thousands of people who are expected to attend this show. Mr. Charlton also concluded arrangements with the International Tournament and Sportsman's Show, which takes place Feb. 27th to March 5th, for a space of 1000 square feet which will be used to place before the New York public and visitors to the exhibition the several summer resort districts in the Highlands of Ontario, particularly the Algonquin National Park, and the new log camps that will be operated for the first time by the Grand Trunk this coming summer. This exhibition is to be held in the Madison Square Garden, and it is expected that there will be a very large attendance.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skilful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

Racial Pigmentation

Investigations with reference to the effects of tropical light on the white man have led to the conclusion that the pigmentation of the skin in dark races affords protection against the effects of too much sunlight, and that its absence in the light races is a bar to their survival in hot and cloudless lands.

It is pointed out that where the Northern races have survived on removal to lighter countries, it has been in cloudy localities.

SITUATION UNCERTAIN

Outcome of Turkish Revolution Cannot Be Forecasted.

Delegates in Peace Conference in London Are Divided Regarding the Future, But Will Await Reply of New Government to the Note of the Powers—Another Revolt May Come to Upset the Young Turk Ministry.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—Some days must elapse before the situation arising from the revolution in Constantinople becomes clearer. As far as may be judged there is no intention on the part of the new Turkish Government to force matters or to resume hostilities if any reasonable compromise with the Balkan allies is possible.

A despatch received here from Constantinople last night says the Council of Ministers sat yesterday to discuss the reply they will make to the note of the powers and that it is believed this reply, while insisting on the retention of Adrianople by Turkey, will point to Thursday's demonstration as a real manifestation of the national will.

The new Government is finding difficulty in filling the post of Foreign Minister. The portfolio has been offered several of the Turkish ambassadors abroad, and thus far all have declined to enter the Cabinet. Until the Ministry is completed by the appointment of a Sheil-ul-Islam and a Foreign Minister, it is probable that no definite steps will be taken. Developments in the situation are awaited throughout Europe with the greatest concern, in view of the fact that a danger might arise through active intervention by Russia.

The Balkan delegates to the peace convention in London show no desire for precipitate action. They have accepted the advice of the ambassadors of the powers to await the reply of the new Turkish Government to the ambassadors' note before forming any resolution as to their future procedure.

Opinion among the delegates with regard to the situation is much divided. Some of them maintain that it is useless to wait longer in view of what has happened at Constantinople, which is considered eloquent proof of the attitude of the new Ministry intends to take.

Naturally the Young Turks, some of the delegates say, have worked very hard to regain power. Their activity has been especially marked in the army, but it is not believed that the bulk of the army is ready to support them, and these delegates think it not impossible that a counter revolution will undo whatever was achieved by the young Turks Thursday.

As a whole, however, the allies intend, if possible to wait for Turkey's reply to the powers, and if it is unsatisfactory, to present an ultimatum to the Turkish delegates demanding a categorical answer concerning the disposition of Adrianople and the Aegean Islands. Failing to obtain satisfaction, the armistice then will be denounced and hostilities resumed.

Underwood Says Tariff Cutting Will Not Ruin Trade.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Chairman Underwood of the House committee on ways and means announced emphatically at the tariff hearing yesterday that there was no intention of cutting the rates of duty so low along competitive lines as to ruin the business interests of the country. He took exception to intimations he attributed to Republican members that the Democratic majority of the House purposed to make rates that would disturb business prosperity.

"I deny that there is any such intention," he said, following remarks of Representative Payne, ranking Republican member of the committee.

The committee, which heard the testimony of many manufacturers and importers on the flax, hemp and jute schedules of the tariff, was not disposed to question the competitive character and luxury and classification of many of the laces, embroideries and other articles in the schedule. Mr. Underwood took occasion to agree as to some of them that their competitive status seemed to have been sustained, which is in favor of approximately the same rates on many items.

The entire schedule is one of the most profitable in the whole tariff scheme, and produced last year more than $49,000,000 of revenue, with duties averaging above 45 per cent. ad valorem. Some of these articles will be reduced to stimulate competition and bring revenue.

Rev. Benj. Watkins Dead.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—The former principal of Huron College, Rev. Benjamin Watkins, died yesterday in his eightieth year.

Deceased, who was a native of England, went to Canada in 1888. He was professor of classics in Bishop's College, Lennoxville, Que., up to August, 1895, when he was appointed principal and professor of divinity in Huron College, London, Ont., and provost of the Western University. Resigning in 1901, he became rector of Trinity Church, Que. Since 1906 he has been vicar of Dunkeswell, Honiton, Devonshire, Eng.

Bryce May Settle Dispute.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—There is some expectation in official circles here that the British Foreign Office will greatly facilitate the conclusion of the negotiations regarding the Panama Canal tolls issue by referring Secretary Knox's note to Ambassador Bryce with instructions that will give him practically a free hand in dealing directly with the Secretary of State and Chandler Anderson, the counsellor of the Department, who was instrumental in framing the American note, in the effort to reach a satisfactory conclusion.

AID FOR AGRICULTURE

Hon. Martin Burrell's Measure is Presented in House.

Bill is Designed to Reduce the Cost of Living by Providing Education in Scientific Farming—City Populations Grows While the Country Shows a Decrease—West Indian Pact Passes Committee.

OTTAWA, Jan. 25.—Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, presented to the House last night his resolution authorizing the expenditure of $10,000,000 during the next ten years for the purpose of aiding and advancing the farming industry of Canada by instruction in agriculture, including the work carried on by veterinary colleges. The resolution was adopted without dissent, and the bill founded upon the resolution was introduced and read the first time.

In reply to a question Mr. Burrell said that he was unable to say when he would move the second reading of the bill. Indeed, the Government's program for next week is a matter of some speculation. Earlier in the day Sir Wilfrid Laurier enquired of Finance Minister White when the debate upon the bill to revise the Bank Act would be resumed, and received a somewhat indefinite reply. Mr. White did not commit himself beyond saying that some announcement would be made in due time.

Mr. Foster's bill to confirm the reciprocity arrangement between Canada and the British West Indies got through the committee stage.

The keynote of Mr. Burrell's speech in proposing the grant of $10,000,000 was the serious problem presented by the growth of Canadian cities and the increased cost of living. The urban population of Eastern Canada during the past ten years had increased 43 per cent., while the rural population showed a slight decrease. In the west rural population had greatly increased through immigration and homesteading, but not so rapidly as the urban population. It was most important that the lot of the farmer be improved. This could only be done, in the Minister's opinion, by teaching him the true science of agriculture. Aid to the farmers should therefore be extended to him by stimulating educational work.

It was not the intention of the Government to distribute $1,000,000 per year. The grant for the first year would be $700,000 and would increase by $100,000 per year, the purpose being to expend $10,000,000 in ten years. Under this scheme Ontario for the first year would receive $195,733, with an annual increase of $36,147, until the maximum annual grant of $336,319 was reached.

Mr. Burrill said in conclusion that while the autonomy of each province would be scrupulously respected, the Dominion Government would retain and exercise a reasonable supervision over the expenditure of the grants. Meanwhile the work of the Dominion Department of Agriculture would be continued and improved.

Mr. Nesbitt of North Oxford thought the Minister's idea was a good one, but said that the education must be brought to the door of the "ordinary old farmer," like himself. He did not think that the agricultural colleges accomplished much as their graduates seldom returned to the farm. It was true a large number of farmers took an excursion to Guelph once a year, but he doubted if they learned very much.

Hon. Frank Oliver declared that the Minister himself was bringing down, with a view to political effect, a spectacular appropriation of $10,000,000, which in reality meant only for the coming year an expenditure of $700,000.

Moreover, but one phase of the agricultural situation was being faced. Access to larger markets was as important as was the increasing of production. Of the last year's crop in the Prairie Provinces alone, the turning down of the policy of larger markets meant a loss to the farmers there of fully $10,000,000.

DENIES MONEY TRUST.

Morgan's Associate Tells Committee There Is None.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—Accepting, as an argument, a lengthy statement by Henry P. Davison of J. P. Morgan & Co., denying the existence of a money trust and charging the cooperation among the financial interests to the "weak banking law," the House money trust committee yesterday closed for the time being its financial probe.

James J. Hill, railroad pioneer of the Northwest, followed Mr. Davison on the stand. He was examined briefly as to his affiliations with various banks and railroads.

Lifeboats For All.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—A cable to The Tribune from London says:

Board of Trade regulations issued, to become effective on March 1, provide that the British seagoing ships shall carry lifeboats and life-saving appliances for all on board.

Steamships carrying passengers on short excursion between April 1 and Oct. 31 during day light and in fine weather must be supplied with boats for seventy per cent. of the total number of persons they are certified to carry.

Railway Man's Promotion.

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 25.—L. Harold, formerly Grand Trunk freight agent in this city, has been appointed superintendent of transportation for eastern lines, with headquarters at Montreal, according to a circular issued by Vice-President R. G. Kelly.

Mr. Harold has risen rapidly to the top. He came to this city from Brantford and acted as freight agent in this city for some time. Later he moved to Hamilton, where he became trainmaster under W. R. Davidson of this city.

HARCOURT IS BITTER

British Colonial Secretary Opposes Votes For Women.

Makes a Slashing Attack on Lloyd-George and Sir Edward Grey and Says Having the Vote Would Ruin the Country and Women Also—Cecil Suggests That He Has Probably Been "Recently Spanked."

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The critical stage was reached yesterday afternoon in the forty-five years' struggle to obtain votes for women, which was started in the House of Commons by John Stuart Mill, the great economist, in 1867.

Mr. Alfred Lyttelton, immediately after "question time," moved the amendment standing in the name of Sir Edward Grey, the Foreign Secretary, to eliminate the word "male" from the franchise reform bill, and thus open the way to the extension of the Parliamentary vote to women. The mover's arguments were along familiar lines. He urged that the trend of recent legislation was to require women to be called into the councils of the nation. They had, he said, already been called to assist in numerous departments.

Mr. Lewis Harcourt, Secretary of State for the Colonies, made a bitter assault on his colleagues in the Cabinet, Sir Edward Grey and David Lloyd-George, and on the whole project.

"I am against any form of Parliamentary suffrage for women on the ground that it is bad for the state and bad for the women themselves," he stated.

Mr. Harcourt concluded that he did not believe the majority of women wanted to vote, and if it were given them it would contribute neither to the happiness of their homes nor to the safety of the country.

The comment of Lord Hugh Cecil on the speech of Mr. Lewis Harcourt was as follows:

"His antipathy to the Grey amendment suggests that he has been recently spanked or has never got over the indignity of being born of woman."

Aside from the opening speeches of Messrs. Lyttelton and Harcourt and Lord Hugh Cecil, the debate yesterday was of an uninteresting character. At six o'clock the discussion was adjourned until Monday, when the leaders of both sides are to be heard.

The feeling was general in the lobbies of the House of Commons that the Government would decide to withdraw the franchise bill in view of the ruling the Speaker on Thursday that the character of the measure would be so changed by the amendments that it would become practically a new bill.

The ruling of the Speaker on the Franchise Reform Bill has "finally exploded the Prime Minister's pledge to women," according to a manifesto issued yesterday afternoon by the Women's Social and Political Union.

The union calls upon the Government to withdraw the franchise bill and reintroduce it in a form giving votes to women equally with men. It says that it is essential that Sir Edward Grey and David Lloyd-George should resign, unless their colleagues in the Cabinet agree to make women's suffrage a Government measure.

The manifesto adds that the Government must have known long ago the turn events would take, and can only clear itself from dishonor by accepting the course suggested.

Almost Coal Gas Victims.

LONDON, Ont., Jan. 25.—Coal gas leaking from a kitchen range was the cause of a near tragedy at the home of J. Hennessy here yesterday morning. Mrs. Hennessy and her three-year-old daughter were overcome and had narrow escapes for their lives.

The accident happened about ten o'clock. Mr. Hennessy was absent at the time. Both have fully recovered.

Gustav Luders Dies Suddenly.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Gustav Carl Luders, one of the best known composers of comic opera and musical comedy in America, died suddenly of apoplexy shortly after midnight yesterday morning while calling on friends. His widow and daughter survive him.

HOW NAZIM DIED.

Turkish Commander-In-Chief Expostulated With Rioters.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 25.—Nazim Pasha, the commander of the Turkish army, received his death wound while expostulating with a crowd of demonstrators for having become embroiled in a conflict at the grand vizierate. The official version of the affray, which is termed a "regrettable incident," was issued last night.

When the demonstrators, it says, headed by Enver Bey, one of the leaders of the Young Turk party, penetrated the grand vizierate in an attempt to enter the council chamber, they were stopped by Fafiz Bey, aide-de-camp to the grand vizier, who, drawing his revolver, fired a shot at them. The aide-de-camp of Nazim Pasha also fired at the crowd, his bullet striking Mehmed Nedjff, one of the demonstrators. The demonstrators thereupon replied, and Nazim's aide-de-camp was instantly killed.

Nazim Pasha, who was in the council chamber, heard the shots and rushed outside. Facing the demonstrators he upbraided them, calling them ill-mannered curs. While he was speaking a bullet cut short his remarks and he fell down.

The leading Unionists of Constantinople declare that the shooting of Nazim was unpremeditated and much regretted, but under the circumstances unavoidable.

Train Hits Coal Car.

TORONTO, Jan. 25.—The Grand Trunk Express, No. 3, from Montreal, which should have arrived here at 7.20 a.m. yesterday, did not pull into the Union Station until 1.35, nearly six hours late. The delay was caused by the Montreal Express colliding with a standing coal car at Coteau Junction, about 37 miles west of Montreal. The engineer in charge of the Montreal train was injured by a piece of flying steel, but his injuries, though painful, will not prove serious.

Another St. Clair Tunnel.

SARNIA, Ont., Jan. 25.—According to the latest rumors in Sarnia a second tunnel under the St. Clair at this point will soon be a reality. It appears that the C.P.R. will start at once to build the tunnel and will have their road here by that time.

PROF. L. SMITH GORDON AT THE CANADIAN CLUB

At the Y. M. C. A. last evening, under the auspices of the Canadian Club, Prof. L. Smith-Gordon, M.A., of Toronto University, delivered an exceedingly interesting address, taking for his subject "Ireland," which was handled in a masterly manner.

A large number were present, and all thoroughly appreciated the discourse. Previous to the delivery of the address, luncheon was partaken of in the spacious banquet room which is amply prepared for this purpose. The supper was provided by Jas. Wallace & Co., and was all that could be desired.

At the conclusion of the supper, Mr. F. E. O'Flynn, President of the club, who occupied the chair, in a few well chosen remarks, introduced Prof. Smith-Gordon, who received a most cordial welcome. At the outset of his remarks it was apparent to all present that the Professor had been but a short time in Canada, and such was the fact, as he subsequently stated. He is thoroughly Irish and is well conversant with the conditions which at present prevail in that country. The speaker thanked all present for the cordial welcome he had received in Belleville on this his first visit. It was a welcome he would remember. In referring to the subject he had selected he said he realized that it was a rather dangerous one in some respects, owing to the fact that one was liable to say something that all would not agree to. This was owing to the fact that there were dissentions and even some trouble in old Ireland. He however realized that in his short experience in Canada there were many in this country who call Ireland their home and no doubt this was the case of many of those present. The Prof. then briefly and in a cautious manner referred to the political questions which were disturbing the Emerald Isle, and stated that for years and years Ireland had been the battle ground for political strife. It was, however, an attractive and lovely country. It is also a country largely inhabited by loveable people. There were questions of momentous importance affecting the Irish people and some may ask, will these be satisfactorily settled? We all, no doubt hope they will be. The great political questions must be settled in a satisfactory manner if it is at all possible. These must be faced in a practical manner. The speaker in referring to the home rule problem asked what is going to be done in Ireland when home rule is settled. The question is, is there anything wrong in Ireland? This question can be answered in the affirmative. There are things that are decidedly wrong in the Emerald Isle. One of the crying evils in Ireland is the fact that many of the best men of that country seek their fortunes in other lands. This has the effect of injuring Ireland. The reason many leave Ireland is because they are not prosperous. This leads to another question, namely, what can be done to improve conditions in this regard, especially for the agriculturists. In this respect something was being done and it was proving a success, and the credit belongs to Sir Horace Plunkett, who was a great agriculturist and at one time a member of Parliament. He was instrumental in forming what is known as the Irish Union Agricultural Society, and it was accomplishing much good for all classes of agriculturists. It is an organization that has for its object the improvement of the people in every respect, to improve farms, to make better agriculturists and to make better business men. In referring to the landlords and tenants, the Prof. stated that the idea prevailing in some parts to shoot the landlord was not reprehensible, but it was rapidly dying out. What is wanted is to get back the Emerald Isle, as it is called, into that happy state that will keep all of its good men at home. Irishmen are neither lazy nor fools, but are possessed of energies which tend to make success of any organizations they are connected with. The Irishmen as a rule are shrewd business men and are not slow to appreciate business principles. Many there are in Ireland that have not the education they would desire to have, but this is improving. The farmers are improving themselves by the means provided by the agricultural unions. In concluding the address the speaker said that every effort should be made to have the people in the north and south of Ireland united for the betterment of the country and themselves. (Applause.)

Mayor Wills, in proposing a vote of thanks to Prof. Smith-Gordon, said he was delighted with the address. The social, political and agricultural conditions of the people of Ireland had been presented in a pleasing manner. He also said that Sir Horace Plunkett, whom the lecturer had referred to, was a relative of Col. Ponton of this city. He had much pleasure in moving a vote of thanks.

Mr. J. Elliott seconded the motion in a few well chosen remarks and Rev. R. C. Blagrave endorsed them.

The vote of thanks was carried by a standing vote and was tendered to the speaker of the evening by the President. Prof. Smith-Gordon suitably acknowledged the same.

The singing of the National Anthem brought the proceedings to a close.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

The Premier Canadian Company

In the amount of its assets the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada exceeds those of any other Canadian Company, and the following remarkable facts testify to the character of this Company's assets. The market value of the holdings of all other Canadian life insurance companies last year exceeded the cost by $464,000—those of the Sun Life of Canada alone by $762,000—thus indicating the superiority of the assets of the Sun Life of Canada. In a given time the assets of all other companies had increased 165%, while in the same interval those of the Sun Life of Canada increased 264%; and while the income of all others increased by 135%, that of the Sun Life of Canada increased by 246%. Surely such a showing entitles the Sun Life of Canada to its premier position.

High Noon Wedding

A very pretty and interesting wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Perry, of Aikens, on the 22nd of January, when their daughter, Almeda T. was united in marriage with Francis A. Jeffrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Jeffrey, Second Concession of Sidney.

While the wedding march was being played by Miss Mabel Jeffrey, sister of the groom, the bride, who was given away by her father, entered the parlor, gowned in champagne colored satin de chene beautifully trimmed with lace and carrying a boquet of cream roses, took her place under an arch of evergreen.

After the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. E. B. Cooke, pastor of the Sidney circuit, the party numbering about forty, partook of a sumptuous wedding dinner. The popularity of the bride was evidenced by the many costly presents which adorned the table.

Upon their return from Bowmanville and other points, where the young couple are spending their honey-moon, they will take up their residence in this vicinity, enjoying the good will and best wishes of a host of friends.

The High School Literary Society

On January 24th, the Junior Literary of the High School, held their first meeting after Christmas.

The President being ill the Vice-President took the chair. A new form had been organized since Christmas and at this meeting councillors were elected for the new form.

After this business the programme proceeded. A very interesting debate had been prepared for the resolution that Canada derived more profit from the products of the farm than of the mine. The debaters, both affirmative and negative gave splendid points which were in favor of the affirmative. They said the two sides were nearly equal.

The programme was carried on as follows:

Piano Duet—Kathleen Trumpour and Fleda Denyes.

Debate—Leader of Affirmative, Roscoe Robson.

Recitation—Bessie Sayers.

Debate—Supporter of Affirmative, Dorothy Marston.

Debate—Supporter of Negative, Elsie Spracket.

Debate—The leader of the Affirmative replied.

The judges decision was in favor of the affirmative.

The meeting was then closed by singing, God Save the King.

TO SAVE CONSUMER.

Californians Must Not Sell Their Frozen Fruit.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—In order to protect consumers and prevent the flooding of the market with oranges and lemons, declared to be unfit for food, the federal board of food and drug inspection yesterday issued an order forbidding the sale of inter-state commerce fruits which have been damaged in the recent freeze in California.

The order was issued after it had been brought to the board's attention that on account of the recent freeze in California, citrus fruit, badly damaged by frost, was being placed upon the market. From 60 to 85 per cent. of the California crop was estimated to be injured.

WOMEN SUFFRAGE TO BECOME LAW IF HOUSE FAVORS

LONDON, Jan. 23.—"I hope we shall win on Monday," David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, today told a deputation of suffragettes representing the working women of the British Isles whom he and Sir Edward Grey, the foreign secretary, received at the treasury department.

"I certainly shall do my very best to see that the amendment to the franchise reform bill eliminating the word 'male' is passed by the House of Commons. Since I have been in the cabinet I have become a more convinced supporter of women's suffrage than ever.

"My experience during the passing of the state insurance legislation has persuaded me that one of the most gross pieces of injustice in public life is that women have no voice in the determination of matters which affect them more closely than men.

"I am convinced that we shall win and win very soon."

The Chancellor of the Exchequer then went on to say that the Liberal Government was ready to stand or fall by Premier Asquith's pledge that if the House of Commons approved the extension of the franchise to women the Government would support it.

There was no truth, he declared, in the published statements that some of the cabinet ministers would resign if the vote were given to women.

Sir Edward Grey gave similar assurances to the deputation, but warned the women that the opposition to be overcome was very formidable and could not be done by menace or personal annoyance.

MAKE THIS TEST

How to Tell if Your Hair is Diseased.

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair, you may want to know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. 98 per cent. of the people need a hair tonic.

Pull a hair out of your head; if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunken, it proves that the hair is diseased and requires prompt attention if its loss would be avoided. If the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want everyone whose hair requires treatment to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We promise that it shall not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. It is designed to overcome dandruff, relieve scalp irritation, to stimulate the hair roots, tighten the hair already in the head, grow hair and overcome baldness.

It is because of what Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has done and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. J. S. McKeown.

Skyscrapers Too High

TORONTO, Jan. 24.—Mr. G. T. Somers, a prominent merchant and financier, who recently retired from the presidency of the Toronto Board of Trade, has given notice on motion before the council of that body, strongly condemning the skycraper epidemic. The building by-law limits the height of all structures to ten stories, or 128 feet, but the infractions of this law are becoming frequent. The Traders Bank building, of 15 stories, was erected seven years ago; the C. P. R. office building or 17 stories is just about completed, the Royal Bank has just secured a permit for one of 20 stories, and it is thought to be inevitable that he other two corners of King and Yonge streets will soon be the sites of similar structures. Then only a block distant a permit has been granted for the erection of a 17-story hotel. Mr. Somers points out all the evils attending this skyscraper mania, and urges the Board of Trade to try to influence the City Council to put a stop to it.

Two Unionists Expire in 'Derry

LONDONDERRY, Ireland, Jan. 24.—Two more Unionist voters have died. The balance alive, however, is still in favor of the Unionists.

Echoes of the controversy at Westminster over Woman's Suffrage are heard here.

Colonel Pakenham, the Unionist candidate, frankly gives the women no encouragement.

"Mr. Hogg, his Nationalist opponent, says:

"I will answer after the election," which not unnaturally aggravates the women more than a direct negative.

The suffragettes claim to be able to influence six votes.

Everything so far is perfectly calm, but three hundred extra police have been applied for.

To Deport Murderer

KINGSTON, Jan. 24.—Antonio Di Torio, an Italian, aged 19 years, was removed from the penitentairy by Special Immigration Officer Devlin and taken to Montreal to be deported to Italy. On October 11th, 1910, Di Torio was convicted at Cobourg for shooting with intent to murder, and was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

When a woman informs her husband that she has something to say to him it means that he is due for a scolding.

Lucky Find For The Rag Sorters

CORNWALL, Jan. 24.—Yesterday while four employees in the ragroom of the St. Lawrence Paper Company, at Mille Roches, were engaged in their regular occupation of sorting paper and rags, they came across one lot which contained what seemed, and proved to be, precious stones, diamonds. The waste paper, which is shipped to the factory in bales, arrived only a few days ago from New York. The find consisted of a few rings and a large number of uncut stones. The discoverers brought their find to Cornwall and a local jeweler pronounced them genuine. The diamonds are worth several thousand dollars.

Calls Girl Chicken

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Jan. 24.—Blaine Starner kept himself out of jail by proving that he had studied his Webster and knew more about the definition of the word "chicken" than did Magistrate Moore, before whom he was arraigned. Stainer was arrested on complaint of a young woman who charged that he had accosted her with "Hello, chicken."

"Your honor," said Starner when arraigned, "I don't see that I did anything wrong. I called the young woman 'chicken,' a perfectly proper term. Just look in Webster's dictionary and you will see that I have transgressed no laws."

Magistrate Moore rummaged in his desk until he found an antiquated copy of Webster and turned to the word in dispute. He found:

"Chicken—The young of various birds, a child, a young woman."

Slingsby's Son Is Illegitimate

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 24.—The efforts of Lieut. Charles Slingsby of Yorkshire, England, to gain control of a $500,000 inheritance brought to light here to-day a strange story of the substitution of an infant for one born dead. According to Mrs. Fred. Certain she became the mother of an illegitimate son in Weaverville, Cal., in 1910, and her child was substituted for the still-born infant of Mrs. Slingsby.

Mrs. Certain, who is now married to a young workingman, who knows her past and has forgiven her, was the known as Lillian Anderson. She said to-day that she gave up her child to Dr. W. W. Frazer, of Weaverville.

"There was nothing crooked about it," she said. "I could not take care of the baby, and the doctor said he would give it a good home, otherwise I wouldn't have let it go. I got no money for it, but I heard later that Dr. Frazer got $75 for bringing my baby to Mrs. Slingsby and substituting it for the dead infant. Dr. Frazer, himself, told me about the substitution months later."

Lieut. Slingsby's claims to the estate depend on the legitimacy of his supposed son; and the disclosures made today by Mrs. Certain will have a sensational effect upon the case.

Women are not as swift as men. It takes some of them forty years to reach the age of twenty-five.

It ought to be easy for a man to keep in the straight and narrow path if there is a barbed wire fence on each side.

95 PER CENT OF CANADIANS HAVE CATARRH

Easily Contracted by Long Standing on Cold Ground, or by Sitting in a Cool Place When Fatigued or Overheated.

You may not have thought of giving a name to the unpleasant symptoms that affect your throat, nasal passages, or bronchial tubes. Where a thick viscid mucus is coughed up or falls into the throat or stomach, when the nostrils are swollen, the throat sore, and breathing tight and difficult, these are absolute proofs of catarrh. Sometimes it affects the head, the eyes are watery and weak, the breath is offensive. No remedy is so certain to cure as Catarrhozone. Instead of taking drowsy drugs, chloral morphine, and opium mixtures, you breathe into your lungs the healing, soothing vapor of a scientific remedy that commands the admiration of all good physicians.

Mrs. J. R. Smith of Lake Stream P. O., Kent Co., N.B., writes: "I think it is my duty to tell you of the great good Catarrhozone did my little girl of eight years. Last winter she caught cold which lodged in her ears in the form of Catarrh. She became sick and very deaf and nothing helped her. By inhaling Catarrhozone she got relief from the soreness and gradually the discharge wore away and she was cured.

"Personally I can also recommend Catarrhozone for colds, throat irritation, and Catarrh. It is a wonderful medicine."

There is no remedy so certain and safe as Catarrhozone, but being a good remedy it is imitated. Beware of the substituter. Large Catarrhozone lasts two months, price $1.00, smaller sizes 25c. and 50c. All dealers or the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

Smashed Glass Of Old Masters

LONDON, Jan. 24.—A man attacked the pictures in the National Gallery this afternoon with a two-foot rule. He smashed the glass and damaged the canvases of four paintings, two of them by Constable, before he was seized by a policeman.

The man gave no motive for his act nor did he claim to be a supporter of the Suffragettes. It is said that the pictures can be easily repaired.

AVOID BLOOD POISON!

The best and simplest way of insuring against blood-poisoning is to apply Zam-Buk to a cut, burn, cold sore or any open wound or diseased part as soon as sustained.

Of all the myriad forms of germs which set up blood-poisoning, not one has yet been found that Zam-Buk does not kill! A thin layer of Zam-Buk over a wound or sore acts in two ways. It prevents all harm coming into the wound or sore from the outside, and on the underside it stimulates the cells to activity, provides just the healing, tissue-building material needed, by causing the blood to deposit this more rapidly and thus brings about rapid healing. Apply it to that cold sore, those chapped hands, that frost bite or that eczema.

Sold at 50c. box, all stores or druggists, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse substitutes.

Brings Tuberculosis Cure to America

BERLIN, Jan. 24.—Dr. Heid of Pittsburg will sail for home tomorrow, carrying with him the first non-virulent bacilli for the cure of tuberculosis to be taken to America. He obtained the culture from Dr. Piorkowsky after Dr. Friedman refused to give him any of the bacilli, though Heid pleaded that he wanted the cure for his sick wife, believed to be dying of consumption.

Piorkowsky formerly was Friedman's bacteriologist, and while he did not claim that the culture he had was from Friedman, he asserted that it would produce the same results.

Friedman today had not carried out his promise to give his secret to the German government.

LACK OF CARE WILL RUIN THE MOST BEAUTIFUL HAIR

Save It With Herpicide

Aside from combing it when they think necessary many people never give any attention whatever to their hair. Then when the hair begins to fall out it never occurs to them that their trouble is the result of personal carelessness.

An occasional application of Newbro's Herpicide will not only prevent loss of hair but permits a luxuriant growth.

Herpicide kills the germ that causes dandruff and to this germ most hair losses are attributable. It keeps the scalp clean and free from dirt, allowing the hair to grow unhampered by accumulation of dandruff.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c. and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded.

Applications may be obtained at good barber shops.

Send 10c in postage for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

To Disfranchise Negro

South Carolina Passes a Resolution Which May Be Followed By Other States.

COLUMBIA, S.C., Jan. 25.—The Senate is expected to act favorably on the concurrent resolution passed by the House yesterday by a vote of 70 to 46 calling on Congress to repeal the fifteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution. The resolution asserts:

"The negro race has made no advancement only as it comes into contact with the other human races. His presence in the United States is because of his not having a government of his own in Africa sufficiently strong to protect its subjects. The reason for this is his weakness. The people of these United States had advanced the negro further than any other nation, having taught him the most extensive language on the globe, the use of tools, the wearing of clothing, and, above all, the Christian religion. In return for all these advantages he has given the people of these United States only anxiety, strife, bloodshed and the hookworm. So long as he has the ballot he will be a menace to the civilization of America. The ballot was given to him at a time, when these United States were riven asunder by strife, prejudice, malice, hatred, anger and revenge."

In view of these circumstances Congress is asked to deprive the negro of the ballot and the South Carolina members of Congress are asked to take active steps towards the repeal of the fifteenth amendment. It is thought the legislatures of other southern states will follow the lead of South Carolina to memoralizing Congress in regard to this matter.

Taft Pardons Convicts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—President Taft established a record yesterday in passing a number of pardon cases. He acted on twenty-two cases, nine of which were denials of petitions, two being pardons, six restoration to civil rights, and the others commutation of sentence.

The sentence of Humbert C. Davis, of New York, was commuted from five years to one year in prison. Davis, who is 21 years of age, was convicted in September, 1911, of embezzlement.

James C. Smith and R. A. Luskey, serving sentences at the Washington Asylum Jail, were pardoned for heroic conduct in saving a woman from drowning. Mrs. J. E. Smith, wife of an officer at the jail, was thrown from a boat in the Potomac River and was sinking for the third time when the two men plunged into the water and rescued her.

F. W. Libby, formerly an officer on Oriental steamships plying between China and the Pacific Coast, who was sentenced to one year in prison and a fine of $500 for smuggling opium into the United States from Mexico, was pardoned.

Libby in confessing, gave the government authorities information that led to the conviction of several opium smugglers at San Francisco, and the pardon was granted on the application of the Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. MacVeagh.

Libby will now be used by the Government in running down smuggling cases at Honolulu.

Believe Certain to Lose Constantinople

PARIS, Jan. 25.—Cherif Pasha, a friend of both Kiamil Pasha and Nazim Pasha, in an interview last night, emphatically affirmed that Germany and Austria had been secretly strenuously working to bring about a return to power in Turkey of the committee of Union and Progress. During Cherif's recent visit to Constantinople, he said high German diplomats did their utmost to induce him to reconcile himself with the committee.

Cherif further declared in the interview that the Sultan would be dethroned, and replaced by the Crown Prince, who maintains close relations with Mahmoud Schefket Pasha, the new Grand Vizier.

Cherif said he believed Turkey was certain to lose Constantinople and all her European Empire and that a counter revolution was imminent, for the Arabs, Kurds and Christians of Asia Minor, all of whom had suffered from the Pan-Islamic repressions of the Committee of Union and Progress, were ready to fight against the return to power of their oppressors.

TRENTON HAS ANOTHER BAPTISM OF FIRE

Hotel Stables Destroyed and Flames Threaten Adjoining Property--Aid Solicited From This City.

The neighboring town of Trenton certainly appears to be unlucky in the fire line. Last Friday night it was visited by a disastrous fire, and last night it was threatened with another conflagration which fortunately was arrested.

At about eight o'clock the fire bell alarmed the stillness of Sunday evening. Flames could be seen towering high in the air, and on investigation they proved to be from the stables of the King George Hotel. Mr. Cook, the proprietor, who owns several valuable horses and vehicles, barely had time to remove them from the building. The Courier printing office, Holsey's confectionery store, the Cooley property, and Mumford's machine shop on Front street received slight damage. The property of Messrs. Weaver & Kenny, an extensive piano warehouse, was ignited, and fear was entertained that serious damage would result, but the fire brigade arrived on the scene in time to extinguish the blaze, and confined the flames to the hotel stables, which were a total loss. The damage is estimated at around $1,000, partly covered by insurance.

When the fire broke out it was formidable in appearance and aid from this city was asked for. The fire steamer and a quantity of hose were taken to the C. N. R. station and a number of the members of the local fire brigade were prepared to proceed to Trenton when a message was received stating that the flames were under control.

Owing to the fact that the city fire engine was requested to be sent to Trenton, it was today taken to that town, where it will remain for some time, to allow for some necessary repairs being made to the Trenton fire engine.

Dr. Smyth at The Bridge St. Church

Ireland has often added to the intellectual life of Canada by the coming here from that country of eminent men in all walks of life. A highly intellectual man of rare scholarship recently came from Belfast to Montreal to occupy the position of Principal of the Methodist Theological College in that city. He is the Rev. Dr. James Smyth, who preached morning and evening in Bridge Street church yesterday, on the occasion of the anniversary of the Education Society of the Methodist Church.

The discourses delivered by the Rev. gentleman were of a most scholarly nature, evincing much thought and careful preparation. Large congregations were present and thoroughly appreciated the discourses.

In the evening the subject discussed by Dr. Smyth was "Life," and it was a very able exposition. He took his text from the revised version of the New Testament, namely, the 19th verse of the 6the chapter of I. Timothy:

"Laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come that they may lay hold on the true life.

JAILED FOR GRAFT

Intelligencer Special.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 27.—W. F. Faulkner, a policeman who admitted having grafted to the extent of twenty dollars, was sentenced to one year in jail.

A YOUTHFUL QUINTETTE ARRESTED ON SERIOUS CHARGE

G. T. R. Freight Car Robbed of Valuables--Accused, Arrested Here Are Residents of Toronto.

Hector Beaton, aged 15, Patrick Gavin, aged 17, William McComb, aged 17, Albert Grey, aged 17, and Michael Riordon, aged 17, all of whom are residents of Toronto, were this morning arrested at the Grand Trunk Railway yard here. The charge preferred against them is a serious one, namely, stealing from a railway car. When the youthful quintette were taken to the police station by G. T. R. Constable Donovan and two members of the local force and searched, pieces of silk, tobacco and other small articles were taken from them. It was at first suposed that this was all they had taken, but in an empty car were found 23 ladies' coats, which one of the parties admitted they had taken out of cases. These garments were all new and their value would probably be $200. They the trade mark of McCurdy & Co., of Sydney, N.S. It is alleged that the coats were taken from a case in a loaded car, and were transferred to an empty car, the transfer taking place at Marysville, where the freight train on which the lads were on, remained for some minutes.

The value of the articles recovered would at least be $250 and the boys are accused of stealing them.

Some time after their arrest, the quintette appeared before the Magistrate and the charge preferred against them was read. As the Crown Attorney, Mr. Anderson, was not prepared to proceed with the case, an enlargement of the case for one week was granted. In the meantime the boys will have to remain in jail.

SPECIAL WIRE SERVICE

MANY ARRESTS MADE

Intelligencer Special.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 27.—Wholesale arrests among the adherents of Kiamil Pasha, the deposed Grand Vizier were made today at the behest of Enver Bey, Turkey's man of the hour, more than 200 influential men suspected of framing the counter revolutionary plot were jailed. A military tribunal has been declared by the young Turks, with Bey as the provisional President. The Sultan is practically powerless.

TO DROP FRANCHISE BILL

Intelligencer Special.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The British Cabinet today decided to drop the Franchise Bill in deference to the Speaker's ruling that the form and substance of the measure would be so materially altered if the amendment granting the vote to women were adopted that it ought to be presented in the shape of a new bill.

BAD FIRE IN GALT

Intelligencer Special.

GALT, Ont., Jan. 27.—The Fraser Block on Dickson Street was completely gutted by fire early today. The Fraser Hardware Company and W. Peard, manufacturer of sweaters, the only occupants of the block, lost everything. The fire, which was one of the most spectacular ever witnessed in Galt, started in the Fraser store. The loss on the building and stock is estimated at close to $60,000 with about $20,000 insurance.

MILITARY PREPARATION

Intelligencer Special.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—A London cable to The Tribune says: "According to news from Londonderry, preparations on a military basis are going on all over Ulster with a view to resisting a Dublin Parliament by armed and disciplined force. Such reports, however, must be taken side by side with the fact that this week's fight in Londonderry will be one of the closest in the history of the borough.

His Jonah Day

Ernest Burleigh Married Twice and Sentenced Twice in One Day.

KINGSTON, Jan. 25—Trnest Boyd Burleigh, aged 20 years, sentenced to three years in the Portsmouth penitentiary, for bigamy, believes that Wednesday is his Jonah day.

In an interview, Burleigh stated:—"Wednesdays have been fatal days for me. It was on a Wednesday I was first married, and on the same day of the week, I married a second time. It was on a Wednesday that I got my sentence for fraud, and I was due to come out next Wednesday, and it was on a Wednesday I was given three years."

Gruesome Scenes Follow Texas Fire

MCKINNEY, Tex., Jan. 25.—A pall of smoke and dust hanging over the collapsed department store, where at least eight persons were killed, furnished McKinney a gruesome reminder of the catastrophe. Not until yesterday did the awful fate of E. N. Presley, a clerk, become known.

After the collapse of the building, Presley was found pinned under heavy timbers and debris. Hard work failed to extricate him, and fire commenced to burn his feet. He cried piteously to rescuers to to shoot him. When they refused he begged a physician standing near to relieve him of his sufferings.

When the doctor hesitated, Presley screwed in agony, and the doctor stepped up and gave him such a strong hypodermic injection that he died in convulsions a minute afterwards.

Presley's wife, who was in Dallas, arrived on the scene a few minutes afterwards.

Leslie Bush, aged 67, a banker, of Allyn, suffered a fate almost as tragic. Pinned in by debris, he begged doctors to kill him. They worked an hour trying to free him, his cries becoming weaker and weaker. He was dead when liberated.

Convict Suicided At Central Prison

TORONTO, Jan. 25.—On the eve of completing a nine months' term for selling cocaine, Dow Lavery committed suicide in the Central Prison by throwing himself over the balustrades to the stone pavement forty feet below. Death was instantaneous.

Lavery who had been sentenced eight months ago in Police Court following a prosecution by the Morality Department was a confirmed drugfield. He eluded the vigilance of the guards and breaking from his cell on the third floor rushed to the iron railings and hurled himself over.

The prison officials notified the Chief Coroner who directed an inquest to be opened. The jury found that the deceased had committed suicide while of unsound mind.

Indictments Squelched

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The jury trying Julian Hawthorne, Josiah Quincy, and others for alleged misuse of the mails to defraud in promoting Canadian mining scheme was directed by Judge Mayer to-day to return a verdict of not guilty in the case of three indictments against Quincy. This leaves two indictments still pending against him. The indictments thus dismissed concerned Quincy's alleged connection with the Temagami, the Elk Lake, and the Montreal James Mines, the court holding that the Government had failed to connect him in any way with these companies.

There are five indictments pending against the other three defendants. The trial of these and the two remaining against Quincy was continued to-day.

Wants Cabinet Ministers Out

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—A London special to the World says:—Though the fate of the Franchise Bill itself remains yet undecided, there is no hope in any event that "Votes for Women" will be embodied in it.

Mrs. Pankhurst shrilly accuses supporters of woman suffrage in the Cabinet of being false to their pledges and declares that nothing will satisfy her and her followers but the immediate resignation of Sir Edward Grey and Mr. Lloyd George.

COL. MATHESON DEAD

Provincial Treasurer Passes Away at Age of 70.

Veteran Conservative Never Fully Recovered From His Illness of a Year Ago—Was a Lawyer For Forty Years and a Militia Officer For Forty-Seven — Sat In Legislature For South Lanark Five Terms.

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—Hon. Arthur James Matheson, Provincial Treasurer, died suddenly at his home in Perth, Ont., at 11 o'clock Saturday night. In the death of Col. Matheson, Ontario loses one of its oldest public men. Since 1894 he had represented South Lanark in the Ontario Legislature, and during the reign of the Whitney Government, since 1905, he was Provincial Treasurer. His death was entirely unexpected, although he had been suffering from heart trouble for a number of years. He worked in his office at the Parliament Buildings until last Friday night. He left for his home town, Perth, on Saturday morning. Several hours after his arrival he was stricken and died at 11 o'clock.

Col. Matheson had never fully recovered from his illness of a year ago. Just prior to the opening of the Legislature last year he was taken ill at the Parliament Buildings, and was conveyed to the Western Hospital. He was confined there for several weeks, and at times his condition was such that it was feared that he could not recover. However, he rallied, and before the close of the session, he was able to resume his duties as Provincial Treasurer.

HON. A. J. MATHESON.

Col. Matheson was born in Perth, Ont., in Dec. 8, 1842, and was a son of the late Hon. and Mrs. Roderick Matheson. His father was a Senator for a number of years. Col. Matheson was educated at Upper Canada College and Trinity University, Toronto, from which he graduated a bachelor of arts in 1865. Five years later he was called to the bar and had for a number of years subsequent practiced law in Perth. He served several years in the council of Perth and in 1883 he was elected mayor, which office he held for a long period. He was up to his death a member of the council of Trinity College.

Col. Matheson came from a family of fighting stock, both military and politically. His father was lieutenant and paymaster in the Glengarry Light Infantry in the war of 1812. The late Provincial Treasurer, himself, took a first-class certificate in the military school and served in the Fenian Raid in 1866 on the St. Lawrence frontier. He was gazetted a captain in 1881, and major in 1885, and in 1866, after having volunteered with his corps for service in the Northwest Rebellion, he was promoted to lieutenant-colonel, commanding the 42nd Regiment until 1898. Two years later he was appointed a brigadier at the volunteer militia.

He was a staunch Conservative and was never defeated in an election. He was returned to Parliament five times as a representative of South Lanark. During the years of Opposition of the Conservative party he was one of the keenest debaters on their side of the House, particularly in matters of finance, to which he showed a special aptitude. He was a well-known public man throughout the province, and appeared on various platforms in aid of his Conservative colleagues. When the party, under the control of Sir James Whitney, came into power in 1905, he was taken into the Cabinet and given the portfolio of Treasurer.

He never married, but lived with two sisters and a brother in the town of Perth until appointed Provincial Treasurer, and then he made his home in the Queen's Hotel. He made frequent visits to his constituency. He was very popular on both sides of the House and a man of exceptionally good qualities. He was quiet and unassuming, a gentleman of the old school, and no one could have been more courteous and kindly.

Cadets Drill Out of Doors.

WEST POINT, N.Y., Jan. 27.—The cadets of the U. S. Military Academy drilled out of doors Saturday in midwinter, in weather so mild that they were without overcoats. With the battalion in full dress uniform, review and inspection was held on the grass plain, an event declared by academy officials to be unheard of before at this season of the year.

LOCAL LEGAL

AN INTERESTING CASE

Independent Insurance Co. v. Wintersborne.—The defendant was the plaintiff's agent at Trenton and insured a threshing outfit for Jeffrey & Dainard, for $600, which class of risk the company had prohibited him from taking. The agent received the premium but did not remit the same to the company, or notify the company that he had taken the risk and issued an interim receipt which he allowed to stand beyond the usual 30 days and no policy was issued. Company claimed this was all done to defraud them. A fire occurred and the threshing outfit was destroyed and the company paid the loss, $600, and sued the agent to recover the amount so paid, and the premium. The action was tried before Kelley J. at the High Court sitting here in November last, and judgment reserved. Judgment was given yesterday at Osgoode Hall for the plaintiffs for $618 and costs of action.

Porter & Carnew for plaintiffs; T. A. O'Rourke for defendant.

Reign of Terror In Turkish Capital

LONDON, Jan. 25—Constantinople is practically in a state of siege and terror reigns supreme, according to reports received by the peace delegates representing the Balkan allies. From the same source it is reported that the Young Turks, fearing that the reins of power may again escape from their hands, are arresting their adversaries in the Turkish capital right and left, and are searching houses and clubs and confiscating documents, hoping in this way to break up the organization of the opposition.

The position of the 5,000 Italian residents of Turkey is now regarded as so precarious that Italy has despatched to Constantinople the cruisers San Mario and Pisa and the gunboat Archimede which are capable of landing 500 bluejackets.

SERGENT-MAJOR UNDER GENERAL FRENCH

VETERAN OF BOER WAR WHO LOST HEALTH ON THE VELDT TELLS EXPERIENCE.

GOOD ADVICE FOR ALL WHO HAVE INDIGESTION OR STOMACH DISORDERS.

In his home at Waldegrove, N. S., no one is better known than Sergt.-Major Cross, late of the 4th Queen's Own Hussars. Speaking of the ill-effects of a campaign upon a man's constitution, the Sergt. Major writes: "I served under General French during the late Boer war, in the capacity of Sergt.-Major. It was perhaps owing to a continued diet of bully beef, hard tack, and bad water, but at any rate my stomach entirely gave out. I was in such a state that I could eat nothing without the greatest suffering. The army doctors did not help me much, and since leaving the service I have been very miserable. Some few months ago a friend told me he had been a great sufferer from indigestion until he tried Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they cured him. I confess it was without much faith I bought a box, but the first dose made me feel better than I had been for a long time. Dr. Hamilton's Pills completely cured, and now I can eat everything and anything. I have recommended them to others and in every case the result has been similar to mine."

Quick, sure results attend the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They cure disorders of the stomach, correct indigestion, make you feel uplifted and strengthened. To renew or maintain health, Dr. Hamilton's Pills always prove a good prescription. 25c. per box, five boxes for $1.00, all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

LIONESS GOT LOOSE.

Escape of Huge Beast Caused Panic In French Playhouse.

PARIS, Jan. 27.—The escape of a lioness led to a panic Saturday evening in the Theatre Populaire, Belleville, which was crowded with a working-class audience. At the moment when the villain in the play was condemned to be torn to pieces by wild beasts a fine lioness was brought on the stage, but instead of leaving the cage by the back the animal pushed open a side door and walked to the front before the footlights.

A cry of horror rose from the audience. The conductor of the orchestra, paralyzed with fear, held his arm aloft and the musicians suddenly stopped playing. A moment later the iron safety curtain descended, and the lioness, seeing her retreat cut off, bounded from the stage, landed in the front stalls, and then leaped into a box which, happily, was empty. She made her way along the corridor to the manager's office, where the door was closed behind her and she was trapped.

Meanwhile the spectators, seized with panic, fled from the theatre. Many women and children fell and were trampled on. Those who escaped from the building sought refuge in an adjoining cafe, shouting as they ran: "Flee for your lives, the lioness has escaped!" When the panic had subsided and it was known that the lioness had been persuaded to re-enter her cage, the public went back to the theatre, the floor of which was strewn with hats, umbrellas and handbags, and searched for their property.

N. Y. WANTS CONTROL.

Would Wrest Niagara Falls' Rights From U. S. Government.

WSAHINGTON, Jan. 27—The board appointed by Secretary of War Stimson to report upon the problem of the diversion of water from Niagara Falls as well as its proper distribution and the preservation of the scenic beauty of the cataract, will visit the falls this week to make a personal investigation of the situation. This board consists of Lt.-Col. Mason M. Patrick, Lt.-Col. Francis J. Kernan and Major Charles Keller.

The Burton Act, which controls the diversion of water to the American side of the Niagara River and limits the amount of horsepower which may be transmitted into the United States from Canada, will expire by limitation on March 4 next. An effort now is being made to wrest control of the diversion of water from the Federal Government and vest it in the New York State Government. This proposition is strenuously opposed by the Federal authorities, who maintain that the problems involved lie clearly within the jurisdiction of the War Department, which controls all navigable waters.

COULD USE MORE.

Manitoba's Minister of Agriculture Thankful For Federal Loan.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 27.—"We could have made good use of more, but we are very grateful for what the Dominion Government is giving us," said Hon. George Lawrence, Minister of Agriculture for Manitoba, Saturday, discussing aid to agriculture legislation introduced in the Commons on Friday by Hon. Martin Burrell.

Mr. Lawrence said the Department was in a "receptive mood," and declared this was only the second instance when it had received any aid from the Dominion Government. "The late Government never gave us anything," he said.

"I had thought," continued the Minister, "that possibly the grant would be based on the amount of money expended by the provinces on agricultural work, and that the older provinces would get less than they are getting, and the newer provinces more."

BABE SENT BY MAIL.

He Was Just Under Eleven Pounds and Went For 15 Cents.

BATAVIA, Ohio, Jan. 27.—Vernon O. Lytle, mail carrier on a rural route out of this place, is the first man to accept and deliver under parcel post conditions a live baby. The baby, a boy, weighing 10 3-4 pounds, just within the 11-pound weight limit, is the child of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Beagle of near Glen Este. The "package" was well wrapped and ready for "mailing" when the carrier got it on Saturday. Its measurements reached 71 inches, also just within the law, which makes 72 inches the limit. Mr. Lytle delivered the "parcel" safely to the address on the card attached, that of its grandmother, Mrs. Louis Beagle, who lives about a mile from its home. The postage was 15 cents and the "parcel" was insured for $50.

Another Banker Sentenced.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The third former bank president to be convicted within a month in Brooklyn, on charges arising out of the panic of 1907, was found guilty of grand larceny Saturday. William C. Damron, who was head of the Home Bank received with calmness a jury's verdict of guilty in misappropriating $2,500 of the bank's funds. He will be sentenced Wednesday, when a fourth Brooklyn banker, another officer of the Home Bank, will be placed on trial. Other trials will follow.

DEATH ROLL.

WM. BURLEY

Mr. William Burley, who resided on Cedar Street, died last evening, as the result of an attack of pneumonia. Deceased who was 30 years of age, was born in Tyendinaga Township, but had resided in this city for some time, being engaged as a warehouse man for the Steel Company of Canada. Mr. Burley was a man who was much respected by his fellow employees. He was a member of the Methodist Church and was a member of the Woodmen of the World Society. A widow and three small children survive, and a sad feature is that one of the later is seriously ill. The remains will be taken to Melrose tomorrow for interment.

MARY A. HAMILTON

On Saturday afternoon Miss Mary Ann Hamilton passed away at the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. R. P. Hamilton, Cedar Street. Deceased, who was in her 76th year, was born in the Township of Tyendinaga where until 7 years ago she had always resided. For the past 7 years deceased lived in this city. Senility was the cause of death. Miss Hamilton was a member of Christ Church and was a lady esteemed by all who knew her. She was a sister of the late Mr. R. P. Hamilton and the last surviving member of the family. The funeral took place this afternoon and many were in attendance. At Christ Church the burial services of the Anglican Church were conducted by the Rector, Rev. R. C. Blagrave, who also officiated at the grave at Belleville cemetery where interment took place. The bearers were Messrs. A. Ostrom, B. Backus, S. Leavitt, A. G. Vermilyea, W. S. Weese and G. L. Sills.

THOMAS DORLAND PRUYN

News comes to us this morning of the death, at Buffalo, N. Y. on Saturday last of Mr. Thomas Dorland Pruyn, formerly of Napanee, aged 63 years. For about two years the deceased had been suffering from the effects of a paralytic stroke, from which in a degree he had recovered, yet of late a gradual decline, apparent to ultimate friends, culminated in his death at the above date. Mr. Pruyn was a native of Napanee, obtaining his early education in the schools of that town, and following a collegiate course, entered business for some time, later taking up public duties as assistant Sherriff of Lennox Co., under he is father, Sherif. O. T. Pruyn, which position he held for twenty-five years or until his father's death. He served as Mayor of Napanee, and was also the choice of the Liberal Conservative party for the Provincial Legislature, which honor he declined, going to British Columbia, where he remained for five years, returning to Buffalo, N. Y., in which city he resided until his death. Mr. Pruyn was well and favorably known in Belleville, having married a sister of Mr. John Taylor of John Street, to whom friendly visits were frequently made. His wife and one son survives him, the latter holding an important position with the Larkins Soap Company of Buffalo. The funeral notice will be found elsewhere in this issue.

MATTHEW FERGUSON

At Toronto yesterday, Mr. Matthew Ferguson, a former well-known resident of this city, passed away. Deceased who was upwards of 85 years of age, was for many years a resident here, but of late years had resided in the Queen City. Cancer was the ultimate cause of death. Mr. Ferguson was a member of the Methodist Church. An aged widow and a family of three sons and three daughters survive. The sons are Daniel of Portage la Prairie, Man., Matthew and Wm. of Toronto. The daughters are Mrs. John Cornelius of this city, Mrs. W. A. Pringle and Mrs. P. H. Finkle of Toronto. The remains were to-day interred at Toronto.

The unfortunate man was conveyed to the hospital where his injuries were attended to.

CENTRAL PRISON FOR THIEF

A young man named Michael McGraw, who was employed by Mr. John Ford of Tyendinaga Township, was this morning charged before Judge Deroche with horse stealing. Some days ago the accused took Mr. Ford's children to school with a horse and rig, and instead of returnig home, drove to Deseronto and other places. He was arrested at Deseronto on a charge of horse stealing. He was convicted of the offence and a sentence of six months in the central prison was imposed.

YOUR HAIR NEEDS PARISIAN SAGE

USE IT AS A DRESSING—BANISH DANDRUFF — STOP FALLING HAIR AND SCALP ITCH.

PARISIAN Sage, the delightful and invigorating hair tonic, is a true hair nourisher. It penetrates into the scalp, gets to the roots of the hair, kills the dandruff germs, and supplies the hair with just the kind of nourishment it needs to make it grow abundantly.

Since its introduction into Canada PARISIAN Sage has had an immense sale, and here are the reasons:

It does not contain poisonous sugar of lead, nitrate of silver or sulphur or any injurious ingredient.

It cures dandruff in two weeks by killing the dandruff germ.

It stops falling hair.

It promptly stops itching of the scalp.

It makes the hair soft, glossy and luxuriant.

It gives life and beauty to the hair.

It is not sticky or greasy.

It is the daintiest perfumed hair tonic made.

It is the best, the most pleasant and invigorating hair dressing made.

Made only in Canada by The R. T. Booth Co. Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont. The price is only 50 cents at drug stores and counters where toilet goods are sold.

W. H. Lattimer guarantees it.

A home is known by the parlor it keeps

It's about the only room the average visitor sees and the whole house is sure to be judged by the appearance of the parlor.

For this reason the parlor is generally the best furnished room in the house. It should be the best lighted room also. Nothing shows off mahogany, bric-a-brac and tapestry as well as electric lights set in Holophane Reflectors.

The parlor is usually the music room too, and an electric bracket that sheds light over the piano will be found a great convenience..

The most pleasing effects in parlor lighting may be had by the use of Holophane Reflectors. These Reflectors are of rich, sparkling optical glass, designed in the most fashionable shapes. They add not only to the beauty of a room, but they economize on light.

If you are not satisfied with the lighting of your parlor, let us send a representative to talk to you about economical lighting by electricity.

AN UNDERTAKING THAT MUST PROGRESS

The following from Harper's Weekly in reference to Canada's naval issue is of value as the judgment of a very intelligent foreign observer, who considers the question apart from any partizan prejudice:

"In a crisis the Empire will, of course, defend Canada and Australia, and Canada and Australia will contribute of their blood and treasure to the maintenance of the Empire. That was the relation of America and the mother country before the revolution. But the relation is studied more candidly now than it was then. It is recognized now that on both sides there are rights and duties and on both sides obligations.

"What it all looks like is Imperial federation. That is the logical solution of the questions involved, the logical adjustment of rights and obligations. To arrange it will be a big job for statesmanship, but none worthier of the highest statesmanship has been presented to the rulers of any empire since the Roman Empire faced a similar problem, and did not meet it worthily, and fell."

Harper's says that the relations between the mother country and the overseas dominions are studied more candidly now than formerly. Whether they actually are or not, it is certain that they should be.

The time has gone past for us to refer back to the policy of George III. There never will be an attempt to revive the ideas of government that he stood for. They passed away with that phase of British history. We are living in the twentieth, not in the eighteenth century and we must approach this problem keeping present conditions in view.

A closer bond between the different parts of the Empire does not mean a curtailment of the freedom of any people of any of them. What we have to do is simply to evolve new constitutional means by which the British dominions can act together in regard to interests that they have in common.

We have been too much afraid of the phrase "imperial federation" in the past. There is nothing impracticable about the movement that it describes, as this leader of American thought fully recognizes. What we have to do is to take up seriously the problem of bringing it into effect.

The time is past for long speeches on the advantages of imperial connection, which really mean nothing so long as we shirk the duties which that connection involves.

Mr. Borden has pointed out the way along which we should move and there are plenty of indications that the people of Canada are quite prepared to take the step that he counsels.

WHAT OF ARMENIA?

"What of Armenia?" asks the London Outlook, and this is a question that Christian nations may well ask themselves now that the end of Turkey as a European power has almost come.

Armenia has for many years been the scene of riot and bloodshed, of persecution and outrage, practically unchecked by the great powers. Today the fate of Armenia hangs in the balance. A Christian state, it will in the very nature of things, be overrun by thousands of Turks fleeing from Europe, driven from their heritage by Christian nations. Will this province, so long the scene of massacre and outrage, escape an even greater scourge at the hands of the defeated and fanatical Ottomans?

So far the Christian population of Constantinople has escaped unscathed. Even in the midst of the war, when success had evidently abandoned the Turkish arms, and there might have been some reason for a fanatical outbreak on the part of the Mohammedan Turks, the Christians were allowed to give ceremonious burial to their priest or pope Joachim and the Turkish authorities sent message of condolence.

But there is no guarantee that the helpless Armenian peasants of Asia Minor will receive a like tolerance from the hands of broken men who will pour through their province. Is not this the time for Christian Europe to warn the Turk that there must be no recurrence of Armenian horrors unless he wishes to find himself driven even farther eastward and southward than the Balkan war has already thrust him.

"MADAME X." JEWELS.

Mysterious Lady Is Princess, and Necklace Fetches $241,000.

The valuable pearl necklace recently described in a dispatch from Paris was disposed of at auction in the Galerie Georges Petit, last week and brought 1,205,000 francs, ($241,000.) The owner of the jewel collection of which the necklace was part is described as "Mme. X." but the mystery concerning her identity has been cleared to some extent. It is known that she is a Turkish princess.

Almost every seat in the salesroom was reserved beforehand, not only by dealers from all over Europe, but also by persons, many of them titled, who belonged to the fashionable world, of Paris.

The articles intended for the first day's sale had been valued at 1,601,800 francs ($323,000) by M. Falize, a jewelry expert, who was formerly jeweler to the French royal family. They actually realized 1,891,980 francs ($378,396).

The value of the necklace had been put at 1,100,000 francs, ($200,000). It was carried around for inspection, guarded by policemen. Eventually it was knocked down after keen bidding to Hubert Morhed of Paris. The price is the highest ever paid in France for a piece of jewelry. The pearls are flawless and perfectly matched.

Another necklace, consisting of 468 pearls, with medallions of emeralds went for 147,000 francs ($29,400) to Adolph Weil of London.

Hurrah, No More Lame Back!

THIS CASE PROVES THAT THE BEST AND STRONGEST LINIMENT EVER MADE IS NERVILINE.

When it comes to determing the real merit of a medicine, no weight of evidence is more convincing than the straightforward statement of some reliable and well-known person who has been cured. For this reason we print the verbatim statement of Juan E. Powell, written from his home in Carleton. "I am a strong, powerful man, six feet tall, and weigh nearly two hundred. I have been accustomed all my life to lift great weights, but one day I overdid it, and wrenched my back badly. Every tendon and muscle was sore. To stoop or bend was agony. I had a whole bottle of Nerviline rubbed on in one day, and by night I was well again. I know of no liniment possessing one half the penetrating and pain-subduing properties of Nerviline. I urge its use strongly as an invaluable liniment and household cure for all minor ailments such as strains, sprains, swellings, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, rheumatism, and muscular pain."

No better medicine for curing pain was ever put in a bottle than Nerviline—rub it on and rub it in—that rubs out all aches, pains and soreness. Large family size, 50c., trial size 25c. all dealers, or the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

TURKISH TITLES.

They Are Added to Persons' Names Instead of Being Prefixed.

Turkish names and titles are sometimes confusing to the ordinary reader, and this explanation from the Turkish embassy at Washington may be of interest. In the first place, our American prefixes "Mr." or "General" become suffixes in Turkish. The mayor of a Turkish city adds to his name Boledie Raisi. Therefore it would not be Mayor John Smith, but Smith Boledie Raisi.

A caliph is a prince of the royal line and "Mohammed's representative," ranking next to the sultan himself in importance. The next title of importance is sheik ul Islam, or head of the Mohammedan faith. Imam is the title by which a priest is originally addressed.

Pasha is the highest title within the gift of the sultan. It is conferred chiefly on men who achieve distinction in arts and letters or in commerce and is more or less common among the great merchants of Turkey or those who under the old regime had a hand in the collection of taxes. The word "bey" attached to the name of a person indicates that the bearer is distinguished for service of the country. The term "effendi" indicates that the man so addressed is higher in birth, breeding or education than the man speaking and is a variable title, depending on the rank of those carrying on a conversation.

The grand vizier, or sadorazam, is the premier of the cabinet and is the highest of government civil officials. The governor of a province is known as vali. This term is added to the name instead of being prefixed.—Indianapolis News.

SINGING MOTHERS.

Charm of the Music of Their Voices to Their Little Ones.

They came to me in a dream—those singing mothers. A long, slow procession of shadowy forms, beautiful as rainbows and as wonderful, singing a strange haunting melody full of mystery. First came troops of girl mothers, clasping their little babes with a tenderness that was half fear and with wide, inquiring eyes filled with holy light and the consciousness of the deepest realization of life. Then came strong mothers of youth, leading happy faced children and confident with a sense of power, buoyant with hope and radiant with promise. Last of all came silver mothers of men, leaning on their stalwart sons and, though bowed with years, yet gloriously young in spirit, hallowed by memories and glowing with the victory of achievement. And I, a mother, watching these pass by and listening to their haunting music, felt as never before the divine significance of motherhood and all the hidden meanings in the word "singing."

All this is music in a marvelous mood, but there is no music on earth more appealing or more far reaching than the voice of a mother singing to her little ones. No audience ever listened with keener rapture to any prima donna than that little group gathered in the twilight hour at a mother's knee. It is her dearest joy at that time to put into music all the sacredness of motherhood and the happiness of childhood, to teach and to charm and to tune the hearts of her children.—Anne P. L. Field in Craftsman.

Wide Apart.

It is told us that two old schoolmates met recently. It had been fifteen years since their last meeting, but the recognition was mutual. One was sleek, well fed, well shaven, well dressed. The other was rather thin, rather seedy.

"Well, well," exclaimed the prosperous one; "what are you doing now?"

"I am an actor."

"Indeed? Well, I'm a banker. And you are on the stage? Dear me! It's been ten years since I was in a theater."

"You've got nothing on me. It's been longer than that since I was in a bank."

Then they parted, each thinking a bit less of the other than he had thought before the meeting.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Solons In an Uproar.

Some years ago the Spanish cabinet decided to take legal proceedings against certain members of Parliament who were suspected of misusing public money. The opposition resolved at all costs to prevent this, and for forty hours on end they kept up a most amazing uproar. They cheered and shouted, and sang litanies in chorus. The effect of the latter performance was extraordinary. One deputy would loudly intone a verse, all his friends chanted the response, and so they went on for nearly two days and nights until a truce was proclaimed.—Pearson's Weekly.

Followed Instructions.

Mudge—This watch has been stopped for two or three days. Jeweler—Lemme see it. There is nothing the matter with it except that it has not been wound. Mudge—I thought maybe that was it. I remember you told me to wind it up just before I went to bed, and I haven't been to bed for three nights.

OUTLINES POLICY.

Bonar Law Plans Preference For Manufacturers of Dominions.

LONDON, Jan. 25.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Speaking at a conference of Scottish Unionists at King's Hall, Edinburgh, last night, Bonar Law dealt with the whole story of the recent crisis in the Unionist ranks, detailing step by step how the party had now arrived at complete unanimity.

Alluding to the question of Imperial preference, Law declared, if his party were returned to power, they would immediately impose a moderate tariff on foreign manufactures and give dominions a preference in the British market, the largest preference possible short of the imposition of new duties on food.

"For more than a generation," he continued, "this request has been urged upon us by all the colonies, but it has been repeatedly refused. We shall grant it. That is the vital difference between us and our opponents. The dominions have all desired, and we desire, that in trade each part of the Empire should treat every other part on different terms and give better terms than those we give the rest of the world. We shall, therefore, establish a principal preference, but shall not be satisfied that at the time this controversy was raised there was no indication anywhere of any movement throughout the Empire towards cohesion. Every indication indicated the fulfilment of the prophesy made by Laurier that if we were not drawn closer together we should inevitably be driven apart. Since then there has been a great change. There has been a great growth, not only in Imperial sentiment, but in the practical expression of that sentiment. We shall try to do what Hon. Mr. Borden, in his great speech in Parliament at Ottawa said ought to be done, to try to establish co-operation throughout the Empire in trade as well as in defence. That will be the Unionist aim. We shall put ourselves into communication with the dominions and work out with them the best scheme for securing that object.

HOCKEY.

TO-NIGHT IS THE NIGHT

With Trenton as the visiting team at to-night's hockey match in the arena, there is no question as to the result. If our "youngsters" can hand it to them on poor ice, what will happen on real good surface? Our boys are now in excellent shape, and the hockey fans expect favorable things from now on. Now, altogether, and show good form and make the score against Trenton a convincing one.

A game of hockey was played at the rink last Saturday afternoon between the Printers' team and a septette composed of several O. H. A. stars styling themselves "The Deacon Shirt Co." The Printers were game, however, when they saw the formidable bunch they were up against, and though with some misgivings, they went into the contest in the sportsmanlike manner for which they are noted; and although beaten by 5 to 1, came off the ice with all the glory, and the winners wearing a sheepish grin. The Printers are not kicking. They lost—and what is more, they are good losers, but they ask the privilege of another game, which, no doubt, the "Deacon Shirts" will give them.

It was a strenuous game from start to finish, and all the boys worked hard. To see Bateman, Bales, Mason and Osborne run away from Finkle, Barrett and the rest was lovely to watch; also the way in which Buchanan handled the difficult shots with ease.

Although the "Deacons," besides having Finkle and Barrett and other O. H. A. men on their forwards, imported an O. H. A. intermediate star from Cobourg—Bulger by name, to play point. They had lots of work to do. They also had their own referee, and he played his role to perfection, following out his strict instructions to always have one of the Printers in the penalty box. We don't know his name, nor where he comes from, but we think he must hail from Hazzard's Corners, for what he didn't know about hockey would fill a set of books.

However, we hope to meet them again. They can play the same men if they wish, but we are going to profit by their actions and will give them the worst beating of their lives.

The line-up:

Printers		Deacons
	Goal
Buchanan		Hinchey

Cookson		Bulger

Bales		Barrett

PRESTON SENIORS

PRESTON, Jan. 25.—After being in fear all week that the weather would not be keen enough for ice, the Preston fans tonight saw their first senior O. H. A. game of the season, when Toronto R. and A. A. met the Preston champions The home aggregation were beaten by the score of 6 to 1, the soft ice being largely responsible for Preston's defeat, as they were unable to make any pace on this account. Two former league fixtures with Parkdale had to be postponed on account of lack of ice.

PORT HOPE'S YOUNG STAR.

PETERBORO', Jan. 25.—The locals led all the way in their junior O.H.A. game with Port Hope last night, but the visitors showed improvement on their first performance. W. Hill, the 15-year-old centre player, was the star performer. The Petes won 11 to 3, after leading at half-time by 5 to 0.

WOODSTOCK JUNIORS AGAIN.

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 25.—On slushy ice the Woodstock junior O.H.A. team last night defeated the London juniors by the score of 10 to 6, the half-time score being 5 to 4 in London's favor. Towards the end London tired and the superior condition of the locals won out.

NEW HAMBURG WON GROUP.

NEW HAMBURG, Jan. 25.—In the intermediate O.H.A. game played here last night between Wellesley and New Hamburg the home team won by the score of 9 to 2 and cinched the championship of group 8.

KNOW WHAT YOUR IDEAL IS

First Step to Real Success, Though Few Seem to Realize its Importance.

Several years ago when I filled a position which brought me many visitors each day, and many more letters in the same time, I was overburdened with requests for advice from persons who wished "to succeed;" "to accomplish;" "to attain." But, as strange as the statement may seem to you, I can truthfully say that not one per cent.—not one in a hundred of these earnest seekers was able to state exactly what he or she really wanted.

They were dissatisfied and discontented, and felt the vague urge of unrest pushing them forward to further endeavor and attainment—but it stopped right there. Ninety-nine out of every hundred did not know what they wanted. They asked not only for advice regarding the means of accomplishment and attainment, but also for information as to what they should really desire.

"Silly," you exclaim. Not a bit of it. I venture to say to you—yes, you who are now reading these lines, are not much better off regarding clear-cut ideas and ideals. You want, and want and want, of course—but just what do you want? Have you a clearly defined idea, and a clear-cut ideal of the object of your desire? Honor bright now, have you?—William Walker Atkinson, in the Nautilus.

Relic of "Wallace Tree"

An interesting presentation was made to the Spiers of Elderslie Masonic Lodge of a mallet made from the wood of what was known as the "Wallace Tree" at Elderslie, Scotland, which is said to have been blown down as far back as 1356. The mallet is said to be the only piece of the wood of the tree now in existence.

TEACH CHILDREN ART OF SINGING

It Brings Happiness and Health and They Learn to Breathe Properly

That if ugliness could be banished from the lives of children there would be a pronounced difference in the human race in the future, and that one way to eliminate dreariness is to teach the children to sing, and to sing beautifully, is the opinion of Signor Alberto Visetti, the noted teacher of singing, who contributed a paper on the subject to a London periodical.

Signor Visetti also maintains that the health of the child would be greatly improved by learning to sing, since the exercise of right breathing is in itself conducive to physical well-being. "Every child," he says, "ought to be taught to sing at an early age—a training which, of course, involves the teaching of correct breathing. Taking only the purely physical point of view into consideration, the student of singing in the first stage of life develops the vocal and hearing organs, giving to his speech greater depth and sweetness. There is no method that can be relied upon to produce free and deep breathing like the teaching of singing, and there is, moreover, no greater fallacy in existence than the idea that singing taught to children at a very early age is detrimental to their health.

Improves Physique

Of course it must not be thought that every child can become a finished singer. It is as a means of improving physique that I so strongly advocate that particular attention be given to the subject. There is absolutely no comparison whatever between the child who is taught breathing and singing and the child who is left untaught; the contrast in physique is simply startling.

"It is true that a man can learn a foreign language when he has arrived at maturity, and that he can learn it perfectly and idiomatically, but he will, in nearly every case, be incapable of articulating the words with such perfection of sound as to make him pass for a native of the country whose language he wishes to speak. But in the case of a child learning the same language he will pronounce the words, slowly and surely, with an accuracy surprising to the listener. The child's receptive faculties are so formed that what he assimilates in his youth he never forgets, and the same remarks apply to singing.

Teach Them Young

"In youth the vocal organs are elastic, flexible, and susceptible to the slightest expressions; the lungs expand with facility, the muscles and nerves of the throat and chest promptly obey the action of respiration; the ear receives the sounds and maintains them for a considerable length of time.

"Again, the moral uses of singing as a study are indisputable. Music has always a refining influence, and of all the branches of the art of singing is the one most suited to children, because it deals with the melodic side of the art chiefly, and is, from a musical point of view, the more simple study, avoiding the complex harmony of modern writing, which, admirable as it is from a progressive point of view, is totally unsuited to the purpose under discussion."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Keeping Aluminium Bright

Aluminium boxes will keep bright if you rub them occasionally with a soft cloth moistened with olive oil.

Cleaning Opals

Dissolve a little bicarbonate of soda in cold water—about as much as will go on a ten cent piece to a wineglassful is enough. Dip a camel hair brush in this solution and wash the ring thoroughly. When the dirt has been loosened from the setting drop the ring into the water, shake out the moisture, and dry with cotton wool.

Cleaning Ermine

Strech the skin on a table as flatly as possible. Moisten some bran with warm water, and rub it well into the fur with a piece of white flannel. When the dirt has been removed, take a piece of book muslin, dip it in dry bran, and rub the ermine until any moisture that may have been left by the damp bran has been removed.

Cleaning White Ostrich Feather

Cut up a quarter of a pound of good soap and boil it in two quarts of water until quite dissolved. Pour into a basin, beat up to a froth, and leave to cool. When lukewarm, put in the feather, drawing it through one hand repeatedly while holding it firmly by the base of the stem in the other. When quite clean rinse it in clean, warm water. Shake it in a dry cloth and then hold it at a safe distance from the fire, shaking it to and fro.

Women of Ancient Rome

M. Rene Pinchon has an article in the Revue des Deux Mondes on the position of women in ancient Rome. He points out that the complete subjugation of the wife in the early days of the republic came to an end with the foundation of the Empire, and that the change is mainly to be contributed to the legislation of Augustus.

He asserts that every profession except that of politics, was open to the women of the Empire, and some of them practised seriously, as in the case of the female advocate, Hortensia. The profession of medicine, being largely in the hands of slaves, was unlikely to attract women, but many Roman ladies gave themselves up to commerce, and not a few to finance, including usury of a sufficiently reprehensible kind.

Few people live to reach the age of discretion.

Many a well-rounded phrase isn't on the level.

Turkish Doctors and Their Cures

Turkish physicians have a very peculiar method of adapting remedies to the cases which come under their care. A Turkish traveller relates the following of a physician of that country who was called to see a patient suffering from typhus fever.

The doctor considered the case hopeless, but prescribed for the patient, and took his leave. The next day, in passing, he inquired of a servant at the door, if his master was dead.

"Dead!" was the reply; "no he is much better."

The doctor hastened inside to obtain a solution of the miracle.

"Why," said the patient, "I was consumed with thirst, and drank a pailful of the juice of pickled cabbage."

"Wonderful!" quoth the doctor; and out came his tablets, upon which he made this inscription: "Cured of typhus fever, Mohammed Aga, an upholsterer, by drinking a pailful of pickled cabbage juice."

Soon after, on being called to see another patient, a dealer in embroidered handkerchiefs, who was suffering from the same malady, the doctor forthwith prescribed "a pailful of pickled cabbage juice."

On calling the next day to congratulate his patient on his recovery the doctor was astounded to be told that the man was dead. In his bewilderment at these phenomena, he came to this safe conclusion: "Although in cases of typhus fever pickled cabbage juice is an efficient remedy, it is not to be used unless the patient be by profession an upholsterer."

LOST OVER LONDON

Modern Phase of the Perils of a Great City—Airman Was Mixed

A French aviator, M. Manio, who lost his way while flying from Sittingbourne to Hendon, was observed by thousands of Londoners as he circled above the city endeavoring to get his bearings. He had crossed the channel to Margate and was continuing his flight but found the atmosphere so thick with fog that he became confused and was directly over the city before he realized it. After circling two or three times over the Bank of England, he flew east till he struck the open country and alighted safely.

English "Clogs" Higher

New clogs are costing more in the English cotton districts owing to the advance in the prices of materials. The head of a clog-making firm in Bacup stated that leather which three or four years ago was 34 cents per pound had gone up to 42 or 44 cents, and that which used to be 44 cents had risen to 56 cents.

Consequently it pays the cloggers better to make up old stuff by soling second-hand uppers, and by selling them at a price considerably below that demanded for new goods. Customers show decided disinclinaion to pay the extra coppers which have to be put on to the price of new clogs owing to the great rise in the price of materials.

In addition, there is the general movement for the advance of wages demanded by the journeymen cloggers, five per cent. having lately been conceded by a big Bacup firm.

From Carpenter to Mayor

Alderman Edward Thomas, of Cardiff, Wales, better known in Welsh national and literary circles by his bardic name of "Cochfarf," who died recently aged 59, knew no word of English till he was thirteen or fourteen years of age. Having served an apprenticeship as a carpenter, he went to Cardiff nearly forty years ago. When in reminiscent mood he would recall that his first job there was in the Council Chamber at the old Town Hall in St. Mary's street, the chamber in which he afterwards sat as a councillor and for a year as mayor.

Objected to Oath

A cadet charged at Kalgoorlie Police Court, Western Australia, with refusing to take the oath of allegiance, pleaded that he was prepared to serve, but that he had conscientious objections to the oath because the Act provided that he might be ordered out in the event of civil strife.

The young man, who is connected with the Social Democratic Federation, was sentenced to a month's imprisonment.

THE HOLY GRAAL AND ITS HISTORY

Much Doubt as to the Authenticity of Legends Surrounding Supposed Priceless Cup

An interesting account appeared in a Paris paper of the Holy Graal, which is preserved in the Church of St. Lawrence at Genoa. It is a large green cup, presumably hexagonal which, according to popular belief, was used at the Last Supper, and was requisitioned at the Crucifixion. But it seems to have a history far anterior to that great event, and it is claimed for it that it was a present from the Queen of Sheba to King Solomon.

At all events, it seems to have been in Genoa since 1101, when it was given by a knight who brought it from the Holy Land when he returned from the First Crusade. It formed part of the booty which fell into the hands of the Crusaders at the siege of Cæsarea. For a long time up to 1476 it was not allowed to be touched, not even to adorn it with precious stones which the faithful were desirous of offering. This rigour, was not due to piety, but there was a fear among the citizens that should the cup be broken pilgrims would cease to visit Genoa.

The cup was at one time believed to have been cut from an enormous emerald. For a long time the vessel was kept in a steel box, and was taken out only once a year. Then it was lifted by silken cords, and placed by the Archbishop on the High Altar for veneration. After the fifteenth century, according to the chronicles of the day, many fetes were held in honor of the vessel, which attracted thousands of pilgrims, not only from Italy, but from other countries. La Condamine examined the cup, and he declared that it was of glass.

It was brought to Paris by Napoleon, who was persuaded of its intrinsic value. On being submitted to the Institute, La Condamine's view was upheld. But the verdict of the scientists was kept a profound secret. There were several reasons for this. It was thought that if the Genoese learned that it was only glass they would be less anxious to ransom it. By some means the secret ceased to be such, and in 1815 the Genoese got it back at pretty much their own price.

$25 FOR EVERY BABY

Australians Ridicule Commonwealth Maternity Allowance

Press and public in Australia make fun of the Commonwealth Maternity Allowance Act, which provides for the payment of $25 to every woman who gives birth to a child either in Australia or on board a ship proceeding from one port of the Commonwealth to another.

It has been calculated that if the $25 were claimed for every baby born, for example, in the State of South Australia in a year, it would absorb more than half the State land tax.

Fortunately for Australia's financial position there seems to be too much independence among the citizens of the Commonwealth for full advantage to be taken of the Act. Very few applications have been made for the bounty during the short time it has been in force.

More Soldiers Needed

Major-General Bethune, speaking at the opening of a new riding school at Barbourne, Worcester, said they were told that the home army, as constituted at present, was sufficient to protect Britain from possible raids, and the only remaining duty, to his mind, was to try and make the force as efficient as possible, and to keep up the numbers. The trouble was that enough men were not obtained. The Territorial Force was now 60,000 short, and they could not hope to secure the number until there was greater sympathy with the movement in the country. He thought it was a pity that officers, who called themselves "disgusted captains," should write to the newspapers and say that the Territorial Force was a fraud.

Why London Was Chosen

The proposal to hold the Turko-Balkan peace negotiations in London appears to have emanated from the Porte, which, besides desiring that they should take place on some neutral ground, also wished to enjoy the advantages of Sir Edward Grey's advice.

The British Government agreed to the suggestion, and expressed gratification at the confidence shown by the belligerents. The Bulgarian Premier, M. Gueshoff, was especially pleased at the choice of meeting place, and in the course of an interview said:

"I spent my youth in England, and studied at an English University, and learned to love and admire the English people."

Sandwichman and Princess

John Inshaw, a sandwichman, seconded a vote of thanks to Princess Louis of Battenberg for opening a bazaar at Liverpool, the object of which was to raise $30,000 for the League of Welldoers. During its nineteen years' existence the League has provided nearly 5,000,000 meals for children, 200,000 dinners and dainties for invalids, 43,000 garments for the poor, 182,000 beds for the homeless, and 123,000 midnight meals for the unemployed.

Boom on the Clyde

The leading Scotch industries are enjoying the greatest boom for years. Clyde shipbuilders have over sixty million dollars worth of British Naval work on hand, whilst the mercantile tonnage under construction in the Clyde yards exceeds three-quarters of a million tons.

ANSWERS DR. FERNOW

Hon. W. H. Hearst Deals Caustically With University Man.

Characterizing Report on Northern Ontario as "Loose Talk," Provincial Minister Denies Categorically the Statements Regarding Soil and Timber of the Clay Belt — Surer Tests Than Professor's Were Made.

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—Prof. Fernow's report to the Conservation Commission regarding the conditions in New Ontario was "loose talk" in the opinion of Hon. W. H. Hearst, Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines, in a statement issued Saturday.

Dr. Fernow, after a trip along the Transcontinental on a motor-car, said "probably" 50 per cent. of the area does not contain any wood and "probably" the same percentage of it is undesirable under present conditions to open for settlement.

Hon. Mr. Hearst, in his reply, alludes to the superficial nature of the survey of 20,000,000 acres and reviews the history of the exploration of the "clay belt." Ten parties of experts were sent out in 1900 and went over the ground thoroughly, and found three-quarters of it excellent unbroken land. Since that time several exhaustive surveys have been made and the investigators agree that the soil from many samples taken is as good as, if not better, than that of Old Ontario. The testimony of these careful observers, who spent months in that country examining its capabilities, says Mr. Hearst, must be taken to outweigh any evidence picked up in a casual and rapid railway trip.

"With respect to the timber — the estimate of the exploration of 1900 was that there was in that region 288,000,000 cords of pulpwood, spruce, jackpine and poplar. There is very little red and white pine in the territory, as it lies north of the pine belt, but there are large quantities of good spruce and jackpine, of sawlog size, which are of much value for timber, ties, etc., beside an enormous quantity of timber suitable for pulp and paper making.

"With respect to the criticisms and suggestions, Prof. Fernow states that as soon as townships are surveyed they are opened by the Department for settlement without deferentiation. This statement is quite incorrect and is based on ignorance of what is the policy and practice of the Department.

"The suggestion of the professor that a classification of lands regarding their fitness for farm use be made and settlers kept out of undesirable portions is, as already explained, made in ignorance of the fact that this is the law and the practice of the Department.

"The professor says that it is a misconception that the whole country is immediately fitted for actual settlement. He sets up a man of straw. We know the country must first be opened up by roads, etc., before settlement can flow in, and five millions of dollars have been appropriated to carry on the opening of this and other parts of the back country, and the work is now in active progress. What we have said is that the soil is there and when the country is opened up by roads, it will be a magnificent field for settlement."

MINES ARE FLOODED.

Rising Waters In Indiana Assume Serious Aspect.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 27.—Four hundred and fifty miners are idle in the coal fields here on account of the high waters. The Chicago and Eastern Illinois has been compelled to abandon its mine trains, and the men will be idle until the water subsides. The entire area of the great coal fields west of this city are covered with water, and men employed in the Deep Vein, the Lower Vein and other large mines face constant danger of a cave-in which would precipitate the waters into the shafts, coal men say. Local weather forecasts of more rain last night throughout the Wabash Valley lent a threatening aspect to the flood situation.

Seine Again Rising.

PARIS, Jan. 27.—The rising of the Seine to within six feet of the flood mark, caused by the disastrous inundations in 1910 has caused great uneasiness throughout the low lying districts of Paris. The suburb of Bercy, where acres of wine cellars are partially submerged, has suffered most up to the present. Rain has been falling intermittently for a week and still continues, causing the affluents of the Seine to be feared.

FEARS UNITED STATES.

Any Cuban Government Better Than American One, Says Zazas.

HAVANA, Jan. 27.—A great Liberal meeting was held here Friday night under the chairmanship of Vice-President Alfredo Zayas, who was defeated at the recent election for the Presidency.

The orators deprecated any attempt to revolt. On the contrary they expressed the wish to leave the question of the validity of the elections to the decision of the Supreme Court.

Col. Orestes Ferrara, the Liberal leader, while insisting that the Liberals had been defrauded in the elections, declared that any Cuban Government was preferable to an American Government, which would be the result of a revolution.

Tried To Kill Archduke Louis.

PARIS, Jan. 27.—A Barcelona despatch to the Petit Parisien reports an attempt to assassinate Archduke Louis Salvator, of Tuscany. While the archduke was walking in the grounds of his estate at Mount Ramir, in the Balearic Islands, a workman employed on the estate fired at him several times with a revolver. One of the bullets grazed the archduke and severely wounded a governess.

MONTREAL MARKET.

MONTREAL, Jan. 25.—Cables on Manitoba spring wheat were stronger, at an advance of 1½d. The demand from foreign buyers was fairly good for both nearby and spring shipment, and a fair amount of business was worked. There was also a fair enquiry for Manitoba barley, and sales of a few loads were made. The condition of the local market for coarse grains was unchanged, business being dull. A fair local trade continues to be done in flour at steady prices. Millfeed is rather quiet and prices have an easier tendency. A steady business is passing in butter in a jobbing way. Receipts for the week were 1042 packages, as against 1602 a year ago. Cheese has a firmer tone, but the volume of business doing is small. Receipts for week were 181 boxes, as against 776 a year ago. Eggs steady, with a fair demand. Receipts for week, 2111 cases, against 1727 a year ago.

Retains Maiden Name.

TARRYTOWN, N.Y., Jan. 27.—Mrs. Finley J. Shepard has made it known that to continue her identification with philanthropic work and business, she will retain her maiden name, and sign herself as Helen Gould Shepard. Since their marriage on Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Shepard have remained at Lyndhurst much secluded from the public, as guards are still kept about the estate. It is understood they are planning a trip abroad in February.

PUTTING ON PRESSURE

Allies Preparing to Force Turkey to Yield to Demands.

They Will First Give Reasons Why the Negotiations Should Be Broken Off—Earthquake Is Felt In Constantinople—Young Turks Are Not In Full Control Yet But Are In Danger of Reaction.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Balkan plenipotentiaries, who have received full powers from their respective Governments, appointed a committee yesterday to draft a note to the Turkish plenipotentiaries, explaining why the peace conference must now be considered broken off. It is hoped that the draft will be ready for the approval of the full delegation Monday night.

This action of the allies is part of a series of well-considered forms of pressure with which the Balkan delegates hope to obtain their object without resuming the war.

The meeting yesterday lasted for an hour and a half, and the course to be followed was given earnest consideration. Two distinct views were manifested — one for the immediate rupture of the negotiations, leading to a resumption of the war, and the other favoring a temporizing policy, in order to avoid irrevocable steps. The latter course triumphed, and a committee was appointed.

General lines were laid down on which the note is to be drafted, comprising the arguments already set forth many times as to why the league demands the surrender of Adrianople and the Aegean Islands as an indispensable condition to the conclusion of peace.

That the policy of the allies is to gain time is patent, and does not deceive anybody. The delegates decided that the advantages to be derived from the resumption of hostilities would be in proportion to the risks they ran, and that they would not take that step unless absolutely forced to do so. It is realized that even a partial reverse would have grave moral and material consequence, apart from the loss of thousands of men.

Young Turks Not Strong.

VIENNA, Jan. 27.—Advices from Constantinople say that the Young Turk party thus far is backed only by part of the army; that a majority of the army, including the older officers in high positions, and a majority of the influential clergy, are against the Young Turks.

Enver Bey's following, adds the despatch, consists of several hundred officers infatuated by the cry, "Liberations of sacred places," and these very men are likely to turn against the Young Turks if they do not succeed in saving Adrianople.

Assault on Bisani Renewed.

ATHENS, Jan. 27.—After a heavy downpour which lasted 60 hours, the weather improved Saturday, enabling the Greeks under Crown Prince Constantine to renew the attack on Bisani, the key to Janini. The Turks in Fort St. Nicholas have been reinforced and are making a desperate resistance. They have suffered heavy losses.

Roumania Will Not Mobilize.

BUCHAREST, Jan. 27.—Roumania has decided not to mobilize her army. A Cabinet Council, at which King Charles and the crown prince were present, reached this decision yesterday during a discussion of the Bulgarian negotiations.

Constantinople Shaken.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 27.—A severe earthquake shook many of the residences in the Turkish capital at an early hour Saturday morning. No considerable damage and no loss of life had been reported up to noon.

PATRIOTISM COSTLY!

Navy Would Cost French In Quebec $5 Each Declares Nationalist.

MONTREAL, Jan. 27.—Le Nationalist, the weekly edition of Le Devoir, has discovered that the naval contribution of $35,000,000 will take five dollars a head out of the Quebec farmers. The Bourassa writer calculates that the County of St. Hyacinthe, for instance, with a population of 28,000, will have to contribute $140,000 to help England, while in the united counties of St. Maurice and Champlain, with a population of 78,000, the amount raised will be $390,000.

Of course, Le Nationalist takes pains to explain that a Government agent will not go round amongst the farmers and collect five dollars from each house, but it states that every yard of cotton and every pound of sugar they buy will be subject to the impost on behalf of English lords, who are shareholders in the Krupp-Maxim-Vickers' Trust.

"The price is too dear," it declares, "for the honor of being a British subject."

Burglars Got Away.

TORONTO, Jan. 27.—When two men were surprised by the police on Saturday night while attempting to remove a load of sugar from a lane off George street, a lively chase through yards, over fences and along rooftops followed. During the pursuit of the fugitives, a constable fired two shots in the air, but one of the men managed to elude the officers and completely disappeared.

Three Firemne Killed In St. Louis.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Jan. 27.—Fire Lieut. John Conners and two other firemen perished Saturday night and property loss of $100,000 was caused by a fire which destroyed the Elks building on Collinsville avenue, in the heart of the retail district.

Badly Hurt While Coasting.

GUELPH, Jan. 27.—E. D. May, a lineman employed by the Bell Telephone Co., is in a serious conditon as a result of being thrown from a bob-sleigh while coasting.

MAY DROP BILL.

Speaker's Ruling Has Caused Awkward Situation In Britain.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Cabinet council which assembles to-day has to decide the momentous question as to how to deal with the dilemma caused by the Speaker's ruling on the franchise question. This ruling, which was made Thursday in answer to a question asked by Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the Opposition, was to the effect that if the form of substance of the bill were materially changed by amendments it should be withdrawn and a new bill presented.

Such strong, conflicting opinions have been provoked by the thorny problem of the women's vote that fears have begun to be expressed as to whether the Government will be able to weather the storm. It is faced on the one hand by the suffragists who are calling upon the Premier to redeem his pledge to the women, and on the other by those, even some Liberals, who express the opinion that the Government has no right to force through Parliament such a revolutionary reform as the giving of votes to women without first appealing to the country.

The Ministers insist that the question cannot involve any Cabinet resignations, and they argue that any alternative Government would be faced by exactly identical difficulties on the women's question.

Fear of some new militant action on the part of the suffragettes if the bill is dropped causes great anxiety in official quarters. The Scotland Yard authorities are taking elaborate measures to protect the Cabinet Ministers against possible attacks.

TELEGRAPH BRIEFS.

Hog cholera has broken out afresh near Amherstburg.

Thomas Lauder, registrar of South Grey since 1871, died at Durham, aged 84 years.

John A., youngest son of John McNaughton of Maple, was killed by a G.T.R. train.

The battleships King Edward VII. and Zealandia sailed from Malta yesterday for the Levant.

Robert O. McKay, prominent in Hamilton in shipping interests, died there in his 60th year.

The Pope yesterday received in private audience the Most Rev. Paul Bruchesi, Archbishop of Montreal.

Jean Bielovucci, the Peruvian aviator, flew right across the Swiss Alps in less than half an hour Saturday.

Loaded with haddock, the auxiliary schooner Florence May, Captain Hamilton, went ashore Saturday night on the west side of Digby Gut, N.S., and will be a total loss.

The French punitive expedition in Morocco has routed a large force of Beminiguld and Benlotir tribesmen, inflicting heavy losses. The French casualty list numbered four killed and 17 wounded.

For the loss of an arm, which ended his eligibility for the Catholic priesthood, Patrick A. Monahan, 19 years old, a Jersey City seminary student, has entered suit for $15,000 against the Lackawanna Railroad.

CHARGES DENIED.

Guelph Officials and Citizens Exonerate Chief Randall.

GUELPH, Jan. 27.—The investigation into the charges against Chief of Police Randall were concluded before His Honor Judge Jamieson, in the presence of a crowded court room on Saturday. Mr. Jeffery, on behalf of the chief, called a number of witnesses, civic officials, employes, former civic officials and prominent business men, who testified that during their long acquaintance with the chief they had never seen him under the influence of liquor. This evidence was given in a most emphatic manner.

A feature of the hearing was the appearance on the stand of Joseph Marks of the Marks Bros. theatrical promoters, who are in St. Catharines. At the hearing Saturday former Inspector Oakes testified that he had seen the chief under the influence of liquor, in company with Mr. Marks on Wyndham street. Mr. Marks absolutely denied that such was the case, and when Mr. Oakes was recalled he could not positively identify Mr. Marks as the man he saw with the chief.

The hearing will be continued next Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

GETTING ENOUGH NOW.

Hon. Frank Cochrane Refuses Increase For Canal Carpenters.

OTTAWA, Jan. 27.—J. C. Watters, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, and Tom Moore of Niagara Falls, general organizer of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters, Saturday saw Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Railways and Canals, in behalf of the carpenters employed on the Welland Canal.

These men, about ten in number, are permanently employed at the rate of 30 cents per hour, whereas the minimum union rate of wages in the district is 40 cents per hour. Mr. Moore asked that the canal carpenters be paid the prevailing union rate.

On the ground that the Government men were assured of steady work the year round and that there were many others ready to take their places, the Minister declined to accede to the request.

Interesting Debate At Albert College

On Saturday the Polymnian Society of Albert College held their first meeting since Christmas in the college chapel. The President, Miss Hearts, occupied the chair and Miss Margaret Campbell acted as Secretary.

Part of the programme consisted of a very interesting debate on "Woman Suffrage." The debaters on the affirmative were the Misses Carscadden, Grosskurite and Embury. Those on the negative were the Misses Cameron, Armstrong and McGee. Both sides gave clear, distinct points, which created keen interest in the audience.

The judges were Miss Spargo, Prof. Staples and Prof. McCutcheon.

The programme was as follows:
Chorus—The Club.
Debate—Woman Suffrage.
Recitation—Miss McIntosh.
Chorus—The Club.
Recitation—Miss Tuite.
Piano Solo—Miss Thompson.

Judges return decision in favor of negative by one point.

The meeting was closed by singing the National Anthem.

Young Girl Thief Steals Under Eyes Of Magistrate

PARIS, Jan. 25.—There was a peculiar exhibition of theft in the Court here yesterday. Yvonne Motte, aged 22, was in Court on a charge of shoplifting, and was waiting her turn for examination by the investigation magistrate under the eye of a sleepy Republican guard

A well dressed lady, who was waiting to testify in another case, sat on the bench nearby. The confidence inspired by her surroundings called the lady to leave her reticule by her side. There was great excitement later when it was found that the handbag had disappeared.

The police started a search and found that the youthful Yvonne had succeeded in abstracting the handbag and concealing it under her blouse.

Yvonne will now have to answer a second charge of attempted theft in the Palace of Justice in the presence of a Magistrate and the police.

Indian Chiefs Discuss Claims to Vast Territory

VICTORIA, B.C., Jan. 25.—One hundred Indian chiefs from all parts of the province have been in conference at Vancouver to discuss the claims of Indians to lands of British Columbia. There are old men of 85 and young braves.

The principal discussion concerns the report of the Federal Government Commissioner, Dr. McKenna, who last summer looked into the Indian lands question in British Columbia for the purpose of making a report to Ottawa.

The Indians claim the Commissioner does not understand them, and they have prepared a petition to be presented to the King himself, asking that the Privy Council deal with the land question. The Indians base their claims to certain lands on a proclamation issued by King George III. in 1783, which they allege gave them title to all lands in British Columbia. All debates are being carried on in the Chinook tongue.

Burglars With Artistic Taste

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—A cable to the New York Herald from Paris says:—

Burglarly of works of art is becoming a highly specialized profession in Paris. In the course of a week, the residences of four wealthy Parisians, noted art collectors, have been broken into and objects of great value, selected with a discrimination that betrays a cultivated artistic taste, carried off.

The burglaries apparently were the work of a band, well organized, under a leader familiar with the contents of the choice private collections, restricting their operations to those containing articles of extreme rarity.

Flew Over Pyrennees

PAU, France, Jan. 25.—M. Bider, a French aviator, left the aerodrome at Pau at dawn yesterday in an attempt to fly by aeroplane across the Pyrenees from France to Spain. The airman ascended to what was estimated to be a height of 9,000 feet and then set his course in a straight line over the peaks.

The aviator Bider descended at Guadalajara, Spain, to fill the tanks of his machine with fuel after having flown without an accident over the Pyrenees. Bider intends to continue his flight toward Madrid this afternoon.

MADRID, Jan. 25.—The aviator Bider, arrived here this afternoon without accident.

FOR WOMEN ONLY.

That is the nature of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—the one remedy for women which contains no alcohol and no habit-forming drugs. Made from native medicinal forest roots. Dr. Pierce tells its every ingredient on the bottle-wrapper. Prominent physicians and some of the best medical authorities endorse these ingredients as being the very best known remedies for ailments and weaknesses peculiar to women.

Mrs. Coffey.

This is what Mrs. Genetta E. Coffey, of Longstreet, Ky., says: "I feel it my duty to write and tell you what your medicines have done for me. I was a great sufferer for six years from a trouble peculiar to women, but I am thankful to say, after taking four bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' I am not bothered with that dreadful disease any more. I feel like a new woman. When I first wrote you for advice I only weighed 115 pounds—now I weigh 135.

"I thank you very much for your kindness. You have been as a father to me in advising me what to do, so may God bless you in every effort you put forth for good.

"I hope this testimonial will be the means of some poor suffering woman seeking health."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition, answers hosts of delicate questions about which every woman, single or married ought to know.

COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE

GILEAD

On Thursday evening, January 23rd, about 125 neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Snider's, invaded their home by way of a surprise, previous to their departure from the vicinity.

After a short time was spent in social concourse, the gathering was called to order, when the following address was read and presentation made.

To Mr. and Mrs. Snider and family.

It is with pleasure mingled with regret, that we have assembled to-night to spend the evening with you, prior to your leaving our neighborhood to make your home in a different locality.

We understand you sever your relation with us because you wish to seek some domain where your health will be restored. It is our sincerest hope that God will aid you, in a complete restoration of it, in whatever part of this free country of ours you may reside.

Taking into account the fact, that you previously made your home in an adjacent neighborhood for a number of years, which together with the short time spent here with us, has taught us to have a full measure of respect for you, we can not let you take your departure without addressing to you these few lines to show to you our feelings for you.

You have proved yourselves to be citizens worthy of honor and as friends and neighbors you will be greatly missed socially. Your companionship has won our esteem, and aught that may have be asked was always freely given.

"Neither alms, no art, nor toil, can help you hear; the secret of the ear is in the open heart."

As members of the congregation of Christian churches you will be missed, but our loss will be another's gain. You have always endeared yourselves to us through your charity for children, and those who are so close to the heart of childhood, cannot but bid fair to win the hearts of men and women.

As an evidence of the esteem in which you are held among us, we offer you this pudding dish and clock, not for their intrinsic value, but with the hope, that they will ever be a slight reminder of pleasant associations with us.

We earnestly hope that the blessing of our Heavenly Father will ever remain with you and your little children.

"Never on earth do we find the best,
But it waits for us in a land of rest.
And a perfect thing we shall never behold,
Till we pass the portals of shining gold."

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors,

W. J. Allison.
J. F. Yorke.
H. C. Fairman.

Mr. Snider, although taken entirely by surprise, feelingly replied, expressing on behalf of Mrs. Snider, children and himself, gratitude for kindness shown and regret at leaving those to whom they had become attached, after which a verse of "Blest be the tie that binds," was heartily sung.

Tea was then served and the remainder of the evening spent in social chat and games. About twelve o'clock a very pleasant evening was brought to a close by singing a verse of "God be with you till we meet again."

INDIGESTION FIVE YEARS

RELIEVED BY VINOL.

Strength and even life itself depends upon the nourishment and proper assimilation of food, and unless digestion is good the whole body suffers.

Mrs. L. D. Cook, Vineland, N.J., says: "I was sick five years with indigestion. My stomach seemed to have a heavy load in it and at other times it seemed to be tied in knots. Nobody knows how I suffered.

"I tried a great many doctors and a great many kinds of medicine but nothing did any good until I took Vinol. It has helped me wonderfully. I am improving fast, feel better and am getting fast, feel better and am getting my flesh back again. Vinol has done me a world of good."

We know the great power of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, in curing chronic stomach troubles and building up all weakened run down persons, and that is why we guarantee to return your money if it does not help you. Red Cross Drug Store, J. S. McKeown, Belleville.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"THE GAMBLERS"

A poker table, with the deck still cold but chips ready and stacked.

Five men of wealth, gamblers—but with banks and not at poker—are seated around the table.

Anxiety-keen-acute-pucker their faces into expressions of hunted grimness.

The United States authorities have seized their banks and tell-tale books, are on their tracks.

Wilbur Emerson, the head of the quintette, and the chief gambler of them, confesses that a prison sentence stares the five in the face.

And there is only one game left them to play.

And it isn't poker.

That is the scene in the first act of Charles Klein's gripping play, "The Gamblers", which comes to the Griffin Opera House, Tuesday evening, Jan. 28. This is one of the big scenes that kept this intensely interesting play at Maxine Elliott's Theatre, New York, for a record run of over 200 consecutive performances.

Many a man who lets his wife get up and light the fire every morning of her life shows his appreciation by erecting a $10 tombstone to her memory.

Department of Militia and Defence,
Ottawa, January 20, 1913.

Newspapers will not be paid if this advertisement is inserted without authority from the Department.

H.Q. 18-114-2.—34767. J27-6t

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Land Agency or Sub-Agent for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within 9 miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him, by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $3 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

Terror of Leprosy Less

Fear of lepers is not so pronounced as it was some time ago, when cases were occasionally discovered in this country. Indeed, in New York City there are said to be at least forty suffering from incipient leprosy, and a prominent physician connected with a skin and cancer hospital says there is no such foolish dread of the disease as there has been exhibited elsewhere. He says the dangers from tuberculosis and other diseases are far more to be dreaded than leprosy. Some health authorities are also saying that leprosy is not contagious in this climate, and that there must be continual close contact with a leper to catch the disease.

This information should be gratifying to thousands who have thought that leprosy was so easy to contract. Nevertheless, it is wise for health authorities everywhere to keep close track of every case and care for it in such manner as to prevent it from gaining a foothold in the community.

Extra Police to Stop Waiters' Riot

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—A detail of 500 extra police was distributed through the hotel district to-day in an effort to check further rioting of striking waiters.

Officers of the International Hotel Workers' Union estimated this morning that 4,000 waiters and kitchen helpers were out. A mass meeting was called for noon.

Last night's serious rioting, in which hotel windows were broken and pedestrians shoved from the sidewalks, has had the effect of clinching the hotel men's determination not to yield. Many of the big hotels are crippled.

WANTED "LOVE POWDERS."

Incident in Drug Store.—Young Lover "Losing Ground

"All fools are not dead yet." A Kingston druggist tells of a recent illustration of this. The "apothecaries" have had persons come into their stores on the same errand before, but this chap was also very sincere.

A young man recently entered a local drug store, and, after waiting until all others had been waited upon cautiously approached the young man clerk, and asked:

"Have you any love powders?" The clerk saw an opportunity for a good joke, and, keeping a business-like expression on his face, proceeded to question the customer.

"Hoping that you will not think it out of place, might I ask what you intended to do with the love powders and to whom you intend to give them?" he inquired.

Somewhat reluctantly the "lover" opened up and told his story.

He said that he had been keeping company with a young lady living in he western end of the city, and up to the present had progressed famously. In fact, he believed he was in love, and had left no stone unturned to induce his lady friend to reciprocate After considerable "beating about the bush" the young man acknowledged that he was afraid another fellow had come "in on the ground floor" lately, and whom he understood was a student, and was going to "cut him out." He had heard of these 'love powders before, he had determined to try this means of stimulating his lady friend's affections.

The clerk mixed up half a dozen powders of granulated sugar, and told the lover that the best way to "administer" them was by inserting the contents of the paper in chocolates.

The young man departed from the store, believing that he had the charm. The druggist's friends are wondering if his lady friend loves him "in the same old way," assuming that the "love powders" had the desired effect.

The Chiefest of Woman's Delights

Ed. Howe, the famous Kansas funny man and story teller, has an article in a leading magazine in which he says:

"When a woman has charge of a sick man she feels as important as the marshal of the day at a country Fourth of July celebration, and however amiable she may be at other times, she is very 'bossy' when she has medicine to give a man, or lotions to put on him if he wants drink of water, she expresses the opinion that he is drinking too much, and remembers that her Aunt Harriet's husband once drank a great deal when he was sick, and had convulsions. If the sick man becomes impatient, and says the medicine is doing no good, she reminds him curtly that 'time' is necessary; she is even known to dip into the classics and say that Rome was not built in a day. The air of wisdom with which she examines the doctor books convinces the sick man that, however intelligent his medical adviser may have been, after his recovery he will be informed that he should have been sick much longer had she not used her home-made lotions. Whatever she does at night, the doctor will agree in the morning that it was very good.

"The sleepiest woman in the world will stay up all night cheerfully if she can get a chance to doctor somebody, and if a man has medicine to take at an unusual hour he will get it, if there is a woman around.

Fiendish Lunatic Threw Child on Red Hot Stove

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Jan. 25. Becoming suddenly violently insane, John McMahon last night threw his eighteen months old nephew, the son of his sister, Mrs. Patrick Frawley, on a red hot stove at his sister's home, 351 Fifth Street. The child's screams attracted his father, who was in an adjoining room, but before it was rescued the baby was frightfully burned and may not recover.

McMahon, who came here from Ireland five months ago, was arrested and turned over to the United States immigration officers and will be deported. It is said he was of unsound mind before coming to this country.

Horsewhipped at Scene of Funeral

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y., Jan. 25. —Homer Mitchell, one of the best known citizens of Lake Placid, attended a funeral in that quiet village this week, but his conduct displeased a dozen or so of the other best known residents. With a lot of righteous indignation, ropes and lashes, they fell upon Mitchell in the main street and gave him a good, sound thrashing.

Trussed up with the rope, Mitchell was dragged down the roadway by half a dozen men, while half a dozen more applied the lash. When the physical lashing was over the leaders indulged in tongue lashing, the burden of which was that Mitchell would better never do it again.

Mitchell made a scene at the funeral, and as public sentiment is against him it is considered improbable that the authorities will take action in the matter.

Steamers Collide Two Men Drown

LONDON, Jan. 25.—The mail steamer Princess Clementine had a narrow escape from disaster in the English Channel last night while crossing from Ostend to Dover.

The vessel when near the English side of the channel came into collision with the Norwegian bark Helmdal, which was so badly damaged that she became waterlogged. The crew of twenty on board the bark were rescued by men from the Princess Clementine. The second officer and one seaman of the latter vessel were drowned, however, in the lowering of a boat to go to the assistance of the bark's crew. The Princess Clementine's bows were badly stove in by the collision.

Resent Attack on Protestant Pastors

MONTREAL, Jan. 25.—There is "considerable" indignation in Montreal today following a violent attack upon Protestant ministers made by Mr. Rheaume Delorimer, counsel for the defence in the Theatre Royal case. Coming out in defence of the Protestant ministers, Mr. John H. Roberts, Secretary of the Dominion Alliance, says that the "cowardly and scurrilous" attack upon Protestants will be resented by all, and by nobody more than "our Roman Catholic friends."

In his attack Mr. Delorimer said that the whole case against the Theatre Royal had been caused by a pack of hypocritical Protestant ministers, led by the arch-hypocrite, John H. Roberts.

THE NUPTIALS OF SCOTTY WILLIAMS

By Maitland LeRoy Osborne.

"See that ranch down there?" queried Frisco pointing to a cluster of white buildings in a setting of dark green, miles away down the valley.

I nodded.

We were far up on the side of the mountain, and in the clear Colorado sunshine every detail stood out with vivid distinctness.

"That's Scotty Williams' place. Never told you how I helped Scotty to get married, did I?"

"Fact," said he, "if it hadn't been for me Scotty'd still be roaming over the earth foot-loose and gladsome.

"It was like this: I was punching steers for the Three X outfit when Scotty drifted in from New Mexico. Our range lay for ten miles along the valley. The foreman's name was Kennedy. He was a little man with lots of ginger and no sense of humor. Had a most uncertain temper and a lightning-like way of pulling a gun.

"Kennedy's daughter kept house for him, he being a widower, and they had a place all to themselves about half a mile from the ranch house. Nita—that was the girl's name—was nearly eighteen then, and about as pretty as any female that ever walked. Must have been pretty lonesome for her, not aother woman within a hundred miles, and her daddy not being what you would call a genial companion. But she never let on but what she liked it, always having a smile and a pleasant word for the boys.

"I reckon we were all in love with her—I know I was, good and plenty—but we had to let our passion gnaw in secret, for her daddy didn't have no notion of letting her marry a cow-puncher. Every new man that joined the outfit Kennedy'd lead one side and impress on his mind that there wasn't any lovemaking included in the contract. Very convincing his arguments were too. Not but what any of them would have taken chances in a gunplay with the old man if there'd been any encouragement from the girl—which there was not.

"When Scotty blew along the old man omitted his usual heart-to-heart talk, not sizing Scotty up for a gay Lothario—being so calamitously homely that it looked like a woman would go into hiding at sight of him.

"Scotty was all feet, hands, and freckles to look at, but his moral qualities stuck out so insistent that when you got to know him his lack of beauty didn't seem so glaring. He was sure white all through, was Scotty, and when I see he was fixing his young affections on Nita, I felt plumb sorry for him. The rest of us had the fever in various stages and was convalescent. Scotty was sure going the limit. One night I comes into the bunk house and finds him sitting on the edge of his bunk sighing.

" 'Toothache?' I asked him, but he only looks at me sort of reproachful and sighs some more. Then I says, 'Look a-here, my lovelorn swain, it's sure a whole lot wearing on the nerves to witness your continual grief. If you just say the word I'll hold the old man up while you talk with him quiet and peaceable. It ain't no ways likely he'll say, "Bless you, my children," I says, but if you get it over and know the worst, maybe you'll begin to feel better.' "

" 'No use,' says Scotty, 'it ain't the old man 'Im afraid of—it's the girl.'

"Then I began to see daylight. The next day I hangs around and watches the old man till he rides off and then I 'loped over to see Nita. I was sure rattled, but after I'd made a few leads she began to see what the game was Then I had the surprise of my life. When she grasps the fact that Scotty is just fading away gradual for love of her she begins to look very sorry, and pretty soon she begins to cry. I wanted to kick myself then, but she puts her hand on my arm and says, 'Frisco you've been awful good to me, and I trust you a whole lot. I know you wouldn't be saying this to me if Scotty wasn't straight, and if he's got anything to say to me I'll listen.' Then she drops down sudden on her knees by a chair with her head on her arms and cries out, 'Mother—mother, I want you,' and I sneaks out the door on tiptoe with a lump in my throat.

"Then I hunts up Scotty and talks to him serious. 'It's your play,' I says, 'to go tell Nita you love her and ask her to marry you. If she won't it's up to you to take your grief-stricken countenance back to New Mexica sudden and simultaneous. If she will, you want to thank the Lord every night and every morning, and if you don't treat her a little better than any woman's got a right to expect I'll shoot you full of holes.

"Then Scotty takes off his hat and grips my hand and says, 'So help me God, I always will.'

"After that Scotty lopes over to see his lady love. In about an hour he comes back, effervescing joyfulness like a geyser. 'She's promised to marry me,' he says, swallowing hard and trying to keep both feet on the ground. Then we begins to study how to cut Nita out of the herd without stampeding the whole outfit, for we knows when the old man should find out it was going to be real tempestuous.

"My idea was for he three of us to pull out on horsebask some morning as soon as the old man had started or the range, and get to town and have the knot tied before he found out what's up. But right there was where Scotty's moral scruples cropped out strong, and he bucked good and hard. 'I don't play no horse-thief game like that,' he says. 'I'm going to marry Nita in her own home, decent and respectable.'

" 'Keno,' I says. 'It's your deal—but it's a good gamble that Nita's a widow before she's a bride if the old man gets his gun out first.'

" 'I'm not worrying none,' says Scotty.

"Well, we figured it out after a while, and I ties my face up and asks the old man for three days off to get a tooth pulled. Then I lopes over to town, cuts a minister out of the herd and leads him for Three X outfit. Coming back I sort of prepares his mind for trouble, and I must say for a parson he had sand. 'So long as the girl is free and willing,' he says, 'I'll do my duty.'

"We strikes the ranch along about dark, and when I've located the minister in the bunk house, Scotty sends over to tell the old man he's wanted at the corral. Then Scotty and I goes to meet him and break the news to him gentle.

"When the old man comes round the corner of the corral I pokes the muzzle of my six-shooter under his nose and requests him quiet and polite to elevate his hands—which he does sudden. Then Scotty relieves him of his gun to prevent accidents, and begins to speak his little piece.

"When the old man comes to a realizing tense of what Scotty's trying to tell him his language is something awful.

"At last, seeing we are likely to stay there all night, I winks too Scotty and says, sorter casual: 'You take the minister over to the house and me and Mr. Kennedy'll saunter along presently and join in the festivities.'

"When I reckoned Scotty'd had time enough to get there I puts up my gun and proposes to the old man that we start along, too. First off, he allows he isn't going, but after I have reasoned with him for a quite a spell, he begins to see the error of his ways, and after a while he goes along, spititng out broken teeth and talking—still talking.

"When we got to the house there was Nita and Scotty waiting for us, and the minister with his prayer book open. The boys are all there, too, trying to look careless and happy, and I escorts the old man to his corner and stands back of him. When the minister gets to 'Who gives this woman away?' the old man swallows hard, but I nudges him in the spinal column with the muzzle of my gun and he speaks up and says, 'I do,' real brisk and cheerful.

"When the parson gets the hitch solid, Scotty steps up to his father-in-law and sticks out his hand and says, 'Mr. Kennedy, I'll sure try mighty hard to make Nita a good husband, and I'm hoping you won't hold any hard feelings against us.' I nudges the old man in the back again ad he shakes hands with Scotty quite hearty and spontaneous. Then Nita kisses him and asks him to forgive her, and cries a little and kisses me and puts up my gun and shakes hands with Scotty. Then I hands the minister a bag of dust, and he and Nita and Scotty starts for town on horseback.

"Of course I expects to part company with the Three X outfit sudden and permanent, but when I saunters up to the old man the next morning and asks for my money he only looks at me mighty glum for a minute or two, then tells me not to try to be a bigger fool than I am naturally, and sends me down to No. 2 to brand some calves. He sure did look funny, though, with all his front teeth gone.",

"Did Kennedy ever become reconciled to his son-in-law?" I asked.

"He swears that Scotty is the smartest, best-looking and honestest man in the state," he answered, "and plumb worships them two kids."

Russian War Office Adopts Motor Cars

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 27.—Russia has suddenly awakened to the utility of the automobile in war owing the darkening of the clouds in the Balkans. Government agents are interested as to the possibility of establishing a factory in Russia on the basis of guaranteed annual orders for freight and passenger cars and the taking over the factory by the Russian government at its valuatiotn in case of war.

The recent dispatch of Russian government agents to European automobile centres carrying with them large emergency credits for the purchase of any available automobiles suitable for military purposes and the opening here of a school for the training in automobilizing of Russian army officers are further indications of the interest taken in the matter.

Typhoid Fever To be Eradicated

PARIS, Jan. 27.—Professor Chantemesse, who claims to have discovered an anti-typhus vaccine, in a lecture before the Academy of Scientists quoted fresh proofs to show the efficiency of vaccination by lymph formed from typhoid bacilli and sterilized by heating. Such vaccination was authorized at their own option of sailors in the navy and harbor workers in April, 1912. The head of the navy medical service has reported the results of eight months' work. The majority of this naval population of 67,845 which refused vaccination had 542 cases of typhoid fever and 113 cases of gastric fever, or nearly one per cent. On the other hand, 3,107 who submitted to vaccination and who worked alongside the unvaccinated ones and lived under the same conditions had not a single case of typhoid. There was one case of gastric fever among this number, and he recovered.

The results confirm the statement of Major Russell at the Washington congress last September in saying that the disappearance of typhoid in the American navy had given hopes that the present century will see that disease disappear from civilization, as the last century saw smallpox conquered by medical science.

Right to Use Gentile Names

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 27.—The right of Russian subjects of the Jewish faith to assume ordinary Russian first names and to confer them on their children, instead of those recognized as characteristically Hebraic, is to be brought before the Senate for decision by the Ministry of the Interior.

The custom has recently grown among Russian people of this religious sect to resort to the use of ordinary names in order to avoid business and social embarrrassment.

The Ministry of the Interior has hitherto held that while a man could not arbitrarily assume another name than that entered on his record at his birth, nothing could prevent Hebrew parents from conferring on their children non-patriarchal names.

The Holy Synod has objected strongly to this custom, and as a consequence of this the Ministry has appealed to the Senate and a decision is expected shortly.

Fighting in Morocco

MOGADOR, Morocco, Jan. 27.—Heavy losses were inflicted on a large force of Moorish rebels who attacked a French expeditionary column Friday near this place. The fighting was very severe for some hours and hundreds of Moors were killed or wounded.

They were finally routed and fled in all directions, but the French were unable to pursue them owing to the smallness of their number.

The French casualities were eight killed and 41 wounded.

Czar Gives Corn To Montenegrins

CETTINJE, Jan. 27.—The Russian Emperor has presented 2,000,000 kilograms of corn to the Montenegrin people. The corn was brought to Antivari by steamer. It will go far to relieve the distress caused by the war.

BUSINESS-LIKE SESSION OF THE CITY COUNCIL

Much Business Transacted Without Extending Time--Request of School Board For $50,000 For New School Referred to The Executive Committee.

Much business was last night transacted by the City Council and it was not necessary to extend the time. Two deputations were present and addressed the civic representatives, one from the Board of Education, asking for $50,000 for a new Public School in West Belleville, which matter was referred to the Executive Committee. The second deputation was composed of representatives of the Canadian Creosote Company, advising the Council to pave the streets with creosote blocks. This matter was also referred for consideration. A petition to repeal the butchers' bylaw, so as to allow meat to be cut up upon the market was referred to the Market Committee for consideration.

Those present were Mayor Wills, Aldermen Woodley, White, Slater, McFee, Panter, Clarke, Wallbridge, Lee and St. Charles.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

NEW SCHOOL WANTED.

A deputation from the Board of Education, consisting of Messrs. C. M. Reid, Chairman; B. Mallory, F. E. O'Flynn, W. N. Ponton and F. S. Diamond was present and addressed the Council in reference to the Council providing $50,000 for the erection of a new school in West Belleville.

Mr. C. M. Reid said the deputation were present to ask the Council to provide means for the erection of a new school in West Belleville. Better school accommodation must be secured for that portion of the city. The present school building is totally inadequate. A grant of $50,000 was needed to erect and equip the proposed new school.

Mr. F. E. O'Flynn in his opening remarks congratulated Mayor Wills upon his elevation to the Chief Magistracy of the city. He was in hearty accord with the proposition before the Council to grant the sum required for a new school in West Belleville, which was so necessary.

Col. Ponton said that the Board of Education had no diffidence in asking the Council for a grant for a new school. It was a great duty for the Council to provide the necessary sum for the new school. This will be another great asset to the city when the new school in West Belleville is erected. The speaker read a letter from Mr. W. B. Deacon who is in the West, endorsing the proposition for a new school in the western part of the city.

Mr. B. Mallory endorsed the remarks of the previous speakers.

Mayor Wills said he was pleased that the deputation was present and the request they had made would be carefully considered by the Council.

On motion the Council went into Committee of the Whole on communications, petitions, etc., Ald. Panter in the chair.

The reports of the various committees were considered. The accounts were passed, also the following recommendations:

The Executive Committee made the following recommendations:

That the policy in the Canada Accident Assurance Company on the city for accidents, etc., be affirmed, the premium to be $1,250.

That the agreement between the city and the Tivani Electric Steel Company be approved of.

Ald. Clarke considered the agreement was not in conformity with the resolution passed by last year's Council. After some argument he moved an amendment that the company hold and retain a title to the land upon which the building is to be erected during the term of the covenant. The amendment was lost.

The committee's recommendation prevailed and the agreement was passed.

That upon payment in full for the license on 7 tables and the payment on 5 additional tables for 2 months by Mr. Laekas, no proceedings be taken against him.

That the taxes on the assay office for 1912 be remitted on condition that the city has no further liability on the lessee to the city of the office on Victoria Avenue.

That J. W. Butterfield, T. S. Carman and W. H. Biggar be notified that the balance of the Butterfield mortgage be paid, or proceedings will be taken to recover the same.

That the city procure a copy of the Municipal World for the City Solicitor's office.

The Public Works Committee recommended that the letter of Messrs. Porter & Carnew re Manley's claim be referred to the City Solicitor for investigation and advice as to liability of the corporation on the claim made.

The Fire Committee recommended that the chairman and Ald. Lee look after repairs to the hose wagons and the hook and ladder wagon.

The Gas Committee recommended that the Manager of the Gas Works be authorized to make a contract with the Pittsburg Coal Company for the requirements of the Gas Department, of approximately 1,000 tons of coal as per contract submitted

STREET PAVING.

A deputation addressed the Council in reference to street paving.

Mr. Cliemes said the question of paving was a rather delicate question. The question to be settled, however, in regard to paving was to see what paving will last the longest. In his opinion creosote block paving was the best for a pavement and more lasting. It is a smooth and noiseless pavement and there is no dust whatever from it. Another advantage is that repairing is easier with this pavement. This pavement will last for years.

Mr. Keene said that creosote was the most powerful antiseptic known today, and this is what the blocks are impregnated with. In laying this pavement you help to preserve the health of the community in addition to having the best pavement possible. The speaker then described minutely how the blocks were treated with creosote. This pavement is more expensive than other pavements but its lasting qualities are much longer. Heat affects an asphalt pavement, but not a creosote pavement. The blocks are laid in a concrete foundation.

Mr. Clemens stated that the company had laid creosote block pave-

TWO MEN ROB BANK

Intelligencer Special.

EDMONTON, Alta., Jan. 28.—Two masked and armed men entered the Bank of Nova Scotia early today, and seizing and binding Clare West, the ledger-keeper, the only person in the building, after a desperate struggle, proceeded to open the safe. In the meantime West managed to reach his revolver and fired four shots at them. The men returned the fire, one shot hitting West in the forearm, and they made their escape through the rear of the building, getting clear away with several hundred dollars. West is in the hospital suffering from loss of blood.

SUFFRAGETTES JAILED

Intelligencer Special.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Mrs. Despard, who was arrested last evening, following demonstrations caused by the Government's withdrawal of the Franhise Reform Bill in the House of Commons, chose today in Bow Street court to go to jail for two weeks rather than pay ten dollars fine. John Simpson, a male suffragette, arrested with Mrs. Despard, also chose confinement when the choice of ten dollars fine or two weeks in jail was given him. Another suffragette who steadfastly refused to give her name was sent to prison for a week on a charge of inciting a riot.

COMING TO NEW YORK

Intelligencer Special.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Dr. F. F. Friedmann, the German scientist, who claims to have discovered a cure for tuberculosis, announces in a letter to Charles F. Finlay, President of the Aetna National Bank of this city, that he will arrive here on February 5th to put his discovery to a test.

Mr. Finlay has offered the doctor $1,000,000 if his treatment proves successful.

DIES FROM INJURIES

Intelligencer Special.

TORONTO, Jan. 28.—John Smith, 5 years old, of 447 Ashdale Avenue, died in the General Hospital early today of injuries received by being struck by a Grand Trunk train at Greenwood Avenpe crossing last night. Smith leaves a family of seven children, all under twelve years of age.

BEFORE END OF YEAR

Intelligencer Special.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Ocean-going ships will pass from one ocean to the other through the Panama Canal before the end of the year, so Col. Geo. W. Goethals, Chief Engineer of the Panama Canal announced at a dinner given by the Lehigh University Club last night.

IMPORTANT CIVIC MATTERS TAKEN UP BY THE MAYOR

That Belleville has in Mayor Wills a progressive Chief Magistrate has already been demonstrated. At last night's Council meeting His Worship outlined some important matters which he was attending to

The Tax Collector, he stated, was making good collections of unpaid taxes, but there were still many who had not paid their taxes. These taxes must be collected and His Worship sugested that parties owing the same should see to it that they procure the money and wipe out their indebtedness to the city.

The Harbor Commissioners had met and the matter of the club house which Mr. H. A. Kerr had upon the park was considered. His Worship contended that this building was a club house, and in the past Mr. Kerr had paid but $1 a year as a nominal rent to the Government for the water privilege. This building came into competition with other citizens who are in the boat livery business and who paid taxes to the city. It had been deemed wise to ask a rental of at least $5 per month from Mr. Kerr. This was not a tax to any extent compared with other property on the water front. Mr. Kerr had, however, offered the building for sale, which was his privilege. His Worship in referring to the revenue from harbor dues said it was somewhat curtailed of late owing to the lumber business being discontinued here. There was a large tax to be met out of the revenue.

The Board of Health would meet immediately and the question of the disposal of garbage would be considered and a proposition laid before the Council.

Another matter of moment was the erection of an isolated hospital, which was necessary for the housing of patients who are affected with contagious diseases.

In regard to harbor improvements and the proposed new dock to be erected here he would be in Ottawa on Wednesday and would attend to the matter.

Killed Husband In Rapier Duel

MOSCOW, Jan. 27.—Madame Nadja Putokin killed her husband to-day in a duel with rapiers, to which she had formally challenged him. The Putokins were both professors of fencing, and their rooms were crowded every day with fashionable people. One of these was an army officer, who aroused the jealousy of M. Putokin. The jealousy of the husband led the officer to issue a challenge, but Madame Putokin, declaring that her honor had been insulted, sent seconds to her husband and insisted that he should fight her first.

In the actual duel Nadia made a vigorous attack. The husband contented himself with parrying her thrusts, but in the third bout his wife's rapier pierced his heart and killed him instantly.

HER BABE WAS KILLED

And Mother Was Wounded by a Posse in Manitoba.

Galician Woman Defended House Against Constables Near Dauphin and During Siege Four-Year-Old Was Slain—She Claims She Did the Shooting For Which a Man Was Wanted by the Officers.

DAUPHIN, Man., Jan. 28.—The killing of a baby and the shooting of its mother was the pitiful sequel yesterday of the assault on Police Constable Rooke at the home of John Baran, twenty miles southwest of Dauphin Sunday.

The tragedy yesterday was the result of the determined effort of the woman occupying the Baran home not to admit the constables, who were in search of Baran. She came here lately from Winnipeg, and has been living with Baran.

The posse left Dauphin to capture the Galician, John Baran, wanted for possibly fatally wounding Provincial Mounted Police Constable Charles Rooke, who attempted to arrest him Sunday morning.

On arriving at Baran's house they were fired upon. They returned the fire, with the result that Baran's wife was wounded and her baby killed. They found no trace of the man in the house. The woman was brought to Dauphin Hospital, where she is receiving treatment.

Yesterday's affair followed the efforts of a posse commanded by Chief of Police Briddle to capture John Baran. It was just after daylight yesterday morning that Chief Briddle cautiously approached the Baran home. The place stands in a clearing, and there was no cover to shield the officers. Scarcely had they come within gunshot distance of the small shack in the bush when a fusillade of shots were fired from a small window.

The officers returned the fire. None of them was shot.

Later the officers again approached the house, no shots having been heard. A middle-aged woman lay on the floor, wounded in the shoulder, and on a small bed by her side was the still form of her baby, about four years of age. It was soon found to be dead.

At first the officers looked for Baran, but the first words the woman spoke convinced them that she told the truth. "He is not here. I did the shooting—me—all of it. Is the baby dead?"

The woman answered questions, but remained mute except when directly questioned by the officers. She said the shooting of Rooke had been done by her, but did not explain why.

The condition of Rooke, whom Baran shot over the heart, is unchanged and critical.

CHANGES CANCELLED.

C.P.R. and G.T.R. Must Not Abolish Stop-over Privileges.

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—An order concerning a lumber matter of international interest has been issued by the Railway Commission. It cancels proposed tariff changes by the G.T.R. and C.P.R., abolishing stopover privileges on international lumber shipments, except those destined exclusively to points in the United States. Consignees to whom lumber is shipped, whether from the United States to Canada or vice versa, often prefer to receive the timber in a partly manufactured state, planed or otherwise treated. Hitherto the railways have accorded the privilege to both United States and Canadian shippers of forwarding raw lumber from the shipping point to some intermediate point, where it is manufactured, at the through rate, and then shipping it on again to its destination for a slight advance over the regular tariff which would be charged for unbroken forwarding.

Now, however, the railways propose to abolish this stopover privilege on all shipments except those designed for United States points. On complaint having been made, the board has issued an order suspending the operation of the changes, and the case will be heard in Toronto on Feb. 7.

CLARE GETS AN OVATION.

Member for South Waterloo Honored by His Friends.

GALT, Jan. 28.—Last night was a gala night in Preston. At the opera house supporters of George A. Clare, M.P., from all sections of South Waterloo gathered to honor their representative in the Dominion Parliament. Mr. Clare was tendered an address and presentation. Among the speakers were Senator Pope and Hon. Dr. Roche, Minister of the Interior. The affair was an outstanding one in the annals of South Waterloo, and was fully enjoyed. A special car carried the Galt guests, and the Burns' Club Pipe Band accompanied the Galt party. Mr. Clare modestly accepted congratulations on his recent honor.

Rescued Boy From Cistern.

GALT, Jan. 28.—A six-year-old boy named Saunders fell into an unguarded deep cistern unnoticed by the family, and would have been drowned but for the heroic act of George B. Triplets Born TORONTO, Jan. 27.—Shortly after giving birth to triplets, the third time since her marriage a little over twelve years ago, Mrs. Crawford, wife of William Crawford, a sectionman employed on the Metropolitan division of the Toronto and York radial railway, died under pathetic circumstances early on Friday evening in the rear of 1893 Yonge Street, that was her home. Two of the babies, a boy and a girl, which died shortly after birth, will be buried with her this afternoon in the cemetery at Richmond Hill. The remaining child is a boy, and will in all probability live. In addition to the three sets of triplets, Mrs. Crawford twice gave birth to twins and to a single child once, but of all the fourteen children only four, including the baby, live to mourn for her.

Farewell Gathering

A farewell oyster supper, given by Bayside friends, was held at the home of Mr. Allen Brown, Front of Sidney, which was well attended, there being about 70 present. After ample justice was done to the supper, and order called by the pastor, an appropriate address was read by Mrs. D. Gunn, when Mrs. C. Hall came forward and presented Miss Nettie Brown with a set of sable furs, and Mrs. H. Hogle presented Mr. Allen with a handsome Bible. A pleasant evening followed, all wishing Mr. Brown and family prosperity wherever they may sojourn.

NO BETTER PLAY HAS OR WILL BE HERE THIS SEASON

THE GAMBLERS

By CHARLES KLEIN

Author of "The Music Master," "The Lion and the Mouse," "The Third Degree," Etc.

200 NIGHTS IN NEW YORK CITY.

Prices: 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50

Plan Opens Saturday at Doyle's

Scene From Charles Klein's Great Play "The Gamblers", at Griffin's Opera House This Evening.

"THE GAMBLERS"

"The Gamblers," last season's most successful serious drama which recorded a remarkable run of over 200 consecutive performances at Maxine Elliott's Theatre, comes to Griffin's Opera House Tuesday evening, Jan. 28, under the management of The Authors' roducing Company.

In this gripping play by Charles Klein, author of "The Music Master," "The Lion and the Mouse," "The Third Degree," "Maggie Pepper" and others of merit, the story arises out of the operations of one Wilbur Emerson, who, with several others associated with him in the banking business, used the money of the depositors in an effort to fight the several larger banks which are endeavoring to crush them.

All this would be very well but for the fact that Tmerson has got his father to endorse certain notes without telling him of the real purpose to which he intends to put them, and if he were not very fond of Mrs. Darwin, the wife of the Prosecuting Lawyer for the District Attorney's Office. Emerson hears of the fact that Darwin intends to set the federal wheels working in time to save everybody's skin for he has borrowed money enough to pay back the notes. Unfotunately, one of the directors has lost his nerve and turned State's evidence.

A GOOD BREAKFAST.

Some Persons Never Know What It Means.

A good breakfast, a good appetite and good digestion mean everything to the man, woman or child who has anything to do, and wants to get a good start toward doing it.

A Southern man tells of his wife's "good breakfast" and also supper, made out of Grape-Nuts and cream. He says:

"I should like to tell you how much good Grape-Nuts has done my wife. After being in poor health for the last 18 years, during part of the time scarcely anything would stay on her stomach long enough to nourish her, finally at the suggestion of a friend she tried Grape-Nuts.

"Now, after about four weeks on this delicious and nutritious food, she has picked up most wonderfully and seems as well as anyone can be.

"Every morning she makes a good breakfast on Grape-Nuts eaten just as it comes from the package with cream or milk added; and then again the same at supper, and the change in her is wonderful.

"We can't speak too highly of Grape-Nuts as a food after our remarkable experience." Names given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.—Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

SLIGHT BLAZE AT TRENTON

The Trenton fire brigade were called out last evening to extinguish a slight blaze which broke out in a house on the east side of the river. The damage done was slight.

COUNTY COUNCIL IN SESSION

The January Session of the County Council convened this afternoon in the Council Chamber, Shire Hall. The chief business to-day was the selection of a Warden, the honor being conferred upon Mr. T. H. Thompson, Reeve of Madoc Village.

GONE TO HER REWARD

Mrs. Susan A. Lauder, wife of Mr. Robert Lauder, died yesterday afternoon at the family residence, near Mellville, Prince Edward County. Deceased was 68 years of age and always resided in the adjoining country where she had many friends. For years she had been a member of the Methodist Church. Her husband and family survive.

LAST SAD RITES

The funeral of the late Mr. Wm. Burley took place this morning and was under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World, of which deceased was a member. Services were conducted by Rev. H. S. Osborne, Pastor of Bridge Street Church. Interment took place at Melrose cemetery. The bearers were members of the Woodmen Society.

FOR HORSE STEALING

Walter Lasher, of this city, was to-day on trial before Judge Deroche on a charge of horse stealing. On the 10th inst, the accused procured a horse and outfit from Mr. John McCoy of this city, representing he was a time clerk on a construction gang and had to drive to Kingston. It is alleged that Lasher sold the outfit, hence the charge preferred against him. The case was in progress this afternoon. Mr. Anderson for Crown, and Mr. Carnew for the accused.

ST. MICHAEL'S "AT HOME"

The At Home given last night in St. Michael's Academy, under the auspices of the Young Ladies Sodality of St. Michael's Church, was a most successful and enjoyable affair, there being in the neighborhood of four hundred in atendance. A large number of those present played progressive euchre in the Sodality Room on the second floor, while dancing was indulged in in the large hall on the upper floor, the music being furnished by O'Rourke's orchestra. Dainty refreshments were served by the young ladies, and in every respect the At Home was deemed a great success.

LEFT A FORTUNE

Word has reached us that Mr. Howard F. Darlington of this city, son of Henry Darlington of Point Anne, has fallen heir to a fortune of $17,000, left him by his uncle, H. F. Darlington, who died in Liverpool, England, January 4th. The deceased, who was 71 years of age, left his entire fortune to Howard (his namesake). Besides the sum of $17,000, he leaves other valuable property. Mr. Darlington is a young man highly respected, and his many friends wish him every success in life. His executors will control his business until he reaches the age of 21, which will occur on the 13th of the coming March, when he will come into full privileges. He is now arranging for a trip to England in the Spring.

PERU ILLUSTRATED

An exceeding interesting and instructive illustrated lecture was given at St. Andrew's Church last evening, by Rev. George Smith, a missionary from that section of the world. The views, which were excellent in every regard, depicted the awful conditions among the Indians of that country, showing the terrible treatment by officials, and the unfeeling attitude toward the lower classes. Mr. Smith's explanations were vivid and timely, giving his audience an insight into the life of South America that could not otherwise have been obtained. The work this gentleman has been engaged in for so many years is certainly worthy of support, and it is to be hoped those who were present last evening will remember it in the future.

WEDDING AT READ'S CHURCH

At Read's Church, Tyendinaga, yesterday morning, a wedding was solemnized by the Rev. Father McCarthy, Parish Priest. The birde was Miss Mary Loretta Naphin, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Naphin of Tyendinaga, and the groom was Mr. John R. Fleming of Hungerford Township. Many were present at the church to witness the ceremony. Miss Cassie Naphin, sister of the bride was bridesmaid, whilst Mr. William Cassidy did honors for the groom. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Gertie Fleming, sister of the groom. The bride and bridesmaid were attired in gowns of cream silk, tastefully trimmed and wore appropriate hats. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the residents of the bride's parents where a sumptuous wedding repast was partaken of. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly gifts. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Fleming left for a trip to Montreal and Quebec, and upon returning will reside in Hungerford. The bride's travelling dress was brown cloth with hat to match. The bride is a sister of Sergt. Naphin of the city police force.

For Burns—Zam Buk

STOPS PAIN AT ONCE.

This is the verdict of all who have tried Zam-Buk. The woman in the home knows best its value. A burn from the stove, from a flat-iron, or a hot pan, is instantly soothed by Zam-Buk. When the little ones fall and cut or scratch themselves, Zam-Buk stops the pain and, incidentally, their crying. The best proof of this is the fact that children who have once had Zam-Buk applied come for it again.

For more serious burns, too, it is unequalled. Mr. John Johnston, of 731 South Marks St., Fort William, a moulder in Copp's Foundry, says: "Some time ago I burned the top of my foot severely by dropping some molten iron from a ladle I was carrying. A large hole was burned through my shoe and into the top of my foot. I was taken home and Zam-Buk was applied to the burn directly. It was surprising what relief this balm afforded. The burn was so deep and so serious that it required careful attention, but Zam-Buk prevented other complications arising, and as it was daily applied, soothed the pains and allayed the inflammation. In the course of two weeks the hole burned in my foot had been quite healed.

Mr. W. B. Gibson, of Belleville, writes: "We have tried Zam-Buk often on cuts and sores, and I think there is nothing that can equal it."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, ulcers, blood-poison, varicose sores, piles, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places, and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box or post free from Zam Buk Co., Toronto, for price

Trenton Board of Trade Elects Officers

TRENTON, Jan. 27.—An enthusiastic meeting of the Board of Trade was held to-night, at which nearly every business and professional man in town was present. Officers for 1913 were elected as follows:—Hon. President, Robert Weddell; President, Arthur E. Cuff; Vice-President, B. H. Siddall; Secretary, P. A. Thompson; Treasurer, H. F. Whittier; Council—P. J. O'Rourke, J. Funnell, E. V. Illsley, Eben James, W. H. Matthews, Dr. Jacques, E. L. Marsh and S. Hoocy. A banquet will be immediately after Easter.

Among the resolutions was that a permanent hydrant system be installed to supplement the present fire protection facilities. Conditions are such that the system can be started at once.

Another resolution congratulates the Council on the appointment to-day of D. C. Nixon as Industrial and Publicity Commissioner. Mr. Nixon is a newspaper man of wide experience.

Fortune in Furs From P. E. I.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—According to London furriers the most expensive furs now on the market are pelts of black and silver foxes from Prince Edward Island. These are so costly that they can only be obtained by private sale.

A single pelt of the black fox fetches from $750 to $1,750, and for a woman's court at least four pelts are necessary. At a public sale at the beginning of the winter one pelt brought $1,550.

Harrison Watson, hte official agent for Prince Edward Island, states that he himself was sceptical when he heard of the fabulous prices commanded by fox pelts in the open market, but he was assured by the Minister of Agriculture that the figures were correct.

Inquiries among the furriers of the west end show that recent purchasers of fur coats, ranging from £1,100 ($5,000) to £3,000 ($15,000) included five members of Parliament, eight peers, eleven bankers and three actresses.

Holidays are more pleasant in contemplation than in fact to most men.

THE GRAND TRUNK'S N. E. EXTENSIONS

Now that the light is gradually dawning upon the New England extensions of the Grand Trunk Railway, and which for reasons, apparently questionable to the people of that section, were abandoned, presumably in favor of an understanding with the Mellen, or New Haven Railway interests, the real situation is anything but derogatory to the upright spirit of the Canadian company.

It seems that some years ago, says the Hamilton Spectator, Mr. Charles M. Hays, then at the head of the Grand Trunk, and who always had his eye on possibilities for additional traffic, thought he saw a chance to secure a charter taking his tracks right into Boston. He did not think the time had come to build—the company was hardly prepared to finance that work—but he did think the psychological moment had arrived to get a charter, the people of New England having become incensed against the New Haven monopoly, and ready to turn to any quarter for relief. He submitted his proposal to Mr. Smithers, chairman of the English directors, who pointed out some difficulties. The Canadian people, he thought, would not be pleased to see connections made likely to carry traffic to an American port at the expense of the ports of the Canadian seaboard. At any rate he thought nothing could actually be done till certain large undertakings to which the Grand Trunk was already committed were completed, including the reduction of the grades in the main line, and the separation of the grades in Montreal and Toronto. The charter was secured as Mr. Hays desired, but no serious attempt was made to begin the work of construction between White River Junction and Boston.

For the extension from Palmer, Massachusetts, to Providence, Rhode Island, the board in London did allow a small temporary loan to be raised, and some work was done; but the tightening of the money market, aggravated by the beginning of the Balkan war, rendered impossible the procuring of reasonable terms of the funds for the prosecution of that work, and it was suspended.

It has been charged that the suspension of this work was due to the more friendly feeling between Mr. Chamberlain, the present head of the Grand Trunk, and Mr. Mellen, the head of the New Haven interests, than had existed between Mr. Hays and Mr. Mellen, and that the state of the money market was only a pretext. It is true that Mr. Chamberlain is personally on better terms with Mr. Mellen than was his predecessor, but it is quite untrue that the stopping of the work was due to traffic arrangements with the New Haven interests against the will of the people of New England. It really was stopped because the time was not propitious for its completion, and as a matter of fact, arrangements are now being made for its resumption at an early day.

From beginning to end, the Grand Trunk has acted in a manner perfectly fair and just to all concerned. This is more evident now than it was on the partial information at hand during the recent agitation. It will become still more patent in the course of the coming legal proceedings in New York.

THE PANAMA CANAL CLUB

As a result of the testimony which has been obtained by the house committee that has been inquiring into the so called shipping trust, Representative Humphrey of Washington has introduced a bill which would bar from the use of the Panama Canal all American or foreign vessels in combines or conferences. The granting of rebates, pooling arrangements, agreed sailing dates, etc., have been discussed by witnesses before the committee with great frankness. Most of the witnesses have appeared to think that there was nothing to be reasonably objected to in these combinations, agreements, etc. One witness on Saturday declared that rebates were nothing more than discounts to shippers who entered into long term contracts with the companies. That is a defence which even the railroads that had the hardihood to attempt to excuse rebating did not have the ingenuity to develop. Rebates would be all right if everybody received them. The trouble is that only favored shippers receive them—and that puts the unfavored shippers at a disadvantage.

However, we are inclined to think that it is a mistake to use the Panama Canala as a club in the way Representative Humphrey proposes. If this thing keeps up there will not be any vessels to use the canal, except now and then some old hooker. There should be some way to correct the evil without closing the canal to all the big steamship lines in the world, for that is about what it would amount to, judging from the testimony taken by the house committee, if the Humphrey plan were carried out.

The Kingston Whig thinks Sir James Whitney is "actually becoming docile, amenable to reason and quite approachable." If there is any change in the attitude of Sir James toward the tax reform movement it is because of the change of attitude on the part of its advocates. There are other means of popularizing a movement than by clubbing. If Sir James has been carrying a big stick in one hand while he extended the other, as recently caricatured in a Toronto paper, it is because his antagonist was in the sand-bagging business. Quite naturally and properly "like meets like."

Pleaded For Assailant

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The man who shot Sir Edward Henry, the Chief Commissioner of the Metropolitan Police, was sentenced by Justice Darling to fifteen years' penal servitude. The prisoner is Albert George Bowes, aged 25, of Chiswick, who tried to murder the Commissioner as he was entering his house in Kensington. He had been refused a license by Scotland Yard to drive a taxi-cab on the ground that he had been convicted of drunkenness.

An appeal on the prisoner's behalf was made by Sir Edward Henry after the man had been found guilty.

"I throw myself on the indulgence of the court in the peculiar circumstances of this case in taking the unusual course of making a personal appeal," said Sir Edward. "The members of my family, one of whom is quite a small child, arrived on the scene so soon after the shots had been fired as to have been almost spectators of what happened. The impression made on their minds by what they saw and what they heard has been lasting.

"They have been moved to pity by the consideration of the prisoner's youth and the conditions of his home. When their thoughts in the years to come travel back to the events of that evening, as they inevitably must, the pain of recollection would be mitigated if they could tell that I had pleaded, and that my pleading had not been wholly ineffective, in inducing your Lordship to weigh mercifully the sentence you may feel it your duty to pass upon the prisoner.

"I think it is essential in the interests of the public that the possession of and the traffic in pistols should be much more strictly regulated than it is now."

Sir Edward Henry added that a bill was drafted after the Sidney Street affair, but had not been proceeded with.

It is nearly always better to be paid back in our own coin than never to be paid back at all.

COMPLETELY CURED OF DYSPEPSIA

By Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets

We are continually hearing from grateful people who have had experiences like that of Miss Alice E. Cooper, of Niagara Falls, Ont., who writes:

"I wish to express my gratitude to you for the benefit I received from your most wonderful Dyspepsia Tablets. Having taken other medicines without having received the slightest relief, I heard of your Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets and thought I would give them a trial. I have been completely cured of dyspepsia. I will be only too pleased to advise any one troubled with dyspepsia to give them a fair trial."

Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets not only give the immediate relief from heartburn, flatulence, acidity of the stomach and biliousness, which is so much needed, but if taken regularly for a few days or weeks they completely cure the most aggravated cases of stomach trouble. New Grand Central Terminal

A wonderful city within a city built for the comfort and convenience of the traveling public.

The main Grand Central Terminal Building in New York is now open to the public. This vast improvement is more than a great railway Terminal—it is a Terminal City, complete in itself, providing every detail essential to comfort and convenience.

It will embrace convention, amusement and exhibition halls, hotels, clubs and restaurants; post office, express offices, modern apartment and office buildings, and numerous stores and specialty shops.

Grand Central Terminal is the Heart of New York at Forty-second Street and Park Avenue (4th Avenue), one block from Fifth Avenue and convenient to Broadway.

It is the only Terminal on all lines of local traffic—subway, surface and elevated. More than 7,000 cars pass its doors every day, affording easy transit facilities to any part of New York. Around it, within a radius of a few blocks are forty-nine hotels, fifty-eight clubs and thirty-five theatres.

Three new lines of underground transportation are now-building to Grand Central Terminal, and soon there will be six levels of human traffic in Forty-second Street.

Below the Terminal City under all its buildings and streets are 33 miles of railway tracks on two separate levels, the upper for Through Service and the lower for Suburban Service.

Each level forms a complete terminal in itself, separate entrances and exits, with equal facilities for the comfort of passengers.

Both levels are reached by gently inclined walks, (no need to climb stairs) and no confusion, since incoming and outgoing traffic is separated.

Ticket, Pullman, Baggage and other facilities are progressively arranged from waiting room to train, no step need be retraced.

Offers Million For 95 Cures

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—A million dollars is the offer announced by Chas. E. Finlay, a New York banker, if his son-in-law, Rexford Lee Paris of Indianapolis, and 91 other sufferers from tuberculosis in this country are rescued to health by the new serum discovered by Dr. F. F. Friedman, of Berlin, Germany.

Cable despatches have told of the success of the new serum abroad and Dr. Friedman has recently given the secret of his vaccine to the German imperial board of health.

Aroused by the case in his own household, Mr. Finlay has cabled his offer to Dr. Friedman, one of the conditions being that the doctor shall demonstrate personally the value of his serum in New York within the next few weeks. His proposition requires that 95 per cent. of cures be shown.

Mr. Finlay said that the million might reduce him to the "bread line class," as he was not a multi-millionaire, but he thought it would be worth while to make such a sacrifice if he could do a hopeful thing for humanity. He proposes to establish free beds for the 100 patients here if the experiment is tried.

Kaiser May Make Change in Style Of Moustache

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—A Berlin special to the New York "American" says:—

There is great uneasiness in army circles over the Kaiser's moustache.

The heaven-kissing ends of the War Lord's moustache have been a fetish to his fighting men, and the unhappiness of the officers, especially the young officers, has been in direct proportion to their success in duplicating the Kaiser's tilt. Now comes the disquieting report that the Emperor is contemplating a change in the style of his hirsute adornment.

The Kaiser has consented to have a new likeness of himself made for the Prussian silver coinage. The new design will be kept a secret until the appearance of the coin in June.

For His Son's Wife

PARIS, Jan. 27.—The extent to which a father-in-law is responsible for the maintance of his son's wife, if the husband has deserted her, is the problem just raised in the French courts. Mme. Lisa Besnard married Robert Besnard, the son of the celebrated painter, but in 1899 her husband left her and went to Italy. Her father-in-law has since allowed her and her three children £192 a year. Yesterday she asked the court to raise the allowance to £40 and to settle it on her legal decision. The tribunal decided that Besnard's family was responsible for his wife's maintenance and ordered a yearly allowance of £240 to be paid to her.

Dog Teams Race

NOME, Alaska, Jan. 27.—The Solomon Derby, for dog teams from Nome to Solomon and return, 65 miles over the snow trail, was won yesterday by John Johnson, driving a team of Siberian wolves, in six hours one and one-half minutes. Oliver Blatchford, driving a team of Missouri bird hounds, was second; Alexander Holmson, driving a mixed team of malamutes and Mackenzie River huskies, finished third, and Scotty Allan's team was fourth.

The winning dogs formerly were owned by Lord Foxo Ramsay. They hold the record for the All-Alaska sweepstake race.

Drank Carbolic Acid

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 21.—Mrs. Bertha Smith, wife of Charles Smith, an employee of the Michigan Central Railway round-house, drank an ounce of carbolic acid on Friday night while her husband was asleep. Her vomiting awoke him, and he summoned doctors, but she died in three hours later. No reason can be assigned for her rash act. The coroner decided an inquest unnecessary. Besides her husband, the woman, who was only 23 years of age, is survived by a six-year-old son and her parents Mr. and Mrs. Steven of Hallday, St. William's.

The sad expression often worn by old men is probably caused by their having forgotten the things they thought they knew when young.

HOCKEY.

24 TO 6—"THAT'S ALL"

In a real spectacular game at the Arena last night the local youngsters gave Trenton a taste of high-class trimming. Never, from the drop of the puck in the opening play, did Trenton have a chance of anything that looked like winning the match. Trained right down to the minute, the Belleville aggregation came onto the ice with the firm determination of demonstrating the exact meaning of a "walk-over" as applied to a game of hockey, and about 600 enthusiastic individuals saw the local boys deliver the goods to the "refrain" of 21 to 6. The score at half time was 11 to 3. It was evident at all stages of the game that it was to be nothing short of a landslide for the Belleville team.

The line up:—

Goyer		McGorman
	Right Wing
Wallace		Orser

SIDE NOTES.

Referee Illsey was on the job all the time.

• • •

Tripp and Hoag were the "stars" for Trenton.

• • •

Now for the K. C. I. scalps Friday night.

• • •

Who said the Trenton team could trim the "Printers"? Now, don't you believe it, especially after last night.

• • •

Hodgins played the game of his life, but it was easy picking for our boys in any instance last night.

• • •

Were you at the game last night? It seemed to be all Belleville. It was a very good game at that.

• • •

Hidgins, Goyer and Wallace were in evidence all the time, each playing a good, fast and clean game of hockey.

• • •

Brotherhood in goal is surely the right man in the right place. Last night's game was only a little practice for him.

• • •

While conditions may be a trifle different Friday night, the local boys will make the K. C. I. travel some—and no mistake.

• • •

Whittie at point played an excellent game, deserving credit for his fine work.

Say—did you see Finkle?—he was a star on the ice.

Quebec, Jan. 27.—Wanderers did the unexpected here on Saturday night when they trimmed the Quebec champions in an N. H. A. fixture 10 to 6. The champions had a shade the best of the play in the first period, but in the second and third periods Sammy Lichtenhein's team had most of the play. Moran in goal did good work, but his defence gave him little assistance, being inclined to roam away from their positions. Tommy Smith did good work, as did Joe Hall. For Wanderers Art Ross was the star. His rushing work was excellent. Time and again he worked his way through the champions' defence, only to have his shot blocked by Moran. His work on the offensive was also good. Harry Hyland played a very useful game on the forward line and scored six of his team's ten tallies. Boyes, in goal, saved his team in many hard situations, and played a steady game all through. The teams:—

Officials—Reg. Percival, referee; C. C. Powers, judge of play.

Montreal, Jan. 26.—In a game replete with thrills and dazzling rushes, in which seventeen minutes' overtime was necessary to determine the winner, the Canadiens defeated Tecumsehs 4 to 3 at the Arena on Saturday. It was the Tecumsehs' initial appearance in Montreal, and the so called members of the Old Man's Home created a favorable impression with the majority of the 5,000 who turned out to witness the match.

Ice conditions were nearly perfect, which added considerably to the quality of the hockey served up. It was generally conceded that it was the best game seen here this season. The result was always in doubt until "Newsy" Lalonde scored the odd goal for the French club from a lucky pass of Pitre's.

There was little advantage to be claimed by either team at any time, while both defences worked in machine like style. The forwards of the winners seemed to have the edge so far as speed went, but were so closely checked by their opponents that this was offset.

Toronto, Jan. 27.—The champion McGill team of the Intercollegiate League defeated University of Toronto at the Arena Saturday afternoon by 5 to 3 after two periods of overtime. The popularity of Saturday afternoon hockey was again attested by a very large crowd.

The showing of the Blue and White was a disappointment. It was expected that the Intercollegiate team would be stronger than that representing University of Toronto in the O. H. A. Such is not true. The team which was beaten by McGill lacked speed, particularly in the forward line, and the defeat can be charged to the failure or inability of the Varsity men to check back effectively. McGill had almost a monopoly of the speed. The half-time score was 2 to 2 and the count at the expiration of an hour of play was 3 to 3.

BASEBALL.

BARROW HAS UMPIRES.

New York, Jan. 27.—President Barrow of the International League on Saturday announced that he had completed his staff of umpires for 1913 by signing Wm. Finneran of Erie, Pa. Only three members of last year's staff will return to the league this season. They are Mullen, Carpenter and Nallin.

The new members are O'Toole of the Western League, Quigley of the New York States, Hayes and Bierhalter of the American Association, and Finneran of the National League.

President Barrow has issued a call for the International League schedule meeting, Monday, Feb. 10, at the Victoria Hotel, New York.

MORRISON BEAT ZAPOLEON.

New York, Jan. 26.—Defeating S. Rubinstein in 31 moves tonight, Jose R. Capablanca, the Cuban chess player not only scored his sixth consecutive victory in the sixth round of the American National Chessmasters' Tournament, but also gained half a point on his nearest competitor, Jaffe, who, playing against Marshall, had to be content with a draw.

Having the black pieces, Capablanca met the queen's pawn opening of his opponent with his pet triangular defence, against which no one has so far been able to make any headway whatever.

Janowski, Morrison and Chajes won over Liebenstein, Zapoleon and Kline. The game between Tenewurzel and Kupchik was not concluded at a late hour.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—President T. A. Chivington, of the American Association recently said the report that minor league teams would be permitted to invade Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis or Columbus during the coming season.

At the annual meeting a committee was appointed to investigate the feasibility of such action and the conditions under which the teams would be allowed to enter. That committee has not had a meeting nor has it made any report. The conditions might not suit the smaller leagues, so it would be best for the organizations not take any immediate action.

New York, Jan. 27.—In spite of the denial of Walter Clancy, who made the original charges that Jim Thorpe, the great Indian athlete, had played professional ball, the matter was the sole topic of conversation among followers of athletics yesterday. Strange to say, the statement of the Carlisle coach, Glen Warner, did not carry much weight, and even in official circles it was admitted that the charges, once brought to light, would have to be probed until the last doubt had been cleared up.

B. C. Stewart, a former ball player in the Eastern North Carolina League, declared today that he knew James Thorpe, the Carlisle Indian Athlete, when, he says, Thorpe played in the same league. He says he is certain the pictures of the Olympic hero show the same man that he was acquainted with.

Peter Boyle, a baseball player, who is at present residing at Riverpoint R.I., said to-night that he once was traded for Jim Thorpe, the Indian hero of the Olympic games, when both were in the Eastern North Carolina League.

North Carolina papers, however, had called attention to the fact that Thorpe played there, not thinking this would injure his title. These seem to have been overlooked until now.

The North Carolina Thorpe stirred Raleigh about the close of the first season when five policemen attempted to arrest him for disorderliness. He whipped them all, threw them into the street, and refused to be arrested until advised by an umpire. He later took his fine and paid it.

GENERAL SPORTS

New York, Jan. 27.—A London cable to The Herald says the Prince of Wales kicked the winning goal in the association football match for the Magdalen College eleven against Keble College Second, at Oxford recently. The Prince's shot was the only score of the game.

Philadelphia, Jan. 27—McGill University defeated the University of Pennsylvania, in a dual swimming meet here Saturday night by 28 points to 25. Hodgson, the Olympic champion, was the star of the Canadian team, winning the fifty, one hundred and two hundred yards races. He was anchor man for the Canadians in the 800 yard relay event, which was also captured by McGill.

DRIVING HIM TO THE GRAVE

"Fruit-a-tives Saved my Life"

NIAGARA FALLS, ONT., JULY 26th, 1911.

"For thirteen years, I was a terrible sufferer from the tortures of Sick Headache, Indigestion, Constipation and Vomiting. I could not retain much food, and this, together with the pain, and headaches, was driving me to the grave.

Then I used "Fruit-a-tives" and almost at once I got relief.

"Fruit-a-tives" stopped the vomiting, relieved the Constipation, toned up the stomach, and gave me the first relief in years. I feel that I owe my life to "Fruit-a-tives" and for the sake of other victims of Indigestion and Headaches, I will allow this statement to be published."

HARRY DICKINSON.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c, or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

SCOTTISH SETTLERS

Priest Plans to Bring Out Orphans Millhands and Fishermen

A new project for bringing settlers from the north of Scotland to Vancouver Island, British Columbia, is that of Rev. Father Macdonell, of Fort Augustus Abbey, of the Benedictine Order of Scotland.

One of Father Macdonell's activities in the north of Scotland was the establishment of a home for orphan girls. Only such girls are taken in as are physically sound and, therefore capable of growing up into healthy useful women. Two housekeepers are provided and also two certified trained nurses. This home, housekeepers teachers and children, he proposes to transfer to the neighborhood of Alberni, British Columbia, to a farm of about 80 acres where the girls will be taught housekeeping and poultry raising, dairying, fruit culture and generally speakng, whatever pertains to woman's work on the farm or in the house. They will thus be enabled to grow up capable and self-reliant.

Somewhat in the same connection but not in practical form, is Father Macdonell's plan for bringing out adults from the Highlands of Scotland.

There are also many fishermen in the north of Scotland, says Father Macdonell, who would be glad of a chance to follow their occupation in this new country.

BARBERS PRAISE NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

AS THE BEST REMEDY FOR THE HAIR AND SCALP.

"I have been using Newbro's Herpicide for the last four years and find it the best thing made."

Joseph Pizezrto.
1675 Richmond Terrace,
West Brighton, L.I., N.Y.

"I can truthfully say that Herpicide is the best remedy for the hair I have ever used."

O. A. Rathenbuecher,
Virden, Ill.

"I have used many preparations in my shop, and find Herpicide best of all for falling hair and all scalp or skin diseases."

J. A. Oliver,
Leslie, Ark.

"Newbro's Herpicide has always given the best of satisfaction."

S. M. Chambers,
Teekwila, Wash.

While the barber necessarily carries other hair remedies, Newbro's Herpicide is one he swears by because he knows it merits. He can conscientiously recommend it to kill the dandruff germ and stop falling hair. In making an application of Herpicide he feels and knows that the customer is receiving full value for his money and will be benefitted far in excess of his expectations.

Send ten cents in postage for sample and book on the hair to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c. and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do al lthat is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded. Doyle's Drug Store Special Agency.

MILITANTS ENRAGED

Suffragettes Bitterly Resent the Dropping of Franchise Bill.

Prime Minister Asquith Announces That In View of the Speaker's Ruling It Is Useless to Proceed With Measure — Two Thousand Police Guard Commons and Several Women Are Arrested.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—England is on the brink of another campaign by the suffragettes, in comparison with which former outbreaks of the militant women will appear insignificant. Last night 2,000 policemen were engaged in dispersing the huge crowds around the Parliament buildings, shopkeepers were boarding up their windows and excited women were making incendiary speeches in several halls. The women hold that the politicians have played a carefully studied trick upon them, and the decision of the Government to drop the franchise bill is likely to lead to serious consequences.

In the House of Commons yesterday the Speaker, the Rt. Hon. James W. Lowther, in response to an enquiry by the Prime Minister, announced that if any amendments to the franchise bill, giving women the vote, should be adopted, he would be obliged to rule that they make it substantially a new bill, which would compel its withdrawal.

Mr. Asquith thereupon announced that the Cabinet decided, under such circumstances, that it would be useless to proceed. This decision was taken in a crowded House which displayed more interest in the subject than had been shown in the last stages of the home rule bill.

In the meantime police in great numbers, mounted and afoot, were having difficulties outside the buildings to keep the vast crowds in check, while reserve forces stationed in courtyards in the vicinity of Parliament were held in readiness to check disorders of a more serious nature.

The suffragettes held heated meetings last night. Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and other leaders, denounced both the enemies and the supporters of the suffragettes in the Cabinet for their treachery. They declared an end of the truce, which the women had observed while awaiting Parliament's action on the bill.

"Deeds not words," was the motto displayed above the platform where Mrs. Pankhurst spoke. She asserted that the women would consider human life sacred, but would do as much damage to property as possible.

Some of her lieutenants failed to agree with her policy. Miss Annie Kenny, one of the most prominent of the militants, advocated the smashing of both property and heads. The executive committee of the National Union of Women's Suffrage Societies adopted a resolution rejecting Mr. Asquith's offer of facilities for a private member's bill next session.

Several speakers said that the women had prepared a plan of action which for the present was secret, but which would surprise the world.

Several women were arrested last night, some of whom declined to give their names. One, believed to be Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, was captured in St. Stephen's Hall, leading to the House of Commons, where she was making a determined attack on a large painting.

Mrs. Pankhurst's denunciation of the Government was fiery and bitter. "The farce of the reform bill is played out," she said. "Either those who framed the bill were ignorant of Pariamentary procedure, and they were unfit to occupy positions of responsibility, or they were scoundrels of the worst sort. It has been a mock battle, arranged. Mr. Harcourt and Mr. Lloyd-George were seen going arm in arm into a music hall Saturday. Can you imagine them saying: 'Well, now that we have dished the women, let us forget about it and go and see the cinematograph'."

PROBING PORCUPINE TROUBLES.

Minister of Labor Looks Into Sentences Imposed.

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—The case of the labor leaders at Porcupine who recently came under the displeasure of the law for enfringement of the Industrial Disputes Act, and who were sentenced to a fine of $300 or three months' imprisonment, is occupying the attention of the Minister of Labor, Hon. T. W. Crothers. An appeal has been taken by counsel for the three men convicted against the judge's ruling. The Minister is consulting with the Attorney-General's Department.

The charge against the men was one of inciting laborers to strike, and the conviction is the first of its kind under the act. There is some conjecture as to how far the precedent established by the court's ruling will affect the labor world in general.

Death of Civil Servant.

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—Alexander MacKie, a prominent civil servant, died suddenly yesterday of acute bronchial pneumonia. His wife lies critically ill of the same trouble. He left four children, only two of whom, George of Hamilton, and Mrs. Henry of Oshawa, Ont., were able to reach his bedside in time. He was a member of many fraternal bodies and an enthusiastic bowler and curler. Interment will take place at Oshawa.

To Double Track Line.

TORONTO, Jan. 28.—It was learned yesterday that the C.P.R. are to doubletrack their line from Toronto to Guelph Junction. A start on the work is to be made early this spring, and it is to be rushed right through to completion. After the Toronto-Guelph and Woodstock-Chatham sections of the line are double-tracked the remaining connecting links between here and Windsor will be done.

MARKET REPORTS

CHICAGO, Jan. 27—Local grain markets began the week "sick," as brokers term it, when there is but little trade, and net price changes were of the slightest. Provisions were firm, closing at the best prices of the day.

The Liverpool market closed unchanged to ¼d higher on wheat, and ¼d to ¾d lower on corn. Paris wheat closed 1¼c to 2c lower. Berlin, unchanged, and Buda Pest, ⅞c lower.

CATTLE MARKETS

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

MONTREAL, Jan. 27.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending Jan. 25 were 1400 cattle, 625 sheep and lambs, 1800 hogs and 400 calves, while the offerings this morning were 500 cattle, 400 sheep and lambs, 800 hogs and 250 calves.

Owing to the large supplies of cattle lately, shipments this week were reduced and a firmer feeling prevailed. Demand was somewhat limited, owing to the fact that butchers and packers were well stocked, but on the whole a fair trade was done. A few small lots of picked choice steers sold at $7 to $7.10, but the bulk of the trading in this class of stock was done at $6.50 to $6.75 per cwt. There was no demand from packers for full car loads, consequently the trade was principally of a jobbing character.

An easier feeling developed in the market for sheep and lambs and prices declined 25c per cwt. The offerings were small, but as the demand was limited they were ample to fill all requirements, as butchers and packers generally have good stocks of frozen mutton and lamb on hand, which they are anxious to dispose of on account of the continued mild weather. Lambs sold at $7 to $7.25, and ewe sheep at $5 to $5.25 per cwt.

The demand for calves was fair and prices ruled steady. A weak feeling prevails in the market for hogs, prices declining 50c per cwt., owing to heavy supplies. Offerings were small, but ample to fill the demand. Selected lots brought $8.75 to $9 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

Butchers' cattle, choice, $6.50 to $7; medium, $4.50 to $5.50; common, $3.50 to $4.25; canners, $2.75 to $3; choice cows, $5 to $5.25; bulls, $3.50 to $5; milkers, choice, each, $70 to $75; medium, each, $60 to $65; springers, $50 to $55.

Sheep—Ewes, $5 to $5.25; bucks and culls, $4.50 to $4.75; lambs, $7 to $7.25.

Hogs—F.o.b., $8.75 to $9.

Calves—$3 to $12.

EAST BUFFALO LIVE STOCK.

EAST BUFFALO, Jan. 27.—Cattle—Receipts, 3800; heavy; slow and steady; light, firm and active, 10c to 15c higher; prime steers, $8.50 to $8.75; butchers, $6 to $8; bulls, $4 to $6.75; stock heifers, $4 to $4.50; shipping, $7.25 to $8.25; heifers, $4.75 to $7.50; cows, $3.25 to $6.75; stockers and feeders, $4.50 to $6.75; fresh cows and springers, steady at $35 to $80.

Veals—Receipts, 1000; active, 50c lower at $4 to $11.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 17,000; active, 5c to 10c higher; heavy, $7.70 to $7.75; mixed, $7.70 to $7.80; yorkers, $7.75 to $7.85; pigs, $7.80 to $7.85; roughs, $6.75 to $6.90; stags, $5.50 to $6.25; dairies, $7.60 to $7.80.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 16,400; slow; ewes and mixed sheep, 15c lower; lambs, 15c higher; lambs, $6 to $9.25; yearlings, $5 to $8; wethers, $6.25 to $6.35; ewes, $3.50 to $5.50; sheep, mixed, $4.50 to $5.85.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Cattle—Receipts, 18,000; market steady; beeves, $6 to $9; Texas steers, $4.70 to $5.60; stockers and feeders, $4.75 to $7.50; cows and heifers, $2.70 to $7.20; calves, $7 to $10.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 52,000; market closed strong, 5c lower; light, $7.30 to $7.65; mixed, $7.30 to $7.62½; heavy, $7.15 to $7.60; rough, $7.15 to $7.30; pigs, $5.75 to $7.30; bulk of sales, $7.45 to $7.57½.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 24,000; market slow, 20c to 40c lower; native, $4.60 to $6; yearlings, $6.30 to $7.75; Lambs, native, $6.50 to $8.65.

LIVERPOOL LIVE STOCK.

LIVERPOOL, Jan 27.—John Rogers & Co. reported that, altho trade for cattle was slower in Birkenhead today, on account of the enhanced prices, yet the market was firm. Saturday's quotations were maintained, viz., 13½c to 15c for

SPORTING NEWS

HOCKEY.

24 TO 6—"THAT'S ALL"

In a real spectacular game at the Arena last night the local youngsters gave Trenton a taste of high-class trimming. Never, from the drop of the puck in the opening play, did Trenton have a chance of anything that looked like winning the match. Trained right down to the minute, the Belleville aggregation came onto the ice with the firm determination of demonstrating the exact meaning of a "walk-over" as applied to a game of hockey, and about 600 enthusiastic individuals saw the local boys deliver the goods to the "refrain" of 24 to 6. The score at half time was 11 to 3. It was evident at all stages of the game that it was to be nothing short of a landslide for the Belleville team.

The line up:—

Belleville—		—Trenton
	Goal.
Brotherhood		Pringle
	Point
Whittie		Keeler
	Cover Point
Finkle		Hoag
	Rover
Hodgins		Tripp
	Centre
Hidgens		LaMore
	Left Wing
Goyer		McGorman
	Right Wing
Wallace		Orser

SIDE NOTES.

Referee Ilsey was on the job all the time.

• • •

Tripp and Hoag were the "stars" for Trenton.

• • •

Now for the K. C. I. scalps Friday night.

• • •

Who said the Trenton team could trim the "Printers"? Now, don't you believe it, especially after last night.

• • •

Hodgins played the game of his life, but it was easy picking for our boys in any instance last night.

• • •

Were you at the game last night? It seemed to be all Belleville. It was a very good game at that.

• • •

Hidgins, Goyer and Wallace were in evidence all the time, each playing a good, fast and clean game of hockey.

• • •

Brotherhood in goal is surely the right man in the right place. Last night's game was only a little practice for him.

• • •

While conditions may be a trifle different Friday night, the local boys will make the K. C. I. travel some—and no mistake.

• • •

Whittie at point played an excellent game, deserving credit for his fine work.

Say—did you see Finkle?—he was a star on the ice.

Quebec, Jan. 27.—Wanderers did the unexpected here on Saturday night when they trimmed the Quebec champions in an N. H. A. fixture 10 to 6. The champions had a shade the best of the play in the first period, but in the second and third periods Sammy Lichtenhein's team had most of the play. Moran in goal did good work, but his defence gave him little assistance, being inclined to roam away from their positions. Tommy Smith did good work, as did Joe Hall. For Wanderers Art. Ross was the star. His rushing work was excellent. Time and again he worked his way through the champions' defence, only to have his shot blocked by Moran. His work on the offensive was also good. Harry Hyland played a very useful game on the forward line and scored six of his team's ten tallies. Boyes, in goal, saved his team in many hard situations, and played a steady game all through. The teams:—

Officials—Reg. Percival, referee; C. C. Powers, judge of play.

DRIVING HIM TO THE GRAVE

"Fruit-a-tives Saved my Life"

NIAGARA FALLS, ONT., JULY 26th, 1911.

"For thirteen years, I was a terrible sufferer from the tortures of Sick Headache, Indigestion, Constipation and Vomiting. I could not retain much food, and this, together with the pain, and headaches, was driving me to the grave.

Then I used "Fruit-a-tives" and almost at once I got relief.

"Fruit-a-tives" stopped the vomiting, relieved the Constipation, toned up the stomach, and gave me the first relief in years. I feel that I owe my life to "Fruit-a-tives" and for the sake of other victims of Indigestion and Headaches, I will allow this statement to be published."

HARRY DICKINSON.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c, or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Montreal, Jan. 26.—In a game replete with thrills and dazzling rushes, in which seventeen minutes' overtime was necessary to determine the winner, the Canadiens defeated Tecumsehs 4 to 5 at the Arena on Saturday. It was the Tecumsehs' initial appearance in Montreal, and the so called members of the Old Man's Home created a favorable impression with the majority of the 5,000 who turned out to witness the match.

Ice conditions were nearly perfect, which added considerably to the quality of the hockey served up. It was generally conceded that it was the best game seen here this season. The result was always in doubt until "Newsy" Lalonde scored the odd goal for the French club from a lucky pass of Pitre's.

There was little advantage to be claimed by either team at any time, while both defences worked in machine like style. The forwards of the winners seemed to have the edge so far as speed went, but were so closely checked by their opponents that this was offset.

Toronto, Jan. 27.—The champion McGill team of the Intercollegiate League defeated University of Toronto at the Arena Saturday afternoon by 5 to 3 after two periods of overtime. The popularity of Saturday afternoon hockey was again attested by a very large crowd.

The showing of the Blue and White was a disappointment. It was expected that the Intercollegiate team would be stronger than that representing University of Toronto in the O. H. A. Such is not true. The team which was beaten by McGill lacked speed, particularly in the forward line, and the defeat can be charged to the failure or inability of the Varsity men to check back effectively. McGill had almost a monopoly of the speed. The half-time score was 2 to 2 and the count at the expiration of an hour of play was 3 to 3.

BASEBALL.

BARROW HAS UMPIRES.

New York, Jan. 27.—President Barrow of the International League on Saturday announced that he had completed his staff of umpires for 1913 by signing Wm. Finneran of Erie, Pa. Only three members of last year's staff will return to the league this season. They are Mullen, Carpenter and Nallin.

The new members are O'Toole of the Western League, Quigley of the New York States, Hayes and Bierhalter of the American Association, and Finneran of the National League.

President Barrow has issued a call for the International League schedule meeting, Monday, Feb. 10, at the Victoria Hotel, New York.

MORRISON BEAT ZAPOLEON.

New York, Jan. 26.—Defeating S. Rubinstein in 31 moves tonight, Jose R. Capablanca, the Cuban chess player not only scored his sixth consecutive victory in the sixth round of the American National Chessmasters' Tournament, but also gained half a point on his nearest competitor, Jaffe, who, playing against Marshall, had to be content with a draw.

Having the black pieces, Capablanca met the queen's pawn opening of his opponent with his pet triangular defence, against which no one has so far been able to make any headway whatever.

Janowski, Morrison and Chajes won over Liebenstein, Zapoleon and Kline. The game between Tenewurzel and Kupchik was not concluded at a late hour.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—President T. A. Chivington, of the American Association recently said the report that minor league teams would be permitted to invade Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis or Columbus during the coming season.

At the annual meeting a committee was appointed to investigate the feasibility of such action and the conditions under which the teams would be allowed to enter. That committee has not had a meeting nor has it made any report. The conditions might not suit the smaller leagues, so it would be best for the organizations not take any immediate action.

New York, Jan. 27.—In spite of the denial of Walter Clancy, who made the original charges that Jim Thorpe, the great Indian athlete, had played professional ball, the matter was the sole topic of conversation among followers of athletics yesterday. Strange to say, the statement of the Carlisle coach, Glen Warner, did not carry much weight, and even in official circles it was admitted that the charges, once brought to light, would have to be probed until the last doubt had been cleared up.

B. C. Stewart, a former ball player in the Eastern North Carolina League, declared today that he knew James Thorpe, the Carlisle Indian Athlete, when, he says, Thorpe played in the same league. He says he is certain the pictures of the Olympic hero show the same man that he was acquainted with.

Peter Boyle, a baseball player, who is at present residing at Riverpoint, R.I., said to-night that he once was traded for Jim Thorpe, the Indian hero of the Olympic games, when both were in the Eastern North Carolina League.

North Carolina papers, however, had called attention to the fact that Thorpe played there, not thinking this would injure his title. These seem to have been overlooked until now.

The North Carolina Thorpe stirred Raleigh about the close of the first season when five policemen attempted to arrest him for disorderliness. He whipped them all, threw them into the street, and refused to be arrested until advised by an umpire. He later took his fine and paid it.

GENERAL SPORTS

New York, Jan. 27.—A London cable to The Herald says the Prince of Wales kicked the winning goal in the association football match for the Magdalen College eleven against Keble College Second, at Oxford recently. The Prince's shot was the only score of the game.

Philadelphia, Jan. 27—McGill University defeated the University of Pennsylvania, in a dual swimming meet here Saturday night by 28 points to 25. Hodgson, the Olympic champion, was the star of the Canadian team, winning the fifty, one hundred, and two hundred yards races. He was anchor man for the Canadians in the 800 yard relay event, which was also captured by McGill.

SCOTTISH SETTLERS

Priest Plans to Bring Out Orphans Millhands and Fishermen

A new project for bringing settlers from the north of Scotland to Vancouver Island, British Columbia, is that of Rev. Father Macdonell, of Fort Augustus Abbey, of the Benedictine Order of Scotland.

One of Father Macdonell's activities in the north of Scotland was the establishment of a home for orphan girls. Only such girls are taken in as are physically sound and, therefore capable of growing up into healthy useful women. Two housekeepers are provided and also two certified trained nurses. This home, housekeepers teachers and children, he proposes to transfer to the neighborhood of Alberni, British Columbia, to a farm of about 80 acres where the girls will be taught housekeeping and poultry raising, dairying, fruit culture and generally speakng, whatever pertains to woman's work on the farm or in the house. They will thus be enabled to grow up capable and self-reliant.

Somewhat in the same connection but not in practical form, is Father Macdonell's plan for bringing out adults from the Highlands of Scotland.

There are also many fishermen in the north of Scotland, says Father Macdonell, who would be glad of a chance to follow their occupation in this new country.

BARBERS PRAISE NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

AS THE BEST REMEDY FOR THE HAIR AND SCALP.

"I have been using Newbro's Herpicide for the last four years and find it the best thing made."

Joseph Pizezrto,
1675 Richmond Terrace,
West Brighton, L.I., N.Y.

"I can truthfully say that Herpicide is the best remedy for the hair I have ever used."

O. A. Rathenbuecher,
Virden, Ill.

"I have used many preparations in my shop, and find Herpicide best of all for falling hair and all scalp or skin diseases."

J. A. Oliver,
Leslie, Ark.

"Newbro's Herpicide has always given the best of satisfaction."

S. M. Chambers,
Teekwila, Wash.

While the barber necessarily carries other hair remedies, Newbro's Herpicide is one he swears by because he knows it merits. He can conscientiously recommend it to kill the dandruff germ and stop falling hair. In making an application of Herpicide he feels and knows that the customer is receiving full value for his money and will be benefitted far in excess of his expectations.

Send ten cents in postage for sample and book on the hair to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

Newbro's Herpicide in 50c. and $1.00 sizes is sold by all dealers who guarantee it to do all that is claimed. If you are not satisfied your money will be refunded. Doyle's Drug Store Special Agency.

MILITANTS ENRAGED

Suffragettes Bitterly Resent the Dropping of Franchise Bill.

Prime Minister Asquith Announces That In View of the Speaker's Ruling It Is Useless to Proceed With Measure — Two Thousand Police Guard Commons and Several Women Are Arrested.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—England is on the brink of another campaign by the suffragettes, in comparison with which former outbreaks of the militant women will appear insignificant. Last night 2,000 policemen were engaged in dispersing the huge crowds around the Parliament buildings, shopkeepers were boarding up their windows and excited women were making incendiary speeches in several halls. The women hold that the politicians have played a carefully studied trick upon them, and the decision of the Government to drop the franchise bill is likely to lead to serious consequences.

In the House of Commons yesterday the Speaker, the Rt. Hon. James W. Lowther, in response to an enquiry by the Prime Minister, announced that if any amendments to the franchise bill, giving women the vote, should be adopted, he would be obliged to rule that they make it substantially a new bill, which would compel its withdrawal.

Mr. Asquith thereupon announced that the Cabinet decided, under such circumstances, that it would be useless to proceed. This decision was taken in a crowded House which displayed more interest in the subject than had been shown in the last stages of the home rule bill.

In the meantime police in great numbers, mounted and afoot, were having difficulties outside the buildings to keep the vast crowds in check, while reserve forces stationed in courtyards in the vicinity of Parliament were held in readiness to check disorders of a more serious nature.

The suffragettes held heated meetings last night. Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and other leaders, denounced both the enemies and the supporters of the suffragettes in the Cabinet for their treachery. They declared an end of the truce, which the women had observed while awaiting Parliament's action on the bill.

"Deeds not words," was the motto displayed above the platform where Mrs. Pankhurst spoke. She asserted that the women would consider human life sacred, but would do as much damage to property as possible.

Some of her lieutenants failed to agree with her policy. Miss Annie Kenny, one of the most prominent of the militants, advocated the smashing of both property and heads. The executive committee of the National Union of Women's Suffrage Societies adopted a resolution rejecting Mr. Asquith's offer of facilities for a private member's bill next session.

Several speakers said that the women had prepared a plan of action which for the present was secret, but which would surprise the world.

Several women were arrested last night, some of whom declined to give their names. One, believed to be Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, was captured in St. Stephen's Hall, leading to the House of Commons, where she was making a determined attack on a large painting.

Mrs. Pankhurst's denunciation of the Government was fiery and bitter. "The farce of the reform bill is played out," she said. "Either those who framed the bill were ignorant of Pariamentary procedure, and they were unfit to occupy positions of responsibility, or they were scoundrels of the worst sort. It has been a mock battle, arranged. Mr. Harcourt and Mr. Lloyd-George were seen going arm in arm into a music hall Saturday. Can you imagine them saying: 'Well, now that we have dished the women, let us forget about it and go and see the cinematograph'."

PROBING PORCUPINE TROUBLES.

Minister of Labor Looks Into Sentences Imposed.

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—The case of the labor leaders at Porcupine who recently came under the displeasure of the law for enfringement of the Industrial Disputes Act, and who were sentenced to a fine of $300 or three months' imprisonment, is occupying the attention of the Minister of Labor, Hon. T. W. Crothers. An appeal has been taken by counsel for the three men convicted against the judge's ruling. The Minister is consulting with the Attorney-General's Department.

The charge against the men was one of inciting laborers to strike, and the conviction is the first of its kind under the act. There is some conjecture as to how far the precedent established by the court's ruling will affect the labor world in general.

Death of Civil Servant.

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—Alexander MacKie, a prominent civil servant, died suddenly yesterday of acute bronchial pneumonia. His wife lies critically ill of the same trouble. He left four children, only two of whom, George of Hamilton, and Mrs. Henry of Oshawa, Ont., were able to reach his bedside in time. He was a member of many fraternal bodies and an enthusiastic bowler and curler. Interment will take place at Oshawa.

To Double Track Line.

TORONTO, Jan. 28.—It was learned yesterday that the C.P.R. are to doubletrack their line from Toronto to Guelph Junction. A start on the work is to be made early this spring, and it is to be rushed right through to completion. After the Toronto-Guelph and Woodstock-Chatham sections of the line are double-tracked the remaining connecting links between here and Windsor will be done.

It takes a born diplomat to appear interested in other people's troubles.

MARKET REPORTS

CHICAGO, Jan. 27—Local grain markets began the week "sick," as brokers term it, when there is but little trade, and net price changes were of the slightest. Provisions were firm, closing at the best prices of the day.

The Liverpool market closed unchanged to ¼d higher on wheat, and ¼d to ⅜d lower on corn. Paris wheat closed 1¼c to 2c lower. Berlin, unchanged, and Buda Pest, ¾c lower.

CATTLE MARKETS

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

MONTREAL, Jan. 27.—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts of live stock for the week ending Jan. 25 were 1400 cattle, 625 sheep and lambs, 1800 hogs and 400 calves, while the offerings this morning were 900 cattle, 400 sheep and lambs, 800 hogs and 250 calves.

Owing to the large supplies of cattle lately, shipments this week were reduced and a firmer feeling prevailed. Demand was somewhat limited, owing to the fact that butchers and packers were well stocked, but on the whole a fair trade was done. A few small lots of picked choice steers sold at $7 to $7.10, but the bulk of the trading in this class of stock was done at $6.50 to $6.75 per cwt. There was no demand from packers for full car loads, consequently the trade was principally of a jobbing character.

An easier feeling developed in the market for sheep and lambs and prices declined 25c per cwt. The offerings were small, but as the demand was limited they were ample to fill all requirements, as butchers and packers generally have good stocks of frozen mutton and lamb on hand, which they are anxious to dispose of on account of the continued mild weather. Lambs sold at $7 to $7.25, and ewe sheep at $5 to $5.25 per cwt.

The demand for calves was fair and prices ruled steady. A weak feeling prevails in the market for hogs, prices declining 50c per cwt., owing to heavy supplies. Offerings were small, but ample to fill the demand. Selected lots brought $8.75 to $9 per cwt., weighed off the cars.

Butchers' cattle, choice, $6.50 to $7; medium, $4.50 to $5.50; common, $3.50 to $4.25; canners, $2.75 to $3; choice cows, $5 to $5.25; bulls, $3.50 to $5; milkers, choice, each, $70 to $75; medium, each, $60 to $65; springers, $50 to $55.

Sheep—Ewes, $5 to $5.25; bucks and culls, $4.50 to $4.75; lambs, $7 to $7.25.

Hogs—F.o.b., $8.75 to $9.

Calves—$3 to $12.

DEMANDS AN ENQUIRY

Lemieux Would Probe Affairs of Banque Internationale.

Former Postmaster-General Declares That Good Name of Canada Was Smirched by Vicissitudes of Banking Concern, But Premier Reminds Him That the Bank Is Not Insolvent—Political Spite, Says Pelletier

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—It was private members' day in the House yesterday and Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux arrogated the central position in the proceedings with a demand for an inquiry into the affairs of the Banque Internationale. He also assailed the "Quebec Merger" on the ground that it and the Banque Internationale had proven disastrous to French investors, and would give Canada a financial "black eye" in France.

The Premier reminded Mr. Lemieux that the Banque Internationale was a going concern and could not be made the subject of a royal commission enquiry as in the case of the defunct Farmers' Bank.

Postmaster-General Pelletier took the ground that there was nothing to investigate so far as the bank was concerned, and attributed Mr. Lemieux's attack upon the Forget properties to political malice and spite.

Mr. Lemieux, in speaking to his motion respecting the "Quebec merger," explained that the original merger was a holding company which acquired control of a number of public utility corporations in and around Quebec city. The merger, or the financiers controlling it, floated other enterprises, including the Quebec and Saguenay Railway, the Quebec and Eastern Railway, and some developments in the Lake of St. John district. They sold securities in France to the extent of 17,860,000 francs. There were some dividends paid which were not earned, and the unfortunate French investors now found the issue they had purchased to be entirely worthless. The result of this high finance was to besmirch the name of Canada in France to such an extent that no French capital could be hoped for in this country for many years to come. Mr. Lemieux urged that a committee of the House be appointed to thoroughly investigate the matter.

The Prime Minister said that no representations had been received by the Government of Canada. If any were made they would be courteously received and dealt with. At the same time, the Dominion Government could not guarantee to protect investors who lost money in unfortunate investments, whether they lived in Canada or in some other country.

Mr. Lemieux then turned his attention to La Banque Internationale du Canada. The Laurier Government, he said, had refused to issue a certificate to this bank to do business because of suspicious circumstances surrounding the application. They had observed that one J. B. A. Daoust had subscribed for $2,000,000 of stock. This seemed extraordinary, because this same gentleman had been denied the use of the mails by the Canadian Government for an enterprise which the Postoffice Department regarded as a lottery. When, however, the present Government came into power a certificate was issued at once.

Continuing Mr. Lemieux went on to say that the shareholders in La Banque Internationale were divided into two groups, the French group and the Canadian group. The French subscribed for $8,000,000 and the Canadians for $2,000,000. The Canadian subscriptions, however, were all pooled under a guarantee that the stock would be disposed of in such a way as to net them 100 per cent. profit.

Not long since, the note of J. B. A. Daoust for $200,000, had been discounted by the bank, and this fact, in connection with certain ugly rumors, caused the French stockholdes to become uneasy. At the last annual meeting in September they were represented by proxies, but the gentlemen holding these proxies were physically ejected from the meeting place, and the Canadian stockholders, holding only 20 per cent. of the stock, elected a board of directors and retained control of the bank. The Daoust note was returned as an asset by the bank. This led to a criminal prosecution of the manager of the bank, who stated that he had acted contrary to his judgment upon the order of the president. The criminal prosecution had been held behind closed doors and had finally resulted in no warrant being issued. This was in part due to the fact that a merger had been arranged between the Home Bank and La Banque Internationale.

Mr. Lemieux, in conclusion, demanded that a royal commission be appointed, as in the case of the Farmers' Bank, to investigate the whole affair.

Finance Minister White characterized many of Mr. Lemieux's statements as "a tissue of reckless falsehoods." He maintained that the Laurier Government had never refused a certificate to the Banque Internationale, but had referred the whole matter, without expressing any opinion on its merits, to the incoming Government. The accusations against the present management had been dealt with by the courts and that he, as Finance Minister, had no right or power to interfere.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier read from the minutes of the Treasury Board to show that the late Government had pointed out several objections to the granting of a certificate to La Banque Internationale.

Mr. Borden said there was a great deal of nonsense being talked by members of the House who failed to realize that the bank was a going concern. If the bank had improperly paid $200,000 to Mr. Daoust or anybody else, the bank itself was able to recover the money by suit. A royal commission had been appointed to investigate the Farmers' Bank, but only after that bank had become defunct.

ALLIES GAIN A DAY.

They Are Sparring To Avoid Resumption of War.

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The special committee appointed by the Balkan plenipotentiaries drafted a note yesterday, notifying the Turkish plenipotentiaries that they propose to break off the peace negotiations. The note was not submitted to the Balkan delegates, which held no meeting yesterday. Instead the delegates gave a luncheon in celebration of Saint Day of Saba, the patron of the Orthodox Church. This was attended by several of the military members of the delegations, who are leaving London to rejoin the armies in expectation of the resumption of hostilities.

The note as drafted is very brief. It reminds the Turks that since Jan. 6 the sittings of the peace conference have been suspended, without Turkey making any move toward their resumpton, while the events which have occurred in Constantinople are the best proof of Turkey's answer to the demands of the allies concerning Adrianople and the Aegean Islands will be negative. On this account, unless the Turkish delegation has fresh proposals to make, the note points out, the allies see no alternative but definitely to break off the negotiations.

The Servian ex-Premier, M. Novakovitch, will give a luncheon on Tuesday in honor of the other delegations, after which a meeting will be held for the purpose of examining the note. Thus again another day will be gained before facing the question of reopening the war.

HONORS TO COLLEAGUE.

Late Col. Matheson's Associates Are Attending His Funeral.

TORONTO, Jan. 28.—Cabinet Ministers and members of Parliament from all parts of Ontario will attend the funeral this afternoon in Perth of the late Col. the Hon. A. J. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer. Although it is improbable that Sir James Whitney, for twenty years a comrade of the late treasurer, will go to Perth, the Government will be represented by the following Cabinet Ministers: Messrs. Hanna, Lucas, Duff, Hearst, Dr. Reaume, and the Speaker, Hon. W. H. Hoyle. The Lieutenant-Governor, Sir John Gibson, will be represented by his A.D.C., Major Caldwell.

Out of respect for the late colonel, Sir James Whitney has ordered the Parliament Buildings to be closed at one o'clock to-day. It is altogether likely that several Cabinet Ministers and members of the House of Commons will also attend the funeral.

Col. Matheson will be given a military funeral. Ever since the Northwest Rebellion in 1885 he was commander of the 42nd Regiment of Perth. He also served in the Fenian Raid.

AGED LAWYER DEAD.

F. R. Ball of Woodstock Was Sixty-Two Years a Barrister.

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 28.—One of Ontario's oldest barristers is dead at his home on Vansittart avenue in the person of Francois Ramsay Ball, K.C., who died early yesterday morning. Mr. Ball was born in Niagara County in 1827. He studied law in Niagara and Toronto, in the latter city being in the office of the late Judge Burns. When admitted to the Bar in 1850 he set up practice in Woodstock.

A keen critic of municipal affairs he did much to improve local condition, and took a prominent part in beautifying the city.

LIBERALS GET TOGETHER.

Federation of Political Clubs Will Be Formed In March.

TORONTO, Jan. 28.—A federation of Liberal clubs—province-wide in its scope—is about to be formed. The project, which has been under consideration for some time and which was suggested by the Woodstock Liberal Club, took definite shape at a meeting of representatives of the existing Liberal clubs of Ontario held yesterday afternoon at the offices of the General Reform Association. After a discussion which revealed a deep interest in the proposal the following resolution was passed with enthusiasm:

"That this meeting approves the project of a federation of Liberal clubs in the province of Ontario, and that a committee be appointed to take steps to hold a convention in the City of Toronto in March."

A committee, consisting of the presidents of the various Liberal clubs throughout the province, was appointed to make the arrangements necessary for the federation meeting, and of this committee, J. R. Marshall, president of the Hamilton Liberal Club, was elected chairman, and C. E. Moss of Toronto vice-chairman.

Among the Liberal clubs interested in the movement are those in the following places: Toronto, North Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Woodstock, London, St. Thomas, Cardinal, Belleville, Elmira, Brampton, Barrie, Lindsay.

At yesterday's meeting the general problem of Liberal clubs was thoroughly discussed. Plans for creating, sustaining and increasing interest were considered. It was unanimously agreed that the first aim of the clubs should be educational and that the clubs should be encouraged to take an interest in political affairs of the day, and to discuss them either by debates or by some other method of public speaking.

It is expected that a number of new clubs will be formed between now and the date of the federation meeting. These new clubs will be enrolled in the union.

In the evening the club visitors were entertained at dinner by N. W. Rowell, K.C.

Business-Like Session Of the City Council

(Concluded from page 1)

ments in Toronto and Hamilton. In some cities in the United States many asphalt and other pavements had been taken up and block pavements substituted.

Ald. Panter said the Council had been pleased with the remarks and would consider the proposition in due time.

Mr. Hardy said this was a purely Canadian Company and the blocks would be treated in Canada. In the United States last year one company cut up 30,000,000 feet. The company had a desire to locate a plant, and would be pleased to locate in this city or vicinity. All they would ask would be a fixed taxation for a number of years. It we can get a proper location at a proper place we may locate here.

SCHOOL BUILDING.

The requisition presented from the Board of Education asking for a grant of $50,000 for a new school was on motion of Mayor Wills referred to the Executive Committee.

A report from the Underwriters' Association in reference to a fire test was on motion referred to the Fire Committee.

FIRE REPORT.

Chief Campbell of the fire department presented a report which showed that during last year the brigade answered 42 calls. The total loss by fire for the year was $10,600. The year had been a most satisfactory one.

Mayor Wills said we should be proud of our brigade and Chief Campbell, and do all we can to encourage the members of the brigade.

Ald. Woodley endorsed the remarks of the Mayor.

A petition was read that the Council ask the Railway Board to have interswitching between all railways in the city.

Mayor Wills stated that he would attend to the matter.

A petition was presented asking that the Butchers' Bylaw be repealed, so that meat could be cut up and sold on the market.—Referred to the Market Committee to report upon.

The Committee arose and reported. The report was received and adopted.

ENQUIRIES.

Ald. Clarke asked if the Board of Health had taken any action as to inspection of ice being taken out of the bay.

Mayor Wills—I will bring the matter up before the Board of Health tomorrow.

Ald. White asked if the water main on Emily street was to be continued.

Ald. Clarke—Yes.

INTRODUCTION OF BYLAW.

Ald. Panter introduced a bylaw to provide for the numbering of houses and lots in the city.

The Council went into Committee o the Whole on Bylaws, Ald. St. Charles in the chair.

The bylaw regulated that within the fire limits the width of lots is to be 20 feet, and in the residential part of the city the width to be 33 feet.

The bylaw was passed through its various stages and numbered.

MOTIONS.

Ald. Woodley moved, seconded by Ald. White, that No. 1 hose cart be re-painted at a cost of $50 and $25 be expended on No. 2 hose cart and a like amount on the hook and ladder wagon.—Carried.

Ald. Panter moved, seconded by Ald. Wallbridge, that the request of the City Engineer for leave of absence of one month to visit London, Eng., on business, be granted.—Carried.

Ald. Panter moved, seconded by Ald. McFee, that the motion passed by last year's Council in reference to the Tivani Electric Steel Company be rescinded.—Carried.

NOTICE OF MOTION.

Ald. Panter gave notice that he would at the next meeting of the Council introduce a bylaw to construct an asphalt pavement on Front Street.—Council adjourned.

Causes Uneasiness

CAPETOWN, S. A., Jan. 27.—The withdrawal of the Imperial troops from Bloemfontein has occasioned some uneasiness amongst the European residents in the vicinity of the Basutoland border.

The presence of the Regulars in South Africa is believed to have a salutary effect on the large native population as an indication that the white man can always summon aid from Oversea, and for this reason and reduction of the Imperial garrison is regarded with disfavor.

Bishop Believes White Eskimo Story

CALGARY, Alb., Jan. 27.—Firmly believing in the reported discovery by the explorer, Steffansson, of a tribe of white Eskimo in the Far Northland, Bishop Stringer, the Anglican pioneer missionary, stated on a visit here last week, that the Rev. W. H. Fry, one of his associates, is now on his way to them, accompanied by a party of twelve Eskimos.

Bishop Stringer said he did not in the least doubt that the tribe described by Steffansson existed in Coronation Gulf, 1,000 miles east of Herschell Island, near the mouth of the Copper Mine River.

The Bishop added that Mr. Fry and his party ought to reach the gulf by October next, before the close of navigation, and the party will presumably devote the winter to spreading the gospel among the tribe.

Bishop Stringer said he had no doubt but that there were numerous other undiscovered tribes of natives existing in the frozen wilds.

WHY BRONCHIAL CATARRH IS SO DANGEROUS

WHEN UNCHECKED, BRONCHIAL CATARRH DEVELOPS RAPIDIDY—ATTACKS THE LUNGS—ENDS IN CONSUMPTION.

If you have fullness of the head, headache, difficulty in hearing, stuffed nostrils, droppings from the throat and hacking cough, you ought to know you have Catarrh. It begins as a cold; repeated colds inflame the air passages. By-and-bye it extends deeper, far down into the lungs, then you have bronchitis. These inflamed surfaces secrete germ-laden mucus. If swallowed it pollutes the whole system and destroys health. Stomach dosing always fails, so do washes, snuffs, ointments. The remedy that will cure quickest is Catarhozone. You do not take Catarhozone internally you simply breathe a fragant healing compound that destroys germs instantly. When you inhale Catarrhozone into the lungs, little drops of healing are carried to the remotest parts of the breathing apparatus. Wherever Catarrhozone goes it destroys the germs, allowing the healing to go right on until the tissues are made whole. Then congestion ceases, the formation of mucus ceases, hawking and spitting cease, and of course, dropping into the throat ceases also. You get well. You see, Catarrhoozne removes the cause of the disease. Don't you think this is the right way to cure Catarrh? Can you think of any way half so good? Complete outfit, hard rubber inhaller with sufficient liquid to last three months. Price $1.00. Smaller size 50c. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

Pastor Brooklyn Tabernacle.

WILL PUNISHMENT BE EVERLASTING?

What the Bible Teaches—All Wilful Sins Must Pay the Penalty.

Worcester, Mass., January 26.—Pastor Russell had crowds to hear him here to-day. He spoke twice. We report his discourse from the text: "These shall go away into everlasting punishment; but the righteous into life eternal."—Matthew 25:46.

The speaker approached his subject reverently, declaring that all mankind recognize two great facts: (1) that all are sinners, imperfect, willingly or unwillingly; and (2) that all realize the propriety of a just penalty for sins in proportion to their wilfulness, knowledge being a prime factor. All this can be admitted by even those who deny that we have in the Bible an inspired message telling us the origin of sin, its penalty and the conditions governing the Divine judgment of sinners.

He would not indulge in speculations, but he would stand by the Word of God. If we have a Message from the Creator on the subject of sin and its punishment, none should either take from or add to that testimony. He believed, however, that our forefathers had added to the Word of God without realizing it.

Many hold that in bygone days Christian people, in their anxiety to frighten their fellow-men into church membership, so exaggerated God's Word that they foiled their very purpose of helping the ungodly. Many upright people, nauseated at the distorted misrepresentations of Divine Justice, have thrown away the Bible as well as the creeds and are hearkening to Higher Criticism, Evolution, New Thought, Spiritism, etc. Hence the usual small congregations at the churches—and a minority of these thinking men and women. Many are church attendants, not because of belief in denominational creeds, but because they desire to exercise a moral influence upon the "lower classes." These they burden with horrible doctrines of Divine injustice which they themselves have long since discarded—inwardly, if not outwardly.

Our Baptist friends, in bringing forward a new translation of the Bible, have sought to reconcile matters by the use of the term "underworld" instead of hell, as the translation of the Hebrew word Sheol and of the corresponding Greek word Hades. This is a step in the right direction, but too conservative. All educated people know that Sheol and Hades signify the tomb, the death state. Sheol is translated grave and pit in our Common Version Bible more frequently than it is translated hell. Why should Christian ministers spend years in colleges and seminaries to learn these things, and then fear to tell the people the facts? Do they realize that the misunderstanding of this subject of hell is emptying their churches and stumbling thinking people into Higher-Criticism-Infidelity, etc., leading on to atheism and anarchy?

The Bible declares that all transgression of the Divine Law is sin, and that all sin is punishable with the same penalty—death. Thus Adam's disobedience in eating the forbidden fruit brought upon him the sentence of death, which by the laws of heredity he has transmitted to all mankind. All our sin and sickness, sorrow and death, therefore, come as the penalty of Adam's sin. St. Paul specifically says that by one man's disobedience sin entered into the world and death as the result of sin; thus death has passed upon all men, because all are sinners. (Romans 5:12, 19.) Although men may multiply the transgressions, they cannot increase the penalty, because the Divine Law has only one penalty for sin—the death penalty—extinction.

But Divine Mercy has arranged for man's redemption by providing that Jesus should pay the penalty for Adam's sin. This He did when He offered Himself and died, "the Just for the unjust." The life of Jesus, as a corresponding price for the forfeited life of Adam, guaranteed the cancellation of Adam's sin; and this means an opportunity for Adam to return to the Father's house as a son, in due time, under the assistance of Messiah's Kingdom. Or, neglecting these privileges when they shall come to Him, Adam would be counted as refusing the grace of God and would die the Second Death, from which there will be no redemption and no resurrection.

But before Adam can refuse God's grace, he must be made intelligently aware of it. He could not know of it during the nine hundred and thirty years of his dying under the curse, because it was not yet accomplished. Christ had not yet died. Adam could not be aware of God's grace in Christ since Jesus died, because Adam has been asleep in death, wholly unconscious waiting for the morning of the New Dispensation and the awakening and the knowledge which will reach him then.

What is thus true respecting Adam will be true also respecting every member of his posterity. They all lost God's favor and came under the curse of death, by heredity, through Adam; and the redemption of Adam will mean the redemption of all humanity, the payment of the penalty of original sin for every member of Adam's race. The setting up of Messiah's Kingdom will not be for the purpose of further punishing them, for under the reign of sin and death they were already under punishment.

Having purchased mankind with His own sacrifice, our Lord will inaugurate the Messianic Kingdom for the very purpose of helping mankind up out of sin and degradation, back to the perfect image and likeness to God originally bestowed upon Adam.

The Millennial Age is spoken of as a thousand-year Day of Judgment, but this does not signify a judgment for Adam's sin. That sentence was pronounced six thousand years ago.

During Christ's Millennial Kingdom, mankind will go on trial for judgment to ascertain whether or not, after attaining full knowledge of God, they will avail themselves of Messiah's assistance to come back into harmony with the Creator. The willing and obedient will be perfected again in the flesh, and the remainder will be destroyed in the Second Death as followers of Satan.

The Church will be associated with her Lord in that great work of dealing with the world. In order to prepare her for that great glory and honor, her calling and election must take place in advance of the coming of the King, her Bridegroom. It must take place therefore, before the end of the Gospel Age.

The Scriptures clearly teach that some will during the Messianic reign, receive stripes, or chastisements, for their development in righteousness and that the fullest penalty, Second Death, will come to only wiful evil-doers. And here we may note the Divine arrangement in respect to all wilful sins of the present life. Each wilful sin makes its mark—makes the conscience more calloused, and the heart the more stony. In this manner evil-doers treasure up for themselves wrath against the Day of Wrath—the Day of Judgment, the Day of just retribution.

As the doing of righteousness produces a good character, the doing of unrighteousness wilfully, produces an evil character, and will necessitate the more stripes, which, if unheeded, will bring upon the evil-doer the Second Death. In this connection we can remember St. Paul's words: "Some men's sins are open beforehand going before to judgment (the penalty), while others they follow after." (I Timothy 5:24.) Not merely the Church receives tribulation in the present time, but justice sometimes overtakes evil-doers and works a measure of reformation in the present life, leaving proportionately fewer steps to be retraced in the life to come.

God has made provision for the forgiveness and reconciliation of Adam and all of his children. Some during the Gospel Age are privileged to come to God through Jesus as their Advocate and by becoming his true disciples to have full forgiveness of sins and full reconciliation to the Father. For the remainder of mankind God's provision is different. Divine Justice will forgive the world en masse at the instance of the great Mediator, and will turn the world over to Him, that He may restore them to perfection and make it possible for them to be received back again into God's family.

Thus we see that God's forgiveness is directed by principles of justice. But He commands His people that, being imperfect themselves and recipients of His mercy, they shall not attempt to deal with their fellows wholly on the basis of justice but shall forgive one another, even as God for Christ's sake has forgiven them. Divine Mercy purposes to embrace every member of Adam's race in the glorious provision through Christ.

Our text is the summing up of the parable of the Sheep and the Goats. Only Bible students, apparently, have noticed that this parable does not belong to the present Age; but it is a description of conditions which will prevail during Messiah's Kingdom. This is indicated by the setting. We read: "When the Son of Man shall come in His glory, and all the holy angels with Him, then shall He sit upon the Throne of His glory; and before Him shall be gathered all peoples: and He shall separate them from one another, as a shepherd divideth the sheep from the goats." (Matthew 25:31, 32.) Another Scripture assures us that when the Redeemer shall appear in glory His Church shall appear with Him, for the accomplishment of the blessed things foretold respecting that glorious Kingdom and its work of blessing all the families of the earth.

The Lord's sheep of the Millennial Age will be the willing an obedient, who rejoice to be in harmony with God. These will be gathered to the right hand of the King—the place of favor. The goats, correspondingly, are placed on the left hand,—Messiah's disfavor, because of their persistence in waywardness so well illustrated by the goat's wayward disposition.

At the close of that thousand-year Day of blessed opportunities the whole world of mankind will be found in either one class or the other. Then will come the final settlement. The Day of Christ is Divinely appointed for the putting down of sin in its every form, and the death, destruction of all who love or sympathize with sin—Satan and all wayward ones.

Jesus said to some in His day: "Ye are of your father, the Devil, for his work ye do." The goats will be of Satan's company, because, like him, they choose the way of sin and opposition, to God, Truth and righteousness. Our text might be more literally rendered: These (Satan and his followers, including the "goats" of the parable) shall go away into everlasting cutting-off (from life), but the righteous (the "sheep" of the parable), shall be ushered into life everlasting.

The Lord does not say that either Satan or the goats shall be sent to everlasting torment, but into everlasting punishment—everlasting death—a death from which there will be no resurrection. They shall perish like natural brute beasts.—2 Peter 2:12.

The Greek word here rendered punishment is kolasin, which means pruning, as a husbadman prunes the dead wood from his orchard or vineyard. So Satan and all his hosts shall be cut off finally from God's blessing, and be destroyed in the Second Death. Another use of the word kolasin in classic Greek is to restrain; as, "The charioteers restrain (kolasin) their fiery steeds." So God, through Christ, declares that the Second Death shall everlastingly restrain Satan and all who have his goat-like, wayward disposition, after having had full knowledge and opportunity to develop opposite disposition.

In a previous verse the same parable puts the results of the trial of the nations for life or death, during the Messiah's Kingdom, in different language. It declares that the reward to the sheep will be, "Come ye blessed of My Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world." This is the kingdom which was originally given to Adam, but lost through disobedience.

This is the kingdom which Jesus by obedience to the Law had a right to claim for Himself, but which He sacrificed for the benefit of humanity. The Father gave to Him and to the Church, His Bride, a Heavenly Kingdom, not founded when the earth was founded, but "from before the foundation of the world." Messiah during the Millennial Age, will prove who of mankind are worthy of everlasting human life at the end of His thousand-year reign. The Lord will deliver to God the dominion, or the kingdom of earth. Mankind will thenceforth be responsible directly to the Heavenly Father, as we read in I Corinthians 15:24.

The fate of the goats is described in these words: "Then shall He say to them on His left hand (the goats), Depart from Me, ye cursed, (unfit), into everlasting fire, prepared for the Devil and his angels." The fact that this is a parable forces the conclusion that the fire is as symbolical as are the sheep and the goats. Fire here, as everywhere in the Bible, is used as a symbol of destruction. Everything evil and unfit, including Satan and all who follow his perverse ways, are to be destroyed "in the lake of fire, which is (symbolizes) the Second Death."—Revelation 20:14.

On another occasion Jesus, describing how much the future life should be appreciated, declared that a man had better cut off his right hand or his right foot or pluck out his right eye, rather than otherwise be cast into the fire that shall never be quenched and where the worm dieth not. (Mark 9:45, 47, 48.) The Master did not mean His words to be taken literally, and no Christian would be justified in maiming himself.

What the Master meant, evidently, was that the pleasures and appetites of the present, though precious to us as are our most useful members, should be sacrificed rather than that maintaining present blessings we should fail to attend the promised Kingdom. So, likewise, we must interpret His words respecting the worm dying not and the fire not being quenched. The disciples knew of only one place where these words could be applicable. That place was "the valley of Hinnom"—Gehenna—where the refuse of Jerusalem was thrown as into a garbage furnace for destruction. Fires of brimstone were kept burning in the bottom to destroy the germs of disease, and no one extinguished those fires. Rather, they were perpetuated. And if, perchance, some carcass fell inside the fire line, the worms devoured it. No one wished to destroy the worms and preserve the carcass.

Gehenna thus became a type or figure, of the utter destruction awaiting the finally rebellious, who must perish "as natural brute beasts," that the earth may be cleansed. Our Lord's references to the worms and to the fire were doubtless appreciated by those who heard. It would signify to them that, as the offal was destroyed, so the wicked would be classed as the offal of humanity and be finally destroyed in the Second Death.

On previous occasions we have show that our Lord's reference to weeping and gnashing of teeth do not refer to experiences either in the grave or in the future life. They refer to the sad experiences of some in the end of this Age, in the great time of trouble with which it will close. Some will be greatly disappointed because after they have preached in Christ's name and in His name cast out demons, He shall declare them uworthy of His recognition.

We also remind our hearers that the parable of the Rich Man and Lazarus is now clearly understood and seen to be full of beauty and important instruction, given in symbolic language. We have pleasure in offering a treatise on this topic in print, free of cost, in response to a postcard request sent to the Brooklyn Tabernacle, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Tragic Death of Napanee Young Man

KINGSTON, Jan. 28.—By mistaking the crossing whistle for the station at Kingston, William Wilson, a young married man from Napanee, came to a violent end by being thrown from the rear step of a G. T. R. train and falling on his head.

Accompanied by a friend named Carl Vanalstyne, Mr. Wilson was coming to Kingston on Monday evening to see the hockey match between Varsity and Frontenacs, which he and his friend did not know was postponed. As the train neared the crossing at Perth Road the whistle blew and the engine slowed down. Mr. Wilson and Vanalstyne thought that they were coming into Kingston station and went out to the rear platform. Wilson being foremost went down to the lowest step and stood there waiting for the train to come to the platform. As the train passed the crossing the engine speeded up once more and Wilson, who was not prepared for the start of the train was thrown into the air.

It was dark and his chum could not see where he had struck, so letting himself down jumped off the train. He was not hurt beyond receiving a few bruises on the face. He found Wilson unconscious, with his head smashed, and his face badly lacerated.

Vanalstyne was unable to move him and so he started for the nearest farm house. He came to the home of George Joyce, a short distance from the track, and Douglas Joyce returnen and helped to move the dying man into a more comfortable position. This done they called for R. J. Reid's ambulance and took him to the general hospital, where he died in a few minutes afterwards.

The deceased was twenty-three years of age and is survived by a wife and two young children. He was employed in Gibbard's furniture factory, Napanee.

Hanged Himself In Despondent Fit

MONTREAL, Jan. 28.—Out of work for a period of more than two months and grieving over the death of his father-in-law, who was buried yesterday, Alfred Herbert, 58 years of age, committed suicide in a fit of despondency, this morning, by hanging himself in a shed at the back of his house at 419 Dufresne Sreet.

His married daughter, on going out for coal, found her father hanging by the neck to a piece of clothes line, which was attached to a nail in the wall.

He had been married for more than thirty-eight years, was formerly employed by the Canadian Pacific Railway at the Angus shops, but lost his positions two months ago. The body was removed to the morgue, where an inquest will be held to-morrow morning.

Doctor Allen on Trial For Wife's Death

ST. SCHOLASTIQUE, Que., Jan. 28.—Dr. A. E. Allen was placed on trial yesterday charged with contributing to the death of his wife by criminal neglect.

Dr. Mariel, who was called by Coroner Wales to examine the remains of the victim, testified that she died through neglect. Her body was in a state which showed exhaustion, and want of proper food and care. There were some bruises on the body, but these might not have been inflicted by anyone. In his opinion the woman had been dead several days.

The Rev. W. J. Ellis repeated his evidence given at the preliminary hearing, which was to the effect that he found Mrs. Allen lying on some boards laid across boxes. When he went to Avoca to officiate at the funeral, an inquest was held instead, and Dr. Allen was arrested.

The further hearing was adjourned until Monday next.

Russia Tightens Grip on Persia

TEHERAN, Jan. 28.—Russia tightened her grip on Northern Persia today by securing a concession for the building of a railroad between Tabriz and Dschulsa.

This grant was first proposed during the administration of Mr. W. M. Shuster, the financial agent of the Persian Government, who bitterly opposed it.

Tried to Hang Himself

ST. SCOLASTIQUE, Jan. 28.—Jim Rhombold, who is being detained at the local jail, made a deliberate attempt to hang himself in his cell on Saturday afternoon, and, were it not for the efforts of a physician, who happened to be enjoying the hospitality of the local house of detention, he would have succeeded. Dr. Allen, who is undergoing rial in connection with the death of his aged wife, is the medical man who came to Rhombold's assistance, and his efforts proved of avail to such an extent that the would-be suicide is well on his way to recovery. Rhombold made use of a pair of overall suspenders to end his days. Twisting the improvised rope about his neck, he affixed it to the bars of his cell door. In tying the rope he had evidently stood on one of the lower bars, and had then jumped from this support. He was found by Mrs. Mireault, the jailer's wife, who happened to pass through the corridor in front of the cells. Mrs. Mireault found the man dangling free of the floor, his face being distorted and livid in color. Life was almost extinct when he was discovered, and as the jailer was away at the time, no key could be found to open the cell door. However, Dr. Allan, who happened to be nearby was hastily sumoned and using a pocket knife, he cut the unfortunate man down. He then released the band about the man Rhombolt's throat, and used means to revive the would-be suicide. After a few minute's work, he succeeded and Rhombold, in an exhausted condition, was removed to another part of the jail, where he was placed under a special guard.

Rhombold is detained in connection with an alleged offence, which consisted in having raised a cheque from $18 to $68. He was being kept pending an investigation into his antecedents, the Crown Prosecutor desiring to look into reports that the man was a convict in a United States prison and had made his escape.

Accused as a Firebug

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—A. B. Frankel, head of a public fire insurance adjusting firm, was arrested recently charged with extortion and conspiracy to defraud in connection with the investigation being made by the State's attorney into the operations of the alleged "arson ring."

Frankel's arrest followed an alleged confession by Thomas H. Jones, proprietor of a hotel at Waukesha, Wis., in which he admitted that a recent fire at his place was of incendiary origin, and that Frankel and an alleged "firebug" named F. G. Cowie were responsible for the blaze.

Cowie was arrested at Waukesha but was admitted to bail pending a hearing of the charge.

War on Divorce Opened in Nevada

RENO, Nev., Jan. 28.—The first shot at the divorce question was fired with surprising force yesterday in the Legislature when Assemblymab Barnes of Nye county, representing one section of the State vigorously opposed to the existing law and pledged to fight for a change, introduced bill No. 17, providing for an amendment to the present law requiring six months' residence to one of one year's residence. It was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, instead of the Committee on Public Morals as was expected, and the divorce battle is on.

100 Engravers on Strike

TORONTO, Jan. 28.—One hundred photoo engravers employed by four Toronto firms are out on strike because the employers will not recognize the union. A Hamilton concern is also affected. The Toronto firms concerned are Grip, Limited, the Alexander Engraving Co., the Hood-Sandham Co., and the Photo Engravers. The firms are all making a stand for the open shop. Union wages have been paid. There is no grievances beyond the non-recognition of the union.

To Face Murder Charge

EDMONTON, Alta., Jan. 28.—James Veal and Mrs. Alice Butler are being held by the police as the result of a verdict returned yesterday afternoon by a Coroner's jury in the case of Sidney Butler, who was shot in his shack on the Hudson's Bay reserve on the night of January 3. They will be charged with murder.

Italian Cruisers to Protect Italians

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Three Italian fighting ships are steaming to Constantinople to protect Italian residents of the Capital, now in the hands of the party which has manifested the most hatred for things Italian, and which at the time that peace negotiations looking to the settlement of the war in Tripoli were in progress, put every possible obstacle in the way of the peace-makers.

The vessels are the Cruisers San Marco and Pisa, and the gunboat Archimede.

The Italian squadron at Stampolia and Rhose is being held in readiness and the rest of the fleet at Taranto is within easy call.

Barristers' Fees

LONDON, Jan. 28.—A sensation has been cause in the British legal world by an appeal to the Law Society to take action in a matter which is said to be causing serious injury to two branches of the legal profession—barristers and solicitors.

In England the two branches are distinct, and the work of each is clearly defined. At a meeting of the Law Society this week, Bruisley Harper, a member attacked the practice of paying the junior counsel a fee equal to two-thirds of the amount paid the senior counsel. Certain well-known barristers received huge fees, and the solicitors, if their clients insisted on these particular barristers being briefed, had no option, but it was nothing less than a scandal that because the senior counsel received exorbitant fees the punior counsel also should get ridiculously high payment for his often unnecessary services.

Mr. Harper said that he knew of a case where the junior counsel was not present in court for several days during the trial, but still had to be paid ~~his~~ 60 guineas ($300) because his senior was briefed for 90 guineas ($450). In another case £100 ($500) was to be paid to the leading counsel and the usual proportion to the junior both were perfectly satisfied, but subsequently it was decided to brief a well-known King's counsel. The latter was engaged in a political campaign and asked a fee which he thought absolutely prohibitive, but the client thought it advisable to obtain his services.

To the client's surprise the first counsel engaged explained that now as he was by etiquette of the bar a junior he was entitled to a fee equal to two-thirds of the fee which the King's counsel, who had been briefed at a large figure was to receive. The original junior counsel also explained that he was entitled to a fee equal to two-thirds the fee paid to the counsel who was to have been his leader, but had become junior counsel as the result of the introduction of the eminent King's counsel. As the counsel were satisfied in the first instance with the fees they were to receive, it was hardly necessary to say how absurd a scandal such a rule was.

So serious, said Mr. Harper, had the question of big fees become that many city people declined to make such exorbitant payments and went for arbitration upon points which should legitimately be settled in the high courts. In this and other ways damage was done to both branches of the legal profession by the excessive fees of eminent barristers and the old-fashioned system of paying juniors.

The Law Society appointed a committee to take up the matter.

Vancouver Broker Arrested

VANCOUVER, Jan. 28.—George M. Gibbs, a well-known broker, was arrested on Sunday morning in connection with three notes issued last year and aggregating in value $6,650. He was released on bail. Gibbs has been prominent throughout the West for years. He was a bank manager in Dawson City in the early Klondike days, and before that time lived in Winnipeg, where he had also been with a bank.

3 O'CLOCK DISPATCHES

MORE SUFFRAGETTES JAILED

Intelligencer Special.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Mrs. "General" Flora Drummond, who with Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, led a raid on the offices of the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Lloyd George, was sent to jail today for fourteen days. She scornfully refused the alternative of a fine.

Thirty other suffragettes, taken up in last night's demonstrations in Parliament Square, also chose imprisonment rather than pay the $10 fine. Letter box outrages are reported in every quarter of London today and the police have made several arrests.

LIVES LOST BY MASSACRES

(Intelligencer Special.)

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The Times' correspondent at Constantinople says that on such data as he has been able to procure he estimates that maximum of 20,000 Moslems and 15,000 Christians lost their lives during recent massacres in Turkey. The Moslems were mostly all killed by irregulars, or peasant jacquerie, which followed the defeated Turkish army.

A JANUARY PICNIC

Intelligencer Special.

ALBANY, Jan. 29—A January picnic with all the trimmings of summer was the unusual programme which the Albany and Troy lodges of the Elks arranged for today. A steamer trip on the Hudson, straw hats and linen dusters for costumes, lemonade and dandelion salad for refreshments and dancing on the open deck were some of the features.

PASSED RESOLUTION

Intelligencer Special.

CALGARY, Jan. 29.—The Baptist Union of Western Canada passed resolutions favoring an extension of the franchise to women, deploring the efforts to foster a military spirit among the people of Canada and declaring in favor of a movement for universal peace and arbitration for settlement of international disputes.

Object to The Play

MONTREAL, Jan. 28.—The Abbey Irish Players, who last year figured in a riot over a piece produced by them in New York, have struck a snag on the day of their arrival in Montreal.

They intend to produce Singe's 'The Play Boy of the Western World' in opening their season at His Majesty's Theatre to-night, and this afternoon a delegation from the United Irish League of Montreal intimated to the managers of the company that it considered the piece "a vile misrepresentation of Irish life, which should not be played here."

The management consented to withdraw the play and substitute "The Rising of the Moon" and another sketch.

To Make Catless Town

BERKELEY, Ca., Jan. 28.—War to the death of all cats was declared here by the Police Department in the interest of public health. A theory that cats are responsible for spreading smallpox caused the campaign against them.

The order has gone out that if it is possible to rid a town of cats Berkeley shall be the first catless town in the country.

Extermination begins Saturday, and policemen armed with small rifles shot cats on sight without regard to pedigree or ownership.

Rev. Mr. Compton For Manchuria

KINGSTON, Jan. 28.—The Executive of the Foreign Mission Committee of the Presbyterian Church in Canada has invited Rev. S. J. M. Compton, minister of St. Andrew's Church of this city, to consider an appointment to important work in Manchuria, in connection with the Church's foreign missionary enterprise. Mr. Compton has the matter under consideration. He came to Kingston last March from Belfast, Ireland, having been brought out by St. Andrew's congregation to take the place of Rev. Dr. Mackie, who retired and returned to Scotland.

Girl Burned To Death in Fire at St. Scholastique

ST. SCHOLASTIQUE, Que., Jan. 27.—Germaine Beauchamp, the six-year-old daugher of Joseph Beauchamp, a farmer residing on the St. Simon road, was burned to death yesterday morning, in a fire which destroyed her father's house.

Four other children who were in the house at the tim managed to make their escape, three being carried out in the arms of the frantic father and mother. The youngster who was burned, had attempted to run upstairs when the fire broke out and was thus overlooked by her parents.

After the firse had been brought under control, the charred body burned to a crisp, was found lying in the debris of the kitchen.

The fire broke out at eleven o'clock as High Mass was being celebrated in the village church. The alarm was given by a neighbor who ran to the church and notified the sexton. The latter tolled the bell, with the result that the worshippers, thinking the church was on fire, made a stampede for the door.

On making egress the people saw the fire in the Beauchamp house and all proceeded to give a hand in quelling the flame. The house, which was valued at about $2,500, was insured to the extent of $500. The fire is thought to have originated in the kitchen.

It is your friends who pick you to pieces; other people are indifferent.

And many a woman doesn't get any of the money she married for until some kind hearted judge grants her alimony.

ARE YOUR HANDS CHAPPED?

READ HOW ZAM-BUK HEALS.

For badly chapped hands, cold cracks, frost bite, etc., Zam-Buk is the best known healer. Wash the hands or part affected in water as hot as can be borne. Dry with a soft towel, then smear the Zam-Buk well over the part. If it is the hands, wear a pair of old gloves overnight. By morning the pain will be gone. Then use Zam-Buk a few more times and the cracks will be healed. Mrs. A. F. Phillips, of Ayers Cliff, Que., says: "I suffered terribly from chapped hands. At times my hands were so sore that I could almost have cried with the pain. I thought I would try Zam-Buk and see what that wonderful healing balm would do for me. I obtained a supply, and in a very short time my hands were cured."

Mrs. W. M. Baillient, of Port Hawkesbury, N.S., writes: "Some time ago my hands were very badly chapped. Ordinary ointments did not heal them, and I was advised to try Zam-Buk. To my great delight, it healed my hands in a remarkably short time."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for ulcers, blood poison, varicose sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places, cuts, burns, bruises, and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co. on receipt of price.

Starch Often a Poison

Recent action of the health authorties in England against a druggist, or, as they call them in England, a "chemist," for selling an infants' food that contained a sufficient quantity of starch to make it poisonous, has created widespread interest in this country.

It may be that the general investigation and examination of infants' foods which is expected to follow this particular prosecution will result in similar investigations in the United States, although as far as is known no American-made infant foods have proved injurious through excess of starch.

The British Medical Journal has the following to say in connection with this case:

"There is overwhelming evidence that the digestive disorders to which many young children are subject have resulted from feeding them upon foods largely composed of starch. Hitherto no very great effort has been made to prevent these foods being sold, beyond the general advice which is given to mothers and nurses by doctors and health visitors as to the harmfulness of them.

"The medical officer of health of the County of Rutland, Dr. Christopher Rolleston, has, however, succeeded in obtaining a conviction before the local justices against a chemist for selling a preparation of infants' food which contained upward of 70 per cent. of practically unaltered starch and which was therefore held to be not of the nature, substance and quality demanded by the purchaser.

"The preparation was described as being suitable for an infant, only a few days old. A desertspoonful of the mixture was directed to be put into a basin to be mixed to the thickness of a smooth cream with cold milk or water to this was to be added half a pint of milk and water in equal parts, and it was then to be brought to the boil. It was contended by the chemist that the boiling would convert the starch into sugar, and this view was supported by a member of the Society of Public Analyss. There are some artificially prepared infants' food in which the conversion of the starch into saccharine bodies is complete, but they do not contain 70 per cent of starch."

Chartrand Made Vicious Attack On Boy in Jail

MONTREAL, Jan. 27.—While awaiting his trial in the Montreal jail for the attempted murder of little Kitty Marcovitch in the furnace of the Academy of the Sisters of Good Counsel three weeks ago, Cyrille Chartrand made an attack on a 15-year-old lad named Joseph Lapine, and had it not been for some of the prisoners, who heard the boy's cry for help Chartrand might have killed the lad.

On Saturday morning he was taken from the jail, handcuffed, and in charge of a strong guard. He was brought before Magistrate Lancott in hte arraignment Court on the double charge of having attempted to murder the Marcovitch child and also having brutally attacked a boy prisoner in the Montreal jail. Governor Valle appeared against the accused, and young Lepine told the Magistrate how he had been throttled by the accused and had been almost choked to death. He said Chartrand was a powerful man, and only for timely assistance he might have been murdered.

Kitty Marcovitch was unable to appear against the accused as she is still in the General Hospital, though her recovery is expected. The case was postponed until tomorrow morning, when Chartrand will be tried on the charge of assault committed on the lad in the jail.

A BAD HEART, ITS CAUSE AND CURE

MANY, FIRMLY CONVINCED THEY ARE DYING OF HEART TROUBLE, HAVE OFTEN THE STRONGEST HEARTS.

Sometimes you wake up at night, heart throbbing like a steam engine. Your breathing is short and irregular; pains shoot through the chest and abdomen, and cause horrible anxiety.

Your trouble isn't with the heart at all. These sensations are the outcome of indigestion, which has caused gas to form on the stomach and press against the heart.

Just read what happened to Isaac Malloux, of Belle River, Ont.

"Three months ago I was a weak, sickly man. My appetite was poor, food fermented in my stomach, I had sour risings and indigestion. At night I would often weaken with gas in the stomach and heart palpitation.

"I consulted my doctor and used remedies that my friends advised. Nothing helped.

"One day I received a sample of Dr. Hamilon's Pills, and my cure commenced. Today I have a vigorous appetite, strong heart action, and no sign of indigestion. I feel younger and healthier than ever before."

Your druggist or storekeeper sells Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"THE GAMBLERS"

The dramatic thunder-bolt entitled "The Gamblers", a product from the masterful pen of Charles Klein, was presented in a most capable manner at Griffin's last evening. The play comprising three acts, covered a space of but a few hours in which many thrilling incidents occurred. The story on which the production is based is one of financial interests in the banking world in which a young financier, taking over the reins of a chain of banks from his father, who is the nominal head, oversteps the borrowing limit and in consequence breaks the law from the Federal Government's point of view. The story continues with the somewhat over-zealous desire of the prosecuting attorney to jail the principals of the banks in question, thereby paving his own way for political advancement, but who in the end is sidetracked by his own wife. The author in his typical way, has covered a vast amount of actual every day occurrence in the banking world. The portray of the production as presented by the company last evening, was excellent in every regard. William Marble in the role of Wilber Emerson, the young banker, was conspicuous by the high calibre of his acting, as was Fred J. Powers, as John Emerson, J. H. Huntley, as John Darwin, the prosecuting attorney, William Lambert, as George Cowper, the "Judas Iscariot" of the bankers, who sacrificed his colleagues for court immunity. Miss Mary Cunard, as Catharine Darwin, wife of the attorney was excellent in her wide range of presentation, at times displaying remarkable powers as an emotional actress. It was in every respect, for a production of its kind, one worthy of favorable comment.

The average free show is worth just about that much.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

AN ENJOYABLE AT HOME

An enjoyable at home was given by the Stirling A. F. & A. M. Masonic Lodge last evening, with a large number in attendance. A fine musical programme was in evidence, furnished by Sills orchestra of this city.

CALL FOR POLICE

The police last night answered a call to a residence on South Front Street, where it was stated that a row was in progress. As all was quiet, when the officers arrived, no arrest was made.

DRUNKS PICKED UP

During last night the police gathered in three drunks, namely Homer L. Holmes, B. Whalen and Wm. Byrnes, all of whom where middle aged men. One of the men, Byrnes was found lying in a gangway off Front Street and was in a rather serious condition when picked up.

JUDGMENT RESERVED

The case of Walter Lasher who was yesterday on trial before Judge Deroche on a charge of sealing a horse and outfit belonging to Mr. John McCo of this city was concluded and judgment was reserved until Friday morning. Mr. Anderson for Crown and Mr. Carnew for the accused.

BROKE HER WRIST

Last evening as Mrs. Ed. O'Rourke of Pinnacle Street, was leaving her home, she fell and broke her right wrist, rendering the attendance of a physician necessary, who dressed the injury, and the lady is now resting comparatively comfortable, although she will be incapacitated for a time. Mrs. O'Rourke has many friends in the city, who will regret to learn of the accident.

GROCERIES ON THE FALL

This morning as a waggon laden with groceries was proceeding up Murney's hill, something broke, with the result that the vehicle backed down faster than was required and upset. At a consequence some of the groceries were rendered useless. Fortunately no person was injured.

REMAINS BURIED HERE

The funeral of the late Mr. Thomas D. Pruyn, formerly of Napanee, who died at Buffalo, N. Y., took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of Mr. John Taylor of this city. Many were in attendance at the obsequies. Rev. A. M. Hubly of the Reformed Episcopal Church, officiated at the house and grave at Belleville cemetery where the interment took place. The bearers were Messrs. J. Downey, W. Ham, Fred Chinneck, D. Boyes, W. T. Deroche and Chas. Davey.

AT HOLLOWAY STREET

The revival services now being held in Holloway St. Church, are proving a source of great spiritual blessing and uplift to the church as a whole, and quite a number have been converted, among whom are several heads of families. The Pastor believes in being his own Evangelist, and the people have been standing loyally by him. Rev. A. S. Duprau has assisted several times to the profit and blessing of all. Mr. Vermilyea has also been over a couple of times. This evening the Pastor will speak on "Be Ready" and the male quartette will sing. Service to-night at 7. 30.

DEATH OF ENGINEER

Mr. Donnis H. Boyce who resided on Station Road in this city, died at an early hour this morning after being a sufferer from dropsy for the past year. Deceased who was 62 years of age, was born at Earnestown, and had for the past 21 years been a resident of this city where he was well and favorably known. Mr. Boyce was engaged as a stationery engineer at the G. T. R. works here, was efficient in his duties and a general favorite with his fellow employes who regret his demise. He was a member of the Methodist Church. Deceased was connected with the True Blue, Orange and Prentice Boys Societies, under whose auspices the funeral will take place. A widow and a family of five daughters survive. The daughters are Mrs. Curry of Toronto, Mrs. Shane, Ann Street in this city, Misses Myrtle, Oimee and Hazel. One brother Mr. D. L. Boyce resides at Violet, Ont.

BOW ISLAND GAS FOR CALGARY.

Calgary, Alta., Jan. 25.—Mayor Sinnot has submitted an estimate to the city council providing for a $10,000,000 pipe line from Bow Island to Calgary and neighboring joints to be controlled by the municipalities and retailed at cost to manufacturers and other consumers. This tremendous undertaking has been proven feasible by the success of the private corporation that is supplying Calgary with Bow Island natural gas. Various experts, who have investigated the Bow Island field, declare that the visible supply of gas there is the greatest yet discovered and that it will meet all possible requirements for years to come. The Bow Island town council is preparing to operate municipal gas wells and furnish this natural fuel free to manufacturers locating there.

HUDSON BAY DEVELOPMENTS INTEREST MELFORT.

Melfort, Sask., Jan. 25.—The seriousness with which the Government is viewing the necessity for quick action towards a Hudson Bay outlet has greatly interested Melfort as this city will be the point from which the three Western Canadian Railways will build to Le Pas, connecting with the Government road. If the Hudson Bay route proves as practical as transportation experts believe, Melfort's importance as a railway and distributing centre will be exceeded by only two or three of the Western Canadian cities. Melfort citizens are consequently jubilant over prospects.

About the Club House

To the Editor of The Intelligencer.

I wish to correct a statement made in last night's issue regarding the Club House.

Now, Mr. Editor, the statement was made that the building came in competition with other boat liveries who pay taxes. In regard to me paying taxes, which I saw was omitted, I am paying taxes on the club house, also a business tax, and I have been paying the city $20 water service and $10 cigar license for the summer months only. My dwelling is not attached to the Club House, so you will see I am paying the city equally as much as other boat men referred to. I received a notice last July from the Harbor Commissioners that my rent would be $20 per month in the future. When I informed them that I was under lease they at once wrote the Marine Department asking to have it cancelled. I have since offered them $60 per annum for a term of ten years, but my offer was not accepted, but for one year. My lease from the Government holds good untill the 1st of May, 1913.

COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE

MADOC.

Jan. 28.—We are having fine cold winter weather; no sleighing; wood drawing has come to a standstill.

Stock judging takes place on Mondays and Tuesdays. A large tent has been erected on a side street and the farmers are taking a great interest in the judging. The lectures were good and held the audience.

On Monday evening the district meeting of the Epworth League was held in the Methodist Church. Delegates were present from all parts of the district. Reports showed the League to be in a flourishing condition. The addresses were excellent.

The fluorspar mine at the lake will commence operations in the spring. The company are having a large quantity of wood delivered for power purposes.

Large shipments of stock are being made to the Toronto and Montreal markets.

On Monday evening the Madoc Lodge I.O.O.F. was paid an official visit by the D.D.G.M., Bro. Weaver of Maynooth, who installed the officers into their respective chairs. In his work he was ably assisted by Bro. Wise of Bancroft. At the close of the business, the brethren and their ladies repaired to the hotel, where Mine Host Blue had prepared a splendid repast. One hundred and twenty-four sat down to partake of the good things provided. After the wants of the inner man had been satisfied there was the usual flow of wit, brief speeches being made by Dr. Harrison, Dr. Wright, A. H. Watson and Rev. Mr. Young. The gathering broke up about two a.m.

Brilliant Lecture By Mr. H. P. Biggar

An important event in our city's history took place last night. A large and representative audience filled St. Agnes' Hall to hear the lecture on Columbus given by Mr. H. P. Biggar, who was accorded a hearty reception.

Mr. J. W. Johnson, M.P.P., presided as chairman, and, in an able speech of welcome and appreciation, introduced the lecturer.

The citizens of Belleville, he said, were proud of Mr. Biggar, of his career and attainments. After passing through Upper Canada College, and graduating at Toronto University, he had studied at the Universities of Berlin and Paris, and finally obtained the degree of Bachelor of Letters at Oxford. Such success meant years of study and the amassing of a vast amount of knowledge. But Mr. Biggar had specialized in Canadian history, and had devoted much time to searching out documents relating to our early explorers and settlers. From the archives of Italy and Spain he had recovered valuable material, and had written books of standard authority on the subject, which would be handed down to future generations and make Mr. Biggar's name famous in the annals of Canada. The Canadian Government appreciated his work, and had appointed him to represent Canada for the collection of material for the archives at Ottawa.

"But," said Mr. Johnson in conclusion, "much as he has accomplished in the line of early history, we expect still more of Mr. Biggar in the future—some achievement like that of our great historian, Parkman, some stirring history of modern times and of the development of Canada as a great nation."

Mr. Biggar then arose, and was greeted with much applause. He is a man of intellectual and distinguished appearance, with a pleasant manner and a clear and quick delivery. On the platform were three maps, copies of old ones, dating from the 16th century, on one of which were traced the four journeys made by Columbus to the new world. Referring to these from time to time, Mr. Biggar gave a most interesting account of the life and exploration of Christopher Columbus.

At the conclusion of the lecture Mr. Ritchie moved a hearty vote of thanks and the meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

HEADACHE CURED

A JOURNALIST TELLS OF THE ADVANTAGES OF KEEPING NERVILINE HANDY ON THE SHELF.

Fifty years ago Nerviline was used from coast to coast, and in thousands of houses this trusty liniment served the entire family, cured all their minor ills and kept the doctor's bill small. Today Nerviline still holds first rank in Canada among pain-relieving remedies—scarcely a home you can find that doesn't use it.

From Port Hope, Ont., Mr. W. T. Greenaway, of the Guide newspaper staff, writes: "For twenty years we have used Nerviline in our home, and not for the world would we be without it. As a remedy for all pain, earache, toothache, cramps, headache, and disordered stomach I know of no preparation so useful and quick to relieve as Nerviline."

Let every mother give Nerviline a trial; it's good for children, good for old folks—you can rub it on as a liniment or take it internally.

Wherever there is pain, Nerviline will cure it. Refuse anything but Nerviline. Large family bottles, 50c.; trial size, 25c., at all dealers, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

THE DREDGING PROBE STARTS

The public accounts committee opened last week an inquiry into the dredging contracts of the Laurier Government which amounted in all to the fat sum of thirty million dollars in ten years. When the committee opened, the members of the notorious Liberal "blocking brigade" were on hand to choke off the inquiry. In the old regime they had for years sat on the lid and had persisted in chloroforming all investigation. They objected to every forward move of the committee, but despite their protests the inquiry got well under way.

The investigation opened with a probe into the operations of companies doing work in the Georgian Bay harbors. Evidence was offered in support of the allegation that there was collusion between firms in fixing prices, and that while there was supposed to be competition as a matter of fact the prices were "fixed" between the firms.

T. S. Pratt, manager of the Canadian Dredging Company, the first witness called, testified that the Secretary of the company, F. S. Grant, was also Secretary of the local Midland Liberal executive, while another shareholder, Mr. White, was President of the Liberal association of the same town.

Tenders were produced which showed, according to expert evidence, that these from different firms were all written in the same hand-writing, that of Mr. Grant. A. N. Payne, a hand-writing expert, testified that the tenders signed by the different firms were all written by Mr. Grant. Grant and other Liberals were also interested in the Continental Dredging Company, and a tender for work done at Chicoutimi, Quebec, was also produced. The tender was signed by C. J. Smith, President. The envelope in which the same was delivered to the department Mr. Payne testified was in the handwriting of Grant. The figures in the tender Mr. Payne also swore without hesitation were Grant's.

OUR CITY GOVERNMENT

It is truly encouraging to note the vim with which the new civic Council, headed by Mayor Wills, is taking hold of the needs of our city, as evidenced by the session of Monday evening. It was expected that with the instillment of the Mayor's progressive spirit the body as a whole would prove an inspiration to our citizens at large, and if the initial meeting is a criterion of future methods throughout the year, our fondest hopes are to be realized. We note with pleasure the Mayor's reference to the city's finances; a new school for the west side; a step toward postal delivery within the city limits; improvement of our harbor; and the street paving question. These, and other measures taken up, if carried through, will result in our city becoming a scene of progressive industry that cannot but have an effect for good.

Now that the spirit of civic enterprise is at its height, let nothing occurr to dwarf our progress.

DEATH OF COL. MATHESON

In the death of Col. the Hon. A. J. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer, whose passing away is the first break in the ranks of the Premier's active Cabinet, Ontario has lost a faithful public servant.

A good citizen of his home town, Perth, his province and his country, Col. Matheson took a distinguished part in political, military, municipal and religious affairs. As Treasurer of the province of Ontario since the accesion of the Whitney Government to power in 1905, he shared with his colleagues the confidence of the people and proved himself not unworthy to bear the heavy responsibilities attendant upon the duties of Provincial Treasurer during a period of prosperity, progress and expansion.

A good soldier in times of war, who saw service in the Fenian raids of 1866 and 1870, Col. Matheson was a good citizen in times of peace, and his career is worthy of remembrance.

FEDERAL AID FOR FARMERS

The most important measure which occupied the attention of Parliament during the past week was the bill introduced on Friday by Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture, for "the granting of liberal assistance to the provinces for the purpose of supplementing" and extending the work of agricultural education and for the improvement of agriculture.

The Borden Government is to be congratulated upon the promptness with which it has introduced a measure to fulfill pledges made previous to its accession to power. Mr. Burrell's bill was presented by the Minister in a lofty and non-partisan manner, and it seemed quite fitting that he should be accorded, as he was, the applause of both parties in Parliament.—Ottawa Journal.

There is considerable talk now about the possibilities of raising Belgian hares to help out in the meat line, since meat in the open market has reached such figures as to be almost prohibitive. It is pointed out that the Belgians are easily raised and the fact that one can be used as a whole at a meal, like a chicken, makes them additionally desirable for filling out the farm bill of fare.

Claims We Erred

To the Editor of The Intelligencer,
Belleville, Ont.

Dear Sir,—In the editorial under the heading "Scarcity of Farm Labor" in your issue of the 17th inst., in referring to an address which I delivered before the Dairymen's Association during the recent convention at Kingston, you use these words, "the primary cause for the great decrease in the production of butter is given by Mr. Ruddick as the scarcity of farm labor." Permit me to point out that you must have been wrongly informed because I never mentioned any decrease in butter production. As a matter of fact there has been no decrease in butter production in Canada. The decline in the exports is entirely due to the increased home consumption. The increase in milk production in Canada during the past ten years was as great as it was during any other similar period in the history of the country. I did mention the fact that the number of cows in Ontario had shown a decrease of 106,000 between 1908 and 1911, but at the same time the production of cheese and creamery butter has shown large increases in that Province.

Yours truly,
J. A. RUDDICK,
Commissioner.

HUSBAND AND WIFE BOTH TROUBLED

GIN PILLS Cured Them

Lachute Mills, Que, March 11th, 1912.

"I was troubled for many years with Kidney Disease, and a friend told me to take GIN PILLS. After taking a few boxes, I was greatly relieved, and after finishing the twelfth box, the pain completely left me.

My wife is now using GIN PILLS and finds that she has been greatly relieved of the pain over her kidneys.

I can safely recommend anyone suffering from Kidney Trouble to give a fair trial to GIN PILLS."

We allow you to make this trial absolutely free of cost. Simply write National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Toronto, and they will send you a free sample of Gin Pills. Try them. They will do you so much good that you will gladly get the regular size boxes at your local dealer's. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50. 143

That Tired Feeling

SUGGESTS GRANDMOTHER'S REMEDY.

It's true, the season is here with its sudden changes, and the old idea that we need a blood medicine is not without reason. Too much heavy food has caused a torpid liver, sluggish blood, and a weak, tired out feeling.

Sulphur, cream of tartar and molasses was grandmother's remedy, but that has long ago been displaced by Vinol, a combination of the two most world famed tonics, namely, the medicinal curative elements of the cods' liver without oil, and iron for the blood.

Vinol builds you up, makes you eat more and digest better, makes your blood rich and pure—puts healthy color in your cheeks.

P. O. Barker of Bowen's Mill, Ga., says: "When I was badly run down last spring I took Vinol in an effort to regain my health and strength and it did not disappoint me. It made me feel as well as ever."

We guarantee Vinol to satisfy you and refund your money if it does not. Red Cross Drug Store, J. S. McKeown, Belleville, Ont.

Pastor Russell Has Lost Again

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—A verdict for the Brooklyn Eagle and against Pastor Chas. T. Russell, of "miracle" wheat fame, was returned by a jury in Brooklyn to-day at the close of a $100,000 libel suit which has grown out of the publication in the Brooklyn newspaper of a cartoon pretending to portray the plaintiff in the act of being called away from his task of peddling "miracle" wheat to join the "onion" bank directors. The jury was out forty minutes.

In summing-up for the defence, Isaac Roeland insisted that the sale of "miracle" wheat as carried on in Pastor Russell's tabernacle and elsewhere was a purely business scheme to benefit the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society, which, he asserted, is dominated by the pastor.

The short cut doesn't always lead in the right direction.

A man's religion seldom wears out from overwork.

Used While You Sleep

DARTS AND BARBS

Many a pensive maid becomes an expensive wife.

You can lead a life but not a motor; you can drive a horse but not a woman.

Once it is dead, no amount of false respiration will bring love back to life again.

Every woman acts one part of her life—that of the sort of girl the man she wants to marry wants to marry.

A wife should have tact enough to tell her husband often that he is the splendid creature she wishes he was.

Some women are like cherries—though of pleasing and inviting appearance, they prove on investigation to be mostly stone.

When you hold the key to a woman's heart, don't forget that she can always teach another man to pick the lock with a hair pin.

It is hard to conceive why the comic artists continue to picture the irate father as kicking his daughter's suitor out of the door, instead of in the act of falling on the deliverer's neck.—From "The Tatler."

FLOWERS TO BE EATEN

Candied Violets Staple in France, Thurnbergi Lily in China

The usefulness of flowers as edible delicacies is practically not known in this country, though abroad they are used as ingredients in many dishes.

Candied violets are a staple product of several districts in France. At Grasse, for instance, in which neighborhood immense quantities of them are raised, all the old and stale violets are purchased by the confectionery manufacturers, who steam them, dip them in boiling sugar and sell them in commerce at a high price as "confiture of violets." Rosebuds boiled in sugar and made into a preserve form a sweetmeat popular among the Turks and Greeks. In Roumania roses, lime flowers and violets are much used for flavoring preserves of various kinds, and are also utilized in Turkey, Persia and Arabia in the preparation of sherbets. The famous violet sherbet of the Caliph is of a greenish color, and to this day is called the Grand Signor's sherbet.

That species of lily known to botanists as Thurnbergi is in China one of the most choice delicacies of the native kitchen. It is dried and used for seasoning ragouts and other dishes. The lilies are grown for market in many provinces of China, and usually are dug up just before they open. Cooked as fresh vegetable, they have a singularly agreeable taste and fragrance. The Chinese also candy dried rosebuds, violets, jasmines and pomegranate blossoms, while out of the yellow water lily they make a delicious jelly. The Turks also utilize this common water lily in the preparation of a very favorite cooling drink.

A ROYAL GOD-MOTHER

Peasant Found Benefactress in Wayside Adventure

A charming story is told of ex-Queen Amelia, of Portugal, who now lives in England. Once when she was motoring in Portugal the chauffeur mistook the road, and the party did not know which way to turn. One of the gentlemen in attendance asked the way of a peasant, who looked at the splendid car, then at the travellers, and thought he was being made fun of. The Queen assured him that they were lost, and then the man condescended to point out which way should be taken. "Give him this for his trouble," said the Queen to one of the escort, handing him a gold piece. "Here," said the latter, "is a little present from the Queen." The peasant a day later presented himself at the Palace, and asked to see the Queen. "I know her," he said. "I saw her yesterday, and want to see her again." It happened that a lady-in-waiting recognised him, and he was subsequently ushered into the presence of her Majesty. "Yes, 'tis thou," he said, not concealing the satisfaction he felt. "I did not tell thee, yesterday. I have two little ones without a mother. Wilt thou be their mother?" Queen Amelia accepted the trust, and had the little ones placed in a special institution under her patronage.

PERFUMES BRING SLEEP

Several Simple Methods of Curing Insomnia

Scents have other attractions than a mere appeal to the nose. Anybody, for instance, who suffers from insomnia may find relief in perfumes.

Collect a quantity of fresh pine needles and fill a bag with them; carefully rip open your pillow and place the bag amid the feathers in the pillow. The perfume of the pines is often an excellent soporific.

A bag of dried hops used in the same way is just as good. Dried rose leaves, mixed with dried clover heads, give out a delicious perfume and help a weary one to woo the god of sleep.

A teaspoonful of eau de colonge in a warm bath is most refreshing while scent placed on the forehead of any one who suffers from headache generally gives relief.

Norwegian Policewomen

Norway has seven police-women whose special duty is to keep under surveillance girls and women suspected of living immoral lives, interrogate women tramps, and, if deserving, render them help, look after the children and see that they are kept off the streets as vendors and beggars.

The policewomen all perform occasional night duty and patrol some of the worst quarters of the cities in which they are located.

Egypt exported 268,000,000 pounds of onions in the first six months last year, 2,000,000 pounds more than in the same period the year previous.

Are You Drinking Pure Cocoa or Cocoa Mixed with Starch?

Cocoa is made by grinding cocoa beans and pressing out some of their fat or "cocoa butter". The removal of the excess fat leaves the cocoa more perfectly digestible.

A common way to cheapen cocoa is by adding starch.

A leading English physician says that starch added to cocoa reduces the "nutritious gluten and stimulating theobromine."

Lowney's contains no starch. It is as pure as cocoa can be made.

It is produced in our spic-and-span factory at Montreal. Lowney's Cocoa conforms with every requirement that goes to make cocoa wholesome and appetizing.

You will never learn how delicious cocoa can be until you have tasted Lowney's.

Sold by grocers. In tins—10c to 50c sizes.

LEARNING TO EAT

Good Table Manners and Good Health Have Much in Common

A few children are taught to eat silently, not to speak with the mouth full, not to take soup from the end of a spoon, or to put the knife into the mouth. The majority of children, however, are not taught even this. One does not expect a child of four or five to hold his fork or spoon correctly, though the training should have been already begun, but from children older than that people have a right to expect proper behaviour at table.

That a man's breeding is known by his table manners has long been acceded. "You can tell where he came from," is a remark often heard, after a glance at someone's plate. And it is strange that a man may acquire wealth, cultured tastes and ways, but he rarely learns to disguise bad early training at the table. This is partly accounted for by the fact that when grown up, one becomes so sensitive or so vain that even a wife dare not risk giving offence by correcting table manners. There is nothing that gives so much offence as such correction.

The rule of eating slowly is not only essential to good manners, but also to good health. A prominent physician, discussing this question, says: "If it were indelibly impressed on children that gluttony is a vice which defeats its own end, that by eating slowly much more pleasure can be got from one mouthful than by bolting a whole plateful, that this pleasure can be vastly increased by consciously exhaling through the nose while eating, and that those who eat in this way will escape the pangs of indigestion—if these truths were impressed on every child mind, two-thirds of the minor ills of mankind would disappear in two generations, and most of the major maladies also; for the stomach is the source of most diseases."

For vital, as well as social reasons every mother should take care not only about what her child eats, but how he eats it.

SECRET OF A DREAM

Lady Who Revived the Old French Art of Pen-Painting

How an old art invented by a French nun centuries ago was revived and brought to England through a dream was related by Miss Jessie M. Mason, of London, who is responsible for the dream and for the revival of a very beautiful handicraft—that of pen-painting.

"I was quite a little girl when I was taught to paint with a pen," she said, "and it happened in this way: I had as a child at my home in Lancashire an elderly lady as a governess. She had been educated in a convent in the South of France. Here in some bygone generation a nun, perhaps to do away with the long, tedious operation of embroidering altar cloths and church furniture by hand, discovered that the same beautiful effect could be obtained by the use of the pen with oil paints. The convent became famous for the work, but the secret was sedulously guarded for many years, and became a treasured possession.

"Then, [illegible] means the art became kn[illegible], and it was practised in that country. My governess was taught it, and from her when I was twelve years old I learned it. She made me promise that during her life I would never show how it was done. So I worked at home, and grew to love the dainty patterns which came so easily under my pen.

"My father died five years ago, and it became necessary for me to do something to earn my own living. I was very worried, and did not know what to do for the best. I remember I went to bed one night in this state of anxiety. I fell into a troubled sleep at last, and had a most vivid dream. In my dream it seemed that a nun was standing by my bed, and she told me not to be troubled, but to revive for the world this old art. In the morning my worries were over and I saw clearly my way before me.

"I started pen-painting seriously as a profession at once," concluded Miss Mason, "and I found that many people were interested in it. Queen Alexandra saw a piece of my work and liked it."

Pen-painting is most effective on satin and has the exact appearance and finish of the fine old decorative needlework done by our grandmothers.

More Women Than Men

There are 1,179,276 more females than males in England and Wales, according to the census figures. This excess is due in part to the fact that men in the naval and military services temporarily resident abroad were not reckoned.

Since 1821 the preponderance of women over men in England and Wales has steadily increased, despite the fact that about 104 boys were born to every 100 girls.

It is of interest to note that in the prisons of England and Wales there were only 139 females to every 1000 males; in certified reformatory industrial schools the ratio was 278 to 1000 and in workhouse establishments 655 to 1000.

In hospitals the two sexes were nearly equal, while in lunatic asylums there was an excess of females, 1140 to 1000 males, and in certified inebriate reformatories and retreats, out of 1357 inmates, only 304 were males.

Cretonne and denim are being used extensively in making all sorts of fancy bags for the housewife's convenience.

Valuable lace should be wrapped in blue paper. White paper is often bleached with chloride of lime, which injuriously affects delicate fabric.

Collars, cuffs and bandings of many exquisite gowns are finished with Venetian lace.

Trouble is the true test to manhood.

BIG BATTLESHIPS.

As Viewed From the Standpoints of Economy and Gun Fire.

A very important factor in the question of the size of ships is that of economy. A given amount of tonnage is more economically assigned to one ship than distributed among several. Three ships require three captains, three officers constantly on deck in charge, three men at the wheel and three times as many lookouts. While the same proportion—threefold—of deck and engineer force may not be needed, the aggregate crews of three vessels would nevertheless show a very considerable percentage in excess of one of the same aggregate tonnage. All this means much more expense for the same carriage of freight and passengers.

The same order of considerations applies to ships of war, but in a less degree, because naval vessels are not for purposes of gain. With them the running expenses in this particular count as with merchantmen, but the question of profit is replaced by that of military efficiency, as ministering to the safety of the nation or to the assertion of national policies.

Suppose one ship carrying twelve guns opposed to four carrying three each. With the very wide train of modern guns—that is, the long arc of a circle over which their projectiles can strike effectively—it is easily feasible to bring all the guns of four ships upon a single opponent. Probably she on her part may bring also upon each enemy three guns, a fire power equal to his, but the concentration of fourfold impact upon a single vessel produces upon her crew a corresponding physical as well as moral impression, diminishing their military efficiency, their power of rapid loading and aiming, not to speak of the proportionately greater chances of material injury.

If there be the same number of hits on both sides the one will have been struck four times as often as any one opponent. If, as would be very proper, the one begins by concentrating all her battery on one or two of her antagonists she ought to beat them down, but an appreciable time would be required, during which the others would be engaged in unmolested target practice upon her.—Rear Admiral A. T. Mahan in Leslie's.

"Say, Maria, have you noticed how this infernal cat jumps in my lap every time I sit down to read?"

"Yes. Well, I suppose the poor thing is tired."

"Well, the next time I go to the drug store I'll get something [illegible] for that tired feline."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Sporting Priest Bets $100 to $50

FORT MORGAN, Colo., Jan. 28.—Father J. F. Juily, Catholic priest, has deposited $100 in a local bank as a wager that Rev. A. H. Ballard, pastor of the Baptist church, cannot answer five questions concerning the Catholic faith that he will put to him. Rev. Father Juily's anger at assertions of the Baptist minister in a sermon about Catholicism is so intense that he he offered to bet $100 against $50 which he asks the Baptist minister to deposit.

The wager is laid in a letter directed by Father Juily to Rev. A. H. Ballard, which has just become public and which has created a furore in religious circles. Rev. A. H. Ballard has not indicated whether he will take the bet. The subject of the sermon was "Mediaevalism and Modernism in the Cahtolic Church."

Father Juily charges that Rev. A. H. Ballard does not know what the word "Modernism" means. He asks the Baptist minister to preach the gospel and leave other churches alone and feels sorry that he must tell him to mind his own business.

The Late J. R. Keene

History of the Famous Financier and Sportsman.

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The death is announced in New York of Mr. J. R. Keene. He had been in ill-health for over two years. Last Autumn when in London he was operated on by Dr. English, of St. George's Hospital, and he had since then been living at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York, in the care of a nurse. Quite recently he was operated on in a private hospital in New York for the removal of an intestinal obstruction.

Mr. Keene was one of the most interesting figures in American financial and sporting circles, and was a type of the "old-timers" who caught the golden opportunities of the New World when they were young and were there for anybody who liked to seize them. He was not exactly a "forty-niner", as he did not arrive in the West until 1852, but he was in at the early mining rushes, and lived the primitive, rough life of the gold camps in California and Nevada, when the "bad men" with their too handy six-shooters flourished.

Mr. Keene, who was born in London in 1838, emigrated with his family in 1852 to California. He had little luck in the scramble at the goldfields, and after some years of hard digging with little result he threw it up and devoted himself to work on the San Francisco Stock Exchange. Beginning slowly and carefully at first, he soon established himself on a sound footing, and began to make money fast. Then the "Bonanza" period came along. He was by this time trusted by everybody, and business followed him. Between 1870 and 1877 he is said to have accumulated a fortune of over £1,000,000, and he became president of the San Francisco Stock Exchange. Sighing for fresh worlds to conquer, he turned his face eastwards to Wall street—and, unlike Alexander, found them.

He did not find his path too easy at first. In his book "Millionaires and Kings of Enterprise," Mr. James Burnley says: "American operators were none too friendly in those days to invaders of their financial markets, especially when the invaders were British. .. .. .. But he simply went on his way, and in time was of the American as the best American in Wall Street. He had full confidence in himself, and soon gained the confidence of investors. Many rich men entrusted him with the control of their speculators when they saw how cautious and able he was in his operations, and the day came when Mr. Keene was almost as active in the creation or breaking of 'corners' as Jay Gould had formerly been." In the great slump of Northern Pacific in 1901 Mr. Keene was one of the prime movers in a tremendous cornering of stock, an although he was opposed to many of the financial giants of Wall Street it was said that for himself and his associates he captured a clear profit of £1,500,000 his own share being £500,000.

"Mr. Keene's triumph was all the more remarkable from the fact of his not being in at the beginning of the fight for the control of the Northern Pacific. Becoming aware of the contention between the Hill-Morgan influences on the one side, and the Vanderbilt-Rockefeller interest on the other he edged in between the contending syndicates of multi-millionaires and secretly purchased all the 'shorts' sought to cover their Northern Pacific sales there was no stock to be had. It was thus 'cornered', and the stock jumped up to £20 a share, and among the results were: a panic on the Stock Exchange, and a profit of half a million pounds for James R. Keene."

Mr. Kene was foremost in many other gigantic Stock Exchange manipulations before and after this. He was a big, strong man physically and mentally, and his successes earned for him the title of King of the "Bears."

As a sportsman the late Mr. James R. Keene will be best known to English race-goers as the owner of Foxhall, who some thirty-one years ago carried off the Grand Prix de Paris and the two big autumn handicaps—the Cesarewitch and Cambridgeshire. In the latter race the colt carried the welter burden 9 st. It was one of the late financier's great ambitions to win the English Derby, but though he bred some of the best horses that ever raced in America the nearest he got to achieving his desire was when he ran third with Disguise II, ridden by Tod Sloan, to his late Majesty's Diamond Jubilee, in 1900. Some seven years later Mr. Keene was credited with winning in stakes ed,' and hte stock jumped up to £20 some £75,588 in America, which beat the Duke of Portland's aggregate of 1889 in this country by nearly £2,000. On being apprised of this fact, his Grace telegraphed Mr. Keene his congratulations. Amongst the horses bred and owned by Mr. Keene in America were Domino, Sysonby, Conimando, Peter Pan, and Colin. The last mentioned won many valuable races in America, and was sent over to this country, but if memory serves me correctly, only ran once here, at Ascot, without success, and was retired at once to the stud. During the last year or two Mr. Keene sold most of his yearlings tto Mr. Harry Payne Whiney, the son of his old racing rival, Mr. W. C. Whitney. The last horse to carry the blue spotted white jacket was Castleton, a three-year-old son of Peter Pan, who won several races last year, and was sold at the Newmarket December sales for 2,800 gs. to Mr. Kennedy Jones, a newcomer to the game. Mr. Foxhall Keene, who succeeds his father, is a well-known polo player and sportsman, who won the Oaks in 1901 with Cap and Bells II., a daughter of Domino.

BASEBALL.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 28.—President Navin blames Tyrus Cobb not only for the numerous holdouts which have occurred among the Tigers, but for holdouts which have occurred on all other major league clubs.

"Ty has set a salary standard higher than the game will bear," said Navin. "If all players would guage their demands by his there wouldn't be money enough come in at the gates to pay salaries after other expenses of operating these big modern plants were paid."

Suppose on the Boston club, Mr. Navin argues, Speaker and Wood should demand $15,000 each, and suppose Wagner, Hooper, Gardiner and Carrigan should demand $14,000 and others in proportion.

"The money is not in the game," says Navin.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 28.—Because of what President Charles W. Murphy of the Chicago Cubs, has said and written, Frank Chance, manager-elect of the New York Yankees, is wrought up, and after reading the latest article by Murphy, sent a telegram to his former boss as follows:

"I consider it beneath my dignity to answer any of your insinuations regarding myself. However, if I hear of any more interviews with you derogatory to me I will shut you up as quickly as I did last fall. This goes."

Chance says he is weary of reading the innuendoes that Murphy is heaping upon him in interviews and signed stories and intends that it all shall cease.

Chance says that if the White Sox do not care to retain Shortstop Joe Berger, last season with Los Angeles, Berger can find a place with the Yankees.

GENERAL SPORTS

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 28.—Yale defeated McGill University of Montreal in a dual swimming meet in the Carnegie pool tonight 39 to 14. Four intercollegiate records were broken. Yale won the six hundred feet relay race in 1 minute 44 2-5 seconds, breaking the record of 1 minute 48 3-5 seconds. Hoadley of Yale won the 50-yard swim in 25 3-5 seconds, breaking the record of 26 seconds.

Hodgson of McGill lowered two records. He won the 220 yard swim in 2 minutes 29 2-5 seconds, breaking the record of 2 minutes 37 seconds. In the 100 yard swim he made the distance in 58 2-5 seconds, clipping off one-fifth of a second from the record.

Guelph Man's Sudden Death.

GUELPH, Jan. 29.—Death came suddenly to Ed. Palmer, livery stable keeper, yesterday afternoon. While hitching up a horse, he was seen to fall over, with what was supposed to be apoplexy. He was taken to the General Hospital and upon examination it was discovered that the main artery leading to the heart had burst. He died shortly afterwards.

Galt's Terms to Railway.

GALT, Jan. 29.—Galt proposes, among other conditions of the entry of the Lake Erie and Northern Railway that the company pay the town $3,000 for the land to be taken and also the expense of making the title. Mr. Brewster, solicitor for the company, replied, stating that the company could not consider the proposition and asked for a meeting with the committee or council. Mr. Brewster will meet the committee on Thursday

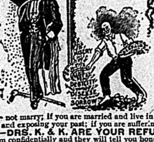
SOWING HIS WILD OATS
REAPING A HARVEST OF SORROW



How many young men can look back on their early life and regret their misdeeds. "Sowing their wild oats" in various ways. Excesses, violation of nature's laws, "wine, women and song"—all have their victims. You have reformed but what about the seed you have sown—what about the harvest? Don't trust to luck. If you are at present within the clutches of any secret habit which is sapping your life by degrees; if you are suffering from the results of past indiscretions; if your blood has been tainted from any private disease and you dare not marry; if you are married and live in dread of symptoms breaking out and exposing your past; if you are suffering as the result of a misspent life—DRS. K. & K. ARE YOUR REFUGE. Lay your case before them confidentially and they will tell you honestly if you are curable.

WANT A PUBLIC AUDIT

Liberals Refuse to Let Bank Act Go to Committee.

Debate on Government Measure Is Carried on Until the Small Hours By Its Liberal Critics In Spite of Premier's Suggestion That It Be Given a Reading and Sent to the Banking and Commerce Committee.

OTTAWA, Jan. 29.—Premier Borden's recommendation that the Bank Act be allowed to go to the Banking and Commerce Committee for a thorough discussion carried little weight yesterday with the Opposition, who seem bound to delay its progress. Whatever their intention, the Liberals continued the debate until almost one o'clock this morning before an adjournment was taken. Their chief argument was for a system of public audit.

Mr. Nesbitt of North Oxford somewhat sarcastically observed that the appointment of a royal commission might result in dispelling many popular delusions respecting the banks and the Bank Act. Personally, he could see no harm in bank mergers, and believed that in many cases they had proved a great benefit. He challenged any member to mention any bank merger which was not in the public interest.

Mr. Nesbitt, however, declared himself in favor of the plan suggested the other day by Duncan Ross of Middlesex, under which the banks would be required to make a deposit with the Government for the protection of their depositors.

In this connection, he referred to the Farmers' Bank failure and claimed that several Conservative members, including a member of the crown, had promised that the depositors in the Farmers' Bank would be reimbursed in case the present Government was returned to power.

Mr. Nesbitt said that he would vote for a bill if one was introduced appropriating money for the relief of depositors who lost money in the failure of the Farmers' Bank.

Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden said the bill could be best discussed in the banking and commerce committee. The Government did not say that it was a perfect measure, and would be glad to profit by any suggestions from either side of the House. Personally, he believed that the Canadian banking system was an excellent one, and this opinion was concurred in by financiers and public men of other countries.

Members of the U. S. monetary commission who had visited Ottawa had praised the system highly, in a new country like Canada that system was best which provided for a minimum of capital and a maximum of service. The Canadian banks had furnished the country with an elastic currency and had utilized to the full the credit of the country.

Mr. Martin, Regina, thought it was not well to approach the consideration of the matter in a revolutionary spirit. It was no use in those interested in banks coming before Parliament to argue that the banks were not making money. A review of the banks showed that despite what had been said by the Premier they were paying dividends of from 10 to 14 per cent. Under such conditions depositors should secure more than 3 to 3 1-2 per cent. So far as section 91 of the existing act, providing that no bank could collect more than 7 per cent., was concerned, it was entirely inoperative in western Canada. He knew of cases in small places where the banks collected as much as 12 per cent. There were now twenty-four banks, and a Government inspection of twenty-four head offices was not a very serious undertaking. Taking the recent case of the Banque Internationale, Mr. Martin stated that the people of Canada had come to the conclusion that something was radically wrong, and that it was time to tighten up generally. In the case in question some thorough investigation should be instituted. The Government cannot afford to permit men of frenzied finance forming their institutions and letting them go to the wall to the public loss.

Hon. Frank Oliver pointed out that the interest of bank shareholders was only $200,000,000 as against over $2,000,000,000 of the depositors. The matter should consequently be considered largely from the standpoint of the depositors. Mr. Oliver argued strongly for Government inspection and a Government audit of head offices.

Mr. Oliver opposed amalgamation without Government consent. What was needed, he maintained, was not less banks, but more banks and more competition.

Mr. James J. Hughes (King's, P.E.I.,) followed along similar lines.

The Government gave up the debate shortly after midnight, and Mr. Hughes was followed by Messrs. Lanctot, Douglas and Guthrie on the Liberal side. Mr. Guthrie's effort to move the adjournment was denied by the Premier, and the South Wellington man proceeded with his speech at a quarter to 1 o'clock this morning. He advocated the raising of the rate of interest in Government Savings Banks, with a view to securing a general increase in interest on bank deposits.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson finally moved the adjournment of the debate.

To Ask Dominion Aid.

TORONTO, Jan. 29.—The municipalities interested will ask the Dominion Government to subsidize the Markham-Toronto electric railway. The special radial railway committee appointed at the recent meeting here is arranging for a deputation to wait on the Government for this purpose. The City Council will join the deputation when it goes to Ottawa, which will probably be February 6th. One hundred members will compose the deputation.

MONTREAL MARKET.

MONTREAL, Jan. 28.—There was an increased demand from foreign buyers for Manitoba spring wheat at unchanged prices and some business was worked for February-March shipment, but the prices bid for May-June were out of line. The enquiry for oats was fair with bids from Manchester of 19s for No. 2 Canadian western, and sales were made to Liverpool at 19s 1½d for May-June shipment. A steady business continues to be done in Manitoba barley for export account. The local demand for coarse grains is very slow. Local trade in flour fair, but export dull. Millfeed dull with prices tending lower. Butter is easier with a fair trade passing. Cheese firmer, with some sales for export account. Eggs steady. Provisions in fair demand.

CATTLE MARKETS

UNION STOCK YARDS.

TORONTO, Jan. 28.—Receipts of live stock at the Union Stock Yards were 96 cars, 1814 cattle, 692 hogs, 184 sheep and lambs and 50 calves.

Exporters.

There were 37 cattle of export weights and quality that were sold at $7.10 to $7.20. Coughlin & Co. sold 4 cattle, 1430 lbs., at $7.20.

Dunn & Levack sold 11 cattle, 1420 lbs., at $7.10, and 22 cattle, 1340 lbs., at $7.10. The next highest price was for a load of 22 cattle, also exporters, weighing 1290 lbs. each, at $6.80, and sold by the latter firm.

Butchers.

Choice butchers' cattle sold from $6.40 to $6.75; loads of good, $5.85 to $6.25; medium, $5.30 to $5.70; common, $5 to $5.25; inferior light steers and heifers, $4.50 to $4.80; cows, $3.50 to $5.25; canners, $2.20 to $2.75; heavy bulls, $5 to $5.25, with a few reaching $5.50; butchers bulls, $3.75 to $4.75.

Stockers and Feeders.

One load of stockers and light feeders was bought by Charles Maybee and R. Wilson on order, weighing 700 to 850 lbs., at $5 to $5.40, but they were good quality and color.

Milkers and Springers.

Nearly all of the commission salesmen reported milkers and springers as being lower in price, especially the late springers. Prices were quoted at $40 to $60 for the bulk, and as high as $70 to $75 for one or two choice quality cows.

Calves.

The market for veal calves was strong at 25c per cwt. higher. Rough heavy calves sold at $4.50 to $5; medium to good calves, $7 to $9, and choice at $9.50 to $10. The latter price was paid for 4 calves, 147 lbs. each, sold by C. Zeagman and Sons.

Sheep and Lambs.

Light yearling ewes sold as high as $6. There were 8 yearlings, 120 lbs. each, bought by Swift & Co. at the above quotation.

The general run of prices for ewes was $5 to $5.50, and rams sold at $4 to $4.50. Lambs sold from $8 to $8.50, and some common at $7.50.

Hogs.

Hogs sold from $8.50 to $8.70 fed and watered, and $8.15 to $8.35 f.o.b. cars.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Cattle—Receipts, 4000; market steady. Beeves, $6.10 to $9.; Texas steers, $4.75 to $5.65; stockers and feeders, $4.75 to $7.60; cows and heifers, $2.70 to $7.60; calves, $6.50 to $10.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 26,000; market 5c to 10c higher; light, $7.35 to $7.67½; mixed, $7.25 to $7.70; heavy, $7.20 to $7.67½; rough, $7.20 to $7.40; pigs, $5.75 to $7.60; bulk of sales, $7.50 to $7.65.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 11,500; market steady; native, $4.50 to $5.75; yearlings, $6.25 to $7.80. Lambs, native, $6.60 to $8.60.

FORGET STRIKES BACK

Financier Tells About Charter of Banque Internationale.

Granting of Certificate Was Delayed by Laurier Government and at Election Time Politician Came to Him, Says Sir Rodolphe, and Offered It If He Would Default In the Election—Investors Fairly Treated.

OTTAWA, Jan. 29.—Sir Rodolphe Forget, who was more or less covertly assailed by Hon. Mr. Lemieux on Monday, struck a blow in his own defence yesterday in the Commons and he hit hard. So keen was the debate that considerable excitement prevailed on both sides, and the Speaker had to call for order.

The Montreal financier denounced his journalistic assailants in France and Quebec alike as "jail birds," "drunkards," "morphine eaters," "blackmailers" and "men without respect for the marriage laws." He charged that the attack made upon him was a result of a conspiracy, and declared that a license to do business had been denied for months to La Banque Internationale as a matter of politics by the Laurier Government.

At the last general elections Sir Rodolphe contested and carried the ridings of Charlevoix and Montmorency. In the latter riding his opponent was George Parent, then the sitting member, and son of Hon. S. N. Parent, chairman of the National Transcontinental Railway Commission. According to Sir Rodolphe, Hon. Mr. Parent had promised that the Laurier Government would at once grant a certificate to La Banque Internationale if Sir Rodolphe would withdraw as the candidate for Montmorency.

Sir Wilfrid said that Mr. Parent had not been authorized to make any such proposition.

Sir Rodolphe Forget: "I did not say he was authorized."

Sir Wilfrid Laurier: "I do not believe he ever made the statement."

"You deny your bosom friend?" asked Sir Rodolphe.

"I deny that a certificate was refused on any such consideration as that just mentioned by the hon. member," said Sir Wilfrid. "The certificate was refused because one of the directors had not been duly qualified when he was elected."

"Let me say," retorted Sir Rodolphe "that the Hon. Mr. Parent came to me in the Chateau Frontenac about two o'clock in the morning and offered that if I would resign he would give me the license."

Sir Wilfrid again rose. "I know nothing of what Mr. Parent may have done," he observed. "Moreover, let me be plain spoken; I do not believe that Mr. Parent ever said anything of the kind."

There were frequent protests from the Liberal side of the chamber. These protests were drowned in noisy cheers and cries of "sit down," "take your medicine" from the Government benches, and at times there was great disorder, and Sir Rodolphe was once or twice admonished by the Speaker.

"Am I discredited in Quebec?" he asked, "by these attacks made upon me? If the member for Rouville (Mr. Lemieux) thinks I am, here is my proposition. I will resign my two seats and let him resign his. I will then agree to run against him in any one of the three ridings of Rouville, Charlevoix or Montmorency."

Sir Rodolphe, at some length, explained the business affairs of the Quebec merger, of the Quebec and Saguenay Railway Co. and of La Banque Internationale. French investors in the merger, he said, had nothing to complain of, as they had received dividends from the start and the concern was making money. The Quebec and Saguenay Railway, he contended, would be a money maker, and could be completed by the expenditure of $600,000.

Coming to La Banque Internationale affair, Sir Rodolphe declared that if the French investors were sustaining a loss they had only themselves to blame. Not five cents, he said, had been lost in Canada, but considerable sums of money had been lost by the Paris branch. He admitted agreeing to pay Mr. Daoust $200,000 for selling stock to the extent of $10,000,000, but the commission was to be paid by selling the stock at 102 1-2. However, Mr. Daoust had returned the money to the bank and closed the incident.

HAD PITCHED BATTLE.

Strikers and Sheriffs In Sanguinary Conflict at Rankin, Pa.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 29.—Deputy sheriffs and strikers from the Rankin plant of the American Steel & Wire Co., a subsidiary of the U. S. Steel Corporation, clashed last night, one man being killed and 12 persons injured, several fatally. All the wounded except two deputies and a policeman, were spectators. Not a striker was injured so far as can be learned. Among the injured are several women and a six-months-old child.

The deputy sheriffs and strikers collided on Hawkins avenue, one of the principal streets of Rankin, which adjoins this city. The county officers, armed with revolvers and rifles, and the strikers, armed with revolvers and stones, battled for an hour within an area of two street squares.

The rioting and shooting ended when the deputy sheriffs retreated within the fence of the mill.

Liberals Win In Tasmania.

HOBART, Tasmania, Jan. 29.—The Tasmanian general election, which was caused by an uncompromising attitude of Norman Cameron, an independent member among an equal number of Liberals and Laborites, has resulted in a victory for the Liberals, who have come back with sixteen members as against fourteen labor men. The seat formerly held by Cameron was won by a Liberal.

Youthful Thief Sentenced.

BERLIN, Ont., Jan. 29.—John C. Pennylegion, a 17-year-old youth, giving Guelph as his home, was yesterday sentenced by Judge Chisholm on two charges of theft. The sentences in both cases was one year to run concurrently. The accused pleaded guilty to stealing a watch and some money from a woman in Preston, and to having stolen a horse and outfit there.

ALLIES READY TO GO.

Delegates Have Handed Their Final Note to Turk.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—With the presentation of their note to the Turkish delegation, the date for which, however, has not been fixed, some of the Balkan delegates consider that their mission in London is ended. The Greek Premier, Eleutherios Venizelos, announced last night that he would leave before the end of the week, and the others within the next few days. The financial advisers and the military officers attached to the Bulgarian delegation will start for home to-day.

Despite this, the diplomats have not given up hope, and many still think that the Balkan note is another attempt to exercise pressure on Turkey, and that the allies really intend to await the answer of the new Turkish Cabinet to the joint note of Europe, a course which the powers have always advised.

The meeting of the allies lasted five hours, and the discussion was animated. The delegates reviewed the whole situation, and debated both sides of the question — the resumption of the war and the policy of delay, and trusting to time to solve the difficulties. The head of each delegation reported the conversation which he had had with Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, and reference was made again to the advice of the ambassadors to observe prudence and moderation. This greatly strengthened the arguments of that section, favoring procrastination, their view being that after the powers' note to Turkey, which was in favor of the terms of the allies, if the latter continued to follow Europe's advice, Europe would continue to give its support.

COL. MATHESON BURIED.

Solemn Ceremonial Marks Obsequies of Late Provincial Minister.

PERTH, Jan. 29.—With all that striking solemnity which attached to the obsequies of a military man, the remains of the late Col. the Hon. A. J. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer of Ontario, were taken yesterday afternoon to their last resting place.

Practically the entire population of Perth turned out and stood with bared head in the street as the cortege passed along through the streets of the city. Representatives of the legal, civil and military bodies stationed themselves in rear of the firing party and hearse. One and all paid a solemn and striking tribute to the memory of their dead friend.

Around the grave were stationed the members of the Ontario Cabinet with bared heads as Archbishop Hamilton of Ottawa uttered the last committal prayer, and the floral-covered casket was lowered from sight.

There was a detachment of the 62nd Regiment, 150 strong, who carried reversed arms, and preceded by the muffled drums of the battalion, led the procession to the grave.

WARDENS CHOSEN.

Yesterday Was County Council Inaugural Day In Ontario.

TORONTO, Jan. 29.—Inaugural meetings of many County Councils were held yesterday, the principal business at most of them being the elections of wardens. The following have thus far been reported elected: Bruce, S. R. Brill; Carleton, R. Cox; Dufferin, J. Bryan; Elgin, J. A. Jackson; Essex, Robert Atkin; Frontenac, Dr. Wm. Spankie; Grey, Dr. Mearns; Halton, E. S. Earl; Haldimand, J. J. Parsons; Hastings, T. H. Thompson; Lambton, J. H. Anderson; Leeds and Grenville, E. A. Cook; Lanark, G. Kerr; Lennox and Addington, M. Ryan; Lincoln, J. Lymburner; Middlesex, A. K. Hodgins; Ontario, J. Fallandown; Perth, J. Hill; Peterboro, H. C. Garbutt; Renfrew, W. H. Bromley; Simcoe, J. T. Simpson; Victoria, A. E. Bottom; Welland, J. Watwood; Wellington, — McArthur; Waterloo, S. Cassel; Wentworth, J. F. Vance; York, A. MacMurchy; Huron, R. McKay.

FAVORS SKELETON ACT.

Sir William Meredith Suggests Groups For Compensation Bill.

TORONTO, Jan. 29.—"My idea would be to frame an act that would create this board either with or without compulsory insurance until the employers became grouped, and then to establish conditions applicable to each group." This is the scheme of workmen's compensation which Sir William Meredith suggested that he might follow in making his recommendation to the Government on the conclusion of the inquiry into the principles affecting compensation to workmen for injuries. The commissioner thought such an act might be an incentive to an employer to be included in a group. He intimated that a beginning would have to be made somewhere, as it would be impossible to cover the whole province at the outset.

"N. P." an Accident.

GALT, Jan. 29.—Hon. James Young in his second book of political memories devotes a chapter to the origin of the national policy of Canada, and, in a little story about Sir Charles Tupper and Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, makes out the birth of the national policy to have been accidental, and its adoption by the Conservative party, dictated by expediency.

Anarchist Heavily Sentenced.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 29.—Carl Reidelbach of Salt Lake City, the man who terrorized the central police station Nov. 19 last with an infernal machine, was sentenced yesterday to twenty years in the penitentiary. The sentence was imposed after Reidelbach had declared he believed dynamite was a good means of righting some social wrongs.

After the installation ceremony those present were entertained to a bountiful repast provided by Thompson Bros.

During the social time addresses were given by the installing officer and other Grand Encampment officers. The I.O.O.F. band was present and rendered a number of suitable selections.

RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS ASTONISHED

RHEUMA ACTS ON KIDNEYS, LIVER, AND BLOOD THE FIRST DAY—AND OUT GOES URIC ACID POISON.

Anybody can afford to pay 50 cents to get rid of terrible Rheumatism Sciatica or Gout, and that's all RHEUMA costs at W. H. Lattimer's, and he says if it doesn't do all that is claimed for it, money back.

It's wonderful how speedily this simple remedy takes hold and how the sore muscles limber up and the swollen joints come down to normal Make no mistake—RHEUMA costs but little, but it's the best remedy you can find to drive Rheumatic poison from the system and bring back health to misery-racked bodies.

"I had Rheumatism for a long while, and tried many medicines but was not cured until I used RHEUMA. I cannot praise RHEUMA too highly. My advice to those suffering from Rheumatism is to use this great remedy, as I believe it will effect a permanent cure in any case."—C. B. Lanham, Sattes, W. Va., April 27, 1912.

County Council Meets

Council met at 2 o'clock, all the members present.

Mr. Charles Ketcheson moved, seconded by Mr. T. Naylor that Mr. T. H. Thompson, Reeve of Madoc Village be Warden of the County for the year 1913.

The motion was unanimously carried by a standing vote.

The Warden-elect addressed the Council, thanking the members for the honor they had conferred upon him in electing him Warden of Hastings Council. He was pleased to see so many of the old members back in the Council this year. There were a few new members and these would be heartily welcomed. During the year there would be a number of important matters to be dealt with, chiefly the building of bridges, money for which would have to be borrowed if we continued this year the policy that had been in vogue for the past year or two. He would ask the co-operation of the members of the Council in conducting the business of the county, and he hoped when the year is completed that the members would feel that the confidence they had reposed in him had not been misplaced.

Mr. C. B. Meyers tendered his resignation as a High School Trustee for the Town of Trenton.—Referred to Bylaw Committee.

Mr. Hardy, who is a director of the American Creosote Company, addressed the Council. In his opening remarks the speaker said his object in addressing the Council was to lay before them a proposition for the erection of a plant either in the city or the immediate vicinity. It was the desire of the company to locate somewhere in this portion of Ontario. All the company asked for was fixed taxation for a period.

Mr. J. Elliott, Manager of the Standard Bank spoke. He had known Mr. Hardy and his company, and it was needless to say that Mr. Hardy and company were of the best. He hoped the Council would be able to see their way clear to give the company the best price possible for the land it requires for the erection of their proposed building.

Mr. W. E. Tummon asked what the capitalization of the Canadian Company was.

Mr. Hardy—The Canadian Company is capitalized at $600,000 and at the start of the industry 75 to 100 men would be employed and from 200 to 250 men as the industry increases. He would dispel the idea that the industry was in any way a nuisance, as creosote is one of the best antiseptics and is conducive to health.

Mr. Vermilyea suggested that the matter be referred to a special committee of the Council.

The Warden said the County Council would do all in its power to assist Mr. Hardy and his company in this matter. It was a pleasure to have Mr. Hardy lay this proposition before the Council.

A special committee of the council composed of the following members, was appointed: Warden Thompson, Messrs. Farrell, Vermilyea, McLaren, Clarke, Gunter, Tummon, Montgomery, Ketcheson, Kirk, Nugent and Naylor.

The committee was instructed to meet Mr. Hardy and his associates on Wednesday morning.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Communications from the Prison Aid Society and Mr. J. Ross Robertson of the Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, asking for grants, were referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

Council adjourned until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Warden-Elect of Hastings County

Mr. Thomas H. Thompson, who has been elected as Warden of Hastings County for the year 1913 is probably one of the youngest men of the County who has been elected to this honorable position. He was born in 1866 in Madoc Township, where with his parents he lived for some time and in later years lived at Thomasburg, Hungerford Township. For the past seven years he has been a resident of Madoc village. Mr. Thompson is a gentleman who is not only well known and highly respected in Hastings County, but in Eastern Ontario. When a young man he learned the cheese making business, which occupation he followed successfully for some years. In this branch of the farming industry he has always taken a deep interest. For years he has been a director of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association and a member of the Executive. Previous to this he was for a considerable time an instructor in cheese making in this district. At present Mr. Thompson is a cheese buyer during the season, attending the various cheese boards held in this county and other places. Mr. Thompson is also a successful business man, being a partner with Mr. Tufts in Madoc village in the furniture and undertaking business. For the past four years he has been Reeve of Madoc village and during that period has taken an active interest in municipal matters. Previous to being Reeve he was for three years a Councillor in the village council. Since coming to the County Council in his capacity as Reeve Mr. Thompson has been entrusted with important positions. For two years he was chairman of the Finance and Public Property, and the Bridge Committees, which entailed considerable work, but which he faithfully performed. Some years ago Mr. Thompson was married to Miss Susan Guffin of Madoc Village. He is connected with two societies, namely, the I.O.O.F. and L.O.L., holding at present the position of County Master for Centre Hastings in the latter society. In religion he is a Methodist and in politics a Conservative. That Mr. Thompson will fill with credit the honorable position to which he has been elected there is no doubt. His host of friends offer to him congratulations and in this respect The Intelligencer heartily joins.

Presentation And Address

During a meeting last evening of the Y.P.S.C.E. Society in connection with the Emmanuel Reformed Episcopal Church, a presentation was made to Miss Gertrude Thompson, who has been a valuable member of the Society and Church, and who is about to leave the city. The following address was read, which speaks for itself:

To Miss Gertrude Thompson.

Dear Gertie: We shall always have to call you Gertie: the name we have learned to love because of its owner. We need not tell you we are sorry that the time has come when we must think of parting. You know it. You see it in our faces, you hear it in our voices, you feel it in our hand grasp. But we will not let sadness triumph over the fulness of pleasure your acquaintance and fellowship have been to us. We are glad that your new home, though far distant, will still be in this fair Canada of ours.

The anticipation that our heartfelt wishes, for your future happiness will be realized in the new relationship of life and new dwelling-place awaiting you, helps us to meet the ordeal of parting with happier hearts and smiling faces.

We, a few of your friends in Emmanuel Church, pray you to accept, as a small token of our love and esteem, this writing desk, and ask in return your affectionate remembrance always, and that now and then from its shining lid a white winged messenger may take its flight our way with good news from you and yours.

So shall we, dear Gertie, ever remain your loving friends in Emmanuel Church.

PROTECTING PANAMA.

Fortifications to Resist Attacks From Land and Sea.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 29.—Proposing guards against a land attack upon the rear of the fortifications to be erected at the termini of the Panama Canal, as well as protect the locks and dams, and the line of the canal itself, from an enemy who might land above or below the protected zone of the sea coast fortifications, a report has just been submitted to General Wood, chief of staff, by a special army board returned from the Isthmus.

The board has prepared an elaborate scheme of land defenses, involving the construction of roads for military operations, and provision for the rapid movement of the troops of the garrison of the canal zone to any threatened point.

Details of the project are necessarily withheld from publicity, but as soon as the report has been approved by the general staff, orders will be sent to the canal zone to begin at once its execution, so that the land defences will be in perfect condition by the time the canal goes into operation.

Change The Vibration It Makes For Health

A man, at odds with his stomach, tried leaving off his usual diet, and adopted a breakfast of and cream.

Grape-Nuts

His health began to improve for the reason that once in a while one will reach a place where the system becomes clogged and the machinery doesn't work smoothly.

A change of this kind puts aside bulky food of low nutritive value and takes up food of the highest value—partly pre-digested and quickly changed into good, rich blood and healthy tissue.

A few weeks' use of Grape-Nuts food gives one a degree of nervous strength and comfort well worth the trial.

"There's a Reason"

Read letter to right.

A DRUMMER'S TALE.

They Sometimes Tell True Ones.

A quarter of a century "on the road" gives one some knowledge of hotel life and the old drummer's experience with food is worth listening to.

"After 25 years service as a commercial traveller with its vicissitudes I found myself about a year ago very much the worse for wear.

"At that time I was suffering from nervous dyspepsia, my appetite was poor and I could not sleep, finally reaching a state bordering on complete breakdown.

"As medicine had failed utterly to help me I was forced to look into the diet end of it and what I learned induced me to try a course of Grape-Nuts and cream.

"When it was not on the bill of fare I asked for it and usually got it; so for several months I made my complete breakfast on Grape-Nuts with now and then a bit of toast.

"Improvement commenced immediately and has kept up steadily and now my general health is fine, better than it has been for years and I attribute the improvement to the use of Grape-Nuts.

"I have proved in my own case this food is perfect for stomach and nervous troubles and can recommend it to all my fellow commercial tourists."

Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont.

Although Grape-Nuts is not always on the bill of fare nearly every hotel has it in the kitchen and the guests can get it if called for.

"There's a reason" why Grape-Nuts restores health and strength.

NATURE'S ESSENCE.---Extracted From Forest Plants.

Nature's laws are perfect, but disease follows if these laws are not obeyed. Go straight to nature for the cure, to the forest; there are mysteries here that we can fathom for you. Take the bark of the wild-cherry tree, the root of mandrake, stone, Oregon grape root, queen's root, bloodroot and golden seal, make a scientific, non-alcoholic extract of them with just the right proportions and you have Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It took Dr. Pierce, with the assistance of two learned chemists, eight years of hard work experimenting to make this pure glyceric extract and alterative of the greatest efficiency and without the use of a particle of alcohol.

E. WILLIAMS, ESQ.

Just the sort of remedy you need to make rich, red blood, and cure that lassitude and feeling of nerve exhaustion. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery bears the stamp of PUBLIC APPROVAL and has sold more largely in the past forty years than any other blood purifier and stomach tonic.

"Some time ago I got out of health—my stomach seemed to be the seat of the trouble," writes MR. EZRA WILLIAMS, of Belleville, Kans. "I commenced to doctor with all the doctors at home as well as with other specialists on stomach and digestive organs. None seemed to do any good—in fact, most of the medicines did me harm. Finally, I wrote to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., who replied, stating that I had liver complaint with indigestion and constipation, and advised Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.'

"The 'Discovery' and 'Pellets,' have 'put me on my feet again'—seemed to be just what I needed. I could not have recovered without them."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for liver ills.

BOTH WERE MISJUDGED

How Husband and Wife Were Separated by Baseless Disagreement.

By GEORGE ELMER COBB.

"This is detective work, pure and simple, Ashley, but I am not even an amateur. Just plain John Birt, once a town marshal, now a second rate lawyer. I am your friend, though, and your wife's friend. And the friend of poor little lost Harry. Let me show you, out of gratitude for the start you gave me in life years ago, what real genuine friendship is."

There was nothing heroic in the speech. There was no false note of bombast. Richard Ashley, sick, disheartened, all at sea, had come up against the dead blank wall of "No clew" in a case where mystery and misery were pretty well commingled, and no visible thoroughfare back to happiness and peace.

Ashley had befriended Birt fifteen years previous, and the loyal fellow had never forgotten it. Ashley had married Lucia Ward. A child was born to them, and when Harry was five years of age, a baseless disagreement had come about. They had separated, Ashley taking the child in his keeping. The abyss broadened. They did not meet again.

Ashley went west with Harry and acquired a small fortune in Idaho lands. His wife he seldom heard from. She was heiress to a large estate, he learned. Too proud to meet her half way in a reconciliation, she seemed to have completely shut him and the child out of her memory. She led a hard, lonely life at the secluded country home of a stepbrother. All that kept Ashley in touch with his old life were occasional letters from the loyal Birt. The latter knew that the estranged wife was a sore subject to his friend, and rarely alluded to her. At length, however, a letter came that brought Ashley east post haste with his son.

"I have learned," Birt wrote, "that you have misjudged your wife, just as she has misjudged you. She pines for you and the child. I find, too, that Dunbar, her stepbrother, spread all the lies that separated you. He will do all he can to keep you apart, for by doing so he hopes finally to control the estate to which she is heiress."

Fifteen Minutes Later Birt Was Leading From the Place the Recovered Boy.

Ashley had come to Rockton at once. A slow fever had set in. Before Birt could carry out his plans to bring the separated wife and husband together, the boy Harry mysteriously disappeared.

Harry slept in the room adjoining that of his father at the hotel. In the morning he was found missing. He had apparently been carried down the fire escape of an inner court. The only clew was the discovery that a covered wagon had left the town, headed south, at midnight. All that showed the visit to the room was the disturbed bed, a taint of chloroform in the air, and a lot of gilt spangles covering the rug.

"I am going to find your boy for you," declared Birt.

"I can never go to Lucia unless he is with me," said Ashley.

Four hours later Birt was resting under a tree near the beach of a little lake about ten miles from Rockton. He had followed the clew of the midnight wagon and had lost the trail. As he now sat thinking over the affair, he confessed to himself that the "intuition" that most detectives talked about was slow in coming to him.

"Only one thing am I certain of," he told himself. "Dunbar is behind this kidnaping."

The speaker just then noticed a little red toy balloon sailing out over the lake. A second followed, a third and then as many more in succession.

Then boyish cries attracted his attention. A group of lads came into view, chasing another of the red spheres. One venturesome urchin ran into the water, grabbed it, exploded it, and waded to the shore holding the wreck of his trophy.

Birt watched the crowd gather curiously around the object. Then another balloon was espied, and they put off for it.

Birt arose, and strolled aimlessly down the beach. As he passed the flattened out balloon he noticed that a string ran from it to which a card was attached. He picked it up.

"Why, hello!" he exclaimed.

Water had obliterated some pencilled words on the blank side of the card. The front bore his own name.

"One of my business cards," he soliloquized in a wondering way. "That's queer."

"Shoot—shoot!" he heard a boyish voice call just then, and came upon a second group of lads chasing another of the toy balloons.

One of the boys had a bow and arrow. He aimed aloft. The shaft sped from the bow, pierced the balloon, and the deflated globe came to the ground. There was a scramble over it.

"Here, I'll pay you for that," he said extending a coin to the boy who had rescued the object. Then eagerly he inspected the card. It was another of his own. It had, however, got trampled in the mud. He made out these words: "In a lion's cage—send word—Ashley—hotel—Rockton."

For fully five minutes the amateur sleuth stood studying the card. Then suddenly he exclaimed triumphantly: "I've got it!"

He remembered that he had given Harry some of the cards to draw on. The words "lion's cage" in connection with the spangles found in the room at the hotel suggested—a circus!

"And say!" ejaculated the second rate man, "I recall now that Dunbar owns a half interest in a traveling show. Why, find a circus, and I find Harry!"

Four hours later Birt stood by the side of one of a dozen tents at the outskirts of a county seat town. He looked around him and swiftly bolted under the canvas.

Birt had just heard a circus peddler complain of losing his balloons. He also learned that there was a cage wagon inside the tent.

Fifteen minutes after that Birt was leading from the place the recovered boy. He had found him locked in the cage wagon and had opened a way to freedom.

Harry told of two men kidnaping him. He had overheard them say that a man named Dunbar had ordered them to lose him in some distant part of the country.

A circus peddler had tied his string of toy balloons to the wagon. A bright idea came to Harry. He reached out, drew the balloons towards the bars, attached what cards he had to them, and let them go up. There was an opening at the top of the tent, and they sailed away.

It was after restoring Harry to his father and hiring a man to guard against a new abduction, that the lawyer took a train direct for the home of the mother and wife.

He had sure evidence that Dunbar was a wicked villain, and of this he convinced the amazed stepsister.

Mrs. Ashley met her husband and son for the first time in ten years. There were explanations, forgiveness, awakened love, and the modest lawyer blushed when the reunited pair tried to tell him how much they owed him.

"Oh, I just did my duty," declared Birt, "like the second rate man I am."

"You insist upon that, do you?" cried the Happy Ashley. "All right, but one thing, sure—you are a first-class friend."

Militant Suffragettes Smash Windows Galore in London.

Bands Go Thorugh Various Parts of the City Damaging Property and Many Receive Rough Usage From the Crowds of Young Men—Twenty-One Arrests Are Made In Single Deputation—Excitement Is High.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—As a protest against the withdrawal of the franchise bill by the Government, the suffragists resumed their militant tactics last night. While a deputation, which the Chancellor of the Exchequer, David Lloyd-George, had refused to see until this morning, were trying to force their way into Parliament against an overwhelming force of police and were being placed under arrest for resisting the officers, other bands of women went through Whitehall breaking the windows of the Government offices, and through Cockspur street, where the great plate glass windows in the establishments of shipping companies were ruthlessly smashed.

The women also visited Oxford, Regent and other streets in the shopping district, where similar damage was done. Later post boxes were attacked, quantities of liquid being poured into them.

In the outlying suburbs, too, the suffragettes took steps to bring the cause before the public by damaging property. Twenty-one women were arrested in the vicinity of the Parliament building, but were allowed out on bail after the House rose. Most of the police stations had one or more prisoners, charged with destroying property.

The demonstration in Whitehall was not so large as some of those previously held, the force of police had a drenching rain militating against any great turnout. The wildest excitement prevailed, however, and besides protecting property and arresting the women who engaged in window smashing or refused to move on when ordered, the police had the great difficulty in protecting the women from an unruly crowd of youths who gathered and hustled every woman wearing the suffragist colors.

The entire deputation of 21 women, who attempted to make their way into the House of Commons to interview Chancellor Lloyd George, were arrested. The prisoners included Mrs. Drummond and Sylvia Pankhurst, who marched in front. Before starting on their mission, the delegates listened to addresses by Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and other leaders.

Mrs. Pankhurst said that the withdrawal of the franchise bill, including the Speaker's ruling, was a plot decided on long ago and Premier Asquith was aware of it.

WOMEN GO TO JAIL.

Three Irish Suffragettes Smash Dublin Castle Windows.

DUBLIN, Ireland, Jan. 29.—Three suffragettes, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Cousins and Mrs. Connery, who were arrested yesterday morning on the charge of breaking fifteen panes of glass in the windows of Dublin Castle, were sentenced by the police magistrate yesterday afternoon to a month's hard labor each.

Sylvia Pankhurst, younger daughter of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, chief of the militant suffragettes, was arrested Monday night in the act of throwing a stone at a large painting in St. Stephen's Hall, leading to the House of Commons. Application was made for her release on bail last night, but it was refused. Sylvia is the younger and favorite daughter of the "Votes for Women" leader, and recently made a tour of Canada, lecturing to secure funds for the cause.

STRIKERS ARE STONED.

Waiters Who Could Not Get Jobs Turn on Their Fellows.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Eight hundred striking waiters and hotel workers were stoned while meeting yesterday by a score or more of their own men who quit work on the strike call several days ago and could not get their jobs back when the backbone of the movement was broken. The windows of the hall were shattered and the gathering broke up in disorder. Later the meeting was resumed.

The stones came from an elevated railroad station opposite the hall and the men who cast them boarded a train and made their escape.

From the rear platform of the last car as the train moved away, they shouted back their grievance: "Our wives and children are starving," they said. "We want work; we want food."

Twenty-six of the crew of the German bark Pangani perished through the sinking of that vessel, by the French steamer Phryne off Cape de la Hague, in the English Channel, yesterday.

Roman Catholic prelates and clergy to the number of 200 from many points of Ontario were in Peterboro yesterday for the funeral of Bishop O'Connor. All the Catholic societies were largely represented.

Discussed Politics Of The World

Bishop Mills Says Germany Has No Wish For War With England.

KINSTON Jan. 29.—Bishop Mills dealt with the political and other matters of vital interest, in his charge at the Ontario Synod, which opened here this afternoon. The following are extracts from his charge to the clergy:

'During the past year the Mother Country could hardly be called 'Merrie England,' rather it has been 'Stressful England.' The sufragettes are ready to break either heads or windows, or do anything else that bad boys might be willing to do, and acting generally in such a way as to dry up public sympathy and injure their causes, making life unbearable for the members of the cabinet, and the trades people of London. Socialism too, over there, seems to have got a firm standing in the country, and there has been a disturbance of ideals, and the grumbling discontent, seeking for a share in the good things of life, manifesting itself in strike of the most far reaching character, more frequent and more dangerous than here: the effects of which are felt throughout the whole country. The people are no longer willing to remain disinherited; they demand a share in the common earth, a higher plane of living. So Lloyd-George, that brilliant, erratic, and anarchistic leader, has championed their cause, and demanded for them the unearned increment, which the landlords have been putting into their pockets.

The country has been kept keyed up to the highest pitch. Owing to the government's attempt, led by Lloyd George, to rob the Welsh Church of its endowments, which has aroused public feelings not only in Wales, but also throughout England, while his endeavor to throw an apple of discord into poor old Ireland under the name of 'Home Rule,' will undoubtedly turn the country into a settlement of Kilkenny cats, who, in the traditional way, will try to settle matters for themselves.

"Germany has been increasing her navy at a marvellous rate, for the Kaiser wishes to have credit of havin the largest navy in the world if possible, but he does not want war with England and has openly stated his opposition to it, and his feelings that the two nations should be at peace. The relationship between the rulers of the two countries, and the friendship growning out of that relationship will certainly make for peace. The people of Germany do not want war; they are busy developing their country, but the sight of an inland nation having an army trained to the point of perfection, building up such a fleet, has made John Bull anxious and suspicious, and has kept him awake at nights. England has had her attention fixed on Germany. There have been, and there are still interested parties, and a jingo press, doing everything possible to incite a war between England and Germany. I do not think, however, that there is any likelihood of this, at least in the near future. The socialistic party in Germany, which is a large and powerful body is outspokenly opposed to war, feeling that it would not be in its interest, but in those of the imperialists, to whom it is bitterly opposed.'

He discussed the real nature of heathenism, the Balkan war, the relations of the Christian nations, declared that England must defend herself, and congratulated Canada upon her naval programme. He deplored the worldliness of the age and referred at length to the church union proposed.

Sees American Theatre Panic

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—A London special to the Tribune says:

A. H. Woods, the well-known New York theatrical manager who is now in London, and who sails for home on Saturday next, predicts within six months one of the greatest theatrical panics America has ever known. He adds:

"It would not surprise me if before long half of the theatres on Broadway were turned into automobile garages, where people will store their cars while enjoying the evening at picture palaces.

"The whole trouble is that there are to many theatres in New York, and no plays to put in them that is, no successes. At the present time there are only four real successes in New York, and there are sixty-eight theatres.

Foe's Widow Comes To The Rescue

Mrs. Helen Longstreet Promises to Raise Fund For Gen. Sickles

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, widow of the famous Confederate General came to the aid of her husband's civil war foe, Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, to-day with an offer to raise $23,478 among the "ragged and named followers of Lee," to pay Gen. Sickles' alleged debt to the State of New York.

"The republic whose battles you fought will not permit your degradation," were her closing words to Gen. Sickles.

Sherriff Harburger addressed a letter to J. P. Morgan, John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Carnegie and the 450 members of the Sherriff's panel, composed of wealthy New Yorkers, appealing to them to aid aged veterans.

Williamsville Farms Sold

$94,000 Property To Be Marketed in England.

KINGSTON, Jan. 29.—It is understood that the properties in Williamsville which it was alleged were being sought by several railroads, viz., the Wilder and Reid farms have been disposed of to a local gentleman for $94,000, and will be subdivided into lots at an early date.

Arrangements are being made for the introduction of these lots upon the English realty market and one of the parties who is interested in their disposal has already sailed for England.

The announcement will be received with considerable interest here for if British capital can be introduced into the city it will doubtless mean much to Kingston in many ways.

A PRETTY MARRIAGE SERVICE IN THE EMMANUEL CHURCH

The Emmanuel Reformed Episcopal Church was last evening the scene of a pleasing event. The attendance was such that the sacred edifice was filled to the doors, the greater portion being members of the female sex. It was the marriage of a populra young lady of this city, namely Miss Mary Gertrude Thompson second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thompson who resides on Sinclair Street, to Mr. William Oliver Kerr, of Ernfold Sask., who was for some time a resident of this city. The interior of the church was tastefully decorated for the occasion, with evergreen and flowers and presented a most pleasing appearance. Rev. A. M. Hubly, Rector of the church officiated. The bride was given away by her father. Miss Pearl Thompson sister of the bride was bridesmaid whilst Mr. P. Mowry of this city did honors for the groom.

The bride was becomingly gowned in white satin handsomely embroidered in seed pearls and trimmings of baby Irish lace. While the bridesmaid was tastefully dressed in pink satin and ninon. The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue serge with hat to match.

Through the course of the ceremony Mr. W. H. Wrightmyer rendered a solo.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, the wedding party and guests assembled at the residence of the bride's parents where they were handsomely entertained. That the bride has many friends was evidenced by the numerous beautiful and costly presents she received, including a cabinet of sterling silver from Mr. W. H. Mowry and the Stroud Company. The groom gave to the bride a pearl pendant, to the bridesmaid a solid gold bracelet and to the groomsman a pearl stick pin. At an early hour this morning Mr. and Mrs. Kerr left for the west. The will visit several places of interest before proceeding to their future home in the western Province. The Intelligencer joins with all friends in wishing the couple every success and happiness.

Dead Dog By Parcel Post

BERKELEY, Cal., Jan. 29.—Done up in a neat brown package, a mad dog arrived here by parcel post yester day.

"Mad," it was labelled, and so it turned out after the bundle had been examined by Dr. W. A. Sawyer, of the State Hyglenic Labratory. The package was sent from Floriston, Cal., where the dog had been shot.

Declare Hunger Strike

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Thirty militant suffragettes headed by "General" Drummond, who were sentenced to fourteen days jail terms for rioting last night, declared a hunger strike as soon as they were placed behind the bars this afternoon.

"We will die for votes," screamed Mrs. Drummond. "We will be martyrs for the noble cause."

This was the liveliest day Bow Street Police Court has seen for a long time. It echoed alternately with cheers and shrieks of frenzied rage from the throats of suffragettes on trial and their fanatical companions who jammed the court room.

"It is war to the knife," shouted one woman when arraigned. David Lloyd George and the police have lots of trouble before them."

Three policemen and two detectives guarded Premier Asquith whenever he appeared in public to-day.

Some of the women who had shattered valuable plate glass shop windows were committed for trial at the Old Bailey Sessions.

The favorite nickname given to the militant suffgragettes in London is "Bashibazoukesses."

Differences Between Bulgarian and Servia

BERLIN, Jan. 29.—Dispatches from Sofia to-day indicated that discord is growing up between Bulgaria and Servia. Several Bulgarian army officers have been assassinated in Macedonia by Servians during controversies.

Bulgaria insists that Servia give up the territory occupied by her army in Macedonia and allow it to be occupied by Bulgarian troops, on the ground that Servia already has more soldiers in the field than the Convention of the Balkan States calls for.

Dies Without Seeing Child or Wedding Mother

LEWES, Jan. 29.—John Williams, the convicted murderer of Police Inspector Walls, at Eastbourne, went to his death here to-day without having seen his child and denied the privilege of marrying Florence Seymour, its mother. He refused to confess.

To the last Home Secretary refused to grant William's plea that he be allowed to marry the Seymour girl to whom a girl baby was born after the man's conviction.

The clergy took up the matter and urged Mr. McKenna to permit the wedding, saying htat a felon's daughter was better than a nameless child but the Home Secretary remained obdurate.

Florence Seymour and Williams lived together for a considerable time before the man killed the police officer in an attempted burglary.

THE HON. I. B. LUCAS MAY SUCCEED COL. MATHESON AS PROVINCIAL TREASURER

Among the names for membership in the cabinet of Ontario in succession to the Hon. J. A. Matheson, are: A. E. Donovan, Brockville; Dr. Preston, Smith's Falls; J. W. Johnson, West Hastings; J. A. Ellis, Ottawa West, and W. K. McNaught, Toronto.

For the office of Provincial Treasurer only one name is proposed, that of the Hon. I. B. Lucas, at present minister without portfolio.—Montreal Star, Jan. 30.

Silver Plates Drilled on Bone

Workman Suffered Compound Fracture of Arm--Fell 25 Feet--Had Narrow Escape.

KINGSTON, Jan. 29.—An hour and a half on the operating table while a compound fracture of his right arm was being set by the drilling of silver plates upon the bone, was the experience of H. J. Shaw in the General Hospital yesterday. Shaw was the young man who fell yesterday forenoon from one of the inside scaffolds at the pattern storage building now under construction by the Jago and Harris people.

Shaw's escape from death is nothing less than remarkable. He was working on the construction of a new scaffold and stepping by accident on a loose plank was thrown through the air striking a narrow ledge or runway, about twenty-five feet below. He struck on his side within a few inches of the ledge and lay heavily. Had he stirred or even rolled over he would have fallen another three stories and would have undoubtedly been killed. The same man a couple of days before narrowly escaped being hurt under similar circumstances. He stepped on a loose bit of flooring and only by presence of mind in jumping to a beam and from there to a solid platform did he escape serious injury and probably death.

3 O'CLOCK DISPATCHES

TURK'S REPLY MADE PUBLIC

Intelligencer Special.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 30—The Turkish Government's reply to the note of the European powers was made public today. The Porte stipulates for the retention by Turkey of the quarters of the fortress of Adrianople in which holy shrines are situated but consents to the dismantling of fortifications. It also insists on the maintenance of Turkish sovereignty over the Turkish Islands in the Agean Sea, but intimates readiness to leave the settlement of insular regime to the powers.

SUFFRAGETTES MIX AGAIN.

Intelligencer Special.

DUNDEE, Scotland, Jan. 30—Well organized bands of suffragettes raised pandemonium during the ceremony of conferring the freedom of the city of Dundee on Premier Asquith here today. Stewards and policemen were for a time busily engaged in throwing women out of the building, and there were many sharp encounters.

MILITANCY THE ONLY WEAPON

(Intelligencer Special)

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The "suffragette" vote for women publication today says: "The issue depends on the women. Unless they are prepared to pay the price they cannot expect any help from the men. Militancy is the only weapon left us and its possibilities are far from exhausted."

UNIFORM CITIZENSHIP

Imperial Naturalization In Sight Says Hon. Mr. Doherty.

Present Anomaly Arising Out of the Various Requirements For Naturalization Prevailing Throughout the Empire Has Been Subject of Conference and a Uniform Law Will Be Adopted, Says Minister.

OTTAWA, Jan. 30.—That by concurrent legislation between the United Kingdom and the self-governing nations of the Empire a British subject anywhere may before long become a British subject everywhere was the gist of an important announcement made in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon by Hon. C. J. Doherty, Minister of Justice. His statement was elicited by the debate which arose upon a resolution by E. M. MacDonald of Pictou, N.S., calling for the production of all recent correspondence between the Dominion Government and the Home Government on the subject of Imperial naturalization.

Mr. MacDonald pointed out that the authority conferred upon the Dominion Parliament by section 91 of the British North America Act extended only to the naturalization of aliens in Canada in a restricted sense. The settler from the United States, for example, naturalized in Canada, became a British subject and so remained as long as he was in Canadian territory. If he returned to the United States or went to England or to any other place inside or outside the Empire but not within the territorial limits of Canada he ceased to be a British subject.

This anomalous state of affairs Mr. MacDonald illustrated by reference to the case of Hon. George H. Perley, who, he said, was slated for appointment as Canada's representative in the Imperial defence committee, and who was born in the United States, and despite his prominence in public life would become an American citizen if he went to the United States.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier: "Or to England."

Mr. MacDonald reviewed the discussions which have taken place at the last three Imperial Conferences and complained of the slow progress made in arriving at any solution of the problem.

Hon. C. J. Doherty insisted on the other hand that considerable progress had been made. He read to the House the bill which had been introduced in the British Parliament and which would be the model for similar legislation by the overseas Dominions. This bill provided that any alien might be naturalized in the United Kingdom after living there for one year provided that he had lived for four out of the seven preceding years in any part of the Empire. He intimated that a bill might be introduced this session. Such a measure would, however, only come into effect upon proclamation after similar legislation had been enacted by the other states of the Empire.

Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine, announced that the commission to investigate the pilotage system on the St. Lawrence route would consist of Captain Lindsay, Dominion wreck commissioner; Elzear Lachance, president of the Quebec Corporation of Pilots; and Thomas Robb, of Montreal, president of the shipping federation.

In answer to the questions of Mr. Chisholm regarding the sending of memoranda of estimates to Antigonish, Hon. Robert Rogers made the statement that the Minister himself did not authorize the publication of the figures. Senator Girroir had been asking for a memorandum as to expenditures, and the memorandum was forwarded in response to his request. Mr. Chisholm was not satisfied. He accused the Minister of "evading the question."

"The Minister did not authorize or send the communication," said Mr. Rogers.

"My question," said Mr. Chisholm, "is also as to whether his secretary sent or authorized to be sent the letter and its enclosure."

"I did not know that that had any bearing," was Mr. Rogers' response.

Mr. Chisholm again rose, when the Speaker called him to order.

THEY WANT SOME TOO.

Down East Provinces Ask Federal Authorities For a Grant.

OTTAWA, Jan. 30.—Asking for better terms for the Maritime Provinces by way of compensation for the territory added to Ontario and Quebec, a delegation representing Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, addressed the Privy Council at a special sitting yesterday. Attorney-General Grimmer of New Brunswick and Premier Matheson of Prince Edward Island made the argument, but they spoke also for Nova Scotia.

It was pointed out that the lands surrendered in 1870 by the Hudson Bay Co. became the property of the whole Dominion, and that vast sums have been spent in their administration and equipment for settlement. A further argument was that under the provisions of a statute of 1872, two sections in each township surveyed were set apart as an endowment for education in the province in which they were situated.

The Prime Minister made no promise beyond an assurance that the matter would be earnestly considered.

U. S. Citizens Make Complaint Against Quebec Embargo.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—As the result of complaints against the recent order of the Quebec Provincial Government, purporting to remove all restrictions or export tax from the lumber of certain crown lands of that province, President Taft personally will decide whether wood pulp and paper made from the timber affected will be entitled to free entry into the United States.

According to representations to this Government, Quebec's action amounts to a discrimination against American holders of crown lands, and to grant the free entry privilege, it is declared, would simply defeat the real intent of the wood pulp and paper clause of the Canadian reciprocity agreement. The state and treasury departments have investigated the situation, and will make a joint report to the President.

Real Catarrh Cure Furnished by Nature

HAS WONDERFUL EFFECT ON WEAK THROAT, BRONCHITIS, CHEST WEAKNESS AND CATARRH.

NEW METHOD VERY SUCCESSFUL

Late scientific research has brought forward results that seem incredible. Anti-toxin has reduced the mortality of Diphtheria to a minimum, and Catarrhozone has established itself as an absolute cure for Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, LaGrippe, etc. and thousands are continually being cured by its use.

It is a new method of treatment, that of medicated air, and cannot fail to be beneficial. It goes wherever air can go, thus reaching all the affected parts. It purifies as by fire, simply burning up disease germs.

Catarrhozone is a non-poisonous, powerfully oxidizing and healing agent; it therefore acts upon the mucous tissues of the throat, nasal passages, and bronchial tubes, destroying all microbic life, and at the same time heals up all the inflamed parts.

As a cure for Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, LaGrippe; as a strengthener for the throat, Catarrhozone cannot be equalled.

It is a guaranteed cure, and is highly endorsed by prominent physicians who use Catarrhozone in their practice.

Catarrhozone outfit, complete, consisting of a beautifully polished hard rubber inhaler and sufficient Catarrhozone for two months' use, price $1.00—smaller size 50c., at all dealers or by mail from the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Church Gains In France.

MONTREAL, Jan. 30.—Mgr. Archambault, who said six years ago that there were not more than six million practicing Catholics in France, has just returned from that country, and stated yesterday that the republic has greatly changed, and that at present the faith of the motherland is deeper than that of the French-Canadians. To his lordship's great regret, Mgr. Archambault also says that the election of Raymond Poincare is not a triumph for Roman Catholicism but a victory for the moderates and the humiliation of French Freemasonry.

French Steamer Disabled.

HALIFAX, N.S., Jan. 29.—The French Line steamship Mexico, which yesterday reported that she had lost her propeller, is expected by the agents of the line at Halifax to be here by Friday night.

Orders have been sent by wireless for the ships Florida and Carolina, of the same line as the Mexico, to go to the disabled vessel's assistance.

FARMERS TO ASQUITH.

Manitoba Grain Growers Stand Aloof From Food Tax Scheme.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Premier Asquith, who received the freedom of the City of Dundee yesterday, addressed a meeting of the constituents of East Fife last night. He dealt with Austen Chamberlain's recent speeches on food taxation, and said he failed to understand why the burden of responsibility was to be thrown upon the colonies.

"I do not believe the Dominions would consent for a moment to enter into such a position. A received a remarkable document from the Manitoba Grain Growers' Association, signed by the president, who tells me that it is an association representing ten thousand farmers in the province. These are people who, if food taxes were imposed, are believed to benefit by them," he said, and read the following document:

"The voice of Manitoba—hear what they say. Newspaper despatches indicate that a movement is afoot in Great Britain to tax foreign wheat in order to give a preference to wheat from the overseas Dominions. It is stated the intention is to refer the question to the overseas Dominions. This is a vital matter to the farmers of Canada, and as president of the association, I wish to call your attention to the resolution unanimously adopted on Jan. 8, that the convention oppose any preferential tariff scheme that will give western grain growers a higher price for their grain at the expense of the British workman."

Then the letter to the Premier proceeds as follows: "Manitoba farmers believe the British trade policy is a British question entirely, and resent any attempt on the part of Canadian interests to interfere with matters that affect the British people alone. When it was suggested that the question be referred to the overseas Dominions, we consider we should give expression to our views, particularly as the grain growers of western Canada are the largest grain exporters in the British Empire, and that Great Britain is our chief market at the present time. We wish the people of Great Britain to distinctly understand that we have no desire to place any additional burden on the British consumer for our benefit. We believe any preference given to wheat from the overseas Dominions will simply result in an increased cost to the British consumer. We are quite willing to face the world's competition in the British market, and anxious that only British manufacturers should be given free access to the Canadian market."

Concluding Premier Asquith said: "The relations between the Mother Country and the great Dominions have never been more intimate and affectionate. In the creation of the South African Union upon the grant of responsible Government to the Transvaal, we see the triumph of Liberal principles and Liberal policy, and throughout the Empire there is everywhere growing a resolve for closer co-operation in the great and common task of Imperial defence."

MARRIED AND DIDN'T KNOW IT

New Indian Agent Got Into Predicament Through Ignorance of a Native Custom.

On the old Rosebud Indian reservation, in South Dakota, they still laugh over the peculiar predicament into which a new Indian agent once got himself.

The agent, an unqualified "tenderfoot," was inspecting an Indian school. Noticing that as soon as he entered the room every girl present brought her hair forward over her face, he asked the teacher to tell them to throw it back so that he might see their faces. But this they refused to do, until, after much urging, one girl did finally uncover her face.

After school was over, the agent wondered at the strange actions of the girl who had uncovered her face. She followed him to his house, entered after him, and set about getting his dinner. As he spoke no Sioux, and she no English, he could get no explanation from her.

Finally, to his relief, the teacher rode up. Shaking with laughter, he asked the agent how he liked his new wife! Then the latter understood what he had done. In certain tribes of the Sioux Indians all a man needs do in order to get a wife is to induce a girl to uncover her face. The agent had proposed in the usual way—and been accepted.

In vain did the agent plead that he already had a wife in the east; there was only one way to get out of it. It cost him the equivalent of fourteen ponies to persuade the Indian girl's father to take her back again.

Married Women as Millworkers

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Dundee Day Nurseries, Mr. James Cunningham said he estimated that of the 36,000 workers in the jute trade of Dundee, 22,000 were women over the age of eighteen, and of these about 5,000 were married women. This was not a satisfactory state of things, but it was difficult to know how it was to be cured.

Clocks have a definite use

Some are made to tell you that it's morning.

Others measure time for the work in the kitchen.

Some are voiceless, others sound the hour from end to end of the house.

Some are a little larger than a gaod sized watch.

Others are big and bigger and biggest.

But each is intended for a certain purpose.

Needing one in your house?

You'll find what you are looking for right here—clocks of all sizes for all uses at all prices.

Walker and Rt. W. Bro. F. D. Diamond placed the apron upon the recipient. A number of the members spoke in eulogistic terms of Bro. Symons and the activity he had displayed in the position he has held. The recipient replied in an appropriate manner tendering his thanks for the gift which he highly appreciated. At the conclusion of the lodge work refreshments were served.

A GENEROUS ACT

At the County Council sessioin yesterday afternoon, Warden Thompson in addressing the Council said that he was determined in some way to recognize the honor which had been conferred upon him by electing him Warden. He had two propositions to submit and desired the members to say which they would accept. He would either provide a banquet, or pay the expense of every member of the Council to Toronto to attend the annual meeting of the Good Roads Association to be held next month. Some of the members endeavored to persuade His Honor not to do either but he said he had thoroughly made up his mind to do either. The members by a standing vote accepted the invitation to attend the Good Roads Association, and thanked the Warden for his generous act.

The "Y" Gives a Pleasing Evening

On Tuesday evening the "Y's" entertained in the Baptist Church parlors. Their guests were all ladies, and there was a goodly number present. Mrs. Ray, the President of the Society, occupied the chair. The meeting was opened by singing "Stand up Stand up for Jesus", afterwhich Miss Young read the Bible lesson from the 91st Psalm and offered the opening prayer. Mrs. Ray called on the Society to repeat the pledge in unison and asked how many were really trying to discourage the use and traffic of intoxicating liquors. As part of the pledge this promise should not be overlooked. The following programme was given:

Piano Duet—Misses Milne and Bogart.

Reading, The Master is Coming—Miss Helen Ketcheson.

Solo—Miss W. Riggs.

Piano Solo—Miss J. Milne.

Solo—Miss Helen Ketcheson.

Solo—Miss G. Caldwell.

Miss Gastrill gave a talk on "A Girl's Influence." She said in speaking of the topics assigned her she felt somewhat like the illustrious Portia who said "If to do were as easy as to know what were good to do, chapels had been poor men's cottages princes' palaces. I can easier teach twenty what were good to be done, than be one of the twenty to follow mine own instructions."

Girls are like flowers and the ideal girl may be compared to the snow white lily whose lovliness is a feast to our eyes and a delight to our souls.

In order that we may have a good influence over our associates, there are several necesary things to be kept in view.

We must be wholly consecrated to Him who loved us and gave himself for us.

We must have high ideals and never lower them.

We must be girls of principle if we would be influential, rigidly avoiding all untruthfulness.

We must also have a loving sympathy with our friends and be true to those about us.

Influential girls must be optimistic. A pessimistic girl is like little Sorrow who worried for fear it would rain next day and when she found the morrow fair worried lest when the storm came it would be fiercer for delay.

A girl's influence over young men is almost without limit. The reason we have not more young men of the proper standard, is because girls themselves set the standard. If we are contented to associate with young men of careless habits, indifferent to religion and often intemperate, are we not lowering the standard.

Miss Ellice Hopkins has said 'If to the man chiefly belongs power in all its forms, does not the woman wield as her portion that more potent but wholly silent and often unnoticed thing influence.'

Miss Green, Superintendent of the hospital gave an instructive talk on the subject of "Health". He instructions were well worth carrying out.

Mrs. Ray asked the volunteers who would assist as teachers at the sewing school or take charge of a Loyal Temperance Legion.

At the close of the programme refreshments of cake and coffee were served by the "Y" girls.

Women's Hair Made Glorious

PARISIAN SAGE STOPS FALLING HAIR AND DANDRUFF.

Nothing so detracts from the attractiveness of women as dull, faded lustreless hair.

There is no excuse for this condition nowadays because notice is hereby given to readers of The Intelligencer that Parisian Sage, the quick acting hair restorer, is sold with a money back guarantee at 50 cents a large bottle.

Since its introduction into Canada, Parisian Sage has had an immense sale, and here are the reasons:

It is safe and harmless. Contains no dye or poisonous lead.

It cures dandruff in two weeks, by killing the dandruff germ.

It stops falling hair.

It promptly stops itching of the scalp.

It makes the hair soft and luxuriant.

It gives life and beauty to the hair.

It is not sticky or greasy.

It is the daintiest perfumed hair tonic.

It the best, the most pleasant, and invigorating hair dressing made.

Fight shy of the druggist who offers you a substitute, he is unworthy of your confidence.

Made only in Canada by the R. T. Booth Co. Ltd., Fort Erie, Ont. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package.

All reliable druggists, department stores and toilet goods counters have Parisian Sage Hair Tonic. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package. W. H. Lattimer guarantees it.

Another Country Heard From

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The evident reluctance of the Balkan allies to resort to a resumption of hostilities is not improbably due to their failure to arrange the difficulty with Romania. Dr. Daneff, head of the Bulgarian delegation, who remains in London, will have another conference to-morrow with M. Mishu, the Roumanian Minister to Great Britain, on the subject of the Roumanian claims.

BUCHAREST, Roumania, Jan. 29.—It is announced that the Roumanian Government will wait until Thursday for a definite reply from Bulgaria. King Charles will then preside at another Council of Ministers to decide upon the course of action according to the nature of the Bulgarian reply.

Public meetings continue to be held throughout the country in protest against the weakness of the Government in enforcing the claims against Bulgaria.

Queen's to Honor Duke

KINGSTON, Jan. 29.—Queen's University will hold a special convocation on the 14th of February to confer the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws upon his Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught upon the occasion of the Governor-General's visit to Kingston and the Royal Military College. Queen's hockey team hopes to have His Royal Highness attend the hockey match on the night of the 14th between McGill and Queen's at Kingston rink. The Duke will be the guest of Col. J. H. V. Crowe, commandant of the Royal Military College, who is Honorary President of the Canadian Intercollegiate Hockey Union.

Scores Under Ruins

ELDORADO, Kans., Jan. 28.—One hundred men who had volunteered their services to build a tabernacle for a revival were buried in piles of broken timbers yesterday, when the roof collapsed. Fifteen were injured three probably fatally.

Expert carpenters had warned the volunteers that they were overloading the roof. Half an hour before the accident 25 women were at work, but they went to a nearby church to prepare dinner for the workmen.

TEN MILLION FOR AGRICULTURE

The Borden government has shown in more ways than one that it is deeply interested in the development of the agricultural industry of Canada. Hon. Martin Burrell last week introduced in the House a bill to vote ten million dollars to carry on the work of co-operation in encouraging agriculture between the Dominion and Provincial governments. This is the largest sum any Canadian government ever attempted to apply for the purpose of encouraging agriculture and is implementing in the most practical possible manner and on a broad and generous scale the promise which Premier Borden made to the electors of Canada.

The resolution which preceded the introduction of the bill read as follows:

"That it is expedient to provide that a sum not exceeding $10,000,000, be appropriated and paid out of the consolidated revenue fund of Canada during the period of 10 years beginning with the year ending March 31, 1914, for the purpose of aiding and advancing the farming industry by instruction in agriculture, including the work carried on by veterinary colleges."

A year ago when Hon. Martin Burrell first assumed office as minister of agriculture he appointed C. C. James, then Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Ontario and one of the best posted men on agricultural subjects in the Dominion, to make a thorough investigation into the whole problem as to the best means for the provinces and the Dominion to co-operate in encouraging the farming industry. Mr. James visited every province and conferred with the various governments. He has been working on his report all year and it is upon the lines of the report which he has prepared that Mr. Burrell is proceeding. The intention is to spend most of the money on agricultural education as the resolution indicates. The money will be divided largely on the basis of population and will start with seven hundred thousand a year gradually increasing.

The tillers of the soil will be further assisted by Hon. W. T. White's amendment to the Bank Act authorizing the chartered banks to lend money to farmers on the security of their live stock and of the grain held over for the winter. This change in the law will tend to prevent the congestion of railway traffic and the lowering of prices by a general attempt to market all the grain grown on the prairies within two or three months of harvest.

The reform should encourage the extension of the live stock industry all over Canada and promote the widespread adoption of mixed farming over wide areas.

Hon. Dr. Roche, Minister of the Interior, is also taking means to promote the western live stock industry. He is considering the question of a change in the regulations in regard to the forest reserves of the West. In all of the reserves there are large tracts suitable for grazing purposes which at present are not used. It is felt that without injuring the forests in any way these preserves could be turned to the advantage of cattle raisers and the farmers could be given short period graizng leases. There was also recently appointed a ranching commission which has been investigating ways and means of encouraging the cattle industry. Their report is expected shortly and it is understood that they will make a number of important recommendations with a view to developing the declining western cattle industry.

THREE GREAT CURES

From three of the world's great capitals come, almost simultaneously, reports which, if they are true, mean an enormous stride toward the betterment of the lot of disease-tortured humanity.

It is a remarkable coincidence that while the cable was bringing in news of Dr. Friedmann's struggles in Berlin to retain the secret of his anti-tuberculosis serum, the British Medical Journal was publishing in London the first report of the Radium Institute on the treatment of cancer by radium(and Professor Chantemesse of Paris was telling the Academy of Science about the remarkable success of vaccination for typhoid.

Of the three reports, that from Berlin concerning the alleged Friedmann discovery is the most interesting. Should Dr. Friedmann have succeeded in discovering a real cure for the awful white plague, his name will live for ever as among the greatest individual benefactors of humanity.

Year after year we have been told of marvelous discoveries which were to put an end to almost every human ill. Perhaps these may be of a like character. Dr. Friedmann's claim has already led to acrimonious dispute. We can only hope that these reports are based on facts.

A PLEA FOR BELLEVILLE

Dear Editor,—When reading of the death of our late Provincial Treasurer, Col. Mathiesin, I couldn't help thinking that our Member for West Hastings, Mr. J. W. Johnson, would be a worthy successor, in every respect for the position, so well filled by the late Cabinet Minister.

Being actively engaged as Principal and Proprietor for many years of probably the oldest and largest Business College in the Dominion, necessarily brings him in daily contract with financial matters and figures, making him eminently qualified for the office.

As members of the West Riding of the County of Hastings I am sure that we shall all feel highly honored in having, Mr. Johnson a Cabinet Minister, for every one who knows him, knows that he would be a very valuable aquisition in Parliament or elsewhere to our leader, Sir James Whitney, in expounding the financial position of our Province, or in any other capacity.

BURROWS of Belleville.

Belleville, Jan. 30, 1913.

In Memory of Harold Vandevoort

I remembered a boy a dear little lad
Whose spirts often made me glad
But lo: one day when he went to play
He fell and for two long months did lay.

We could not know what he had to bear
Our darling that we loved so dear
His little body became worn and thin
Till God did call Harold to live with him.

Can I forget this little lad
Who used to play within the yard
Sometimes with his cart of red
Romping with his comrades.

When up and down I oft would go
Harold always called "Halloo"
His baby voice I loved to hear
Ringing in the summer air.

But now his little voice is still
We cannot bring him back do what we will
It is for us to wait patiently and trust
Soon we shall meet him within the Palace of the Just.

It
MARTHA HARRIS.

BANK CLERKS FROM OLD LAND

Some Interesting Views as to Their Adaptibility and Qualifications

The London Bankers' Magazine published an editorial gravely weighing the advantages and disadvantages (from the English bank clerk's point of view) of accepting a position in a Canadian bank. Upon considering all the circumstances and conditions, the editor was disposed to think his young countrymen would in many cases consult their interests just as well by remaining at home as by going to Canada. He admited in the course of his argument, that salaries are higher in the Dominion but drew attention to the higher cost of living in Canada, the severe climate and the hardships under which bank clerks must work in new towns and villages.

One passage of the article read as follows: "To many in England it must often have been a matter for surprise that the Canadian banks should be unable to staff their branches with Canadians, but the fact is that the Canadian does not settle down easily to banking. He is more happy-go-lucky and restless than his English brother. Hence men from England and Scotland are preferred to him by the Canadian banks, in most cases as being better educated, steadier and more conscientious in the performance of their duties."

In order to see how the Canadian opinion coincided with these views, a writer on a Montreal financial paper asked high executive officers of several banks about the results of the policy of getting men from England and Scotland. At three different banks he was told the same thing—namely that the Englishmen were better educated, could write and talk good English, that as a rule they proved good conscientious clerks on the books, but that many of them did not develop the qualities required in the higher offices. Quite a number of them did everything "by the book" and did not venture to use their own judgement or to depart a hair's breadth from the rules and regulations.

About the Canadians it was said that they were more flexible and used their judgment more in dealing with the public. But it was a matter of complaint at each of the three banks that many of the Canadian applicants for positions were backward in ordinary public school or high school education.

CANADIAN IN CONGRESS

Former Ontario School Teacher Achieves Success Across Border

From a teacher's desk in a country schoolhouse in Mono Township, Dufferin County, Ontario, to a desk in the capitol at Washington, D.C., is more than a few steps up the ladder of fame.

To some extent at least Robert G. Bremner's political ambition has been realized and it must afford him considerable satisfaction to look back over twenty years when not much more than a boy he taught school at Granger, which was then as it is today, nothing more than a post office at the corner of a sideroad, and a concession line. It was in those days that "Bob's" ambition took root, and as day after day he gazed across the green fields and the wooded hills of Mono, he could see greener pastures and greater opportunities far beyond.

"Bob" Bremner—now Congressman Bremner—was the oldest of a family of eleven. He was born in Scotland but came to Canada with his parents when about four years old. His widowed mother still resides at the old farm on the Prince of Wales Road, near Camilla, Ontario.

About 1895 "Bob" went to the States to seek his fortune, finally landing in Paterson, New Jersey, where he became editor and proprietor of the Passaic Daily Herald. He had had some experience at stump speaking in Ontario and turned naturally to politics, casting in his lot with the Democrats, and now he finds himself representing a New Jersey district at Washington. "Bob's" education consisted of a primary training in the little red school house and a couple of terms in the High School at Orangeville, where he was a general favorite, as the result of his genial manner, and where he proved himself a good debater.

KRUGER'S AMBITION

Hoped to be Napoleon of Twentieth Century, Says a Relative

Mr. Mark Kruger, of Pretoria, South Africa, nephew of the redoubtable "Oom" Paul, who was the soul of the Boer resistance in that fateful conflict at the beginning of the century, made some interesting statements while in Montreal recently.

"Probably it was never known," said Mr. Kruger, "that my uncle's ambition was to be the Napoleon Bonaparte of the twentieth century. Actuated first of all by motives of local patriotism, the success which crowned his early efforts led him to believe that he was a predestined military genius."

"In my opinion," continued the Boer leader's nephew, "it was this overwhelming ambition that proved to be Paul Kruger's worst enemy. He dreamed of driving Britain from Africa and then consolidating the whole southern half of that continent into a great Dutch republic of which he would be practical dictator. With this foundation upon which to build Oom Paul, planned foreign expansion. He had his eye on India, that gem in the crown of Britain, to which country he was an inveterate enemy."

A motorboat of 200 tons register was launched in England for the use of British consular officers in Africa.

TO DESTROY CITIES BY LIQUID FIRE

Use of Improved Aeroplane Will Make War More Hideous Than Ever Before

Vague, ghost-like forms, darting across the sky at 150 miles an hour; bombs and liquid fire scattering death and destruction; cities razed, nations terrorized; immense armies helpless—such is the picture of the next great war between powerful nations, painted by the air man militant.

The fighting "fourth arm" has arrived. European countries predict that the balance of power will lie in the squadrons of the sky in future wars.

The improvements in aeroplanes of late has been wonderful. Britain, France and Germany, in their secret experimental stations, have wrought wonder machines with an offensive strength only guessed at by the world.

Since the discovery of the "stream line's" possibilities, the aviator has gone far ahead. Speed, ease of handling and stability have all improved with this discovery, which is the adoption of a model offering the least resistance to forward motion and minimizing the vacuum pockets. It was worked out by experiments in water, hence its name.

Aeroplanes in Action

Simplification of detail, perfection of engines, stability and increased carrying power mark progress. Trim, racy-looking flyers suggestive of strength have replaced cumbersome, flimsy craft.

One French monoplane has been taken to the field in a motor van, unpacked, assembled and taken to the air in 14 minutes. Another folds its wings like a beetle, which it resembles.

Bomb-dropping has reached the point where a passenger, sitting behind the air pilot, his head protected by a metal shield, drops bombs from a trap between his feet, carrying a supply of explosives in racks on either side of his seat.

The armored plane is here. It consists of a metal body, protected beneath by strips of light, tough metal capable of deflecting a rifle bullet. But the best protection lies in the terrific speed. At 125 to 150 miles an hour a monoplane up 1,000 or 5,000 feet is an elusive target.

But bombs, even the most powerful, are not effective against modern forts. Their destructive radius is too limited. The most effective weapon is liquid fire. A gasoline bomb which bursts into flame upon impact is the terrible weapon proposed for the aerial navy. A rain of these would quickly destroy a city.

Equipped with a noiseless engine, which is the next forward step, with search-light flashing for a second and then disappearing, an aeroplane at night, travelling 125 miles an hour, offers a poor target, while battleship, cruiser or unprotected city lies at its mercy.

The great value of the sky squadron lies in its mobility. It may be 500 miles away to-morrow, scattering death and destruction from the heights of their invisible air lanes, darting away with the speed of the wind when their work is completed.

SPORTING NEWS

HOCKEY.

KINGSTON C. I. TO-MORROW NIGHT.

A close game between the Kingston Collegiate team and the local boys is scheduled for to-morrow night. While the visitors will come here in the role the "unvanquished", (so to speak) it is no material sign that they will wrest the laurels from the Belleville bunch. It is to be admitted that to-morrow night's game is to be of a different calibre than that pulled off here on last Monday night, but this should not deter the locals from putting up the game of their lives, and in consequence hand Kingston a taste of defeat for change of menu. It is up to you, boys. Now, make good.

ANOTHER CHALLENGE.

The Holloway Street Church challenge the "Printers" of this city to a game of hockey on some day in the near future.

The line-up:
Goal—C. Stratton.
Point—L. Geroux.
Cover Point—M. Vandervoort.
Rover—W. Finkle.
Centre—R. Cronk.
L. Wing—W. Vandervoort.
R. Wing—R. Minns.

Printers' Comment: The above challenge has recently come to hand, which no doubt the Printers will accept. The manager of the team, who is at present suffering from a serious accident to a finger, incurred while working in the establishment where he is employed, is somewhat incapacitated, but nevertheless will decide a date for the match in the near future.

The "Printers" will be pleased to meet the "Bakers" in the much discussed game of hockey at the Arena Saturday evening between the hours of 6 and 7, providing of course, the rink can be procured, and the suggestion meets with the "Bakers'" approval.

QUINTE H. S. LEAGUE.

Trenton, Jan. 29.—Representatives from Belleville, Deseronto and Trenton High Schools and Picton and Napanee Collegiate Institutes met at Trenton and arranged a schedule for the Quinte High School League, as follows:

PICTON AND FRONTENACS.

Kingston, January 29—The Picton-Frontenac game in the junior O. H. A. series has now every chance of being played and a couple of days of this weather ought to give really fast ice. Frontenacs are regarded as sure winners against Picton, although the locals have had no practice since their last game.

The defeat of Picton here by the K. C.I. was not a fair test as the ice was very bad and the scores were nearly all made after their rover, Burns, went off the ice. They may show some startling qualities when they meet Frontenacs.

K.C.I. has come over Picton in a second contest and that on their own ice. The score, 9 to 5, showed where the two teams really stood. Frontenacs will be out on Friday to raise a larger score than K.C.I.

COBOURG WON AT TRENTON.

Trenton, Jan. 29.—A fast and clean game was played here tonight in the Intermediate series of the O. H. A., Cobourg beating the locals 6 to 4. Armstrong made his appearance on the ice, and his appearance seemed to give his comrades courage. The teams:

Cobourg—Goal, Patton, point, Payne; cover, Bulger; centre, Glidder; rover, Lavis; right, Cunningham; left, Freeman.

KINGSTON C. I. BEAT PICTON.

Picton, Jan. 29.—In an O.H.A. junior game between Kingston Collegiate Institute and Picton the former team won by 9 to 5. The half-time score was 3 to 3. The teams:

Kingston—Goal, G. Stewart; point, R. Stewart; cover, Brownfield; rover, E. Cook; centre, Stewart; right, Williams; left, Teland.

Referee—Burgoyne of Toronto.

ORILLIA 17; PARKDALE 5.

Orillia, Jan. 29.—On fast ice here last night the locals defeated Parkdale Canoe Club in an exhibition junior game by 17 to 5. The half-time score was 8 to 2. The teams:

Orillia—Goal, Cooke; point, Reid; cover, McNab; centre, Tudhope; rover, Butterfield; left, Thornton; right, Jupp.

SPECTATOR'S FALL.

Brussels, Jan. 29.—While viewing a hockey match in the Brussels rink, J. Currie had the misfortune to fall from the gallery, sustaining serious injuries. Mr. Currie had become very enthusiastic over the game, and in his eagerness was leaning over the wire netting which surrounds the gallery, when suddenly the wire broke and he fell to the ice below, a distance of about ten feet.

He was picked up in a helpless condition and removed to his home, where it was found that he had broken his thigh. Mr. Currie is one of the leading merchants of that town.

WIARTON AND MOUNT FOREST.

Mount Forest, Jan. 29.—In an intermediate O. H. A. game played here between Wiarton and the home team, the score resulted in a tie, four all. The return game is to be played in Wiarton on Friday night. The teams:

Wiarton—Goal, Nimmo; point, Gilmer; cover, W. Ashley; rover, Meyers; centre, R. Simmie; wings, A. Ashley and G. Simmie.

Mount Forest—Goal, Hamilton; point, McNiven; cover, Brebber; rover, Langdon; centre, Duffield; wings, Pennock and Murphy.

Referee—Cook.

Secretary Martin Rosenthal, of the Ottawa hockey club, has forwarded a communication to President Quinn of the N.H.A. asking that the association revert back to the old penalty system, when seven men hockey comes in vogue on Feb. 1st.

FROM O.H.A. HEADQUARTERS.

Port Hope and Cobourg junior and Strathroy Intermediate O. H. A. teams have dropped out because of lack of ice.

Parkdale seniors play at Preston tonight with W. Hern as referee.

There was no ice at Niagara Falls or Welland for last night's games. has not had any all winter.

Preston intermediates are out because of defaulting to Berlin on Monday night.

Watford juniors have defaulted their remaining games in group seven

University of Toronto seniors go to Kingston on Monday, Feb. 3, while Kingston seniors go to Peterborough on Feb. 5.

Blanchard, the Whitby amateur, has declined an offer from the Torontos.

Some of the O.H.A. clubs are now five games behind their schedules. Welland is that far in arrears and has been unable to get any ice whatever this season.

Most of the outdoor leagues will have to revise their schedules in order to finish the season before winter breaks up. Some of them have not yet played a game.

McGiffon of the Torontos is out of the hospital, in which he has been undergoing treatment for two weeks. He will not be ready to play for a week or ten days.

In the fastest game of the Maritime Provinces League this season the Moncton Victorias defeated the New Glasgow team on Tuesday night by 2 to 1 after seven minutes' overtime.

PROTESTS HEARD BY COMMITTEE.

Toronto, January 29.—The protest of Seaforth against the award of a goal to Goderich in the O. H. A. intermediate match at Seaforth on January 21 was not sustained by the O.H.A. sub-committee at yesterday's meeting. Mr. Edwards presented the case for Goderich. It appeared that when a Goderich player who had retired because of a temporary injury returned to the ice the Seaforth player who went off to even up was still in his own dressing-room. The penalty time keeper rang his bell to call the referee's attention, but Referee Cooke did not stop the play, and almost at that moment a goal was scored for Goderich, which was allowed. This was the goal protested, the ground being that Seaforth slackened slightly when the bell rang, and that the trouble was the result of the Goderich player coming back unaccompanied. The referee reported that he paid no attention to the timekeeper's bell, knowing that the time was not up, as the game was only a short time under way, and the puck is in play until the referee stops it. Inasmuch as it was the duty of the Seaforth player to return as soon as the injured man was able, the committee could not see that Goderich was to blame, the player having no part in the play, as was admitted. The award of the game to Goderich stands and the protest fee of Seaforth was forfeited.

"IMPOSSIBLE TO HELP MY KIDNEYS"

Until I Used "Fruit-a-tives" Worlds Greatest Kidney Cure

Practically everybody in Toronto knows Professor J. F. Davis. For years, the elite of that city has taken lessons from Prof. Davis in the art of Dancing and Deportment.

His constant activity gradually weakened his Kidneys, which calamity threatened to make him an invalid.

But read Prof. Davis' letter—

563 CHURCH ST., TORONTO, ONT.
DECEMBER 29th. 1911

"I want to say that "Fruit-a-tives" is my only medicine, and has been for the past five years. Previous to that, I had been troubled with Rheumatism and Kidney Disease, and had taken many remedies without satisfactory results. Noticing the advertisements of "Fruit-a-tives" I adopted this treatment altogether, and as everyone knows, I am now—and have been since taking "Fruit-a-tives"—enjoying the best of health".

If Rheumatism or Kidney Trouble is making you miserable, take "Fruit-a-tives" and get well.

The confusion of the timekeepers in the Hamilton-Niagara Falls game, which resulted in the latter leaving the ice declared winner by Referee Waghorne and then losing the ward because it was found that time had not been played out by four minutes and Niagara Falls could not be brought back to finish, was the next matter considered. Frank Robbins was on hand for Hamilton, while Mr. Evan Fraser, M.P.P., had Mr. Williams and Secretary Swayzie to reinforce him in behalf of the Falls. The committee declared the game void. If necessary to settle the group standing it will be played at Hamilton, the gate to be divided after the Falls mileage and the referee's expenses are taken out.

In the difficulty between Elmira and Berlin intermediates it was found that Berlin had entered into an agreement for local referees, which should have been adhered to. Though no ground was found for interfering with the result of the game as played, the committee deducted from Berlin's deposit the amount of Referee Zeigler's fee under the rules. Mr. Zeigler said he would turn the amount over to charity, as all that was sought by Elmira was justification of their stand. The objection to William Uffelmann of Berlin under the residence clause was not pressed.

Charles Langman, who went out with the Hamilton Alerts, made a statement of his age and asked for reinstatement, but no action was taken.

CURLING.

The two rinks of curlers which went from this city yesterday to Kingston to compete in the district cup competition have thus far been successful. They were fortunate enough to win two games, and were to have played off to-day the deciding game.

NAPANEE IN THE FINALS.

Kingston, Jan. 29.—Napanee won the final game in Group 1 Ontario Tankard series here to-day, defeating Brockville as follows:

Napanee.		Brockville.
R. G. H. Travers skip	21	D. W. Downey skip	13
Dr. Leonard skip	15	J. E. Chrysler skip	16
Total	36	Total	29

The Kingston lady curlers failed to play a winning game in the Whitehead trophy competition in Montreal. They were defeated by two rinks of the Heather Club, this placing the Montreal ladies well in the lead for the trophy.

IN TANKARD GROUP NO. 1.

Kingston, Jan. 29.—After several postponements, Ontario Tankard Group No. 1 games were begun here yesterday, with these results:

The final round will be played on Wednesday morning between Napanee and Brockville.

BASEBALL.

Carlisle, Pa., Jan. 29.—James Thorpe, champion athlete says his fondness and fitness for athletics will probably result in his making baseball his profession since participation in all forms of amateur athletics is now denied him. He has not yet signed with any team, although numerous offers have been made him since last summer. He receives sympathy rather than censure here. He has been popular while at the Indian School and has not displayed professional spirit.

St. Thomas, Jan. 29.—A change has been made in the control of the stock of the St. Thomas Canadian League club. A. E. Purton, who had one quarter interest, has, owing to his absence from the city, sold out to E. C. Killingsworth, W. Swift, and J. W. Chandler. The stock in the club is now owned as follows: E. C. Killingsworth, three-eighths; W. Swift and J. W. Chandlers, three-eighths jointly; C. O. Stanley, one-quarter. It is understood that the directors of the club still hope to secure the services of R. D. Emslie as manager. Mr. Emslie is at present on the payroll of the National League as an umpire, but not actively engaged in these duties, and if arrangements can be made he would not be adverse to piloting the Saints. He is wintering as usual at his home here.

GENERAL SPORTS

MORRISON BEAT LIEBENSTEIN.

New York, Jan. 29.—With only a queen and bishop, besides pawns, left after many exchanges, Jose R. Capablanca, the Cuban chess champion, last night was able to outwit Harry Kline of Boston, his opponent, in 51 moves in the seventh round of the Chessmasters' Tournament, thereby keeping his slate clean. Capablanca with seven victories, still leads the field by a full point. His nearest competitor, Jaffe, also won tonight by defeating Norman Whittaker in 27 moves, the shortest game of the series. Marshall defeated Chajes of Chicago and overtook Janowski of Paris, who had to be content with a draw in his game with Stapfer. Other winners were: Kupchik over Rubinstein, and Morrison over Liebenstein. The game between Zapoleon and Tenerwurzel was not finished at a late hour.

The schedule of play for to-morrow follows: Whittaker v. Chajes; Janowski v. Jaffe; Morrison v. Stapfer; Tenerwurzel v. Liebenstein; Rubinstein v. Zapoleon; Capablanca v. Kupchik, and Marshall v. Kline.

THE RING

KNOCKOUT WAS FATAL.

New York, Jan. 28.—"Chick" Rose, a prize fighter, knocked unconscious in Brooklyn last night by a blow on the chin in the sixth round of a ten-round bout with "Sailor" Smith, died early today in the hospital. Smith and the referee were arrested.

MOTHERS OF GREAT MEN

They Are Frequently More Remarkable Than the Fathers

The mothers of men of genius have been frequently somewhat remarkable women, more remarkable than the fathers. Cæsar's mother was "a strict and stately lady of the old school, uninfected by the cosmopolitan laxity of her day." Consequently, though the Cæsars were wealthy, their household was "simple and severe." Its greatest son "was always passionately devoted to his mother, who shared his house up to the time of her death," when he was forty-six years old. "Her influence upon him was doubtless great and beneficial."

Cromwell's mother was "strong, homely, and keen" of face; "with a firm mouth and penetrating eyes, a womanly goodness and peacefulness of expression." Cromwell "thought more of her than of any other woman, more than of his wife." She survived her husband thirty-seven years, remaining throughout her life to her ninetieth year by her son's side, "was lodged by him in Whitehall Palace, and royally interred in the Abbey."

Napoleon attributed "his elevation to his mother's training, laying down the maxim that the future good or bad conduct of a child depends entirely on the mother." Mozart, Goethe, Scott, Leibnitz, Augustine, Gregory, and Francis d'Assisi, all these had mothers of some note and fathers of less—Augustine's father was an "unprincipled scamp."

Martin Luther took after his mother, who, although she had a singular reputation for mildness, whipped him till the blood came for stealing a nut! Renan mentally was a true son of his Gascon mother—a small tradesman's daughter—although tinged by his father's excessive sensibility, and Emerson was two-thirds his mother, albeit from his father, who was a minister, he inherited more than a trace of eccentricity.

Bad cuts and burns often happen in the kitchen. It is well to know of a handy remedy. To stop a cut from bleeding, powder it with ground rice or flour, rice is the best. Dab soft soap on a burn; it eases the pain at once. No water should be used in either case.

BUSINESS AT PRINCE RUPERT.

Prince Rupert, British Columbia the Pacific Coast terminus of the Grand Trunnk Pacific Railway, is going a pace, and for a young city the business that is now done there is remarkeable. In one month 50 steamers called at the port and 81 departed.

A NEW RELIGION IN OLD LONDON

Man of Mystery Claiming to be Reincarnation of Ancient Egyptian King

A new religion, or rather, a religion which includes several of the tenets of different creeds, New Thought, Theosophy and Buddhism is attracting many followers in London, prominent among whom are the Countess of Warwick and Mrs. Cora Urquhart Potter, the celebrated actress. The founder, or exponent, of this ethical principal is one Thurston who claims to be the reincarnation of Sethi, the father of Rameses I., the first head of the greatest dynasty in the history of Egypt, the Nineteenth. Thurston claims to have devoted many years to the contemplation and study of Eastern mysteries, and is well fortified against the charge that he is a faker. However absurd his claim may be that he is the reincarnation of the founder of the Rameses dynasty, there can be no doubt that he knows more about Egyptian history and the salient facts of Oriental religion than any of his inquisitors. For several years he acted as the English tutor and coach of a number of Indian princes at Eton, and from them he may have gathered much lore. Also he travelled abroad, and it is said that he even made his way to Tibet, disguised.

Those who apply to Thurston for his early history are referred to the tombs and temples that bear the imperishable record of the career of Sethi. As to his more recent history, he does not speak. It is obvious that he is a man of education and it must be admitted that his physical resemblance to Sethi the First is remarkable. This is not a matter of mere speculation, for the mummy of the ancient Egyptian has been preserved and may be studied by the curious. As far as a mummy can be a picture of a living man, the mummy of Sethi is the picture of Thurston.

Thurston's ambition is to found a city on the Alexandrian coast which will be populated by those interested in his religion. To establish the city would require much money, and perhaps considerable diplomacy. Among Thurston's followers are those who could contribute both essentials. The city once founded is to become a sort of headquarters for the study of the occult. That is Thurston's object. One afternoon a week he meets the elect in a room in Regent street. He also welcomes the presence of hostile critics.

THE OLDEST BASEBALL IN A GLASS CASE

The oldest baseball in the world and the one that was used in the first championship game on record is now in the possession of a sporting goods house in Kansas City. After drifting around for 55 years, it has been covered with gold-leaf, mounted on a handsome case containing a placard with the history of the ball written on it, and now is an object of interest to the fans.

The ball is 10 inches in circumference, an inch larger than the regulation one of the present time, and is covered with one piece of leather. It was used in the game between the Intermountain team of Boston and the Portland, Me., team, September 9, 1857, the first championship game ever played, which was won by the Portland club, 47 to 42.

It was the first game in which the nine-innings rules prevailed, and the first one in which the ball was pitched instead of tossed. The game was played on Boston Commons.

The ball was formerly owned by Josh Westerhouse of Dunlap, Kas., who, at the age of 13 years, was bat boy for the Intermountain men. He obtained possession of it after the game, and when he moved to Kansas several years later brought the ball with him. Years ago he gave it to P. M. Wilhite of Emporia, who has owned it since.

Several years ago August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati club after a search lasting for several years, found a ball which he said was the oldest in existence, having been used in a game in 1860.

RIEL VETERAN DEAD

Thomas Orthwaite, Recluse of Headingly, Dies Suddenly

After living the life of a recluse in a one-roomed shack in the village of Headingly, Manitoba, for over 30 years, Thomas Orthwaite, an old Yorkshireman, dropped dead while feeding his stock. Orthwaite, who was 73 years of age, owned a small garden by which he made a modest living, and it was while he was concluding the work of the day that he was seized with heart failure. He was seen to fall by a Galician woman, who called the attention of some neighbors to the fact. The deceased was a veteran of the Riel rebellion, and received a medal for his services in that campaign.

English Grocers and Tobacco

Grocers in England no longer sell tobacco, but for many years after the "sovereign [illegible]" theirs were the only shops were it could be obtained. Tea came in under the commonwealth, and from that time the list of commodities sold by the grocers began to extend considerably. "It was the first half of the seventeenth century," writes Mr. Aubrey Rees, "when new lands were opening up on all hands, that adventurers set out in quest of spices and other valuable products to all parts of the then known globe. The spirit of adventure and enterprise was abroad, and in no class of traders was it more pronounced than among the grocers. 'More blood has been spilt over cloves than over dynasties,' says Thorold Rogers."

HON. JAS. YOUNG DIES

Veteran Politician Passes Away Quietly at Home in Galt.

Former Provincial Treasurer and Widely Known Legislator Was Author of Priceless Reminiscences of Canadian Statesmen With Whom He Associated During His Long and Active Career.

GALT, Jan. 30.—At "Thornhill," the picturesque family residence, Hon. James Young passed peacefully away early yesterday afternoon. Death came not unexpectedly, as he had been in ill-health for some months, gradually growing weaker. On May 24 last he celebrated his 77th birthday. Full of years and honors as a forceful Parliamentarian, publicist, gifted man of letters and kindly cultured gentleman, his passing is deeply regretted in the community, in which he was born and lived all his life. The County of Waterloo and the sister County of Brant, whose able and devoted Parliamentary representative he was for long years, mourns him sincerely and deeply. He will be remembered gratefully as one of the makers of Canada.

James Young died veritably in harness. He has just witnessed the fruition of one of the great literary labors of his life—publication of the final volume of his work, "Public Life and Public Men in Canada," an historical review, comprehensive in scope, interesting in details, refreshing in tone and a model of plain, terse dictum becoming the ripe scholar and trained journalist.

Hon. James Young rose from the ranks and was essentially a self-made man. From printer's apprenticeship to editorship and ownership of the newspaper in which he worked was his first achievement. He made no secret of cherished ambition to become a public man, and through various municipal offices he won his way to Parliament.

At the first general elections after Confederation in 1867, he was elected to represent South Waterloo in the Commons, and in the general elections of 1872 and 1874 was re-elected by acclamation. Defeated at the general election of 1878 by a small majority, he was presented by Reformers of the riding with a service of plate in recognition of his self-denying efforts. While in the Commons he took an active part in the conduct of business, more especially during the five years of the Mackenzie administration. He was chairman of two important committees of public works and committee of the whole House in supply.

At the provincial general elections in 1879, he was returned to the Legislature for North Brant. Re-elected at the general elections in 1883, he entered Sir Oliver Mowat's Cabinet as Provincial Treasurer on June 2 and was re-elected after accepting office. Owing to the sudden illness he resigned, the Treasureship and retired from the Government in October following, but remained a member of the House till the close of the fifth Legislature in 1886 when he declined renomination.

He was all his life a contributor to leading magazines and journals, and was the author of much literature dealing with trade questions and international relationships, always taking the Canadian view. For 37 years he was president of the Gore District Fire Insurance Co.

FIELDING ON IMPERIALISM.

Believes Federation Scheme Will Eventually Be Evolved.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—Hon. W. S. Fielding takes over four columns in The Morning Post to reply to the critics of his assertions on reciprocity. "Imperial Federation is a magnificent dream," he says in conclusion, "and, we are all better for dreaming it." I am one of those who believe if we have patience, and are not too anxious to run before we have learned to walk, we shall eventually evolve some system which, though it may not accomplish all some Imperialists desire, will bring several portions of the Empire into closer union. But I am persuaded that in this movement whatever unity we may bring about, will only be attained by being content to have unity in things necessarily Imperial, and by leaving to every portion of the Empire the largest possible measure of local liberty. The trade interests and the revenue needs of the different portions of the Empire differ so widely that an attempt to create a uniform commercial policy for all would not help the good cause at all."

PAPOOSE WAS DEAD.

Indian Parents Surprised Photographer When Group Was Taken.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 30.—On Monday morning a well-dressed Indian couple walked into the establishment of a photographer here, the woman carrying in her arms what appeared to be a baby. The couple explained that they wished a group picture taken of themselves and the baby. Imagine the photographer's amazement when the opened shawl disclosed not a living child, but a dead one. According to the photographer, the Indians did not appear in the least amazed, and calmly had their pictures taken, along with their dead papoose.

CATTLE MARKETS

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

MONTREAL, Jan. 29.—At the Canadian Pacific Live Stock Market the receipts for the week ended Jan. 25 were 2100 cattle, 600 sheep and lambs, 1425 hogs and 365 calves. The offerings today were 500 cattle, 100 sheep and lambs, 600 hogs and 300 calves.

Owing to the smaller supplies of cattle coming forward there is a much better feeling in the market, but prices show no actual change. The demand was fair from butchers for small lots, as most of them had some beef on hand. Choice steers sold at $6.50 to $6.75; good at $6 to $6.25, and the lower grades from that down to $4, while choice butchers' cows brought $5.50, and good $5 to $5.25. The trade in bulls was rather quiet. Prices ranged from $3 to $5 per cwt.

Lambs were in good demand at stronger prices, an advance of 25c per cwt. being shown. Sales were made at $7.25 to $7.50 per cwt. Sheep were firm, but demand was quiet at $5 to $5.25 per cwt. for ewes and at from $4.25 to $4.75 for bucks and culls. A fair trade was done in calves at prices ranging from $3 to $12 each, as to size and quality.

Hogs were higher, owing to the small receipts. Demand was fair and sales of selected lots were made at $9 to $9.25 per cwt., weighed off the cars, and in a few instances as high as $9.50 was paid.

GLASGOW LIVE STOCK.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Cattle—Receipts, 14,000; market strong. Beeves, $6.25 to $9.20; Texas steers, $4.90 to $5.75; stockers and feeders, $4.75 to $7.60; cows and heifers, $2.90 to $7.45; calves, $6.50 to $10.25.

Hogs—Receipts, 35,000; market higher; light, $7.40 to $7.67½; mixed, $7.40 to $7.70; heavy, $7.25 to $7.70; rough, $7.25 to $7.40; pigs, $5.85 to $7.40; bulk of sales, $7.60 to $7.65.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 12,000; market steady; native, $4.50 to $5.75. Lambs, native, $6.50 to $8.60.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

GLASGOW, Jan. 29.—Watson & Ritchie report trade steady at the following quotations: Scotch steers, 16c to 17c; Irish, 13½c to 15c.

Norway's New Cabinet.

CHRISTIANIA, Jan. 30.—The new Cabinet to replace that which resigned Jan. 24 is as follows: Premier and Minister of Agriculture, Gunnar Knudsen; Minister of Commerce, M. NEGOTIATIONS ARE OFF

Balkan Forces Will Resume Siege of Adrianople.

Delegates of the Allies Are Convinced That the Young Turks Are Bent on Continuing the War and They Notify Rechad Pasha That Hostilities Will Be Pressed to a Speedy Conclusion.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The peace negotiations, which reached a deadlock over the cession of Adrianople on Jan. 6, were finally broken yesterday by a note which the plenipotentiaries of the allied Balkan nations presented to Rechad Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation.

Notwithstanding this rupture, there are optimists in the diplomatic world who hope that a resumption of the war may yet be averted, either through fresh proposals that Turkey is reported to be including in the note which she will deliver to the powers to-day, or through the fall of Adrianople before activities can be begun again at the Tchatalja lines.

A majority of the Balkan delegates refused to admit the likelihood of either contingency, believing that the life of the Young Turk Government depends on the resumption of the war, even though the allies were willing to postpone the conflict. They are of the opinion that the present failure of diplomacy is at the least only an interlude, however, for they will leave four representatives in London to undertake the settlement anew.

Rechad Pasha, after receiving the note, said:

"The consequences may be of the gravest nature. The responsibility lies not alone with the allies, but with the powers, who encouraged the Balkan states and have shown no fairness towards Turkey, although before the war they had solemnly proclaimed the principle of the unchangeability of the status quo."

The plan of the allies so far as the plenipotentiaries are informed is to concentrate their forces on Adrianople immediately after the expiration of the prescribed four days, if the surrender of that fortress does not occur in the meantime. They believe that a few days' bombardment by the big siege batteries, which now surround Adrianople will bring about the capitulation of the place.

The Balkan representatives declare that all the reports that Roumania would aid Bulgaria against Turkey are unfounded and they add that if Roumania should take advantage of the opportunity to gain her territorial claims by force while the Bulgarian army is engaged with Turkey, Bulgaria would let her occupy the territory she demands. But as soon as the Bulgarian army disposed of the Turks, the Bulgars would turn their attention to the Roumanians and attempt to make them pay dearly for this racial disloyalty, which the Bulgarians consider would be treason.

INCITING THE BULGARS.

Gen. Savoff Warns Men to Prepare For Hostilities.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Jan. 30.—General Savoff, commander-in-chief of the Bulgarian army, yesterday addressed the following communication to the men under his command:

"From the course taken by the peace negotiations it becomes evident that the enemy is unwilling to yield an inch of the territory conquered by our victorious armies

"The Turks wish, by a stroke of the pen, to destroy all that you and your brave brothers who have fallen in battle have won.

"Will the heroes of Kirk Kilisseh, Bunarhissar, Lule Burgas and Tchatalja allow this affront to the glorious army of Bulgaria to go unanswered?

"Prepare, then, for fresh victories and with your irresistible movement forward show the enemies and the whole world that Bulgaria, our fatherland, deserves more respect."

STUFFED BALLOTS.

Ottawa Election Crooks Were Amateurish Bunglers.

OTTAWA, Jan. 30.—A warrant was yesterday afternoon issued for Jos. F. Durocher, son of ex-Mayor Durocher, on a charge of ballot-box stuffing in the recent civic election. Durocher was returning officer at a poll in Ottawa ward. Mayor Ellis suspected irregularities and called in Provincial Detective Reburn, who has been on the case for several days.

After the late municipal election Mayor Ellis stated he had his suspicions of something wrong in Ottawa ward. Last year the vote was 1,132 ,and this year it was 1,077, and Mr. Ellis considered that this increase was not justified.

It is said there were cases where the same voters cast their ballots as many as four times at the same poll. The parties responsible for this, it is further stated, did their work in a most clumsy manner.

On Same Jury—Never.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 30.—It is not proper for husband and wife to sit on the same jury, according to a decision made yesterday in a damage case in the Superior Court. Judge Gilliam permitted counsel for the plaintiff to challenge Mrs. J. D. Dean of Kent, whose husband has been accepted as a juror.

May Escape Extradition.

MONTREAL, Jan. 30.—Unless the U. S. Government has proof sufficient to warrant the further extension of the case. Extradition Commissioner Choquet on Tuesday next will discharge Henry H. Bell, who two weeks ago was arrested on the charge of having killed a woman in Chicago two years ago.

LAWSUITS FOR FORGET.

French Investers Make Raid on Montreal Financier.

MONTREAL, Jan. 30.—Sir Rodolphe Forget, La Banque Nationale, and the late French shareholders of the latter institution, jumped into the limelight of the local courts yesterday, on presentation of an avalanche of motions and petitions, on behalf of dissatisfied former shareholders of the bank.

The petitions have for their object the quashing of the recent seizure before judgment, taken out by Sir Rodolphe Forget against the French stockholders, in order to tie up certain funds at present in the hands of J. E. Martin, K.C., Canadian representative of these ex-shareholders. The motions all call for particulars, and would have Sir Rodolphe Forget forced to furnish proof of certain allegations made by him in support of his petition for a seizure before judgment.

There were 22 petitions and 22 motions presented on behalf of as many French shareholders.

Mr. Justice Beaudin, after taking cognizance of the burden of the petition and motion in each case, decided that argument should take place on Feb. 6.

In the various motions for particulars, petitioners ask that Sir Rodolphe be forced to prove when and under what circumstances the various debts alleged as having been contracted towards him by the petitioners, were in reality contracted.

Editor Shows Discharge.

QUEBEC,Jan. 30.—As a reply to Sir Rodolphe Forget, who accused him in the House of Commons Monday during the debate on the Lemieux charges against the Forget enterprises of having deserted the French army, Mr. d'Hellencourt, editor of Le Soleil, publishes a photographic reproduction of the letter of the President of the French Republic granting him his discharge as an officer. He also announces that, having recently been appointed an officer of the French Academy, that is evidence of his clean record.

Steps are being taken to invite a member of Parliament to ask for a retraction of his allegation against Mr. d'Hellencourt from Sir Rodolphe.

TIDE IS TURNING.

New York State Citizens Lean To Public Power Policy.

TORONTO, Jan. 30.—At last the cat is out of the bag. Hon. Adam Beck has made a discovery which clears up the mystery, if there was one, in connection with the report of the Ferris committee of New York State, which so grossly misrepresented the Ontario Hydro-Electric system. The engineer who presented the alleged facts to the committee was a representative of big private interests in the state and the principal error in the report was due to his multiplying the 1913 prices by the 1912 loads in order to get the 1913 revenue of the Ontario Hydro-Electre, which was assuredly a queer way to do business.

Albert H. Perkins, engineer for the New York State Power Conservation Commission, which is a rival body to the Ferris Committee, and is favorably disposed to the Ontario Hydro-Electric, was in the city yesterday getting the latest figures in connection with the Hydro's operations.

Mr. Perkins said that the adverse report of the Ferris Committee was looked on seriously by the people of the state at first, but when Hon. Adam Beck issued a reply stating that it was erroneously inaccurate, opinion changed.

Old English Press Gangs.

In the past the news of a shortage of men in the navy and the hint of action by the admiralty would have put the merchantman on guard. Toward the end of the eighteenth century, for instance, there was a call for sailors for the navy, and "persuasion" was the rule. "The press in the Thames for the last three days has been very severe. Five or six hundred seamen have been laid hold of." Thus runs one of many entries in the papers of the period. It was not always peaceful "pressing," as this item in the Times of 1795 will prove: "There was a very hot press on the river Friday night last, when several hundred able seamen were procured. One of the gangs in boarding a Liverpool trader was resisted by the crew, when a desperate affray took place, in which many of the former were thrown overboard, and a lieutenant who boarded them was killed by a shot from the vessel."—London Chronicle.

A Bit of Kitchener's Tact.

The Egyptian Bedouin is not compelled to pay taxes or to render the ordinary obligations of citizenship, which in Egypt includes military service. Soon after the outbreak of the war between Turkey and Italy a delegation of Bedouins approached General Kitchener and told him that they wanted to go across the border to the assistance of their hard pressed fellows in Tripoli. The English general admitted with unexpected readiness that their request was reasonable, but he reminded them that by granting it he would be creating a precedent which would make them liable for military service with the Egyptian army.

The delegation withdrew, and Kitchener was not troubled any more with requests for leave to cross the border.

Scotsmen and Funerals.

Englishmen, says Ian Maclaren in "Books and Bookmen," bear themselves well at marriages, where Scotsmen are at a disadvantage because the cautious Scotch eye is focused upon an uncertain future. But the Scotsman shines at a funeral as one of the luxuries of life:

"Peter," says one mourner to his neighbor at the tail of a walking funeral, "div ye see Jamie Thompson walking in the front side by side wi' the chief mourner and him no a drop o' blood to the corpse?"

"Fine I see him, a forward, upsettin', ambeetious body. He would be inside the hearse if he could"—the most awful and therefore most enviable position for a sober minded Scot.

The House of Romanoff.

The house of Romanoff passed out of existence with the death of its last survivor, Empress Elizabeth, daughter of Peter the Great, who was succeeded as ruler of Russia by her nephew, Peter of Oldenburg, duke of Holstein-Gottorp, son of her younger sister, Grand Duchess Ann. It is from this czar, who reigned as Peter III., that the whole of the reigning house of Russia are descended, and they are, therefore, not Romanoffs, but Oldenburgs.

CONTINUED SESSION OF THE COUNTY COUNCIL

Wednesday, Jan. 29.

MORNING SESSION.

Council resumed at 10 o'clock, Warden Thompson presiding.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From the W.C.T.U. of Owen Sound. The union of that place has been conducting religious meetings in the gaol, giving instruction in the Bible and disseminating wholesome literature. The union is petitioning the legislature to give a wider scope to its efforts by allowing the gaols to be visited during week days for religious meetings. It is in the line of social reform. The county of Hastings was asked to sign the petition.—Referred to Committee on Communications.

A letter was read urging that Hastings have representatives at the Ontario Goods Roads Association meetings in Toronto on Feb. 26th to 28th.

Mr. Vermilyea spoke in support of delegates being sent to this important body.

A communication from the department regarding the publication of the county's accounts in public works provoked some discussion. Mr. Vermilyea considered this was unnecessary and said that the council should make representations to have the act repealed as it would cost the country too much.

Mr. Tummon understood the department would pay for the publication in the press.

Mr. Vermilyea did not understand it that way.

Mr. Clark thought the new act was in the best interests and that the publication would enlighten the electors.

Mr. Ketcheson thought the act impracticable.

Mr. Allen engineer said that while the detailed knowledge of expenditures on culverts and roads would be of benefit to the department of public works it would prove an endless work.

Communications from School Inspectors Clarke and McIntosh were read.

Notices of bylaws were given.

Mr. Shaw moved, seconded by Mr. Tummon that Miss Ella Hanna, Principal of the Tweed Continuation School be appointed one of the Board of Examiners for Entrance to the Madoc High School.—Carried.

Council adjourned until 2 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Mr. G. Collins of the Central Ontario Railway stating that a spur line was desired to be built from the C. O. R. line at Marmora village to the Deloro mines. This spur will be 9,400 feet in length and would cross the county road twice. Permission was asked to build this spur.

Moved by Mr. W. H. Hubbell, seconded by Mr. Maloney that the Warden and Clerk be and are hereby authorized to sign plan and profile of a proposed branch of railway line from Marmora station to Deloro, approving of the crossings of the county road by the C. O. R., also approving of the crossing of the county road by the above company with an extension of their siding on the east side of said railway at Marmora station.

Mr. Hubbell of Marmora spoke in support of the motion, which was adopted.

Mr. Vermilyea spoke of the Good Roads Association and the necessity of a strong delegation being sent from the various minor municipalities to the annual meeting; also of a delegation being appointed to wait on the Dominion government and Senate in reference to federal aid for roads.

Mr. Ketcheson spoke in support of a delegation being sent from the county and moved that the delegation be composed of the Warden, Clerk, Treasurer, Superintendent of Roads, Chairman of the gravel roads, and County Engineer.

Mr. Hubbell seconded the motion, which was adopted.

Moved by Mr. Nugent, seconded by Mr. Naylor that a special committee composed of Messrs. Kirk, Coulter, Vermilyea, McLaren and the Warden be appointed to draft the standing committees for the year.—Carried.

Council went into Committee of the Whole on Ways and Means, Mr. Shaw in the chair.

Moved by Mr. Tummon seconded by Mr. Gunter, that the statutory grant of $25 be paid to the North and Centre Teachers' Institute.—Carried.

A grant of $15 for membership of the County Council in the Good Roads Association was passed.

The accounts passed were:

Children's Aid Society	$719 71
F. S. Anderson Co.	200 00
Intelligencer Printing Co.	13 00
Municipal World	151 88
C. N. Sulman	33 08
W. McGie	42 97

On motion no action was taken in regard to a request for grants to the Sick Children's Hospital and the Prison Aid Society.

A petition from Grey County was read asking the co operation of Hastings County Council in having a meeting at Toronto to discuss the matter of the more equalization of taxes. The petition alleged that railways and other corporations did not pay a tax equal to that of the taxpayers of the county and minor municipalities. A motion prevailed that the County Council of Grey County be requested to bring this matter up before the meeting of the Municipal Association.

Mr. Ketcheson moved, seconded by Mr. Vanderwater, that School Section No. 11 receive a grant for a continuation class the same as Tweed receives.—Carried.

The committee rose and reported progress and asked leave to sit again.—Granted.

Council adjourned until 10 o'clock Thursday morning.

Pastor Granted Divorce

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—A decree nisi has been granted to the Reverend Benjamin Canfield Jones, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of the Redeemer, Paterson, N. J., from his wife, Annie Chisholm Jones. The decree is based on a charge of desertion. The action was not defended. Mr. Jones married Miss Chisholm on October 5, 1892, when he was pastor of a church in Westchester, Pa. Miss Chisholm was a daughter of Judge J. H. Chisholm, of Waterloo, Ont.

According to the testimony, Mr. and Mrs. Jones got along together happily until about Christmas 1908, when they had quarrels, and Mrs. Jones left her husand. She returned on September 19, 1909, and according to her husband's story, three days later, while he was speaking in his church, she left him permanently.

Mr. Jones said on the stand before the special master that he was 48 years old, and a graduate of Princetown Theological Seminary. He said his life with Mrs. Jones had not been happy because of frequent disagreements. After his wife left him the last time Mr. Jones said he made two trips to Canada to seek a reconciliation. On the first of these trips he talked with Judge Chisholm, on the second he talked with William Chisholm, city solicitor of Toronto, who said Mrs. Jones had told her family she had found correspondence addressed to her husband and written in French in the clergymen's trunk after his Eurepean trip, which she considered to be ground for leaving him.

She chacterized the trip of her husband as a "grand spree" in her conversation with her brother. The brother added that his sister complained that her husband had been unkind to her and had neglected her. Mr. Jones gave the special master this statement of his brother-in-law to him when asked for some possible reason for his wife's leaving him. The clergyman denied the truth of his wife's alleged statements.

Mr. Jones lives at 370 Van Houten Street, Patterson, N. J. His wife is now employed in a Toronto library.

JUST FOR THE FUN OF THE THING

Paris, January 10, 1913.

The Editor of the Belleville Club News and myself, together with the Biographer and the Sporting Editor, were driving along through Regent's Park in London the other day, when the Editor of the paper said to me, "Is that the cricket field and the hickory grove, or what is it?" I turned around and looked at him and asked him to put out his hand and find out if he was in bed or not. He lit another cigarette, smiled, shook his head, and said, "Well, the cricket field is a pretty good-looking old place at that." All of which goes to show that the memories of the old place crop up even when thousands of miles away from it.

We have been making a tour through this section of the world, partly to regain a somewhat shattered health. We have found many very interesting places, people and things, and we may have the pleasure during the months that are to follow of relating to our readers some of the more interesting things we have come across.

London of course, as everyone knows, is a never-ending source of interest to the visitor, no matter how frequently he may visit it. We found the people whom we met to be very warm-hearted, frank, open people who tried as best they could to make our stay among them interesting and enjoyable. We found, of course, considerable difference in the customs in London compared with those of the United States and Canada. But after one becomes a little use to them, they do not seem to matter so much.

The most notable feature that we observed was the rather curious idea that the people of London hold concerning the people of the United States, and I presume in a great many instances the people of the United States who have visited London have given Londoners a perfect right to hold the opinion of them which they do. We had a great many interesting and amusing experiences and found a wealth of material which will doubtless be interesting to our circle when we have straightened it out and put it in readable form. In the next issue of the News I will try to have for our friends an article containing some of the many very interesting things we have heard and heard of.

There is no doubt in my mind that the Editor of the News, together with the Sporting and Society Editor, will have something worth while on our return, and so, for the time being, I will refrain from anything further except to wish the readers of this journal a happy, prosperous and profitable New Year.

MAURICE D. LYNCH.

By Limited Mail,

London, England, January 9, 1913.

The Editor of this great journal has been trying for the last few weeks to find out just exactly where he was at. He had frisked himself very thoroughly, and after receiving a poke from the rear end of a London Bobby's baton because he insisted on clogging the traffic on the Strand one evening, he awoke to the fact that he was in dear old Lunnon—so there you are. We missed the tall skyscrapers of Chicago, but we see more of the sky, and as Sophocles or some other one of the old-time ginks said, "What difference does it make anyway, so long as it does not make any difference to you?" And, taking it all in all, it looks to us as though old Soph was somewhat of a wise guy after all. More of this anon. At present we are thinking of getting ready to go up to Buckingham palace and take a look at the soldiers in front of the gate. Adois.

ANY PERSON who is the sole head of a family or any male over 18 years old may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Land Agency or Sub-Agent for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within 9 miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him, by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter-section alongside his homestead. Price $3 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

4 Killed by Dynamite

NORTH BAY, Jan. 29.—A premature explosion of dynamite in a contractor's camp near Spragge, on the Canadian Pacific Railway Soo line, eighty-five miles west of Sudbury, Sunday afternoon blew four Austrian laborers to pieces and seriously injured two others. The men were an extra gang engaged in making alterations to the roadbed of the C. P. R., and it is said the explosion was caused by the carelessness in thawing some dynamite in a shack.

BALKAN ODDS AND ENDS

Macedonia fell into the hands of the Turks in the sixteenth century.

It has been said that courage and energy, with other kindred virtues may be seen in their highest perfection among the Montenegrins. When a girl is born the mother says: "I do not wish thee beauty, but courage. Heroism alone gains the love of men."

In Turkey elementary education is nominally obligatory for boys from 7 to eleven years of age, and for girls from six to ten years of age, education being free. All schools are under government control, but there is no interference with the religious education of the different communities.

For two years before the outbreak of the Turko-Balkan war the Ottoman navy was in the course of reorganization under British admirals and British staff of navigating, torpedo boat and gunnery officers. The navy at the beginning of hostilities consisted of a dozen men-of-war, eight destroyers and fourteen torpedo boats. The personnel consisted of six vice-admirals, eleven rear-admirals, 20 captains, 283 commanders, 228 lieutenants, 187 ensigns and 30,000 sailors besides about 9,000 marines.

Magdalen College Deer

Magdalen, where the Prince of Wales is a student, is the only college in the world that possesses a deer park. How or when the fallow deer were introduced into the Grove nobody quite knows. Some imaginative people consider them to be descendants of the original wild deer that roamed the wastes and forests by which Oxford was formerly surrounded. They have certainly been there for at least two centuries, because they are mentioned in the college accounts about the beginning of the eighteenth century. These deer are endowed with iron constitutions, and have thrived on a diet of mustard sandwiches, and similar delicacies, with which they were regaled, not by the present undergraduates, but by the playful "young barbarians" of bygone generations.

An Ants' Sewing Circle

German naturalists on their return from Ceylon reported the existence of a species of ant that was observed in the act of sewing two leaves together for the purpose of forming a nest. This report confirms the observations of the English naturalist, Ridley, made in 1890.

They saw a row of insects pulling the edges of leaves together; then others trimming and fitting the edges; and finally the completion of the work by still other ants which fastened the edges with a silky thread yielded by larvæ of the same species, the workers carried in the mandibles. It is said that the sewing ants pass the thread-giving larvæ like shuttles through holes in the edges of the leaves.

RUG TREATMENT.

If rugs are bound on the under edges with strips of webbing, they will wear longer, and the webbing prevents their turning up.

"Love, Laughter and Life"

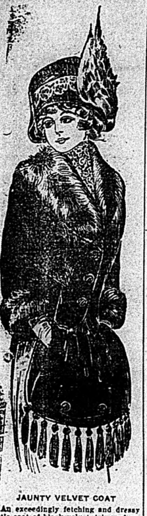
HOW TO BE HAPPY

Are you almost disgusted with life, little man?
I'll tell you a wonderful trick
That will bring you contentment, if anything can—
Do something for somebody, quick!

Are you awfully tired with play, little girl?
Weary, discouraged, and sick?
I'll tell you the loveliest game in the world—
Do something for somebody, quick!

Though it rains like the rain of a flood, little man,
And the clouds are forbidding and thick,
You can make the sun shine in your soul, little man—
Do something for somebody, quick!

Though the stars are like brass overhead, little girl,
And the walls like a well-heated brick,
And our earthly affairs in a terrible whirl—
Do something for somebody, quick!



JAUNTY VELVET COAT

An exceedingly fetching and dressy little coat of black velvet, trimmed, as shown, with silk braid and braid buttons. Shawl collar and cuffs are natural Australian opossum, and the velvet muff is also decorated with buttons and deep silk fringe.

ERRORS IN BABY-REARING

Do Not Give Them Solid Food as Soon Teething Begins.

"One of the commonest mistakes made by young mothers," said the principal of the St. Pancras School for mothers, in a recent interview, "is that of giving young babies solid food as soon as teething begins. Bread and gravy is the favorite item, which, of course, is quite unsuitable for a child ten months old. If we could only persuade our mothers that milk is the only food to be given up till that age a great many little lives would be saved. Another bad mistake is to use a stiff binder so that the mite can be made to sit up. This and the practice of taking a small baby out in a push-cart is responsible for curvature of the spine in the case of many infants. Mothers do not seem to know either that baby's feet must be kept very warm, so that the blood may be kept circulating properly. Bad circulation very quickly affects a body's digestion, and it may send back its food after having cold feet for some time."

STAIR PADS.

Get an old bed-tick, or some strong material like unbleached calico, and cut to size of stair. Machine two sides to form a bag, then fold some old newspaper, or brown paper, to fit, and machine together. They make splendid stair pads, and are a great saving to the stair carpet.

THINGS WORTH REMEMBERING.

Articles infested with moths should be saturated with benzine, which injures nothing but the moth. Exposure to the air will soon remove all smell. Be sure you use the benzine out of doors; beware of fire.

A wireless message sent out by an operator in Persia recently was heard distinctly on a ship near Melbourne more than 6,200 miles distant.

ARE FADS WORTH WHILE?

The warnings and prophetic croakings of food reformists ring incessantly in our ears. Meat makes us mendacious, game makes us garrulous, vegetables produce morpseness, and fruit frivolity. Even the innocent egg is accused by some people of demoralising effects, while some forswear salt as they would Satan. In our beverages we are no better. "Drink gallons of cold water," say some. "Never drink anything," say others. "Eat six meals a day," is the edict of one "reformer," "and you will become strong and healthy." "Starve yourself for forty days," is the advice of another, "and you will become twenty years younger." "Gobble you food rapidly," declare some. "Masticate every morsel a hundred times," say others. In the midst of all this confusing admonition it is small wonder that every meal time is full of menace. We are not even allowed to sleep in peace in the good old-fashioned way, but are admonished to sleep in the open air, on the floor, on our faces, anywhere but in our beds. One wonders if it is all worth while; if the results provide sufficient justification.—"The Gentlewoman."

WORLD'S COSTLIEST KITCHEN.

Who keeps the costliest kitchen in the world? Not, as one might imagine the American millionaire, but the Shah of Persia. The untensils, fittings, and furnishings of the Shah are said to be worth £530,000. Every sausepan is gilded inside, and the dishes appearing on his table are of solid gold, as well as the spoons, knives and forks, the handles of which are besides ornamented with precious stones. Moreover, the chef, in preparing dishes for the Shah's table, must use none but silver spoons and forks, and any dish on which he puts cold viands to keep them must me also of silver, gilded inside.

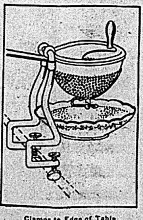
HOUSE PLANTS.

If house plants do badly in spite of water, look to the soil at the top of the pot. If it is caked, no air can get to the roots, and the plants cannot thrive.

NEW COLANDER PRESS

Revolving Blade Strains Material Through Perforations

A combined colander and press has been invented by a Minnesota man that will be found handy in homes and hotels, being made in two sizes for the different needs. The apparatus is bowl-shaped and has a revolving blade, or screw, fitted in it and turned by means of a handle. An iron upright clamps to the edge of table or shelf, and holds the colander firmly a few inches above the surface. Below the utensil is space for the receptacle into which the fruit or vegetables are to be strained. The material is be used is dumped into the colander bowl and the handle turned steadily. The blade squeezes the stuff against the sides of the bowl and the substance is strained through the fine perforations. Hulls, skins, seeds, etc., remain in the bowl, and they will not pass through the holes. This device is especially handy for ricing potatoes or smoothing gravy.



Clamps to Edge of Table

The Lord doesn't help those who help themselves to the things that belong to other people.

LITTLE THINGS WORTH KNOWING

Novel Pillow Cover

Where there are several girls in a home, quantities of old kid gloves are soon gathered together. If wrists and whole parts are cut into squares or fancy shapes and stitched onto a piece of strong calico, and feather stitched around the edges, a novel useful cushion cover may be made. If anything is spilt on it a damp sponge will remove the stain.

To Ease Shoes

To ease a tight shoe, wring out a cloth in very hot water and place it over the spot where the shoe pinches. Repeat this as soon as the cloth becomes cold. After two or three applications the leather will have become stretched to the foot.

Renews Black Kid

To renovate black kid gloves and slippers, mix together in equal quantities the white of an egg, milk or cream, and black ink. Place the gloves on the hand and rub lightly with a piece of soft flannel.

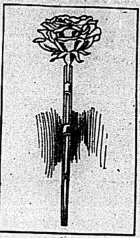
Use the Yolks

When making custards use the yolks of the eggs only. The whites should be saved. They add nothing to the flavor of the custard, and will be found most useful for clearing soups.

METAL FLOWER STEM

Real Stem Slips Through Loops and is Held Upright

A device which provides artificial stems for flowers has been patented by an English woman. A long narrow strip of metal is bent to form a groove and has several loops along its surface. These loops are designed to encircle the real stem of the flower and hold that stem in the groove. The flower, therefore, is provided with a perfectly firm support, so that it will stand erect in vase or bouquet or in whatever form it is arranged. This little device should come in handy when arranging flowers into table decorations or some other designs which are so often spoiled by the real stem bending under the weight of the bloom. It tapers into a point at the bottom, so that it may be stuck into a base of some soft material such as earth or moss.



NO BENDING OF STEMS.

THRIFT AND ECONOMY

The French Excel In These Matters and Prosper Thereby

Many wives have yet to learn that housekeeping is a business in which they can earn money by saving it. The French people are far ahead of us in their observance of the "penny saved, penny earned" theory. They use for their salads the parts of the vegetables which we throw away. They toast the left over slices of bread which we let mold.

They prepare from the common and healthful vegetables which we scorn dishes fit for epicures. And they do these things because they believe that thrift is imperative, and as a result they have bank accounts and a financial stability which is rare among the plain people of other nations.

In housekeeping woman has five or six professions. She must know something of dressmaking, of cooking, of serving, of finance, of household hygiene. And these things are interesting only when they are given their true value in the world of endeavor. The woman who holds competently her place as manager of her household ranks high above women in other professions, for she has learned to do not one thing but many, and her executive ability must be of the most perfect order if she is to realize the ideal in the working out of her domestic "big business."

MAN'S LITTLE CROCHETS

Mrs. Steel, the Novelist, Says Man is Feminine

Mrs. Flora Annie Steel, the novelist, presiding at a meeting arranged by the National Union of Women's Suffrage Societies at Oswestry, said she admired Mr. Asquith because he did not beat about the bush, but went straight to the point and said that she was a woman and was not to have a vote.

This was the only argument for which she had the faintest sympathy. What was sex? Looking backwards, they knew it was not external, and, looking forward, they had reason for saying that it would not be eternal. As regards many men she knew, if they were to take up their little crotchets and fancies they would find they were a great deal more feminine than many a woman she knew.

Usually a man's sense of humor goes lame when the joke is on him.

Many a girl who loves a man for his money is too modest to mention it.

March Three Times Across Delaware

Suffragettes Who Plan Crusade to Washington Will Rival Namesake--Recruits Coming in.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The suffragettes who march to the national capitol next month expect to outdo Gen. George Washington by crossing the icy waters of the Delaware three times. The schedule which "General" Rosalie Jones had drawn up calls for crosings at Trenton first, and then from Bristol, Pa., to Burlington, N. J., and the third time from Camden, N. J., to Philadelphia. "We expect to rival the continental army in history making," said "General" Jones.

Among the suffragettes who yesterday began their preliminary drills in Central Park is Martha Klatshen, a young photographer, who declared she had given up a "perfectly good job at $25 a week with an anti-suffragist" to march with the army. She said she had decided she was a traitor to work for an "anti." Another of the early recruits is Elizabeth Freeman who, dressed in a bizarre gypsy costume, will precede the army all the way to Washington in a yellow covered wagon distributing campaign bulletins and literature.

Toronto Judge Joshes N. Y. Medical Men

Mr. Justice Riddell Says They Should Dress Less Like Undertakers Than They DO.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Physicians and surgeons throughout this section are wondering whether to follow the advice of Justice Renwick Riddell, of Toronto, and dress less like undertakers. Justice Riddell, who spoke at the annual dinner of the faculty and directors of the New-York Post-graduate Medical School at Delmonico's last night, advised doctors to wear a more distinctive garb.

"No man could distinguish you from undertakers," he said. "You carry a black bag, it is true, but that only makes you look like piano tuners. You ought to wear a three-tailed wig, cocked hat, brocaded coat, velvet breeches, buckled shoes, and carry a long staff topped with a box of perfume. That would be something like."

"Bar Squad" Success on Moose Jaw Police

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Jan. 30.—A bar-room squad of three members is the latest addition to the Moose Jaw police force.

Annoyed by the presence of loafers and chair boarders in their hotels, the hotelmen of this city appealed to the Police Commissioners a short time ago for protection. They agreed to foot the expenses of an addition to the police force of three men, who were secured by the Commissioners and assigned entirely to hotel duty. They make their first appearance at ten o'clock in the forenoon and spend the remainder of the "open hours" in the bars.

The scheme has proved a success, for in addition to picking up dozens of vagrants the new officers have cleared up several robbery mysteries and have taken in a number of dangerous thugs.

YESTERDAY'S SESSION OF COUNTY COUNCIL

Thursday, Jan. 30.
MORNING SESSION.

Council resumed at 10 o'clock, Warden Thompson presiding.

The minutes of Wednesday's sessions were read and confirmed.

Messrs. William and Joseph Ashe of Madoc asked the Council for $24.25 as damages sustained to their engine which went through a culvert in Huntingdon township.—Referred to Ways and Means Committee.

Messrs. Wills & Wright wrote the Council claiming that damages would be asked by the Miller Company at Frankford unless the piers of the old bridge were removed from the bed of the river. The piers were an obstruction and caused the water to back up.

Mr. Ketcheson said it was necessary to have these piers removed.

After some discussion it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of Mr. Ketcheson to deal with.

Mr. W. H. Wrightmyer, agent of the Children's Aid Society of Belleville was called upon to explain why he had sent in an account for the care of an Indian child. He stated that he had to ask the County to pay it, and if it was not the correct procedure the County could re-collect it from the Indian Department.

Mr. Vermilyea was of the opinion that the Council should not pay the account, but that the Children's Aid Society should collect the account from the Dominion Government.

Mr. Wright of Deloro addressed the Council presenting a claim from the Deloro Mining Company for money which the company had expended in repairing a portion of the road leading from Marmora village to the works. The company was making no claim for the crushed stone supplied, simply for the labor.

The matter was referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

REPORTS.

Mr. McLaren presented a report in reference to the House of Refuge, it being as follows:

Think Turkey on Verge of Civil War

Believed That Revolt Among The Troops Is Much Graver Than Was at First Thought.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—Events in the Balkan Peninsula are being precipitated with such rapidity that the world may soon be confronted, not with the question of peace or war, but with a catasrophe which will lead Turkey to civil war.

Those who know the Ottoman Empire, believe that the revolt among the Turkish troops on the Tchatalja lines was much more grave than is to be gathereed from the short despatches allowed by the censor to trickle through. Close observers of events in Turkey expect that similar revolts will occur in the Turkish Asiastic Provinces, where the elements opposing the Young Turks are stronger than is the case in European Turkey.

None of the delegates of the Balkan nations has yet received any official communication concrening Turkey's reply to the note of the European powers, but when the gist of the document was communicated to them today, they declared that after their note, handed to the Turkish plenipotentiaries yesterday, in which they officially broke off the peace negotiations, they cannot make a further move without instructions from their Governments.

Firebrand Editor Jailed

PARIS, Jan. 30.—The Assize Court recently condemned the manager and editor of La Bataille Syndicaiste to five years in jail and to pay a fine of $600 for an article printed in that paper in October urging the assassination of King Alfonso of Spain if he should come to Paris. The court also announced as a warning that similar sentences would be imposed for any repetition of the offence.

Princess Patricia May Stay in Canada

Said in Montreal That She Will Not Return to England With the Duke and Duchess.

MONTREAL, Jan. 30.—The decision of the Duke and Duchess to return to England in the spring does not mean, it is believed, that the present condition of her Royal Highness is worse, because her progress toward recovery has been steadily maintained, and will justify removing the patient to Ottawa in a few days. The step will be taken solely because the Duchess is liable at any time to suffer fresh attacks of peritonitis until, it is thought, an operation has been performed.

The announcement of the departure of the Duke and the Duchess, notwithstanding that the Duke is only "on leave of absence," has given rise to expressions of fear here that their Royal Highness will not return to Canada.

No official news can be secured as to the intentions of the Princess Patricia, though it is expected that, if she does not accompany her parents to England, she may return shortly afterwards, with her brother, Prince Arthur, who is to come to Canada to stay some time visiting friends here.

Constable Fires Hits Wrong Man

WINNIPEG, Jan. 30.—John Zeopik, Ruthanian, is lying in the General Hospital with a bullet in his right temple as the result of a revolver shot fired this morning by William Andrew Wiseley, police constable, at another man who stole two bottles of milk from a delivery wagon.

Wisely saw the man take the bottles from a wagon near the Canadian Northern transfer track, between Water and Notre Dame streets. The thief ran and the officer gave chase. When he saw he was a poor second in the race, Wislsey drew a revolver and fired, presumably to frighten the thief. The bullet went wild and struch Zcopik, who was working on the tracks nearby as a switch cleaner. Zcopik has a chance for recovery, and Wiseley is being held awaiting the outcome. He has been on the force eighteen months, previously having spent three years on the Glasglow, Scotland, police force.

Walked Half Mile With His Toes Cut

GUELPH, Jan. 30.—Mr. E. L. Fulton of Fulton's Mills, near Clifford, met with a painful accident while engaged in cutting wood in the bush. The axe glanced off the limb and struck Fulton on the left foot, almost severing the entire five toes. He was about a half mile from a house, and was compelled to walk that distance before any assistance was given him. He lost considerable blood in the walk, and will be laid up for a couple of months.

Not Ready to Reply On Panama Matter

British Government Has Not Yet Come To a Decision In Regard TO Further Negotiations.

LONDON, Jan. 30.—The British government has not yet reached a decision on the question of the resumption of negotiations for the ratification of the Anglo-American arbritration treaty signed on August 3, 1911, and which Secretary of State Knox declared that the United States was prepared to ratify. Sir Edmund Grey Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, made this announcement to-day in reply to a question on the subject in the House of Commons.

The whole United States note would be carefully considered, said Sir Edward, before any reply was sent to Washington.

The inquirer had asked the Foreign Secretary if any answer to this part of Secretary of State Knox's note had been sent, and suggested that the other powers might be asked to join in a simultaneous reply.

Man and Wife Each An Own Homestead

EDMONTON, Alta., Jan. 30.—Instances of man and wife living separated on isolated homesteads in the Peace River country in order that they may establish a claim to more land than would be possible if they remained together are told by Rev. A. Forbes, Presbyterian missionary at Grande Prairie City, who is here on his annual visit. Many of the settlers have the land hunger anxiety to possess themselves of acres are putting up with all sorts of privations.

Mr. Forbes says that often a man and his wife will hold four South African veteran scrip, between them and will live entirely separate lives, the wife "batching" on her two half-sections in alternate six-months periods, while the husband performs the same duty on his half sections. In some cases, where the holding of husband and wife are adjoining, they have erected a single house on the dividing line, with a room on each section. Mr. Forbes doubts whether this arrangement will pass the homestead inspectors.

Man of The Future To Have Less Ribs

PARIS, Jan. 30.—The men of the future, according to A. F. Ledouble, professor of medicine at Tours, will have large heads, fewer teeth and shorter arms than the man of to-day. They will compare with him unfavorably in stature. The professor declares that the evolution of the white man will produce a type wherein the upper part of the head will be strongly developed, the forehead will be broader and rounder, owing to the fact that our food becomes increasingly easy to masticate, the human jawbone will diminish in size and strength and the number of teeth will be reduced. Among the primitive races of Australia, the professor states, it is not uncommon to find natives with thirty-six or even more teeth, but the white man of to-morrow will be lucky if he has twenty-eight. There is a tendency for the first, eleventh and twelfth ribs to disappear, thus leaving nine instead of twelve on either side of the body. The legs and arms are destined to shrink in length, but the hand, which to-day shows immense progress compared with that of our remote ancestors, will continue to progress in the direction of independence of the fingers. The little toe will become smaller.

Suffragists to Ride To 'Frisco

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—It is stated on good authority to-day that women suffragists of this city are to undertake a horseback ride to San Francisco in the interest of their cause, and that the party will set forth in the spring, as soon as the highways of the east are fit for steady traveling.

This will be the first equestrian journey across the American continent in the interest of equal franchise.

The riders propose to scatter their buttons and arguments through a fruitful line of States east of the Rockies and to join the women voters of western suffrage States in celebrating their early conquests.

A NOTABLE VICTORY

Intelligencer Special.

LONDONDERRY, Jan. 31.—The Irish Home Rule party won a notable victory over the Unionists in the election of a member of parliament for this city. The poll, which as usual, was a very close one, resulted as follows: David C. Hogg, Nationalist, 2,699; Col. H. A. Pakenham, Unionist, 2,642. Majority for Hogg, 57.

COMMITS SUICIDE

Intelligencer Special.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 31.—Eugene Delane, a member of a prominent New York family, was found dead last night on the floor of a bedroom in the Royal Alexandra Hotel. He had cut his throat with a razor. No reason is known for the suicide. Delane arrived at the hotel on Wednesday and did not leave his room again.

It takes a girl with a vivid imagination to see the beauty of love in a cottage.

Five Hundred Years Ago—when the earth was thought to be flat like a griddle cake, chocolate was prepared by the Aztec priests.

Their methods were crude.

But during religious ceremonies, the primitive Mexicans would dance for hours at a stretch with no sustenance save chocolate.

A wonderful food; yes. But just how much flavor and nourishment cocoa has depends very largely on the way it is produced.

In Lowney's you get the last word in cocoa. It is produced in the cleanest of factories from carefully chosen, skillfully roasted, and deliciously blended cocoa beans.

Try a tin. You will be rewarded with a wholesome beverage that shows you how cocoa ought to taste.

Sold by grocers. In tins, 10c to 50c sizes.

SIDNEY CROSSING.

The supplementary meetings of the West Hastings Farmers' and Women's Institute held here on Friday were well attended. In the afternoon Mrs. Hunter of Pleasant, Peel Co., gave an excellent address on "Systematic housekeeping" to the ladies at the home of Mrs. Harry Bonisteel, which was very helpful and much enjoyed. In the evening at the joint meeting she also talked on "Little things that make home happy" giving many useful and pointed suggestions for both sides of the house. Her addresses were so interspersed with bright and clever truths that her hearers gave her the strictest attention to the close. Mr. Elliott of Chesterville gave a splendid talk on "Breeding of horses" also "The advantages of farms of Ontario." Mr John Hess was chairman for the evening session. Much credit is due Mr. T. N. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jeffrey were given a reception at the home of his father Mr. C. Jeffrey on Saturday night on their return from their wedding trip. The young friends of the groom also enjoyed themselves by serenading the happy couple in the old fashioned way.

Important to Mothers!

Mothers should know just why Zam-Buk is so effective in cases of rashes, scalp sores, pimples and eruptions on babies and young children.

Most ordinary salves contain animal oil and fat. Every housewife knows that if animal oil or fat be left exposed to air for any length of time putrefactive changes must occur. These changes occur none the less even if they are hidden by scent.

Now, any salve which sinks into the pores enters the blood. You would not feed your child impure food. Why put into its blood rancid animal fats?

Zam-Buk contains no trace of animal fat or oil, or any mineral poison. It is compounded of healing herbal juices and essences.

Applied to cuts, burns, bruises and skin injuries it allays pain, kills disease germ and heals. Sold everywhere at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

DESERONTO NEWS

(From The Post)

Mr. Patrick Slavin is confined to the house with a severe cold.

Miss Dora Gammon, of Gananoque, spent the week-end at her home in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Coutu, of Kingston, spent the week-end with Mr. Coutu's parents.

Mr. Howard Vandusen is away on a visit of several weeks with friends in St. Paul and Chicago.

Miss Pearl McCullough, of Kingsford, has been a guest of her friend, Miss Eva Gordon, for a few days.

Mr. Henry R. Bedford, town clerk, was confined to the house on Tuesday from an attack of neuralgia.

Mr. Harold Rathbun the other evening entertained to supper the members of the choir who assisted in the anniversary services last Sunday.

Word has just been received from Winnipeg to the effect that Mrs. Price (nee Vera Slavin) is dangerously ill with typhoid fever. Mrs. Slavin is with her daughter.

Mr. Andrew Bowen, a sectionman on the Canadian Northern Railway, while at work on Friday last, had his knee so severely cut that he will be confined to the house for some time.

Miss Nesbitt, of Kingston, sister of Miss Nesbitt, of our High School staff, spent the week end in town. Tommy Warren treated the young ladies to an ice boat sail on Saturday, which they enjoyed very much.

A very pleasant evening was spent on Friday last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kellar, when Mrs. Kellar, in honor of Mr. Kellar's seventy-third birthday, as a surprise invited and entertained about twenty of their friends, Mr. Kellar receiving a very handsome birthday postal shower.

On Monday morning about 10 o'clock the fire brigade was called out in response to a call from a box at the corner of Centre and Main streets. This time it was not a false alarm, for a fire had started and gotten good headway in the cellar of Malley's Drug Store. The brigade made an exceedingly quick turnout, and in a short time three powerful streams had been turned into the cellar. One gentleman was heard to say that if Trenton had had the water pressure we had the buildings that were burned to ruins last week would still be standing. The damage to merchandise stored in the cellar was considerable, but it is covered by insurance.

A fashionable marriage took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Doolittle, High Shore, Sophiasburg, the other evening, when their only child, Gladys, was married to Mr. A. Arthur Clarke, son of J. D. Clarke, Sophiasburg. The bride wore white mulle and was attended by Miss May Clrake, the groom's sister, wearing white and carrying white carnations. Miss Lynda Wood, flower girl, carried a basket of white roses. Mr. Orville Handley was groomsman, and Rev. Weatherell conducted the ceremony. Upon their return from their wedding trip to western points, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke were tendered a reception at the residence of the groom's parents.

The thirty-second anniversary services of the Church of the Redeemer were held on Sunday last, and were successful from every point of view. The management had secured the services of Prof. Dall, of Queen's University, whose ministrations were much appreciated. The choir for the day was under the direction of Mrs. (Rev.) Howard, of Napanee. In choir work Mrs. Howard is a host herself, and her solo, 'Oh, Lord, Correct Me,' was a real treat. Mr. Mack, tenor, and Mr. Angrove, baritone, of Kingston, had also been secured to assist. The solos of both young gentlemen were very sympathetic, and their visit will be kindly remembered by all who heard and met them. A very interesting event took place at the close of the morning service, when the infant daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Dowling was baptized by Prof. Dall.

St. Mary's Catholic Church, Marysville, was the scene of a quiet wedding on Monday morning, Jan. 27, when Rev. Father Meagher solemnized the marriage of Miss Agnes Hayes and Michael Edward Doyle. Both bride and groom were unattended. The bride looked charming gowned in cream satin with pearl trimmings and ornaments of sequins and wore a large beaver hat with white plume and carier a white prayer book. She was given away by her brother, Archibald Hayes. Her going away suit was plum colored silk velvet and a set of Persian lamb furs, the gift of the groom. After the ceremony the bride and groom drove to Marysville, where they left by the 10.45 train, amid showers of rice and confetti, for a trip to Rochester and Buffalo. Both bride and groom are widely known in this district, and the popularity of both were attested by the display of handsome and costly gifts.

Most of the corners in life are sharp, but the man who keeps straight ahead will not encounter many of them.

IN AND ABOUT THE CITY

CASE SETTLED

A case of abusive language between two relatives was to have been ventilated in the police court to-day, but the matter was amicably arranged without going to court.

CENTRAL FAIR ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Central Agricultural Fair Association was held to-day in Napanee. The representatives from the Belleville Society were Messrs. R. H. Ketcheson, who is an officer of the Association, C. Weese and H. K. Denyes.

HELD ASSEMBLY

A large number of young people of Thurlow and Tyendinaga held an assembly last evening at Symon's Academy. At midnight a very dainty lunch was served. The Sill's orchestra applied an excellent programme. A most enjoyable time was spent by the forty or more couple who were present.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Judgment was this morning given by Judge Deroche in the case of a young man, who was charged with horse stealing. The accused was given a suspended sentence of one year in the Central Prison upon payment of all costs and expenses of the trial, which amounted to a large sum. Mr. Anderson for Crown and Mr. Carnew for the accused.

P. E. COUNTY MAN STRUCK

We are informed that a local physician was in attendance yesterday upon a man in Consecon, P. E. County, who was suffering from a fractured skull. The injury it is alleged was brought about by someone hitting him with a blunt instrument. Up to the time of going to press it was impossible to ascertain the man's condition.

LAID AT REST

Yesterday afternoon the remains of the late Mrs. Robt. Lauder of Melville, Prince Edward County, were laid away in the tomb. At Mountain View Church an impressive service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Williamson. The church was filled by relatives and friends. The floral tributes were many and beautiful in design. The bearers were Messrs. John Tice, Jas. Laughlin, Thos. Turney, John Kinnear, Samuel and Albert Adams.

A SOCIETY FUNERAL

Under the auspices of the Orange, Prentice Boys and True Blues Societies of which deceased was a member, the funeral of the late Mr. Dennis H. Boyce took place this afternoon. Many were in attendance at the obsequies attesting the respect in which the deceased was held. A large number of beautiful floral tributes were placed upon the casket by relatives, friends and Societies. At the family residence, Station Street, services were held, conducted by the Rev. H. S. Osborne, Pastor of Bridge Street Methodist church, after which the cortege was formed being headed by members of the Orange Society. At Belleville cemetery Rev. Mr. Osborne officiated and Bro. L. Soule, W. M. of the Prentice Boys and Bro. W. Cole for the True Blues conducted the burial services for the Societies. The bearers were members of the Prentice Boys Society, namely J. Walsh, W. J. Colden, E. Bell, G. P. Ruttan, D. Post and W. McDonald.

A DISASTROUS RUNAWAY

While on Victoria Avenue, this morning, a span attached to one of Mr. Smith's truck wagons, through the breaking of a bridle bit, became unmanageable, and bolting at a rapid rate toward Front Street, turned to the north, swinging the heavy wagon against other vehicles, pitched boxes right and left, and contiinuing on its way the pair landed fairly into a right and left, and continuing on its market, smashing the wagon to pieces and littering the ground with fresh specimens of the finy tribe. Miss Paulmeteer, who was standing near the fish wagon, which was about ready to start on its route, had barely time to jump backward when the frenzied horses made their desperate leap, one of which had to be rolled from the wreck. It was an interesting sight, with horses and fish, splintered wood and broken harness, all in a heap, and for a moment the dazed crowd that rapidly collected, was unable to lend a hand. Finally the horses were assisted to their feet, when it was found that no limbs were broken, the runaways, aside from a few scratches, being uninjured. No blame was attached to the driver, as it was a purely, unavoidable accident. To be sure, there will be quite an expense attached to the accident, all told.

An Ommission

Inadvertently the officers of Moira Encampment were on Wednesday ommitted from the article appertaining to the joint installation. The officers installed were as follows:

Chief Patriarch—J. W. Burgess.
High Priest—Chas. Hicks.
Senior Warden—E. Zimmerman.
Rec. Scribe—S. A. Barclay.
Fin. Scribe—Geo. Keith.

Junior Warden—Grant Way.

Ten-Year-Old Boy Accused of Murder

GREENSBURG, Pa., Jan. 30.—David Scalbetti, 10 years old, is in the West Moreland county jail charged with the murder of Andy Sabon, at Yukon, a mining town near here.

The boy, who is the son of Nick Scalbetti, a grocer at Yukon, had been upbraided Saturday by an older brother for taking candy from the store. The boys quarreled and David went into the house by a rear way and coming around in front of the store, fired a bullet from a rifle through the window at his brother.

The bullet cut through one side of his brother's neck and lodged in the heart of Andy Sabon, a customer.

A Barnado Protege

TORONTO, Jan. 30—Walter Beardmere died of accidental gas-poisoning, according to the finding of Coroner E. B. Hardy's jury last night. The youth, who was a Barnardo boy, eighteen years of age, was evidently inexperienced in the use of illuminating gas. He had been rooming at 85 Wilton Avenue only one day, when on Sunday afternoon he was found dead by some other roomers in the place.

An official of the Barnardo home furnished the information that Beardmere had come to Canada about ten years ago and had worked out a term on a farm, for which $100 had been placed in trust for him.

At Christmas time he had desired to draw upon the fund, but he was persuaded to leave the money as a safeguard in case of illness.

Since Christmas he had stayed for a time at the Salvation Army Metropole, and had just secured a job when he took the Wilton Avenue room.

One half of the world awaits an opportunity to do up the other half.

It takes a born diplomat to appear interested in other people's troubles.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"NECESSARY AMOUNT"

For Sheehan English Opera Company Nearly Subscribed

About one hundred names are necessary in order to make certain the appearance of the Sheehan Opera Company, in The Bohemian Girl at the Griffin's Opera House on Friday, February 7th, and it is hoped that Manager Nallin of the Griffin Opera House will receive the support and co-operation of the representative theatre-goers in securing the subscription necessary before the arrival of Mr. Riley, special representative of Mr. Edward M. Beck, General Manager of the Sheehan English Opera Company of New York City.

The SHEEHAN ENGLISH OPERA COMPANY this season is so heavy and expensive that is is absolutely necessary to have the assistance of the better class of citizens to secure this talented organization. Should the Sheehan English Opera Company be secured it will be the theatrical event of the season.

In addition to Joseph F. Sheehan, America's greatest tenor, there is Francis J. Boyle, the famous Basso and Joseph Royer a barritone with a reputation in Europe and America as an artist of the first rank. Miss Gladys Caldwell, Miss Theresa Claremont and Miss Ruth West, three Prima Donna Soprannos, Miss Alma Stetzler and Miss Merth Carmen two Prima Donna Contraltos, Kenneth Dudley, Basso, John J. Dickinson, Baritone, Miss Louise Hoerger, Soprano, Mr. William Young, Tenor, and a number of others in addition to the famous Sheehan Chorus and special orchestra.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES.

There was tremendous excitement last night in the bowling alleys, the keenest match of the season being between the Y.M.C.A. team and that of the B. B. C.

Great strides have been made in the Associations in America the past year. There are now 2192 associations with 566,100 members.

Seven hundred and twenty-five of the associations now occupy buildings the gift of citizens of the various communities. These buildings cost $81,600,000.

There are 92,000 members in the 251 associations provided by the railways along their lines for their employees. Four hundred colleges have associations of their own with 45,000 members. Last year there 125,000 in Bible Classes 300,000 members in the various gym. classes and 69,000 in the evening educational classes.

On Feb. 13th and 14th will be held the annual Provincial Conference in Toronto. Mr. John Penman, the head of the great Penman Mills in Paris, who has been the chairman of our Provincial Committee for the past fifteen years, retires from office and will be given a complimentary banquet.

A series of games between the Y.M.C.A. and the Midget hockey club for the custody of the Junior Y. M. C. A. hockey cup has been arranged and will be played off as soon as possible. The city league will probably publish its schedule very soon.

A poorly lighted library makes business for the oculist of the cases of defective eyesight come from reading with a poor light.

That is why a library should have plenty of light of the right sort and in the right place. The ideal light for reading is electric light equipped with Holophane Reflectors. Holophane Reflectors control the light of an incandescent lamp so that every ray is utilized. Not only that: the light is subdued—diffused—and is distributed evenly over the whole room, so that the eye is neither harmed by strong glare nor wearied by dense shadows.

PARCEL POST SYSTEM FOR CANADA

The announcement by Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Postmaster-General, in the House of Commons, that Canada is to have a system of parcel post, is one of the most important declarations of policy made in many years. Parcel post benefits have already been conferred upon the people of many other countries, and an experiment is being made in the United States.

Mr. Pelletier's statement shows that he is taking up the question from a sane business-like standpoint and will acquaint himself with the results of systems already established before finally determining upon the system to be adopted in this country. His object is to work out a system by which not only those districts now served by the express companies, but other districts as well, will be served by the parcel post.

It will mean that wherever there is a post office some of the advantages of the parcel post will be felt, although it is not thought feasible to have each post office the centre of a parcel post zone as in the United States. Nor is it likely that the scheme can be worked out on a flat rate basis.

The intention of the Postmaster-General is to work out a plan by which a fair share of the parcel carriage business of the country will be done through the Post Office. This will probably be brought about by some arrangement with the railways so that all the paying business will not be left to the express companies. Mr. Pelletier will have his plans completed before he makes his final announcement.

WILL J. W. JOHNSON SUCCEED THE LATE COL. MATHESON?

The death of Col. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer, leaves Eastern Ontario with no representation in the Cabinet as the Premier, though representing an Eastern Ontario constituency is now a resident of Toronto, and from the nature of his position is not looked upon as coming from any section, but from the whole Province. Geography is perhaps of the last importance in the qualification necessary for a Cabinet Minister, but when it is seen that seven out of the eight Ministers of the Ontario reside in constituencies west of Toronto, the thought naturally occurs, what has happened in Eastern Ontario that we find this condition of affairs? We believe that on the death of the late Provincial Treasurer the minds of not only most people in Eastern Ontario, but of many in the Province generally turned to J. W. Johnson, F.C.A., M.P.P., of West Hastings, as being the best qualified for the position. He has carried on his own business enterprises with success—a result not common with public men—and in his splendid educational institute he has trained thousands of young men from all over Canada, United States and the West Indies to become successful. The matters of accounts and finances have been his everyday calling for years, and his works on these subjects are in use in a number of universities and colleges. With such a man as this the whole Province would have a feeling of security in his management of its finances. Like the late Col. Matheson, Mr. Johnson's reputation for integrity and straightforward dealing is well known, and he has the eloquence, grace, polish and force that make him one of the best speakers in Ontario and one whose voice even as a private citizen, has been heard in many constituencies. Why not J. W. Johnson for Provincial Treasurer?

COL. HUGHES' ACTION IS APPROVED

The recent action of the Minister of Militia and Defence in giving an invitation to representatives of the various women's societies throughout the Dominion to be present at certain sessions of the military conference to be held in Ottawa during February, has received the endorsation of those interested in the moral welfare of the men, who attend the camps yearly throughout the country.

A striking article in support of the Minister appears in the Montreal Daily Witness (Liberal). "Colonel Hughes," says the Witness, "has shown the instincts of a statesman in summoning the women into council in studying the interests of our military camps. He could not have done a greater thing for his government."

A Colorado legislator says the women voted Denver wet, drink more highballs and cocktails than the men, smoke more cigarettes a day than the men, and he sees no reason why they should not serve on juries. He omitted the most important qualification for successful jurors. Can the women play seven-up?—Buffalo Express.

From the above we would surmise that "Rummy" would be the proper game.

About half the ladies in St. Thomas who attend the theatres or concerts remove their hats while the remainder continue to eclipse all sight of the performance with a cloud of expensive headgear.—St. Thomas Journal.

Thank goodness, the Belleville ladies are more considerate in this regard. Or in extreme cases a request for all ladies under 60 to remove their hats, giving those of older age the privilege of retaining their head gear will have the desired effect.

A London despatch says that 1912 was by far the worst year in history for marine insurance companies. The total losses are estimated at more than $36,000,000. This sum represents 6,031 casualties to vessels of more than 500 tons gross. The largest single loss was that of $10,000,000 attributed to the foundering of the Titanic after the collision with an iceberg in the North Atlantic.

WOMAN'S WORLD AND ITS DOINGS

THE CULINARY ART

A NEW RICE PUDDING

Wash a cupful of rice, and put it on to boil in a cupful of boiling salted water. Let it boil for ten minutes, then pour in a pint of milk, and let it cook for half an hour without stirring. Take the saucepan from the fire, stir in a heaping tablespoonful of sugar, one tablespoonful of marmalade, and two eggs, well-beaten. Turn the pudding into a buttered dish, and bake for half an hour in a moderate oven.

TO COOK TROUT.

If you would like to serve trout in perfect condition, proceed as follows: Place the fish on a dish, pour over some melted butter, and let it soak for a few minutes; then dust with pepper, and cook slowly on a gridiron over a clear fire from ten to fifteen minutes, according to the size of the fish.

A CHEAP DINNER.

Wash half a pound of rice in several waters; put it in a saucepan with plenty of boiling salted water, allowing it to boil up; simmer for five minutes, then drain it. Put it back into the saucepan with a cupful of new milk, the same quantity of boiling water, and cook until tender. Stir in a heaped tablespoonful of grated cheese, add salt and pepper to taste. Grease a pie-dish, sprinkle with breadcrumbs, and put in the cooked rice. Scatter another tablespoonful of grated cheese over the top, dot with bits of butter, and bake in hot oven for twenty minutes.

THE BOILING OF A HAM.

If a ham is boiled according to the directions given as under the result should be found quite satisfactory:—Wash and scrape the ham well, and put it on with cold water, 1 teaspoonful of vinegar, and half a dozen of cloves. Allow half an hour to each pound of ham. When ready allow the ham to cool in its own stock, which improves the flavour very much. Next skim over it a good quantity of browned bread crumbs, or if prefered glaze it.

BREAD CRUMBS FOR HAM.

Bake some stale bread (crusts will do) in the oven until hard and of a nice golden colour. Afterwards, roll the bread into fine crumbs. They should be kept in a closely fitting tin or bottle, ready for use.

WHEN TO MARRY

Januray's brides are likely to become widows early.

February brides will have very happy married lives.

March brides will probably make their homes abroad.

April's brides will have lives of change, and experience many ups and downs.

May brides will entertain many strangers.

June brides will find life a long honeymoon.

July brides have bitter sweet memories.

August brides are lucky in finding a real friend in their husbands.

September brings a smooth and serene future to its brides.

October only gives a future of toil and hardship.

November brides will be happy, and those who, according to the rhyme, marry "in December's cheer." will find that "Love's star burns brighter from year to year."

CHIC THEATRE CAP FOR YOUNG GIRL

Theatre caps will be popular as ever, and even more, 'tis said, for young girls, and a charming model is shown in above sketch. The design is extremely simple and may be readily followed by the clever girl. White lace and large pink velvet roses, with natural foliage, is a pretty and youthful combination.

USES FOR SALT

A pinch of salt on the tongue, followed by a drink of cold water, will cure sick headache.

It hardens the gums and makes the teeth white.

By adding a little salt to the water, cut flowers may be kept fresh much longer.

By using very fine, wry salt as one would snuff for colds, hay fever may be relieved.

A shallow teaspoonful of salt dissolved in a cupful of hot water will revive an unconscious person quicker than brandy or whiskey.

Salt and pineapple juice will cure mild cases of gastritis.

Salt added to water in which coloured glasses are washed will prevent fading.

Smooth flatirons by rubbing over dry salt.

LOVERS' QUARRELS

It is Wise to Avoid All Jars And Discords.

To quarrel, and "make it up again" is said to be one of the usual accompaniments of courtship, and the "making up" is believed to more than compensate for the preceding unpleasantness—a quarrel between two people who love each other and are supposed to be in perfect harmony with each other.

It is a time-honoured tradition, and as such is frequently allowed to pass unchallenged.

But is this always the truth? In too many cases, alas! does not the opposite to this take place?

Frequent quarrels, engendering angry words between lovers, have a petrifying effect on love and finally destroy it altogether. The tendency to have "words" over things a little contrary to one's own wishes should immediately be checked.

If a pair of lovers perceive that they are drifting into frequent misunderstandings and petty disputes, they should reflect as to whether they are not each to be blamed, and resolve that in future they will try to prevent it.

"To bear and borbear," is an excellent motto for engaged couples as well as for married folk.

Hard, bitter words, spoken in the heat of anger, are apt to sink deep into the memory and to be remembered long after the trivial cause of the quarrel is forgotten.

Such small things, too, first arouse the discord, and the result may, and often does, estrange the two for life. This, too, when the lovers are completely suited to one another, and a lifetime of unhappiness for both follows.

"There comes a mist and a blinding rain,
And life is never the same again."

The lovers who wish to have nothing but happy memories of their courtship will not let the mist of misunderstanding cloud their love, or the blinding rain destroy the fair flower of love they have been fortunate enough to gain.

A touch of humor is a saving grace to some women. As a sex, women are said to be deficient in humor. "They are so deadly in earnest," men say, and there may be some truth in this. But seeing the humorous side of a trivial dispute has often prevented its developing into a serious quarrel.

This, and a sense of proportion, has checked many a man from returning angry words, in a fit of petulance over some supposed grievance, to those uttered by the woman he loves.

Men hate scenes, too, and are too ready to hold out the olive branch if a quarrel is threatened.

Women, alas! revel in them, and will not always accept the olive branch in their keen sense of the dramatic, and the desire to air their independence and petty tyranny over the man who loves them.

"Making up" may be sweet, but the woman will prefer a love idyll free from all jars and discords with no aftermath of angry words which can never be effaced from the memory.

DEBUTANTE EVENING FROCK

Debutante frocks are still made of chiffon or net over satin and generally garnished with small artificial flowers. One of the daintiest models seen among the new importations was of white point d'esprit over a delicate shade of apple-green satin. Tiny pink roses with natural foliage, trimmed most attractively, and the lace frills on bodice and skirt were also charmingly arranged.

AN INTERPAROCHIAL AFFAIR

T. A. Daly in February CANADA MONTHLY.

Och! there's a divil a parish at all
Like this one o' St. Paul.

Here the weather begins wid the fall
An' it sticks to the middle o' May.
Streets an' houses an' people are gray
An' the night lends its hue to the day,
For the blessed sun's light hangs like fog on the walls
Where a man does be livin' his lone in St. Paul's.

Faith, 'tis odd that the same parish plan
Gave so much to St. Ann.
There's one parish that's fit for a man
Wid a hunger for warmth an' for light!
'Tis a comfort to find, day and night,
Streets an' houses an' people so bright;
For there's summer-warm hearts an' there's kind, open han's,
An' a girl wid a face like a rose, in St. Ann's.

In a parish just over the line,
Called St. John the Divine,
There's a cozy new cot, an' it's mine!
Och! 'tis I will have throuble to hide
From my face all the joy an' the pride
That my heart will be feelin' inside,
When next Sunday at Mass they'll be readin' the banns
For meself o' St. Paul's and Herself o' St. Ann's.

HOCKEY

GAME TO-NIGHT

Notwithstanding the unsatisfactory weather conditions the game between the K. C. I. and the local boys will take place this evening in the skating arena. The Belleville youngsters have put in some excellent practice and will be right in the "pink." The ice is very good, and there is no question but what a good fast game will be in evidence. This is a grand night for a K.C.I. defeat. They will be up against the "real thing" here.

NOTES.

The referee for tonight's game will be Lawson Whitehead of Toronto.

Now, altogether, boys. Remember, what is expected. It is no cinch—but you can do it.

WANDERERS 6; TECUMSEHS 2.

Montreal, Jan. 30.—It was Wanderers all the way in the final game of six-man hockey last night, when they defeated the Tecumsehs by a score of 6 to 2, outscoring them in two of the three periods. The Tecumsehs showed marked signs of their recent overtime matches, and, with the exception of the McNamara brothers, did not show the dash and vim of the match played on Saturday against the Canadiens.

THE PETERS HAD TO STEP SOME TO BEAT PORT HOPE.

Peterborough, Jan. 30.—The Peters led all the way Wednesday night against Port Hope Intermediates, but had to hustle to win as they did by 7 to 6. The half time score was 5 to 4 for the locals, who scored the first three goals of the game. Then the visitors came stronger, and it was anybody's game till the finish. The teams:

Port Hope—Goal, Record; point, Hupp; cover, Ruse; rover, Savidge; centre, Murray; right, Dow; left, Rowden.

Peterborough—Goal, Wilson; point, Bond; cover, Bears; rover, Halpin; centre, Hall; right, Weatherston; left, Ross.

Referee—Bill Hancock of Toronto.

ST. THOMAS C. I. 2; LONDON C. I. 1.

St. Thomas, Jan. 30.—The Western Ontario Ontario Intercollegiate League had an auspicious opening here last evening, when the local collegiate lads crossed sticks with the London Collegiate. The locals outplayed the Cockneys, the score at half time being 1 to 0 in favor of the Saints. At full time the result was 2 to 1 in the home team's favor. The teams:

London—Goal, Matthews; point, Browne; cover, Roberts; rover, Brodisan; centre, Stuart; right, McCrimmon; left, Marden.

St. Thomas—Goal, Honsford; point, A. McLaughlin; cover, Smith; rover, Sweeny; centre, Carry; right, M. McLaughlin; left, Mallory.

Referee—Chas. Cowley.

INJURED LONDON PLAYER ON WAY TO RECOVERY.

London, Ont., Jan. 30.—Borland, the star hockey player of the O.H.A. intermediates, who was knocked out at Paris Wednesday night, is in Victoria Hospital, where his injuries are being attended to. While Borland was able to resume play after being carried from the ice unconscious, his condition on reaching London was such that his removal to the hospital was decided upon.

He is suffering from a great many bruises, but the chief fear was that he might have concussion of the brain. He is resting easier tonight and it is expected now that he will be out in a few days. During the game he became "sandwiched" between two of the Paris players and was knocked off his feet, his head striking he ice with terrific force.

LICHTENHEIN STRONG FOR SIX-MEN HOCKEY.

President S. E. Lichtenhein of the Wanderers, ants to put himself on record that he is still in favor of six-men hockey.

But he says: "I am willing to be convinced that the public want the seven-men variety, and if our match on Saturday night is particularly well attended, it being the first match with seven men played in Montreal for a year and a half, I shall come to the conclusion that the public are really fond of the old idea. However next year we will play either six or seven men hockey, and not divide the season again.

I am providing for the seven men rule, however, by getting Skelton, Atkinson and Lahue, and the public need not be surprised if they see either of those play against Tecumsehs.

OTTAWA LOSES ANOTHER.

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—Quebec defeated Ottawa by 5 to 3. The first period ended with the score 2 to 1 for Ottawa. In the second the Senators again went to pieces after they had been playing about ten minutes. Tommie Smith tied the score on a pretty piece of individual work. The Ottawa defence cracked under the strain and Smith got another in two minutes. Smith went off at this juncture with a broken skate, but even without their best shooter Quebec forced the play. Only Lesueur's work in goal saved Ottawa from a bad beating. Smith resumed and immediately went through the Ottawa defence, making it 4 to 2 with a wicked shot. Quebec effected a safe defensive game, with occasional rushes by Malone, Hall or Crawford to break the monotony. Lake scored for Ottawa on a long rush in seven minutes, but the Ancient Capital then crowded its goal and Ottawa was helpless.

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 30.—Coming away with a rush in the final period of one of the fastest games played in the League series of this season, Vancouver defeated New Westminster by a score of 8 to 2, and practically eliminated the Paterson Cup holders from the championship race. Vancouver showed a remarkable change in form, playing good combination throughout, and outskating the champions in the last two periods of the match. The Royals showed the effect of the gruelling game of last Saturday, and Johnson, Gardner and Tobin appeared to be the only ones able to stand the pace.

That N. H. A. schedule is a work of art. Commencing next Wednesday, the Torontos have no less than six consecutive games at home.

St. Andrew's had only six men to play against Davisville's seven in the Boys' Union game at Davisville last night. The Saints were beaten 16 to 0 on ice that was not improved by the light snowfall which prevailed throughout the game.

The St. Jacques team of Montreal lost to the Boston A.A. at Boston Tuesday night by 11 to 1. Boston referees will not allow body checking, which may account in a measure for the defeat of some of the Canadian teams. St. Jacques are a city league outfit.

Jack McCamus, the St. Michael's left wing, is faster this season than ever. No player in the senior series of the O. H. A. has anything on little Mac for speed and stick handling. He is as good in centre as on the boards and is very elusive when going through a defence.

"Mawk" McKenzie refereed the Toronto League senior game in which the Athletics beat the Crescents 3 to 1 last night.

Midland, Jan. 30.—Several fights on the ice enlivened the O.H.A. senior game here last night between Midland and the Toronto Canoe Club. The score was 12 to 1 in favor of Midland, the winners leading also at half time by 6 to 2.

Good ice was had and the locals' speed was altogether too much for the Toronto team. In both halves the play was confined largely to the Canoe Club end of the rink. Tripping and cross checking were indulged in by both sides, but no serious injuries were received by either team. The Midland forwards had much the better of the argument with the visitors, of whom Remetmill and Swann were the best. For Midland, Chase, Macy and Lavereau were the stars.

Klemmer and Nichols got into a pitched battle with their sticks and a free-for all resulted, in which many players and spectators took a hand. Scott and Gooch also gave a public exhibition for good measure and both were benched for five minutes, while Nichols and Klemmer were chased for the balance of the game. The teams:

Midland—Goal, Scott; point, Lavigne; cover, Nichols; rover, Chase; centre, Macy; right, Beath; left, Lavereau.

Toronto—Goal, Lunan; point, Wagle; cover, Gooch, rover, Romeril; centre, Swann; right, Klemmer; left, Depp.

Referee—H. Sproule, Toronto.

THE RING

Milwaukee, Jan. 30.—A signed statement yesterday by a committee representing the Milwaukee Federation of Churches reads:

"We favor new legislation that will allow boxing matches under supervision, and that shall strictly define the meaning of the term and brutal slugging matches."

The statement was issued following the witnessing by the ministerial committee of last night's boxing bouts, about which the committee said they had no complaints to make.

New York, Jan. 30.—A London cable says: Asserting that he lost a great amount of money through being prevented by personal injuries from fighting Mike Gibbon in a projected contest in New oYrk, Harry Lewis, an American boxer is claiming heavy damages in the high court here. The case is on the list for Friday.

Lewis, who claims to be welter weight champion of the world, is suing for damages for injuries suffered in a motor car collision in Fleet St. at the beginning of last year. He says that but for the accident he would have won the contests in which he was to have participated. The defendants are the General Omnibus Company and the British Motor Car Company.

THE TURF.

Charleston, S.C., Jan. 30—Only two of the twelve starters in the second race at Palmetto Park Wednesday afternoon, which was for two year old fillies at one quarter of a mile, had ever started before. They were Edna Laska and Ave, and both were unplaced. The winner turned up in Please Welles, by Dick Welles—Please running in the colors of G. M. Johnson and at 10 to 1 in the betting.

Sherwood captured the St. John's Hotel Selling Stakes at seven-eighths of a mile. The stake had a value of $1,000.

Juarez, Jan. 30.—F. T. Wood's Shadrach scored his second victory yesterday in a race for two-year-olds at 3 1-2 furlongs. Edith W. and Dick Dodle, who finished behind the son of Atkins and Omaha Wood, have each earned brackets in previous starts here. The last named was credited with a victory over to-day's winner. Dick Dodle was, however, beaten by Shadrach when the latter got out of the maiden class by six lengths, and today he finished in fourth place.

Toronto, Jan. 30.—One of the most important recent transactions in connection with thoroughbred breeding in Canada was completed Tuesday when Mr. R. W. Davies closed with Mr. Charles Boyle of Woodstock for a lease of the Meddler stallion, Detective, and this grand young horse will be at once transferred from The Firs to Thorncliffe Farm. Mr. Davies was anxious to buy, and it was not a question of price that prevented the transaction taking the form of absolute change of ownership. Mr. Boyle did not want to part with his champion, though, as he intends to continue breeding. Seven of his mares will be sent to Thorncliffe to be mated with Detective, in addition to Mr. Davies' own.

Many horses of the highest class have passed through the hands of the veteran Woodstock owner, but it is doubtful if he ever regarded any of them so highly as Detective, not even Springfield or Havoc. The son of Meddler is a horse of commanding appearance, and when in training displayed possession of extreme speed, which he could carry to any distance when in condition. His trial for the Realization Stakes at Sheepshead Bay was the most amazing thing trainers there had ever seen. Detective is a young horse. He won the Hamilton Derby in 1909, and so is now just entering his seventh year. His breeding is the choicest, and he possesses every qualification to become a great success as a sire. It would have been a pity if his opportunities were to be confined to the limited stud of his owner, and the desire to extend his chances and prove his merit no doubt had considerable weight in inducing Mr. Boyle to consider the proposition that he should begin his stud career at Thorncliffe.

BASEBALL.

Montreal, Jan. 30.—The Montreal baseball club has received its copy of the preliminary schedule of games for 1913 of the International League. To prevent its leaking into the press prematurely, as it did last year, for which the club was fined $200, it has been placed in a safety deposit vault. The club officials will strenuously object to the schedule being adopted as it compels the team to travel 1,800 miles farther this year than last year.

GENERAL SPORTS

NOTHING CAN BE DONE IN THE THORPE CASE

Stockholm, Sweden, Jan. 30.—The news from New York of the disqualification of James Thorpe, the Carlisle Indian, for Olympic honors, has aroused a unanimous feeling of sympathy for the great athlete. All the leading men in athletic circles think it will be impossible to cancel the prizes won by Thorpe, as the rules for the Olympic games in Stockholm chiefly prescribe that protests against the amateur standing of participants must be made within 30 days after the distribution of the prizes. They consider that the only way of revoking the awards will be for the Amateur Athletic Union to demand it at the Olympic meeting at Lausanne, Switzerland, next summer.

WILL NOT TAUNT AMERICANS.

London, Jan. 30.—Regarding the disqualification of James Thorpe, the Pall Mall Gazette says: "Several America papers seem to think that Englishman will take advantage of the occasion to taunt Americans with every athletic crime. We will do nothing of the sort. All we will do is to say that we are sorry for Thorpe, who seems to have posed as an amateur rather through ignorance than with any deliberate idea of fraud, and that his "excommunication" might have been a little more gentle. The purity of American amateur athletics will stand as high as ever. These anticipations of cantakerous English criticism reveal a sad ignorance of our attitude towards America athletes."

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 30.—Twenty riders, two from Australia, one from Germany, and 17 from various parts of the United States, started in the six day bicycle race that opened in Convention Hall here Tuesday. A purse of $3,000 will be divided. The men will ride eight hours a day.

The teams entered were: Paddy Hehir, Australia, and Pete Drobach, Boston; Lloyd Thomas, San Francisco, and Martin Ryan, Newark, N.J.; Percy Lawrence, San Francisco and George Cameron, New York; W. L. Mitten, Davenport, and Gordon Walker, Australia; Frank Cavanaugh, Newark, and Bob Diefenbacher, Los Angeles; Floyd Krebs, Germany, and Dave Mackay, Newark; Alvin Loftus, Providence, R.I., and Willie Coburn, Newark; Walter Demara, Cleveland, and Clarence Carmen, New York; Frank Blatz, Jersey City, and Harvey Wilcox, Salt Lake City; Ben Hill and William Morton, Newark.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

ARMISTICE DENOUNCED

Bombardment of Adrianople May Begin Again Monday.

Seven o'Clock Monday Is the Time Set, But the Reply of the Young Turks to the Powers Makes Important Concessions and War May Yet Be Averted — Turkey Lays Most Stress on Autonomy In Tariff.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The curtain may rise on the second act of the Balkan war next Monday. The allies denounced the armistice at 7 o'clock last night, and, if events take the prescribed course, the bombardment of Adrianople will follow after an interval of four days. Indeed, the bombardment has been scheduled for 7 o'clock Monday evening. Yet, even at this eleventh hour, war is in no wise assured. Only a few hours before the allies proclaimed their momentous decision the Ottoman Government presented its reply to the joint note of the powers of January 17. It yields so many things as to almost meet the allies' demands.

In its reply to the note of the powers the Young Turk Government asserts itself boldly. Apart from proposals to divide Adrianople and a plea for the retention of the Aegean Islands, the new Government takes advantage of the occasion to press for relief from the fetters of tariff and foreigners' extra-territorial rights, under which the Turks have long chafed.

The Ottoman Government does not hesitate to recognize that the conclusion of peace corresponds with the hopes and interest of all, says the note, "and that it is desirable to put an end as soon as possible to a struggle which it in no way provoked.

"The Imperial Government has already given undeniable proofs of a conciliatory spirit, by consenting to immediate sacrifices. Adrianople being an essentially Mussulman town and the second capital in Turkey, and therefore indissolubly bound up with the empire, the mere rumor of its cession provoked a sentiment of reprobation throughout the country, and aroused such excitements as to bring about the resignation of the last Cabinet.

"The Turkish Government is willing, as a final proof of its pacific disposition, to place itself in the hands of the powers regarding that part of Adrianople situated on the right bank of the Maritza River. The mosques and historic monuments are on the left bank, and the retention of that section is a necessity which the Government cannot fail to take account of without exposing the country to a commotion which might result in the gravest consequences."

TO RESTRICT CHARTERS.

Senator Davis Would Check Mongers of Railway Rights.

OTTAWA, Jan. 31.—A new way of issuing railway charters was yesterday considered by the Senate.

Senator Davis moved the second reading of his bill providing for the granting of charters to railway companies by letters patent from the State Department on the recommendation of the Railway Commission, which shall act only after an examination of the proposals and a report upon it by the engineers.

Applicants have to make a survey as a preliminary to applying for a charter, and have to make a deposit with the Government, which will be held until the road is built and all debts settled. The bill had been passed by the Senate last year, but failed in the House of Commons for lack of time.

The bill was given second reading and referred to the railway committee.

LABOR IS WITH WOMEN.

British Union Men Come Out For "Votes For Women."

LONDON, Jan. 31.—The British Labor party yesterday officially declared itself in favor of woman suffrage. By a vote of 850 against 437 a conference of the representatives of most of the trades unions of the United Kingdom, now sitting in London, adopted a resolution instructing the Labor members of Parliament to oppose any franchise bill in which women were not included.

The significance to the woman suffrage movement of this resolution of the workingmen's unions is very great. The trade unions in the United Kingdom comprise between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 members, nearly all of whom are electors, and these would carry enormous weight in case woman suffrage were made a plank in the program of any party at a general election.

The Presidential Term.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—Presidential terms ranging all the way from two to six years; prohibition against second terms and third terms, exemptions that would affect Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson, and proposals for the recall and the direct popular election of President, were thrust into the Senate yesterday in rapid succession during the first day's consideration of the constitutional amendment limiting a President to a single term of six years.

Doctor Guilty of Manslaughter.

SCHOLASTIQUE, Que., Jan. 31.—Dr. Allen was yesterday found guilty of manslaughter in connection with the death of his wife.

It was proved that while the doctor was driving through the country attending to other sick people he left his wife without food, fuel or proper clothing in the house, her dead body being finally discovered by neighbors.

UNIONISTS DEFEATED.

Pakenham's Organizers Concede Hogg's Victory In Derry.

LONDONDERRY, Ireland, Jan. 31.—The Unionists concede the election of David C. Hogg, Nationalist and Home Ruler, over Col. H. A. Pakenham, Unionist. The returns will not be fully known until late to-day, but the organization of the parties is so perfect that the result can be predicted with accuracy.

No figures are available for the reason that the counting of ballots did not commence until 8 o'clock in the morning, in accordance with the usual custom pursued by agreement among the candidates in closely-contested constituencies. This plan is adopted to prevent possible rioting if the result is announced at night. Under the system of voting, however, the result is practically known when the polls close. Booths known as "tally rooms" are located in front of each polling booth and 90 per cent. of the voters pass through these, and their "politics" checked off.

The Derry election was necessitated by the death of the Duke of Abercorn and the succession of the Marquis of Hamilton, and the interest lies in the fact that a Nationalist victory gives the Home Rulers a majority of one seat—17 to 16—right in Anti-Home Rule Ulster.

The new member is a prominent Presbyterian of Londonderry, and is a linen manufacturer employing a large number of people. His opponent is a landlord in Antrim County.

APPLES TO COME DOWN.

Great Competition Coming In Fruit Trade, Says Director Hodgetts.

COBOURG, Jan. 31.—That prices to the apple consumer may be lower in the future was a hint dropped by Mr. Percy Hodgetts, Ontario director of fruit-growing, at the session of the Northumberland and Durham apple-growers' convention here last night. The growers in the eastern States feel that they must lower their present prices to compete with our Ontario growers, and, according to Mr. Hodgetts, they are prepared to do this and to go to even greater steps to secure a greater share of the western trade. "There is going to be greater competition than ever before," said Mr. Hodgetts. "We, as producers, may just as well begin to figure on lower prices. Fruit men are recognizing that a slightly lower price will prevail, and that therefore it is up to them to lower cost of production.

"By lowering the cost of production, and by securing better distribution of the fruit we hope to lessen the cost to the consumer. If we can accomplish this the consumption will increase very greatly. I consider that the grower who can get one dollar per barrel for his apples on the tree, year in and year out, must feel that he is getting a good price."

C.P.R. STAYS OUT.

And Now Her Liners Will Have To Face Rate War.

BERLIN, Jan. 31.—The North Atlantic steamship conference, which began its sittings here Tuesday, ended abruptly yesterday when the Canadian Pacific Railway refused to join the pool. The other members unanimously decided to renew the combination, and there is a prospect of a lively rate war for steerage business from Trieste.

A statement was given out by the conference, declaring that the lines represented failed to reach an agreement with the Canadian Pacific and decided to continue without that company's co-operation.

A representative of the Austro-American Line announced the intention of his company to inaugurate a regular service between Trieste and Canada.

G. McC. L. Brown, London representative of the C.P.R., said last night that the C.P.R. faced the situation cheerfully, and was prepared to meet any rate reduction by the pool. He expressed the opinion, moreover, that low rates would benefit Canada.

Farmer's Fall Fatal.

CHATHAM, Jan. 31.—Matthew Stewart, for twenty years a farmer of Chatham Township, fell from a haymow, a distance of 16 feet, Wednesday evening, while doing his chores. He landed on a hard cement floor, and sustained internal injuries, from the effects of which he died five hours later.

Free Library For Kingston.

KINGSTON, Jan. 31.—Kingston has made the first steps towards securing a free library. Five hundred dollars has been received from a citizen to help pay for a site, and $200 per year for maintenance. A fund will be opened to finance the library.

Tribute To Col. Matheson.

KINGSTON, Jan. 31.—The business of the Ontario Synod closed yesterday, the sessions being given over to routine business. The members passed a resolution of regret at the death of Hon. A. J. Matheson, who many years ago was a member of the synod. A warm tribute was paid to the deceased.

JEALOUS MAN'S DEED

Thomas Riley of Hamilton Brutally Slays His Wife.

He Seeks Admittance to Boarding-House of Woman From Whom He Had Been Separated For a Year, and After Shooting Her Through the Heart, Choked Her—Others In the Room at the Time of Tragedy.

HAMILTON, Jan. 31.—Thomas Riley, a laborer, walked into his wife's boarding-house at 48 North Bay street, yesterday, drew a revolver from his pocket and shot her through the heart. He then grabbed her by the throat and choked her. Mrs. Riley, who was sitting on a chair in the front room, jumped up and ran into the hall, where she swooned and died before medical assistance could be secured. Jealousy of another man is believed to be the motive.

William Lang, who was passing at the time, heard the shot fired, and ran to the corner of King and James street, where he informed Constable Yaxley of what had happened. The constable immediately notified headquarters of the occurrence and then ran to the scene of the crime, which is six blocks away, and placed Riley under arrest.

It seems that there has existed much hard feeling between Mrs. Riley, who is 32 years of age, and the husband, since their marriage over sixteen years ago, and one year ago Mrs. Riley left him and went to Toronto, where she worked in a restaurant until last October, when she returned to this city and went to board with Mrs. Durfey.

The accused has since that time come around the house trying to persuade his wife to return to him, but she would have nothing to do with him because of his ill-treatment of her while they were living together.

In the room with the murdered woman at the time of the attack were Mrs. R. Durfey, the boarding-house keeper, Sandy Durfey, her son, and Annie Riley, a four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Riley.

About ten minutes before the murder took place, Riley went to the house, but was refused admittance. Charles Durfey, a son of Mrs. Durfey, who was leaving the house, was asked by Riley to get his suit case, which Mrs. Riley had in her possession. Durfey returned to the house and got the suit case and then went down town.

When about five minutes had elapsed, Riley rushed into the house and into the front room where his wife was seated on a chair near a bed, on which Sandy Durfey was lying, and killed her.

Riley was taken to police headquarters, and the body of his wife to the morgue.

After his arrest Riley asked to be released for about two minutes so that he could settled with young Durfey, who, he claims, was the cause of his home being broken up.

Mrs. Riley leaves four children, one boy and three girls—Annie, 4 years old; Charles, 13; Jennie, 15, and May, 16, who is living in Buffalo.

Detectives Cameron and Goodman took charge of the case, and locked up as witnesses Sandy Durley and Harvey Spratt, a young man, who was outside the house in an automobile talking to Maud Durfey, at the time of the shooting.

Beating the Law.

"You are charged with going forty miles an hour," said the rural justice, "and you are fined $40."

"Judge," said the motorist, "I have only got $2."

"Well, you've got a nerve going forty miles an hour on a reserve of $2. Hand me the money."—Kansas City Journal

MARKET REPORTS

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—Assertions that hereafter European buyers would give preference to Argentine wheat as against cargoes from the United States and Canada took much of the snap out of an attempt to advance the market here. Closing prices were barely steady, at a gain of 1-8 to 1-4c net. Corn showed a loss of 1-4 to 3-8c, oats finished unchanged to 1-8c off, and provisions varied from 7 1-2c decline to a rise of 2 1-2c.

The Liverpool market closed unchanged to ¼d higher on wheat, and ¼d to ¾d lower on corn. Berlin closed ½c higher on wheat, Buda Pest ⅜c higher.

MONTREAL MARKET.

MONTREAL, Jan. 30.—Business in wheat over the cable was quiet again today, there being less disposition on the part of foreign buyers to operate owing to the increased offerings from Argentine and the more favorable crop advices from India. The local market for American corn was weaker and 1c lower with sales of car lots of old-crop No. 3 mixed at 62c and No. 2 yellow at 61c. Oats are quiet and unchanged. There was an increased demand from European sources for spring wheat flour and sales of a few round lots were made. Local trade is good. Millfeed quiet. A steady trade is passing in butter and the feeling in cheese is firmer under a better demand. Eggs unsettled, except for new laid, which are firmer and 1c to 2c higher. Demand for provisions fairly good.

Notions as to "Lost Arts."

Current tradition credits the ancients with many "lost arts." It is still common to hear people say that means unknown to us must have been employed to erect the pyramids, that the Damascus blade is beyond the power of modern cutlers and that the art of hardening copper died with some little brown Aztec.

In point of fact, larger stones than any found in the pyramids have been quarried in Maine, carried across the sea and erected in buildings in England and France. If any one cared to pay the cost there are plenty of contractors who would build a replica of the largest pyramid and would not take so very long about it.

It is doubtful whether a "Damascus blade" will stand as much as a good modern band saw or the spring of a cheap clock.

Copper can be hardened by modern methods to equal any specimen that has been left to us by the ancients. Many arts that are supposed to be lost are simply abandoned because there is no modern need of cultivating them, and others are not even abandoned, but employed every day and improved upon.—New York Tribune.

AFTERNOON SESSION

Council resumed at 2 o'clock.

Mr. H. Elliott, President of the Belleville Board of Trade, addressed the Council relative to the expenditure of $100 which the County gave last year for the purpose of advertising the County in the old country. The speaker referred to his visit to the mother land last year. Where we have spent $1 the Ontario Government has spent $10 in advertising this district. To Mr. J. W. Johnson M.P.P. is due much credit for procuring this from the Ontario Government. Hon. J. S. Duff, Minister of Agriculture is doing all in his power to advertise this district. What we want is another grant of $100 to further this worthy cause. The cheese shipped to the mother land from this district has a reputation and is doing much to advertise this district.

Col. Ponton supported the remarks of Mr. Elliott. We are here for this district and to do all we can to further the interests of this district in the old land. What was desirable was to have a booklet issued to back up the photographs which have been distributed in London and other centres.

Mr. H. Sneyd spoke in favor of the Council granting the sum asked for in order that the proposed booklet may be issued. The money would be properly expended.

Mr. Walsh, Deputy Reeve of Tyendinaga, said he had no doubt that the money expended last year for this purpose was well spent. The dairying industry should be encouraged in every way. He moved, seconded by Mr. Vanderwater, that a grant of $100 be made for this object and that it be referred to the Ways and Means for an appropriation.—Carried.

Dr. Clinton addressed the Council, stating that under the Act every municipality must have a Board of Health and a Sanitary Inspector. It was also necessary that the municipality have what is termed an indigent medical officer to look after the poor of the municipality. The doctor in referring to the County House of Refuge, stated that Hastings County had one of the best institutions in this Province, but the Council should attend to the disposal of the sewage. He suggested that septic tanks be built.

Mr. Vermilyea said the thanks of the Council were due Dr. Clinton for the information he had given. If the Council had grievances in reference to the Medical Act, they could formulate them and have them laid before the proper authorities. A vote of thanks was tendered to Dr. Clinton which he acknowledged.

REPORTS.

The report of the House of Refuge Comittee was on motion adopted.

The special committee appointed to draft the standing committee reported, recommending the committees as follows:

House of Refuge—Thos. Montgomery, H. Maloney and the Warden.

Finance and Public Works—R. P. Coulter, chairman; N. Vermilyea, T. J. Naylor, W. H. Hubbell and W. Nugent.

Special Committee on Bridges—J. A. Gunter, chairman; A. Kirk, W. Farrell and W. Nugent.

Roads and Bridges—J. G. Sills, chairman.

Mr. Vermilyea said he was compelled to criticise the report. He considered it was unjust and unfair in its construction. The past few years the proceedings had been pleasant, all seeking to build up a strong financial county. This report blotted this all out and if the report is adopted harmony may not prevail. This report will not contribute to peace. Mr. W. H. Hubbell in his opinion should be chairman of the Finance Committee, as he been 4 years in the council, whereas Mr. Coulter had been in the council but one year. Was this fair? The only reason he (the speaker) could suggest was that Mr. Coulter was selected as chairman because he was of the political faith of the majority of the council.

Mr. McLaren said the only objection he had to the report was the appointing of the new committee, namely that of bridges. Until he was convinced that it was necessary to have this committee he would vote against the report.

Mr. Ketcheson—was it not a fact that there was a bridge committee?

The Warden—No. The Finance Committee attended to all finances relating to the building of a bridge.

Mr. Coulter considered that matters were by no means as bad as represented by Mr. Vermilyea. If the report is wrong, then the members of the special committee shou'd be censured. Mr. Vermilyea was for many years chairman of a prominent committee.

Mr. P. P. Clark, in speaking of Mr. Vermilyea, said that it could not be denied that he was a most careful and painstaking County Councillor, and Conservatives in the County had so stated. He (the speaker) was not here as a Conservative or a Reformer, but as a custodian of the people's money, to see that it is judiciously expended. There was in his opinion no reason why the Bridge Committee should be reinstated. It would mean two men going over the ground, doing work which one man can do.

Mr. Ketcheson asked why it would cost the County any more for this Bridge Committee than it would for the Finance Committee to build bridges.

Mr. Vermilyea—The Finance Committee can do the work which the report which the report designates is to be done by the Bridge Committee.

Mr. W. H. Hubbell was opposed to more committees being established. This would increase the expenditure of the County's money, which should be guarded against. Economy should be our watchword.

Mr. Gunter considered that the Chairman of Roads could do better work for the County if he was not burdened with the responsibility of looking after bridges. He did not desire to take anything away from Mr. Sills.

The Warden considered it was a business proposition to have a Bridge Committee. Mr. Gunter, who was the Chairman last year, was conversant with the work and should be continued in that position.

At this stage of the proceedings the discussion was laid over until Friday morning.

A number of bylaws were given the second reading.

Council adjourned until 10 o'clock Friday morning.

FOR A GOOD DIGESTION

A Local Druggist's Suggestion

It has been said the body is like a machine and digestion and elimination of food are the two great factors to health.

If the digestive organs are weak, the stomach overtaxed, waste matter accumulates in the system—the liver gets sluggish and the blood becomes thin and devitalized.

We want to ask every person in this vicinity who is troubled with indigestion or a weak wornout stomach to try our delicious cod liver and iron tonic Vinol.

We know it will strenghen and tone up the weakened, tired and overtaxed nerves of the digestive organs, create a hearty appetite, and replace weakness with strength.

We just heard of a case of a man in Oneonta, N. Y., who suffered from a bad stomach trouble for fifteen years and had become so weak he could hardly walk—who was cured by Vinol.

Try a bottle of Vinol and if it fails to help you we will give back your money. Red Cross Drug Store, J. S. McKeown Belleville, Ont.

Killed By a Train

NIAGARA, FALLS, N. Y., Jan. 30.—Aleeasan Kekoran, an Armenian, was instantly killed and a companion whose identity is unknown was seriously, if not fatally injured at 3-20 o'clock yesterday morning while walking along the New York Central railroad tracks near the Second Street crossing. The men were walking alongside a freight train going in the same direction and an approaching Lehigh Valley passenger train was hidden from their view by a curve in the tracks. Kekoran was instantly killed, his body being frightfully mangled.

The other man was picked up and taken to the hospital, where it was said his chances of recovery are about even.

Sickles Threatened Suicide, Says Son

NEW YORK, Jan. 30—Sheriff Harburger has told all those who have offered money to help General Daniel F. Sickles to send their checks to Comptroller Sohmer in Albany. The Sheriff said he had about 25 offers of help and was confident that the $23,000 necessary to release the Civil war general form the claims of the state could be raised in two weeks.

Several men have offered checks for $100 and the sheriff says that men have been collecting among persons who could not afford to give much, but who combined offerings totalled up to respectable looking figures.

"I have been astonished, however," said the sheriff, "to find that not a millionaire has come forward with an offer of a substantial sum, such as $1,000 or something like that."

Stanton Sickles was quoted as saying that his father threatened to kill himself in case he was arrested on a criminal charge of misappropriation of funds.

Vancouver May Return Money

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 30.—The Laird of Skibo will be richer by $50,000 in the near future, according to an announcement made this afternoon at the meeting of the city Library Board.

Vancouver has outgrown its present central library building erected some twelve years ago with the funds voted by the municipality and a donation of $50,000 by Andred Carnegie.

There is also a deep seated feeling against the designation "Carnegie Library" which was a condition precedent upon the ironmasters' beneficence and public sentiment as represented by the Library Board demands that the objectionable name be dropped.

This sentiment is particularly strong in Union labor circles, the unions objecting strenuously to the city being beholding to a man whom they believed to be an oppressor of labor.

Accordingly the proposal to refund Mr. Carnegie his $50,000 with interest to date strikes a popular chord.

Such an action, it is believed, would also be unique in the history of Mr. Carnegie's career as a dispenser of largesses.

The matter will probably be submitted to the voters at a special election in the near future.

LORDS REJECT BILL.

Home Rule Measure Is Cast Out by Upper House.

LONDON, Jan. 31.—After a four days' discussion the House of Lords last night rejected the home rule bill, 326 to 69. The result was a foregone conclusion.

The speeches aroused little interest because, as the Earl of Halsbury pathetically observed, the position of the House was now that of an ordinary debating club—the peers could express their views and reject the bill, but they could not prevent it from becoming law.

Nevertheless, the largest muster of peers since the fateful evening they passed the Parliament bill assembled in the House and bejewelled peeresses thronged the side galleries.

Lord Lansdowne wound up the debate for the Opposition; Lord Morley of Blackburn for the Government. The scene was altogether lacking in the dramatic excitement which accompanied the Lords' rejection of Mr. Gladstone's bill in 1893 by a far larger majority, 378. The attendance of peers was quite slack until a couple of hours before division, was taken and the speeches failed to infuse new life into the well-worn arguments.

Lord Morley, in closing the debate, remarked the absence of the ferocity which characterized the debates on the Gladstone measures, and, replying to Lord Lansdowne's warning, that the giving of home rule to Ireland would be a menace to England if England ever were involved in serious international trouble, reminded Lord Lansdowne that his own land policy would give Ireland cash or credit to the extent of two hundred millions British money and that Lord Lansdowne would scarcely be likely to do that if he really believed that Ireland was likely to become Engand's enemy.

Lord Curzon of Kedleston in a speech earlier in the evening also referred to the listlessness the public had shown over the bill and to "the deplorable and unutterable flatness of the debates in the House of Commons."

The division was on party lines, practically the whole of the episcopal bench voting against the bill.

Chamberlin Pleads To-day.

BOSTON, Jan. 31.—President E. J. Chamberlin of the Grand Trunk Railway, upon learning of his reindictment by the Federal grand jury in New York yesterday, stated that he would plead to the charge to-day. He left for New York at midnight.

School Houses Deserted.

GUELPH, Jan. 31.—Poor attendance at schools in the county of Wellington is deplored in the reports of Inspectors Galbraith and Craig, presented at yesterday's session of the county council. The reports were similar in nature, and dealt with the number of pupils and teachers throughout the county. Reference was made to the fact that only 60 per cent. of the children of the school age in the county are attending the schools, and regret was expressed at this state of affairs. The blame was placed for the most part on the trustees of the schools, who should see to it that all children of school age attended school.

Old Kingston Resident Dead.

KINGSTON, Jan. 31.—John Orr, aged 61, formerly a member of the firms of Richmond & Orr, dry goods, retired many years ago, is dead. He was born here and lived here all his life.

A WOMAN'S WISDOM.

The worried mother wakes up to hear her baby's heavy breathing—a little cough—perhaps the croup or whooping cough. She does not want to send for the doctor when perhaps the trouble does not amount to much. Finally she thinks of that medical book her father gave her, The Common Sense Medical Adviser, by R. V. Pierce, M. D. She says "just the thing to find out what is the matter with the little dear." Two million households in this country own one—and it's to be had for only 31c. in stamps—1,000 pages in splendid cloth binding. A good family adviser in any emergency. It is for either sex. This is what many women write Dr. Pierce—in respect to his "Favorite Prescription," a remedy which has made thousands of melancholy and miserable women cheerful and happy, by curing the painful womanly diseases which undermine a woman's health and strength.

MRS. ZUBERT AND BABE.

"My desire is to write a few lines to let you know what your valuable medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. MARGARET ZUBERT, of 323 S. Bentalon Street, Baltimore, Md. "Before the storck came to our house I was a very sick woman. I wrote you for advice which was kindly given and which made me a different woman in a short time. After taking the first bottle of 'Favorite Prescription' I began improving so that I hardly knew I was in such a condition. I did my own housework—washing and ironing, cooking, sewing, and the worst of all nursed three children who had whooping cough. I hardly knew of the advent ten minutes before—so easy was it. The baby is as fat as a butter-ball. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best medicine for any woman to take when in this condition. I recommend it to all my friends."

BANKING BILL IS READ

Opposition Lets Financial Measure Go to Committee.

Finance Minister White Is Only Conservative Speaker In Debate and He Explained His Bill and Urges That It Be Discussed In Committee —Hon. H. R. Emmerson Leads Horde of Liberals Who Speak.

OTTAWA, Jan. 31.—The White bill for the revision of the Bank Act was given its second reading shortly before midnight, following a lucid exposition by the Minister of Finance of the provisions of the bill.

The Liberal disposition to delay the reference of the Bank Bill to the House Committee on Banking and Commerce, where a full discussion has been providel for, was again in evidence yesterday. Liberal speakers had the floor all day, the Conservative members refraining from prolonging the debate in the general desire to resume consideration of the naval resolutions.

Mr. Emmerson said that there was every prospect of Canada being controlled by a money trust such as prevailed in the United States. There were 48 men who were directors in 121 of the biggest corporations in Canada, and 23 of the 48 were the directing force in 90 of these corporations, which controlled all the banks, insurance companies, trust companies and all the big financial concerns in Canada. These 23 men, through interlocking directorates and financial influences, practically controlled the financial, industrial and transportation interests of Canada. Nine of the 23 men lived in Toronto, 13 in Montreal, and one, Lord Strathcona, in England. In this great concentration of wealth and power there was a terrible menace to the country.

"We are facing," said Mr. Emmerson, "a gigantic struggle between the great corporations and the people. I propose to stand on the side of the people. The power exercised in the corporations is overwhelming. We see it displayed at every meeting of the banking and commerce committee and of the railway committee. We see it displayed in the formation of Cabinets and in the silence imposed upon members of the House. These corporations have no politics, and they find members to do their bidding on the left as well as on the right of the Speaker. This condition of affairs did not begin one year or two years ago. It has prevailed under Liberal and Conservative Governments alike."

Mr. Emmerson said that he had been inclined to make light of the charge that the present Finance Minister had been placed in the Cabinet by the big interests, as their representative, and had a mandate to carry out their will, but the present bill caused him to regard the charge more seriously. The bill had been framed for the express purpose of strengthening the tyrannical hold of the Canadian Bankers' Association and afforded no relief to the people.

The speaker praised the attitude of W. F. Maclean (South York) and Major Sam Sharpe (North Ontario). He declared himself in favor of Government inspection, more protection to depositors and as being against any further bank mergers.

Mr. Buchanan, Liberal member for Medicine Hat, thought that the lien upon the grain of the farmer should be extended to live stock and horses. He also favored state loans to farmers as in Australia.

Mr. Kyte (Richmond, N.S.) thought that the Government should pay a higher rate of interest upon the savings of the people, and should loan out some of this money so secured to the farmers. Speaking of bank mergers, he said that ten years ago there were ten banks in the Maritime Provinces. To-day there were only two, the Royal Bank and the Bank of Halifax, which were being managed respectively from Montreal and Toronto.

J. G. Turriff, Liberal member for Assiniboine, said he regretted the apparent determination of the Government supporters to refrain from discussing the bill. Discussion had been invited by the Finance Minister; had the invitation been countermanded by the Prime Minister? Mr. White's bill, he said, was one which thoroughly satisfied the Bankers' Association. In conclusion, he urged that the Bank Act be strengthened so as to prevent the banks charging usurious interest. He suggested that any bank officer demanding or accepting more than seven per cent. interest be fined for the first offence $1,000, for the second offence $10,000, and be imprisoned for a third offence.

The debate was continued by Mr. Warnock (Macleod), Dr. Clarke (Red Deer), Mr. German (Welland), and Mr. Pardee (West Lambton).

Hon. W. T. White criticized the proposal to establish a big national bank, to be known as the Bank of Canada, through which the Government should issue all the currency now issued by the banks, saying there was no demand or necessity for the same. He also criticized the proposal to have the Government issue Dominion notes secured by gold reserve of less than 100 per cent. These notes, in his opinion, would not circulate unless the country resorted to fiat money. He regretted that the banks could not obey the law which limited interest charges to seven per cent., but he doubted if anything should be done in this regard by the Government.

The Minister defended his shareholders' audit, and declared against Government inspection, but said he would receive any suggestion tending to make the audit a more effective protection for the shareholders. He could not endorse the proposition that the banks as a whole should guarantee each other's deposits. Such a scheme would benefit new and weak banks at the expense of the strong institutions.

FIREMEN IN "TRUST."

Chicago Force Charged With Abetting Arson Promoters.

CHICAGO, Jan. 31.—Several Chicago city firemen yesterday were implicated as members of the "arson trust" by an informer who was interrogated at the state attorney's office. This is the first suggestion of collaboration between firemen and members of the "ring."

According to the informant, firemen were paid to designate the location of fires, so that the work of the public fire insurance adjusters, who worked in conjunction with "torch bearers" and other members of the "trust," might be expedited.

Steffanson Seeks Aid.

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—Vilhjalmur Steffanson, the Arctic explorer, left here last night for Ottawa to lay before the Canadian Government some of the results of his last expedition, and with a view to secure support for his next trip north. He is in hopes that the Dominion Government will take decisive steps while there is yet time for the protection in central Arctic, Canada and Victoria Land of the caribou and musk ox and the Eskimos as well, all being in danger of extinction.
